Two Per Cent Increase Slated On April 1 For B.C. Sales Tax

Five Per Cent Levy To Net $23,420,000

VICTORIA (CP) — An increase in the sales tax to five per cent to replace premiums in British Columbia's hospital insurance scheme was announced today by Premier Bennett.

In his budget address to the legislature this afternoon, Premier Bennett, also finance minister in the government, said the increase from three to five per cent in the sales, or social services tax, will give the government an anticipated $23,420,000 for the year ending March 31, 1955.

The tax, expected to be effective from April 1, will be the highest in Canada with the exception of some cities in Quebec where the municipal and provincial taxes combined amount to five per cent.

The premier also announced the government proposes:

- A flat $5 increase in the province's cost-of-living bonus to old-age and blind pensioners and recipients of social assistance and mother's allowances.
- Exemptions from the sales tax of children's clothing and shoes.
- Reduction of the 17½ per cent amusement tax to 15 per cent.
- Reduction from $10 to $1 of automobile registration fees.
- To seek approval of granting borrowing powers of $30,000,000 to the government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway.
- Abolition of the 10 per cent tax on liquor by the glass approved at the last session of the legislature.

The premier, who said the government does not expect undue changes in the province's economy in the 1954-55 fiscal year, budgeted for a sizeable surplus of $5,654,097.

The estimated revenue for the year was $193,398,969. To this was added a surplus fund anticipated at $16,264,475 which included an anticipated surplus for the fiscal year ending this March 31 of $2,748,163.

Expenditures for the 1954-55 fiscal year were estimated at $204,309,347.

It was estimated the province's

Public Works Jobs Delayed By Government Defeat in '53

VICTORIA (CP) — The defeat of British Columbia's first Social Credit government last spring in effect caused certain delays in construction projects planned by the government.

Premier and Finance Minister Bennett said in his budget speech today, "because of restrictions imposed by the provision of an interim supply for only the first six months of the fiscal year, the program contemplated with respect to capital works payable out of income pay-as-you-go was seriously retarded."

When the government was defeated in the spring the legislature gave it enough money—$90,000,000—to last till September when whatever government was elected would have to call another sitting of the legislature.

The premier said a net capital expenditures program estimated to cost $31,384,760 had been provided for.

"Much of the proposed work had to be deferred because of the restriction automatically imposed on normal contractual procedure by an interim supply

Move Stops Increase In Premiums

VICTORIA (CP) — British Columbia's hospital insurance service, a thorn in the side of governments since it first came into being in January, 1949, will be revised, with premiums being substituted by an increase in the sales tax.

Premier and Finance Minister Bennett announced in his budget in the legislature today the premiums will be substituted with a two per cent increase in the three per cent social services sales tax.

The change is the government's solution to rising hospital costs and saves British Columbians from a drastic increase in premiums or government subsidy.

COSTS JUMPS

The tax will bring the government an estimated $23,420,000. This will meet costs that have jumped from an estimated $3,770,000 for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1953, to $23,700,000 estimated for the coming year.

The revenue from the tax will still have to be supplemented by $8,375,000 from revenue sources. More than $5,000,000 of that will come from the government's share of the remaining three per cent of the sales tax. One per cent goes to B.C. municipalities.

At present a married person pays a premium of $39 and a single person $27. The premiums in the year now ending amounted to only $15,000,000. The government subsidized the scheme to the tune of $4,033,428.

The change will save $1,000,000 in administration costs.

The service now is faced with returning upwards of $5,000,000 in premiums paid in advance for coverage from January to June.

Premier Bennett said the new system will not hurt either business or low-income groups.

Businesses would get the increased tax back in the form of depreciation allowances on their income tax.

A married pensioner now paying $39.00 a year in premiums would pay "at most" $3.60 annually by the tax increase. An old-age pensioner would have his taxation increased to approximately $4.27 from $2.56.

A wage earner with a family of four earning $260 monthly would pay $2.95 a month under the five per cent tax or $1.11 more a month, but would save $2.07 by non-payment of premiums.

UNBELIEVABLE EXPENSES

The premier said the combined effect of more bed accommodation required to meet the needs of an increasing population, higher wages and shorter hours of work for hospital staffs, the increasing average patient stay in hospitals, more and better services, costlier facilities, equipment and drugs "is reflected by expenditures unbelievable a few years ago." The costs have increased from an average of $18,200,000 for the three years ended March 31, 1952 to $23,700,000 estimated for the coming year.

"Experience has taught us that, unless a province-wide coverage for all our people is established, hospitals will continue to incur ever-increasing operating deficits. The present plan is replete with contradictions. It is neither a welfare nor an insurance plan. It cannot be made a composite of the two without creating distortions and inequalities, or without requiring exorbitant administration costs."

Fishermen Protest Granting Of Licences to Japanese

Special to The Daily News

KIWANGA—An estimated 500 fishermen and native workers, members of the Native Brotherhood of B.C., at a meeting here endorsed a resolution protesting issuance of further fishing licences to Japanese in area 4.

Harold Sinclair said representatives from each local branch in Skeena district attended the meeting, at which three other resolutions were endorsed and will be forwarded to the federal department of fisheries.

Besides protesting issuance of more licences to Japanese fishermen, the meeting endorsed a resolution urging the fisheries department to prohibit transferring of fishing licences from other areas into fishing area 4, which takes in neighboring waters around Prince Rupert.

The department also will be asked to exercise every precaution in allowing purse seine fishing within area 4, since it is an area at about the mouth and entrance of the salmon run in-

Strike Off At Theatres

Threatened strike of movie projectionists in theatres here was averted this morning when union officials announced in Vancouver that a settlement was reached shortly before theatre-opening time.

No details were released. The projectionists in 23 Famous Players theatres in B.C.—including two here—had set today as the deadline for a strike if their demands for a 25-cent hourly wage boost had not been met.

The strike in Vancouver theatres had been set for theatre-opening time—11 a.m. Announcement of the settlement means theatres here will open as usual at 7 o'clock to-night.

Polio Threat May Alter Tour

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — Increasing anxiety for Queen Elizabeth's personal safety in the present polio epidemic may change the royal tour program further, it was learned today.

Another children's rally during the tour of western Australia later this month has been cancelled at the country town of Bunilton. Ten new cases have been reported in the state, making a total of 50 this month. Reported cases of polio in all of western Australia this year stand at 145.

B.C. DRINKERS SWITCHING FROM HARD STUFF TO BEER

VICTORIA (CP) — British Columbians appear to have lost their taste for liquor bought in government liquor stores.

The budget read in the legislature by Premier Bennett today said the government expects a decrease in liquor profits for the coming fiscal year of $1,000,000.

"This is due to a large increase in beer consumption as against a substantial reduction in hard liquor sales."

There is no given reason for the change. It is reported that Quebec noticed a similar change two years ago.

Salesmanship Needed

IN CASE there is any doubt about the federal government's position on sale of the drydock and shipyard, we offer this excerpt from Hansard by Transport Minister Chevrier.

"I made a statement on that matter last week but since then there has been a change. Perhaps I should advise the house that the change came about because of representations made to myself and to certain colleagues of the government by the hon. member for Skeena (Mr. Applewhite), and the fact that he brought a delegation from Prince Rupert in the riding of Skeena.

"The change is that the Canadian National Railways have now agreed to postpone the sale for a period of six months in the hope that a purchaser may be found and also with the expectation that those keenly interested in the fishing industry in that area may be able to find someone who would be a satisfactory purchaser either of the whole drydock or of a portion thereof."

It would appear from this that the government is putting the burden of the selling job on Prince Rupert. Since the city stands to gain most from the right kind of sale, perhaps the arrangement is reasonable enough.

As a first step, there could be the distribution of an illustrated brochure giving all necessary information about the property and the district as a whole. Any large private concern about to undertake an important selling project puts out its own promotional literature, and there is no reason why the government should not do likewise.

This could be supplemented by advertisements in trade magazines and instructions to Canadian consulates everywhere to check on all possible prospects.

Merely calling for offers is not good enough. Some real salesmanship is needed and, while Prince Rupert should not ignore its own responsibilities in this respect, Ottawa is in by far the best position to line up potential customers.

As I See It

The MP's Day

HERE is one typical working day of an M.P. You arrive at your office about nine-thirty. Your secretary brings in a big pile of mail. You lay the newspapers aside to read at leisure.

The letters are of two kinds. Some are general, that is commending you or condemning you for something you have done, or not done. Of this class, the vast majority are from people drawing old age pensions or WVA grants, but who feel these should be larger.

Another class of letters covers actual applications for immigration into Canada, or for naturalization papers, or for any one of a score or more of things. These all require personal answers, plus letters, phone calls or personal visits to the departments concerned.

My own immigration mail is very heavy.

IF YOU ARE on the banking committee you meet at eleven o'clock in the morning. You hear witnesses giving evidence as to how they think the new Housing Act will work out. You share in the cross examination of those witnesses.

At one o'clock you come back to your office for a tray lunch, brought down to you by a messenger. By half past two you are in the House of Commons for the prayers and opening questions of the day.

At eight you go back into the House and sit through till ten. While you listen to the speeches, with one ear, you catch up on your "must" reading.

ONCE a week the various party caucuses meet. These of course are secret. We also have our provincial caucuses, where we take up things of most interest to our home folks.

There is a good deal of social life connected with the job—mostly smallish parties among friends.

A few times each year the Speaker and his good lady put on a party for all the M.P.s. They had one on Mardi Gras night—wedged in however, complete with dance, between six and eight o'clock when the House met again as per usual.

WHEN I first came down here I thought that the Ontario and Quebec fellows were luckier than we were—as they can get home almost every weekend. But now I am changing my mind.

I write my own newspaper column either before I leave home in the morning, or at the noon or dinner break, or in lulls in the day's work.

If the House is too boring, I come back to the office, lie on the couch and read.

But there are so many bells around here it reminds me of my school days. We are called into session by gong and also into the main votes by gong. I think I have missed one vote so far—that was the night I left for the Christmas holiday.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

The House of Commons had the first Mardi Gras celebration in its history during the past week—and enjoyed it a good deal better than thoroughly.

For the benefit of any who may be strangers to the term, Mardi Gras (literally "fat Tuesday") is a festival, celebrated in many places to inaugurate the austere season of Lent. It is a last fling of worldly pleasure. The twin spirits of carnival and more or less reckless gaiety are its deities.

Parliament has never celebrated it before. But this year Speaker Rene Beaudoin, who has sponsored a number of "firsts" since he acceded to the high office of First Commoner, issued invitations to a Mardi Gras reception to be held in the Railway Committee Room during the dinner recess hours of the Commons.

It was a family party, with all M.P.s and their wives invited without regard for political affiliations, as well as the Press Gallery. Ingenious use of paper mache by the Parliamentary carpentry staff, colored paper streamers from the ceiling, gaily floating balloons, and two volunteer orchestras recruited from House of Commons talent, transferred the usually functional committee room into a satisfactory replica of a typical scene in New Orleans.

There is a general feeling in Parliament that these family parties, which commenced under Speaker Ross-Macdonald and are being carried on with an original touch by Speaker Beaudoin, are a good thing. They serve to relax the Parliamentary tensions and to mop up the bitternesses sometimes left by Parliamentary debate.

From start to finish it was a completely happy and successful function. The colored streamers let loose upon the crowd entangled Conservative members with Liberal, CCF members with Cabinet ministers, Social Credit members with correspondents from the Press Gallery.

Power To Borrow $30,000,000 Sought for PGE

VICTORIA (CP)—The legislature will be asked to approve borrowing power of $30,000,000 for the government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

Premier Bennett gave no details of how the money will be spent in his budget address in the legislature today.

The government has promised to extend it northward from Prince George, in the central interior of the province into the Peace River country and from Squamish 45 miles to Vancouver at the southern end.

The northern extension is estimated to cost some $50,000,000 and the southern end $10,000,000. The government is also replacing steel on the railway.

The legislation submitted will have dual powers—the minister of finance, as agent for the railway, may sell bonds, fully guaranteed by the province; or the province itself may issue and sell the bonds and make advances to the railway.

New Unit Boosts Power Capacity For Quesnel Area

QUESNEL — Capacity of the B.C. Power Commission's diesel-electric generating station here will be increased from 3,200 kw to 4,200 kw this year with installation of a new 1,000 kilowatt unit, district manager J. D. Dobie has announced.

Quesnel has been one of the towns of B.C.'s central interior which has shown remarkable post-war growth which is showing no signs of abatement.

When the Power Commission commenced operation here August 1, 1947, there were 289 customers, and it had been estimated that there were only about 60 potential consumers which could be added.

Today, more than 1,500 customers are served. In 1947, peak demand was 210 kilowatts; in January of this year, it reached a new high of 2,580 kw.

Reflecting the improved living standard in the area, average residential consumption has increased from 45 kw per month in 1947, to 140 kw in 1953. Average commercial consumption has increased from 25 kw to 230 kw per month.

In 1947, the average residential consumer paid 7.7 cents per kw-hr; in 1953, it was 3.8 cents per kw-hr—a decrease of about 50 per cent in six years.

It is the same story in other classifications; average commercial cost dropped 62 per cent from 8.2 cents to 3.1 cents per kw-hr; power service decreased 1.6 per cent from 3.3 cents to 1.6 cents per kw-hr on the average; and the overall average for all classifications decreased 60 per cent from 6.1 to 2.4 cents per kw-hr.

B.C. Not Getting Equitable Return From Federal Government—Bennett

VICTORIA (CP)—The British Columbia government says it is not getting an "equitable" return from the federal government for what the senior government takes out.

In his budget address to the legislature, Premier and Finance Minister Bennett said the province expects to earn a total of $45,374,000 under the dominion-provincial taxation agreement in the fiscal year ending March 31, 1955—an increase of $1,830,000 over the year ending.

It also expects $1,000,000 from one-half of the federal income tax on power distribution corporations—an increase of $300,000.

But the premier said it is estimated the federal government makes collections in direct and indirect taxes, non-tax revenues and special receipts and credits that total $474,700,000.

In direct taxation alone, including personal income tax, non-residents tax, corporation income tax, succession duties and income tax on undistributed profits, the federal government gathered $259,700,000.

Premier Bennett, former Finance Minister Einar Gunderson and Attorney-General Robert Bonner, went to Ottawa Dec. 14 with a brief on federal-provincial joint investment of highways, railways and forest protection in B.C.

"The development of the province's resources is manifestly of major importance to the economy of the nation," the Premier said.

"No other economic area in Canada has such a variety, as well as such potentials in undeveloped natural resources."

It was the hope of the government to enter into a partnership with the federal government to "settle and develop rapidly." The partnership "provide economic benefits to Canadians."

He will also visit South Korea, and that aggression will be tolerated.

Defence Organization Set Up in Near Future

of various groups take over Prince Rupert in event of disaster. War-time is scheduled for next year, Bob McKay, co-ordinator for support target area.

chief administrative, terrace, Kiti-terra, returned from a two-week Federal Civil Defence course at Arnprior, Ontario, east of Ottawa.

During the war, he said, the British proved that people who had trained themselves were able to help each other in the emergencies created by heavy bombing raids and still keep the wheels of industry turning.

MUST BE READY
If disaster or war struck this city, Mr. McKay asserted, there has to be some group ready to take over the reins to prevent the people from running wild. Trouble caused by panic can be averted by knowing what to do, where to seek information and where help can be obtained.

Various groups should be organized so that in time of emergency people can look after themselves and help control the city and keep it operating. There is plenty of room for everyone of every type and age to serve in civil defence, he said. There is, besides, the obvious job carried out by the fire department, police, hospitals and doctors, a need for feeding and clothing centres, auxiliary police, air raid wardens, first aid and ambulance crews and places where large amounts of wounded or injured persons can be taken when normal city hospital facilities are filled to capacity.

COST SHARED
In ordinary disasters, cost of helping out stricken areas is shared equally by the federal, provincial and municipal governments, Mr. McKay said. In the event of war the federal government pays all the costs. For civil defence training anyone interested in taking the special courses, or any auxiliary which can attend in a body are entitled to a free training at the Civil Defence college.

First move in Prince Rupert will be education of the public as to the need for civil defence training, the city co-ordinator said. There will be outdoor demonstrations of fire-fighting this summer, he said, adding that a little self-training can save a lot of lives.

"If people don't take any interest and learn to help themselves there's nothing we can do."

It was decided to give flag folders, for instruction in the history and make-up of the Union Jack, to Prince Rupert Brownies, Cubs and Guides. The meeting also approved a $10 grocery gift to a needy family.

Mrs. S. Clarke was named chapter delegate, to the Co-ordinating Council and Mrs. W. Lineham was appointed to represent the chapter at the forthcoming Cancer Society dinner. The meeting also planned to send a delegate to the IODE Provincial Council meeting scheduled for Vancouver next month.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Carr presented retiring regent Mrs. R. S. Scherk with a gift on behalf of the members and the special prize was awarded to Mrs. G. Gillis.

"Everybody's Business" Need For More Parents In School Work Stressed

The following article is written by Mrs. Helen M. Denning, president of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teacher council, in an effort to point out the importance of Education Week which started yesterday and continues until Sunday. Other articles by representatives of the churches, city council and the schools will be run later this week.

By Mrs. HELEN DENNING

"Education is Everybody's Business" once again is our slogan for Education Week. The purpose of this week is to focus attention upon the achievements and problems of education.

The achievements are obvious. Every young man and woman who leaves our schools to become a useful Canadian citizen bears testimony to the value of our educational system.

It is a fact, however, that problems still persist in our educational system which can only be overcome through the interest and support of Canadians in all walks of life, particularly those of us who are parents.

One of the greatest of these problems at the present time is the teacher shortage. We know that in Canada, today, there is a great scarcity of teachers. This is a situation which, in the interest of future Canadian citizens, merits the greatest concern from us all, and serious thought as to possible solutions.

In an effort to help alleviate the present teacher shortage, Prince Rupert's Parent-Teacher Associations in a joint project, last year set up two bursaries to be awarded annually to two graduating high school students interested in taking up teaching as a career, who might otherwise be deterred from such a career by lack of funds.

Due to the hard work and untiring efforts of Parent-Teacher members throughout the city, sufficient funds were raised by the end of June last year to help send two highly deserving young ladies to Normal School. British Columbia will therefore, through the efforts of Prince Rupert Parent-Teacher members, gain two young teachers of the highest calibre.

The bursary project has been one way the Parent-Teacher members felt that they could help, but surely there are others. We have often heard it said that "two heads are better than one," or "there is strength in numbers." Perhaps you have a suggestion?

Why not add your ideas and thoughts to ours, those of you who have not joined one of our parent-teacher groups? Perhaps you will have something to contribute to what has already been done, which will result in the eventual solution of the teacher shortage, or one of the other problems facing present day educators.

The doors of your P-TA's are open to all who are interested in the youth of Canada. Come and make your voice heard and your influence felt in the interests of the future of our children.

Moscow Team Wins World Puck Title

STOCKHOLM (CP) — An inspired Russian team taught Canada a lesson in stickhandling, skating and passing Sunday to beat Toronto East York 7-2 for the world hockey title.

The Canadians, unbeaten and untied in six previous starts in the eight-team round-robin tournament were heavily favored over Moscow Dynamos, Russia's first entry in international competition, who had looked bad at times in compiling a record of five victories and one tie before the final game.

But the faster, better-organized Dynamos took command from the opening whistle to hand Canada her worst defeat since the tournament began in 1924. It was the fourth time Canada was beaten for the title in 20 tries.

The Canadians appeared nervous at the outset and East York manager Don Preston later said they had been told to go easy on their checking rather than risk penalties for infractions of the unfamiliar European rules.

The result was that the Dynamos, virtually unopposed in their forays on goalie Don Lockhart, ran up a 4-0 lead in the first period, made it 7-1 in the second and coasted home under the protection of their long lead. Despite their caution, the Canadians picked up six of the game's 10 penalties, two of them resulting in Russian goals.

Preston repeated earlier charges that the Russians were "too fast" and "too smart."

Right winger Bill Shill got a goal in the third period, his shot caroming in off goalie Nikolai Putschkov's skate.

J. F. (Bunny) Ahearne, vice-president of the International Ice Hockey Federation, presented the championship cup to Vsevolod Bobrov, the Dynamo captain, after the game.

Bobrov, a Red Army major, also received an award from the Swedish federation as the outstanding forward in the series.

ARE, Sweden (CP)—Christian Fravda of Austria won the spectacular men's downhill race at the world ski championships on Sunday in the brilliant time of 1:59.6.

ALBERNI, B.C. (CP)—The B. C. senior men's basketball championship final turned into a brand new series Saturday night as Vancouver Elfers came back to defeat Alberni Athletics 59-53. The win tied up the best of seven series at 1-1. Athletics won the opener Friday night 72-53.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Red-coated Mounties were on hand here Sunday night to greet the famed New Zealand All-Blacks rugby team when they arrived by plane for a three-game stand against British Columbia teams.

Nearing the end of a six-months 36-game tour, All-Blacks play Victoria All-Stars Tuesday, then return for games here Thursday against University of British Columbia and Mainland All-Stars next Saturday.

CHATHAM, Eng. (CP)—Freddie French and Jack Brington each swung a mighty punch in an amateur boxing match—and knocked each other cold.

The referee calmly counted both of them out. Then he lifted Brington's hand as the winner. He had been leading on points.

WALLS-BESHORE FIGHT OFF AS CANADIAN HURTS HAND

EDMONTON (CP)—Earl Walls of Toronto, Canadian heavy-weight boxing champion, has injured his left hand and won't fight Freddie Beshore of Los Angeles, tonight at the Edmonton Gardens.

Edmonton promoter Jack Berry said Sunday night Walls' left hand, which started to bother him Friday, was treated but failed to respond.

The Edmonton boxing commission ordered Walls not to fight, said Berry.

The commission ruled that Walls must fight Beshore here before making any other fights, said Berry. "They were emphatic about that. Walls must honor his contract here before doing anything else."

Royals Lace Canucks 6-3; Flyers Knock Off Stamps

Three upsets highlighted three Western Hockey League games Saturday night as the cellar-dwellers crawled out of their holes to knock off the loop's power.

Sixth-place New Westminster came up with the biggest surprise by hanging a 6-3 lacing on Vancouver Canucks, co-leaders with Calgary Stampede.

Stampede had the misfortune to turn into Edmonton Flyers when Glen Hall was having one of his better nights between the pipes and dropped a 4-2 decision while having the best of the play.

Seattle's last-place Bombers trimmed fifth-place Victoria 4-2. There were no games Sunday.

Peppery Blinky Boyce popped in two goals and Len Hamilton, Ollie Dorohoy, Jack Hamilton and playing-coach Max McNab were the other New Westminster marksmen.

Larry Popein, Mid Houghton and Billy Dea tallied for the losers.

Stampede managed to beat the torrid Hall only once when Bill Shvets turned the trick at the 10:27 mark.

Steve Hrymnak and Jim Uniack shot Flyers into a 2-1 lead with second-period markers and Hugh Coffin and Jim Anderson added another pair late in the third before Steve Witiuk replied for Calgary in the last minute of play.

Rudy Fillon and Joe Bell took care of the scoring for Seattle, rammng in two goals apiece. Alec Kuzma and Sam Bettio were the only Cougars to get the puck past Marcel Pelletier.

V's, Kimberley Top B.C. Loops

In the Okanagan Senior League, Kelowna Packers downed Vernon Canadians 5-2 Saturday night.

Packers host Kamloops Elks Monday in the first of a best-of-three semi-final.

The Elks were clipped 7-5 by first place Penticton V's in Kamloops Saturday.

Vernon plays Penticton Tuesday night to kick-off the other semi-final series.

In the Western International Hockey League, Trail tackled league leaders Kimberley Dynamos at home Saturday and came out licking their wounds after a 4-3 loss. Trail ended the season in the WIHL basement.

Nelson Maple Leafs earned a split at Spokane, clinching second place in the WIHL with a 5-1 win Saturday. They absorbed a 3-1 defeat from the third place Flyers Sunday night.

Pulp Millers Win Right To Meet Omegas in Finals

CCC 300 Club set up a first quarter lead at the Civic Centre Saturday night and managed to hang on to it to defeat Gordon and Anderson 56-49 and win the right to meet Manson's Omegas in the Sen. B basketball finals.

In the Inter A fixture Fraser and Payne staged a big second quarter to down Watts and Nickerson 47-40 and even the semi-finals at one game a piece.

General Motors got the jump on Nelson Brothers in the opening game to down the fisheries squad 41-29 and even the Inter B semi finals at one win each.

Freddy Christensen with 13 points, closely followed by Sid Scherk with 16, led the CCC to victory. The pulp millers ended the first quarter 11-7, lost the second 16-15, took the third 15-14 and split the final stamens 12-12.

The game, refereed by Ray Spring and Don Hartwig was a clean contest and played at a fairly fast clip. Rupe Holkestad with 13 points paced the losers.

Doug Sankey with 11 points and Gary Morrison with 10 paced the Fraser and Payne squad in their win over Watts and Nickerson. Down 11-10 in the first quarter the drygoods crew came back strongly in the second frame to take the quarter 15-8. Watts and Nickerson took the third quarter 13-11 and the two squads split the final quarter 11-11. Maddy Sedgewick with 12 points was top scorer for Watts and Nickerson.

Bruins' Gain Threatens Rangers

By The Canadian Press
Boston Bruins picked up three points over the weekend tying Montreal Canadiens 3-3 Saturday and trouncing Chicago Black Hawks 6-0 last night. Boston's gain may wreck New York Rangers' chances for a playoff berth. New York went down 4-0

"He did it—so can you!"

"Frankly, I joined the RCAF for a change and adventure—but that soon became secondary to the value of the training and experience. Actually, I started in Ground Crew—in the meteorological branch. But I wanted to fly, and at the first opportunity I re-mustered to Air Crew, and was selected for pilot training. During my pilots course, I got plenty of good, solid flying instruction—literally from the ground up—and then I won my "Wings."

Hospital Blood Bank Lauded As One Benefit of Red Cross

The Red Cross fund campaign committee in an appeal for support of their one-night drive scheduled for March 19, today pointed to the hospital blood bank as a direct return on the public's investment.

Dave Radford, local Red Cross president, said that while no Red Cross blood donor clinics have been held in Prince Rupert for the past two years, the Prince Rupert General Hospital along with Terrace, Hazelton and Smithers hospitals, still receive whole blood plasma from the Red Cross blood bank, for emergency use.

Hospital authorities reported that, during 1953, a total of 453 pints of whole blood, plus 37 pints of dry plasma were received here from the Red Cross. Some of that was shipped from here to Terrace, Hazelton and Smithers, which have no facilities for storing their own blood supply.

The Prince Rupert hospital also collects blood from local donors when the Red Cross bank here runs low, but the majority of the blood supply comes from the Red Cross in Vancouver.

Mr. Radford stressed that "your contributions to the local Red Cross fund drive March 19, will help to keep the vital blood supply coming in."

Under-Ruffing Here Confuses Opponent

"I've been robbed," said Mr. Muzzy indignantly after four hearts was made against him on this hand. Mr. Muzzy had thought of doubling but had decided against it at the last moment, when he considered that it would be Mr. Masters who would play the hand. (He's getting smarter every day.)

Mr. Abel led the four of diamonds, dummy played small and Mr. Muzzy won with the queen. He cashed the ace of diamonds and when that held, his former confidence returned. Now he wished he had doubled. With his fine heart holding, surely he would be able to win two more tricks.

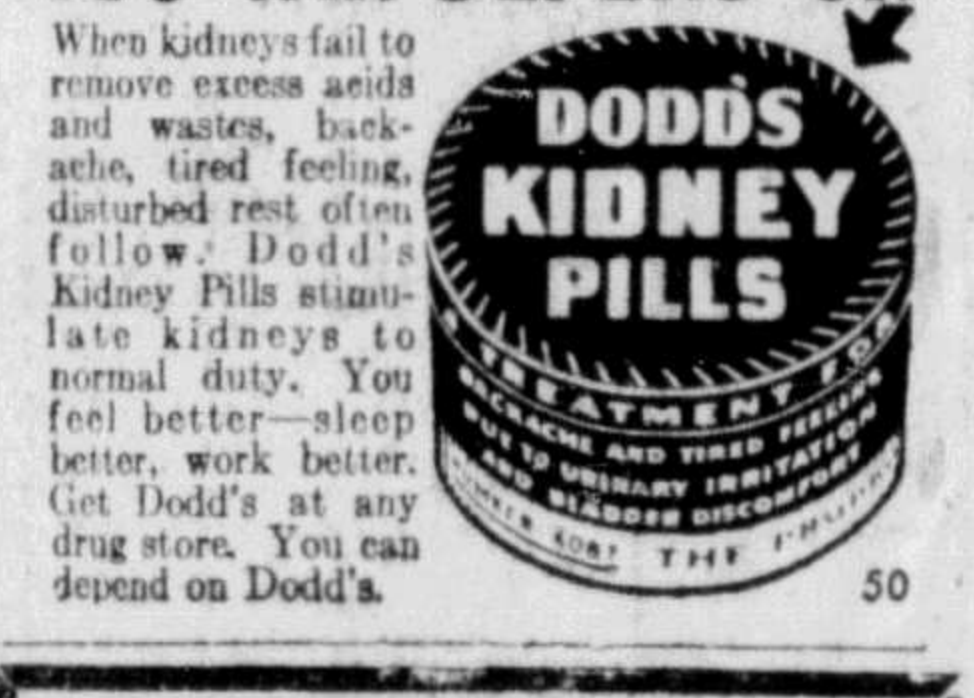

At trick three he led another diamond and Mr. Masters won with the jack and discarded a small club from the board. Now a small heart was led to dummy's king and Mr. Abel showed out, dropping the nine of clubs. LOOKS BLEAK.

Things looked pretty bleak at this point, but Mr. Masters didn't give up. After a little thought he led to his ace of spades, returned the queen and overtook it with dummy's king. Two more spades followed and Mr. Muzzy had to follow suit. Mr. Masters discarded the deuce and ace of clubs.

The ace of clubs was now cashed, getting both Mr. Muzzy and the closed hand down to nothing but trumps. When a small club was led next from the board, Mr. Muzzy ruffed with the seven of hearts.

KEY PLAY

Here Mr. Masters made the key play. He did not make the mistake of over-ruffing with the jack. Instead, he under-ruffed, playing the four of hearts.

This confused Mr. Muzzy and he had to inspect the trick to make sure that it was, in fact, his lead. It was—and that meant it was also the end of his trick-taking on this hand. He returned the eight of hearts which was permitted to run to dummy's ten. Mr. Masters then had the ace-jack over Mr. Muzzy's queen-nine and the contract was assured.

Prince Albert Boy Injured On Ski Lift

PRINCE ALBERT (CP)—Nine-year-old Douglas Morrison suffered arm injuries Sunday when his arm was trapped around a pulley at the top of a ski-lift here.

The boy was attending the central Canadian zone ski meet. He slipped the tow-rope near ground level at the bottom of the ski-lift and was carried about 100 yards to the top of the lift. He was about 20 feet above the ground and afraid to let go. His arm followed the rope around the pulley and was trapped.

The boy screamed for five minutes before help could reach him. Rescuers cut the rope, releasing the youngster.

He was taken to hospital and released after treatment.

Mau Mau Leader Gives Self Up

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters)—A Mau Mau "general"—one of 23 urged by a captured leader of the terrorist cult to give themselves up—has surrendered. It was announced Saturday.

"Gen. Tanganyika," commander of a terrorist battalion in the Mount Kenya region and one of the most ruthless outlaws there, surrendered to Kikuyu home guard in the South Nyeri reserve.

This was the first concrete result of the captured "General China's" negotiations with his former comrades.

McCarthy Demands Equal Time On Air To Answer Stevenson

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Senator McCarthy wants equal free time on national radio and television networks to answer charges by Adlai E. Stevenson that the Wisconsin Republican senator's investigations threaten the United States with a "malignant and fatal totalitarianism."

Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic national chairman, told reporters Sunday that the 1953 Democratic presidential candidate's Saturday night speech was carried free on CBS television and NBC radio.

McCarthy, who in the past has demanded and received equal time to answer attacks by Democrats, said in an interview that he will ask for free facilities to reply to Stevenson.

In New York the National Broadcasting Co. and the Columbia Broadcasting System said they have received no such request from McCarthy yet.

Stevenson criticized President Eisenhower in his speech for failing to put the brakes on McCarthy. But two Democratic senators said later that economic issues should outweigh McCarthy's activities in the Democrats' 1954 campaign strategy.

Although he said he agreed generally with that conclusion, Senator Warren Magnuson (Dem.-Wash.) said he is not too sure of either the timing nor the importance that Stevenson gave to McCarthy and his Communist-in-government charges.

Stevenson's charges that McCarthy's investigation threatened a "malignant and fatal totalitarianism" and that out of 2,000,000 federal employees "only one alleged active Communist has been found" brought reply from McCarthy. "It was a very clever talk designed to crowd the news," McCarthy said in interview.

What's news at Inco*?

Pumping ore through a 7-mile pipe

If you were asked to transport more than 12,000 tons of ore 7 miles every day, you would think of using wheelbarrows. You might think of trucks, or you might use trains, as we did for many years, but that would require 400 railway cars per day.

Inco engineers came up with a plan to separate the ore at the mine-head into two products—valuable material (concentrate) and waste rock (tailings). The concentrate is pumped 7 miles through wood stave pipes to the Copper Cliff smelter. The waste material is pumped 4 miles to waste beds.

Why pump the waste so far? Because we must not fill up valuable lakes and streams.

This new transportation has helped make it possible to mine low grade ore. It has saved trouble too. The materials in ore cars would freeze solid in the sub-zero temperatures of this district. Freezing has not occurred on these B.C. fir lines since they were first put in operation.
