PLANE CRASHES IN HARBOR

First Car Rolls Off Line

FIRST CAR TO BE TURNED OUT by Ford of Canada's 32½-acre assembly plant at Oakville, Ontario, was scheduled to be driven the final assembly line this afternoon, signalling the start of production for Canada's newest industrial giant. Largest industrial building under one roof in Canada, the plant is going into production only one year after the first steel was put up.

The new building places Ford of Canada assembly operations in the centre of the Canadian market. Cost of the total expansion program has been estimated at $65,000,000, approximately half for the Oakville plant and half for the new facilities in Windsor. When in full production the new plant will employ about 4,000 persons.

More Than 40 American Alaska Halibutters Working on Bait, Ice Here For Season Opening

International Halibut Commission announced at press conference that opening date for halibut fishing is officially fixed at 12:01 a.m., May 15.

Work of cold storage work-alaska has resulted in the concentration of United and Alaska halibut fishing boats ever seen here.

More than 40 of the large, white, trim-looking craft are tied up at the docks of the two largest fishing companies here taking on ice and bait in readiness for the halibut season opening scheduled for May 17.

No official declaration of the opening day, however, has been received by the Customs Department here to authorize validation of fishing licences.

Newly-appointed customs collector Fred Grimble said he expected a "mad rush of skippers" when the order comes through, likely in the next few days, to get their clearances and licences stamped.

Ordinarily, the official International Fisheries Commission bulletin would have been received by now. Because of the delay, several boats intending to fish in the northern waters of area 3A, are clearing harbor now, heading for Alaska ports, in the hopes that authorization for validation of licences will be received when they reach these ports.

If no such authorization is received, a delay in the opening of the season is conceivable, said Mr. Grimble.

Normally, halibut fishermen may clear port here to fish in Area 2A 48 hours before fishing opens, and for Area 3A, five days before opening.

If the recommended opening of the season at 12:01 a.m. May 17 is officially approved, boats could clear here for fishing at 12:01 a.m. May 15 for Area 2A, and at 12:01 a.m. tomorrow for Area 3A.

Privilege of taking supplies at Canadian customs port is granted to American halibut fishermen only on the basis of an international treaty.

Halibut fishing is considered a deep-sea industry and grounds of the fish common to both countries, provided that neither country's fishing vessels trespass on the other's three-mile coastal limits.

Other U.S. fishing vessels, such as engaged in salmon fisheries, are allowed to enter Canadian ports only in case of distress from weather or breakdown of engines and boats. After repairs they can take on only enough supplies to enable them to reach the nearest American or Alaskan port.

Meanwhile, another possibility was seen by local fishing companies if the northern cold storage workers continue their strike.

Bulk of American halibut fishermen may attempt to sell their catches in bond in Prince Rupert if the Alaska shortworkers' dispute is not settled before fishing begins.

"This would almost double the business in Prince Rupert and we would be hard put to handle it," said one official.

A big halibut season is expected, in spite of an estimated three cent drop is likely, although competition for fish on the exchange remains a constant factor.

More small boats than ever before are expected to crash the halibut industry, formerly mainly confined to the large boats. Trollers as well as gillnet vessels are rigged with long line and skates of gear.

Most fishing companies have sent their collecting camps to sea, stationed at central points where fish from small boats are weighed, then picked up by packers and transported to Prince Rupert.

Pilot, Co-Pilot Taken To Hospital

Elderly Man Rescued by Crew Of Vancouver-Owned Halibutter

The pilot and co-pilot of a Canadian Pacific Airlines land-sea-air plane inbound from Sandspit and at least one passenger were injured shortly after 1:30 this afternoon when the aircraft plunged into the harbor.

There was no official statement from CPA officials here.

Local agent, Dick Bell, sped to the scene and was not available for comment.

Taken to hospital were: Pilot Wally Jennings, co-pilot Ev Abbey and an elderly man identified only as a Mr. Wood.

Hospital authorities could not state immediately the extent of their injuries.

Dozens of fishing boats, many of them preparing to sail to the halibut grounds this week-end, rushed from the shoreline as the fishermen saw the large plane dive into the water.

One witness said it dove below the choppy water, then came to the surface before it again nosed underneath, leaving only part of one wing and the tail showing.

Passengers clambered from the aircraft onto the wing and awaited rescue.

The city ambulance, police and dozens of citizens in private cars sped to the waterfront and watched as the fishing boats surrounded the ill-fated craft.

The elderly man was the first to be brought to shore, being transported by Tony Crawley, one of the first on the scene. Pilot Jennings was next.

One eye-witness reported that the plane appeared to plunge down twice as it struck the wind-swept water off Pig Island. It is understood that the nose was ripped open but the aircraft remained afloat.

Pilot Jennings' condition is reported as "good."

Another eyewitness said he believed all mail and baggage aboard the plane was lost, although there was no confirmation from officials.

The plane had radioed it would land at 1:35 p.m. and was a few seconds ahead of schedule.

There was a slight wind over the harbor at the time, although witnesses said it did not appear exceptionally strong.

While no passenger list was available at press time, it was believed all were rescued.

The elderly man was rescued from the tail of the plane by the crew of the 72-foot halibut boat Dollina II, owned by Norm Fiddler of Vancouver.

Crew members led by Jimmy Hill, engineer, chopped a hole in the tail while another crew member on the boat, named Antonsen, helped Fiddler get the man through the hole.

The Dollina II, which just arrived here Sunday from Vancouver, was taking on oil at the Imperial Oil dock when the plane crashed. Fiddler immediately headed for the scene and dropped anchor beside the aircraft, holding up the wing while another halibutter held up the tail.

Both boats remained at the scene while a barge made its way from the nearby Armour Salvage to tow the wrecked plane to the base at Seal Cove.

16 Rescued After Ship Sinking

Gale Rips Off Cargo Hatches

PORT ARTHUR, Ont.

A rescue ship reported just before press time today it has picked up 16 survivors off the freighter Henry Steinbrenner which sank this morning in Lake Superior off Isle Royale, some 60 miles from Port Arthur.

There were 38 men aboard, and the U.S. Coast Guard at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, said the ship went down with all hands.

It was the first such sinking in the Port Arthur area since the Canada Steamship Lines vessel Emperor went down off Isle Royale on June 4, 1947, with the loss of 12 lives.

The 6,900-ton freighter was downbound from Duluth with a cargo of iron ore.

Radio reports reaching Port Arthur said a 60-mile-an-hour east gale ripped the cargo hatches off the vessel. She went down about 7:30 a.m.

The freighters Hochelaga and Ontadoc were in the vicinity of the sinking, between Passage Island and Rock of Ages. They started an immediate search.

Allies Seek Plan From Communists

PANMUNJOM (CP)—Allied truce delegates today asked the Communists to advance a plan for final determination of the fate of war prisoners refusing to return to Red rule.

At today's meeting, the United Nations command said an eight-point Communist proposal for prisoner exchange still left the threat of indefinite captivity hanging over 48,500 North Korean and Chinese Reds.

Lt.-Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., senior UN delegate, said there is no guarantee that a political conference could settle the prisoner question as Communists urged.

The Communists have proposed that a five-country commission supervise such prisoners for four months. After that period—and after Communist representatives had "explained" things to the soldiers—the fate of those still unwilling to return would be settled by a political conference.

It is not known yet what role the Royal Children will play at the Coronation. Indications are neither will be in Westminster Abbey. Princess Anne is much too young and it seemed just about definite that Prince Charles will not be present. A souvenir Coronation program, approved by the Queen, shows no provision for Charles in any of the coaches.

Record Storms Lash Prairie Provinces

British Columbia lies between two intense storms. On the prairies there are strong north winds bringing snow and freezing temperatures—at Swift Current there is eight inches of snow on the ground.

The other storm is moving out of the Gulf of Alaska. Rain and southeast gales which are accompanying the disturbance have spread over the Queen Charlotte Islands and strong winds have been lashing this city.

Spring blizzards are raging across the western prairies today after a wild week-end of snow and sleet.

Weather officials describe the storm in Saskatchewan as possibly the worst May storm in living memory.

The storm is sweeping Saskatchewan and Manitoba and the weather office in Winnipeg says temperatures will remain below freezing in most regions during the day.

Intermittent thunderstorms moved into Manitoba Saturday night and gradually merged into heavy general rain. Overnight the rain changed to sleet and snow.

At Saskatoon Sunday, four inches of snow blocked highways, forced suspension of some airplane flights, snarled communications and sent temperatures down to freezing.

The storm followed a week of blistering heat in Manitoba which sent the mercury to record highs.

In this north coast region a gale warning has been issued.

Forecast is for rain today in the north portion, spreading to the southern portion this evening.

It will be cloudy with shower tonight and Tuesday, with little change in temperature.

Wind southeast 35 in exposed areas of north portion, and south 20 elsewhere. Wind south west 20 tonight and Tuesday.

Low tonight and high Tuesday—At Port Hardy, 45 and 55; Sandspit and Prince Rupert, 4 and 55.

Crew Member Found Dead On Tugboat

VANCOUVER (CP)—Death of a Vancouver tugboat crew member during an apparent scuffle below decks is being investigated by RCMP.

They said the death of 40-year-old Silvio Zanatta occurred early Sunday off the Washington State coast near Bellingham.

The tug Lapointe was returning to Vancouver and when Zanatta didn't appear for a change of watch, a crew member went to his bunk and found him dead.

RCMP said Zanatta had received internal injuries, facial lacerations and a broken nose. No charges have yet been laid.

Parcel Explodes In Airline Office

MEXICO CITY (CP)—An air express parcel exploded Saturday in the Aeronaves De Mexico airline baggage room at Mazatlan airport and killed three persons. Three others were injured.

An inquiry was ordered immediately in the Pacific coast resort city to determine whether the blast was sabotage.

Skeena Bridge To Be Closed

The Skeena River bridge at Terrace will be closed for two days beginning May 14 at 8 a.m. to May 15, 5 p.m., it was announced today by the department of public works here.

Temporary closure of the bridge, said Bill Meighen, is to allow contractors of the new railroad bridge to move the present vehicle bridge over to another trestle during construction.

When completed, the railroad and highway bridge will run alongside each other, the latter making use of some of the new piers being poured now for the rail crossing.

The new span is part of the new Kitimat-Terrace rail link scheduled for completion in 1954.

Next Thursdays closing is one of three such temporary closures believed necessary during construction period.

AORANGI MAKES FINAL VOYAGE FROM AUSTRALIA

VICTORIA (CP)—Inbound from the Antipodes on her last voyage, the Canadian-Australian liner Aorangi arrived here today.

The 17,500-ton veteran of 29 years' service carried a full passenger list from Australia via the Hawaiian Islands.

Egypt Ready To Wage War For Independence—Naguib

State Secretary Foster Dulles arrived here on the first stop of a 12-day fact-finding tour of the East while Anglo-Egyptian tension mounted over dead-end Anglo-Egyptian talks on future of the Suez Canal.

British evacuation of the Canal zone—Egypt's demand—were recessed Wednesday without a respite.

Premier Naguib, in a Sunday, charged Britain with imposing a disguised occupation on Egypt and warned his country is ready to pay the "hot blood of her sons for independence."

The occupation charge referred to Britain's desires to keep a corps of technicians at the big military facilities she has built in the Canal zone, after she withdraws her troops.

Unless this is permitted, Britain says, she won't take her troops out.

"We are nearing a great battle and every Egyptian should be ready for the supreme sacrifice," Naguib said in a speech delivered from a high dais facing the grave of Egypt's unknown soldier.

Meanwhile, the independent newspaper Al-Ahram said that appropriations have been earmarked for a "possible war of independence" if Britain refuses to evacuate the Suez.

Bennett Threatens To Call Out Military Units To 'Quell' Douks

Radical Doukhobors, suspected of plotting violence, have been warned military can be called in to lawlessness.

The spiritual leader of the Sons of Freedom, speaking from his land, has said he won't be influenced by his unruly Doukhobors unless the federal government will help him solve the labor problem "once and for all."

Doukhobors aren't my enemies," said Stefan Sorokin, a Canadian and the Doukhobor government should be concerned over them."

Threat of military action followed an exchange between Premier Bennett and the federal government.

Premier Bennett asked Ottawa to proclaim a curfew on members of the Sons of Freedom sect.

Trade Minister Howe replied as acting prime minister that such action by Ottawa would be an invasion of provincial jurisdiction and that policing of unruly Doukhobors is B.C.'s problem.

A telegram sent to Premier Bennett by Mr. Howe said: "What really is involved is your own and indisputable and wide authority—to administer justice and enforce law and order."

"If you find you cannot do this with your own resources, you have the right under your wide authority to requisition military aid where you consider that a riot or disturbance is likely to occur."

Premier Bennett said later in a speech at Revelstoke he will call out military units "if necessary" to maintain law and order in the Doukhobor area.

Tornadoes Blast Path Of Destruction

MINNEAPOLIS (CP)—Swirling black tornado funnels blasted a path of destruction across parts of five midwest states and Arkansas during the week-end, leaving nine persons dead, more than 100 injured and widespread property damage.

The areas hit were southern Minnesota, western Wisconsin, south-eastern Nebraska, north-central Iowa, west-central Arkansas and southeastern Kansas.

Property damage is expected to total several million dollars. First of the week-end tornadoes hit Saturday night at Hebron, community of 2,000 in southeastern Nebraska.

Observers said it was a "miracle" no one was killed as the storm wrecked two-thirds of the town's buildings.

Sixty-nine persons were injured, at least 18 seriously.

A Man With a Record

AS THE Iron Curtain seems to be clanging down again as firmly as ever after being opened just enough to accelerate the world's pulse beat, it is timely to study the man who is at least nominally directing the drama behind it.

Although Georgi Maximilianovitch Malenkov is described officially as the son of "poor proletarians," his father was actually a well-to-do landowner and a Cossack officer who saw to it that his pudgy son received a good secondary school education.

It was during this period that he allied himself with Stalin, then struggling for power against Trotsky. In return for these services, Stalin later put the morose young man on the staff of his personal secretariat where he was given the job of collecting confidential information about prominent members of the Communist party.

With this inside knowledge and whatever it was necessary to invent, Malenkov staged the big political trials of 1936-38. Shortly afterwards Stalin saw to it that his tough and ingenious lieutenant became a member of the Politburo.

About his personality, "Intelligence Digest" has this to say:

"In many respects he is extremely ignorant. He does not know the history of the western world, and has only vague and dim notions about European culture and civilization, which he hates bitterly. He does not speak any foreign language. His knowledge of Marxist philosophy is very scanty.

"Malenkov is a brutal, merciless and ruthless fanatic without any sense of moral responsibility for his actions. He believes in world domination and will direct his energies and abilities toward this aim."

This, then, is the man who has top position in the Communist empire. While the picture is not an encouraging one, it must be borne in mind that a man who has elevated himself by blackmail is living among enemies. It is not Korea or Indo-China but these enemies on the Russian home front which represent the free world's first line of defence.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

Tuesday was National Press Day in the Soviet Union. Although many thousands of miles away from the celebration, a small group of Ottawa journalists gate-crashed the festivities indirectly by having luncheon formally at the Soviet Embassy here.

Characteristically the Russians here go in for large and elaborate functions. Their annual celebrations of the two main days in their calendar—Red Army Day and the anniversary of the Russian Revolution on November 7—are easily the two most famous social fixtures in the Capital. It is a matter of record that even at its tensest moment, the cold war never became frigid enough to chill the attendance of official and social Ottawa, at either affair.

Tuesday's party was probably the smallest which the Embassy has ever held. But it was also perhaps the most friendly. There were only four invited guests. They were the editors of the two Ottawa evening language newspapers and the local heads of the Canadian Press and British United Press news agencies. The host was Leonid Teplov, the embassy's charge d'affaires, assisted by three of the embassy staff.

As I See It

by Elmore Philpott

Strike Everybody Lost

MANY enlightened people can see the folly and iniquity of war, yet do not see that strikes and lock-outs are just a lesser form of war, fought on the home front.

We need machinery to establish world law, to make wars unnecessary and impossible. But we need machinery on the home front too to make both unnecessary and impossible such ridiculous strikes as that of the grain handlers, which has just come to an inglorious end.

HERE IS the balance sheet. John Doe, grain handler, lost eleven weeks' pay at $1.50 per hour for the 40-hour week—that is 11 weeks at $60 per week. The total loss was $660 per man and there were 260 men on strike.

Each man finally gained a pay boost of 7 1/2 cents an hour for one year—that is a raise of 60 cents per day or $3 per week. So, it will take each man more than three full years to make up for the pay actually lost on the strike.

THE TOTAL amount at stake in the strike was never more than $65,000—and after the union finally cut their demands in half the amount at issue was around $33,000.

But the total loss to Canada—to farmers who grow the wheat, railroads, shipping interests, and port authorities was something between $30 million and $60 million.

For weeks idle ships, mostly British, rode at anchor in our harbors. By a strange paradox about the only interests that did not lose too much in actual cash were the strike-bound grain elevator companies. For the elevator companies were collecting their regular storage charges all through the strike. But most of the elevators concerned are owned by the pools—that is by the farmers themselves.

ANYBODY who fairly studies the history of trade unions must see that they have been of great benefit to those they serve. Also, you cannot judge the benefit to the working people on too short a range a basis. If it were not for the existence of unions—with the strike weapon held as a protection until we get some more civilized means of assuring economic justice—the common family would be a lot worse off than now.

I do not think any strike is ever justified where the injury done to the public at large—the innocent third party—far outweighs any gain or loss to the employers or employees in the actual dispute.

PRESIDENT Joe Phelps of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union was the only prairie spokesman who showed real horse-sense in this whole dispute. Early in the strike he offered to arbitrate—and his offer was promptly accepted by the unions, but rejected by the pool elevators—who acted in the worst tradition of absentee landlords.

The net upshot was that everybody—without exception—lost out on this strike. Canada lost wheat sales we will never get a chance at again, in view of the world surplus.

LETTERBOX

Editor, The Daily News:

We are presenting for your enjoyment our Kinsmen Coronation Contest.

In the weeks ahead we will try to tell you more about the Kinsmen Club of Prince Rupert—what it is and what it does. This must be done in order that we may show you, the citizens of Prince Rupert, why you should "Help the Kinsmen Help Kids."

Before we tell you about the Kinsmen Club—the Christmas and Halloween parties, May Sports Day, the Kiddies' Kamp at Terrace, the Kinsmen B.C. Polio Fund, and the other things there are to tell about Kinsmen, we would like to say more than this space will allow about another group of people who sponsored this contest in order that we may raise funds urgently needed for our service work.

These business men and firms who gave support to our contest made it possible for us to present it to you. We sincerely hope that you will enjoy the contest and through it get better acquainted with our club

JUST WAIT TILL IT BECOMES THREE-DIMENSIONAL. — By Robert Chambers in the Halifax Chronicle-Herald.

Parliament Hill

By Edward T. Applewhite, M.P., Skeena

I notice that there has been quite a lot of interest taken lately in Terrace and vicinity in the matter of a road from Terrace to Usk. It would not be honest to say that I have found much indication here that any Dominion department is particularly interested in this subject, highways being entirely a provincial matter.

Letters and resolutions from the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative dealing with a proposed change in the western boundary of the Naas and Skeena gillnet and seine areas, with tagging of spring salmon under six pounds, and with tagging of coho salmon prior to July 1, have been receiving serious consideration by the Minister and officials of the Department of Fisheries.

The Cedarvale post office, which has been vacant for some time, officially, is to carry on with the retiring postmistress, Mrs. Edith Mary Essex, re-appointed as postmistress. This is particularly good news to me as it is often difficult to find anyone sufficiently public spirited to undertake these rather arduous public services.

It is to be expected that several Dominion government departments will be opening offices at Kitimat as that community builds up an achieves permanency. It is my view that where civil servants now working in our district wish to serve at Kitimat they should be given prior consideration, for several obvious and practical reasons. I am making my views on that subject known to the Ministers of the departments most likely to be affected.

Citizenship Minister, Walter Harris, has given Parliament a summary of the government's immigration policy. Under Harris' guidance, the nation has had a clear but flexible policy on this controversial subject. In essence, the policy is to admit to Canada "in numbers not exceeding the absorption capacity of our country and without altering the fundamental character of our people, such persons as are likely to contribute to our national life." The policy has brought nearly 300,000 persons to Canada in the years since the end of the Second World War—roughly the equivalent of three cities the size of the national capital.

We had quite a discussion this week on national resources; Jean Francois Pouliot made one of his picturesque speeches in which, in the first place he congratulated John Diefenbaker for making his first non-partisan speech of the session. Jean Francois quoted extensively from Canadian Press reports. Mr. Drew had moved a non-confidence motion urging the government "to consider a national policy under a system of free enterprise and in close association and collaboration with the provinces that will promote and develop all the country's natural resources for the benefit of the people of every part of Canada."

This is the last of these reports this session. May I express my sincere thanks and appreciation to this newspaper for giving me this space from time to time, to pass on to you a little of the news and opinions during the lifetime of this parliament.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

Canada's Prime Minister, Mr. St. Laurent, returned home Saturday from Washington. He had a well occupied three days, including the firing of 21 guns, and a speech to the National Press Club. The premier's next excitement will be the crossing of the Atlantic and a parade that will be a knock-out.

Next week, Korea's rainy season is due to begin. At least, that's what is heard this far away. It is said that when it starts it keeps on going, and ceases to stay like that when the right time comes. We wonder how true this can be. Sounds interesting.

It's getting around to salmon time, and arguments as to how good the fish tastes. Sometimes, a lot depends on whether or not the fishermen are way down east, or out in British Columbia.

"My last view of South Africa was the same as my first—an enchanting, sun-drenched green place far below. I would like to remember it that way and not as it is." So writes Jack Scott as he wings his way northward. His stories describing the election, the Malan policy and the foiling blacks have been praised as well as sharply criticized.

MANNA FROM HEAVEN Richard L. Neuberger in New Liberty writes about the proposed international trade of land between Canada and Alaska. It's of mutual interest now that the north is waking up. Harken to the remarks of Captain Oliver J. Williams, manager of the CPR's coastwise steamer service in British Columbia: "It really would be manna from Heaven for us if Skagway belonged to Canada. When our boats set sail for Skagway up the Inside Passage we don't actually think we are headed for an Alaskan port, because the true destination of our people and freight is Whitehorse in the Yukon. Skagway is merely the entrance to Whitehorse. Naturally it would be better for us and for the residents of the Yukon if this gateway were in Canada."

USUALLY WELCOME

Letters to the editor are not becoming any the fewer and that goes for northern B.C. as well as other communities. Fact is, people like to know about other folks. If they have their disputes and differences, and arguments, let's hear about it. Editors have no objections, provided the two "Ls" are omitted—length and libel.

Color Brighten Fashions

ELENORE LESTER

Women are likely to outshine men in the fine fashions of this spring and summer.

Pattern and novelty are the new men's American designers and style scouts haunting England, Hawaii, Mexico, Florida, Arizona and Mexico for new ideas.

Of the best looking and comfortable of the foreign styles have been introduced into today's fashions.

Some come in slacks, casual beach wear, and light-colored suits. Odd jackets and light-weight work clothes are favored.

Bold striped jackets are worn with the worsted gabardine or slacks.

Waistcoats are becoming fashion for all ages and there are knitted vests and collars with tiny and patterns, and there are wool flannels in cocoa gray, buff and green—men's red.

Plaids are popular because of the Coronation influence. Checks in black or brown and gray on a cream background with almost everything, and patterns in ties are introduced in brighter but smaller, neat patterns. Ties bear stars-de-lis or crescent patterns.

Coronation motif is apparent in socks. The socks are in most cases and British emblems on the front. There are socks that hold themselves up—grown socks that need especially to show the hem in their unwrinkled

Convention and conferences were the main topics of discussion Saturday morning at the regular meeting in the Broadway Cafe of the Credit Women's Breakfast Club.

Jocelyn Bolton of Rupert Motors and Catherine Laurie are to be club representatives to the 20th annual convention of the Pacific Northwest Council of Credit Women's Breakfast Clubs to be held in Victoria later this month.

Door prize for the convention has been donated by Rupert Motors.

Dorothy Lugin and Diane Kennedy have done a lovely job on the scrapbook. This beautiful book, leather bound and carved, giving in detail the activities of the club since its founding, will be entered in competition with other scrapbooks from other Breakfast Clubs in the Pacific Northwest.

"Fish Tales," the Prince Rupert club's monthly bulletin, is also going to be entered for judging. Going to the convention too is the shield donated and made by Mr. S. Hunter of Rupert Motors. This highly polished, beautifully made shield is to be on display in Victoria. It has been in the Broadway Cafe dining room since it was donated to the club by Mr. Hunter.

Made from mahogany and polished to a high lustre, the shield has superimposed upon it the Globe, the Book of Knowledge, the Links and the Stars. The shield stands for the protection of employers and customers in the world of credit; the globe shows that the club is international in scope; the book means that knowledge of the job is paramount; the links symbolize the friendship that exists between clubs around the world; and the stars are symbolic of the ideals toward which the club is striving.

The shield is a material witness and a lovely tribute to the aims and objectives of the Breakfast Club.

Catherine Laurie of the Credit Bureau conducted the meeting in the absence of President Jocelyn Bolton. Birthday corsages and best wishes went to Maresa Windle, Joan Mintenko and Rusty Thain.

A "welcome" corsage was presented to a new member—Eleanor Botsford of the Credit Bureau.

Plans for the "Bosses' Breakfast," to be held in June, are well under way with Betty Saville of Sweet Sixteen as the chairman of this committee. Mr. W. C. R. Jones of Columbia Cellulose is to be guest speaker.

Business and breakfast finished, members enjoyed a "spelling bee."

IODE Members To Visit Two Schools

A visit to Borden Street and Annunciation School in connection with Empire Day will be made by members of the Queen Mary Chapter IODE on May 15, it was decided at the regular monthly meeting.

Other business included distribution of invitations for the Coronation Ball to be held at the Navy drill hall. Tickets are obtainable from members.

It was reported that the Daffodil Tea had been successful. An interesting paper was read, entitled "British Imperialism," as seen by a German-American.

The chapter will join other IODE chapters in the annual church parade at St. Andrew's Cathedral May 31.

Mrs. W. Graham, first vice-regent, conducted the meeting.

Elks Hold Successful Box Social

An old-fashioned box social conducted by the Ladies of the Royal Purple held in the Elks Home Saturday night proved highly successful.

Games and dancing were enjoyed followed by comic musical acts by the now popular comedy team of Mel Thompson and Pat Bolton, who kept the audience in roars of laughter by their antics.

The ladies brought raily decorated boxed lunches which were auctioned to the highest bidder.

Nick Gurvich proved to be an efficient auctioneer and a handsome sum was raised from his efforts. The evening was one of many social get-togethers between the Elks and Royal Purple Lodge members.

Mrs. Elsie Hull was convener, assisted by Mrs. Marie Boychuk, Mrs. Betty Holkestad, Mrs. Christine Currie and Miss Mildred Furness, also by brother Elks, William Pound and Godfrey Madson.

TOTTENHOE, England (CP)—A record crowd attended the annual women's soccer game here which the 22 players included eight mothers. Proceeds go toward Coronation celebrations.

56 Take Part In Moose Whist

Miss Sylvia Johnson and A. E. Chilton were top prize winners in the Moose whist drive Saturday night in which 56 players participated.

Other prize winners were Miss Polly Astoria, ladies' second; H. F. Glassey, men's second, and winning in a tie-cut between three other players, L. Franklin, H. Gamblin and O. Stegavig; Lena Amoth, pool prize, and Mrs. George Robinson, door prize.

Tournament prizes were awarded to Mrs. H. F. Glassey, and Ole Stegavig.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. F. Good, Mrs. H. Muncey and Mrs. L. Holder.

World Depression Feared By Canadian Trade Group

By The Canadian Press
OTTAWA.—Fear of a world depression, perhaps within two years, is held by the Canadian Importers and Traders Association, embracing about 400 import firms.

In a brief to the Senate trade relations committee, the association suggested Canada take the lead, particularly among North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries, in advocating international control of trade and tariffs.

Thomas Oakley, past president of the association, said there are signs of slackening defence spending among Western countries. This would result in decreasing world trade.

Mr. Oakley said another world depression "will probably bring about another war." The only ray out of the cycle of war, boom, depression and war was through international co-operation on trade matters.

Another approach to world trade problems was suggested by the Canadian Metal Mining Association. It proposed:

- Continued negotiation for the removal of obstructive trade barriers;

- Encouragement of investment in Canada by countries of the sterling area;

- Maintenance of stable currency relationships and an increase in the price of gold "as one measure towards creating adequate national monetary reserves and currency convertibility."

The association said Canada's gold mining industry is in danger of extinction. Member countries of the International Monetary Fund restricted international exchange of gold.

6-Month-Old Divorce Set Aside

VANCOUVER (CP)—A divorce obtained six months ago by a Calgary man, since remarried, was set aside in Supreme Court here after a lawyer said "it is the most flagrant case of perjury, conspiracy and malicious abuse of the courts I have encountered."

Ralph Clyde Wallace of Calgary did not appear in court to dispute the statements of his first wife, Elsie Jean Wallace, that she received no notice of the proceedings and knew nothing of the decree until Nov. 22.

Counsel for Mrs. Wallace, A. H. Fleishman, requested Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane to refer the matter to the attorney-general.

The judge set aside the divorce on the grounds that Mrs. Wallace and Enoch Goodall, named as correspondent, knew nothing of the petition. He said he was not concerned with Wallace's subsequent marriage or any change which might result from it.

Record Grain Shipments Predicted

VANCOUVER (CP)—Grain shipments through the West Coast ports will reach a record 115,000,000 bushels this year despite the 80-day strike which tied up five main elevators here and in New Westminster.

Roy Milner, government transport controller, made this prediction as the 250 striking grain handlers began filing back to their jobs. British Columbia's export grain volume would be up 3,600,000 bushels over 1952 at the end of the crop year on July 31.

"Without a strike we would have moved between 140,000,000 and 145,000,000 bushels through West Coast ports this year."

Hefty Baker Dons Big Boots To Become 'Ashcan Jumper'

MELTON MOWBRAY, England between the town council and Reuters—Harry Beaver, 42, hefty baker who tips the scales at 210 pounds without his oversize boots today began Britain's craziest job—ashcan jumper.

He gets 10 shillings a week to jump up and down inside seven ashcans in the backyard behind the furniture store owned by Lewis Palmer in this Midlands town.

Harry has to cram the week's accumulation of waste paper—enough to fill 14 ashcans—into the seven bins because of a feud between the town council and local traders. The job is his until the council allows its garbage men to empty the ashcans free of charge or the traders agree to pay the council's new four pence levy on every ashcan emptied but the first.

Melton Mowbray traders' association claims the levy is unfair and is fighting hard to get it repealed. Richard Barker, town clerk says his council is fully entitled to charge four pence for every ashcan cleared.

Bobo Holloman Pleaded For Two Weeks for Chance

ST LOUIS (AP)—Rookie Bob Holloman, who has banged on the manager's door for two weeks pleading for a starting assignment, threw the portal of fame wide open by pitching a no-hitter in his first major league start for St. Louis Browns.

The 27-year-old righthander did it with fast balls, sinkers and curves—and some splendid fielding support—against Philadelphia Athletics for a 6-0 triumph that's unmatched in modern baseball annals.

For two weeks Holloman has pleaded with manager Marty Marion for a starting assignment. "I'm not a bullpen pitcher," said Holloman. "I'd rather be in the minors than in the bullpen."

Only One Legal Entry Made In Salmon Derby on Sunday

Ideal boating weather yesterday sent scores of anglers out to compete in the annual Rod & Gun Club spring salmon derby, now in its third week.

Although several salmon were hooked—some lost, some landed on commercial tackle—only one legal entry was made in the derby. The salmon, weighing 16 pounds, eight ounces, was weighed in by Larry Stanwood.

The red spring was hooked in the vicinity of Seal Cove at 6 p.m. during slack water and boated half an hour later. The trolled lure was a No. 7 McMahon spoon. Tackle consisted of 23-pound test braided nylon line, 15-pound monofilament leader, eight-ounce lead sinker, a homemade Calcutta bamboo salmon rod and a Penn star-drag reel.

Witness to the catch was Mrs. Lilian Stanwood.

The annual derby ends June 21. Prizes will be given for the heaviest entry each week. Bonus prizes will be awarded for the three heaviest fish of the season, and a three-day derby, June

LOWEST-PRICED V-8 OF ALL!

FORD

V-8 type engines set today's performance standard. In the last five years alone, six manufacturers have switched to V-8 power in their more expensive models. And while other makers are now beginning to recognize the advantages of V-8 Engine design, Ford continues to offer V-8's in all models . . . and Ford alone offers V-8 in the low-price field. No other V-8 engine is so well-tried and proven as Ford's power-packed high-compression Strato-Star V-8. Today, four out of every five V-8's are Ford V-8's . . . for Ford has manufactured more V-8's than all other manufacturers combined.

A V-8 engine means a shorter engine under the hood—more room in the car for passengers—instant response, smooth, dependable power, longer life, economy of operation, flashing performance. That's why Ford is worth more when you buy it—worth more when you sell it. Yes, Ford has pioneered the development of the V-8 for more than twenty years and has constantly improved it until today V-8 power is the accepted performance standard of the automotive industry.

London Theatre Allowed To Open After 300 Years

By GLENNE CURRIE
 LONDON (Reuters)—The City of London stayed up late last night for the first time in 300 years to allow the reopening of the professional theatre, expelled from the area by the Puritans in the 17th century, returned to the London's financial district. Thousands work but only a few caretakers live and the theatre normally is deserted after hours of business each day. The theatre permitted to open in the City is the "Mermaid," an Elizabethan-style playhouse built by Bernard Miles and set up in a courtyard for the summer season.

The program includes such plays as the opera "Dido and Aeneas," Shakespeare's "As You Like It" and the play "Eastward Ho" which hasn't been played in London for 300 years.

OUT
 The Mermaid's 965 seats have been sold out for each of the past two nights and the theatre has praised the venture. Miles, who expects to make $145,000 on the season, has hired a competent company of actors, dancers and singers. Kirsten Flagstad, who has sung his "Dido and Aeneas," is his big draw.

The Mermaid started as a private venture in a lot owned by Miles' home in the north residential section of St. James Wood.

It became so popular he decided to spread out, starting with a theatre-less City.

It may have been the seeming-conservative productions that convinced the city authorities to give the Mermaid. In any case they staged a big civic game for the actors.

By entering into the spirit of the game, they gave Miles this licence.

The lord mayor and aldermen of the City of London, at the contemplation of the letter of Bernard Miles and other members regard to the season that Her Majesty sometimes takes delight in such games, do welcome the said Bernard Miles and his Mermaid Theatre Company to use the exercise of playing at the Guild Exchange and nowhere else within the City between the feast of Easter and Lammas next coming, provided they play not upon the Sabbath Day, nor play any other tending to the dishonour of Almighty God, nor to the quiet peace and government of the City."

G & A's Stretched to 10 Innings To Win Season's Opening Game

Last year's champion baseball club, Gordon & Anderson's, took the opening game of this season Sunday at Roosevelt Park, edging Esquire 3-2 in a 10-inning event.

In Terrace, Commercial's downed their hosts in both games of a double-header, 4-1 and 5-2 in semi-drippy weather.

Weather here for the opener started cool but warmed later and a good crowd witnessed the first game of the season.

Esquires brought in the tying run in the seventh inning when newcomer Alton Dahl singled and Don Scherk brought in a run. For Esquires, Other than a double error in the second inning which gave G-A's the deciding run on a score by pitcher Fred Christensen, the game featured a pitching duel all the way.

Old-timer Johnny Rosedale started for the losers and was relieved in the sixth inning by Jack Sharpe. Between them, they gave us seven hits and two runs and struck out 13.

Winning pitcher Christensen, playing in his second year, gave up five hits and struck out 12.

Besides Christensen, Gerry Ford and Don Scherk each brought in a run. For Esquires, Dahl scored the first run in the

INDIANS TAKE LEAD AWAY FROM CHAMPION YANKEES

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians both won Sunday but the Tribe took over first place by two percentage points.

Going into the day's action, each team had a .667 mark, Yankee on a 14-7 record and Indians on a 12-6.

Lassy Stengel's defending champions polished off the Boston Red Sox 7-4, behind the efforts of Allie Reynolds and Vic Raschi, while the Indians slaughtered the St. Louis Browns 12-3, scoring all their runs in the last two innings.

As a result, the Indians' percentage is .684 and the Yanks' .662.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The new owners of the St. Louis Cardinals, who like everybody and are very public-relations conscious for a reason which escapes us, threw a delightful luncheon at one of our better restaurants. Not even the club president delivered a speech, and you can't make a much better start than that.

When we finally caught up with Eddie Stanky, who survived the big shuffle and continues to manage the foaming Red Birds, he was grappling with a question. He had been asked if he thought Brooklyn was going to "run away and hide" from the rest of the National League.

"Do you mean," he asked incredulously, "if I think they'll win by 15 or 20 games? The answer is that I certainly do not. I still think it's going to be a four-team race. I mean between Brooklyn and us and the Phillies and the Giants. I'm not underestimating the Giants, no matter how they've been looking up to now."

Which team did he feel had benefited most from one of the wettest springs since rain was invented?

"There's no question in my mind—the Phillies have," Stanky said.

"All these days off have permitted Steve O'Neill to keep coming back with Simmons and Roberts. He won't be able to do that later on."

"On the other hand, I haven't yet been able to establish any real relation with my pitching staff."

"Take Stu Miller. I want to use him, but it's rained the last three times he was due to work, so that means he has to wait until his next turn. Why don't I let him pitch the next day? It's not that simple. The next day is Gerry Staley's turn. He's my best and I've not to go with him. And after that come Joe Presko and Vinegar Bend Mizell and Harry Haddix. They're all going too good to miss a turn. So the rain helps Steve, but it hurts us."

If one of the big four—say, the Giants—should drop out of contention, which of the other clubs did he think might climb into the fight?

"Milwaukee, without any doubt," said the sophomore pilot. "They're improved 100 per cent over last year. Those new men are good and the ones they already had are better."

CYO Securely Placed Atop Football League

The CYO is securely placed in first position in the North Star Football League with three wins and no losses while the Battery, who are still busy getting organized, are in the basement.

Their chief difficulty is forwards and as standings show they have still to score a goal.

Leading goal scorers are Van Neerland and Hank Nuyten of the CYO with five goals each; C. Mills of the General Motors with four goals; Tambourini (CYO) and Tait (General Motors) each with two goals; Verhar (CYO) one goal and Sunberg and Giske (General Motors) one goal each.

I. Maron was unlucky enough to score against his own team, the Battery.

Standings:

	P	W	L	F	A	P
CYO	3	3	0	14	4	6
Gen. Motors	3	1	2	3	7	2
Battery	0	0	2	0	11	0

Last Friday's game between the unbeaten CYO and the General Motors failed to come up to expectation. Little was seen of the CYO's vaunted passing attack because the Motors' defence was too sound. The game was always hard-fought with Boulter only miscue the determi-ing factor in the CYO's slender 1-0 win.

Eckert and Eby were sound, reliable and sure defenders. Sunberg was an aggressive tackler and checked successfully. Maron and Pensamo, spare half-backs, took over the chores of the missing Robinson.

Furunes, Lien and Bishop did a sterling job. Mills was the sparkplug of the forward line with Wilson always a threat. Tait tried hard and Giske did well. Murray came on later and played hard.

CYO were without Letourneau, for whom old-time star Sam Currie did a fine job at right-half in the first half. Carelli and Hurley were very sound. Rutan, Romani and Scatani were a good half-back line. The forward line was smart but some of Tambourini's tricky dribbling added up to nothing as Eby and Sunberg stopped him cold. Van Neerland was dangerous with Verhar also a threat. The Nuyten brothers tried hard.

No two of the 15 justices of the International Court at the Hague may be nationals of the same country.

What is nickel plating?

"Nickel plating means putting a coating of nickel on the surface of some other metal by means of electricity. The things to be nickel plated, such as alarm clock cases, tea kettles or car bumpers are placed in a tank containing a solution of nickel salts. When an electric current is turned on, a layer of nickel is deposited on the surface of the metal articles in the tank. The longer they are left in the tank the thicker the nickel plating becomes."

"Why do they use nickel plating?"
"It gives a handsome, silvery surface, and it also keeps things from rusting, because nickel resists rust—even in salt water."

"Is that nickel plating on our car grille?"
"Yes, those parts are given a plating of nickel, finished off with a thin coat of chromium. Almost anywhere you go you'll find things plated with nickel to help keep them from rusting and to make them bright and attractive."

April Showers Overcome By Much Sunshine
Only once in the last 10 years was April weather superior over last month when 140.3 hours of sunshine, 3.33 inches of rain and a maximum temperature of 65.1 was recorded at the Digby Island weather office.
An all-time April weather record was established in 1948 when the sun shone on Rupert for 171.2 hours during the month and rain measured only 2.42 inches. But maximum temperature then only reached 52.2 degrees.
Last month's low temperature was 29.1 on April 7 and a mean temperature of 45.7 was recorded. Maximum wind was 41 miles an hour on April 4.

Britain Seeks Wheat In Free Market
By MICHAEL NEWMARCH
LONDON (AP)—On their own after 12½ years in government harness, the men who buy Britain's grain began scouring the world last week to feed man and beast.
They have a tough assignment.
The government ended its wartime system of bulk-purchasing wheat, flour and animal feeding stuffs last week and told traders to use private enterprise channels to acquire the huge amount of grain Britain imports each year.
The big switchover came at a critical time. This nation has just walked out of the International Wheat Agreement, complaining the maximum price under the agreement of $2.05 a bushel is too high.
As a result, Britain, world's largest importer of wheat, must shop in the free market, where prices are higher still.
The government also announced all grain subsidies—except a payment to bakers for one grade of bread—will end at the next harvest. Any increase in grain costs will fall directly on consumers.
Private enterprise thus looks as though it is taking the rap for increased bread prices unless Britain can break the world market and set wheat prices tumbling.
If Britain succeeds in buying below the $2.05 a bushel level on the free market, wheat agreement prices inevitably would fall too.
Britain is talking about $2 a bushel.
Canada, the United States and Australia are all certain to resist British pressure for cheaper wheat. But British grain men, who solidly backed the government's walk-out of the wheat agreement, are not despondent.
World wheat inventories are building up, and are expected here to hit peacetime records in the exporting countries before 1953 is over.
British traders have not indicated where they hope to conclude the first deals.

Tobacco Road Branded Again As 'Obscene'
VICTORIA (CP)—The Vancouver Repertory Group's performance of the play "Tobacco Road" was stripped in court Thursday of its temporary respectability and again branded as immoral, indecent and obscene.
The British Columbia Court of Appeal reimposed a police court decision in which seven members of the Everyman Theatre were convicted of staging or participating in an obscene performance.
The conviction had been squashed in county court by Judge J. A. McGeer and the case was then taken to the appeal body by the crown.
Reason for the appeal court judgment will be handed down later.

Transit Men Reject Board Recommendation
VANCOUVER (CP)—Transit workers in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster Friday rejected a conciliation board recommendation on wages.
Advisory board of the Street Railwaymen's Union (AFL) announced it will make another bid for a 23-cent hourly increase for the 2,800 employees involved when it meets Wednesday with A. E. Grauer, president of British Columbia Electric Co. Ltd.
The Conciliation Board's recommendation for an increase of six cents an hour over the present $1.51 an hour wage for drivers was accepted by the company.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge
By EASLEY BLACKWOOD
Mr. C Makes Neat Incision, Cuts Out Mr. M's Smugness
Mr. Muzzy was thinking about doubling three spades if that bid came around to him. When Mr. Champion bid four, there was no question about it. Surely, Mr. Champion was in for a nasty surprise when he found such a strong spade holding against him.
Mr. Champion was slightly surprised, but not so surprised that he went set. Mr. Muzzy opened the king of diamonds, which was taken in the closed hand with the ace.
A small club was led to the queen and another club back to the ace. Mr. Champion now played the jack of clubs and Mr. Muzzy frowned slightly. Had the king been played? Brilliantly, he figured that it had not—and that Mr. Champion had it.
It wouldn't have done any good for Mr. Muzzy to ruff in with the ace or king of spades here, if he had, the last diamond would have been discarded from the board. He ruffed with the eight of spades—and Mr. Champion overruffed with dummy's jack.
Returning to his hand with the king of hearts, Mr. Champion led the king of clubs. Mr. Muzzy ruffed with the nine of spades and the last diamond was discarded from dummy.
The ace and king of spades were now cashed, followed by a heart lead. Mr. Champion went up with dummy's ace and played a diamond from his hand.
All of his remaining cards were good except the small diamond and there was a trump on the board to take care of that.
Mr. Muzzy had been very cocky at the start of the hand. At this point he was somewhat subdued.
"Maybe I can beat it if I ruff that third lead of clubs with the king of trumps," he said.
Mr. Champion smiled. "You didn't need to play any better," he said. "It's just that you need to have a few more good cards when you double me."

Solon Low Renews Call for Inquiry Of Defence Spending Across Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Solon Low charged that a firm formerly owned by mines minister Prudham received preferred treatment of government contracts because "it has friends at court."

Mr. Prudham replied with a denial and an accusation that Social Credit members "are pushing this thing too far" and a statement that the firm in question, Alexander Construction Company of Edmonton, actually is at a disadvantage in Ottawa because "it has to run its own errands" here rather than having its local MP—himself—do them.

He said he has never interfered on behalf of the Alexander firm but that if he had known the Korean war was coming along he might have stipulated at the time he sold his business to that company that it should not tender on government contracts.

No Further Exemptions To Be Sought

VICTORIA (CP)—B.C. Federation of agriculture will avoid asking for further sales tax exemptions on farm equipment for fear of "losing the entire concessions we already have."

Canada Urged To Accept Sterling

OTTAWA (CP)—A suggestion by the Canadian Congress of Labor that Canada accept sterling as payment for part of her exports to the United Kingdom was criticized as unworkable by members of the Senate trade relations committee.

The Congress suggested in a brief to the committee studying economic co-operation among North Atlantic Treaty countries, that the government establish a "counterpart" fund with sterling exchanged for Canadian exports.
