SHIRLEY YULE
An encompassing, long-term parks improvement program would see development of 39 acres of land in Algoma park, solve the city's garbage disposal problem, and provide the city with a golf course to be put before voters at the December 15 election. The five-year project was presented last night after a report by the city parks commission. The report was presented to the city council by city clerk R. W. Long. # Fishing Industry Plight Cited To Prevent Water Rate Boost

Firms Pay Low Rate Since '34

City Council last night tried to show the five major fish companies in Prince Rupert that since they had been enjoying a depression rate for their metered water since 1934 it was time the companies stopped being subsidized by the rest of the city.

During the same period the residents with their flat rate and the smaller metered water users have absorbed a 66 2/3 per cent increase. In a brief prepared by City Clerk R. W. Long, it was shown that in 1934 users of 100,000 cubic feet per month paid seven cents per 100 cubic feet. In 1939 the consumption allowance was boosted to 300,000 cubic feet for which the fish companies paid 5.6 cents per 100 cubic feet.

Some 19 years later, Mr. Long said, the fish companies were paying only 7.7 cents per 100 cubic feet for 300,000 cubic feet or more. The householder with his flat rate had paid $1.50 in 1934, $2.00 in 1939 and in 1951 it was raised to $2.50. The low metered water consumers of 3,000 cubic feet had seen his rates go from 17 cents in 1934, to 23.38 cents in 1951 to the present day.

Not Adequate
"From this it is shown that the large users enjoyed a decrease in water rates from 1939 to 1951 while all other classes were increased," Mr. Long said. "The present rates show an increase of from 66 2/3 per cent in the cases of residences and approximately 37 per cent on all other rates."

Enjoyed Decrease
In connection with the companies' objection to the increase in meter rentals, Mr. Long's brief said that the meter rentals presently charged by the City are far from adequate either to pay for the original cost for maintenance or in comparison with other meter rentals throughout the province.

More Beneficial
Commissioners felt that it would be of more benefit to the general public to spend those funds on the development of Algoma park, than on Roosevelt park where, they said, there was little scope for improvement.

MOTORIST LIKES READING WHILE DRIVING AT 70 MPH

CHICAGO (AP)—William J. Mortimer, Cook county highway superintendent, checked speeders on the Edens six-lane expressway north of Chicago yesterday. Mortimer's car was driven at the 60 MPH legal speed limit and was passed by 13 other cars, one driven at a 70-mile clip by a man who was also reading a book. "We had to see it again to believe it," said Mortimer. Mortimer's driver overtook the bookworm car driver. "He put the book aside and continued on his way," Mortimer said. Mortimer said the driver was not arrested, because "he really wasn't driving any faster than a lot of others," and "I don't know of any law—except the laws of reason—against reading a book while driving."

Make The Plates Work

ATTORNEY-GENERAL BONNER'S recent announcement of a return to annual car licence plates carries with it an unhappy admission of failure to meet the problem of identifying current year tabs in the case of theft.

It is hard to accept this lack of ingenuity in overcoming what scarcely seems a major difficulty.

Provided the annual issue is resumed, the benefits of more permanent identification of cars by the one number is lost, the inconvenience of fastening on new plates is revived and the presumed saving in material by having a long-term plate vanishes.

But if plates are to be renewed every year, the authorities might consider expanding the individuality the imprint of a totem pole recently added to licences. Many states and some provinces use the plates as mobile publicity media.

If, without offence, some regions in North America can advertise themselves as the Wheat Province, the Evergreen Playground and such, might it not be worthwhile to list British Columbia as "The Land of Parks" or, in some other wording, draw attention to the attraction of this part of Canada to the tourist?

Bigger Breakfasts

AN ARTICLE in Reader's Digest says human beings should eat bigger breakfasts. The writer contends that those who make themselves eat first thing in the day will consume fewer calories throughout the day, and thus will not be liable to put on extra weight.

However, the article contains one intriguing bit of advice for those who cannot face a big breakfast. The tip is to take moderate exercise before the meal.

The intriguing aspect of this recommendation lies in the fact that in the hustle and bustle of 1953, so many people find themselves crowded for time to eat breakfast, let alone to take some exercise before breakfast.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

One view in Parliament Hill political circles of last week's minor cabinet shuffle is that it could be the herald of a new star in the Liberal firmament.

The basis for such an opinion is the promotion of able, likable, dynamic Hon. R. H. ("Bob") Winters from the portfolio of Resources and Development to the important portfolio of Public Works.

From the standpoint of practical politics and making friends and influencing voters, the Public Works portfolio is rated in the Cabinet as second in desirability only to the Health and Welfare spot held by Hon. Paul Martin.

The theory is that the voters feel most warmly towards the

Girls Lose Nylons While On Navy Cruise

VICTORIA — Fair guests on a Canadian Navy cruise recently got a lesson in chemistry as well as a pleasant sea voyage. Their nylon stockings disintegrated suddenly, leaving them bare-legged.

They were wives of delegates to the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants in convention here and the cruise was part of the entertainment program.

A freak mixture of funnel gases with salt sea vapors turned the nylons into cobwebs. "We couldn't believe our eyes," said one woman. "I looked down and there were my bare toes sticking out of my open-toed sandals."

"It couldn't happen twice," said a naval man. "Atmospheric pressures must have been perfect to mix water vapors with funnel gases which include sulphur dioxide. Result was a mild sulphuric acid which the stockings could not withstand."

Cabinet member whom they identify with the monthly family allowance and old age pension cheques. That's Hon. Paul in person.

But next to the Santa Claus Health and Welfare Minister, the Minister of Public Works has the best change of promoting his own popularity. He is the major source of public expenditures in most constituencies. And you don't make people mad by building them new wharves, bridges, post-offices, customs houses, or other public works.

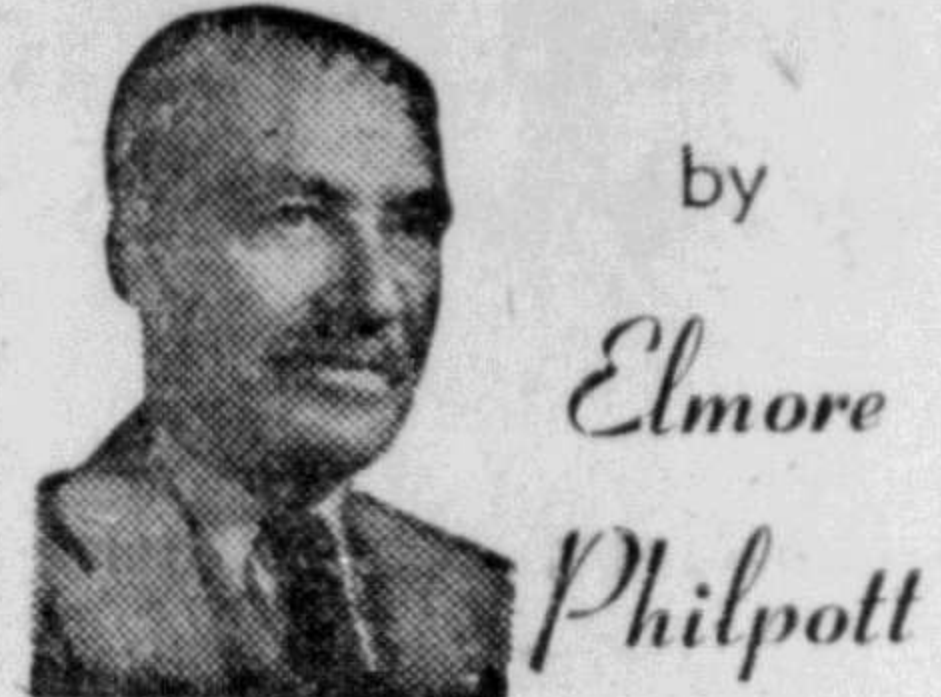

Actually, the basis for Winters' appointment needn't be at all political. As a highly qualified engineer, he is a logical choice for the Public Works portfolio. Especially is this the case in view of the somewhat unsavory episodes in this department during the past Parliament, when it was revealed that lowest tenders for works weren't always being accepted and when an MP had to resign his seat in Parliament as a result of the difficulties into which the bankrupt Lunan Construction Company landed in Saskatchewan. It was clearly a time for the appointment of a Public Works Minister who would have a thorough technical knowledge of what was going on in the department.

At the same time, the theory than Hon. "Bob" is receiving the chance he merits to go places in the Liberal Party is widely accepted in political circles.

Hon. "Bob" has never been wholly neglected in past speculation on Liberal leadership prospects. He's recognized as having a good deal on the ball in both personality and ability. Consequently, he has always been amongst those mentioned as a possible successor to the Leadership mantle, although he has never been a favorite for the post.

His new portfolio will give him a real chance to gain in political strength. Along about 1955 he may be considerably less of a long shot in the leadership race than he is today.

Bets On Dior Skirts

A FRENCHMAN named Dior has decreed that the better half of humanity is to wear shorter skirts.

Every now and again you see some newspaper story which says that the girls have rebelled—that they just won't wear the shorter garments. But that is a laugh. That is one of the ritualistic motions which the female of the species always make even when she is getting ready for a big switch. It is like the half-hearted brief, resistance which a sweet young thing puts up at her first kiss from her first boyfriend. It won't last too long.

So with the switch in women's fashions, it is now just a question of time till the girls from 17 to 77 will all appear in skirts about half way between the length of the bathing suits that grandmother used to wear and the kilt which granddad wore in the highland band.

IT MAKES me realize how I am getting on in years for I clearly remember the other two times that "they" cut off about four inches from the ladies' skirts. In both world wars they said the real reason was the shortage of cloth. But that was a laugh because, when the New Look came in a little later, the scarcity was even greater.

A few years ago the letter columns of this paper were full of complaints about the New Look. Remember? The girls swore by all the gods they never would wear those longer skirts.

Not that I have any complaint. However, the ladies want them is fine with me. If they want them short, my attitude is that of Good Queen Bess who started the Order of the Garter when somebody got an unexpected peck at her royal legs.

"Honi soit qui mal y pense" says the royal motto, which freely interpreted means "what's wrong with legs anyway?"

THE MERE male should remember that there is a fundamental difference between the sexes.

Take furniture — the male wants it left as is—the female wants it moved.

Take clothes. The male would rather be caught dead at a formal party dressed differently from the other males. The female would almost die of mortification to find that even one other woman, much less two others, had a dress just like her's.

The female likes new clothes. The male likes old clothes and in our house son and I have to stand guard and even retrieve our favorite old clothes from the garbage can when the lady gets that determined house-cleaning look in her eye.

If the girls want crazy hats they will have them—and why not? If they want long skirts shortened, or short skirts lengthened, they will have them that way. The Fig Leaf was Eve's idea, and if Adam had tried to stop her, he might have had a rock fall on his head next time he slept under the apple tree.

Loggers Voting

VANCOUVER — B.C. southern interior lumber workers Monday began marking ballots in a union-supervised vote on acceptance or rejection of a conciliation board offer for next year's contract with operators.

An International Woodworkers of America spokesman reported that the 2,500 men, employed in 38 southern interior mills, are expected to follow the union policy committee's recommendation that they reject the three-cent, across-the-board offer in the board's report.

If the offer is rejected, the union will request a government-supervised strike vote.

Workers in northern interior mills will take a government-supervised strike vote Friday.

NOW COMES THE TEST—by Arch Dale in Winnipeg Free Press.

VICTORIA REPORT

By J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA — The alternative system of voting is doomed, it will be thrown out at this session of the Legislature.

Social Crediters don't like it, and neither do C.C.F.'ers. And they're the important people in this Legislature.

At politics! The Coalition Government brought the alternative system of voting in as a political expedient. It was designed to make one of the Coalition partners the government, the other the opposition, taking turn and turn about, as government, and then opposition, and then government again, as in the good old days when Liberals and Conservatives were supreme. The alternative system, so the Coalition hoped, would wipe out the C.C.F. But along came the upstart, Social Credit, and fouled things up. The result of the alternative voting system was that this province has become predominantly S.C. and C.C.F. One, indeed, would think S.C.'ers and C.C.F.'ers would like the system. It certainly didn't do them any harm.

But they have so much now, S.C. and C.C.F., that they want more. They want the entire House to themselves. If the old system of voting was used last June, there wouldn't be a Liberal or a Conservative in the House.

In Nanaimo, Dr. Larry Giovando, about this treatment from the now represented by the lone Conservative in the House, a Social Crediter said it was arranged to show the Liberals that they're of no importance any more, of no importance, that is, in the Social Credit book.

However, Mr. Speaker Irwin a reasonable, genial man, who doesn't like to hurt feelings, even those of his political enemies, thought the matter over, and gave the Liberals back the big room they had last year, so that Mr. Laing now has his private office, but at least he has it to himself.

The two party system would have been back, but not the two party system the Coalition hoped for when it brought in alternative voting.

At politics! Liberals and Conservatives brought in alternative voting to keep the C.C.F. out, and now Social Credit is throwing out alternative voting in the hope that Liberals and Conservatives will never again be elected to the B.C. Legislature.

New Zealand Presses Development Of Natural Steam for Electricity

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent

AUCKLAND, N.Z. — The natural safety valve of the geysers country, which for centuries gave Maoris a constant hot water supply may help change the economic future of New Zealand.

The government's spectacular gamble in spending big sums in digging into the ground to find natural steam for electricity will pay off, says Works Minister Stanley Goosman.

For more than three years engineers have been boring for steam, producing dozens of man-made geysers which dwarf the age-old natural ones of the thermal region in the centre of North Island.

Now, Mr. Goosman says, the Wairakei area, where drilling has been going on, has been shown to have the highest geothermal steam pressure in the world. The investigation period is over, he says, and New Zealand can press ahead with development.

LIMITED SUPPLY

New Zealand is not well supplied with coal for power plants, and though a big hydro-electric program is in progress it is likely that before many years have passed all available sites for dams on North Island will be developed.

It was this prospect that prompted the government to take a gamble on being able to use the steam of the thermal areas for electricity.

The government will build a power station in the area. It will have only a small output compared with stations eventually planned, but will be used to examine the problems of practical operation.

'Bad Luck' Girl Lives in Palace

SINGAPORE (AP)—Leong Thiam-chu, a "bad luck" Chinese baby girl born two months ago in a Singapore slum, will be reared in a palace. The Sultan of Kelantan legally adopted her yesterday.

A fortune teller warned the mother that unless the child was given away it would die and bad luck would fall on the family because she was born on July 22—"an evil day."

The Straits Times published a picture of the chubby-faced baby with her story. The Sultan's wife, who was in Singapore with her husband to celebrate the 80th birthday of the Sultan of Johore, took a liking to her. She sped to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leong Kum-seng, the child's parents, ahead of others who also wanted to adopt her. She took Thiam-chu in her arms and showed her to the Sultan, who agreed to adopt her.

Creditor was elected on first count, which, under the old system which is coming back, is final count; in Oak Bay Finance Minister Gundersen would have won; in Point Grey Education Minister Tilly Roulson would have beat Liberal leader Arthur Laing; in Lillooet and Prince Rupert, C.C.F.'ers could have won, instead of Liberals. The whole House, under the old system of voting just one X, would now be S.C. and C.C.F. with the exception of Mr. Uphill.

The two party system would have been back, but not the two party system the Coalition hoped for when it brought in alternative voting.

At politics! Liberals and Conservatives brought in alternative voting to keep the C.C.F. out, and now Social Credit is throwing out alternative voting in the hope that Liberals and Conservatives will never again be elected to the B.C. Legislature.

The badly-snubbed Liberals now have their bigger legislative quarters back. When leader Laing and his three supporters arrived here they were given a little room, looking into a well, and therefore gloomy and airless. Usually, a party leader has an office to himself. The Liberals were, naturally enough, hurt about this treatment from the now represented by the lone Conservative in the House, a Social Crediter said it was arranged to show the Liberals that they're of no importance any more, of no importance, that is, in the Social Credit book.

However, Mr. Speaker Irwin a reasonable, genial man, who doesn't like to hurt feelings, even those of his political enemies, thought the matter over, and gave the Liberals back the big room they had last year, so that Mr. Laing now has his private office, but at least he has it to himself.

LETTERBOX

THE RAT MENACE
The Editor,
The Daily News:

I have been told several times of the spectacle offered at the City dump, and finally by my own relatives, who motored in to visit me in what I am now pleased to call "my home town," and entered in via the usual route. In case your nose isn't working there is a sign for all to see—"Now Entering Prince Rupert!"

As one vitally interested in the welfare of the youths of our city, I have to make a protest. My letter will leave you unmoved, but parents, citizens, for the sake of your children and the health of your community, before you forget it completely as I did, and the results will not leave you so. Drive out to our city dump—drive right in slowly—put your headlights off for a moment and then put them on suddenly! You will see a sight you will not forget for the rest of your life.

You will be in a sea of living, moving, rotting filth!—and this within walking distance, and easier biking distance, of your children who come out with bee-bee guns, slingshots and what-have-you to take pot shots at what they can't possibly miss. And this is not it's real danger.

One epidemic from this pestilence would far offset any expense of correcting it. Bubonic plague sounds like something out of the past, but it is not a remote possibility wherever there are rats.

With our shipping stepped up as it has been during the past year the advent of European rats to our excellent breeding ground doubles the danger. There are thousands of these rats that are ready to move into our homes, basements, schools, shows, etc., when cold weather comes.

I don't know who is responsible for this mess, or who should make the move to clean it up. But I do know we've got better schools, better streets, better living conditions, so let's start yelling until we make it hot for those who can do something about it.

Parents—I challenge you—stop for a minute from boiling your children's bottles—washing your children's clothes—making junior wash his hands before he eats, etc., and go out and see the pestilent mess they are living next door to. AND THEN VOICE YOUR PROTEST.

Intermela-Lewis Nuptial Vows Said Pretty Candlelight Ceremony Here

At an impressive candlelight service in St. Andrew's Cathedral here Saturday night, two Prince Rupert families were united through the marriage of Victoria Laura Lewis, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lewis, 226 Fifth Avenue West, and James William Intermela, son of Mrs. T. Dennis, 1060 Seventh Avenue East, and the late Mr. Intermela.

The Rev. Canon Basil S. Procter officiated at the rites for which the bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a ballerina length gown of white nylon net over taffeta, featuring lace inserts. A pearl and net tiara secured her fingertip veil and she carried a Colonial bouquet of red garrigue roses.

Bridesmaid was Miss Jane Intermela, sister of the groom, attired in a pretty ballerina frock of pale green net over taffeta, with matching hat, elbow-length lace mitts, and carrying a Colonial bouquet of pink and yellow carnations.

Best man was Mr. Ole Skog and ushers were Mr. Alfred Deane and Mr. Thomas Boulter. Organist was Mr. Peter Lien.

Gracing the church for the ceremony were white chrysanthemums and pink gladioli.

For the reception in the Canadian Legion hall, parents of the bridal pair assisted in receiving. The bride's mother chose for the occasion a two-piece dress of navy blue gabardine with dusky pink accessories and a corsage of pale pink roses.

The groom's mother wore a frock of black silk with red trim and accessories and red roses en corsage.

The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, held a three-tiered cake flanked by pearl-trimmed glass candlesticks and sprays of red roses. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. N. A. Pett and to the bridesmaid by Mr. Skog. Music for the reception was provided by Mr. Dyke McMillan, pianist, and telegrams congratulating the young couple, including two from England, were read by Mr. Mel Bussey.

Mr. and Mrs. Intermela have taken up residence in the Angus apartments. They will leave on their honeymoon at a later date.

Among guests at the wedding were Mrs. Leslie Parks and her sister, Mrs. Harold Parks, both of London, England, and Mrs. L. D. Kendall of Los Angeles, Calif., who is visiting in the city with her sister, Mrs. J. Judge, 746 Taylor Street.

Principal O. K. Bennett presided for the election of officers and conveners as follows: Mrs. H. M. Harper, President; O. K. Bennett, vice-president; Mrs. Floyd Frank, secretary; Mrs. Howard Bush, treasurer; P. J. Cyr, service committee; Mrs. O. M. Oliver, refreshments; Mrs. K. Skogland, membership; Mrs. K. Wold, magazines; Miss P. Pendergast, program; O. K. Bennett, publicity; Mrs. R. Skogland, representative to Northern Convention at Prince George.

The Pacific ocean, with 63,000,000 square miles, is twice as big as the Atlantic.

Speaker was G. W. Graham, district inspector of schools. His theme was chosen to mark Better Parenthood Week.

Opening the session was the introduction of the school's 11 teachers by Principal R. G. Moore, and introduction of the executive by P-TA president Mrs. A. Bell. Membership convener, Mrs. L. Knutson reported a total membership of 76.

The group authorized purchase of several items of sports equipment, books and further records for the school's record library. It was also decided that the executive be empowered to spend up to $10 without the authorization of a general meeting.

The prize for best parent attendance went to Mrs. L. Thorpe's class, after which refreshments were served.

Mr. Gargrave said that the road has been built entirely by local labor with financial assistance from the provincial government.

Residents around Bella Coola collected $6,000 among themselves and later the government gave them $50,000 to build the 30-mile stretch through the mountains.

The government had declined further aid and Mr. Gargrave said laborers are working without any guarantee of wages. They need another $5,000.

The other outlets to the coast are down the Fraser River valley to Vancouver and down the Skeena River valley to Prince Rupert.

Mr. Gargrave said it will bring Prince George 200 miles closer to salt water than at present and will "bring tide-water to the Cariboo and promises to change the direction of cattle shipping in that area."

While Mr. Gargrave was talking, Works Minister P. A. Gargrave said: "That's private enterprise."

Mr. Gargrave replied: "no, that's co-operative effort."

MISS FRANCES E. WILLIS, recently sworn in as the new United States Ambassador to Switzerland, trims the roses at her Redlands, Calif., home. Miss Willis is the first woman to work her way up through the ranks of the U.S. Foreign Service to become a full-fledged Ambassador.

Co-Operative Effort Brings New Road Outlet to Coast

VICTORIA (CP)—A CCF member of the Legislative Tuesday announced that a third outlet to the coast through the coast range is almost complete.

Anthony Gargrave (CCF—MacKenzie) said the road which will connect Bella Coola, about 200 miles north of Vancouver, with a road to Williams Lake, about 200 miles to the west on the Cariboo Highway, has only 500 yards to go.

Terrace P-TA Holds Meeting

TERRACE—At the first fall meeting in the Credit Union Hall of the Parent-Teacher Association, a large gathering was held of successful activities in the past year, and a bank balance of $144.29 was reported.

A committee was appointed to convene a meeting representative of all Terrace organizations to arrange for the purchase of projection equipment for school and general community use.

Principal O. K. Bennett presided for the election of officers and conveners as follows: Mrs. H. M. Harper, President; O. K. Bennett, vice-president; Mrs. Floyd Frank, secretary; Mrs. Howard Bush, treasurer; P. J. Cyr, service committee; Mrs. O. M. Oliver, refreshments; Mrs. R. Skogland, membership; Mrs. K. # Correct Use of 'Esquire' and 'Mister' Sparks Wide Controversy in Britain

By DONOVAN BESS

LONDON (Reuters)—An increasing number of Britons are taking pen in hand to join a letters-to-the-editor controversy on a problem every man must face: Does he want his mail addressed to him as "Esquire" or just plain "Mister?"

In Britain the "Esquire form of address is favored and most letters are addressed "John Doe, Esq." This is "pompous and outdated," Charles Newton grumbled in a letter to the Sunday Times recently.

His letter touched off a flow of correspondence. The anti-Esquire section leads the parade. One letter-writer, Rev. Stanley Meade, says the practice is undemocratic and "I return all letters sent to me calling me 'Esq.'"

But Newton hasn't had things all his own way. He has even been taken up for his statement that "nothing is more repugnant to an American than to find himself addressed as Esquire."

Miss Louise Carter recalled that two Americans who rented an apartment in a block here advertised their presence with a card saying: "Mr. L., Esq., and Mr. H. E., Esq."

Iain Moncreiffe, owner of a 600-year-old estate in Scotland and an authority on heraldry and titles, suggested that only university graduates are entitled to be called "Mister."

It is "arrant snobbery to assume the style of Mr. when all one may be entitled to is 'Esquire,'" wrote the blue-blooded Scot.

"It is possible to be an Esquire by birth, but nobody can be born a genuine Mr., for Mr. is correctly the style of a university graduate . . ."

The practical defects of being an "Esquire" were vividly outlined by George Fearon with this incident:

Thirty years ago he visited a town in Holland, where he arranged to pick up his mail at general delivery. For 10 days he called, but the clerk always said, "nothing."

Finally he asks whether the letters had been filed under Esq. "Ah," said the clerk. "There is a popular gentleman who never collects his letters. We have hundreds for him."

Local Teachers Elect Officers

R. H. Davidson was elected president of the Prince Rupert Teachers' Association when that group held its annual meeting at the Civic Centre.

Other officers named were: G. E. Freeman, vice-president; Miss J. McLellan, secretary; D. Fraser, treasurer; Miss J. Burns, chairman salary committee; H. Power, Civic Centre representative; F. Moore, G. F. Durose and K. Wilkinson, trades and labor representatives; Mrs. G. Calderwood, music and drama representative; G. Calderwood, public relations representative; Miss E. Jack, program convener.

Northern district council representatives named were R. H. Davidson and G. E. Freeman, and authors are J. Goscoe and F. Naka.

Members expressed satisfaction that the Trades and Labor Council scholarship, awarded earlier this month, was being continued, and emphasized that the scholarship was open to both boys and girls.

exciting new recipe for Creamed Salmon

So Quick and Easy to Fix

- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup Carnation Evaporated Milk diluted with 1/2 cup water
- 1 flat can (half-pound size) creamed salmon

Melt butter in saucepan over medium heat. Stir in flour and salt; cook 1 minute; remove from heat and add 1/2 cup milk; blend carefully until all lumps are gone. Add remaining milk and return to heat, stirring constantly until sauce thickens and boils. Add salmon and serve immediately over freshly made toast. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

For Plain or "Fancy" Cooking—
Use the Milk that Whips!

CARNATION MILK is double-rich milk—concentrated to the consistency of cream. So it's perfect for your fanciest "company" desserts, as well as all regular milk purposes!

IF YOUR RECIPE SAYS "MILK" use Carnation diluted with an equal amount of water. This way you have homogenized, heat-refined milk with all of good milk's food values, and extra creamy-smoothness.

USE IT LIKE CREAM . . . for whipped toppings, on fruits, cereals, puddings . . . in most recipes calling for costly cream. Millions prefer undiluted Carnation to cream for their coffee, too.

Odds Favoring Marciano May Climb Even Higher

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—The odds favoring heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano over challenger Roland LaStarza soared to 4½-to-1 today and may go even higher when the two step into the Polo Grounds Thursday night for their 15-round title fight.

Despite the long odds and the fact that there are few among the fight mob who give the 26-year-old contender a chance, interest in the fight continues to mount. Ringside seats are selling beyond the 18th row. Ticket scalpers are demanding and getting handsome premiums for the $30 ringside seats within the first 10 rows.

$306,000 GATE
Jim Norris, president of the promoting International Boxing Club, predicted he would have at least $300,000 in the till the morning of the fight.

"With any kind of a break in the weather—and the forecast is excellent—we'll do at least $100,000 at the Polo Grounds for $400,000 or better," he said.

"With the minimum guarantee of $100,000 for theatre-TV, the fighters have every chance of getting paid off on $500,000.

The weather bureau's forecast for Thursday evening is "fair and warmer."

The bout, starting at 10:30 p.m., EDT, won't be broadcast or telecast into homes. A telecast will be beamed over a closed circuit to 45 theatres in 34 cities and towns from coast to coast at prices running about $3.60 a head.

There was more betting action reported on knockouts within a certain number of rounds than on the actual outcome. It was 12 to 5 that Roland would not go the distance; 9 to 5 LaStarza wouldn't go 12; and even money that Rocky would stop his opponent within eight. The odds were 8 to 1 that Roland wouldn't knock out the champion.

FEW LASTARZA TAKERS
The 29-year-old Brockton blaster had been a 3-to-1 favorite for weeks but the odds jumped when heavy Marciano money showed with few LaStarza takers.

One reason was the almost-solid support for the champion by the boys in the trade—the managers, trainers, matchmakers and seconds. Several said the same thing in different words. It added up to Marciano by a knockout because of his "ring viciousness, intense desire to win, overpowering punch and strength."

Meanwhile the two gladiators went into virtual seclusion until the weigh-in ceremony at Madison Square Garden at noon on Thursday.

Marciano broke camp at Grossinger, N.Y., last night and went to a secret retreat on Long Island. He will limber up lightly and take a walk today.

LaStarza planned to run about 4½ miles early today and then rest. He won't leave his Greenwood Lake, N.Y., camp until tomorrow morning when he will motor in for the weigh-in. He expects to scale between 183 and 190 pounds. The champion figures to weigh about 186.

VANCOUVER GIRL NUDGES NATIONAL DISCUS MARK

VANCOUVER (CP)—Marie Depree heaved the discus 130 feet, nine inches to set a new Canadian junior girls' discus record at the Vancouver Olympic Club's invitational track and field meet.

The prodigious heave by the six-foot, three-inch member of Vancouver's Arctic Club shattered the old Canadian mark of 90 feet nine inches by 40 feet and was only two inches short of the national senior women's record.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The visiting expert from the corn country shook his head and said he was more puzzled than ever about Thursday night's championship fight after having watched the challenger, Roland LaStarza, wind up two solid months of training at Greenwood Lake.

"I went there expecting to see him practising a left jab and generally getting ready to stay away from Marciano for 15 rounds," he said. "If he's even got a jab I never did see it. I'll swear I believe that boy thinks he can go in and fight Rocky and cut him up and beat him."

This reaction has been more or less typical of the scores of boxing authorities from every part of the country who have made the pilgrimage into the Ramapo hills to watch the Bronx butcher's son prepare himself for his greatest test. They went there expecting to see one thing, and saw something entirely different.

When he climbs into the Polo Grounds' ring, LaStarza will be facing a murderous and ceaseless hitter, a fireplug of a man who seems impervious to punishment and to fatigue. When you watch Marciano batter his sparring partners and reflect on those terrible blows that spilled Joe Walcott at Philadelphia and Chicago, the thought of having to fend him off for 15 rounds—45 minutes—is rather frightening.

You say to yourself that if you were in LaStarza's shoes you would be practising up to be as elusive as a mountain goat. You would be devising schemes to keep from getting hit while at the same time managing to catch the eyes of the judges. That's why it has been unsettling to see the challenger doing just the opposite.

Maybe he will turn out to have been a prideful young rockhead, but LaStarza has trained with no thought in mind except to meet Marciano head-on and outbox and outslug him again, as he firmly believes he did in their other meeting exactly three and one-half years ago. He thinks he can take what Rocky hands out, barring a sucker punch he doesn't see coming.

LaStarza has followed just one set pattern in every boxing session. He has stayed on top of his men, throwing punches with a speed that has surprised many who never saw him before, and he has sternly taught himself not to step backward coming out of an exchange. He saw what happened to Walcott.

We recall that Keene Simmons, a big Negro sparring partner of LaStarza's who has fought and trained with both men, told us seriously that he would rather fight Rocky six times than Roland once. He couldn't explain it, but he said that Roland just naturally hurt him all over.

Montreal, Toronto Not Likely As Choices For Brown's Bid

NEW YORK (AP)—Toronto or Montreal—and not Baltimore as everyone thinks—will get the St. Louis Browns' American League franchise in the opinion of one major-league executive, but his prediction ran into denials on all sides today.

The executive, who asked not to be identified, said that "at least three clubs will vote against moving the Browns to Baltimore."

"Clark Griffith of Washington and the Macks of Philadelphia don't want Bill Veeck, Browns' owner, between them," he continued. "Don't expect the Yankees to vote for Baltimore, either. . . . It's my guess the Browns will be in Toronto next year."

"I'd say it's a 60-40 proposition right now between Toronto and Montreal with the odds favoring Toronto. I understand Veeck and Jack Kent Cooke of Toronto have some sort of an agreement between them."

But all the parties concerned were quick to deny that the executive had had his facts straight.

"It's news to me," said Veeck in Chicago. "That informant knows things I don't."

Griffith was even more emphatic.

"I intend to go to the owners' meeting with an open mind on the Browns' situation. I do not intend to reach a decision on the matter until Veeck has presented his plans to the owners."

The meeting to decide on the fate of the Browns is scheduled for this Sunday here.

The Yankees also are keeping an open mind on the matter, said president Dan Topping.

In Toronto, Cooke said he had no comment, while in Montreal general manager Guy Moreau of the Royals said he was in favor of the Browns coming there.

"Major league ball is bound to come to Montreal sooner or later," he said. "Why not now?"

Monarchs Tie Boxla Series With 8-7 Win

TORONTO (CP)—No disgrace will befall the team that comes second best in the fight for the Minto Cup Thursday night.

For no matter which team wins New Westminster Salmonacas western Canada champions, or Long Branch Monarchs, eastern representatives—fans attending the games agree that the best-of-five Canadian junior lacrosse final can go either way.

The claims were justified Tuesday night when the Monarchs scored a goal with little more than a minute of the game remaining to squeeze out an 8-7 decision that forced the series to the limit. The victory tied the series 2-2. The Monarchs had spotted New Westminster the first two games—both squeakers.

Reynolds Victory Over A's Cinches Him to Open Series

By BEN PHILEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

It could well be that Allie Reynolds has fastballed his way into the job of opening the world series for the New York Yankees a week from today.

The veteran speed merchant certainly has erased all doubts as to his fitness. And Tuesday night he gave Charlie Dressen's spies an eye full of some of the best pitching performed by any member of the Yankee mound staff this season.

Working against the admittedly weak Philadelphia Athletics, Reynolds blazed his way to 11 strikeouts in seven innings while giving up two measly singles and walking four.

He struck out the side in the first inning and whiffed seven in the first four innings. At the end of seven Casey Stengel decided he had seen enough of Reynolds for the evening. And what he had seen had made him very happy.

Neither Stengel nor Dressen has disclosed his world series pitching rotation. But Reynolds' fine form in recent weeks has inspired considerable support for the big chief to pitch the opener.

IN FIVE SERIES
The Oklahoma Indian is 36 years old. He has appeared in five world series, pitching 69½ innings in 12 games and has a 6-2 record. New York Giants beat him once in 1951 and the Dodgers beat him once and lost to him twice last fall.

The Yankees beat Philadelphia 7-2 Tuesday night, both Philadelphia runs coming off Bob Kuzava who pitched the last two innings.

One of them was Gus Zernial's 42nd home run which kept him one ahead of Cleveland's Al Rosen in the American League home run derby.

Al Rosen hit his 41st homer in Cleveland's 8-3 decision over Chicago White Sox. By winning the Indians virtually clinched second place.

TIE RECORD
In other action Brooklyn Dodgers closed their Ebbets Field season by tying the National League home record of 60-victories and 17 losses. They beat Pittsburgh 5-4 in the final game. Milwaukee beat St. Louis in the first game 4-3 and lost the second 10-7. Cincinnati edged Chicago 1-0, then lost 4-1. Philadelphia Phillies whipped the New York Giants 9-3.

St. Louis Browns continued to pick on the only team in the league they can beat, Detroit Tigers, and scored a 7-3 victory.

Ex Blue Bomber Joins Argonauts

TORONTO (CP)—Keith Carpenter, a 225-pound linebacker just cut by Winnipeg Blue Bombers, arrived here early this week. He is scheduled to try out with Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football League for the vacancy to be left when Don Moomaw returns to his studies next week.

The six-foot, 2½-inch 24-year-old centre and linebacker is a graduate of San Jose State College and hails from Bakersfield, Cal. He spent some time with Edmonton Eskimos last year.

Out on Limb
MONTREAL (CP)—Coach Dick Irvin, usually a dour pessimist at the outset of every season has climbed out on a limb and says he believes his 1953-54 Montreal Canadiens will be stronger in every position when the National Hockey League schedule opens Oct. 8.

The cotton manufacturing industry in Lancashire, England, dates from 1641.

Again... Imperial Oil sets the pace in British Columbia

Imperial Oil introduced the first tank truck on Vancouver streets... replacing horse-drawn vehicles.

NOW... a new refinery to bring you the HIGHEST-QUALITY GASOLINES EVER PRODUCED IN B.C.!

Today—as in 1915—Imperial Oil continues to set the pace in B.C. . . . with the newest refinery in all Canada . . . with B.C.'s first catalytic cracker, to produce higher-quality motor fuels! Great new Esso and Esso Extra will mean surging power . . . flashing acceleration . . . top mileage . . . finer overall performance for B.C. motorists!

NIGHT FISHING WITH A LANTERN

THIS METHOD IS VERY EFFECTIVE WHERE IT IS LEGAL!

TIE A GASOLINE LANTERN TO A POLE SUSPENDED FROM THE BOAT. USE A REFLECTOR TO KEEP LIGHT AND ITS ATTRACTED BUGS AWAY FROM YOU, ONTO THE WATER. ANCHOR IN A CHOICE LOCATION TO AWAIT ACTION. GAME FISH COME TO FEED UPON FALLEN INSECTS AND ATTRACTED SHAD OR OTHER MINNOWS. USE A FLY ROD WITH FLIES OR BUGS. OR, BAIT WITH A MINNOW. USE A LEADER WITHOUT FLOAT OR SINKERS.

IF GAME FISH DON'T COLLECT, CRUISE VERY SLOWLY SO MINNOWS CAN FOLLOW TO FIND THEM.

General Dean Welcomed Home Amid Glaring Television, News Cameras

TRAVIS AIR BASE, Calif. (AP) — Maj.-Gen. William F. Dean I almost sent a challenge to come home Tuesday night, three years of Red captivity etched in his tired face and declared: "I want you to get it out of your heads that I'm a hero. I'm not."

Hall Plane Seekers Tell Tale Of Forced Landing, Long Trek

Another chapter in the saga of the Ellis Hall plane search unfolded here today with reports of a search plane forced down in the Takla lake area, and its pilot and mechanic enduring a three-day trek through jungle-like territory.

The incident occurred just about the time when the wreckage of the Ellis Hall plane was being spotted for the first time, some 250 miles to the west, on the beaches of Boca de Quadra, 35 miles southeast of Ketchikan, September 15.

The search pilot and mechanic were Ken Armstrong, well-known Manson Creek placer miner, and Cecil Kay, whose story has just come out from Fort St. James, the point of their return to civilization.

The two were flying in the mountain region some 45 miles northwest of Takla Lake, searching for the plane of Texas millionaire Hall and his family, which disappeared August 17 on a flight from Annette Island to Smithers.

Noting that his oil gauge showed empty, Mr. Armstrong set the plane down safely on the nearest small lake, only to discover that both gas tanks held only one quart of fuel. A gas cap on the small plane had shaken loose, allowing the fuel to escape.

The two men had no alternative but to start out on foot through the rugged country. After three days they reached Takla lake, where they were picked up by a native in a small boat and brought to Fort St. James.

At Fort St. James Mr. Armstrong arranged with Pacific Western Airways to fly fuel to his stranded plane. Fortunately the small lake on which he had landed proved safe for landing and take-off.

The pilot and his mechanic are now back at work at Manson Creek, none the worse for their rugged experience.

San Francisco under brilliant moon. Dean's part in the Korean war lasted a month in the harrowing summer of 1950 before he was captured. He was awarded the Medal of Honor, highest U.S. military decoration for his valiant, last-ditch defence of Taejon—in which he battled personally with a bazooka.

An air force C-97 Stratocruiser brought Dean and seven other repatriated U.S. war prisoners into a reception of glaring television and news camera lights and the tenderness of reunion with his family.

The general had been out of the U.S. six years, in Japan and Korea.

His wife, Mildred, climbed into the plane and into the general's tight embrace.

Near the plane Dean and his wife were joined by his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Dean.

A few feet further on, the general's daughter, Mrs. Joan Williams, flew into his open arms. Then came others—19 relatives in all.

Answering reporters' questions, Dean said his plans were indefinite—that he is an army patient and must await word from medics before deciding.

In Tokyo he said he planned to retire from the army in which he has served 30 years, to keep a promise to his family.

Fire Destroys Transmitter

ANCHORAGE Alaska (AP)—The Alaska air command announced Monday that the main radio transmitter at Shemya, near the end of the Aleutian island chain, was destroyed Saturday in a $150,000 fire.

The air command said, however, there had been no interruption in instrument landing approach service at the Shemya airport, principal refueling stop on Great Circle flights to and from the Orient.

A faulty electric motor was responsible for the blaze.

Definition of Vicar

TORQUAY, England (CP)—A clergyman for 37 years, Rev. Edward Robinson says a vicar must be "a dynamo of energy, a companion to the wise, a lesson to the foolish, a joy to the young, a companion to the old, a consolation to the sick and a strength to the weak."

WALTER PIDGEON and Greer Garson, the screen's most popular "Mr. and Mrs.," again play a happily married couple in "Scandal at Scourie," which opens at the Totem Theatre tomorrow. The new Technicolor picture unfolds a heartwarming story of a red-headed woman whose husband knew what he wanted—when she told him! Agnes Moorehead and little Donna Corcoran are others in the cast.

BILL HOLDEN has a showdown with two of his barracks buddies, Neville Brand and Richard Erdman, in this stirring dramatic scene from "Stalag 17," the comedy melodrama opening tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre. Don Taylor and Otto Preminger co-star in this Billy Wilder-produced and directed film. "Stalag 17" is based on the stage hit of the same title.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD
Good Defence Requires Departure From Rulebook

Mr. Dale's hand was a little too strong for a no trump bid so he opened with one club, showing his full strength by a bid of two no trump on the second round. But there was no denying Miss Brash and she ended up in a contract of four spades, doubled.

The opening lead was the king of hearts and after a quick look at dummy, Miss Brash ducked. She had a heart to lose in any case and she wanted Mr. Dale to lead again before he knew too much about the hand. He probably had the guarded king of spades for his two no trump and couldn't lead that suit.

If he led a club, she could win, cash the ace of spades, lead a heart and finesse the jack, play the ace of hearts and get rid of a diamond.

Miss Brash's play was good. On a close hand where the defenders must defend just right, let them guess and let them guess early in the play before they have the advantage of seeing revealing signals from their partners.

Of course, Mr. Dale was thinking too. He knew Miss Brash hadn't started with a singleton heart, else she would have won the first trick. Also, she couldn't have too many hearts, else she would have feared that a second heart lead would be ruffed by Mrs. Keen. Probabilities were she had exactly two hearts.

It seemed clear that she planned to finesse the jack of hearts as soon as she got in, and discard a loser on the ace. What did she want to discard? Probably not a club as dummy had only one card in that suit. That left only diamonds.

So at trick two Mr. Dale laid down the ace of diamonds and followed with the 10. The defenders won two diamonds, a heart and a club. On any other lead at trick two Miss Brash could have made her contract in the manner outlined above.

Mr. Dale hated to lead from a holding like ace, queen, 10—just as anybody would. But good defence requires a willingness to depart from routine methods. When you decide on the suit to lead to beat the contract, lead it—regardless of your holding.

Taggart Denies Dumping Charge

OTTAWA (CP)—Deputy Agriculture Minister J. G. Taggart Monday denied a report that 3,000,000 pounds of frozen meat in storage at Vancouver is to be dumped on the market early in November.

"There is no such plan," he said.

Dr. Taggart was commenting on a protest made at Kamloops by the Beef Cattle Growers' Association against the reported dumping.

Fourth Film To be Made At Jasper

Special to The Daily News
HOLLYWOOD.—The fourth full length motion picture to be made in Jasper National Park this year will go into production October 15, when shooting starts at Jasper village on "The Human Beast," a Columbia production to be directed by Fritz Land and starring Rita Hayworth.

The picture will be filmed largely along the CNR right-of-way between Jasper village and Edson, Alberta. Miss Hayworth and more than 70 members of the movie company will make their headquarters in Jasper village, as Jasper Park Lodge is closed for the season.

Sick and tired of washday's toughest job?
... lifting hanging up and taking down heavy, dripping wet clothes

If you dry your laundry outdoors, you're working much too hard. What you want is an automatic clothes dryer—all electric—that dries the clothes indoors—dries them fluffy soft, fresh and sweet smelling. You just toss the wet clothes into the dryer and set the dial for bone-dry or ironing-damp. That's all! Think of the steps you'll save! Think of the lifting and lugging you won't have to do! Think of the little time it will take to dry all your laundry. And, best of all, perhaps—you won't have to worry about wash day weather when you have an automatic clothes dryer. Be sure to see the many fine models now on display. Come in any time.
