Alderman Geo. Casey Resigns As Board Of Works Chairman

Move Not Caused By Council Action

Prince Rupert's veteran alderman, George B. Casey, has resigned as chairman of the board of works committee.

In the only solemn portion of a council meeting last night, Mayor George Hills said: "It is with regret that I have accepted the resignation of the chairman of the board of works committee."

He gave no further explanation except to say he received Ald. Casey's resignation last Friday. He appointed Ald. Norman (Buster) Bellis new chairman.

Ald. Casey made no comment at the time, but later said he tendered his resignation in consideration of the mayor's recent bereavement "not in recognition of council's action at the March 8 meeting."

Council at that time voted non-confidence in the chairman of the board of works for acting contrary to a council decision.

In a heated discussion at that meeting it was disclosed that Ald. Casey had asked the city mechanic to attend a meeting with himself and the city works superintendent to review tenders submitted by a number of firms on machinery to be purchased by the city.

DEFEATED 7-1
 Aldermen had voted 7-1 at a previous meeting against the need of a mechanic to look over tenders, contending that his services were needed only to look over the mechanical aspects of equipment.

At the March 8 meeting, Ald. Casey questioned council's action in sending G. E. Beaton, city works superintendent, and Bill Moorehouse, city mechanic, to the Okanagan to inspect some machinery. Ald. Casey was appointed chairman of the board of works committee at the first meeting of the year.

The non-confidence vote came just a week before the death of Mrs. Hills, who was Alderman Casey's daughter.

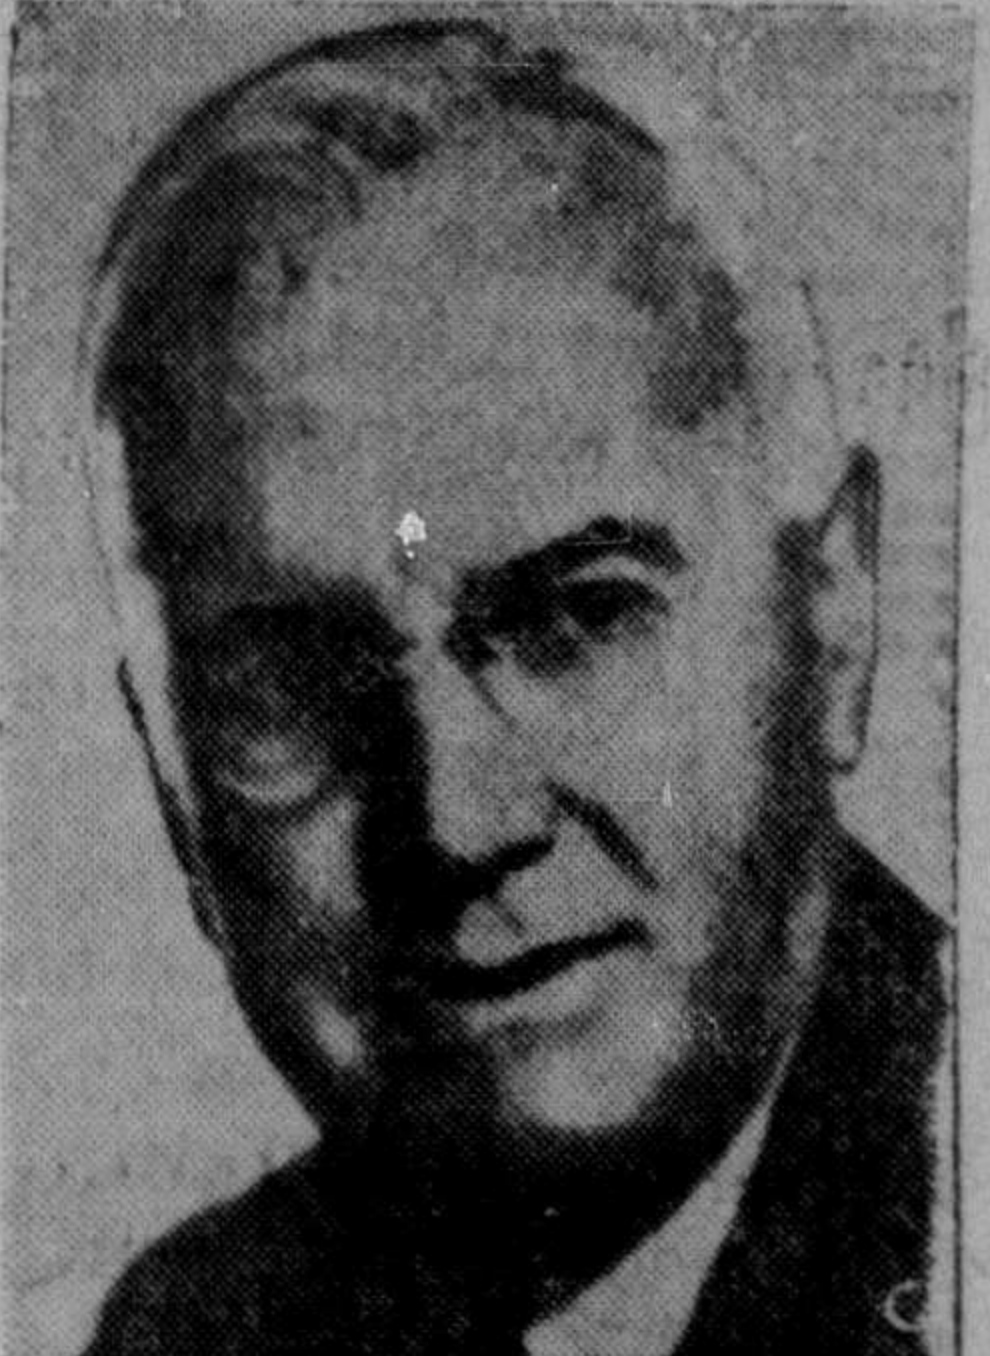

Mayor Names New Committee On Airport

A nine-man committee was named by Mayor George Hills last night to inquire into all aspects of building an airport adjacent to Prince Rupert.

Mayor Hills told aldermen that he had been approached by two of the city's leading businessmen last week asking him if he would set up a committee to press for an airport.

After receiving backing from council, he named, besides himself, Ald. Ray McLean, Neely Moore, J. T. Harvey, J. F. Magor, Dr. L. M. Greene, Charles Foreman of Columbia Cellulose Company, Norton Youngs, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce airport committee, and a representative to be appointed by the Trades and Labor Council.

City council already has an airport committee headed by Aldermen Norm Bellis and including Aldermen Gomez and Casey.

HARRY S. SOUTHAM, CMG, 78, distinguished Canadian newspaper publisher, art patron and sportsman, died in Ottawa after an illness of several months. Until his retirement a year ago, Mr. Southam guided the Ottawa Citizen for more than a half-century. Mr. Southam was born in London, Ont., fourth son of the late William and Wilson Mills Southam. Prank Causes Power Failure

Youngsters who threw a branch across power lines on the waterfront were blamed for blacking out power throughout the city at 4:50 p.m. yesterday.

The power went off at 4:50 p.m. and remained out for about 30 minutes, because of the prank. Residents near the scene of the incident, on the waterfront east of the drydock, saw a big flash as the branch spanned the wires, and reported to the Northern B.C. Power Company.

The power cut held up dinner preparations in kitchens all over town, as the blackout lasted for 30 minutes.

Ottawa To Boost Municipal Grants

OTTAWA (CP)—The government plans to increase grants paid to municipalities in place of local taxes on federal property.

Finance Minister Abbott told the Commons Monday he hopes to introduce legislation next week to amend the Municipal Grants Act.

School Group Visits Council

With Prince Rupert's student mayor and his council watching, city council last night showed the "future citizens" how to spend thousands of dollars.

Without discussion, city fathers endorsed recommendations of the finance committee to:

- Grant $600 to the museum board for 1954;
- Grant the Parks Board an advance of $6,000 on their 1954 estimates.
- Accept the school board estimates of $169,475.80.
- Accept estimates of Library Board totalling $7,933.80.
- Pay ordinary accounts for February totalling $15,127.97.

Council also agreed to include $6,000 in 1954 estimates as a grant towards the Civic Centre Association to assist in their operations.

All aldermen agreed that the Civic Centre should get along with as little as possible. It was the consensus that the Civic Centre should be as self-sustaining as possible.

Students in attendance were: John MacDonald, mayor; city clerk Helen Trapp, and aldermen: Fred Kristmanson, Ron Black, Greig Forbes, Gary Morrison, Shirley Pierce, Helen Olson, Douglas Sankey and Peter Bartlett.

Accounts submitted by the board of works for February, totalling $17,035.47 also were approved but the account with Finning Tractor Company for a tractor was ordered not paid until council decided which fund to use for the purchase.

At a meeting Feb. 22, council decided to purchase the tractor from general revenue of 1954 instead of from the land sales trust fund as had originally been intended.

Last night, aldermen again became involved in discussion of payment and were unable to reach decision.

The students also heard council approve payment of $19,856.02 on behalf of the utilities committee for February accounts.

Blasts Labor Code

VICTORIA (CP)—Dr. Eugene Forsey of Ottawa, research director of Labor, said here Monday British Columbia's proposed new Labor Relations Act is part of a "dangerous" trend "reminiscent of countries behind the Iron Curtain."

The board's present building fund includes a $2,000 bequest from the late Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McIntosh, and it is understood financial assistance might be forthcoming from such groups as the Carnegie and Smithsonian Institutes.

The board confirmed appointment of Mrs. Jocelyn Bolton as executive secretary of the Prince Rupert Tourist Bureau, effective May 1. Mrs. Bolton will also act as curator of the museum.

Museum Cost Estimated At $40,000

An estimated $40,000 cost of building an Indian lodge house style museum here was cited at a meeting last night of the board of directors of the Museum of Northern B.C.

W. C. R. Jones, building committee chairman, reporting on the present museum building, said its general condition was poor and that the board should plan on a new building as soon as possible.

Various sites are under consideration for a new building which would include a full basement and one storey, built mainly of cement.

The board's present building fund includes a $2,000 bequest from the late Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McIntosh, and it is understood financial assistance might be forthcoming from such groups as the Carnegie and Smithsonian Institutes.

Yacht Society Sets Mid-April All-Out Drive For $2,000

Plans for an all-out drive for the Canadian Yacht Society next month were announced last night at the Prince Rupert Yacht Society. Mrs. R. J. Quota for this year, $2,000 and Prince Rupert though not definitely would be

Vancouver Man Given Two Years in Prison

"It always hurts me to send anyone to prison, especially a young man."

So said Judge W. O. Fulton in County Court yesterday as he sentenced Adward Hashka, 23, also known as James Reid, formerly of Vancouver to two years in B.C. Penitentiary.

The sentence climaxed a lengthy trial which also saw Dora McNeil, Hashka's common-law wife, sentenced last Thursday to three months in jail.

They were charged jointly with robbing Adrien (Eddie) Ouellet of "about $60" here last January 17 following a drinking session the previous night which culminated in a fight.

Ouellet testified that Dora McNeil stole his wallet containing his money while he was fighting with Hashka.

LENIENT VIEW
 Judge Fulton, addressing Hashka, said: "counsel for the crown (T. W. Brown, QC) has taken your very lenient view and your counsel (Gerry Pettenuzzo) has done all he can for you."

"I think you are young enough to make something out of your life . . . so I am sending you to a place where you can learn a trade if you are willing to learn. You can come out of prison with a good record and start life anew . . ."

Mr. Pettenuzzo said his client "must have been in an advanced state of intoxication the night of the incident" and asked the judge to be lenient in his sentence.

CITES RECORD
 Mr. Brown cited Hashka's record which, he said, included a term in prison in 1949 following his conviction in Vancouver on five counts of breaking and entering and another term for escaping from custody.

Mr. Brown urged court to have the licence returned because it was taken out in Vancouver while Hashka was an escaped convict.

AN ESTIMATED 20,000 PASSENGERS an hour can be accommodated on Canada's first subway, the Toronto Transit Commission's $60,000,000 rapid transit system which opened today. The subway cars can seat 62 passengers, and have standing room for 200.

Johnson, Wakley Rinks Win Curling Trophies

All but two trophies have been won in the Prince Rupert Ladies' Curling Club Second annual Totem bonspiel and the finals in the Grand Aggregate are being played this afternoon and the last game in the Consolation E Event for the Bill Stone trophy will be at 8 o'clock tonight.

Playing this afternoon for the Grand Aggregate trophy are the E. Johnson rink and the Bessie Wakley quartette. Winner of the match will meet the Myrtle Lewis rink later this afternoon.

Winners of the Event C, E. A. "Ted" Smith trophy competition was the Ethel Johnson rink which defeated the Elsie Anderson team at 8:45 this morning. Collecting the trophy, miniatures and frying pans are Mrs. Johnson, Olga Newton, Isla Garner and Stella Nickel. The runners-up, Mrs. Anderson, Willa Ray, Marg Moore and Bunty Mills receive toilet sets.

In D Event for the Manson's Jewellers trophy Bessie Wakley beat Betty Moore in the 8:45 draw this morning. The Wakley rink of Dorothy Scott, Kay Smith, Zoe Allen win the trophy, miniatures and electric clocks. Brush sets go to the Moore rink of Jen Waldpauer, Henrietta Eby and Eve Poffenroth.

The fight up to the finals was made harder last night when an early morning draw saw curling teams taking the ice at 12:45 and again at 6:30.

WEATHER
 A ridge of high pressure off the coast is keeping the Pacific storms from reaching the B.C. coast. The only weather reported in the province today is variable cloudiness in the Prince Rupert area and in the Cariboo. The present spell of fine weather will last today and Wednesday. Temperatures will reach to around 50 degrees in the afternoons but will turn cold at night.

Oliver Lake To Be Set Aside As Youngsters' Fishing Area
 Oliver Lake, between Prince Rupert and Galloway Rapids Bridge on Highway 16 is to become a fishing centre for children, it was reported to the Prince Rupert Rod and Gun Club.

A well-attended annual meeting of city anglers and nimrods was held last night that a survey had been taken of the lake and that the club had been able to get a lease on the full lake for fly casting purposes.

Men's Skating Planned For Curling Rink For Easter

for scrub or challenge games and on Friday from 6 p.m. until midnight and Saturday from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m., the B.C. Packers are holding a bonspiel.

On Sunday, April 4, the CNR will hold a one-day 'spiel.

From April 5 to April 9, the club is open to members and on Saturday, April 10, the grand windup of curling for the season will be climaxed that night with presentation of trophies to winners of the various club competitions.

On April 11, the Canadian Legion will hold a one-day 'spiel, after which the ice committee takes over to prepare the rink for the children.

$80,000 Grant For QCA Passed
 OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons Monday approved a subsidy of $80,000 for Queen Charlotte Airlines of Vancouver while the government is investigating which of its services are unprofitable.

"If there are parts that are unprofitable they should be cut out so we would not have to pay the subsidy," Transport Minister Chevrier said in the Commons.

ON APRIL 6, Finance Minister Abbott tables his budget in the Commons to tell Canadians what it has in store for them. Here is Mr. Abbott with the men who help him formulate his message to Parliament: (left to right) V. C. Nauman, assistant deputy minister of national revenue; Robert Beattie, Bank of Canada; H. D. McCurran, (standing) taxation division, finance; J. J. Deutsch, assistant deputy minister of finance; W. M. Benedickson, parliamentary assistant to Mr. Abbott; Kenneth W. Taylor, deputy minister of finance; Dr. A. K. Eaton, assistant deputy minister of finance, and F. R. Irwin, taxation division, finance.

Disturbance Below

REPORTS of an underground party in Yugoslavia challenging Tito's Communist regime are likely to die quickly when police get on the track of the heretics.

No matter how patriotic its overtones, no matter how many demonstrations it arranges to cheer the leader in one united voice, a dictatorship cannot change the fact that no two persons are born to think exactly alike.

Perhaps a dissenter can be persuaded to temper his political beliefs, but it is much more difficult to make him swallow the pride of his race.

In the case of Stalin, a Georgian, possibly his bitterest enemies were the Ukrainians, whom he ruled and hated in return.

The dictator's police arm may be able to silence these racial hot-bloods, but the repressed person is always the most dangerous.

Calling All Hands

FOUR bridge players in Cranston, R.I., the other day found they had been dealt perfect hands. Each player had received thirteen cards of one suit, and the chances of this happening have been figured at one in 2,200,000,000,000,000,000,000,000.

Such an incident causes considerable comment, and well it might, considering the odds against it. Not receiving a perfect hand rouses no complaint.

But when man turns his attention from cards to humans, his standards change. In humans we demand perfection almost all the time—in wives, legislators, bosses, hockey players, children.

Yet there are not 2,200,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 persons in the world, there are only about 2,200,000,000. On that basis there are 1,000,000,000,000,000 more chances of getting a perfect bridge hand than of finding a perfect human being among the earth's population.

Ray REFLECTS and REMINISCES

A Vancouver man confesses that for the first time in his life he has gone shopping with his wife, and feels the experience was not without its value.

Less handshaking in Western Australia, and a feeling of greater security today. But something like this had to come to pass.

There had always been the belief that Prince Rupert could point to her drydock and shipyard with pride and this was true up to a few weeks back.

Joe McCarthy does not exactly deny he will visit Toronto. He leaves the impression. The American senator continues to carry the notion that no matter how much he may continue to be disliked, a little point like this is nothing.

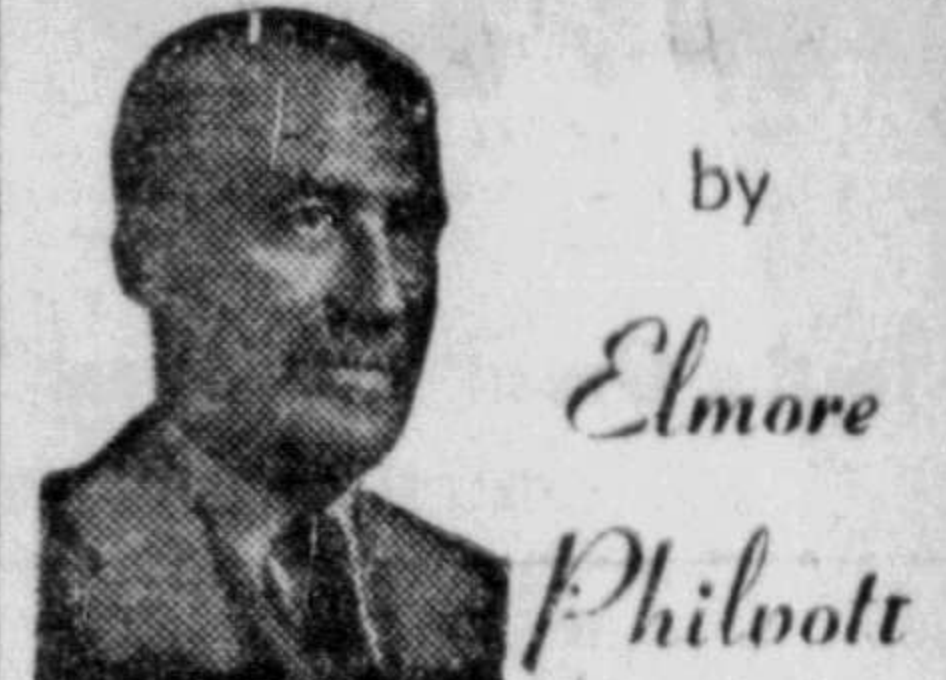

Running Time For CNR Trains May Be Reduced

OTTAWA (CP)—CNR president Donald Gordon said Monday night he thinks some reduction can be made in the four-day running time of passenger trains between Montreal and Vancouver.

Before the Commons railway committee, he said the CNR and CPR are studying the problem very carefully. They must take into account the times trains stop at major intermediate points.

A major reduction in time for the CNR, he said, might involve an additional train on the run at a capital cost of around $2,500,000. There must be enough traffic to justify this expense.

As I See It

Germany Key

ON THE very day that the western allies gave final permission for West Germany to re-arm, Russia finalized the creation of a separate sovereign state of East Germany.

It is true of course, that the new state of East Germany is a satellite of the Soviet Union, as are all the other countries of eastern Europe, which are in the last analysis, governed from Moscow.

THE VERY fact that all eastern European governments are controlled from Moscow—and that eastern Germany is the one which is the most influential of all such satellites—will make it easier for Russia to try to play the supreme joker in the greatest big power poker game of all time.

THE WESTERN allies are placing their faith in a device called EDC—the European Defence Community. The theory is that France, Italy, West Germany and the low countries would all be part and parcel of this EDC.

With all due respect to the advocates of the EDC I must say that this hope seems to me to be based on wishful thinking. If and when EDC is formed, there will be German units in it, as well as French, and other national contingents.

THE WESTERN allies are going ahead and doing the best they can to fit Germany into the picture of the Atlantic alliance. But in the mind and heart of every western statesman there must be a very big question mark indeed.

The re-creation of an armed, aggressive Germany, slam-bang in the middle of Europe, would be the greatest disaster of this whole disastrous century.

The only solid hope of the west is that Germany can be included into some sort of outright Atlantic federation such as our prime minister suggested in his recent speech in Germany.

THE LETTERBOX

The Editor, The Daily News:

Back of every act of government there should be a good and sufficient cause.

The cause stated in the Lyons-McLean resolution March 8 of non-confidence in me as chairman of the board of works was not only childish, it was downright silly and should be recorded in the public mind.

For in the opinion of the seven aldermen that supported the resolution, it's a crime for the chairman of a committee to take steps to safeguard the taxpayers' money in guarding against foolish expenditures so often imposed on the hard-earned taxpayers' dollars.

However, to further expose their ignorance at the same meeting, they endorsed sending Mr. Moorehouse along with Mr. Beaton to Petition to examine a shovel being offered for sale to the city.

Nowhere in Canada can be found a group of grade nine school children who can expose such ignorance as displayed by Aldermen Krueger, Smith, Lyons, Gomez, McLean, Bremner and last but not least Aldermen Bellis, the man who headed the polls in the last election.

Mr. Editor, my resignation was tendered in consideration of our grief stricken Mayor. Not in recognition of the brainless resolution passed March 8th.

Social Credit Movement Gaining Ground In New Zealand Despite Early Indifference

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—Using the success of the Social Credit regime in Alberta as one of its main arguments, the social credit movement in New Zealand is entering the political field here.

The New Zealand Social Credit Political League has been formed with the object of contesting the general election in November.

Recent elections in New Zealand and have been almost entirely two-party contests between Labor which lost control in 1949 after 14 years in office, and the National Party, which practices a liberal conservatism.

Sect Children Under Custody

NELSON, B. C. (CP)—Two more children of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect have been placed under the custody of the provincial welfare department.

The two children were taken from their home at Grand Forks Monday and placed in the New Denver school for Doukhobor children. The latest additions brings the enrollment of the school to 26.

Welfare officials are seeking another nine children in the Nelson-Slocan area.

The government announced last fall that Sons of Freedom parents who refuse to send their children to school will have their children taken from them and placed under the care of the welfare department.

Anfield Urges Trial For U.K. Penal Plan

An appeal for trial in Canada of Great Britain's successful probation system, "the only real solution to the problem of 'repeaters' criminals" was heard at last night's meeting of the Prince Rupert branch, Canadian Cancer Society.

F. E. Anfield, Indian agent here, who was formerly connected with B.C. penal institutions, told the group that recidivism, the problem of prison repeaters, was a cancer in the social system, and that continued imprisonment was not the cure.

SYSTEM FAILS

Noting that in the jails of one Canadian province in one year there were 12,000 repeaters, men and women "for whom our penal system had failed," he said that condemnation and punishment were not the answer.

Instead, he said, through a probation system such as is now in force in England, "we should attempt to reclaim; reform these men and women."

The overcrowded conditions and criminal associations met by first-offenders in Canadian prisons, plus the degeneration to both criminal and his family, loss of pride, financial worries and many other factors, tended to make those offenders hardened criminals, Mr. Anfield said.

Condemnation and punishment, through righteous, were negative moves. The positive approach, he said, would be probation, based on the concept of forgiveness and the strong caring for the weak, to attempt reformation of those men and women.

LESS CRIMINALS IN U.K.

Citing figures to prove that a large percentage of criminals are reformable, he said that in Britain, where the probation system is used, there were 34,000 persons in jail in 1950, compared to a population of 43,000,000 while in Canada with its population of only 15,000,000, there were 98,000 persons in jail in the same year.

Studies of the situation in Great Britain since the probation system went into effect in 1948, showed that rehabilitation, or reformation, has now reached 79 per cent.

Some, he said, were not reclaimable, and those people were the job of the prisons.

He also pointed to the high cost of Canada's penal system, saying that the probation system would cost only a 20th of the present system's cost.

In conclusion, he told the group that the present prison system, like one bad apple in a barrel, could rot the whole nation, and appealed to his listeners to seriously study the problem.

The Canadian criminal code is now under study for revision, he said, and one of the best moves for Canada would be for the commission studying the problem to recommend trial of the probation system.

Smash Hit "Born Yesterday" Drama Group's Next Vehicle

Prince Rupert Little Theatre, whose recent production of "A Streetcar Named Deseire" was received with enthusiasm, will present their second show of the season, "Born Yesterday," early next month.

This riotous comedy, which won the New York Critic's Award and was eventually turned into a successful movie with Judy Holliday was originally a Broadway smash-hit. As with "Streetcar" the U.S. movie censor cut out many of the "spley" lines and situations from the original script which the Prince Rupert cast is using, and left the moviemaker with a less clear idea of what the author was driving at. For though "Born Yesterday" is a fast moving comedy it takes a man-sized slam at corruption in high places.

It pulls no punches as it tells of a multi-millionaire junk man who goes to Washington D.C. to "buy me a Senator" and arrives with a dumbo blonde who puts her foot in it every time she opens her mouth.

The part of the blonde—which in the movie won Judy Holliday an Oscar—will be taken by Shirley Hill whose deft character study of Eunice, (the woman upstairs) in "Streetcar" won her much credit. Keith Faught, who played Mitch in the same production, now appears as Harry Brook, the junk man. After the packed houses for "Streetcar," Little Theatre executive has adopted a policy of reserving seats to avoid the rush at the door on performance nights.

"Born Yesterday" is directed by Ian Dobbie, and will play Monday and Tuesday, April 12 and 13 at the Civic Centre.

Shower Tea Successful

An enjoyable "shower tea," held at the home of Mrs. C. C. Mills, 518 Musgrave Place, by the Anglican Women's Auxiliary was well-attended by women of the parish Saturday afternoon.

The shower tea saw guests bring many lovely articles for sale in the WA spring bazaar, to be held next month.

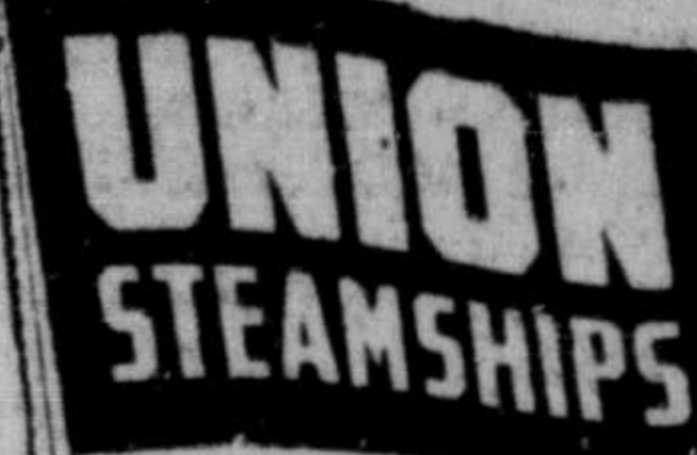

Vases of a variety of pretty spring flowers were placed about the rooms for the event, at which Mrs. Gordon Reade, WA president, assisted the hostess in receiving.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Surniots and Mrs. George Phillipson. Serving were Mrs. Tom Christie, Mrs. C. J. Currie, Mrs. G. A. Trapp and Mrs. J. Ridsdale, while Mrs. F. E. Anfield and Mrs. G. E. Moore were in charge of the kitchen.

Cadette Section Mooted Here

Possibility of forming a girl cadettes' section to operate in conjunction with the Prince Rupert air cadet squadron was discussed last night at the monthly meeting of the squadron sponsoring committee.

Formation of girl cadette units recently received the official approval of the Air Cadet League of Canada and steps are now being taken to gain the support of the RCAF. Numerous girl cadette units are already in existence.

It was reported at the meeting that there is considerable local interest in such a movement. A committee composed of Frank Moore, Murray Johnston and Jim Taylor was appointed to investigate the matter further.

Plans were completed at the meeting for the father-and-son banquet to be held April 1. This is to be an annual event to acquaint fathers with squadron activities and to learn how their boys are getting along. Don Ritchie, entertainment chairman, reported on arrangements for the affair.

The meeting agreed that enquiries should be made into the possibility of the squadron obtaining its own quarters. Instructional work for the cadets is at present conducted in the armory.

J. F. Magor, sponsoring committee president was in the chair.

Daughters Drill Team Regatta Bound

Prince Rupert's internationally-known Job's Daughters drill team will take part in the famed Kelowna Regatta next August.

The 33-member team has accepted an invitation from the regatta planning chairman to participate in the big summer fiesta and will visit the Okanagan city from August 11 to 14, taking part in parades and presenting their drills. Other girls of the local Job's Daughters and many parents also are expected to make the trip.

Carol Hill is drill captain of the team. Last year the girls took part in the Calgary Stampede, and in previous years have visited Richmond, Virginia, Long Beach, Calif., and Spokane, Wash.

Alex Haig, formerly of Prince Rupert and now of Kelowna, is assisting in arrangements for the Rupert girls' visit.

Karsh Works, Bobak Oddities Featured in Art Exhibition

In a sneak preview of the Prince Rupert Art Club's exhibition, scheduled for tomorrow night and Thursday, we saw some wonderful photographs and some "anything but wonderful" paintings and sketches by the renowned Vancouver artists, Molly and Bruno Bobak.

The collection of Karsh photographs includes some of his best: Churhill, Eisenhower, George Bernard Shaw, Einstein, Sibelius and more.

A study of cartoonist David Low catches an impish expression as if he were in the act of conceiving a new cartoon. Sibelius too, seems to be hearing some beautiful new melody in his portrait. John L. Lewis is depicted, almost literally with the chip on his shoulder.

The Bobak collection was interesting, but disappointing to us. The young couple, who did some marvelous work during the Second World War when both were official Canadian war artists, have sent some rather peculiar works to Prince Rupert.

Molly Bobak seems to have combined the modern mode of impressionism with a childish technique, so that her sketches and oils, while putting over the general idea of the subject, look as if they had been drawn by a youngster with good ideas but a shaky hand.

Bruno Bobak, whose passion is nature, not in the whole but in minute sections, also has given us some interesting but weird paintings. His are mainly such subjects as rocks in a bank, watercolors, in pale tones, on such subjects as rocks in a bank, roots and seeds.

Only one war picture, by Bruno, is displayed, and it is good. Titled "Ghent" it shows army transports parked in the town square. The only other picture of Bruno's to attract us was a beach scene, which really looked like a beach with driftwood and lovely, blending colors.

We also enjoyed one still life by Molly. A study of two vases of flowers, it features beautiful, vibrant colors, oranges, yellows and blue-greys, and as far as we could see, was the only one which looked completed.

Work of local artists, some of which reportedly is exceedingly good, will be added to the exhibition before it opens to the public Wednesday night. The exhibition will also be open Thursday afternoon and evening, and refreshments will be served at all sessions.—S.Y.

Funeral Held For Infant

Funeral services for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Forman, 940 Ambrose Avenue were held yesterday afternoon from Grenville Court Chapel of B.C. Undertakers. Rev. L. G. Sieber officiated. Interment was at Fairview cemetery.

The baby born Friday, March 25 is survived by his parents, one grandmother Mrs. Wymer, Lloydminister, Alta.; grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Pat Forman; three great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Forman, Peterhead, Scotland and Mrs. N. C. Nelson, Gold Lake, Alta.

Group Reports On Two Awards

Reports on two awards to be given local students this spring were heard at yesterday's meeting of the Prince Rupert and District Teachers' Association.

Mrs. H. S. Cobb, awards committee chairman, reported that awards have been offered by the Retail Credit Association and the Burns Club. The credit award is in the form of a prize for a contest among 1954 graduates and the Burns award is a copy of Burns' works for the outstanding pupil of each grade six class.

The meeting also discussed resolutions to be presented at the Easter teachers' convention in Vancouver, and named R. H. Davidson delegate to the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Cancer Society.

The group endorsed a vote of thanks to the Education Week Committee and sent congratulations to R. G. Moore, Rupert Good Citizen for 1953.

Friends Fete Eileen Trapp

Miss Eileen Trapp, bride-elect of next month, was honored last night at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. J. Ridsdale, 889 Borden Street.

Mrs. J. R. Carr was co-hostess for the event, for which the room was graced with pretty pink and white streamers. A curtain of the streamers, topped by pink roses and salal leaves, marked the bride's corner, and two golden hearts, pierced by an arrow hung above her chair. Two large white paper bells added to the decor.

The gifts were presented by Mrs. Ridsdale and little Miss Marie Ridsdale, in a box repeating the pink and white theme.

A variety of games were enjoyed with the honoree winning several prizes, after which refreshments were served by the co-hostesses, featuring a bride's cake, cut by Miss Trapp.

Invited guests included Mrs. W. M. Glass, Mrs. H. V. Tattersall, Mrs. M. Lennon, Mrs. W. Kangas, Mrs. Carl Strand, Mrs.

R. Taper, Mrs. S. F. Bush, Mrs. C. Painter, Mrs. W. Allaire, Mrs. G. Trapp, Mrs. G. Thompson, Mrs. H. Hampton and Mrs. E. Christison.

DICK AYRES

Since nearly two weeks have passed and we've had only a drop of rain, by Prince Rupert standards, it can be safely assumed that spring is here. With the sap running madly through the trees, buds looking for a place to pop and, out of the wind, some slight warmth to be felt in the sunshine, the sports world begins to take on a different complexion.

With the fight card next Saturday night and the final cage series slated for April 9 and 10, a few more Sundays of badminton and finals for curling club trophies to be concluded soon we may consider that indoor sports are nearly over for another season.

All over town you can see youngsters down in the dirt battling for the biggest marble collections. On the school playgrounds and at Gyro park the Little Leaguers, the senior baseball players and the high school girls are limbering up muscles, getting back into the baseball swing. At Port Edward they've been going great guns on the incomplete school yard that will be part of the new Port Edward elementary school. The kids there were playing until dusk Sunday.

Out for a week now has been Gordon and Anderson pitcher Freddy Christensen loosening up his left flipper, aided and abetted by Jimmy Flewin and Ralph Enridge. Still unknown is the baseball future of young Gordy Cameron, stalwart workhorse of Commercial Hotel last year, who lost a portion of his finger in an accident in the CCC lab. If we have judged Gordy aright, we figure he might be out of pitching duties for some time but it's our guess that as soon as his hand has healed he'll be back playing ball. He's not the type to let an injury get him down.

Out last night in the fading sunlight were Sheila Hicks and her Bo-Me-Hi Rainbirds, this time on the softball diamond. Sheila figures that with all her high school talent she should be able to organize a lively girls' softball loop along with other city girls who might have or want to form another team. If she makes as much progress with her softball team, as she did with her basketball squad, the majority of whom were first year players, then some of the softball fixtures this summer should be worth watching.

About 50 husbands have discovered for the first time, or again, what it's like not to have the "better-half" around the house at all times. A couple of nights a week curling is one thing but a bonspiel is another, and what with being tired from curling and trying to keep up with housework the gals have put in a wearying session since last Friday. We must say however, that the girls have turned in some pretty sharp curling. Although they'd be the last to admit it, the men with their noses pressed against the club room glass or sitting slowly freezing inside the rink have remarked several times during the last few days "That's a mighty fine rock." Got a kick out of Ron Allen, commenting on the men's clam chowder they've been dishing up. "Boy that's wonderful stuff. Smells as good as it did three days ago when we made it."

Hats off too, to the gallant little gals from Bo-Me-Hi who have been playing so well for Mrs. Jack Webster. They leaped three feet in the air after midnight last night when their skip ended the game by taking out the shot rock and laying shot to break up an extra end against Pat Petrow's rink in the Bill Stone consolation trophy competition.

POST SCRIPTS—Question of the week: How long are Bill Morrison's legs going to hold up if 195-pound Doug Kerr gets on his bicycle Saturday night? Kerr, present holder of the Vancouver Island heavyweight championship has only fought in two tournaments and like Morrison lost out at the Golden Gloves. But it's our contention that to hit a man you've got to catch him... One man who won't want to see the inside of the curling club house for awhile after the ladies' bonspiel will be Fred Aston. To him it must seem as if he's lived there since March 19... Parks board chairman Pat Forman, advised the Senior Baseball association Sunday, not to ask for too much in the way of renovation at Roosevelt Park. If all goes well in 1954, said Pat, the Seniors may be playing ball down at the most centrally-located Algoma Park in 1955. It was also hinted that if sufficient support for soccer isn't forthcoming at tonight's annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Football association set for Annunciation school at 8 p.m. the baseball players may have more playing and practice time at Roosevelt Park.

Local Sportsmen Favor End To Bounty Paid on Predators

The Prince Rupert Rod and Gun club last night at its annual meeting went on record as favoring the abolition of the provincial government bounty on wolves and coyotes.

The membership approved a resolution to be presented at the B.C. Game Convention May 26 to 29, that the bounty paid on both these predators be removed and the money thus saved be used to buy poison. It was felt that a considerable saving would be made by the government and that by means of the poisoned bait method even more wolves and coyotes would be destroyed.

The meeting also passed a resolution which stated that since more law enforcement officers, biologists and scientists were needed every year to help preserve game in British Columbia, that the Prince Rupert Rod and Gun club was in favor of an increase in the price of angling and firearms licenses provided the extra money so gained would be used specifically for providing extra game personnel.

A resolution calling for a change in the game law which would outlaw use of rim fire ammunition or rim rifles in the haunt of moose or deer, was dropped. It was pointed out to the meeting that the haunts of moose and deer were also the haunts of grouse with which it is perfectly legal to hunt with rim fire weapons.

Another resolution approved asked the provincial government to supply a case or holder for fishing and firearm licenses so that they wouldn't be so susceptible to weather or wear.

The Rod and Gun club received an invitation from Kitimat

Yvette who recently established a women's broad jump record of 20 feet 7 1/2 inches, will be a leading New Zealand competitor at the British Empire Games at Vancouver this summer.

Tireless New York Negro Flattens Dan Bucceroni

NEW YORK (AP)—A national unknown until two months ago, Tommy Hurricane Jackson today sought a shot at heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and dared any other leading contender to fight him.

The tireless, non-stop-punching, 22-year-old New York Negro became an outstanding challenger Monday night by stopping dangerous Dan Bucceroni, third-ranking heavyweight contender, in 1:53 of the sixth round at Eastern Parkway Arena.

Referee Al Berl halted the massacre as the lanky, Philadelphia, who had been favored 2 to 1, reeled around the ring with his right eye almost shut and with blood oozing from a cut over it. The 192-pound Bucceroni, stopped for the second time in his career, never fell, but he was close to exhaustion when Berl intervened.

Alberta Semis Looms For WHL

An all-Alberta semi-final series loomed on the Western Hockey League playoff horizon today.

Calgary Stampede, exacting swift revenge against the club that cost them the league leadership during the regular season, whipped Victoria Cougars 5-2 in the B.C. capital Monday night to take a 3-1 lead in one best-of-seven quarter-final series. Edmonton's powerful Flyers also took a 3-1 series lead in the other quarter final bracket by downing Saskatoon Quakers 3-0 in Edmonton.

The four clubs are battling for the right to meet either Vancouver Canucks, regular season leaders, or New Westminster Royals in the finals. Vancouver now leads the best-of-five semi-final 2-1 in games.

The Cowboys spotted Cougars a first period goal by Doug Anderson, then ran in four fast replies in the second and split a pair of third period markers. Calgary marksmen were Bill Shvets, Sid Finney, Pat Lundy, Max Quackenbush and Ray Barry. Walt Clune tallied the Flyer's Glen Hall, who failed to rack up a single shutout over the regular season, sent 7,500 Edmonton fans home cheering by blanking the Quakers for the second time in the series. He turned aside 22 shots, but a tight, hard-hitting defence forced Quakers to drill many of their shots from well out.

Saskatoon Leads Cage Series

SASKATOON (CP)—Saskatoon Aces wheeled to a convincing 61-41 victory over Winnipeg Dominions in the opening game of the Dominion senior girls' basketball quarter-finals here Monday night. Second in the two-game total-point series will be played tonight.

The winner leaves Wednesday for Calgary and a best-of-three semi-final. The final is slated for the West Coast the following week.

Navy Lightweight Lewis May Provide Best Bout

(By J.R.A.)
Two things the Royal Canadian Navy has are optimism and faith.

According to a note sent to HMCS Chatham from Walter Brown, sports officer of HMCS Naden at Esquimalt, it isn't Trent Ketcheson, Canadian middleweight champ who will turn in the fight of the night. The navy pins its hopes on an ordinary seaman named Nelson Lewis who is matched against Chuck Place, Prince Rupert's hammer-handed lightweight.

Lewis, who hails from Middleton, Nova Scotia tips the scales at 142 pounds and is described by his sports officer as a "very promising fighter." He has had 16 fights and has lost only one, that defeat being at the hands of Lothar Lotbowski of Prince George, present B.C. champion. In navy circles Lewis won the Inter-Divisional championship in Cornwallis, against some extremely tough opposition.

Sports officer Brown completes his description of Lewis by saying that the sailor may make "his fight the bout of the evening."

NOT WORRIED

All of which isn't phasing Chuck Place and trainer Joe Ward, Lewis' having been beaten by Lotbowski sheds a clear light on the matter. Lotbowski is the gent who ignobly assailed the lighter Bill Tsuchiya over at Burns Lake by smiting him on the temple with his elbow, a tactic frowned upon in the better circles but nevertheless sufficient to render young Tsuchiya hors de combat for that evening.

Lotbowski, looking for fresh fields to conquer sought out Joe Ward to ask him if Prince Rupert had any boxers who would oblige him. Said Joe: "Why certainly. We have a young chap down there named Chuck Place who will eat you alive."

Eilers Lose But Play For Title

VICTORIA (CP)—The Vic Van Isle Kins reign as British Columbia senior A women's basketball champions, but the team they beat out for the title...

Alberni Wins Cage Semis

RAYMOND, Alta. (CP)—Spurred by playing-coach Elmer Speidel, Alberni Athletics qualified Monday night for the Western Senior Men's Basketball final by defeating Raymond Union Jacks 76-69 to win the best-of-three semi-final series in two straight games. The British Columbia champions won the first game Saturday night 97-73.

The Athletics now meet Winnipeg Paulins for the western title. The first game is scheduled for Winnipeg Thursday night.

The Alberta champs fought hard and held a slight lead at times. But the deciding factor was Speidel, six-foot coach who rotates from guard to forward positions. He was Alberni's top scorer with 30 points.

White Group To Hunt Polar Bears

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A rare white man's polar bear hunting expedition is heading for the Arctic ice packs.

The safari includes a dozen men from California, New York and Arizona.

The party is due next Sunday at Point Barrow, northernmost tip of North America. There it will pick up Eskimo guides.

Many big game hunters come to Alaska after black and brown bears, but hunting for the big white critters of the Arctic has been almost exclusively an Eskimo pursuit.

Seven Killed In B-26 Crash

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—A giant 10-engine B-26 bomber, taking off at sunset, crashed and burst into flames at Fairchild air force base Monday, killing seven of the 10 men aboard.

The $5,000,000 bomber, the world's largest, had just left the ground when it swerved to the right, crashed off the runway and started to burn.

Somewhat, the three survivors either crawled through the flames to safety or were thrown clear. The extent of their injuries wasn't known immediately.

Dale Bids To Show Strength, Not Suit

The bidding in today's deal was good. It illustrates how far modern players have gone toward showing their general over-all strength rather than the distribution of their hands.

Mr. Dale had natural no trump distribution but he felt his hand was not quite strong enough for a no trump opening. He bid one club, not to be fancy, but to make his problem of re-bidding as simple as possible.

Mrs. Keen planned to assist clubs vigorously but she could indicate an even stronger hand by taking some other action first. Having no biddable suit outside of clubs, she also bid a three-carder, choosing diamonds because that is where her principle side strength lay.

SHOWED BALANCE

Mr. Dale, as planned, was able to bid again at the one level. This time there were four cards in his suit but it was pretty poor suit at that. To an old-timer it would have sounded like Mr. Dale surely had 10 or 11 cards in the black suits.

But when Mrs. Keen now jumped to three clubs and Mr. Dale promptly bid three no trump, she knew he had a balanced type of hand after all and that he had been merely bidding his time by his previous bids until he found out how strong his partner was.

HEART LED
Mr. Abel led the six of hearts and Mr. Champion put up the queen. The hand was in jeopardy at this moment because the club finesse had to be taken toward Mr. Champion. If he had the king of that suit and returned a heart, the contract would be defeated. But, with this particular distribution of the heart suit, Mr. Dale safeguarded the contract by playing small on the first trick and letting Mr. Champion win.

The nine of hearts was returned. Mr. Dale played the jack and it made no difference what Mr. Abel did. He had no entry outside of hearts and his partner was now out of the suit. Actually, he won with the ace and led a diamond.

Mr. Dale won and took the club finesse, which lost. However, he could control any return and win the rest.

Prairie's Natural Resources Profitable For Progressive Bands of Blood Indians

CARDSTON, Alta. (AP)—These are prosperous days for the 2,175 Blood Indians on their 353,000-acre reserve between here and Lethbridge, 40 miles northeast. Cashing in on the natural resources in their territory, the Bloods have boosted their tribal bank balance to $663,000 from $532,000 in the last year. The funds are held in trust in Ottawa, earning five per cent interest.

The tribe achieved the increase while maintaining its own social welfare and security programs, and acting as interest-free banker to stake Blood families on the way to home, farm and ranch ownership.

The band revenue for the last 12 months is estimated at $435,500, comprising $347,000 in agricultural leases issued to white farmers, $11,000 from grazing leases, $67,500 from petroleum leases and $10,000 from royalties on gravel and coal.

Apart from band funds, individual incomes brought the Bloods more than a million dollars from private agricultural operations, wages, treaty money, family allowances, old age pensions and other sources.

An estimated $322,500 was netted from wheat sales, $10,000 from rye, $11,000 from barley, $20,000 from oats, $2,500 from flax, $60,000 from hay and green feed and $102,500 from livestock sales. They also received $2,500 for furs.

That is how the money filled the tribesmen's purses. How do they spend it?

The individual incomes are enabling tribesmen to enjoy a much higher standard of living than ever before. Big sums are being used to expand farming and ranching operations.

Band funds are being put by for many purposes, including three important programs—housing, farming and cattle ranching—designed to set ambitious Blood families on the path to success. Each project is financed with band money and advances are repaid on easy, interest-free terms.

Under the ranching program, the Blood Indian council each year selects 10 applicants to launch into cattle ranching. Each must put up 10 tons of hay for winter feed, then is advanced five cows in calf by the band, on the understanding that the advance will be repaid with five steer calves in three years.

Vancouver Vote On Stores Set

VANCOUVER (CP)—The controversial question of a six-day shopping week in British Columbia's largest city will be settled by a plebiscite.

Council voted 5-2 Monday in favor of submitting the question to ratepayers. The plebiscite will be worded so as to allow retention of the present five-day work week for store employees in the event a six-day shopping week is approved. Date for the vote will be decided later.

FDR Blamed For Inviting Attack in '41

WASHINGTON (AP)—A retired U.S. rear-admiral Monday accused the late president Franklin D. Roosevelt of deliberately forcing Japan into war with the United States and on holding the Pacific fleet in Pearl Harbor to lure the Japanese into making a surprise attack on Hawaii.

Rear-Admiral Robert A. Theobald said also that the top military command knew for certain two months ahead of time that Japan planned to attack Pearl Harbor but repeatedly failed to relay any hint of this to the military commanders in Hawaii. That obviously was on Roosevelt's order, the admiral said.

This new argument on who was to blame for the Pearl Harbor disaster was advanced by Theobald in a book, "The Final Secrets of Pearl Harbor," copyrighted in the weekly magazine U.S. News and World Report. The magazine obtained the right to print the entire text of the book in its current issue, prior to release in book form by the Devin-Adair Company of New York, April 28.

Eight official investigations of the Dec. 7, 1941, attack on Hawaii have thrown most of the blame on the army and navy commanders on the islands, Lt.-Gen. Walter C. Short and Admiral Husband E. Kimmel. Neither was court-martialed but they were relieved from duty and retired from service.

Theobald commanded a flotilla of destroyers in Pearl Harbor when the Japanese attacked. Theobald's book draws heavily on intercepted secret Japanese messages which he said were known to top officials in Washington but never relayed to Pearl Harbor.

CPR Earnings Slightly Down

MONTREAL (CP)—Net earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in 1953 amounted to $28,894,572 compared with $28,930,780 the previous year, the company's annual report showed Monday.

Net earnings were equal to $2.05 a share on 13,806,995 shares of ordinary stock outstanding, against $2.61 a share on 13,801,015 shares at the end of 1952. Dividends of $1.50 a share were declared on ordinary stock.

FIRST AVENUE AND MCBRIDE STREET

Above the house where you live...

... there's a new horizon of sky and space to challenge every adventurous, air-minded young Canadian. That air is free—so long as we keep it so! The Royal Canadian Air Force's target is freedom of our skies. The young man who enrolls for Aircrew training in the RCAF makes his target "freedom".

In the Royal Canadian Air Force, he will

- develop resourcefulness, initiative, self reliance.
- broaden his knowledge and develop his character with travel and adventure.
- receive the benefit of top aviation training.
- enjoy good pay and working conditions.
- earn the prestige of officer status.

and

- have the personal satisfaction of serving his country.

You've got to be good—and if you have the necessary qualifications, you, too, can become a member of the Aircrew team in the RCAF and benefit from the specialized training in aviation. Have a chat with the RCAF Career Counsellor at the address in the coupon—or mail the coupon.
