Referendum on Municipal Buildings Largest of 4 To Go Before Electors

This is the first of a series of referendums explaining the four referendums to be placed before the electors next Thursday.)

By DICK AYRES

As voting for a mayor, aldermen, three parks board commissioners and two school board trustees, voters are asked their opinion on questions at the polls next Thursday.

The referendum asks if citizens are in favor of a special mill levy to be added to the tax rate for municipal buildings.

The referendum is merely an expression of opinion and is not binding on council.

It is not necessary under the Municipal Act that the council hold a referendum when it wishes to set up a fund for a project, holding a referendum is a way of getting an expression of opinion from the voters.

taxpayers. If it wished, council could include it in the new mill rate when it is brought down.

Largest assessment asked in referendums concerning the addition of mills to the tax rate, is the referendum on new municipal buildings.

Alderman Ray McLean, at a meeting of the Prince Rupert Civic Affairs Association earlier this week said it was decided the fund is necessary after it was brought to the attention of council that cost of needed repairs to the present city hall and firehall were so extensive that a start on a municipal buildings fund would be more advisable. Repairs have been deferred pending the outcome of the referendum.

Ald. McLean said it was impossible to start planning new city buildings until 1955 when the city's present debt of $160,000 would be wiped out. By that time, he said, if two mills a year (with a mill being worth approximately $6,500) is set aside in a special fund the city would have about $28,000 to make a start on needed buildings. By that time also, the city's borrowing power would be completely restored.

"The basis of determining borrowing power in accordance with the Municipal Act is 20 per cent of the average of the last three year's assessments plus the value of any public utilities whose rates have not been pledged," Ald. McLean said.

Heart Drug Could Save Many Lives

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Blood-thinning drugs might have saved 640,000 Americans who died of heart attacks in the last 10 years, a life every eight minutes, a physician said today.

The drugs, anticoagulants, help dissolve or prevent blood clots which block the main artery to the heart. Dicumarol and heparin are main examples.

How they are proved their lifesaving ability was described to the American Medical Association by Dr. E. Sterling of Miami.

In 10 years, probably 8,000,000 Americans have been stricken with these heart attacks, he said.

"If anticoagulants had been used in all cases, the death rate would have been reduced from 24 to 16 per cent, which means 640,000 lives might have been saved. Actually, less than one-fifth of the cases were treated, but even so at least 100,000 probably have been saved."

The drugs can work if given before, or even after some heart attacks, Dr. Nichol said. The heart attacks often give warning signals, hours or even weeks before the damaging blockade of the heart. Pains are a main warning signal.

The drugs must be used carefully, to prevent haemorrhage from too-thin blood, Dr. Nichol said.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A verdict of homicide was returned Wednesday in the death of three-year-old Mawdisley on Nov. 26.

The body was found face down in a gully, with a pool of blood and inches of water in a gully at the home of her grandmother.

Death was caused by drowning and the body bore several wounds, inflicted, investigators said, by a blunt instrument.

A 10-year-old girl is held in a detention home in connection with the death.

The girl was reported to have been playing in the bush with the body child and at the time of the homicide.

Operators Reject Bennett Bid

By The Canadian Press
VICTORIA.—A union spokesman said Wednesday that the operators have rejected Premier W. A. C. Bennett's proposal for mediation of the three-month-old strike of interior lumber workers.

George Mitchell, secretary-treasurer of B.C. district No. 1, International Woodworkers of America (CIO-CCL), made the announcement following the fourth and apparently, last union-management talk with government representatives.

However, the union has accepted another proposal, from the northern interior operators, that calls for a meeting in Prince George Thursday. The union added that the operators will have to produce a better offer than the proposed three-cent-an-hour increase made recently.

For the first time the details of Premier Bennett's proposal to mediate the strike of 3,500 men to back up demands for higher wages in the northern and southern interior were released to the press.

Mr. Mitchell said the union accepted, but management rejected, a proposal whereby operators and union would each appoint four men who would then elect one of their number or try to agree on an outside mediator to act as mediator in the dispute.

The mediator would try to bring management and labor together.

Mr. Mitchell said management rejected the idea because "they were afraid" and could not justify their case.

The union originally asked for an 18-cent hourly wage boost to the present basic wage of $1.29 1/2.

Police Seek Missing Native Youth

Police are still investigating the disappearance of Jefferey Russ, 21, who has been missing since the morning of Nov. 8.

Russ, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rosiland Russ, Skidegate, was reported absent from the fishing vessel West Jack after other crew members returned from town to the Atlin Fisheries dock and discovered the boat unoccupied. Before the crew came upon town, Russ was preparing for bed, Vernon Jones, cousin of Russ, told police.

Dragging operations around the boat and in the area have produced no results.

VIOLETTE ELVIN, 26, of London, ballet star with Sadler's Wells Ballet Company, was left behind when the company passed through Vancouver on tour. She suffered a torn ligament while dancing the "Coronation Ballet." Miss Elvin, who will be out of action for two months, is shown looking at photos of herself in a magazine while resting in hospital.

'Unfit' Veal Being Eaten Daily in Greater Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Province says in a newspaper story that large amounts of veal which would be condemned as "unfit for human consumption" by federal government inspection are being eaten daily in Greater Vancouver.

Reporter Bruce Larsen, who conducted a survey for his newspaper, said Wednesday a double standard of inspection poses a problem.

There is federal inspection and Vancouver city inspection, the latter, he said, with lower standards.

Some veal, he added, passes all inspection, and another problem is purchases by citizens from private sources for food locker storage.

The reporter saw two calves pass city inspection after a federal inspector said he would condemn them. Two similar calves were condemned in federal inspection.

Battle Against 'Horror' Comics Begins in Victoria

VICTORIA (CP)—The B.C. Parent-Teachers Federation has been asked to take up the matter of "horror" comic books available to younger readers.

Jack Dempsey Voted Greatest Prize Fighter

MILAN (AP)—Jack Dempsey, the Manassa Mauler who held the world heavyweight crown from 1919 to 1926, was voted the greatest prize fighter of all time in a poll of boxing journals in 22 countries.

Results of the poll were published Wednesday in the Italian weekly magazine Tempo.

Dempsey was followed by four other Americans—Joe Louis, Sugar Ray Robinson, Henry Armstrong and Gene Tunney.

The request was made by the Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council which is up in arms over the flood of crime comics which, it says, are seeping into local news stands and magazine outlets.

It asked the federation to bring the matter to the attention of the attorney-general's department.

The protest has been joined by Stan Wright, managing partner here of Lovicks News, which handles 200,000 comics per month on Vancouver Island, who said he had cancelled 64 "horror" comics that were being shipped to him.

Laniel Arrives

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (CP)—Premier Joseph Laniel of France arrived in Bermuda by air today for the Big Three conference opening tomorrow.

Parks Board Trio, Two Trustees Named

Three parks board commissioners and two school board trustees were declared elected by acclamation when city clerk R. W. Long announced at noon today that nominations for the December 10 civic elections were closed.

Re-elected without opposition were former commissioners Robert L. Eby and Charles P. Balagno. The latter filed his nomination papers yesterday afternoon, proposed by Pat Forman and seconded by Art Murray. Also elected to the parks board for the years 1954 and 1955 was Duncan McRae, proposed by R. L. Eby and seconded by W. F. Stone.

Returned to the school board by acclamation were trustees Joe Scott and A. J. Dominato. Mr. Dominato's nomination papers were signed by W. D. Lambie and T. R. Boulter.

Facing the Prince Rupert electors next Thursday will be the choice of a mayor from two candidates, the choice of four aldermen from 11 candidates and the task of answering four referendums.

George Edwin Hills, secretary-manager of Kalen Co-Operative association filed his papers yesterday afternoon to make it a two-way contest for the mayoralty seat, against Mayor Harold S. Whalen who is seeking re-election. Mr. Hills' papers were signed by Kenneth F. Harding and Arthur S. Nickerson.

Four seats are vacated this year by Aldermen George B. Casey, Mike Krueger, John Currie and Herbert F. Glassey, all of whom are seeking re-election.

Ald. Krueger filed nomination papers yesterday, proposed by L. M. Greene. Ald. Glassey filed his papers this morning signed by Mary V. MacLaren and Jack Mussalem.

Running against the four aldermen are August S. Wallin, carpenter at Prince Rupert Drydock whose papers were signed by J. E. Crowe and R. E. Johnson; Phillip Lyons, proposed by M. E. Brechin and seconded by Astrid Strand; Walter J. Smith, Norman Bellis, J. H. Mair, James W. Prusky and Thomas H. Elliott.

Voting will be held at the Civic Centre, Thursday, December 10 between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Vancouver Gets 24th Rainy Day

The weather worm has turned at last, and Vancouverites have stopped pointing to Prince Rupert as "rain-town."

Today Vancouver chalked up its 24th consecutive day with measurable rainfall.

Today's rain down south came with another Pacific disturbance which brought tight snow to many points in the interior.

The system moved inland during the day, bringing partial clearing along the coast in the afternoon. Another weaker storm should reach the coast late tomorrow.

North Coast Region: Variable cloudiness today. Cloudy and a little cooler on Friday with occasional rain ending in the afternoon. Winds northwesterly 25 in exposed areas, otherwise light. Low tonight and high Friday at Sandspit 36 and 45, Prince Rupert 36 and 42.

No Replacement For Gunderson, Says Liberal

OTTAWA (CP)—James A. Byrne (L—Kootenay East) said Wednesday in the Commons that members of the British Columbia Social Credit government know so little about Social Credit monetary theory that none of them is able to take over the finance portfolio.

He said the B.C. government is unable to find a replacement for Finance Minister Einar Gunderson, defeated in a by-election last week. Mr. Gunderson himself was an "orthodox" finance minister, Mr. Byrne said.

BARBARA McCHIRICK, 18, recently selected Orange Bowl Queen for 1954, prepares to indulge in the kind of two-for-one activity Florida is famous for, as she kicks a football off a diving board in Miami.

Chevrier Orders Probe Of PWA Charge

OTTAWA (CP)—Transport Minister Chevrier today told the Commons he has asked for an investigation into claims that an Air Transport Board official used improper tactics in inquiring into operations of Pacific Western Airlines.

Russ Baker, PWA president charged Tuesday at Vancouver that an ATB inspector had "walked off" with books of Coastal Air Services, a subsidiary.

British Columbia Common members today received telegrams of protest from PWA.

Mr. Chevrier told them the officer involved is "efficient and competent" and has made investigations for many years.

He had ordered an investigation and would later give the House as much information as he could. However, this might be somewhat restricted because of legal proceedings in the case.

Royal Couple Near Equator

ABOARD S.S. GOTHIC (CP)—The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh, voyaging toward the Fiji Islands, are expected to cross the equator at midday, ship's time, Friday, and may watch the traditional ceremony of King Neptune being received on the escorting cruiser, HMS Sheffield.

No ceremony is expected to be held aboard the Gothic as most of those on board have already crossed the line. The Queen did so in HMS Vanguard on her South African trip in 1947.

At noon today, Gothic was 130 miles north of the Galapagos Islands, which straddle the equator.

Bartlett Ill

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hugh Bartlett, 40, member of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's morning program "The Happy Gang," was reported seriously ill in hospital here today. Nature of his illness was not disclosed.

GRAND FINALE OF A GRAND CONCERT was this scene taken Sunday night at the conclusion of the Elks variety show "Gags and Gals." The entire cast was on stage to take bows as emcee Harley Lewis (at microphone) said "thank you" to all. Part of the standing-room-only audience shows in the foreground. The show, which brought warm applause from the crowd, was the first of a proposed winter series to be staged by the Elks with proceeds for the lodge's various projects for children.

As I See It

Reluctant Twins

HERE inside the parliament of Canada you see the great ever-present, rarely-mentioned fact that is at once the tragedy and the hope of this great country.

We are still "two nations warring within the bosom of a single state" in one sense of the words, as we were a century and a quarter ago when a great British statesman, Lord Durham, wrote those words.

True, Canada has long since achieved what a great visiting Frenchman, a century later, described as "modus vivendi without cordiality."

The French writer, Andre Siegfried, means that the two great lingual sections of Canada live together like a married couple, both of whom would prefer a divorce, but who are nevertheless destined to live under the same roof, till death do them part.

YOU are not inside parliament for a week until you hear on the quiet how many more English-speaking Canadians have lost their jobs in the past year, and how many more French-speaking Canadians have taken over those jobs.

It is, of course, only partly true. But few of those who voice the complaints ever add the main reason—though not necessarily the only reason:

That more and more of the civil service jobs call for a working knowledge of both languages. Those of us who are born and brought up in English-speaking homes rarely take the pains to learn French. We may struggle through enough French to "get by" the high school or university examinations. But as for really learning the language well enough to carry on even a simple telephone conversation or write a letter—no, we simply do not do it.

But we kick when the French-speaking Canadians take over the public jobs in a country which is a two-language country.

The French-speaking Canadians who get the jobs also, of course, speak English.

But it is a fact also that, regardless of the theory of our constitution, the public business of Canada is done in English.

About a third of the MPs are born into French-speaking families but most of them speak English in the House, for the obvious reason that they wish to be understood.

It is a sad sight to see the exodus when a French-speaking MP begins to speak in his own tongue.

LAST NIGHT I talked with people who know the background of Premier Duplessis's absolute rejection of the proposal for federal money grants to Quebec universities.

The financial position of McGill and other Quebec universities is so desperate that they literally may have to close their doors unless they can get assistance from the national treasury.

There is an overwhelming demand for such assistance from the western provinces.

But the government of Quebec says "no" and it would be folly to ignore the fact that it means "no." It fears the loss of French culture and fears this is the thin edge of the wedge.

It is on the background of all these truths that you begin to understand why the present Prime Minister has such a unique hold on the affections of the Canadian people; and why the most important event of the election of 1953 may yet turn out to be that George Drew, the Ontario-born, Ontario-bred Conservative leader, learned French well enough to speak in Quebec in French.

Aircraft Engineer Salvages Plane; Lands, Takes Off at Seal Cove Base

By LARRY STANWOOD

When Harold Kellough, base engineer for Queen Charlotte Airlines at Seal Cove first saw the cracked-up fuselage of the small Cub airplane on the beach, his mind began working overtime.

A year later, his brain-child had grown into the reality of a completed, fully assembled two-place plane which, recently took Kellough and friend Bill Tocker on a 6,000-mile, cross-Canada trouble-free trip for $120.

Just over a year ago, an American flyer was forced down in his Super-Cub near Butedale. Shortly afterwards, Kellough decided to have a look at the wreck. When he located it, he made another decision:

"I thought if I could only somehow get it to Prince Rupert and work on it, I felt it could be rebuilt."

And that's exactly what Kellough did. There was a lot of red tape to wade through in getting the plane, but finally the Canadian government released it to him as aircraft parts.

Placing almost every moment of spare time at the disposal of his new project, Kellough began the arduous task of disassembling every part. Sea water had penetrated everything for the plane had been covered several times by high tides. The engine, instruments—all metal parts—were rusting badly, but finally the cleaning job was done.

Among several new parts, a propeller had to be obtained as well as the under-carriage. Kellough had decided not to equip his little plane with floats. By October, the 135-horse-powered craft was ready to take off on wheels. Where? On the Seal Cove tarmac, of course. The concrete 600-foot rampart used by amphibious planes as a loading deck is the only level stretch of terra firma in these parts.

And Kellough found that his "new" plane could take off in 150 feet at 35 miles an hour.

After several test flights, the engineer who first gained his commercial pilot's licence in 1937 and Tocker, who had helped Kellough with much of the work, planned their cross-country trip. Kellough relates his experiences partly thus:

"We planned to visit Floyd Glass (formerly with QCA here, who now lives near Prince Rupert). He was always bragging about the goose-shooting there so we were going to put him on the spot."

"There were geese alright, thousands of them, but there were almost as many American hunters. The geese were shy and the good weather kept the birds high in the air all the time."

"We didn't get a single goose."

From Prince Albert, the flying holidays landed in Saskatoon for fuel, but as they were hungry and there was no place to eat near the airport, they flew to Regina.

From Regina the pair flew to Neepawa, Manitoba, Kellough's home town. Other places, in their quest for both sightseeing and hunting included The Pas, Flin Flon, Edmonton and Jasper.

"On our way to Jasper we ran into a snow storm near the mountains. We turned back but didn't want to return all the way to Edmonton, so we looked for a place to land nearby."

Their improvised "strip" was the Jasper-Edmonton highway and they taxied to a stop in front of a lone filling station.

The station attendant rushed out to meet his customers, then stood agape as he saw the plane parked near the gas pumps. He threw up his hands, managed to say:

"Now, I've seen everything."

Throughout their tour, if there was no airport where they wanted to land, they made use of the natural flat surfaces of the prairie roads, farmers' fields or just the plain, bald prairie.

Like Tocker exclaimed to Kellough near the beginning of their flight after crossing the Rockies, heading east to Calgary:

"Man, look at the miles and miles of landing strips!"

In Jasper, an easy landing was made on the neat, hard earth runways. But after landing the flyers were told to park their machine in a corral. This precautionary measure was advised because, they were told, "the elk are so plentiful here they'll come at night and literally eat up your plane."

"Near McBride, B.C., we ran into another storm. We sat down in a small cleared patch back of a homesteader's yard. The farmer met us happily and offered his horse to pull us out of the muck. We thanked him, but did not need it."

All through their prairie flight, the pair met with excellent flying weather. On their return along the northern route, however, several storms were encountered in the mountains, especially along the Skeena.

Kellough, who graduated from a flying school in Winnipeg in 1937, took to mechanics more than to piloting. He's "only log," he says, but for the last 16 years never has been very far away from an aircraft. He served as flight engineer overseas at the outbreak of the Second World War, worked in wartime aircraft factories, and spent some 10 years with a mining exploration company in the Northwest Territories.

He's been with QCA here for the last two years.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

The report around Parliament Hill circles is that Igor Gouzenko, central figure around whom the Washington-Ottawa cause celebre has revolved during the past week, has written another book.

It is said to be a manuscript close to 200,000 words in length. Its subject is said to be Maxim Gorki, the great Russian revolutionary novelist. One of the most picturesque of the "old Bolsheviks" of the turbulent Lenin-Trotsky era, Gorki is reported to have been made the subject of an elaborate critical analysis by the former Soviet embassy cypher clerk whom the federal government has had under mounted police protection for almost seven years now.

The sources which tell of Gouzenko's recent literary labors assert that he has a publisher who has been engaged to bring out his book. The understanding is that it will be between stiff covers in time to catch the Christmas trade.

If this story is correct—and it comes from quarters which usually are most reliable—it is a safe wager that the publicity which the ex-employee of the Soviet embassy here has received during the past fortnight will not diminish public interest in him as an author—but very much the reverse.

Following his exposure of the world-wide Russian espionage ring some six years ago, Gouzenko wrote a book which was mainly autobiographical. He was so dramatically in the public eye at the time that his sale was substantial. His earnings from it are reported to have reached $50,000—with a like sum being paid subsequently by Hollywood for the movie rights.

A new book by Gouzenko, if it arrived on the market on the heels of the bizarre international situation in which its author has been the central figure, conceivable would be the subject of a wide interest which its sales could be expected to reflect. The recent publicity would be particularly valuable in the American market.

Lower Down Payment on Homes Urged

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons' speech debate today ended what is expected to be its last day after three weeks of speeches on the state of the nation.

Seven back-benchers took part in the debate Wednesday, carrying it toward votes expected late today on two opposition motions of non-confidence. A CCF non-confidence motion was defeated last week 156 to 36.

The end of the debate will clear the way for consideration of government legislation.

The proposed measure, dealing with housing, was referred to Wednesday by the Broadview, Sask. member who said the main weakness in the proposed legislation is the requirement for a

This would make the down payment at least $1,400 on the cheapest house available.

He suggested the down payment should be 10 per cent on all houses up to $10,000.

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, December 3rd—I call it a "streamlined" cereal... it's so quick and easy—yet so right in every way! Yes... 5 Minute "CREAM OF WHEAT" streamlines your figure—because as dieting authorities say, a good cereal at breakfast gives you energy and keeps you from getting over-hungry during the day—and thus over-eating! Streamlines getting breakfast—because it cooks to perfect smoothness in five minutes of boiling. And

"Cream of Wheat" streamlines your problem of getting the whole family to eat a good hot breakfast—everyone enjoys it so much. Look for the package with the familiar trademark "Cream of Wheat" and the smiling chef—both trademarks of Cream of Wheat (Canada), Ltd. and Reg. Canadian and U.S. Pat. Off.

Did You Ever Stop To Think how much color harmony adds to our modern standards of gracious living? The FACE-ELLE people must have known this when they introduced tissue handkerchiefs in dainty pastel colors. These tissues are beautifully boxed in a smart tweed design and with a cellophane window showing the colored tissues inside. (You ask for "Face-elle en Pastels.") And I've also discovered a wonderful bathroom tissue that comes in a variety of tints to match the color scheme of your bathroom. It's Nancy Triple-Soft Tissue—"Triple Soft" refers to the 3-ply thickness of this deluxe facial quality tissue. You can identify Nancy Tissue by the wrapper with the distinctive red ends.

Let A Famous Chef do your cooking for you. Let the Heinz chef take over in your kitchen these busy December days. Serve HEINZ OVEN-BAKED BEANS as a main dish or an ingredient—in dozens of different ways. Heinz chefs take no short-cuts with their famous beans. They're delicious. Baked until every golden-brown morsel is ready to burst with tenderness—then steeped in spicy sauces. No wonder Heinz Oven-Baked Beans are such a family favorite... all five varieties—Heinz Beans with Pork, Beans in Tomato Sauce, Boston Style Beans, Beans with Sliced Wonders or Red Kidney Beans with Pork.

Chest Colds Can Be Treacherous! That's why there's no argument in our family! Whoever member of the family gets one, is put to bed, and the ever-comforting, ever-reliable MENTHOLATUM taken from its star position in the medicine cabinet. Smoothed liberally on throat, chest and back—it's massaged in until the skin is glowing. Then a well-warmed flannel cloth... and soon, soon, Mentholum's fast-acting ingredients are helping to loosen tightness and ease soreness. Inflamed bronchial passages are soothed by its medicated vapors. Send for a GENUINE FREE SAMPLE yourself—right now! Write Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.

"Dressed For A Party" means the same thing for a little girl, a teenager, a business girl, or you yourself—everything must be perfect! Yet I've seen the smartest outfit ruined by poor zippers. That's why it's so all-important to use LIGHTNING FASTENERS in your party costumes. They come in a range of colors to match all the lovely new shades—and in styles to suit delicate silks, velvets and satins. Every Lightning Fastener has the famed "automatic lock"—it stops just where you want it—yet slides easily under the touch of your fingers.

For Party Perfection—use Lightning Fasteners, every time!

DISTRICT NEWS

TERRACE.—Decision to set the weekly store closing day at Monday instead of Wednesday was made at this week's meeting of the Terrace Retail Merchants' Association.

The new store closing day, due mainly to the lack of freight entering the village on Mondays, is effective Jan. 11. The merchants also agreed on Christmas store hours. Stores will remain open until 9 p.m. the Saturday previous to Christmas, and until 6 p.m. for four days prior to Christmas and New Year's.

TERRACE.—Plans for a forthcoming dance were discussed when the Agricultural Association met here in the Oddfellows' Hall.

The membership endorsed the slate of officers recommended by a nominating committee, and several fall fair prizes were awarded.

TERRACE.—A report on the North Central District Council, by N. E. Winter, Hazelton high school principal, high school Sunday's meeting of the Terrace District Teachers' Association.

The host Terrace teachers staged a varied program, organized by elementary school principal O. K. Bennett, including choral work by a high school girls' group directed by Mrs. P. Pendergast.

Allison-Jerstad Vows Said At Home Wedding Rites

Prince Rupert's newest newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Allison, who were married Saturday at a pretty wedding, at the home of the bride's parents, 412 Eighth avenue East.

The bride, Eileen Sonja, is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Jerstad and the groom, Robert James, is son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Allison of White Rock, B.C.

The Rev. L. G. Sieber officiated at the ceremony for which the bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of traditional white, fashioned of chantilly lace and nylon net. The princess line gown featured sweetheart neckline outlined in pearls, with notched inset and Peter Pan collar and full skirt of lace with gores of net. A Coronet head-dress, also trimmed with pearls, held her silk embroidered net veil and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Miss Mae Newton was bridesmaid, wearing a pretty frock of pink net, with strapless bodice topped by a jacket of matching net and a bouffant skirt. Her lowers were pink and white carnations.

Mr. Patrick L. Porter was best man. Baskets of carnations and mums and an arch trimmed with evergreens decked the bride's home for the reception, at which Mrs. Jerstad assisted the bridal party in receiving, wearing an afternoon dress of navy blue with white trimming and pink carnations en corsage.

The newlyweds have taken up residence in Prince Rupert.

Nova Scotian Woman Mayor Inherited Municipal Interest

KENTVILLE, N.S. (P)—Gladys M. Porter, who becomes mayor of this Annapolis Valley town with the new year, is going to take a rest before "starting things cooking" at town hall.

Defeating Mayor Roy W. Rottler by 128 votes in Tuesday's civic election, the 53-year-old Mrs. Porter returned to the position she held as chief magistrate for two terms starting in 1946. She will be the only woman mayor in the Maritimes.

The campaign was quiet, unlike the hectic battle in 1950 when Mrs. Porter was defeated by Mr. Rottler, previously a member of her administration.

"Neither side made any promises but stood on their record," said Wyman Porter, husband of the mayor-elect who says he'll have to start calling himself "Mr. Gladys Porter" again. He is a newspaper man.

The vote Tuesday was 903 for Mrs. Porter against 775 for Mr. Rottler.

Mrs. Porter, who served as councillor for three years before winning the 1946 mayoralty contest, says she doesn't consider herself a "great leader" or "great executive."

"I don't want to be either. I do want to serve Kentville. I have tried to do that in every way possible."

Kinsmen Party Pack Drive Gets Underway Monday

Final plans for the Kinsmen Christmas party pack campaign were made at a meeting of the service club last night.

Committee chairman Hal Newman reported the party packs would be distributed to team captains today for the campaign which opens next Monday. During that week, nine teams will cover sections of the city, selling the fancy nut packages, proceeds of which will finance the Miller Bay Christmas party.

Mickey Fudger, chairman of the party committee, reported over $200 would be spent on the project this year. In addition to the usual treats and small gifts, two electric trains will be presented to the hospital. Mounted on movable stands, they will be used in the two boys' wards at the hospital.

The Christmas party will be held December 20, with Kinsmen and "Santa" distributing treats to the youngsters. Gifts will be presented Christmas morning.

Art Williamson, a guest at the meeting, appealed for Kinsmen support of the Little League Baseball Association. He told the club of the work and aims of the association and urged Kinsmen to sponsor a team in the league next year.

The club also discussed plans for their own Christmas party to be held December 16.

Teams set up by chairman Hal Newman for the Christmas Party Pack campaign are as follows: Section One, Roy Paulson, George Levas, John Banman; section two, Frank Dafeo, Stan Saville; section 5, Bill Bond, Vince Dodd, Bill Long; section 6 (team one) Curly Barbour, Carl Sauer, Bus Johnston (team two) Jack Cross, Wally Isherwood, Harold Leverett; section 7 (team one) Hal Newman, Eric Janes, Tommy Kidd (team two) Harry Shear-down, Jim Mellor, Mickey Fudger; section 8 (team one) Doug Jelstad, Harold Thomas, Ralph Anderson (team two) John Fitzgerald, Vern Scherk, Bill Dyer.

Grandma Sharpshooter Wins Award For Bagging Wolves

By The Canadian Press

BLIND RIVER, Ont. — Algoma's top woman wolf-killer is eagerly awaiting the day she can add another notch to her rifle butt.

Mrs. Roy Beharrel, trim and whose appearance belies her age (she's a grandmother) is now beginning to look out and enjoy life, says the sharpshooting farmer's wife.

Known throughout this northern Ontario countryside for her prowess in killing wolves, she doesn't go hunting for them. They seem to come to her, with fatal results.

WOLF KILLER BADGE

The Canadian Tourist Association presented her with a wolf killer's badge following her third wolf kill Oct. 12. She is one of the few women so honored. Oct. 29 she got her fourth wolf in a nearby field as it attempted to prey on the Beharrel sheep flock.

"I never shot anything bigger than groundhogs and squirrels before these wolves," Mrs. Beharrel admits.

The former Agnes Draper, born at Iron Bridge, first learned to shoot as a girl of 10. At that time her father had a maple sugar bush where the children shot squirrels while he was making sugar.

Mrs. Beharrel shot her first wolf back in March of 1951. She spotted the sneaking predator through a dense fog behind the farmhouse and stopped him cold less than 100 yards from the barn.

"REAL SCARE"

Her second wolf, shot in March of 1953, gave her a "real scare." Her young adopted son Wayne called out that he could not shoot the big grey "dog" off the road. She ran out to find a wolf on the road with the child. Grabbing her 30.30 rifle, she killed it with one shot, and dragged the supposed dead animal into the house. The wolf, revived by the warm kitchen, began growling and snapping. In sheer panic, Mrs. Beharrel grabbed a hockey stick which was handy and clubbed it until it stopped moving.

THREAT TO FLOCKS

The Beharrels live on a 160-acre farm near Dean Lake. They have about 70 sheep in their flock. With a thoroughbred ewe costing $75, three wolves must be shot at the present bounty of $25 in order to pay for the loss of one ewe.

Hungry wolves have played havoc with their flock. "The few I have killed still do not cover our losses to these hungry, preying beasts," Mrs. Beharrel said.

Norwegian Ship Officers Call Strike

OSLO (CP) — Norwegian ship officers went on strike today in a walkout which may tie up most of Norway's merchant navy, backbone of its economy.

Deck officers complain they are not making as much as men in the engine room.

Only a few ships were involved in the initial walkout but shipping officials estimated that at least 400 vessels may be idle within a month.

EXPULSED BY REDS from China were these two members of the Roman Catholic Order of Foreign Missions. Rev. Antonio Bonin (left) and Rev. Alphonse Caouette of Matane, Que., have reached Hong Kong and will soon return to the order's headquarters in Montreal. Rev. Bonin has served in Manchuria since 1929 and Rev. Caouette since 1936.

Claims He Killed
Under Orders

KLAGENFURT, Austria (CP)— A 29-year-old Yugoslav has claimed he acted under British secret service orders in the murder of Mrs. Simone de Ridder of Belgium on the Vienna-Ostend express 10 days ago, police said today.

The police statement said the Yugoslav, Stefan Matusevic, "confessed to the broad outlines" of the killing, but laid the main blame on an unnamed accomplice. He is demanding to be taken to British intelligence officers on whose "secret instructions" he acted, the statement said.

Mrs. de Ridder, 51, was the mother of Olympic skating star Micheline Lannoy. She was pushed off the express near Kitzingen, Bavaria.

Sometimes Aces Must Be Discarded To Make Bid

A takeout double after an opening bid of one in a major suit usually shows ability to play the other major. Mr. Masters lacked that ability in today's deal so he chose to overcall instead of double.

With as much as three aces, Mr. Dale didn't feel he could stay out of the auction. His partner's failure to make a take out double made it extremely unlikely that there was a good heart fit. His actual two diamond bid was a forward-going action and was so construed by Mr. Masters.

To test out the possibility of a no trump game, Mr. Masters bid two spades to show a stopper in that suit. With this information, Mr. Dale bid three no trump.

The contract was no laydown. In view of his awkward singleton in clubs Mr. Dale had to handle the situation just right. The king of spades was opened and he let it win. He also ducked the following leads of the queen and jack of spades, on which Mr. Meek discarded clubs. Winning any one of the first three tricks would have resulted in defeat.

At trick four Mr. Abel had no better lead than another spade and this was won with the ace on the board while Mr. Dale discarded the ace of clubs.

All of dummy's clubs were now run, getting everybody down to four cards. Mr. Meek's hand didn't matter. Dummy was left with queen and one in each red suit. Mr. Dale had a doubleton ace in each red suit. On the run of the clubs Mr. Abel had been forced to let go of his good spade and his last four cards had to be king and one in each red suit.

On the bidding, Mr. Abel figured to have both red kings so at trick 10 Mr. Dale led to his ace of diamonds and put Mr. Abel in with another diamond lead. The resultant lead away from the king of hearts gave him two tricks in that suit—and his contract.

Canada Wins Wheat Crown

CHICAGO (AP)—Canada Sunday won the wheat crown of North America for the 25th time at the International Livestock Exposition.

The new wheat king is Fred W. Hallworth, 46, of Taber, Alta., who took up farming only three years ago after 25 years in electrical work. His "Reward" variety of hard red spring wheat was selected as the most nearly perfect of hundreds of samples entered.

CONSTABLE G. E. Barclay has been charged with manslaughter in the death of 14-year-old Garfield Belfon who was shot in the basement of a Toronto dental supply company. Barclay said he was investigating a burglary in the basement of the building Sunday night when a crate was apparently pushed toward him, knocking him backward. As he fell his gun discharged. Three alleged companions of the boy have been remanded on charges of breaking and entering.

Council passed a police committee recommendation that 20 steel chairs be bought for the police court at a cost of $160 to replace the old ones.

A report by Community Ratepayers association drawing to council's attention the health hazard resulting from defective septic tanks in the 500 block Section 8, was referred to the health committee for investigation.

New Vaccine Developed in Toronto Used on Troops to Combat Influenza

TORONTO (CP)—The development of an influenza vaccine by the Connaught Laboratories in Toronto may someday make it possible for the general public to be inoculated against the virus.

Although it is not yet ready for general use, the vaccine has been used on armed services. Results are still being assessed. Last winter Dr. George Dempster, who is responsible for the production of the vaccine at the Connaught Laboratories, inoculated 100 nurses and 80 medical students who had volunteered for tests. The 180 persons showed an appreciable increase in the antibody levels of their blood but because there was no influenza epidemic in Canada this year Dr. Dempster was unable to make any important assessment of the protection afforded by the inoculations.

The Connaught Laboratories have been producing the vaccine since the pandemic outbreak of influenza in 1918-19. Latest factor in the fight against the "flu" is the haemagglutination test. The test shows the antibody level of the subject's blood.

SENSATIONAL NEW "INSTANT STARTS BREAKFAST VOGUE FOR "CUSTOM-MADE" COFFEE

Marvellous 100% Real Coffee Made
"Strong, Medium or Mild"
Right in the Cup

At breakfast you could always get your toast light or dark—your bacon medium or well-done—your eggs 2, 3 or 4-minute boiled. But your coffee? Well, you just got coffee!

The coffee might be too strong for you—it tasted bitter. Or too mild for you—it tasted weak. But if you were in the minority—too bad! After all, one pot of coffee can't satisfy everybody's taste.

But then came the revolution—the "Coffee Revolution"! Now the most forgotten "little man" can get just the cup of coffee he likes! (No matter if the mother-in-law can't stand such strong coffee. Or if Cousin Joe from New Jersey demands it "blacker than your hat!")

Seriously, though, it's the women who make the coffee who brought on the revolution! It was they who discovered the wonderful new Instant Chase & Sanborn, and started serving it for breakfast.

First of all, here's 100% real coffee that really tastes like it. Chase & Sanborn scientists saw to that! They took on the job of producing an "instant" worthy of Chase & Sanborn's 100-year-old coffee reputation. They never relaxed till they had succeeded in extracting from the finest coffee beans the color and texture—the rich robust flavor and aroma of freshly ground coffee.

Next, housewives decided that this definitely superior "instant" plainly belongs whenever and wherever coffee is served. And then, everybody caught on to the other important benefit. Cups of Instant Chase & Sanborn can be "custom-made" to each person's taste. Good-bye to the old one-pot handicap!

Now it's "How do you like your COFFEE?"
Made just the right strength for each individual taste, "custom-made" cups of new Instant Chase & Sanborn are fast becoming a breakfast vogue among Canadian families.

Farewell to Grounds
For the housewife, Instant Chase & Sanborn means the end of that dreadful after-meal chore of scouring a stained coffee pot and disposing of coffee grounds. Here is the modern, dainty, trouble-free way of serving fine coffee.

Big Savings, Too
Budgeteers are excited about the savings on Instant Chase & Sanborn too. The regular size jar makes about the same number of cups as a pound of regular ground coffee. Yet it sells up to 40% less than a pound of regular coffee.

THIS REALLY IS MY COFFEE!

Now!...the Flavor and Aroma of Freshly Ground Coffee Instantly

New Instant Chase & Sanborn is 100% real coffee—and tastes like it. Rousing, rich-flavored coffee—ready with its magical lift the moment you add the hot water.
