THE MID-OCEAN CLUB in Tucker's Town, Bermuda, is to be the main site for the Big Three conference of President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill and head of the French government. The meeting, originally scheduled for June 17, has been delayed until France gets a government. The Club, with accommodations for 100 persons, will be taken over entirely for the conference.

Voters to Decide Tomorrow Between Murray, Hills, Brown

Tomorrow—June 9—B.C. voters will decide which of four candidates will form the government in Prince Rupert. The three candidates rests in the hands of the voting public. Their names will appear on the ballot in the following order: Arthur H. Murray, Social Credit; George Hills, CCF standard-bearer and last year's MLA for Prince Rupert riding. Arthur Bruce Brown, Liberal. Their fate will be decided by the preferential ballot, last year legalized in this province, by a possible 8,303 voters in the riding, of which 5,595 reside in Prince Rupert. The balance are residents in the district. Elsewhere in B.C., mainly in the lower mainland, charges and counter-charges have marked a hectic election campaign involving personalities and considered one of the most bitter in B.C. politics. In Prince Rupert such was not the case. No personalities were ever questioned in the local election campaign, evidence of high calibre of the candidates themselves. Notable everywhere in this election campaign is the offensive stand both the CCF and the Liberals have taken against the Social Credit party which formed the minority government after taking 19 seats in the election last June 12. There has been little fighting between the Liberals and the CCF locally. Throughout the province there are 229 candidates seeking 48 seats. In Prince Rupert, 74 voters already have cast ballots. They attended the advance polling station opened by Scott McLaren, returning officer in this riding, for voters who will not be anywhere in the province tomorrow.

New Comic Strips Added for Daily News Readers

Starting tomorrow, The Daily News will carry three top-notch comic strips in addition to the ones already appearing. They will be: L'il Abner, The Heart of Juliet Jones, and King of the Royal Mounted. Much more to be said about L'il Abner, recently married son of the Yokum family, who is at present parading as a female wrestler from Lower Canada. Everyone knows about L'il Abner and his pa, Daisy Mae, and Phoggnorn, Marryin' Lonesome Polecat and Joe, Moonbeam McSwine and all the rest of the Dogpatch clan. The Heart of Juliet Jones is a comparatively new strip which is making a big hit. It describes the personal drama of an attractive girl who has not found the right man whose teen-aged sister is a temptress of trouble. King of the Royal Mounted is an exciting adventure yarn, well-known and avidly followed by comic readers. With more to come as soon as space permits, The Daily News is building up its daily comic section and discontinuing its Saturday comic supplement as many readers report they see the weekly funnies in other papers before they appear here. The last weekly supplement will appear this Saturday and price of the week-end paper will then revert to five cents as before. Watch for these new features and others to follow.

Tornado Kills All Attending Family Reunion

WADSWORTH, Neb. —A tornado Monday struck a farm near where 10 persons were attending an informal family reunion, instantly killing all 10 and leveling the farm place to ground. There wasn't a stick of anything left on the place," said Riedesel, who visited the trees were clipped and only stumps stood for two above the ground.

PADDY WANTS MONEY FIRST THEN HE'LL GET EXCITED

VANCOUVER —A 70-year-old B.C. logging camp worker says he is "not a bit excited" about winning $27,500 on an Irish sweepstake ticket in England's Epsom Derby. "I've won sweepstakes before and I'll get excited when I get the money in my hands," W. P. (Paddy) Motte told reporters. He held a ticket on the third-place Pink Horse.

Reds Sign Prisoner Agreement But Rhee Opposes Armistice

Postmen Begin June 15 Seven Carriers Being Trained

House-to-house delivery of mail starts June 15, postmaster Jack Burgess announced today. Parcel post delivery will begin on the same date. Mr. Burgess reported that two postal authorities from Vancouver are in town to supervise training of the seven carriers who will handle delivery of the mail under the new system, and to ensure that the service gets off to a good start. They are J. O'Connell and J. Taylor. To facilitate operations, all persons residing within the proposed letter carrier limits are asked to fill out cards now being distributed giving their name, address and present arrangement for receiving mail. They are also asked to advise correspondents of their address so that mail can be handled promptly.

THIS NEW FLAG is attracting attention as it hangs outside the downtown Toronto office of the Canadian Military Journal. It is design for Canadian flag recommended by the Quebec provincial convention of the Canadian Legion. Field is composed of 10 blue and white bars, with fleur-de-lis superimposed on red maple leaf.

Motorist Fails in Attempt To 'Beat' Parking Charge

Police court activity this morning was highlighted by a city motorist's defence of a parking ticket and his subsequent conviction before police magistrate Walter Vance. Eric S. Martin, city accountant, told court that his was a borderline case and that police did not have conclusive evidence that he had parked for more than 30 minutes on Third Avenue West last Saturday afternoon. But Martin's request for a dismissal was disallowed. An hour of evidence by two police constables, a witness for the accused and by Martin who spoke in his own behalf, showed that on or after 3 p.m. Saturday, a constable had marked the tires of Martin's car. At 3:40, another constable said he had noted that Martin's car was still parked in the same place because the marks on the tires corresponded to marks on the sidewalk. Then he issued the ticket. Betty Martin, daughter of accused, gave evidence that it was "after 3 p.m." when she, her father and mother left their Overlook Street home and stopped at the Court House before proceeding downtown. Martin claimed that because it takes him eight minutes to drive downtown from home and that he stopped at the Court that his actual parking time could have been less than 30 minutes. Magistrate Vance held that the 10-minute leeway allowed by the police (from 3 p.m. to 3:40 p.m.) could have made up for lost time and that the police still could have been right, so found Martin guilty as charged and fined him $2.50 plus 50 cents cost. WEATHER — North Coast Region: Cloudy today with a few light rain showers ending about noon. Variable cloudiness and a little warmer on Tuesday. Light winds, except northwest 20 on Tuesday, exposed areas of the Charlottes. Low tonight and high Tuesday at Port Hardy 48 and 62; Sandspit 50 and 62; Prince Rupert 50 and 64.

Alaska Fire Spreading

FAIRBANKS —A forest fire burning between Chicken and Tanacross southeast of Fairbanks, has spread over 15 acres of valuable wildlife range. A division of the forestry office said the blaze, out of control, was jumping fire lines. Photographer Jim Douthit of the Fairbanks News Miner flew over the area and said many acres of browse used by moose and caribou were being razed. Temperatures here rose into the 80's for the sixth straight day. Eleven fires were reported burning in interior Alaska.

Manitobans Voting Today

WINNIPEG — Manitoba is voting today in a provincial election. It is the first time in more than a decade that Premier Campbell's Liberal-Progressive administration has gone to the country on its own record. In the past three elections, it has campaigned on the basis of coalition, now ended, with Progressive Conservatives. The quiet, five-week Manitoba campaign produced few fireworks and no outstanding issue.

Eisenhower Indicates Truce Imminent

PANMUNJOM.—The last big stumbling block to a Korean truce was swept aside today with the signing of the prisoner-exchange agreement, but South Korean opposition shot toward the boiling point as their leaders vowed to continue the fighting. Agreement on a full armistice in the three-year-long war could come tomorrow when Allied and Communist negotiators meet at 11 a.m. The Red Chinese radio predicted a "complete cease-fire and armistice" in Korea "without further delay." However, South Korean President Syngman Rhee said "the Korean people will pay no attention" to the impending armistice. The South Korean cabinet and National Assembly crisis committee resolved to disregard any truce under present terms and keep fighting. The prisoner agreement provides that of 138,000 Allied and Red captives, those wanting to return home will be exchanged within 60 days after the truce is signed. Communist prisoners who steadfastly refuse repatriation will be released as civilians in South Korea 120 days after the cease-fire. The agreement reads that "no force or threat of force shall be used against prisoners—either Allied or Communist-held."

Rhee Not Injured in Plane Raid

SEOUL — Nine Communist planes bombed Seoul tonight in the biggest Red raid of the war, narrowly missing President Syngman Rhee's residence, killing two persons and injuring eight others. One of the eight injured was a Life photographer, Michael Rougier, hit by flying glass. Raiders swept in low and laid the first bomb 1,000 feet from Rhee's residence while the capital lights still blazed. Rhee was unharmed and unruffled. Communist prisoners who steadfastly refuse repatriation will be released as civilians in South Korea 120 days after the cease-fire. The agreement reads that "no force or threat of force shall be used against prisoners—either Allied or Communist-held."

Russia Ends Controls In Austria

VIENNA — The Russians suddenly ended eight years of control in Austria today and abolished all military checks of identity papers on the border of the Soviet zone of Austria. Ever since the war, armed Russian troops have maintained control of all trains, cars and pedestrians moving between western occupied zones of Austria and the Russian zone. An official Soviet announcement tonight revealed these controls would be abolished as of Tuesday morning. The unexpected Russian gesture came one day after a division of military and civilian control over Austria by the Russians.

Typhoon Eases After Killing 21 Japanese

TOKYO —A typhoon which killed at least 21 Japanese and left hundreds homeless in south and western Japan Sunday, but broke up harmlessly today as it headed toward Tokyo. Floods from torrential rains and damage from winds up to 100 miles an hour left property losses at around $20,000,000, according to Japanese estimates. Five of the 21 victims were buried in landslides touched off by heavy rains. Six persons also were reported missing and 30 others injured in southern Japan. Eisenhower indicated that a truce was imminent when he told Rhee: "The enemy has proposed an armistice which involves clear abandonment of the fruits of aggression. An armistice would leave the Republic of Korea in undisputed possession of a substantial territory which the Republic administered prior to the aggression. Indeed, this territory will be somewhat enlarged. We would not be justified in prolonging the war in the hope of achieving, by force, the unification of Korea."

Man Injured in Pulp Mill Dies During Mercy Flight

VANCOUVER —An injured carpenter died in a mercy plane Saturday as the pilot skimmed over the Gulf of Georgia in a desperate race to save the man's life. Dead is Harry Hansen, 71, of Regina, who was crushed in an industrial accident in a pulp mill at Port Alice on Vancouver Island. Pilot Bob Drinkwater was forced to fly less than 200 feet above the water by a low-hanging cover of rain clouds on the return trip. Hansen died when the plane was still 18 miles from Vancouver airport.

All Good Candidates

AT JUST ABOUT this point the electorate takes full control. The candidates and everyone else have said their piece, and if there are any voters who have not made their choice by now, they are probably not sufficiently interested to go to the polls anyway.

We have expressed our own preference and will say no more except this—the candidates are all good men. That is no last-minute soft soap. We could not be less interested in that commodity. It just happens that each party is well represented in this riding. Without knowing all the candidates in other constituencies, we can at least say that they, too, have had enough courage to face the electoral firing-squad. This quality alone is enough to make them worthy of public respect.

What remains now is the most important part of all. There is no point in blowing a trumpet for democracy. We know we have it and—Communists excepted—are glad of it. But unless we value our power to vote, the whole thing will become slightly phoney. Control of our affairs will be taken over by organized groups with plans of their own, and democracy will be just a nice word for a dirty mess.

Prevention of this is simple. Tomorrow, for instance, all each voter has to do is to mark three figures in well-considered order on the ballot sheet. That will keep B.C.'s democracy working, which is an important part of the whole.

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

... by J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA—Another day now and all the wild promises, the distortions of the truths, the half-truths, the no-truths-at-all, the political wriggings and manoeuvrings, the ugly name-calling, the cries of "liar, liar," the soundings-off and the furies of the hustings will be over. Let's hope they're over for four years.

On Tuesday the public will have its say in the quiet of the polling booths. The public may come up with a decisive answer, and on the other hand it may not. If it doesn't, we'll be going through this same turmoil a year from now.

When the politicians are at last silenced—for one day—it will be up to the public, that day, to try and make order out of chaos. It's a formidable task. However, to vote on election day is a citizen's No. 1 job.

Thumbing through Bartlett's Familiar Quotations, I came across "elections," and looked it up, to find this from Ogden Nash's "Election Day Is a Holiday":

"They have such refined and delicate palates. That they can discover none worthy of their ballots. And then, when someone terrible gets elected, they say, 'There, that's just what I expected.'"

A man in Victoria City Hall, a man named Smith, who's an alderman, is in favor of election banners across the streets at election time. He says such banners keep up interest in an election. In this he's right. Actually, there's no reason why election banners shouldn't be across the main streets. Election banners create fun and that's always good. TV aeriels are much uglier, and they're here to stay.

But anyway, this alderman named Smith said that because Oak Bay won't allow banners, the people there are apathetic to elections. Mr. Smith is quoted as saying:

"It just shows they don't take much interest in elections—they had one of the lowest voting turnouts in the province in the last election."

Now where did Mr. Smith get this information? If he had looked up "Statement of Votes" for 1952, an official document published by the government, he'd have found that Oak Bay had the second-highest voting turnout in the province last June—more than 81 per cent.

DUST PREVENTATIVE
BURNABY, B.C. (CP) — More than 400 tons of sodium chloride were ordered by town council for treating the 120 miles of gravel road in the municipality. Up to 1951 residents had to pay to get their roads treated by oil, but the anti-dust operation now is paid out of general revenue.

As I See It

BY

Elmore Philpott

• Three Fine Leaders

AS THE B.C. ELECTION draws to a close I want to pay my tribute to the leaders who have kept it the cleanest and most statesmanlike that I remember.

Looking back on my 31 years as a working newspaperman in Canada, I cannot recall any provincial election where there was a better spirit, and where all leaders stuck closer to public issues.

In particular, I want to make my personal bow to Deane Finlayson, Arnold Webster and Arthur Laing. All three of these men were thrust into the position as leaders suddenly and not by self-choice. All three have done well—very well. B.C. can be proud of them all.

DEANE FINLAYSON has done the utmost that any Conservative party leader could have done, in view of the actual facts.

Just before or after the 1952 election in B.C. the whole top layer of Conservative leadership switched sides. The loss to the Social Credits of Mr. Bennett, Tilly Rolston and Mr. Bonner would have staggered a less even-tempered and brave second mate than Deane Finlayson.

Like the famous skipper Carlsen who refused to give up the ship "when all but he had fled," Deane brought the old Tory ship safely through. He may win less than half a dozen seats. But if he holds even a toe-hold in B.C. the place of the good old Tory party is not lost for all time.

UNDER the moderate, wise leadership of Arnold Webster the CCF has made the best run that it has ever made in B.C.

True, Mr. Webster was handicapped because the fire-eating doctrinaire wing of his party had staked the platform a bit too far to the left to win the widest possible public support. But within the limits imposed by those handicaps Mr. Webster has done exceptionally well.

The vast majority of the people of B.C. simply do not "scare" about the CCF. They know it is true, as the CCF leaders have publicly stated, that the Liberals have already taken over about half of the original platform. They also know that sooner or later the CCF is bound to come into power in B.C., by the swing of the political pendulum.

My own guess is that that swing will not take place this time. Mr. Webster, though, has conducted his campaign in such a way that he has earned every possible vote and respect of all B.C.

ARTHUR LAING, who is my own first choice for premier, entered the campaign as the new Liberal leader with very great advantage.

All through the years he had stood like a rock for a clean break in the Coalition and return to the regular party system.

He has fought his campaign

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

The man whose encyclopedic knowledge of House of Commons workings gained him the unofficial title of "Mr. Parliament" over almost a quarter-century finally is going to try to make the grade as an MP in his own right in the coming election.

If actual legislative experience counts for anything, he should win in a walk. He'll have had more of it than any other candidate in the entire field.

He is Arthur Beauchesne, C.M.G., LL.D., K.C., etcetera,—one of the most colorful as well as distinguished figures ever to be contributed by French-speaking Canada to this Capital's ever-changing galaxy of Parliamentary stars.

Beauchesne retired as clerk of the House of Commons at the same time as the late W. L. M. King retired as Prime Minister. There was more than just a coincidence of timing in the simultaneous withdrawal of the two figures. In addition, there was a high degree of appropriateness.

Mr. King had been longer in the office of Prime Minister than anyone else in British history. Arthur Beauchesne, for his part, had been longer at the Clerk's table—more than 30 years—than any other officer of a British Parliament. Both had been closely associated in the workings of the Canadian House of Commons. It was eminently fitting, if entirely coincidental, that they should time their departure from the parliamentary stage together.

Now Beauchesne is proposing a return engagement. He has agreed to contest the constituency of East Ottawa as Progressive Conservative candidate. If he wins and if the Conservative Party wins, he almost certainly will be Speaker of the next House of Commons.

For sheer versatility of talent, it can be said safely that no French-speaking Canadian on Parliament Hill has ever equalled Arthur Beauchesne. He was a journalist first and the possessor of a top-flight reputation as an editor and a correspondent in the Parliamentary Press Gallery. Then he entered law and in a few years rose to the eminence of a KC and appointed as legal advisor to the Department of Justice. In 1916 he became Assistant Clerk of the House of Commons, and was named Clerk in 1925. Only the great Laurier similarly combined journalism, law, and a parliamentary career.

He is seeking to enter Parliament at the age of 77. In appearance he would pass for a man in his fifties. The Liberal majority in Ottawa East that he must overcome is 11,000. That doesn't daunt him. Nothing ever has in his past career, and he has formed a dangerous habit of always attaining his objectives.

His candidature raises the Ottawa East fight to national interest.

Sweden's prehistoric period measured by naturalists and archaeologists, covers about 10,000 years up to 1000 AD.

Popular Opera Be Played Music Club

VALERIA RUSTICANA
(Rustic Chivalry)
Valeria Rusticana was composed by Pietro Mascagni in the 1889 in the city of Cerignola in Puglia, Italy. It is one of the world's most loved one act operas. It is also the composer's known work.

Through the popularity of one opera he rose to world-wide reputation and he personally conducted his opera in most of the principal cities of his day.

Recording to be played Tuesday night at the regular Centre Music Appreciation is conducted by the conductor, Alfio. Gino Bechi, Barilola, Maria Maruccci, Mezzanone; Achille Consoli, conductor.

CAST—Turiddu, Beniamini, tenor; Santuzza, Lena, Rosa Soprano; Mamma, Giuletta Simionato, contralto; Alfio, Gino Bechi, Barilola, Maria Maruccci, Mezzanone; Achille Consoli, conductor.

The setting of the opera is in the time of the year is in the spring and the peasants are enjoying the holiday.

Turiddu, the son of Mamma's village tavern keeper, returned from military service, and by his manner of a soldier, has become the favorite of the girls of the village, whom Santuzza has previously chosen one—to her own peril.

After his enlistment in the army, Turiddu had courted Lola, a pretty coquette, but on his return he finds her the bride of Alfio, village carrier. In wounded pride and vanity he turns to Santuzza, but meeting Lola afterwards, he drops into the old trap, in his turn, deceives Santuzza, while Lola is faithless to her husband Alfio.

The intrigue coming to Alfio's ears on Easter morning, from Santuzza, who is distracted by jealousy and remorse, he challenges Turiddu to mortal combat. Turiddu unwillingly and reluctantly accepts the defiance, and is slain.

BUYING FOR YOUR HOME

Try a Chinese Theme For Exotic, Easy Meal

By ELENORE LESTER
Confucius say: "Everybody like tasty treat in hot weather—but housewife must take things easy too."

Well, if he didn't say it, he should have.

At any rate the Chinese may have the answer to the problem of preparing a good meal that is also easy on the housewife. Try serving a Chinese meal in Chinese style to your family or bridge club one of these days.

You can make your own chop suey or chow mein fairly easily, or you can buy it frozen. Choose table accessories that point up the exotic quality of the food. That's what will make a treat of what might otherwise be a routine meal.

Use bamboo place mats on the table, get plastic or china rice bowls—and for the final touch—chopsticks! Chopsticks are really easy to use, once you get the hang of it. They are available in wood or plastic in food speciality shops. You can also get a pair for 15 cents plus a label from a manufacturer of frozen Chinese food.

Dainty tea cups (no saucers necessary) and a floral centerpiece suggesting a Chinese motif will complete your Oriental table setting.

At the end of the meal you will have a minimum of plates and very little silverware to wash. Your bamboo mats may be merely whisked off with a damp cloth and put away for the next occasion.

Housewife say: "Wise man, Confucius!"

NEW YORK (AP)—Tom Tannas, the most articulate of Ezzard Charles's co-managers, was prepared to go before the New York State Athletic Commission today and demand that the former heavyweight champion be matched against Roland La Starza next month, the winner to challenge Rocky Marciano in September.

Errors Costly As G & A Down Esquires 10-3

Star pitching by Freddy Christensen who struck out 15 Esquire batters Sunday, and a blunder-filled fourth inning gave Gordon & Anderson a 10-3 victory over the clothiers in a regular league event.

Outside of the fourth inning in which G-As scored eight runs, the game was an even contest with Esquires' pitcher Jack Sharpe allowing only six scattered hits and accounting for as many strikeouts.

The fatal fourth, a combination of five Esquire errors along with three hits, good bunting and base-running by G-As accounted for the scoring spree.

Don Hawryluk, Esquire left fielder was top hitter, with two for four, one a double, for two runs batted in.

Esquires accounted for the only double play in the game.

In Terrace, Commercial won their tenth straight game by a double-header triumph over CCs, although the night game was rained out at the end of five and a half innings with a score of 12-0 for the hotelmen. First game score was 7-1.

Cameron pitched the first game for Commercial's Gilbert Turcott, 18-year-old rookie took the mound for his first game in the night event.

VOTE LIBERAL BRUCE BROWN

THIS IS MY STORY

WILLIAM H. MURRAY

We have all heard of the Irishman who once said, "There are two sides to every story, and I want to tell you my two sides now!" In the issues set out before us at this election, there are THREE sides and we, the voters, must decide which of these is in the best interest of British Columbia and our constituency. That choice is a serious responsibility, for upon the outcome of this election rests the future of B.C. and the welfare of its people during the next four years. Let us look at the election picture for a moment. What are the alternatives?

LIBERALISM as represented by the Liberal Party.

SOCIALISM as represented by the C.C.F. Party.

SOCIAL CREDIT as represented by the present Government.

WHAT DO THEY ALL MEAN TO BRITISH COLUMBIA? WHAT ARE THEIR RESPECTIVE POLICIES? HOW WOULD THESE POLICIES AFFECT BRITISH COLUMBIA, AND WE, THE PEOPLE OF THIS PROVINCE? LET US EXAMINE THEM AND SEE.

● LIBERALISM is a free enterprise policy leaning heavily towards the "right." For as many years as I can remember we have had a Liberal Government, or a Liberal-dominated Coalition Government, in British Columbia, and what is their record? It is a dismal record of failure, of debt, of political patronage and inefficiency; We are PROMISED so many things again in this election! Why didn't the Liberal Party fulfill all these wonderful promises during the many, many years they governed? Certainly they had ample time and opportunity to implement these reforms. But no, using the false, white-stuccoed front of NEW Liberalism they again have the audacity to PROMISE, PROMISE, PROMISE! I know I have had enough of it! The people of British Columbia have had enough of it, and they made no mistake about showing that they had when they ground the Liberal Party to defeat at the election of 1952. We will grind them to defeat at the election of June 9th, 1953!

● SOCIALISM is a "leftist" policy untried in British Columbia—a policy of taking over and operating industry by the Government. By no stretch of the imagination can the Socialist experiment work in British Columbia at this time. We need people with money—a great deal of money—to come into this Province and assist with its development. Such development as we have seen during recent years would snap to a halt if a Socialist Government were to take office in British Columbia! Can you visualize ANY Industry entering this Province with the knowledge that the Government could — AT ANY TIME — take it over? Of course you can't! Think of our vast, untapped wealth of hydroelectric potential, forests, mines. How can they be developed without Private Enterprise—Private Enterprise to create jobs and contribute to the wealth of the Province? No, Socialism is not the answer for British Columbia! For over twenty years the Socialists have tried to form a Government, but the people have turned them away. We have driven off the C.C.F. octopus and chopped savagely at the Socialist tentacles that would have strangled our industrial development! The Socialists, when they had a good leader in Mr. Harold Winch, did not succeed. They will not succeed with the inexperienced and newly-found substitute!

● SOCIAL CREDIT is a straight middle-of-the-road policy. It stands solidly for Free Enterprise—but Free Enterprise without monopoly, without the political hand-outs we have seen in the past, without minority groups—an honest, sincere group of men and women doing their level best for British Columbia and for its people. As SOCIAL CREDITERS we encourage Free Enterprise to develop our natural resources—but we ensure that the people of the Province share to the extent of 10% of the profits above $25,000.00. Thus we ensure that provision is made for the small business man to make a reasonable profit. We are an EFFICIENT Government, for we are not only paying for expenditures out of current income, we are undertaking the largest Public Works Program in the history of British Columbia—and at the same time reducing the Provincial Debt by no less than $33,000,000.00. A PAY-AS-YOU-GO Government! An EFFICIENCY-WITH-ECONOMY Government!

Those of you who know me—and after 30 years in this City, I know most of you—know me to be sincere, despite the name-calling to which I and my running-mates have been subjected by our frustrated opponents. I sincerely believe that I can do a job for you in Victoria, for my years with the Government service have given me an excellent grounding in Provincial Affairs. Certainly our previous representative has brought us nothing—exactly nothing—during his brief, fruitless attendance in the Legislature! I believe that with a spirit of close co-operation with the Chamber of Commerce of this City and with the local heads of Provincial Departments, a great deal can be done to secure adequate expenditures being made on our Provincial projects in this constituency. I pledge myself to your service in this respect—to work vigorously and intelligently with the help and co-operation of our Board of Trade towards the development and industrial progress of our District. I solicit your support on June 9th on a platform of sincerity of purpose—not promises—on a principle of Free Enterprise—not Socialism. I urge you to vote Social Credit first choice June 9th. Vote for a Government that places its record and its policies fairly and squarely before you!

Liquor Sales Up 7 Per Cent In Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Estimated total retail sales of alcoholic beverages in Canada—the consumers' liquor bill—amounted to $741,000,000 for the year ending March, 1952, the Bureau of Statistics has reported.

This was $49,000,000 or seven per cent higher than the preceding year.

Both spirits and wine consumption decreased compared with 1951, while beer consumption rose about six per cent to a record total of 188,750,000 gallons from 178,271,000.

Decline in spirits consumption was approximately five per cent during the year ending in March, 1952, from the 1951 all-time peak of 8,030,000 proof gallons.

Excise and import duties, validation fees and licences on spirits collected by the federal government during the fiscal year ending in March 1952 totalled $82,097,000, as against $92,218,000 the preceding year.

Canadian Population Increases

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's population stood at 14,692,000 at March 1 this year, an increase of 68,000 over the previous three months and a jump of 376,000 compared with March 1 last year, the bureau of statistics reported today in a quarterly estimate of population.

The December-March quarter usually shows a smaller gain than other quarters of the year. The latest figure of 68,000 compares with increases of 90,000 from Sept. 1 to Dec. 1 last year, 104,000 from June 1 to Sept. 1, and 114,000 from March 1 to June 1.

The latest estimate indicates a gain of 683,000 or 4.9 per cent in the 21 months from June 1, 1951, the date of the last census which recorded a population of 14,009,000.

U.S.-Germany Restore Pre-War Treaty

BONN — (AP) — The United States and West Germany moved another step nearer normal relations today by agreeing to restore their pre-war treaty of friendship, commerce and consular rights.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and the U.S. high commissioner, Dr. James Conant, signed an agreement to put the treaty into effect.

This treaty, first signed in 1923 and suspended at the outbreak of war, will, among other things, re-establish a basis for operations by businessmen of both countries.

A U.S. spokesman said re-establishment of the 1923 treaty "will prove advantageous to U.S. investment in West Germany and will help the Germans lick their dollar gap."

In the home as well as on the farm, fairs have spurred better living through exhibits of the latest appliances and equipment.

Ceda Pavlovic Has Difficulty Convincing People He's Alive

By ALEX SINGLETON

BELGRADE (AP)—Pity the plight of Ceda Pavlovic, who awoke the other night in a cemetery fully dressed for his own formal funeral.

Poor Pavlovic had taken a hot bath earlier in the day. Forgetting his schoolday physics lessons, he reached up a dripping arm to snap on a light. Water serves as a conductor for electricity.

His wife found him unconscious. A hurriedly summoned physician pronounced him dead. His body was carted off for burial next day under government health regulations. It was lodged in an ice-chilled vault beneath the cemetery chapel.

Pavlovic awoke to find himself in a coffin. He then nudged the lid of the coffin.

The lid moved upwards. He climbed out, only to find the vault door bolted. He cried for help. Frightened, a cemetery guard above fled.

A 60-year-old retired jurist, Pavlovic pleaded his predicament at the top of his lungs. "I am here by mistake," he shouted. "Let me out." The guard finally crept back and released him.

Pavlovic hurried off to the nearest phone to report to his wife he was coming home, hungry.

He was in for another shock. Under the strain of the day, she shrieked. Then he hung up. Then she fainted. Pavlovic tried next to re-establish himself with his neighbors. Answering his knocks, they looked quickly, shuddered and slammed the doors.

Finally, he found an acquaintance who had not heard of his "death." This one served as a go-between. Poor Pavlovic soon was home again.

But a last shock was still to come. His family had inserted a death notice in the morning papers, too late to be withdrawn. Pavlovic still is answering messages of condolence.

SUZANNE BUTLER, 31-year-old Ottawa secretary finds writing "fun," especially after her first novel, "My Pride, My Polly," brought her fame and about $15,000. The book, about a 19th century Canadian heroine, is a best-seller in Canada and the United States. One-time Montreal school-teacher, Miss Butler spent five years on the book and says it takes most of a lifetime to write a best-seller.

The Pigeon river on the north-west side of Lake Superior was mentioned in 1722 as an entry to the west.

The Petitcodiac river in New Brunswick was a favorite Indian route between the Cumberland region and Quebec.

Women are women and men are men all over the world, and it's high time that newspaper and magazine writers got onto the fact, according to lovely Marta Toren. The actress, currently starred with Dana Andrews, George Sanders and Audrey Totter at the Totem Theatre in Columbia Pictures' "Assignment—Paris," offers her comment on the journalistic approach to interviews only because she is always asked to make comparisons. The fact that she plays a reporter in "Assignment—Paris," a girl whose beat is Budapest, has nothing to do with Marta's "complaint."

According to Miss Toren, she never meets a writer who does not ask her to compare Swedish and American males, or, if she has just been to Paris or London or South America, American and French or English or Latin males. "They're all alike—they're all men!" insists Marta. "What am I to say? If the men I meet are very handsome, and if they are witty, and if they like me, I like them. If they are not any of these, I don't care if they are Swedes or anyone else, you can have them."

Marta had an opportunity to judge the men of several nationalities during production of "Assignment—Paris," which was filmed in Paris, world capital of intrigue, where she met and worked with an admixture of American, English, French and Hungarian males. "They're all alike—they're all men!"

Strikers Reject Latest Offer At Saanich

VICTORIA (P)—The possibility of a settlement of the week-old strike of municipal workers in neighboring Saanich faded today with reports the strikers have rejected the council's latest offer.

In a bid to settle the strike of 150 members of the Saanich Municipal Employees Association, council increased its wage offer but the association voted down the offer Friday.

Union officials said the new offer, which includes a seven-cent-an-hour increase for laborers now earning $1.24½ an hour, and a three per cent increase for employees paid by the month, was not acceptable.

The association reduced its demands at a meeting Monday to a 10 per cent increase for roofers, it also reduced demands for other classifications.

Council made no offer to adjust some of the wages of specialized workers which is one of the main issues in the dispute.

Aorangi Leaves on Last Trip

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (P)—It was to be a tender moment as several hundred persons gathered at the dock here to bid nostalgic farewell to the liner Aorangi.

There were some damp eyes as the veteran liner, last sea-going passenger link between Canada and New Zealand-Australia prepared to leave on the final leg of her last voyage between Vancouver and Sydney, Australia.

A farewell message was broadcast over the loudspeaker system and a band played the Maori farewell song, "Now is the Hour."

But, as it turned out, now wasn't the hour. A mechanical default prevented the Aorangi from leaving the dock.

She didn't sail from Sydney until midnight and when the old lady of the Pacific slipped out, she was watched by only a determined handful of spectators.

After reaching Sydney, the Aorangi will leave for Britain to be scrapped.

Are there good jobs in a nickel mine?

"Do the men get good pay?"

"Yes, at Inco even a beginner makes good money. As time goes on there are chances for working into better and better jobs. In addition, employees receive medical and hospital care for themselves and families at very low cost to them. Pensions are paid to employees who retire or are disabled and these are paid for by the company. So you see Inco is a real good place to work."

"Yes, there are good jobs and a lot of them in the nickel mines and plants. There is still a certain amount of heavy work to do, but machines have made most jobs a lot easier and more pleasant. For instance, the ore today is handled almost entirely by machines instead of by pick and shovel."
