Thirty Years of Progress

TIMES HAVE CHANGED since 1924 and nowhere is that more apparent than in the field of aviation. Celebrating its 30th birthday April 1, the RCAF shows some of the old and some of the new in Canadian flying. UPPER LEFT, standing well back, crewmen are ready to start one of the old-time flying machines, using a long "rope-starter" tied to its wooden propeller. UPPER RIGHT, Air Marshal C. Roy Slemon, one of the original members of the Air Force, as he looks today as Chief of the Air Staff. ON THE LEFT, a comparison of flying suits with the old woolen type of the open-cockpit day contrasting sharply with the latest in RCAF "G" suits. LOWER LEFT, worn by jet-fighter pilots. LOWER RIGHT, the RCAF's powerful all-weather fighter, the CF-100 Canuck gets a tune-up before taking off on a patrol flight in Canada. From an original strength of less than 400 all ranks, the RCAF today has a peacetime strength of more than 45,000 men and women serving from coast to coast, and in France, England and Germany.

Air Cadet Advantages Outlined

Fathers of Prince Rupert air cadets were given a first-hand account of the training that their boys are receiving when the squadron held its first father and son banquet last night. The occasion marked the 13th year of air cadet activities in Canada and the 30th anniversary of the RCAF.

To the large number of men and boys present, the squadron's commanding officer, Flying Officer Douglas McLean, described the training syllabus and the numerous opportunities for selected cadets to go on to advanced work in flying and leadership instruction. He pointed out that each year the squadron recommends a few boys for flying training scholarships. Those who are successful receive 30 hours of free flying instruction, which locally is carried out in conjunction with the Aero Club. They are then eligible for their private pilot's licence.

Last year two boys in the squadron, Stan Kaardal and Ron Black, were awarded these scholarships and have since received their squadron wings for completing the course. This year six more Prince Rupert air cadets have been recommended.

F/O McLean pointed out that another opportunity of special interest is the senior leaders' course, which last year was completed by air cadet Roy Pedersen. This involves seven weeks of summer training designed to prepare cadets for future positions as squadron officers and instructors. Successful cadets receive a bonus of $100 in addition to having all their normal living expenses taken care of while on the course.

Summer camp and overseas exchange visits were other attractive features of the air cadet movement described by F/O McLean. He emphasized that the Prince Rupert squadron is training hard to make a good showing and complimented the boys on their efforts. In addition, he paid tribute to the training staff composed of F/O Stan Petrow, F/O R. Goodlab, F/O Norm Haywood, Sid Collins and Doug Haig. He explained that plans were being made to obtain separate quarters for the squadron and urged fathers to give all the assistance they could in this direction.

Among other speakers, Senior Cadet Pedersen gave an account of his experiences in the senior leaders' course.

"I am glad I joined the squadron," he said. "I've enjoyed the work, and the fun that goes with it. If there are any other fellows who are thinking of joining, I suggest they go right ahead and do it."

Chairman J. F. Magor pointed out that two of the fathers present each had two boys in the squadron. They were Tony Toth, with his sons Steve and Tony, and Erling Pedersen with his boys, Roy and Robert. Mr. Magor drew attention to the fact that whether or not air cadets go on to enlist in the RCAF, their experience in the squadron will always be to their advantage.

Pat Deane, a member of the sponsoring committee, described the work of the Aero Club which provides flying training for the cadets. He expressed the hope that a good number of those recommended for flying scholarships this year will be accepted.

Don Ritchie led the group in songs, with Cadet-Roy Seiber at the piano.

Pincer Attack Launched By Rebels In Indo-China

U.S. Rapped For Rebuff To Russia

LONDON (AP)—Two leading British newspapers criticized the United States state department today for haste in rebuffing Russia before consulting the Western Allies on the surprise Soviet bid to join up with NATO.

The editorial comments followed debate in Parliament Thursday in which Foreign Secretary Eden echoed the U.S. rejection of the Soviet offer and Labor member Herbert Morrison demanded that the Western Allies get together in the future before taking decisions on Russian offers affecting them jointly.

The Times agreed that the Russian bid, contained in identical notes Foreign Minister Molotov handed in Moscow to envoys of the U.S., Britain and France Wednesday, was a further attempt to wreck the proposed European Defence Community.

But the independent paper added: "The automatic rejection which Mr. Molotov's note drew from the state department is no substitute for consultations among all governments concerned. In his more temperate comment yesterday in the House of Commons Mr. Eden showed such consultations were expected."

SHOT FROM HIP

The News Chronicle, a Liberal paper, said the state department "shot from the hip" and "did so apparently without much thought to the alarm and resentment this sort of technique must create among the North Atlantic treaty powers at a time when some of the implications of the lone American journey with the H-bomb are already straining Western nerves."

France has issued no official comment on the Soviet bid yet, but high-level sources have echoed the British and U.S. feelings about the aims of Molotov's note. One French source said the offer was "like a pyromaniac wanting to become a fireman."

Judges Name Finalists In Oratory Test

Pat Lemon and Georgina Mitchell were named finalists in the Rotary-sponsored public speaking contest staged yesterday in the Booth Memorial High School activity room, in which six students competed.

Pat and Georgina will compete in finals at the Rotary Club luncheon next Thursday, with the winner receiving an expenses-paid trip to Ottawa.

The two Grade 11 finalists in the "Adventures in Citizenship" speaking contest, both chose the history of Prince Rupert as their topic.

Other competitors were Barbara Doumont, Grade 12, speaking on history and development of Rupert; George Henry, Grade 12, importance of extra-curricular activities in high school; Elsa Insulander, Grade 11, the story of cellulose; Madeline Sklapy, Grade 11, importance of extra-curricular activities in high school.

Judges were W. H. Hankinson, P. F. P. Bird and R. G. Moore, all of the Rotary Club, and Fred Aston of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Paper Prints Apology For Column

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Province Thursday printed an "unqualified apology for any reflection cast" upon judge and jury in a recent murder trial by a column it published March 20.

The column, by Eric Nicol, dealt with capital punishment. It appeared after William Wakefield Gash, 19, was convicted and sentenced to be hanged June 22 for the golf-course murder of Frank Pitsch last Dec. 10.

The newspaper, publisher A. W. Moscarella, editor H. H. C. Anderson, and columnist Nicol were ordered by Mr. Justice J. V. Clynne to appear in court today to show why they should not be cited for contempt of court.

The Province in a front-page story today said in part:

"The column made reference to the judge and jury in the Gash case. The language used has been construed by the court to cast reflection on the judge, the jury and the administration of justice in this province."

"The Province, its publisher, its editor and Mr. Nicol had no intention whatsoever to reflect upon the judge, the jury or the administration of justice and regret that the column was capable of being so interpreted."

"The object of the column by Mr. Nicol was to stimulate public discussion and interest in capital punishment, and to express Mr. Nicol's opposition to execution by hanging."

"To dramatize his subject Mr. Nicol mentioned the Gash murder case."

Detwiller, Cox Exchange Posts

Vietminh Forces Enter Cambodia

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—The Vietminh today threw thousands of fresh troops into a two-pronged pincer attack on besieged Dien Bien Phu, smashing repeatedly at both the northwestern and southeastern approaches to the heart of the French Union Indo-China bastion.

A brief French communique said the defenders had "violently counter-attacked" against the Communist-led rebels each time they rushed at the two corners of the hill-encircled plain 175 miles west of Hanoi.

There was savage hand-to-hand fighting as the French forces repeatedly beat back the rebels trying to break through into the plain's headquarters centre.

"An Agence France-Press dispatch today said regular Vietminh troops have crossed the frontier from Laos into Cambodia in Indo-China and that fighting is going on between the Communist-led rebels and Cambodian forces."

Results of the fighting are not yet known, the dispatch from Phnom Penh, capital of Cambodia, said. The report said this was the first time Vietminh regulars had penetrated Cambodian territory.

LOSSES UNKNOWN

As the second major Vietminh attempt to overwhelm Dien Bien Phu raged on its third day, the fighting was so furious that the French had no chance to estimate the losses on either side. They had said earlier that the rebels lost some 2,000 of their estimated 40,000 attackers in the first 48 hours of the renewed assault.

The attack on the northwest was the first in that sector of the current drive on the fortress, though the rebels in their first mass frontal attack on the plain three weeks ago had taken two posts in the centre of the northern defence perimeter.

The French admitted Thursday night that they had lost three eastern outposts, but said the heart and main arteries of the bastion were still intact.

In today's assaults, the Vietminh followed their usual pattern of wildly screaming charges, hurling grenades, firing rifles, pistols and machine-guns and swinging long-bladed knives in hand-to-hand combat with the French Union defenders.

Brown Queries Wicks' Worth As Minister

VICTORIA (CP)—Bruce Brown (L-Prince Rupert) wants to know if Labor Minister Lyle Wicks thinks he is worth the $13,500 he earned last year.

Speaking during the discussion of the minister's salary in the legislature, Mr. Brown said the minister had received two indemnities of $3,000 each for two sittings of the house last year plus a salary of $7,500.

"Does the honorable minister think he's worth it?" he asked. "The question was greeted with cries of shame from the government benches."

"That's pulling politics down to a new low," cried one member. Chairman A. S. Matthews instructed the member to withdraw the question because it was not suitable.

Labor Minister Under Fire; House Hears Plea on H-Bomb

VICTORIA (CP)—The government Thursday got a taste of what it can expect when it introduces its new labor acts in the legislature.

During the debate on the minister of labor's salary in the legislature opposition members fired question after question at Labor Minister Lyle Wicks and debate got heated in several instances.

Premier Bennett unexpectedly adjourned the debate at 10:30 p.m., early compared to most of the night sittings of the last two weeks, and after the sitting charged the opposition with "obstructionist tactics" and said the house would likely sit after Easter.

Earlier CCF Opposition Leader Arnold Webster made a forceful plea for the end of hydrogen bomb tests.

Leo Nimsick (CCF-Cranbrook) wanted to know if the Labor Relations Board had issued certifications for unions in Kitimat that had no members.

MADE MISTAKE

Liberal Leader Laing criticized the part-time labor relations board and said the government had made its greatest mistake in changing it from the full-time board which had the confidence of the people.

CCF members criticized as undemocratic the government policy of appointing labor members to the Industrial Relations Board without first referring to labor.

At one stage Tony Gargrave (CCF-Mackenzie) said the minister of labor was not doing his job properly by not answering the opposition's questions. Premier Bennett said he resented the member lecturing the minister.

E. E. Winch (CCF-Burnaby) said: "Good Lord, he had it coming to him."

RCN Receives New Flagship

VICTORIA (CP)—The Royal Canadian Navy bought its newest and most modern ship Wednesday.

After several days of trials and a full day of severe tests by high ranking naval officers, the mine-sweeper HMCS Comox was turned over to the navy by officials of the Victoria Machinery Depot where it has been under construction for more than two years.

The Comox will become the flagship of the Pacific coast's new minesweeper squadron and will be under the command of Cmdr. J. V. Steele, who will also command the 2nd Canadian minesweeping squadron to be based at Esquimalt.

Northern Route Best

ALTHOUGH Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi apparently gave it scant attention, the most significant part of his announced plans for Highway 16 was that construction of a link between Prince George and McBride was contemplated.

Unless the B.C. government had some definite plans in that direction, it is doubtful that Mr. Gagliardi would have mentioned it at all. The subject is far too controversial to permit even half a promise which is not backed up. Now, however, the door is partially opened and it would take the devil's own strength to close it again.

The fact is, of course, that the provincial government cannot avoid having such plans. In view of the proposal to build a dam on the Columbia River at Mica Creek, which would flood the Big Bend highway for approximately 80 miles, B.C. faces a situation in which its only trans-provincial highway will be the most southerly route.

Although it would be possible to cut a road higher up the slopes of Columbia Valley, engineers regard it as a difficult undertaking. Ice and rock slide conditions present a constant hazard, and reconnaissance reports indicate that at least three miles of snow sheds would be necessary.

The comparatively simple alternative is to join Prince George and McBride. By this one act, B.C. would have not only a second trans-provincial highway but a much-needed development of its central, and ultimately its northern, area.

Under the circumstances, it is impossible to avoid giving the proposition some real thought. While it may be conceded that the power interests constructing the dam at Mica Creek will have to pay for the road they flood, the case for a northern route is not changed. The present Big Bend highway is a somewhat treacherous gravel road, so that its replacement value cannot come close to what would be necessary for constructing and maintaining a good highway far up the mountain sides. Such an undertaking might cost almost as much as the power project itself.

The wisest course would be to settle with the power interests on fair terms and apply the credit towards construction of a road that is feasible—the one between Prince George and McBride.

Ray REFLECTS and REMINISCES

Gibraltar is due for a look-see from the Queen and Duke, somewhere around May 10. This will be little more than another month away and oohs are reported well and happy. It is a privilege to be able to return a salute that cannot but have in it a great deal of significance.

Dollars are banked by those who are not forever depositing their quarters on easy chairs, comments an eastern daily.

An Ontario Labor leader says when your neighbor loses his job, it's a recession: when you lose yours, it's a depression. And when about everybody is out of work and your in-laws move in to occupy all vacant rooms, one can hardly say there's a panic, but it may soon be that.

We never inhaled cigarette smoke that reached the lungs, and haven't had a puff of any description for a year. And the situation is going to stay that way.

TAKE THIS INSTEAD!

The old time medicine man did not die. He's still living, and vigorous at that. How many of us realize that some ten million Americans pay out $500,000,000 a year for "health foods," "health aids" and "diet supplements." None of all this is actually needed. But other things are. The food faddist, however, is not.

The Japanese fishermen, feeling the effect of being struck by material that should not have touched them were still in hospital in Japan yesterday, and far from well. Their plight can be said to be serious.

Paper Firm's Counsel Claims Charges Illegal

VANCOUVER (CP)—Ten of Canada's largest coarse paper companies Thursday opened a battle to have charges brought against them under the federal Combines Act thrown out under the statute of limitations.

G. K. Guild, counsel for Pacific Mills Ltd., one of the firms charged with conspiring to eliminate fair competition, argued during the third day of the preliminary hearing that the charges are illegal. He contended that the companies are accused of conspiring together to fix competitive prices between 1934 and 1951. The statute of limitations, he said, says no action shall be brought to recovery a penalty after two years.

Egypt Seethes

THERE IS a real warning to the west in the strange situation now shaping up in Egypt.

The masses in Cairo are actually campaigning against the return of "freedom" for party politics. The idea of western style democracy is associated in the minds of the impoverished people, with graft, corruption, deception, and sell-outs to foreign powers.

CERTAIN young officers in the Egyptian army had come to the conclusion that there must be a revolution—that the decadent fat-boy king must go, and that the corrupt political parties must also go.

They staged their coup with almost ridiculous ease — they won absolute power. They jailed hundreds of people whom, they feared, might become dangerous to the new regime. But when they started in to administer the affairs of the country, their drive slowed down, and finally came to a complete halt.

Apart from getting the British out of Suez, the revolutionaries had no clear-cut program. And even the successful completion of the campaign to get the foreign armies out of the Suez canal zone would have no effect in raising the standard of living of the masses. Indeed, the first effect of the expulsion of British armies from the Suez would have the opposite effect — it would deprive scores of thousands of Egyptians of their livelihoods.

THE REVOLUTIONARY junta did proclaim a sort of half-baked land reform program. In theory, a good many of the landless peasants got some title or claim to land on which they had formerly worked for landlords. But there were no arrangements for credits which would have enabled the tenants to get by during the period they were planting and tending their crops, and before they were able to get any cash return for those crops.

So the whole land reform program has also bogged down.

IF DEMOCRACY is to meet and beat the challenge of Communism in all these countries democracy must evolve simple but drastic program of social change to apply in such countries as Egypt.

What Egypt has, in fact, is what exists in less turbulent form in many other countries in that part of the world — a potential revolutionary situation, but without any organization or tools to make that revolution effective.

The situation is in fact made-to-order for exploitation by the Communists. For the Communists know exactly how they would proceed in any such situation.

AN AMERICAN business man wrote the most sensible words about the situation which exists in the Middle East, Africa, and Asia.

It was to the effect that the only way the west could beat out Russia in all that part of the world was for the west actually to organize and canalize the revolutions which are surely coming.

Our choice, he wrote is to "lead it, or lose it." What is happening in Egypt is a striking example of what he meant.

Venezuela was discovered by Christopher Columbus on his third western voyage in 1498.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

The issue which is the subject of greatest pessimism in Parliament Hill circles these days is the railway labor dispute. A board of conciliation with Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock as its eminent head has been in session since mid-January on the demands of the 160,000 non-operating employees for "fringe benefits" said to add $60,000,000 to the railways' annual operating costs. The failure of the board to agree on a recommendation in the length of time it has been sitting is regarded by parliament as an ominous portent.

There are reports, furthermore, from Montreal that railway management has concluded that the time has arrived to make a firm stand against any further labor aggression. The economic situation of the transportation industry is said to necessitate a holiday from rising costs if railways are to hold their own against competitive carriers—notably the highway trucks.

So far there has been nothing to indicate that railway workers are disposed to be any less intransigent than railway management. The employees contend that they showed major restraint and co-operation when, instead of seeking higher pay, they offered to settle for a boost in so-called "fringe" benefits now enjoyed on a limited scale. Specifically they asked an increase in holidays with pay, in allowable time off for sickness without pay deduction, and in overtime pay for Sunday work.

Just how far the workers and management are apart in their views on these concessions is indicated by the contrasting price tags they put on them. Management has said that it would cost the railways $60,000,000 annually to implement the proposals. The workers contend it would cost a scant $15,000,000.

But irrespective of costs, the railway managements are credited with holding the confirmed view that it is imperative to hold the wage line at the present time if the railway industry is to be able to function effectively in the nation's economy. Management points out that since the last wage adjustment the cost of living has levelled off rather than increased. Management also makes another strong point: the employees with whom it now is negotiating are not the people who actually run the trains; they are the far more numerous non-operating group—the clerks, ticket-sellers, ledger-keepers, and paper-workers generally. But over the years these groups have graded themselves up very considerably in comparison with the actual operating personnel. In the view of management, the margin of pay separating the two classes has become at least as narrow as can be defended.

Thus the situation is occasioning anxiety and pessimism. It is too replete with the possibilities of a repetition of the 1950 strike to be comfortable.

— DAILY NEWS LETTERBOX —

CONFUSING

The Editor,
The Daily News:

I have waded through the maze of confusion by which Mr. C. W. Reeves says he hopes to offer certain suggestions, however nebulous.

May I be permitted to make the suggestion that Mr. Reeves himself is only groping blindly? His diatribe is not only infantile but reveals an astounding lack of observation in his offer that taxes are fines and that we can toss them out of the window in exchange for Utopia.

If we are not prepared to share according to our means in the cost of operating the administrative and social functions of our country and government, why then should we have a voice in its operation?

Naturally, we all squabble about our duties, even about our privileges for we are inherently selfish and greedy. These traits would become all the more obvious and lead to chaos with galloping rapidly should our responsibility to society be removed.

And to suggest that "our concern should not be what man goes to Ottawa as M.P., but to know those who go will introduce a money system..." is nothing short of throwing our franchise out the window where it will crash with a much heavier thud than the taxes.

Is that Social Credit, the medicine for our ills?

LARRY STANWOOD.

THE DRYDOCK UNDER THE HAMMER?

The Editor,
The Daily News:

To the pioneers who struggled to carve a city out of the wilds of muskeg and rock. The news of selling the drydock came as an undesired shock.

How can this natural gate of the Pacific fulfill its function of transportation if it is deprived of its facilities, for shipping reparations?

After a generation of pioneering, in the development of Canada's last west, is Ottawa going to fall down in the enterprise on a minor affair on the great test?

The great enterprise to link east-west, with a northern railway required the vision of men who could see beyond their times. The potentialities of this Dominion.

The job is far from being complete. It requires perseverance in the task. Fairness and an equitable valuation is what the Rupert people ask.

This matter transcends mere adverse ledgers. It concerns the north Pacific's trade possibilities. Now on the eve of great development, and Rupert is the logical spot for shipping facilities.

Now that Kitimat with its gigantic plant is ready to start operation, it is not logical disposing of the drydock. Needed for its ocean fleet in eventual reparations.

The CNR provides transportation, for Alaska through this port. The Johnson Act will go over board. Rupert becomes the shipping hub of the north.

We fail to see anywhere in the world, such a potential spot needing facilities. To accommodate shipping and this port is essential for developing economic possibilities.

From Rupert to the Peace Pass, lies dormant an Empire of wealth. Out of reach of any possible development Without a new railroad belt.

If the drydock fails to pay its way, in catering to the needs of transportation, it is the fault of Ottawa, for it lacked vision, foresight, in its obligations.

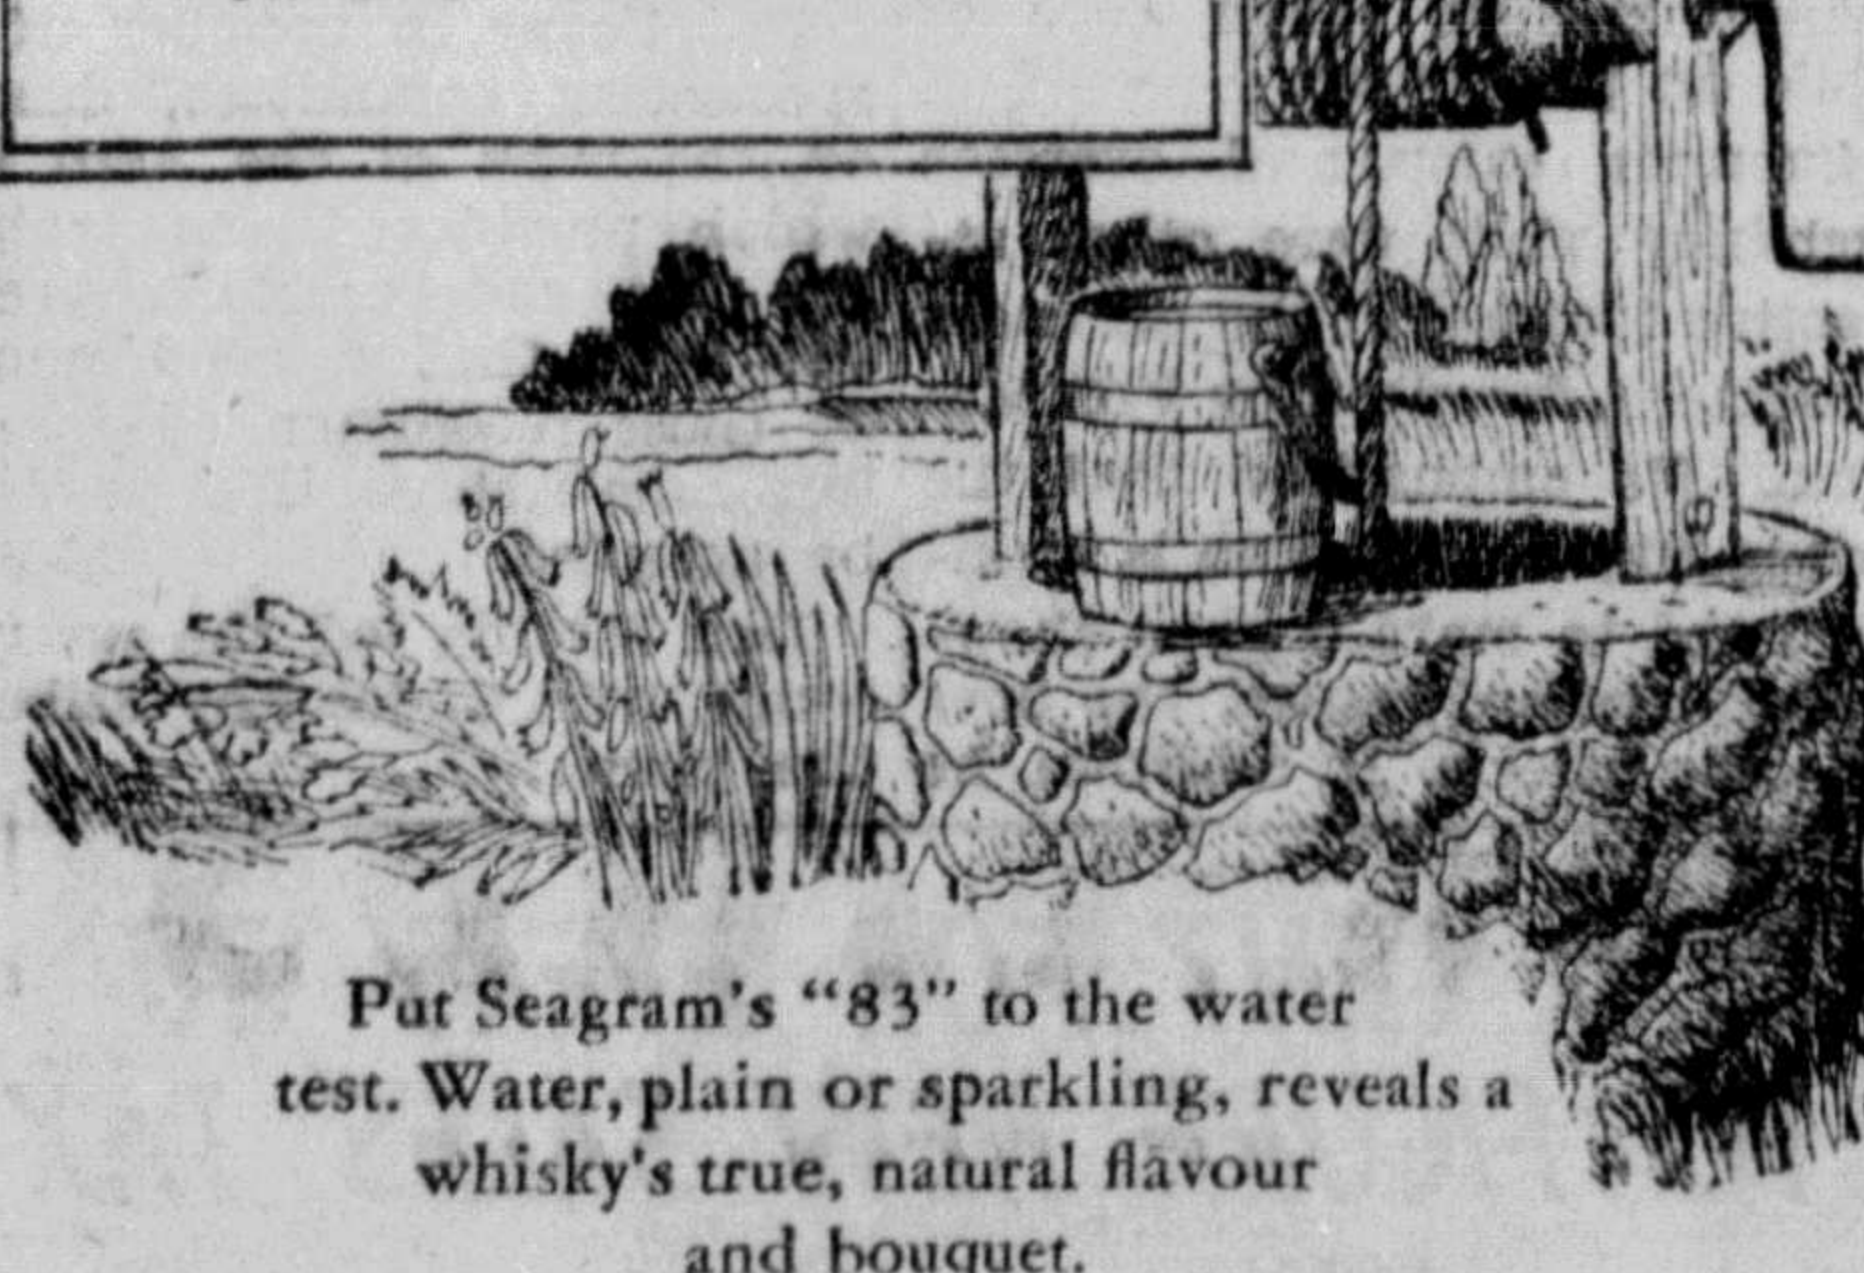

The CNR is big enough. To find a suitable way out, and spare us the humiliation of seeing the drydock taken away.

Let us say that the drydock was built here to stay and whatever the decision may be, that it will never be taken away.

In the name of the pioneers who came here and staked their whole, we beseech OTTAWA to keep faith With the great Laurier's goal.

V. BASSO-BERT.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Senate Thursday passed a bill to grant statehood to Hawaii and Alaska but the measure may languish in the House, Republican leaders there are receptive to Hawaii but not to Alaska.

The Senate passed the combined bill 57-28 after battling down moves to:

1. Grant the two territories commonwealth status, like Puerto Rico's, instead of full-fledged statehood.
2. Require a referendum in each territory to let the voters choose between commonwealth status and statehood.

PLAIN BUT SMART

One of the prettiest go-anywhere dresses was a plain but oh-so-smart washable in one of the new materials, of pale buttercup yellow with moulded bodice, high neckline, short cuffed sleeves and straight-hanging accordion pleated skirt. In the party dress field, one of the nicest was a dress of black, dotted with a rose petit-point pattern, featuring deep-V neckline front and back on the moulded bodice, and wide, wide skirt.

Climaxing the show was the traditional bridal party with two brides in two beautiful dresses, both white lace and net, both with modified apron peplums. Attendants wore shrimp, pale pink and blue. The shrimp-colored taxi-length gown featured a skirt of lace with a deep flounce of net, outlined in fine black velvet. Rose buds trimmed the shirred net flounce on the pink net dress and lace points extending from the lace bodice onto net featured the blue gown.

Modelling in the show were Ruby Morrison, Lois Good, Pat Hixon, Iona Campagnola, Pearl Gillis, Jean McLellan, Nancy Hopkins, Bernice Cooper, Jessie Boulter, May Wolstenholme, Jean Burns, Bertha Boulter, Pearl Gillis, Mrs. Mork and Marie Skalmrud. Marg Leaman and Marie Skalmrud were the two brides and Lois Good, Pat Hill and Enid Sedgewick attendants.

At the end of the show, bouquets were presented by Joan Cross to Mrs. Jean Stromdahl and Mrs. Hilda Berg, co-sponsors of the show, who in turn presented a gift to the commentator. Winners of two sprays of spring flowers were Mrs. Kristmannson and Mrs. S. Peneff. Musical intervals were provided by vocalists Yvonne Schaeffer and Mrs. W. H. Hankinson, the former accompanied by Mrs. J. S. Black and the latter by Mrs. G. E. Freeman. Piano music background for the show was played by Mrs. M. Weise. D. Guyatt handled special lighting for the show.

Cunningham's Colorful Life Reminder of Museum Need

An Irish prize-fighter who came to the west coast with missionary aspirations but instead became a leading figure in developing coastal trade was described by Dr. R. G. Large at the Gyo Club weekly luncheon meeting yesterday.

The man was Robert Cunningham who came out to work with the renowned Father William Duncan but, being too free-living for Duncan, set himself up as a fur trader at Port Simpson in 1863.

Trouble came all at once when he started trading liquor for furs. Hearing of this outrage, Father Duncan set a bootlegging trap for him with the result that Cunningham had to close shop.

The Irishman's next stop was Port Essington where he went into competition with the Hudson's Bay Company and pioneered travel up the Skeena river. After a period of hectic rivalry, Cunningham's river-boat established the amazing speed record of 47 hours for the round trip between Port Essington and Hazelton and the race was called off.

The enterprising Cunningham also started a salmon cannery at Port Essington and introduced methods of treating the fish which are still used today. Even before the end of the 19th century he saw the importance of a trans-continental railway extending to this part of the Pacific coast.

Lindsay Ousts Leafs With Overtime Goal

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—Goalie Harry Lumley fought—but lost—a great battle against Detroit Red Wings as the Wings knocked Toronto Maple Leafs out of the Stanley Cup playoffs 4-3.

Detroit won the "sudden death" thriller which ended early this morning to win the semi-final series four games to one, but Lumley's magnificent work in goal almost forced a sixth game.

As it was, however, Detroit took the series when captain Ted Lindsay fired the game-winning goal at 1:01 of a second "sudden death" overtime session. It gave the Wings the 4-3 victory and shot them into the final round against the defending champion Montreal Canadiens. The opening game of the finals will be held in Olympia Stadium here Sunday night.

Lumley, Vezina Trophy winner, was plagued by jitters in the opening playoff game here, which Toronto lost by the one-sided margin of 5-0. There was talk then that the applecheeked netminder couldn't stand the pressure. But Lumley disproved such talk by responding with one brilliant performance after another, capping it with his magnificent performance in the final game.

The veteran goalie had been beaten in Tuesday's fourth game at Toronto by a fluke goal. That could have discouraged him, but it didn't. He gave up three goals in the first period Thursday night, two by Gord Howe and one by Glen Skov, and Toronto was on the short end of a 3-1 score.

Howe's first goal set a Stanley Cup playoff record as he beat Lumley nine seconds after the game started. He broke the mark of 10 seconds set only a week ago by Montreal's Dickie Moore in the semi-final against Boston Bruins, which the Canadiens won four straight.

Toronto's goal in the first period was scored by Ted Sloan. The Maple Leafs fought back into a 3-3 tie in the second period on goals by captain Ted Kennedy and Rudy Migay. Then Lum took over.

Detroit fired every conceivable shot at him, but he wouldn't yield. He had the crowd of 13,927 buzzing with his acrobatics, diving, lunging and making one game-saving catch after another.

He stopped 33 of Detroit's first 36 shots. But he couldn't cope with No. 37. It was Lindsay's winning thrust.

SPORTS BRIEFS

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Oil Kings, scoring three of their goals while a man short, romped to a 7-3 victory over Flin Flon Bombers Thursday night to move to within one game of clinching their western junior hockey semi-finals in four straight games.

Oil Kings, who topped the Western Junior Hockey League by a wide margin, took the first two games of the best-of-seven series 7-0 and 8-2. Fourth game will be here Saturday.

QUEBEC (CP)—Light-heavyweight Claude Labelle of Montreal has been suspended for 30 days by the Quebec city boxing commission for failing to fulfill a contract here last Monday. Labelle failed to appear for a bout with Gus Bruno of Red Deer, Alta. Bruno knocked out Labelle's substitute, Victor Piccio, Montreal, in the second round.

BOSTON (AP)—General manager Art Ross, guiding genius of Boston Bruins since they entered the National Hockey League 30 years ago, announced his retirement Thursday night. Ross said he will remain with the Bruins until next October in an advisory capacity.

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg Paulins edged Alberni Athletics 72-70 in the last minute of play Thursday night to take a 1-0 lead in their best-of-five series for the western Canada senior men's basketball championship. Second game of the series will be played tonight.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS
Boston—Sandy Saddler, 133, New York, stopped Augie Salazar, 139½, Oakland, Calif., 7, non-title.

Portland, Me.—George Araujo, 139, Providence, R.I., stopped Jacques Julien, 143, France, 3.

Tacoma, Wash.—Nat McMurry, 182, Tacoma, knocked out Bill Mathis, 219, Eureka, Calif., 2.

Mexico City—Humberto Carrillo, 127, Mexico, was awarded decision over Martin Rodriguez, 126, Cuba, Wednesday after referee disqualified Rodriguez for repeated fouling.

Bobo Olson 2-1 Favorite Against Gavilan Tonight

By PERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—Two world boxing champions, Carl Bobo Olson of San Francisco and Kid Gavilan of Cuba, will battle 15 rounds or less for Olson's five-month-old middleweight crown at Chicago stadium tonight.

TV fans, except in blacked-out Chicago and a 100-mile surrounding area, will watch the favored Olson, 25, make his first title defense against welterweight champion Gavilan, 28, beginning at 10 p.m. EST.

There also will be a radio broadcast of this first bout between two reigning champions since the now-retired middleweight king, Sugar Ray Robinson, failed to dethrone the then light-heavy champ, Joe Maxim, in New York, June 25, 1952.

OLSON FAVORED

Odds hovered around 2 to 1 in Olson's favor before the noon weigh-in at which Bobo was expected to outweigh Gavilan by six pounds, 159 to 153.

The International Boxing Club admitted it would take a last-minute rush at the box office to reach a goal of $360,000 gross for a capacity 19,400 paid. It appeared likely that the fight would lure about 17,500, paying some $320,000, sweetened by $100,000 from the TV rights.

Olson gets 35 per cent of the net gate and TV money, about $119,000, against Gavilan's 25 per cent for around $85,000.

ACTION EXPECTED

A torrid pace is expected in the meeting of the baldish, tattooed Olson against the cocky Cuban, who has had almost twice as many pro fights as Bobo—115 to 60. It'll be Olson, a busy, flailing crowder, against a crafty, skinny-legged slasher.

Olson won the middleweight title vacated by Robinson when he whipped England's Rancy Turpin at New York last Oct. 21. He since has had one fight, knocking out Joe Rindone at San Francisco Jan. 23 in a non-title bout.

Gavilan has held the welter title since he won a 15-round decision over Johnny Bratton after the confusion in the 147-pound ranks which followed Robinson's climb to 160-pound champion when he stopped Jake LaMotta in Chicago Feb. 14, 1951. Gavilan will have to give up his 147-pound crown if he wins tonight.

Registrations Slated For Little Leaguers

Tomorrow the call goes out for registrations in the Prince Rupert Little League baseball association and regulation forms can be obtained by prospective players from the Civic Centre between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. only.

They are to be returned between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. the following Saturday, April 10. Official player agent Art Williamson will be at the Civic Centre between the above-mentioned hours on the two days only.

The forms are designed in keeping with the official Little League Baseball form which are to be signed by both the father and the mother of the boy. If that is impossible, then the reason must be stated on the form.

When signed, the form assures the Little League association that the parents give their approval of the player's participation in any and all of Little League activities.

The form, after signed releases and waives all claims against the Little League and Little League Incorporated, the sponsors, organizers and supervisors and also waives to the extent not covered by liability insurance any claim against any person transporting the boy to or from Little League activities. A birth certificate is required on request of league officials.

In keeping with Little League's high standards the Prince Rupert group has already obtained group accident insurance, which covers not only members of the four teams that will be selected but the boys trying out for the LYN TERTZE of Coral Gables, Fla., seems to be stacked with these rifles after Marines of the 2nd Gunnery Battalion named her "Miss Beachhead." The Leathernecks thought it might be nice to call Lyn the gal they would most like to establish one for.

City Bowlers Rank 29th In CNT Tourney

By The Associated Press

Prince Rupert's Canadian National Telegraph bowlers placed 29th out of 50 teams competing in the CNT third annual Trans-Canada Teletype bowling tourney.

The local team, captained by Ken McIntosh, chalked up a three-game total of 3,038 pins, to place about mid-way down the list of teams in towns from coast to coast.

Winner of the tourney was a St. John's, Newfoundland team with a total of 4,608 pins. Runner-up was a Toronto team, with a total of 3,921.

Mary Postuk paced the Rupert team posting 219 in each of her first two games, and ending with a 180, for a three-game total of 618. Other players and their three-game totals were Mel Little 457, Jean Pavlikis 556, Paul Pourier 475, Tracey McIntosh 391 and Ken McIntosh 541.

Speedy Goals Give Nelson Lead in Finals

By The Canadian Press

Thanks to defenceman Bruno Pasqualotto's two third-period goals in 33 seconds Thursday night, Nelson Maple Leafs will enter the second game of the B.C. senior amateur hockey finals Saturday night with a one-game lead over Penticton V's.

The Leafs took a 5-4 decision from Penticton in the first game of the best-of-seven series to determine the B.C. representative in the Allan Cup playoffs. The loss was a heartbreaker for the visiting V's of the Okanagan Senior Hockey League. They held a 2-1 lead after the opening period and forged ahead early in the third after Nelson had tied it up 3-3 in the second.

Jack McDonald put the V's ahead 4-3 at the eight-minute mark of the final, only to have Pasqualotto deadlock it again a few minutes later after finishing off a rush with Bill Haldane and Lee Hyssop. Then, 33 seconds later, his backhand caught the open corner, and that was it.

Don Appleton shared scoring honors with Pasqualotto, snaring two goals and an assist. Fritz Koehle notched the other. Marksmen for Penticton were McDonald with a pair, Jack McIntyre and Bill Warwick.

Remember When

By The Canadian Press

Winnipeg won the Allan Cup 23 years ago tonight by defeating Hamilton Tigers 3-1, after taking the first of the best-of-three series by 2-1. The Winnipeg team went on to win the Olympic hockey title the following year (1932) at Lake Placid, N.Y.

Stamps Trim Cougars To Take Meet Edmonton-Saskatoon Win

Calgary Stampers have accomplished in the Western Hockey League playoffs what they failed to do in the regular season.

The Cougars romped to a 7-4 win over Victoria Cougars in Calgary Thursday night to take their best-of-seven quarter-final series from the Islanders 4-1. Over the regular season, Cougars were the only club in the seven-team loop to best the Calgarys on an inter-club basis. The Cougars won four and tied one in seven starts against Stamps.

Stamps now meet the winner of the Saskatoon-Edmonton series, currently led by the Flyers 3-2. A victory on home ice tonight would put Edmonton in a best-of-seven semi-final with their Alberta rivals.

Over on the coast, it's still anybody's series. The season-winning Vancouver Canucks have their hands full with the upstart New Westminster Royals. Their best-of-nine semi-final affair is tied 2-2, with the fifth game scheduled in Vancouver tonight.

Pat Lundy was the big man in Calgary's win over Cougars on Thursday night, pumping in four goals. Sharing in the other three counters were Steve Witluk, Steve Black and Jim McFadden. Connecting for Victoria were Andy Heberton, Eddie Dorohoy, Bill Sinnett and Tony Schneider.

The turning point of the contestment by setting up Heberton first period when Sam Bettio was waved off. The penalty allowed Witluk to fire one in from close in and Black to bounce the rubber off Claude Evans' pad into the cage.

This gave the winners a 3-0 lead which was narrowed by one goal 33 seconds later when Bettio attained some measure of atonement by setting up Heberton's drive into an open corner.

Frank Anfield, John Clibbett Chalk up 98's

Frank Anfield and John Clibbett topped marksmen of the Civic Centre Youth Rifle Club at last night's shoot, both scoring 98 per cent.

Other high scorers were Tero Paavola, 97; Jim McLean 96; Max Fleming 96; Ron Peterson 94; Gerry Jensen 93 and George Pearson 91.

Members who have scored 100 per cent to date at the club sessions are Frank Anfield (three times), John Clibbett (twice), Wayne Crow (twice), Bill Holgate, Glen Smith, Robert Pedersen, Ray Windle and Max Fleming.

A shoot is planned for Sunday afternoon at the Department of National Defence Range and boys wishing to enter have been asked to pick up entry forms at the Civic Centre. The forms are to be signed by parents.

For transportation, the boys are to meet at Lindsay's garage, Conrad Street school or the Post Office at 12:45 p.m.

SEAWAY LEGISLATION FACES FURTHER DELAY

WASHINGTON — Supporters of United States St. Lawrence seaway legislation faced a new delay today in bringing the controversial measure to the floor of the House of Representatives for final action.

The House rules committee, after a lengthy hearing on Thursday, decided to postpone further consideration of the bill until the House returns from its Easter recess April 26. The committee decides which legislation shall go to the House floor.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Muzzy's Play Should Be As Good As His Bidding

Mr. Muzzy's play of today's hand should have been as good as his bidding. His response of one diamond on the South cards looks a little odd, but actually it was the least of several evils.

Most players today think a bid of one no trump over partner's one club opening should show a pretty fair hand. I go along with that thought because the reasoning behind it is sound. To bid one trump, Mr. Muzzy should have been a king stronger — that is, he should have had an average hand in high cards.

The reason is that a one no trump response cuts out all further bidding by the partnership at the one level. If the original bidder wants to bid again, he has to come in at the two range and his hand may not be quite enough for that.

LOW BID CONVENIENT

How convenient it is for him if the responder bids one diamond. Then he can rebid one heart or one spade and thus a lot of information can be exchanged at the lowest bidding level.

Of course Mr. Muzzy was too strong to pass. Lacking the strength for a one no trump response, he bid one diamond on a four-card suit headed by the seven spot. As it happened, Mr. Abel didn't have a four-card major to bid anyway and after his jump to three clubs, Mr. Muzzy properly went to three no trump.

DOWN TWO

The trey of hearts was opened, and proving again a little learning is a dangerous thing, Mr. Muzzy laid off the first two

North dealer
East-West vulnerable

North (Mr. Abel)	East (Mr. Masters)
S-A K 6	S-9 4 3
H-J 4	H-Q 10 6 2
D-A 6 3	D-K Q 9 8
C-A Q J 5 2	C-K 4
South (Mr. Muzzy)
S-Q J 5
H-A 7 5
D-7 5 4 2
C-10 9 6

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 C	Pass	1 D	Pass
3 C	Pass	3 NT	All Pass

rounds of hearts. However, the opponents now shifted to diamonds and continued until the ace was knocked out. When the club finesse lost, Mr. Muzzy was down two. The defenders won three diamonds, two hearts and a club.

Mr. Muzzy should have won the first heart trick. This would have given him two chances instead of one—the chance that Mr. Champion had the king of clubs and the chance the opposing hearts were divided 4-4. After all, he was just as vulnerable in diamonds as in hearts and the way he played it, he had just once chance—the club finesse.

Labor to Protest Act Next Week

VICTORIA — The six-man steering committee of the mass labor protest meeting here will attempt to meet the cabinet next week to demand withdrawal of the Labor Relations Act.

This was decided at a closed meeting of the conference on Thursday. About 300 delegates met here Wednesday and Thursday to discuss the act. They voted Wednesday to demand withdrawal.

R. K. Gervin of the Trades Union Congress and a member of the steering committee said labor wants no part of the new act but wants amendments to the existing Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

Radiation Key in Battle Against Chronic Leukemia

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A method of almost doubling the survival time of people with chronic leukemia was reported this week by a physician widely known for his research on blood.

The procedure involves the use of constant small doses of radiation over the entire body.

Usually leukemia patients are treated only as long as they are outwardly ailing, then sent home. The new way is to keep on treating them even though the don't appear sick.

This method was described to science writers by Dr. E. E. Osgood of the University of Oregon medical school. The science writers are touring research centres under the sponsorship of the American Cancer Society, which supports the work of Dr. Osgood and many other medical scientists.

Officials estimate that about $50,000,000 worth are still outstanding.

HANGING ONTO the boat's rigging, actress Ava Gardner enjoys a breezy outing in the Riviera sunshine. Glamorous Ava is in Italy to make a film.
