Savage Fighting Rages In Korea After Chinese Reds Open Attack

8,500 Infantrymen Hurlled at Allies

SEOUL.—More than 8,500 Chinese Reds attacked behind a roaring artillery barrage along a 20-mile sector in central Korea before dawn today and close-quarter fighting raged hours later around some forward positions.

Hard-fighting South Korean infantrymen drove the Reds back from six outposts and savage fighting was reported at five others. The Reds seized two outposts.

The Communists hurled three regiments of about 2,800 men each against the Finger Ridge sector of the east-central front and a battalion of about 750 at nearby positions.

An estimated 10,000 shells were slammed into Allied lines before Red infantrymen swarmed across no-man's land.

Allied fighter-bombers streaked across the battlefield to bomb and strafe attacking Red troops and Communist artillery and mortar positions.

Meanwhile, bristling with charges of Allied appeasement and sellout in Korea, the South Korean government spelled out its opposition to the latest Allied truce proposal in a note to the United Nations command.

Maj.-Gen. Choi Duk Shin, the South Korean truce delegate, left Seoul late today to deliver a message to Lt.-Gen. William Harrison, senior Allied negotiator at Munsan.

Contents of the note were not made public, but a Republic of Korea spokesman described it as very important but in no way an ultimatum.

South Korea's foreign minister, Pyun Yung Tai, threatened to resign if his government approved the still-secret Allied proposal for breaking the prisoner-of-war deadlock submitted to the Reds Monday.

Russ Control Commission Abolished

LONDON (CP)—Moscow today removed its army commander in East Germany from all duties except command of Soviet troops and appointed a Russian "Supreme Commissar" to supervise governmental affairs of the Soviet-occupied zone.

Moscow Radio, in announcing this, said the Soviet Control Commission in Germany now is abolished.

A Russian language broadcast as translated by monitors here referred to the appointment of a "supreme commissar" but the term could be translated as "high commissioner." The same term is used by each of the three western powers for their chief representatives in West Germany.

Bursaries To Be Awarded Booth Graduates Tomorrow

The big day for 46 students of Booth Memorial High School comes tomorrow when the 1953 Grade XII class passes through its spring graduation exercises.

With all the pomp and ceremony fitting the occasion of a class debut, 21 young ladies and 25 young men will be wearing their very best in dress and appointment.

A select few—six of the most outstanding pupils—will be specially honored with bursaries ranging from $100 to $150 to assist them in further studies.

The exercises will be held for the second consecutive year in the high school's new auditorium and 600 invitations have been sent out to parents of students, friends and special guests.

The high school band and all the teachers will be there, headed by Principal A. M. Hurst.

Excitement in anticipation of the occasion is running high, says Mr. Hurst. Students are working keenly with decorations, with rehearsals.

Other guests include members of the district school board and Inspector W. H. Graham. John F. Magor, publisher of The Daily News, will be guest speaker.

Valedictorian's address will be delivered by Norma MacKay. Students, with exception of those who are recommended in all subjects, will not know until July whether they have passed their government examinations.

Those recommended will be advised on June 12.

Bursaries this year will be awarded by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire for an outstanding scholarship student; by the Soroptimist Club for an outstanding girl student; two by the Parent-Teacher Associations for top students entering normal school; by the Registered Nurses' Association, for nursing, and by the Women's Canadian Club for an outstanding student in English entering university.

The Business and Professional Women's Club will award a prize for the leading student in commercial studies.

Casey Park To Be Officially Opened to Children Sunday

The official opening of Casey Park Seal Cove was set for 2 p.m. by park board members at their regular meeting last night.

The children's march onto the park grounds, following a piper, if one is available.

Commissioners deplored the lack of a park supervisor and will meet with the city superintendent of works to discuss the matter. The board had budgeted for a part-time foreman but was unable to fill the position.

The position of swimming instructor for Gyro pool at McClymont park also remains vacant. Mr. Forman told the meeting. So far, no applications for the position have been received, delaying the opening of the pool.

CCF Won't Bribe Parents or Admit Horses in Legislature—If Elected

There'll be no horses in the B.C. Legislature if the CCF gets elected, nor will the CCF "stoop so low" as to bribe parents through their children with free tickets on a horse.

"We do not consider an election in the light of a horse race," Mrs. Grace MacInnis, well-known party organizer, told a cheering audience last night at the Sons of Norway Hall.

Speaking in support of CCF candidate George Hills, Mrs. MacInnis blasted the Social Credit government on all fronts, slammed at the Liberals for "stealing CCF ideas" and laughed at the Conservatives from whom she said "we should have no further worry."

"In Saskatchewan they're trying very hard to preserve the last Conservative (Diefenbaker), probably as a museum piece."

Speaking of horses, Mrs. MacInnis referred to a local Social Credit advertisement which offers a horse named "Currie" to children of parents who visit the Social Credit committee rooms.

"Not even the old-line parties would stoop so low," she said.

Mrs. MacInnis, past member of the B.C. Legislature, also condemned the Social Credit government for "electioneering with public funds," pointing to a recent page advertisement showing all cabinet minister and sponsored by the government of B.C.

Halibut Prices Up Few Points

Halibut prices edged up another few points today to 14.1 cents for mediums after opening on the exchange last Saturday for 13 cents.

Today's landings brought the total catch to date from Area 2 to nearly 9,500,000 pounds and indications of closure of the season on June 8 were announced by the International Fisheries Commission here.

Quota for Area 2 was set at 25,500,000. If the season closes on June 8, it will be shortest in history—23 days from the May 17 opening day.

Catch up to May 27 from Area 2, totalled 9,350,000, compared with 9,540,000 during the same period last year.

Landings today included two American vessels from Area 3 (northern)—the Hoover which sold a total of 50,000 pounds at 13.5, 13.5 and 11 cents to Atlin, and the Western with 56,000 which refused the bid price and headed for Seattle.

Other landings:
 American—Empress, 15,000, 13.5, 13.5, 11, and Onah, 18,000, same bid, both by Cold Storage.
 Canadian—Ulmak, 70,000, 14.1, 13.5 and 12, to Cold Storage; B.C. Clipper, 68,000, 14.1, 13.1 and 12, to Pacific.
 Co-Op—North Cap., 16,000; Olympia III, 18,000; Covenant, 40,000.

CONTRASTS FIGURES

In Saskatchewan, the provincial debt had been cut by 20.5 per cent and the municipal debt cut by 49.2 per cent.

In B.C. the provincial debt had increased by 75.2 per cent and the municipal debt increased by 20.5 per cent.

In Alberta, the provincial debt had been decreased by 39.2 per cent but the municipal debt had increased by 81.9 per cent.

Mrs. MacInnis admitted, in answer to a question from the audience, that a big increase in population in B.C. "modified the picture here somewhat, but this certainly wasn't the case in Alberta, where the Social Credit holds down its provincial debt at the sacrifice of the municipal tax payer."

The daughter of the first national leader of the CCF spoke in support of B.C. Hospital Insurance Service but declared "the Socials have reduced it to a shambles and have broken every law in the book doing it."

"What right has the Hon. Eric Martin to change the law every time he feels like it? B.C.H.I.S. was written into the government statutes. I submit his orders-in-council are nothing short of complete contempt of law."

She said it was "very silly" to assume the CCF would seize businesses or industries, because the government couldn't operate them, but said that "one of the first things we'll do is to buy out the B.C. Electric and the West Kootenay Power monopolies for more equitable distribution of power to B.C. residents."

Mr. Hills briefly recounted his trip to the Queen Charlotte Islands from which he returned yesterday. Arthur Evans was chairman of the meeting.

Coronation Day National Holiday

TORONTO (CP)—Coronation Day in Canada has been proclaimed a national holiday.

That means federal government offices and banks will close, so will most provincial government buildings and schools.

It is up to merchants and operators of other commercial firms to decide whether they will keep their places of business open on the holiday. It is expected most will close.

Whether the day is a paid holiday for workers is a matter of contract between employer and employee.

An Expensive Venture

IN SETTING his sights on the Aluminum Company of Canada as a venture the B.C. government would take over if the CCF is elected to power, parks expert Arnold Webster betrays an ambition that has grown out of all reasonable proportions since he assumed party leadership.

We allow ourselves the hope, however, that Mr. Webster would not attempt to install members of the cabinet as executive officers of the company. Without passing judgment on the current CCF candidates in their own lines of business, we doubt that any of them are qualified to operate a multi-million-dollar organization which incorporates some of the most advanced scientific ideas known in modern industry. Presumably, therefore, he would be prepared to hire a staff of experienced executives whose salaries should make an interesting item in the provincial budget.

It is possible, of course, that the venture could be put on a sufficiently profitable basis to cover its payroll and other enormous expenses and still leave something over for the province—which, to make the whole thing worthwhile, would have to be more than it would pay in taxes in private hands. Market conditions and costs being what they are, however, there could be no assurance of this and the B.C. public might find itself on the losing side of a gigantic gamble.

Expropriation of Alcan is a king-size example of what the CCF would like to do all over the province and the risk that the people would be required to take. Regardless of the faith one has in the industrial future of B.C., it is a tall order which grows still taller when account is taken of the fact that there would be no expansion if investors knew their projects became the government's once they were in successful operation.

Since the government would be boss, the plight of labor would be as precarious as that of management because every demand for improved working conditions would be, in effect, a political issue. Experience has proved that the public, which pays all the bills under doctrinaire socialism, is a sterner taskmaster than private enterprise. Conversely, it is less efficient, probably because there are too many people with conflicting ideas.

On the whole, it would seem that the duties of government are already onerous enough without any party looking for more.

Athabaskan Silences Red Forces While ROK Troops Make Withdrawal

ON BOARD HMCS ATHABASKAN (Delayed)—While Korean truce talks were under way at Panmunjon this Canadian destroyer was called upon to play a more deadly tune with her four-inch guns in the Chado Island area.

It turned out to be one of the liveliest clashes with Communist mainland forces which the Athabaskan, commanded by Captain J. C. Reed, DSC, of Toronto and Victoria, has experienced in her current tour of Korean operations.

The action began in broad daylight after friendly South Korean troops called for support during a withdrawal from the enemy-held mainland. The previous evening the South Koreans had raided the mainland near Chado Island to gather information. They had captured a North Korean army major and sergeant and the enemy was hot on their withdrawal trail. They got as far as a small island connected to the mainland by a sand-spit but they required help to evacuate safely.

HMCS Athabaskan had been standing off Chado when the call for help came and she responded immediately. The navigator, Lieut. James Clapton of Victoria, piloted the ship by radar through treacherous rocks and shoals off shore. As the beach came in range, the Athabaskan's main armament opened fire to suppress enemy mortars and troops and to provide a curtain of fire on the landward end of the sand-spit, to prevent the raiding party from being harassed during the final stages of its withdrawal.

After 40 rounds of four-inch shells the Communists withdrew to what seemed to be a secure position behind a hill, out of sight of the Athabaskan. The ship then shifted her fire to two enemy gun emplacements, silencing them with ten rounds each.

As I See It

• Salmon Arm Shadow
SALMON ARM: Here in one of the loveliest beauty spots in all the world, a vague shadow seems to hang in the air.

The people of Salmon Arm are acutely aware that their lovely little city has become the storm centre of the entire B.C. election. They never sought fame, much less notoriety—least of all did they want to have the name of this city dragged out into the limelight as it was.

If I am any judge of character, the people around Salmon Arm are just waiting for June 9 to get the chance to dissociate the name of this city and this district from the charges made by their former MLA that the schools of B.C. by "sex and socialism" courses were "producing thieves, robbers, dope addicts and prostitutes aged 13, 14 and 15."

Moreover, so far as I can find the people are not so particular which party does the job of getting rid of the MLA who brought them into this valley of humiliation. Like a person with an aching tooth, they want it out, fast.

MR. BENNETT had a big meeting here a short while ago. But like all other big Sacred meetings it was a carefully stage managed affair—with carloads of party workers brought hundreds of miles.

But the answers which Mr. Bennett gave to the indignant and naturally insulted school teachers certainly did not help the Sacred cause. For here is exactly what the Sacred leader did:

- 1.—Completely repudiated the Reid charges.
- 2.—Nevertheless asked the people of Salmon Arm to re-elect the man who got them where they are today.
- 3.—Completely side-stepped the claim made by Mr. Reid—the offending ex-MLA—that in caucus Mr. Bennett had "backed him up 100 per cent."

This claim by Reid was verified by Mr. Shantz, another Sacred MLA.

AFTER Mr. Bennett's attack on the press for printing the reports of Mr. Reid's sex and socialism charges some local wisecracker came up with this window card slogan:
"Don't believe everything you read."

But the deeper reaction was one of burning indignation against Mr. Bennett. Frank Marshall is an easy going and unassuming editor of the Salmon Arm Observer. He is usually a moderate Conservative—but has been fair to all parties, including Social Credit. But when Mr. Bennett attacked the press for doing its duty, Marshall really got mad.

He wrote a sizzling editorial of which the following is just one paragraph:
"Mr. Bennett implied that the press, and he went to particular pains to include both the large and the small papers, was dishonest in that it slanted the news and distorted the facts. No implication could be further from the truth." The outraged editor went on at length to show to what expense and pains newspapers go to get accurate news reports. It was their duty and right to comment he said "the slightest deviation from it is a step towards a dictatorship."

INCIDENTALLY, this is the only place in all Canada where in recent years I have seen a rash of electioneering poetry. Several people have given me election poems. Of this, more later.

Pictorial Says Princess Margaret Shuns Old Haunts by Going to Church

LONDON (AP)—The Sunday Pictorial has come up with an explanation why Princess Margaret is shunning her old gay haunts: She's going to church instead.

"While the Queen has been preparing herself for her Coronation, her 22-year-old sister had dedicated herself to the religious way of life," the mass circulation tabloid said in a front-page feature.

"It is no doubt as a result of the Princess's new and fuller religious life that the rumor has spread that she plans to enter a religious order after the Coronation," it added.

Officials several weeks ago denied the rumor that the Princess plans to enter a religious order shortly after the Coronation.

The Pictorial said the Princess lately has been a regular church goer and a frequent visitor to the London home of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

LA TRAVIATA TO BE PLAYED AT CLUB MEET

Beginning Friday, the Music Appreciation Club at the Civic Centre will feature complete operas instead of their regular winter program.

Everyone is invited to go and enjoy the opera on records. La Traviata is the first of the summer season offerings.

The opera "La Traviata" takes place in Paris and surrounding country during the 19th century.

Act I—A lively party in the house of Violetta who has abandoned herself to a life of pleasure. Young Alfredo Germont is presented to her and he at once succumbs to the charm of the frail but beautiful creature.

His sincerity opens a new feeling and pure love in her heart, she realizes for the first time the shallowness of her life and the moral disgrace of her position. Coughing spells indicate that she is the victim of consumption.

Act II—In a country house three months later Alfredo and Violetta are happy together. Alfredo discovers that Violetta is secretly selling her possessions to maintain their establishment.

Determined to end this situation he leaves for Paris. In his absence, his father arrives and finds Violetta alone.

He tells her that his son's union with her not only is injurious to him in the eyes of the world but will prevent Alfredo's sister from marrying a wealthy noble, who has made known his intention of renouncing her if Alfredo does not give up Violetta.

Deeply touched, Violetta resolves to sacrifice her own happiness and leaves the house after writing a farewell note to Alfredo. He returns to the house to receive it and to listen to an appeal from his father, then follows Violetta to Paris.

Change of Scene—Salon in the hotel of Flora, one of Violetta's friends. There Alfredo again meets Violetta who is now under the protection of the Baron Douphal. Unaware of her sacrifice, he flung the money he won gambling at her feet. His father enters and reproaches him for the insult.

Act III—Violetta's chamber. She has returned home to die of consumption which has progressed until there is no hope for her. Too late, Alfredo learns the truth.

With his father he hurries to the dying woman seeking to comfort her and ask her hand in marriage. This brings to her a final gleam of happiness, but she is too weak to more than bid a tender adieu to her lover.

CELEBRATING HER OWN BIRTHDAY, as well as the official observance of the Queen's birthday, Mrs. Brandt Johnston, 62, of Toronto, walked 62 miles from Beamsville, Ont., to Toronto in 16 hours. She took an estimated 165,000 steps. Last year on her 61st birthday she walked 61 miles. Every 10 miles or so she took off her running shoes and let the soles of her feet feel the earth. She broke into a run every few miles. Next morning, up bright and early she "did a great big washing." Her son, 24, helps her change sox.

Brownie Pack Seeks Uniforms

A call went out today for a dozen Brownie uniforms for members of the Third Prince Rupert Pack so the little girls may take part in uniform in the Coronation Day parade.

Mothers of the children had arranged to make uniforms for the children, but through an error the wrong type of cloth was received and leaders say there is not enough time now to obtain the proper cloth.

"About a dozen of the girls need uniforms," said Mrs. Lucy Mazzone, who, with Rita McLean, trains the 26 members of the pack. Anyone having a uniform is asked to contact sisters at Annunciation School.

Fifteen members of the pack are being tested tomorrow and, leaders say, they expect them all to pass with flying colors.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD
 Dale Makes Deceptive Lead
 That Puts Him in Hot Water

Although Mr. Dale made a very successful deceptive opening lead in this deal, it must be admitted, at the time, he had no idea how it would work out.

I don't want to go on record saying the lead he chose is always desirable. On the other hand, the defender who always leads fourth highest from his longest suit and who always leads the king from a king and the highest card from a worthless three card holding, is going to have a lot of contracts made against him which he could have defeated.

Deception is a part of every successful defender's game. But he is careful to use it only when the chance of deceiving his partner is practically nil.

In today's hand Mr. Dale felt that the lead of any plain suit was likely to present declarer with a trick. He therefore decided to open a trump. The usual lead from his trump holding would be the 10. However, for whatever value it might be in giving Mr. Abel a wrong idea of the trump distribution, he selected the nine spot.

The result was devastating. As you see, if Mr. Abel had been permitted to make the first trump lead himself, he could hardly have gone wrong. Undoubtedly his first trump lead would have been the trey from the board. Mr. Meek's play of the king would have clarified the situation immediately and no trump trick would have been lost.

As it was, the lead of the nine of hearts set Mr. Abel to thinking. Obviously (to him) Mr. Dale did not have the 10—else he would have led it. Almost certainly he didn't have the king either.

Mr. Abel placed the king and 10 on his right. Now, suppose Mr. Meek also had the deuce. In that case, if a small heart were played from the board, Mr. Meek would play the deuce and the nine would force the queen. Mr. Meek would then have left the king-10 for a sure heart winner.

To guard against that, Mr. Abel made the "safety" play of the jack from dummy. The king forced the ace and now Mr. Dale's guarded 10 spot represented the eventual setting trick.

In their early history, pairs were closely connected with the development of commerce and industry.

Paving Program Outlined

Depending on whether the city's board of works can obtain any gravel this year, the following paving program has been approved by city council:
 On Fifth Avenue West from McBride Street to Agnew.
 On Fulton Street from Fifth Avenue to Eighth Avenue.
 On Eighth Avenue East from McBride to Hays Cove Circle.

This represents about 5,500 lineal feet of paving, about 30 per cent of last year's program. There is enough gravel on hand for a start, said Ald. Krueger, board of works chairman, but possibly not enough to complete the project.

Meanwhile, council decided it would not purchase the gravel crushing plant from Wood & McClay on Highway 16 as the plant is in poor condition. No other source of gravel has yet been found.

Canada Needs Stronger Laws to Curb Gangsters

The RCMP are concerned about the possible growth of gangsterism—organized crime—in Canada.

The national police force cites two factors for this anxiety:
● A United States anti-crime drive which may chase some big-time criminals across the border.

● Expansion of Canada's population, providing richer pickings for hoodlums.
The RCMP view is set out in a revised edition of its publication "Law and Order in Canadian Democracy," a 273-page book on crime and police work. Originally published in 1949, it now has been brought up to date.

Dealing with the sharpened crime problem caused by growth of population, the book says organized crime by its very nature must breed in thickly populated areas.

And, "in gangster parlance, 'the heat is on' across the border. To many of the harassed criminals in the U.S., our country, with its wealth and growth, must seem to offer new and safer fields for their rapacity."
"Much effort," the RCMP adds drily, "may be needed to convince them otherwise."

New and stronger laws may be required to curb crime in the face of the two developments.
"It may be," says the RCMP, "that additional safeguards will be needed against that unending search by criminals for the corrupt 'protection' without which they cannot operate for long as organizations."

But the effectiveness of any such measures, the book warns, will depend in the final analysis chiefly—if not wholly—on the public. The law cannot be changed any faster, or enforced any better, than the general community changes in its opinions and beliefs.
Canadians are inclined to be a little smug about the relatively small amount of gangster activity in this country, the RCMP observes. But any satisfaction should be tempered by the fact that this is only a matter of degree.

While the Canadian history of gangsterism is largely that of local organizations, the book says, every large city in the country has a serious problem in combating organized crime. It is still "a very active" problem in most cities.

Error Cost Dark Game to Dodgers

NEW YORK (CP)—Alvin Dark's error on a routine grounder with two out in the ninth inning gave Roy Campanella a chance to bat and the Brooklyn Dodgers' catcher clouted a three-run homer to give the Brooks a "gift" 5-3 victory over New York Giants Wednesday night.
It was Campanella's second homer of the game and that blow turned what looked like a sure win for pitcher Jim Hearn into a heartbreaking defeat. The Giants' hurler had pitched himself out of several jams in the late innings.

Arms Production Has 'Stabilizing' Influence on Production in Canada

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

In the words of the economists, Canada's arms production has passed from a "dynamic" to a "stabilizing" influence on the fast-growing Canadian economy.

That means the rate of spending on arms is over the hump—it has passed the peak and now is slipping downward.

The change, which took place during the last few months, apparently has left no serious scars on the economy. Economists are confident that Canada's national production of goods and services will make a billion-dollar gain this year to a peak of $24,000,000,000, despite falling prices.

Although the arms-spending trend is on the downward side, a lot of money still is being poured into the military section of the industrial economy. Officials believe that about $1,150,000,000 likely will flow out of the federal treasury into the arms machine in the current 1953-54 fiscal year.

Some economists believe the Canadian taxpayer may have to shell out another $1,000,000,000 or more in the fiscal year 1954-55 to complete all the defence programs and pay for replacement of obsolete material.

So while defence spending may be pointing down, arms production may remain a "stabilizing" influence on the Canadian economy for a good many months to come.

CANADIAN-MADE SPORTSWEAR is displayed to United States buyers and representatives of leading U.S. department stores and fashion magazines at the Alpine Inn, St. Marguerite, Que. Jointly sponsored by the trade department, the province of Quebec and leading Canadian manufacturers, the fashion show is an effort to increase sales on the U.S. market.

PRIME MINISTER S. G. HOILAND of New Zealand planned a four-day visit in Canada on his way to the Coronation. He will be the guest of Governor-General Massey at Ottawa. Before flying to London, Mr. Hoiland will call on Defence Minister Claxton.

Magazine Offers $5,000 For Good Canadian Novel

Maclean's Magazine announced today that it is prepared to spend up to $15,000 a year to stimulate the writing of good Canadian novels.

In an announcement unprecedented in Canadian letters, the magazine announced the establishment of a Maclean's Novel Award of $5,000 for a good Canadian novel. The announcement said the editors expect to make at least one award a year and are prepared to make many as three.

Ralph Allen, editor of Maclean's, said the magazine "is interested primarily in good creative fiction." He said literary merit would be the chief criterion in selecting award winning novels.

Maclean's threw the award wide open to all writers, professional or amateur. Any Canadian citizen who writes a novel on any subject is eligible for the award "if the editors feel it is worthy of the attention of the reading public." Non-Canadians are eligible if they write a novel with a strong Canadian theme.

Allen said establishment of the award "is admittedly a gamble," but added that he hoped it would stimulate more Canadians to write good novels as well as create added interest among the Canadian reading public in Canada's own literature.

He emphasized the magazine CALGARY (CP)—Ian MacRae, police court officer here, has a coin collection that includes Danish shilling dated 1771 and token bearing the head of King George III, with historic Canadian coins and Asiatic pieces.

Fraud Charge Laid Against 5-Pin Bowler

VANCOUVER (CP)—Richard Cassidy, 38, who won an automobile in a bowling contest two weeks ago, has been charged with fraud.

Prosecutor Paul Delaney said Cassidy is alleged to have falsified a bowling average and by this means won the car.

Cassidy has been remanded until tomorrow for preliminary hearing and bail was set at $2,000.

The bowling contest was staged here by the Vancouver Sun and the Elks Club.

first top level head has rolled in Peiping.

The tense, fanatic, pro-Russian Red wasn't even mentioned in reports from the all-China Congress of Trade Unions, a huge Red China meeting May 2-11 that ordinarily would have been under his thumb.

Disappearance by omission is nothing new in Communist countries. Often deaths—natural or otherwise—are not announced.

The name of an official simply vanishes from that country's news.

Although there has been much party purging at lower levels in Red China, no member of the top hierarchy has been thrown out.

A Nationalist China news agency carried a report March 24, 1953, that Li had gone to Moscow with Liu Shao-chi, another Red China kingpin. There was no report that they returned, although Liu spoke at the labor congress in May.

Li, a member of the government administrative council, is an old-line Red.

He studied with the Russian Communist party 15 years and married a Russian.

In 1946 he returned to China when the Communist revolution was booming.

Kitwanga Ball Club Captures Trophy In Annual Sports Tournament at Skeena

SKEENA CROSSING. — Kitwanga baseball club won the annual sports day tournament here, defeating Kispiox in the finals, 9-4.

Two other teams participating were from Moricetown and Hazelton.

Winners were presented with a large silver cup donated by Chief (Wees-tis) Moses Jones of Skeena Crossing.

Kispiox, downed Moricetown in the first game of the tourney 1-0 after a close pitching duel.

In the second game, Kitwanga downed Hazelton in a lively seven inning affair which kept the rooters cheering throughout.

Young Allan Johnson, pitching, and James Morgan were battery for the winners, while Billy Robinson took the mound for Hazelton with Simon Muldoe receiving.

In the final game, Oscar Benson for Kitwanga struck out 14 batters before he was relieved in the eighth inning by old-time southpaw hurler Freddy Benson. Morgan was catching.

For the losers, Johnny Evans pitched the first seven innings, then was relieved by Jeff Harris, with Willie Morrison catching.

In the soccer events, Kitwanga also were victors, downing Kitwanga 3-0 with George Williams making all the goals.

Joe Daniels and Oscar Benson played spectacular fullback position, while Roy Harris made some outstanding clearing shots at halfcentre. Henry Wilson was referee.

In the first match Kispiox edged Skeena Crossing 3-2 in a hectic game from start to finish. Kispiox netted three goals at the outset, then the Crossing boys laid in two fast scores but fell behind in staying power and could not make up the deficit.

Skeena Crossing's second team lost to Hazelton 3-0 in the second match.

Following the sports, the baseball trophy was presented to Kitwanga by Chief (Weget) Bert Russell, Ed Smith, president of the Kitwanga Boys' Club, spoke in appreciation of the presentation and the hospitality of Skeena Crossing residents.

Army Discloses Some Details Of Spot-Guided Nike Missile

WASHINGTON (CP) — Details of the army's program to spot guided missile anti-aircraft units around major U.S. cities, have come to light, including the fact that some batteries will be located underground.

Information which became available for the first time showed the army will require an average of 96 acres for a battalion using the Nike missile to protect industrial, port and government centres against any swift, high flying enemy bombers.

Here are some of the other hitherto secret details:

Twelve launchers will be used in above-ground installations to fire the 1,000-mile-an-hour missiles which, the army claims, have uncanny accuracy against even other guided missiles or supersonic aircraft. For above-ground bases, the army will need 96 acres to deploy the weapons in proper firing positions.

Nine launchers will be in underground installations. The acreage specified in these installations is 24, but this is assumed to refer only to the surface area, not implying that the actual bombproof dugouts would involve that acreage.

Above-ground launchers will be placed in revetments earthworks to help protect them against strafing attacks.

Specifications require that sites be adaptable to radar use for detection and tracking of enemy bombers, be clear of obstructions for the take-off of the missiles and, if possible, have natural features to aid in camouflage. The sites also will include underground storage facilities, magazines and housing for troops.

The Nike, in production in North Carolina, gets its name from the word in Greek mythology, pronounced ny-kee, meaning the winged goddess of victory.

B.C. Drivers Get Bonus For No Claims

VANCOUVER (CP) — Provision of a 20 per cent no-claims discount on collision insurance is the unexpected good news for accident-free B.C. motorists, announced by the B.C. Underwriters' Association.

The bonus is retroactive to April 1, 1953, and will mean that thousands of policy holders will receive refunds on premiums paid "board" companies during the last two months. This applies throughout Canada, not just B.C.

The no-claims bonus became effective for public liability and property damage insurance written after March 31 for cars driven for pleasure only, with no driver in the household under 25 and with a three-year accident-free record.

Czechs Want Restrictions Lifted Now That Oatis Free

WASHINGTON (CP) — Communist Czechoslovakia, in freeing AP correspondent William N. Oatis, acted six weeks after President Eisenhower offered to consider easing trade and travel restrictions aimed at the Czechs.

The White House has released copies of messages exchanged between Eisenhower and new Czech President Antonin Zapotocky.

Eisenhower's message, dated March 30, told Zapotocky that if he would release Oatis, the U.S. would be willing to negotiate lifting of sanctions imposed against Czechoslovakia when the newspaper man was jailed 25 months ago.

Zapotocky's reply, dated May 15, informed Eisenhower that Oatis was being pardoned on that day and would not have to complete the rest of his 10-year sentence on conviction of "spying."

The Czech government through its controlled radio Wednesday called for the U.S. to terminate its economic restrictions against the country now that Oatis is free.

In his public announcement of Oatis' freeing May 15, Zapotocky had said he acted on a direct appeal for mercy from Mrs. Oatis.

Oatis, two days after his return to the U.S., denied ever spying for the American embassy while a newspaperman in Czechoslovakia.

He said "the cause of my trouble" was that he got news tips from sources other than official Czech news outlets, then checked them with the U.S. Embassy in an effort to gain more information.

Such practice is routine in Western countries, he said, but under Czech law "can be construed... to be espionage."

Commander of 25th Brigade Orders Stable Drinks For Toast to Queen

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OREA (CP)—Canadian here will toast the Queen on Coronation Day. Jean Allard, 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade commander, has ordered units to obtain enough port to do it in the wine traditionally associated with officers' toasts to the Queen.

PRAYERS FOR QUEEN
Allard also has asked units able to do so to hold church parades earlier that day to pray for guidance and success for the Queen.

Church parades at which special prayers will be offered for the Queen have been arranged throughout the division for this Sunday.

There will be a divisional parade at noon Coronation Day. Participating will be 21 contingents representing all units, corps and services, and all countries with troops in the division.

The band of the PPCLI will be one of four providing music, which will culminate with a royal salute, first to be given in this theatre.

Senior officers of the UN command have been invited to attend.

Maj.-Gen. Michael West, Commonwealth Division commander, will present decorations to officers and men listed in a Coronation Day supplementary awards list to be issued shortly. Thirty-five Canadians are known to be on the list, but all but nine or 10 have returned to Canada.

Although not officially noted in the schedule of Coronation Day events, Canadian gunners have their own observance lined up. They play a regimental volley for the exact moment the crown touches the Queen's head.

All guns will be raised to 45 degrees—maximum elevation for maximum range—and fired when the radio commentators broadcasting from Westminster Abbey tell the world that the Queen is about to be crowned.

Korea is 14 hours ahead of Canadian time and nine ahead of Greenwich. It will be evening here when the pageant in London is unfolding.

Hundreds Invited to Attend Unveiling of War Memorial

Special to The Daily News

OTTAWA—The next-of-kin of nearly 3,000 RCAF officers and men who gave their lives in the Second World War during operations from bases in the United Kingdom and northwest Europe and who have no known grave have received invitations from the Imperial War Graves Commission, to attend the unveiling by Queen Elizabeth II of the Commonwealth Air Forces Memorial at historic Runnymede in England next fall.

The memorial, being erected by the Imperial War Graves Commission, will be unveiled October 17. It was designed by Edward Maufe, R.A.

Altogether, there were some 20,000 members of the Commonwealth Air Forces who died in the last war and who have no known grave.

A pilgrimage to Runnymede is being sponsored by the Canadian Legion in conjunction with the Royal Canadian Air Force Association and the Imperial War Graves Commission, and arrangements for the return trip to Britain are being made with The Cunard Steamship Company Limited, Canadian Pacific Steamships, British Overseas Airways Corporation and Trans-Canada Air Lines.

Facilities for laying flowers and wreaths by relatives following the unveiling ceremony will be arranged by the Imperial War Graves Commission.

In addition to the next-of-kin of those without known graves, consideration will be given to next-of-kin of those buried in known graves to join the pilgrimage, the Imperial War Graves Commission announced. It was emphasized that neither the Canadian Legion, the Royal Canadian Air Force Association nor the Imperial War Graves Commission would be able to contribute toward the cost of the transportation or toward any other expenses incurred by those making the trip.

No Sign That Agreement Near In Standardization of Rifle

By DOUGLAS HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Army is looking ahead to a series of gradual changes in weapons and ammunition if the big hurdle of rifle standardization with the United Kingdom and the United States can be cleared.

The current outlook on that pivotal problem is one of guarded optimism. Defence Minister Claxton put this into words briefly during the recent session of Parliament when he told members that prospects are encouraging.

The army reports that prospects are considerably more encouraging than they were, say 18 months ago. But rifle standardization continues to be a long, slow process and there is no immediate sign that general agreement is close to the horizon.

In the meantime, the Canadian Army continues to use virtually the same small arms as in the Second World War, to work with the British and Americans in trying to narrow the differences concerning the rifle or, more precisely, rifle ammunition, and to look ahead to a day when the way will be open for changes in the rifle and other weapons.

Meanwhile, the great barrier of standardization remains, Canada prodding and the U.S.

The loon, whose call is familiar on most Canadian lakes, is a diving bird that is helpless on land.

Civil Defence Exercise Set For June 20

VICTORIA — An international airlift is planned for June 20, when Western provinces and Northwestern states will stage a big civil defence exercise.

British Columbia civil defence headquarters said today that medical personnel may be picked up here by a unit of the United States civil defence air patrol and flown to the "aid" of a U.S. city.

Another drill will see a B.C. rescue convoy cross to Bellingham from B.C.'s Fraser Valley.

International civil defence week is being observed starting June 1 in the East, when an exercise in mutual emergency aid will be held in the Niagara area.

A TINY VIRUS, striking mysteriously in southwestern Ontario, has caused the death of hundreds of pigs and it is feared many more may die. Common in the United States, but rare in Canada, the disease continues to spread. Aaron Kuepfer, farmer near Stratford, Ont., checks over some of the 98 shoats which later were destroyed when they were found to have hog cholera. Fifteen farms in eight counties were found infected. The federal government has imposed a quarantine on a 50,000-square-mile area.

Eleven pictures now being filmed or to be filmed on locations outside the United States, plus at least seven others which will require on-the-spot filming in various sections of this continent, are on Columbia Pictures' 1953 schedule.

One of the location troupes, 80 members of the cast and crew of "From Here to Eternity," is in Honolulu for three weeks of work in the original locales of James Jones' best-selling novel. Burt Lancaster, Montgomery Clift, Deborah Kerr, Frank Sinatra and Donna Reed head the all-star cast for the picture, which Fred Zinneman is directing and Buddy Adler producing.

The next company to leave will be that of the Beekwoth production, "Miss Sadie Thompson," with Rita Hayworth, Jose Ferrer, Aldo Ray and other members of the cast being directed by Curtis Bernhardt going to the island of Kauai, "garden spot of the Pacific," for 3-D Technicolor filming of the Somerset Maugham classic.

"The authentic quality which location photography will give to these pictures, especially the one produced in three-dimensional color, will answer every audience demand for new and exciting visual experiences," declared executive producer Jerry Wald. "It will take moviegoers out of their living rooms and into a new outdoor world."

The next Technicolor film scheduled for filming outside the United States will be "River of the Sun," based on James Ramsey Ullman's best-seller. It is to be made in Brazil, in the rarely explored headwaters of the Amazon River.

Canada will play host to two Columbia productions: "The Human Beast," modern version of the Emile Zola classic, to be made in co-operation with the Canadian National Railways at Edmonton, and "High Command," a story of the Canadian bush pilots.

Crime Committee Urges Creation of Port Authority

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The New York state crime commission has urged creation of a state division of port administration with power to smash New York waterfront racketeering by abolishing the shake-up and licensing dock workers.

The drastic plan was submitted to Governor Thomas E. Dewey and the legislature in the four-member agency's fourth and final report on its two-year investigation of crime and political corruption.

The crime commission also recommended: Appointment by the governor of a commission of port administration to head the new division. The state agency would licence and supervise all dock workers, stevedoring companies, dock hiring agencies, loaders and port watchmen.

Canadians Eating More Canned Salmon

VANCOUVER—Canadians eating a lot more canned salmon today than they did in 1947, according to the latest figures compiled by the British Columbia salmon canning industry.

Domestic consumption of year accounted for 90 per cent of salmon, these sources state, as compared to approximately 500,000 cases in Canada in 1939.

"Increased domestic B.C. canned salmon consumption critical time for the salmon industry as markets in Britain and elsewhere have almost dried up," stated J. W. Edwards, cific district sales manager for American Can Company, which has perfected the modern method that helped expand British Columbia's fish-canning industry.

"This trend helped per capita consumption in Canada from 12 1/2 pounds in 1947 to almost 14 pounds a year," Edwards added. The same period, the amount of canned salmon increased from 44 pounds to 55 pounds.
