Surprise Visits Paid "Home"

Preparing Oldsters' Meals Poser to Any Housewife

By ERIC SANDERSON
The food situation at the Pioneers' Home is nowhere near as black as one of the inmates painted it in a letter to this paper last Saturday. I found this out when, in company with Aldermen George Casey and Kay Smith, and city clerk Bill Long, I paid a surprise visit to the home and saw the men eating their noonday meal. My trip was followed by another surprise visit for supper by Mayor Harold Whalen, who said that in his estimation the food is satisfactory. He made his observation after sitting down to a meal consisting of clam chowder with crackers; home made veal loaf; sliced tomatoes; bread and butter, caramel pudding with wafer, and tea or milk. Said the mayor: "Most of the men seemed to be as contented as possible... and at the end of the meal there was still food left on the tables, had anyone wished for more." Main problem in the Home appears to be the contention of one of the men that there is not enough variety and that he gets bologna five nights a week. Mr. and Mrs. Jens Baker, who run the Home for the city, have a trying situation, attempting to keep 15 men—all over 70 years of age—happy. Many have no teeth, with the result that all meat must be tender. When I went to the Home at noon last Sunday, the men sat down to their usual big meal. It consisted of roast pork, mashed potatoes, green peas, and apricots for dessert. Five of the men ate everything and the majority of the others ate good portions although there was a lot of waste on some plates. In a discussion with Mrs. Baker, it was learned that the men have cereal and eggs for breakfast and on Sundays, they are given bacon with their eggs. They always have their big meal at noon. At 5 p.m., the supper consists of cold, sliced meats, such as veal loaf, chicken loaf, bologna, cold ham, etc. It appears that the inmate who complained that the men receive bologna five nights a week, considers all prepared meat loaf, bologna. The chore of trying to keep elderly men contented is not an easy one, Mrs. Baker pointed out. They have so much time to just sit around and talk. They get very little exercise and as a result, their appetites are not heavy. Mrs. Baker, although not a cook by profession, says she tries to prepare tasty meals, but because of the advanced years of the men, they are not as easy to please as younger persons. The one man who complained about the food, stating that he spoke for all the inmates, said there was no fault to find in anything else. The men each have neat beds and get clean linen once a week. Mrs. Baker handles their laundry for them and there is a large living room with a radio and books to read. They are free to leave the Home to visit but regulations state they are to be 'in' by 10 p.m. each night. However, said Mrs. Baker, if one of them wishes to stay with friends overnight, he may do so, providing he notifies her. The city pays for operation of the Pioneers' Home and has no set budget for groceries. The Bakers have been in charge of the Home for more than a year.

Additional Offence Admitted by Pair

Sentencing this morning of two teen-age boys to two years imprisonment each in the B.C. Penitentiary wound up a month-long series of break-ins and thefts in Prince Rupert. The boys, Donald Findlay, 18, and Olav Husvik, 17½, were sentenced by Magistrate W. D. Vance in police court this morning, after they pleaded guilty to a further charge of breaking into the Civic Centre October 5 and taking a total of $150. In earlier court sessions the boys had admitted seven joint break-ins and Findlay had pleaded guilty to two solo jobs. In the ten break-ins more than $600 had been stolen. Their biggest loot came from Booth Memorial High school where two sums of money totalling $385 were stolen. Two charges were laid in this instance. Other places broken into where money was stolen or property damaged were Shell Oil Company office, Borden Street school, North Star Bottling Works, Superior Auto Service, Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-op Store at Cow Bay, Quality Store, Island City Builders. Husvik was transferred from juvenile court to regular police court earlier in the week. Magistrate Vance handed out the two-year penitentiary terms after Crown Prosecutor T. W. Brown, QC, suggested that although the boys deserve punishment, they also needed re-orientation, and hoped that they would not be sent to Oakalla prison farm, sometimes called a "school for crime." Magistrate Vance, in sentencing the boys to two years on each charge, to run concurrently, said that they would not only learn a lesson but also a trade while serving their terms. He said that the penitentiary terms, might also prove a deterrent to others who might be contemplating similar indictable offences. Findlay's terms totalled 20 years, while Husvik's came to 18. Parents of both youths were in court this morning but failed to take advantage of an opportunity to speak on the boys' behalf when asked if they wished to do so by the magistrate.

Busmen Call Wildcat Strike In Montreal

MONTREAL (AP)—Montreal's transportation system stalled today as a wildcat strike of tram and bus workers spread through the city. The sudden flare-up resulted from a stormy meeting late Friday night as tram conductors, motormen and bus drivers overruled union chiefs and pulled their vehicles off the streets in support of demands for better pay and improved working conditions. Union leaders hurriedly went back into conference with the Montreal Transportation Commission. They were to report to the men tonight at a mass meeting. Early today few buses and streetcars left the barns, but company dispatchers said most were forced back. "Services are at a standstill," a company spokesman said. Police said they had no reports of violence on the picket-lines. The negotiating committee representing 5,000 members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other Transport Workers (CCL) met with MTC officials in a night-long session. The flare-up started when Eugene Corbell, union business agent, told some 800 transport employees post-arbitration negotiations had broken down. Union officials urged the men to stay at work, but were shouted down. Attempts to end the meeting failed. Workers originally demanded a 10 per cent wage increase and reduction in the work-week from 48-50 to 40 hours.

Police To Check City Drivers On Traffic Light Violations

Following frequent infractions of the Prince Rupert city street traffic and parking by-law and the fining of a city motorist $3 and costs for turning right at a red light without stopping, RCMP have issued a warning that any red traffic light means but one thing... a complete stop, Chief Police Sgt. Norman said today. The city traffic by-law calls for a motorist to come to a complete halt at any red traffic light whether it be a steady red or a flashing red. However, the bylaw adds "that vehicles when near the right hand curb and facing the red light, may after coming to a complete stop, make what is commonly known as a right-hand turn." But the by-law concludes "that in doing so the motorist shall yield the right of way to pedestrians and vehicles lawfully in the intersection." Since police have noticed that Prince Rupert drivers are not stopping completely when faced with a flashing red light and yet stop and look confused when faced with a flashing amber light, they point out that an amendment to the city traffic by-law provides that a full stop must be made when approaching an intersection controlled by a flashing red light. But a flashing amber light means that the motorist may proceed with caution through the intersection without stopping providing that the intersection is clear of pedestrian and vehicular traffic. The city RCMP detachment will also make a concerted effort to see that motorists observe the right of pedestrians when they are in the travelled

Mackenzie King May Have Questioned Reliability of Harry Dexter White

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's link with the Harry Dexter White case in the United States has taken a new twist with speculation that the late Prime Minister Mackenzie King was the "highly-placed" Canadian who questioned White's reliability. This speculation is U.S. newspapers appeared as it was made known that the Canadian ambassador in Washington expressed to the United States his country's surprise that confidential files mentioning the "highly-placed" Canadian were made public during the controversy over White, accused of being a Communist spy. Meanwhile, the U.S. delivered another note to Canada seeking co-operation in interviewing Igor Gouzenko, cipher clerk at the Russian embassy here who exposed a wartime Red espionage ring in 1946. This note caused External Affairs Minister Pearson to cancel a week-end visit to New York, bringing him back to the capital from Niagara Falls, Ont. Mr. King's name was brought into the case Friday by Isaac Don Levine in an article written for the Scripps-Howard newspapers. He wrote: "Was President Truman informed by Canada's Prime Minister Mackenzie King almost six weeks before J. Edgar Hoover's first letter to the White House of the crucial fact that a Soviet spy ring with which Harry Dexter White was identified was operating in the inner councils of the United States government?" "This question may well provide the next sensational development in the White controversy." The story also said: "It is for Mr. Hoover to disclose whether his Canadian source was Mackenzie King. All the signs point to that fact."

Harbor Busy With Ships Seeking Grain

The port of Prince Rupert has been humming during the last week as three ships arrived for grain and another is expected at Watson Island with sulphur tomorrow. The Peruvian freighter Hualalaga arrived in port Wednesday, took on 2,940 tons of wheat and pulled away from the grain elevator dock yesterday afternoon bound for South America. The Gloriana, of Monrovia registry, docked here Tuesday, loaded up with 9,250 tons of wheat ready to sail for Japan. However, she was still in port this morning held up by condenser trouble. Still out in the harbor waiting for the Gloriana to leave is a Greek ship, the Andreas, which hove to yesterday morning. She was scheduled to dock later this afternoon if the Gloriana could get under way. Expected at the grain elevator next Friday is the Mapo from Callao. From Galveston, Texas, the De Mazzella, is expected to dock at Watson Island at 1 p.m. tomorrow with 2,000 tons of sulphur.

Future of Area Bright

WITHIN the first half of 1954 all of us who live in this part of the country will have more substantial evidence of the extraordinary manner in which it is developing.

A short distance to the southeast of us the great Alcan project will go into operation. The city of Kitimat will then have a settled population and soon no doubt there will be steady commuting along the arms of the triangle formed by Prince Rupert, Terrace and our new neighbor.

North of us at about the same time work will be started on another giant enterprise. This will be the power, smelter and mining development planned on the upper Yukon by Ventures Ltd.

Although the power will be created by waters in the distant Atlin area, the metallurgical centre for processing ores is expected to be at a point which, if not exactly next door to us, will be in the environs of the northwest coastal community.

With these two brand new communities pushing up on either side, the position of Prince Rupert as the main northern port is greatly enhanced.

Those who fear that Prince Rupert will dwindle in importance because of neighboring competition should relax. It is becoming more and more a city of multiple interests, and in that fact lies strength and growth.

More Canadians ought to see more of Canada. Now and then, circumstances give one a trip and the change invariably benefits in a variety of ways.

As I See It

The MP's Mailbag

THERE is not a great deal of difference between the mail which a new MP receives and that which comes to the desk of an old-time columnist.

The only difference is that a columnist can afford never to answer letters, unless they ask direct questions, or call for some concrete reply. But the MP is supposed at least to acknowledge his letters.

Up till now I rate one all to myself, Miss Lilla Bell, and she is a very good one too. She was here in the days of Agnes MacPhail, MP—for whom she worked for years.

They USED to have a saying in the U.S. army that there were three ways of doing things—the right way, the wrong way, and the army way.

You could say that about Ottawa too. They have their own way of doing things in this strange building, called the parliament of Canada.

For instance the numbering of the rooms is really something. They do not follow an exact and logical pattern. One witty MP told me that when they numbered them in the first place they took six men, gave each one a bottle of whisky and a paint pot and told them to go ahead and number the building.

However, there are compensations. Somebody called the British House of Commons the finest gentlemen's club in the world. That I think is still true—and this place would run it a close second.

For instance, you can get a full course, breakfast, in the beautiful dining room for 35 cents—that is, half grapefruit, bacon and egg, toast, marmalade and coffee.

You can get a hair cut for the same price—a Turkish bath if you feel like it, all right on the premises.

BUT DON'T let anybody run away with the idea that these MPs do not work.

Actually, the sincere ones work "like dogs" if my colleagues will forgive the expression. Most of the MPs turn up in the morning to answer mail, and sit in the House or in the lobbies for both afternoon and evening sessions.

SO FAR none of the new B.C. members has spoken, though Harold Winch has asked two questions.

But Dr. Jack Macdonald has made a strong plea for a better deal for WVA men and Ted Applewhite has made a strong argument for a flying air and sea rescue coastguard.

CPA Plans Comet Fleet For Pacific

VANCOUVER—Canadian Pacific Airlines has ordered a fleet of the latest type Comet-2 jet airliners, says President G. W. McConachie.

They will be delivered next fall for use on inter-continental routes from Vancouver to the South Pacific and South America. The cost is placed at $4,500,000.

Mr. McConachie said three of the 500-mile-an-hour transports have been ordered from De Havilland, England, for delivery next September, October and November. CPA has an option on purchase of a fourth for delivery early in 1953.

The Comet-2, designed for long-range flight, will be able to fly direct Honolulu-Vancouver in six hours, to Vancouver-Mexico City in 4 1/2 hours and from there to Lima, Peru, in six hours. Total flying time Vancouver to Australia will be under 20 hours.

The Comet, powered by four Rolls-Royce Avon axial-flow jet engines, will carry 44 first-class passengers, cruising at 500 miles an hour at altitudes up to 40,000 feet.

It has a full load range of 2,500 miles.

Adoption of Comets by CPA will mean that the world's first commercial jet base outside the United Kingdom will be in Canada. The big maintenance base here now is being made ready for delivery of the first jets.

The pressure at 20,000 foot ocean depth is equal to about 4 1/2 tons to the square inch.

By G. E. MORTIMORE

Official America often speaks with two or three voices. But the one voice that Canadians (I believe) like to hear is that of President Eisenhower speaking as he did last Saturday before our own House of Commons.

With one long puff of good sense, the leader of the greatest nation on earth blew away half the cobwebs of misunderstanding spun by his insect courtymen during the post-war years.

Here was a Liberal statesman humbly addressing the parliament on behalf of mutual help, "enlightened self-interest" free trade, strength and peace.

Other people certainly helped the president write the speech. Some of it was oratory. But it was mostly a plain statement of faith—a line on the map of the world representing the course that President Eisenhower would like his nation to follow.

The president wants to see trade barriers let down—but not so fast that thousands of men are thrown out of work at once. He wants the U.S.A. to join Canada in completing the St. Lawrence seaway—and he thinks the U.S.A. will do so.

He hopes Canada and the U.S.A. will make themselves strong against attack, but never cease trying for agreement with hostile Russia.

"Our country claims no monopoly of wisdom," he said, and "there are no insoluble problems; differences can be resolved."

Those ideas have often been expressed, though seldom with such neatness and such an air of sincerity. What really counts is that the president of the United States expressed them.

The presidential talk eases the irritation Canadians have felt at the behaviour of some Americans; the snuffing investigators, the cranks who want to label Robin Hood Communist propaganda and question the clergy as possible spies; the America-first bigots, the contemptible rabble-rousers and destroyers of liberty; and the special pleaders who have tried to sacrifice the good of their own country and the world in order to line their pockets.

We can only hope that none of these nasty folk can muster strength in Congress to turn aside the president's aims.

Queen and Duke Leaving U.K. Monday For Six Months' Trip "Down Under"

By VALERY GIBSON LONDON (AP)—The Queen will leave the fogs of Britain Monday night for sunny southern islands and a trip around the world.

The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh will be away six months on a trip designed to give thousands of her subjects a glimpse of their 27-year-old monarch. It will be the first time a British sovereign has made an around-the-world tour.

Inevitably parts of the trip will take on all the pageantry of Royal occasions. There will be receptions, investitures, royal addresses, civic welcomes, state banquets. But the Royal couple, who love to travel, will also have time for sightseeing.

PAUSE AT GANDER They leave London Monday night in the strato-cruiser Canopus, piloted by Capt. Anthony Lorraine. They will fly through the night via Gander, Nfld., to Bermuda, where they are due at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

At Kingston the Royal couple will board the 15,902-ton passenger liner Gothic, converted for royal use.

After Jamaica comes a 17-day sail via the Panama canal to the Island of Fiji.

Their next call will be at the Tonga Islands. Here they will be greeted by Queen Salote, the only other reigning queen in the Empire.

From Tonga they will sail to Auckland, northernmost city of New Zealand, where they will spend Christmas. On Christmas Day the Queen will make the sovereign's traditional broadcast.

The couple will spend a month in New Zealand, touring North and South islands by road, rail and air.

Credit Women's Breakfast Club Installs New Officers

Members of the Prince Rupert Credit Women's Breakfast Club held their annual installation dinner last night in the Ladies' Lounge of the Canadian Legion.

The tables were beautifully decorated with candelabra holding tall candles, fall flowers and fruit and gay favors. Mrs. Mary Turner was convener.

After the invocation by Chaplain Myrtle Franklin, a corsage was presented by Past President Mrs. Jocelyn Bolton to the new President, Mrs. Catherine Laurie, and a birthday corsage was presented to Mrs. Bolton by Mrs. Mary Turner, vice-president. Another birthday corsage was sent to Mrs. Alice Van Ireland who was unable to be present. The monthly raffle donated by Miss Marea Windle was won by Mrs. Betty Saville and a surprise door prize was won by Mrs. Evelyn Smith.

The installation ceremony was conducted by Past President Mrs. Jocelyn Bolton. After thanking the members for their co-operation during her term of office as first president of the club, she charged each of the incoming officers in turn with their new duties as the retiring officers handed on their portfolios to the new executive.

President Mrs. Catherine Laurie in her acceptance address stressed again the fact that the club's aim is to further the business education of its members. She pledged that the new executive would do all in their power to further these aims and asked for the support of the members.

At the close of the ceremony, Mrs. Yvonne Bowes presented Mrs. Bolton, on behalf of the members, with a jewel box mounted with the club crest. A vote of thanks was extended to all retiring officers.

At the business meeting, educational chairman Mildred Olson announced the next study meeting would be held at the home of Mrs. Bolton Wednesday, Nov. 25, with a second study meeting the following Wednesday and a review of the course in January.

Plans were discussed for establishing a bursary to give financial assistance to some high school student wishing to take a business course and Mrs. Bolton was appointed to study the matter. It was decided that the next monthly meeting would be the annual Christmas party to be held December 13 at the Broadway cafe.

As the meeting adjourned Mrs. Laurie made a personal presentation to Mrs. Bolton of a past president's gavel in the form of a guard for her club pin and the members gathered around to thank Mrs. Bolton for a good job well done and joined in singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Co-Op Donates $100 to Clinic

The Prince Rupert Dental Clinic's funds today were swelled by $100 through a donation from the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association.

A $100 cheque and a letter of commendation of the dental clinic was received today by President J. S. Wilson.

Noting that the donation was to help offset last year's deficit of some $200 in clinic operations, the letter said that the board of directors of the fishermen's co-op highly commended the clinic.

They expressed their appreciation to the committee in charge and hoped that the clinic's work would be extended in the future.

"The importance of early care of children's teeth is recognized, as well as the great social need for such care being made available to all parts of our population," the letter said.

The letter concluded with: "We hope that other organizations and other employers in the city will see their way clear to assist in this very worthwhile cause."

Sonja Ladies' Aid Sponsors Successful Late Fall Bazaar

The Sons of Norway hall here was again the scene of a successful afternoon tea yesterday when members of the Sonja Ladies' Aid were hostesses at their annual fall tea and sale.

Autumn colors keyed the decor of the hall, including a pretty sunburst effect of brown, yellow and green streamers at the ceiling and lovely yellow and white 'mums centering the tea tables.

Mrs. Carl Strand, president of the Ladies' Aid, convened the affair and received the many guests with whom the rummage, baking and sewing sales proved popular.

Serving tea were Mrs. Herman Rensvold, Mrs. John Carpenter and Mrs. E. Somes, while in charge of kitchen arrangements were Mrs. John Pedersen, Mrs. O. Skog, Mrs. H. Hagen, Mrs. R. Weber, Mrs. O. Giske, Mrs. A. Sandals and Mrs. Annette Andersen.

Mrs. H. Knutsen and Mrs. G. Selvig were in charge of the home cooking stall while Mrs. Hans Pettersen and Mrs. Pete Andersen convened the sewing table.

At the rummage stall were Mrs. Erling Wick and Mrs. George Morgan while Mrs. T. Jerstad was in charge of the grocery hamper prize, won by Mr. O. K. Olsen. A cake was won by Mrs. J. Carpenter.

Following the tea was a whist party and dance in the evening, attended by many, at which prizes were awarded as follows: Whist—women's first Mrs. O. Breimo, second Mrs. E. Wick; men's first H. Pettersen, second Einar Somes.

Door prizes went to Miss Reid Pedersen and Mr. A. E. Child.

Boost in Staff Authorized For "Chatham"

An increased complement at HMCS Chatham was authorized by visiting RCN officers here this week.

Lt.-Cdr. D. L. Davies and Lt. A. Amer of the complement committee of the staff of Admiral Creery, vice-chief of Naval staff, who arrived here Wednesday to review Chatham's staff, increased the complement by two RCN ratings and nine civilians, the latter including chauffeurs, cleaners, office help and security guards.

The increase, which brings Chatham's regular complement up to 17 civilians and 20 RCN personnel, is in line with the Navy's present general program of replacing RCN personnel on non-essential jobs with civilians, and bringing the navy up to the strength required for NATO purposes. Reserve strength at the moment is 126.

Chatham as well as other units across the country also are stepping-up recruiting in all branches with the emphasis on the air branch, ground and air personnel, and the medical branches.

Chatham also is seeking recruits for a special diesel course to open here in December. The series of courses will cover operation and maintenance of diesel engines. Recruits entering these courses will receive trade pay. Also available will be similar courses at the HMCS Naden Mechanical Training Institute, to which recruits will be sent with all expenses paid.

Chatham spokesmen cited the forthcoming courses at an opportunity for people unemployed between seasons.

Chatham also reports installation of equipment necessary to tie-in with the western radio network established from Winnipeg west by the navy for use in connection with emergencies, civilian or military.

Persons interested in communications will be allowed full use of the equipment, which will be operated twice weekly for practice by communicators in both the wireless telegrapher and radio-telephone field.

Thanks Given Women of B.C. By Senator Nancy Hodges

VICTORIA (C)—British Columbia's newly-appointed senator, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, has written her 2,550th and final column—"for the time being at least"—in the Victoria Daily Times.

The former speaker of the British Columbia legislature started the column "One Woman's Day" Oct. 5, 1933, and prior to that had a long and distinguished career as a newspaper woman.

"After being so long in the provincial sphere of public affairs," she wrote, "to find oneself suddenly elevated to the national scene causes one a lot of heart-searching. It inspires a feeling of humility... and is a challenge. I only hope I shall be able to rise to that challenge and that I shall not let either the women or the men of British Columbia down."

You will notice that I mention the women first, for it is to them that I chiefly owe this opportunity to broaden my scope of public service. Ever since I first entered political life in 1941, the women have consistently and loyally supported and encouraged me. And that even goes for the last election despite my defeat. Thank you and au revoir."

Don't know what the Terrace Boxing club officials are up to but since they asked Joe Ward to send over a couple of his mitt-slingers for fight card "sometime toward the end of November," Prince Rupert's trainer of champions hasn't heard a peep out of the interior town. Fight cards are usually held Friday or Saturday night and now that this week-end is on us that only leaves next week for the card to which Joe has planned to take three or four of his boys. One thing is for certain if the Terrace boxing promoters figure that by springing a last minute effort on Rupert's boxers, in the hope that the lads will be out of shape and ready to be taken, then they have another think coming. Joe told us last night that his boys were ready to go at any time, and that if any of his fighters weren't in shape they wouldn't be stepping in the ring.

A Prince Rupert-born athlete whose name is among those selected for the "Newsmakers of Tomorrow" program in Seattle is Dewey Soriano, general manager of the Seattle Rainier baseball club. The program, sponsored by Seattle Chamber of Commerce and Time magazine is designed to focus Seattle's attention on its own future and that of its young men who will make the greatest contribution to that future. The release states briefly that Dewey gave Prince Rupert, B.C. as his birthplace, that he's 33 years old, married and belongs to the Magnolia club and the YMCA.

If any sports fan remembers anything of Dewey's early days here that would be of interest to this column's readers we would be glad if they would drop a brief note for us to publish.

Don Forward, longtime pillar of the Civic Centre, here visiting with his family for a couple of days before returning to Kitimat, managed while in Vancouver Wednesday to see some of the world's best basketball. Not that he hadn't seen it before, he said, as his seeing the Harlem Globetrotters trounce UBC Thunderbirds at the Memorial Gymnasium, made about 30 times he's seen the colored cage wizards at work and play. On the same bill he saw Big Bill Spivick, the Boston Whirlwind star, who Don said is something out of this world. The 6 foot 9 inch Spivick was chosen for the All-American basketball team last year.

An added staff member to the Civic Centre this week is Mrs. Rupe (Betty) Holkestad who becomes a permanent member of the Civic Centre staff. Well-known as a former enthusiastic and brilliant high school cage star Betty will keep busy with general office work.

Minor Simundsen hasn't made good his promise to bolster his winless Gordon and Anderson Senior B team, at least not up until last night, so the original squad will be out to dish up a do-or-die effort tonight when they face CCC 300 club in search of their first win of the 1953-54 season. The Pulp Millers have won one (at the expense of G&A) and lost one to Manson's. Manson's presently boasting a three game win streak won the last two by only four points, but they won them.

A glance at the Senior league's statistics shows that Ray Spring with 59 is making a runaway of the point race although "is team Manson's have played three games to CCC's two. Joe Davis, G & A point-collector whose action shots have been more than somewhat off this year so far, is second with 29; Glen Carlson with only two games under his belt has 24 and is tied for third place with team-mate Mickey Webster. G & A's Danny Bill and Art Olsen are tied with 22 points apiece. Freddy Christensen of CCC's who has only played two games leads his squad with 21 points.

According to Father O. P. Mohan, the Prince Rupert Football Association has set December 4, as the date for the soccer club's presentation dance. The dance to be held in the Navy Drill hall annex will see the presentation of the Manson, North Star and Sheardown trophies.

Boston Downs Black Hawks 2-0 To Cut Leaf Lead Over Bruins

Toronto Maple Leafs, two points back of second place Detroit Red Wings had their lead over fourth place Boston Bruins cut to two points last night when the Bruins whipped Chicago Black Hawks 2-0.

Tonight the leading Montreal Canadiens face the Red Wings in an effort to protect their two-point lead over the second-placers. In Sunday activity Leafs tackle the last-place Hawks at Chicago while Canadiens visit Boston and the New York Rangers meet Detroit.

Boston's victory over the Hawks gave goalie Sugar Jim Henry a chance to shine as his mother watched him perform for the first time since he broke into the NHL 12 years ago. Leo Labine and rookie Doug Mohs fired the Bruin goals in the second period.

In the Western Hockey League the three top teams came up with victories last night, and the standings stayed about the same.

Vancouver Canucks came out of a brief slump to knock off Seattle Bombers 4-3 and hold their four-point bulge over second-place Calgary Stampede.

The Stamps, meanwhile, came from behind to down the cellar-dwelling Edmonton Flyers 5-3.

At Victoria, the New Westminster Royals consolidated their hold on third spot by trimming Cougars 5-3.

Play in the Western International and Okanagan Senior loops saw two games produce a grand total of 26 goals last night.

Trail Smoke Eaters nasted Kimberley Dynamiters 13-3 in WHIHL play, and in inter-league action, Penticon V's smacked down the visiting Nelson Maple Leafs 8-2.

TABLE TENNIS TOURNAMENT FOR TEEN-AGERS SLATED

Teen-age table tennis experts will get an opportunity to strut their stuff next week and for a month afterwards when the Civic Centre launches its Teen Table Tennis ladder competition next Wednesday evening.

The tournament is divided into two sections, a 13-15 year old boys and girls class and a 15-19 year old boys and girls class.

A scoring ladder has been set up in the Centre office and although some entries have been already accepted there's room for plenty more. Play will start at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the lobby and Teen-room.

Bombers, Beaches Ready For Crucial Game Today

WINNIPEG (CP)—A berth into the Grey Cup final goes on the line at Winnipeg stadium today. Winnipeg Blue Bombers, western champions and Toronto Balm Beach clash in a sudden-death game, with the winner going into the Canadian football final at Toronto next Saturday against either Hamilton Tiger-Cats or Montreal Alouettes, Big Four finalists.

Bombers will go into the contest at odds-on favorites against the champions of the Ontario

Rugby Football Union, whose winners in the last few years have been laced by Big Four representatives in the eastern playoffs. This year marks the first time the ORFU has travelled west for a playoff.

Bombers went through their final tune-up Friday night at their season-round training grounds across the Red river in St. Boniface and coach George Trafton's squad never looked better.

Despite rumors of dissent in the club, the big blue and gold machine showed more team spirit and life than at any time this season.

If Bombers win today, Trafton is scheduled to catch a plane immediately after the game for Montreal, where he will take in the second game of the Big Four final Sunday.

Coach Churk Klein worked his Beaches through a brisk closed session Friday at Osborne stadium.

He reported his team "fit and ready."

"This is one of the best workouts we've ever had," said the stocky Toronto mentor.

Sleet started falling in Winnipeg Friday night and the weatherman has predicted snow for today, with north winds at 30 miles an hour and a high of 35.

Al's Prospects Not too Bright

MONTREAL (CP)—Douglas (Pea-head) Walker, a man not given to loquacity but capable of forthright facing the facts, thinks his Montreal Alouettes "are lucky to come as far as we did."

The silver-haired coach isn't deeply pessimistic over Sunday's second meeting of Alouettes and Hamilton Tiger-Cats. His team took a 37-12 trouncing in Hamilton Wednesday and another loss for the Al's in this best-of-three series means Ti-Cats will enter the Grey Cup final.

Walker said Alouette injuries are not phony. The club has gone along with superhuman work or team spirit, "but that can't last forever." The situation is "getting beyond a question of physical ability."

Al's were hit early in the season with the loss of tackle Jim Staton. Then, Oct. 18, Walker's second ace tackle, Tex Coulter, suffered a broken ankle. That was the start of the injury cycle.

It is possible Coulter, working out carefully the last few days, may get into Sunday's battle. But he won't be in top shape. Neither will guard Ray Cicia nor end Jim Miller.

Walker must also decide whether to use players who are "50 per cent perfect or go with reserves who are okay."

The Ti-Cats, too, have injured but playable talent. Walker did not think either the Al's or Ti-Cats could be in good shape for the Grey Cup game. He suggested, also, that the Big Four league's playoffs are "too late and too long."

Dom's Take Bo-Me-Hi Rainbirds

Competition was a little keener in last night's cage offering at the Civic Centre when Dom's defeated Bo-Me-Hi Rainbirds 25-17 in the Girls' League scheduled game.

Dom's out for their second win in as many starts took the first two quarters with ease 8-3 and 10-2. The third quarter was a different matter as the Rainbirds under the coaching of Miss S. Hicks trounced the department store quintette 9-0. However, sparked by Louise Leask who scored a total of 8 points and Leona Webster who netted 6, Dom's outscored the Birds 7-3. Myrna Knudsen and Sue Martin with 6 points each were Bo-Me-Hi sharpshooters.

Dom's committed 8 fouls to Rainbirds 4 and were outscored on free shots as Rainbirds netted 3 out of 5 compared to Dom's 1 out of 5 tries.

The opening junior game saw Annunciation's top scorer D. Bury knock two points off his own 9 point tally when he scored a basket for the opposing Northern B.C. Power who bowed to the church school squad 18-10.

Bury made his horrible mistake in the third quarter after Annunciation had taken the first two stanzas 11-0 and 2-1. NBCP would have been blanked 3-0 in the third quarter but for Bury's generosity.

Canadian troops have been praised as second to none in Europe. There's plenty to see and do, when you serve in the Army.

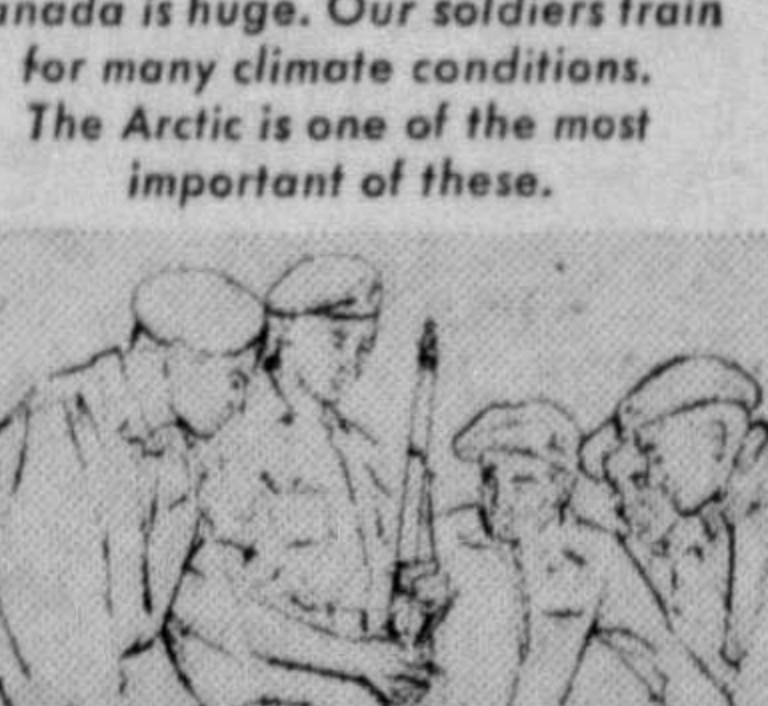

In Korea, our soldiers played an important and proud role. Adventure and travel await the man who serves in such a theatre.

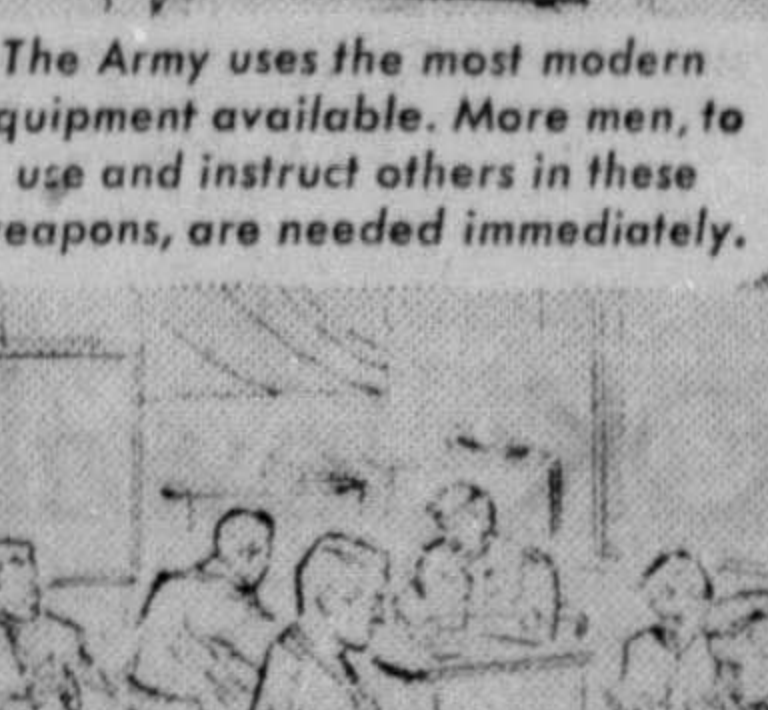

Soldiers of the sky — Canada's finest! These men — and you have to be good to be a Paratrooper — are trained to strike hard and fast.

Canada is huge. Our soldiers train for many climate conditions. The Arctic is one of the most important of these.

The Army uses the most modern equipment available. More men, to use and instruct others in these weapons, are needed immediately.

The Army finds out what you can do. Then, where possible, trains you in a field you like and where you are most apt to succeed.

OPPORTUNITIES
For Men Who Want Adventure, Advancement and a Good Future

If you want a life that is exciting and challenging — a job that is truly important, you'll find them in the Army.

Never before has the Army been able to offer so many opportunities for special training and advancement for men who can qualify.

If you are physically fit, like active outdoor life, and take spells of rugged going — then the Army is the place for you. There's no greater career opportunity for a blooded Canadian.

Above all, you build security for your future — Canada's in the Army.

To be eligible, you must be 17 to 40 years of age (skilled trades to 45). When applying bring birth certificate or other proof of age.

Apply right away — For full information write or visit the Recruiting Centre nearest your home.

Socred MP Defends Secretary In Use of Mail Privileges

OTTAWA (CP)—John Blackmore, Social Credit member for Lethbridge, says his secretary used his free mailing privilege without his knowledge to mail three "anti-Communist and not anti-Semitic" documents to the Calgary Herald.

The documents were mailed Nov. 5 by Doris A. Moore and received by the Calgary paper Nov. 10, Mr. Blackmore said in an interview.

"I cannot see that any of these documents can be classified as anti-Semitic," he said.

Miss Moore said Mr. Blackmore gave her authority to use his frank last spring on material that was "relevant to the Parliamentary work of the House of Commons."

She added: "If anti-communism is not relevant to the work of Parliament then we had better close up this whole place of Parliament and go home."

State Secretary Pickersgill earlier had said in the Commons the government is trying to identify the member of Parliament whose franking privilege was used.

Mr. Pickersgill announced the investigation after Edward T. Applewhite (L-Skeena) asked in the government is investigating an "abuse" of the franking privilege. The use of the frank for this purpose had been questioned in a Calgary Herald editorial, reprinted Wednesday in the Ottawa Journal.

Mr. Pickersgill said the editor of the Herald had been asked for the letter's envelope to learn which member's frank was used.

Of course, from the article that it was used improperly," said Mr. Pickersgill.

The Herald said the documents included two pamphlets advertising books critical of U.S. foreign policy under former presidents Truman and Roosevelt and a magazine praising senator Joseph McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican.

The editorial said the main object of the books advertised in the pamphlets was apparently to show that both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman were subject to Communist influence in their policies.

Mr. Blackmore said most members of Parliament entrust their secretaries with the use of their frank for mailing unstamped letters to be sent through the mail free of charge. It may be used during sessions and within 10-day periods preceding and following a session.

Frederick Sick Dies at Home

VANCOUVER (CP)—Frederick Sick, 61, pioneer hotelman whose father founded Sick's Brewery Company, died Thursday at his home here.

He was identified with the hotel business in Vancouver and Courtenay on Vancouver Island for many years, retiring in 1945 because of ill health.

Weak in Trump; Don't Ruff If Losers Must Be Sluffed

When partner opens the bidding with one of a suit and the next hand doubles, a bid of one no trump is contained within very narrow limits. With an average hand or better, you redouble.

With a very weak hand on which you might have squeezed out a "keep-open" bid had second hand passed, your best bet is to stay out of the auction.

With something in between these two, you bid one no trump. Mr. Champion's hand in today's deal was just about right for the one no trump call after Mrs. Keen's takeout double. He might have been a shade stronger and his bid would have been the same.

His action silenced Mr. Meek and Mr. Muzzy's two spade rebid made it necessary for Mrs. Keen to come in at the three level. This she was unwilling to do.

In spite of the fact that the bidding sequence effectively talked Mrs. Keen and Mr. Meek out of reaching the lay-down heart game, Mr. Champion was not satisfied. He still bawled out Mr. Muzzy for going down one at two spades.

The queen of hearts was led, covered with the king and the ace won. Mr. Muzzy ruffed the heart return. He led the eight and nine of spades and they both won. He then shifted to a diamond and dummy's king won. The jack of diamonds was returned, covered with the queen and Mrs. Keen took the ace.

She laid down the ace of spades, then led a good heart. Mr. Muzzy ruffed with his last trump and tried to cash the ten of diamonds. But Mrs. Keen ruffed and won two heart tricks to set the hand. Mr. Muzzy won the last two tricks with the ace of clubs and the nine of diamonds.

The principle involved in Mr. Champion's suggested line of play is an important one. He said Mr. Muzzy should not have permitted himself to be shortened in the trump suit at trick two. He should have let the defenders win the first three tricks in the heart suit, discarding the two small clubs from his hand. They were always losers anyway. Following this plan, he could have retained enough control of trumps to make an easy eight tricks.

Norway Recruits Fishermen For Defence

OSLO (Reuters)—Struggling with the problem of defending her tremendously long coastline, Norway is recruiting fishermen and their boats for coast guard duty in case of an emergency.

The men are being enrolled in the naval branch of the home guard and for all operative purposes they are under naval command. They do their training in slack periods between the various fishing seasons and, in the event of war or any emergency, will be ready to play an important part in coastal patrols and other duties, each boat's crew serves in an area it knows well.

Norway's coastline stretches roughly 2,125 miles, not counting all the deep fjords, inlets and islands. If these are included, the total length of coastline to be watched is almost 12,500 miles. The total population is just over 3,000,000.

Coastal fishing constitutes one of Norway's biggest industries, employing some 116,000 men and a fleet of about 32,000 motor-driven boats.

Practically all of Britain's large tea imports come from Commonwealth sources.

CHEMICAL FERTILIZER—Yes, but that's not all. There's a Canadian natural resource—Sulphur—formerly wasted to the air—a destroyer of vegetation—now used to make fertilizers. There's millions of dollars invested in plant and equipment. There's foresight, planning, technical know-how and the co-operative effort of many minds and skills. There's the increased yield from fertilized crops that are important to our daily living. There are jobs—for the men who make it—for the men who sell it. There's increased income for the farmer who uses it.

Yes—There's more in this bag than meets the eye.
