FLAMES AND SMOKE billow from a warehouse containing more than 3,500 tons of newsprint on the Quebec city harbor front. Damage was estimated at more than $400,000 from the fire, believed started by spontaneous combustion. Capt. Aurele Fraser, Quebec harbor master, said an inquiry will be held into the cause of the fire.

Reduced Marine Insurance Rates Sought Along Coast

One of Britain's top authorities on shipping, Sir Clement Jones, chairman of the Commonwealth Shipping Committee, spent the day in Prince Rupert Sunday getting a first-hand look at this city's port facilities.

The former head of Booth Steamship Company of Liverpool and New York, was accompanied by Lady Jones; Captain J. W. Kerr, head of the nautical division of the Department of Transport at Ottawa, and Cap-

BOXER CHANGES MIND; WILL APPEAL SENTENCE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Defence lawyers said boxer Charles Matthews has had "a complete change of heart" and will appeal his conviction on a charge of murder.

Matthews, also known as Sonny Jones, has been sentenced to be hanged Sept. 29 for the hammer-slaying of Mrs. Los Angeles Smith, 44.

Riots Still Continue In East German Zone

BERLIN (CP)—East Germany's despatched saboteurs into the East German zone to keep the flames of rebellion burning.

A statement by the Socialist Unity (Communist) party's central committee admitted that in the sixth day of martial law carried on by Russian troops and armor, "quiet is not yet entirely secure."

Crowds Jam Strikebound Fruit Store

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bargain-hungry crowds jammed a strike-bound fruit warehouse here Saturday when $60,000 worth of fruit and vegetables went on sale at slashed prices.

Pickets didn't like it and there were some incidents but generally police maintained order at gates of the wholesale firm of Slade and Stewart, Ltd.

Warehouse workers have been on strike since Tuesday after a conciliation board wage awards were turned down by union members.

The bargain sale was advertised Friday when the company was faced with the threat of total loss of huge stocks of perishable fruits and vegetables.

An estimated 5,000 persons swarmed through picket lines in their hunt for bargains.

Potatoes sold at $1.50 for a 50-pound sack; bananas at 65 cents for 25; and $4 a crate for jumbo size watermelons.

SECURITY THREATENED

"The enemy," the Communists said, incited "millions" of East Germans to take to the streets in wild disorder and "threatened the security and lives of workers of the East German democratic republic."

Reports of hundreds of dead and enormous property damage filtered through the 30 Russian divisions ringing the east zone.

Economic experts in West Berlin said obviously plants that had been working exclusively on exports for the Soviet Union had been knocked out by the dozens and that the flow of finished German goods to Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia had been cut off or seriously diminished.

Thousands of Red secret police continued raids on homes of suspected resistance leaders and there is no way of knowing how many had fallen before Russian "true squads. At least 20 such dead had been reported.

Salmon Strike Settled; Fishermen Accept Terms

Voting 'Unanimous' On Latest Proposal

The salmon fishing strike is over. Announcement at press time that west coast salmon fishermen had voted "almost unanimously" to accept the latest price proposals was seen by union officials here as an end to any further disputes in the salmon industry this year.

The "yes" vote to accept 22 cents a pound for sockeye brings to an end the week-old strike which began with the opening of the Fraser River sockeye season. Other fish prices also have been settled.

The Skeena and Naas rivers, where the season officially opened 6 p.m. yesterday, will have its first fishermen stringing nets at 8 a.m. Wednesday.

This hour has been named by the union as official opening of all salmon fishing along the coast.

T. E. Parkin, union organizer here, said picket boats are patrolling both the Naas and Skeena rivers and that any fish caught before 8 a.m. Wednesday will be declared hot.

"We don't want to see anyone jump the gun. The delay between now and Wednesday morning has been named to give fishermen time to get to the grounds.

"Most fishermen are prepared to leave almost immediately."

Voting on the latest price proposals began Saturday with the announcement that a new price range for salmon had been agreed to by operators and members of the joint negotiating committee for fishermen.

In Prince Rupert, the voting was "highly in favor of acceptance," said Mr. Parkin.

The Legion hall where voting took place yesterday, was "plugged to the hilt," said Parkin. "Every fisherman who could be there, was there and voted."

Other fish prices which were settled by the new agreement are:

Cohoe, 11 cents (round), and 13½ cents (dressed); pinks, 7½ cents; summer chums, 5½ cents; fall chums, 6½ and eight cents.

Last year's price for sockeye was 25 cents; others in the same order were 13, eight, 5½, 6½, and eight cents. Chum prices remained the same as last year and are termed the "money fish" by gillnetters and seiners.

At the same time that fishermen were busy getting their nets aboard in readiness to head for the Skeena and Naas river sockeye grounds, city merchants and businessmen heaved a sigh of relief.

Clouds of another prolonged tie-up in the salmon industry such as was seen last year had many of them viewing the year's future with pessimism.

A good year in the industry would mean "all the difference in the world, here," said one official of a large city firm.

Construction of Diesel Unit Approved by PUC

Power shortage in Prince Rupert during winter months should be "a thing of the past," an official of the Northern B.C. Power Company Limited said today. He made the statement while also making public the decision of the Public Utilities Commission to approve an additional diesel installation by the company at its drydock plant.

"With the additional unit, there is every reason to believe that, regardless of any emergencies, the city should always have sufficient power," said T. B. Black, general manager of the power company.

The new diesel unit to supply 2,750 additional horsepower to the company's output has been a major controversial issue between the city council here and the power company during the past year.

The PUC's approval, dated June 3, came despite vigorous opposition from the city council which has asked the B.C. Power Commission to take over supplying power here by expropriating the company's plant.

The decision was authorized by a government order-in-council dated June 16.

The move by the power company was fought by city council on the basis that plant expansion should be de-

Noted Pioneer, Mrs. Wrathall Laid to Rest

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon for a pioneer bride of northern B.C. who made her first home in Hazelton in 1903, arriving there by way of a Skeena River steamer.

She was Mrs. W. W. (Lydia) Wrathall, who died last Wednesday at the age of 65.

Services were conducted by Rev. Fred Antrobus of First Baptist Church from Grenville Chapel at 4 p.m. Many friends and close relatives attended, and the floral tributes numbered more than 100.

He recalled Mrs. Wrathall's "long-time and valued membership of First Baptist Church" and called her a woman of "sterling character, greatly esteemed and respected."

"Her devotion to her family and to her home was a thing of beauty."

"There are many who will remember with warm gratitude her kindness and hospitality and the sincerity of her friendship," said Mr. Antrobus.

Wife of William Walker Wrathall, she arrived in Hazelton with her husband, pioneer telegraph operator there. In 1913, the Wrathalls moved to Prince Rupert.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Vivian and Audrey; four sons, William, Jack, Dick, and Kenneth, all of Prince Rupert.

Active pallbearers were Bob Barclay, Bert Bartlett, Phil Lyons, Pete Peterson, Bruce Wilson and John Comadina.

Honorary pallbearers were P. H. Linzey, H. F. Glassey, L. C. Eby and C. O. Campbell.

Mrs. J. C. Glicker at the organ played the two hymns, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," and "Rock of Ages."

Conference Set July 8

CONFERENCE — The Bermuda Conference of the Western Big Game will open July 8, the office of Minister Churchill announced Sunday.

Churchill will leave for Bermuda to board the British battleship Vanguard the night of June 27 and will reach Bermuda "in welcome" President Eisenhower and the French representative on July 7," said a statement issued by No. 10 Downing Street.

The conference was originally scheduled by President Eisenhower several weeks ago.

Mr. Churchill and the Premier were to have met about the middle of this month but the get-together was postponed because of the fall of the French cabinet. France is without a government.

Alaska Able to Pass Through Rupert

ALASKA (CP)—Plans for establishment of a multi-submarine cable for the Communications Service announced Friday by Col. Kunitz, commander of the communication system.

The plan is to install the coaxial cable from Haines to Prince Rupert and to the U.S. will be estimated $6,500,000, the U.S. said, and will take about a year to complete.

Medalitis Disease Strikes Again

OTAWA (CP)—Government officials report the outbreak of medalitis, an infrequent disease.

Symptom: A yen to get one's medals struck to commemorate the crowning of the Olympic Games.

Not of persons both in civilian and military life are reported succumbing to the ailment of a medal now that thousands of them are to be handed out.

They are using the old family album, having their members of Parliament take up their cases and writing in themselves.

From a civilian standpoint, the government has handled this headache neatly by asking a multitude of national organizations to recommend recipients. There will be no individual civilian awards directly decided by the government. The armed forces are drawing up their own lists.

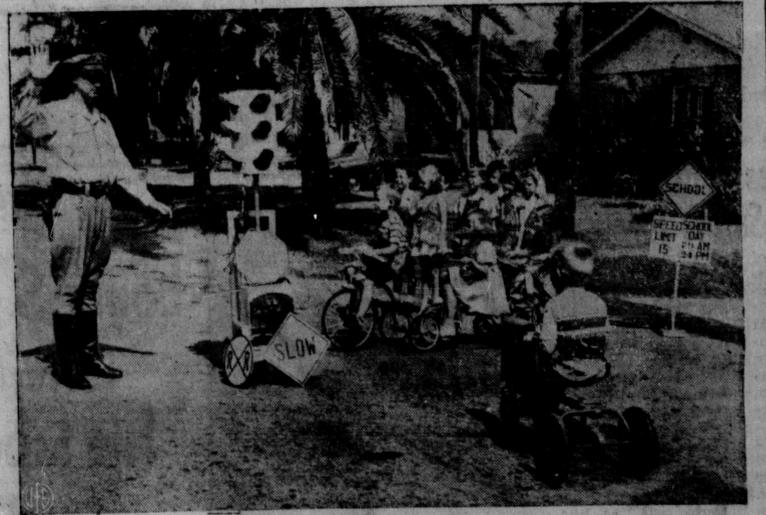

Bill Boss, Canadian Press correspondent in Korea, reports today that 185 Canadian Army men in that theatre have been recommended for the medal. Members of the armed forces contingent at the Coronation itself have already received them.

A reporter asked defence headquarters what other military men can expect to get them.

The officer at the other end of the line said he just isn't saying. But he said enough to indicate that the same passion for a free medal is just as rampant among the military as it is among civilians.

The lists should be out in a few weeks if you'll leave the powers-that-be free to prepare them.

Beyond Their Depth

CANADIAN schools are wandering too far out of their territory, according to Dr. J. B. Kirkpatrick of McGill University.

They are attempting to teach a lot of things not directly associated with formal education, he contends, and as a result are in danger of falling down in their regular work. Many people will agree with this criticism.

As examples of doubtful activities, the noted McGill educator mentioned driving education, sex education, and physical education for pupils. He could have added a lot more.

In the old days children got this sort of training at home and at no expense to the taxpayer. If we are going to keep the cost of education within bounds, that is where they should get it in the future.

Moreover, relieving our ordinary schools of these trimmings would leave them with more time to give pupils individual attention and a real grounding in basic subjects.

At present, far too many students are getting merely a smattering of this and a smattering of that. When they are through they are neither good cooks, nor good spellers; they can't put up a kitchen shelf, nor add up a bridge score.

Teachers and parents too must realize that the school can provide only part of the education of our youth. Home training is also vital. We shouldn't expect and we can't afford to have the teacher take over a lot of the duties that properly belong to the parent and that only the parent is really equipped to handle.

Few parents have the training or time to teach their children the three r's. This job, very wisely, we have turned over to properly trained professionals. But there is another training that can only be provided in the home and, if our young people are not going to get it there, then the whole nation will suffer.

Sound Advice

SOME good advice to organizations came from a woman last week.

Mrs. W. R. Walton, Jr., president of the Canadian Association of Consumers, asked that people view more seriously the resolutions they present to governments.

She advised a closer look at resolutions to make sure the principles are sound and that the facts are straight. Only vote for a resolution if you are prepared to follow it up and do your share toward getting the measure which the resolution asks.

Today, everybody from deworm diggers to elephant trainers are organized into some sort of association. And every year the federal and provincial governments are showered with resolutions suggesting everything from a national flea week to pumping out Hudson Bay.

Many of these, dreamed up by national executives, are handed out to local meetings, and receive the "100 per cent endorsement" of Punkeydoodle Corners Cricket Club (of four members, three of whom may have been asleep), only to go back to national headquarters to be presented to the government as something representative of national thought.

Naturally, the resolution's coinage has been debased.

If Mrs. Walton's good advice were heeded, we might see its value restored.

Pick Up the Pieces

WINSTON CHURCHILL surely speaks for the whole peace-seeking world when he says he is "shocked and grieved" at the deliberate attempt to sabotage the truce treaty in Korea.

Nobody needs exaggerate what this could mean. By one dastardly stroke that wicked old man Syngman Rhee has done far more than to upset the settlement.

He has done more than prolong the bloody Korean war. Unless there is early peace in Korea there will surely be general world war starting from Asia.

In such a world war, starting in such a way, only a miracle could prevent a bitter, mutually-disastrous falling out between the British Commonwealth and the U.S.

CANADA and the other free nations should try hard to pick up the pieces from the situation created by Syngman Rhee.

We had better postpone even our probing into such matters as whether Chiang Kai-shek, General MacArthur, Colonel McCormick, or Senator McCarthy shed any tears over the coup by Syngman Rhee.

The vital thing to remember is that the most stabilizing factor in our wobbling world of today is the American-British Commonwealth partnership.

If that goes down the drain, God help us all—for we shall surely face the greatest catastrophe of all time. Above all, God help us in Canada.

LET US never forget the facts of life as they are.

Our western way of life was saved, only by a miracle, when Hitler's Nazi beast had the whole free world literally by the throat.

We were saved by these facts: Britain stood alone in Europe, only because she was sure of the physical and moral support of the whole Commonwealth; and because she was also sure that under that giant and great-hearted statesman, Franklin Roosevelt, the U.S.A. would support Britain as much as possible within limits of political realities in America.

BUT IN the last analysis we were saved only by the incredible mistakes of our enemies.

Hitler not only attacked his own pact-partner, Stalin's Russia. But he ganged up with the Japanese rulers and literally shot the United States into the war she would never have entered by the consent of her own people, or the vote of her Congressmen.

In other words, we did not really win the Second World War. Our enemies lost it by two incredible blunders.

IN A third world war, brought on by the U.S. "Go It Alone" school, the positions of the British and American peoples would be directly reversed.

It would surely be the British people who would adopt the same attitude as those of U.S.A. adopted in Hitler's war — they would have to be shot into it by the enemy, or they would not enter it at all.

But the ultimate reality is the same: The west stands or falls together. And unless the U.S.A. and British Commonwealth stand together for peace, the whole west will fall.

Survey Shows Business Activity In Canada Greater Than Ever Before

Allowing for the usual winter slackness, the general level of business activity in Canada this year has never been better, says the current monthly review of The Bank of Nova Scotia. Employment has been two per cent above last year and at a new peak for this time of year.

Even more striking has been the record of manufacturing production which in the first quarter was 10 per cent higher than in the corresponding period of 1952. Average weekly wages and salaries at the same time were up about 6 per cent and, with consumer prices down a little, the real gain in incomes has been substantial.

The biggest increase in expenditures in the past 12 months has been in outlays by consumers. With incomes significantly higher and food prices lower, leaving

RENT TOO HIGH

The Editor,
The Daily News:
Is there anybody at all in the city of Prince Rupert who has a house or an apartment to rent at a reasonable rent and who has no objection to children.

Every evening for the last two months I have toured the city looking for a place for my daughter to rent and everywhere I get the answer: We don't take in children or the rent is so high that I have reluctantly come to the conclusion that we have to kill off all our children or have above the average income if we want to rent a place.

My daughter has three small children — three months, one year and one 2½ years — is at present staying with us and would very much like a place of her own.

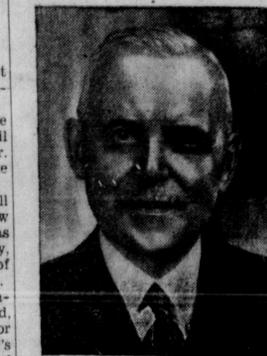

If by any chance I have missed a place somewhere will some kind soul please phone Black 752 or write to 136 Ninth Avenue East and give us the glad tidings. Thank you

Air Cadets Here Praised At Annual Inspection

Prince Rupert's air cadet squadron received high praise Saturday night from Group Captain R. O. Shaw, officer commanding No. 12 Air Defence Group, Vancouver, at the first annual inspection.

Group Captain Shaw headed a group of RCAF officials and members of the B.C. provincial committee, Air Cadet League of Canada, who flew here in a special plane to review the Rupert squadron.

V. R. Clerihue, chairman of the provincial committee, and Group Captain Shaw congratulated the city sponsoring committee and squadron for their efficiency and the fact two members had been selected for flying scholarships and a third chosen to take a special seven-week course at Camp Borden.

Highlight of the inspection was the presentation of the air cadet ensign.

Padre Lawrence Sieber first dedicated the ensign before Group Captain Shaw presented the flag to drill instructor Norm Haywood, who knelt before him. He was flanked by Fo. Ned McNeill, acting commanding officer in the absence of Dr. H. W. MacDonald, and Fo. Rupert Goodlad, the squadron's equipment officer.

Despite the change in command—Dr. MacDonald recently succeeded Dick Garrett, who moved to Vancouver—the reviewing group said the squadron had produced a very good precision drill team.

Mr. Clerihue said it was outstanding that the squadron produced two boys to take up flying and the fact they would learn to fly at a water base was unique in Canada.

The band from 120th H.A.A. (Res) Regiment played for the cadets during inspection and buses were provided by Arrow Bus Lines to transport the boys from the Armory to Seal Cove with buses from the TMC convey

Okanagan Fruit Expected To Hit Market by July 1

Probably in time for Dominion Day, the first of British Columbia's celebrated soft fruits will be available in Western Canada. Cherries will be arriving from the Okanagan early in July.

That will only be a start. Next will follow apricots, peaches, plums, prunes and pears.

There is every indication that the B.C. soft fruit crop will be a bumper one. There will be plenty of good quality fruit for immediate eating and for home canning.

Which leads to the slogan adopted by the British Columbia fruit growers this year: "Wait for B.C. Fruit."

SPECIAL REASON
These growers on the irrigated bench lands of British Columbia have a special reason for making such a plea this year. They received some criticism over the quality of some of the arrivals in 1952. Due to climatic conditions, some of the fruit did not size as well as usual.

So, during the winter, they laid their plans to provide the maximum quantity of top-grade fruit on Western Canada mar-

Cubs Entertain Fathers at Annual Banquet

A "Father and Son" banquet was given by the cubs at the Presbyterian church and only a few fathers were absent.

There was a short meeting to show fathers what the boys had accomplished during the year, and F. E. Anfield, district commissioner, made a short speech stressing the importance of the fathers being interested and trying to follow with them.

Much enthusiasm was shown the Mounties when they arrived to show movies, one on the "North West Passage," another on "Hockey," and finally a picture story of "Training the Mounties."

More Money To Be Sought By Bennett

VICTORIA (CP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett expects to take the British Columbia government's case for better financial returns for the province from the federal government to Ottawa in the fall.

Premier Bennett told a press conference here he will soon discuss Dominion-provincial relations with Carl Goldenberg of Montreal, economic counsel who is preparing B.C.'s brief.

Mr. Bennett left Sunday to attend the national Social Credit conference in Toronto June 26 and 27 but he does not feel this is the time to approach Ottawa. At any rate, he said, Mr. Goldenberg has not finished preparing B.C.'s submission.

"We don't think the climate is ripe in the heat of an election campaign," Mr. Bennett said. "After the election we expect there will be a government in Ottawa more favorably disposed to better treatment of provincial governments."

Finance Minister Einar Gunderson and Mr. Bennett will discuss B.C.'s case with Mr. Goldenberg who is expected to meet them in Toronto.

The conference will be attended by the national Social Credit leader Solon Low and Alberta's Premier Ernest Manning. The Social Credit federal election platform will be drafted there.

Premier Bennett will take some ideas of his own to the conference. They include:

Immediate reduction of interest rates; lower down payment for home builders with material reduction in interest rates; immediate reduction in personal income taxes, single person's $2,000, married person's $3,000 and exemption of $750 for each child; the Canadian dollar to be kept below the American dollar to assist the sale abroad of Canada's basic export commodities such as wheat, cattle and lumber; federal participation in all main highways and greatly expanded construction. Premier Bennett outlined these proposals in a telegram to Saskatchewan retail merchants in Fort Qu'Appelle, where he was scheduled to make an address Tuesday but had to decline the invitation due to developments in B.C.

MARINE INSURANCE

before the Commonwealth Shipping Committee.
He accompanied Sir Clement as representative of the Department of Transport on a visit to Churchill, Manitoba, in 1951 for discussions on marine insurance on the Hudson Bay route, and appeared with the agent-general for Saskatchewan before the CSC in making representations for reduced additional premiums on ships trading to Churchill and ports in the St. Lawrence River.
It was following these representations that the CSC recommended a reduction in rates to the marine underwriters and led to a 60 percent cut in rates over the past six years at Churchill and a reduction in 1950 on the St. Lawrence route of 33 1/2 percent.
It was because of Captain Kerr's close association with Sir Clement on these previous trips that he was again appointed by the Department of Transport to accompany the shipping committee chairman.
Captain Johnson of the Westward Shipping Company, Vancouver, was appointed by the Vancouver Chamber of Shipping to make the Prince Rupert trip with the party after the southern group recommended that Sir Clement have an opportunity of discussing marine insurance generally with officials here.
Sir Clement and Lady Jones left England by air the day after the Coronation. They will make a trip to the United States before returning by boat on July 26. Prior to departure on the Princess Norah last night, they were dinner guests of the Chamber of Commerce, at which Sir Clement thanked members for the opportunity of coming here.

You're Bound To Be In The Swim In A Wallace BATHING SUIT Only $7.95 to $9.95 WALLACE'S DEPT. STORE

Commercials edged Esquires 11-10 Sunday in a free-hitting baseball game marred by 10 errors for the losers, accounting for six unearned runs.

By no means a pitchers' duel—the contest provided 15 hits for Esquires and 11 for the hotelmen—the game was lost in the last three innings when Jack Sharpe took the mound over for the losers from Dick Letourneau in the seventh frame.

Letourneau, recently returned from a semi-pro stint with the New Westminster Royals, was ahead 10-9 when Sharpe was sent in to pinch-hit. Commercials tied, then edged clothiers' score with four telling hits off Sharpe. Letourneau allowed seven hits.

Winning pitcher Gord Cameron was belted for 15 hits but more than half of the balance of batters to face him struck out.

Other "new" faces on the diamond this season were those of Cliff Dahl and Jack Lindsay, both strengthening the weakened Esquires. Dahl hit two for four—one a double—and drove in three runs; Lindsay hit two for four, with one rbi.

High man on the batting lineup was Commercial catcher Herb Morgan who hit four for five times at the plate—one a triple—and drove in four runs. Hawryluk proved the big gun for Esquires bringing in four runs. He hit two for four.

Between 85% and 90% of B.C.'s Kraft pulp industry operates from salvaged forest waste, small and cul logs, and chipped saw-mill trimmings.

OSLO, Norway (CP) — A Norwegian firm is seeking a patent for an electronic device which detects the presence of any steel or iron embedded in timber logs. The sensitive device to be used in sawmills is said to be able to spot even a needle in a giant log.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

Facing Dangerous Player Needs Thinking as He Does

In making an avoidance play (keeping a "dangerous" opponent out of the lead) it is necessary to think of every possible countermeasure the defenders might employ to thwart your plans. This is particularly true when you are playing against a fine defender like Mr. Champion.

In today's deal Mr. Dale won the first two tricks with the king and queen of hearts. He continued with the ace of hearts and Mr. Abel ruffed.

Now Mr. Abel had a plan and a very good plan, as far as it went. He correctly decided that it was of vital importance to keep Mr. Champion out of the lead so that a diamond could not be led through his ace-queen.

He cashed the ace and king of clubs and ruffed a club in dummy. He ruffed dummy's last heart. Next, he took two rounds of spades, ending on the board. At this point he was feeling very well satisfied with himself. Trumps had broken 2-2, which was necessary to the success of his plan. All he had to do now was to duck a diamond lead around to Mr. Dale and the old boy would be end-played.

So out came a small diamond from dummy—but the plan fell apart when Mr. Champion put up the 10 spot. Mr. Abel frowned and stared at the ceiling. It didn't help him. If he let the 10 hold, another diamond lead would undoubtedly follow and, on the bidding, the king was almost certainly in Mr. Dale's hand.

Finally, he played his queen. Mr. Dale won with the king and returned the jack. Another dia-

Mr. Abel could have made the hand by another play—and regardless of how good the defense was. After stripping the clubs and picking up the trumps, all he had to do was to lead dummy's last heart and pitch the eight of diamonds on it. That would put Mr. Dale in for sure.

His return would have to be a diamond, which would go into the ace-queen; or a club which could be ruffed on the board while Mr. Abel got rid of his queen of diamonds.

Fairs have long provided a common meeting ground for farm and city people, enabling the two groups to better understand one another's points of view and problems.

Because of its high investment and permanent nature Pulp and Paper Industry must maintain a constant, practical interest in forest conservation practices.
