Six Jailed as New Riots Hit Tense British Guiana

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (Reuters)—Police strengthened their patrols in an atmosphere of mounting tension in this British colony today after 300 demonstrators met police tear gas with a barrage of stones and bottles in a riot Wednesday night.

Waves of gas finally broke up the demonstration outside the headquarters of the left-wing People's Progressive Party and drove Mrs. Janet Jagan, wife of the colony's deposed premier, out of the building.

Six persons were arrested for attacking police in the bottle-throwing fracas, which began as a protest rally against the arrest of ex-premier Dr. Cheddi Jagan. They included Rudy Luck, lawyer who unsuccessfully defended Mrs. Jagan last December when she was charged and found guilty of holding an illegal political meeting.

Police closed the party headquarters.

To Include Fishermen In New Act

VICTORIA (CP)—Labor Minister Lyle Wicks said last night the government is prepared to take the lead in getting British Columbia's 13,500 fishermen under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

With no one opposing, the legislature gave second reading approval in principle to the Workmen's Compensation Act amendments proposed by the government. Opposition members gave notice, however, they intended to submit some amendments.

Mr. Wicks said the amendments included sections that are specifically designed to allow fishermen to come under the act. It was up to industry and the fishermen to iron out the details. If they could not agree on these, the government was prepared to step in and, through conferences with all concerned, arrive at a solution.

Fishermen have long sought amendments to the act that would bring them under its provisions.

Mr. Wicks said one section provides for payments to the compensation fund on a unit of production basis. This was designed for fishermen.

Bruce Brown, L-Prince Rupert said it should be compulsory for commercial fishermen to be under the act. All that was required of the legislature was amendments to definitions of "workman" and "employer" and addition of a definition for "commercial fishermen."

At present, Mr. Brown said, some fishermen were covered by compensation and some were not.

TWO FRENCH SOLDIERS head for a trench as the Communists surrounding Dienbienphu, Indo-China, begin an artillery barrage. The Reds were dealt a one-two blow by the defending French. Rebel forces suffered "appreciable losses" when French bombers launched their biggest fire-bomb attack of the war. At the same time the Communists were hit hard by a ground attack that smashed their attempt to cut a road leading to a southern outpost of Dienbienphu. The defence of the French in this area has been likened to the Allied stand at Anzio in World War II.

Kitimat Firm in Stand On Prospective Taximen

KITIMAT—No taxi licence will be granted to anyone who in the past three years has been convicted of an offence under the Criminal Code, of selling liquor under the Indian and Government Liquor Acts, or under Section 57 of the Motor Vehicle Act.

This regulation is one of the clauses set out in a taxi bylaw passed here in last night's municipal council meeting, following several recent applications for licences.

The bylaw is the first major policy move by council concerning new business establishments in British Columbia's newest community.

Automatic cancellation of licences by holders convicted of any offence set out in the "requirements" clause is also provided by the bylaw.

Similar rules apply to drivers who have been issued permits. Licences will be issued only to registered owners of motor vehicles.

The bylaw also orders all taxis to be equipped with meters to register charge for hire of a taxi. The following rates have been established by council:

- For first one-quarter mile or less, 35 cents.
- For each additional one-quarter mile, 10 cents.
- For any stopping or waiting time, for each two minutes, 10 cents.

In speaking to the bylaw, Reeve W. H. Sparks said it was designed "to keep undesirable out of the taxi business by exercising certain measures of control."

"In a new community such as ours with still only limited facilities, the public could be victimized by unscrupulous persons. I'm referring specifically to bootlegging."

The bylaw also requires that: (See KITIMAT Page 5)

Amusement Tax May Be Reduced

VICTORIA—A bill which would reduce the amusement tax from 17½ per cent to 15 per cent was introduced in the B.C. legislature yesterday.

Six Airmen Saved at Sea

TOKYO (Reuters)—Six of the crew of 12 of a United States tanker plane which caught fire in a refueling operation were rescued today after bailing out of the blazing machine over central Japan.

The U.S. Air Force said a fuel leak was discovered while the tanker, on a training mission, was refueling a fighter in mid-air. The fighter was immediately disengaged but the tanker caught fire and crashed on a mountainside.

MANUFACTURING HAS GROWN in Nova Scotia in the last 10 years until now it produces more of the province's wealth than fishing, mining, agriculture and forestry combined. Most of the manufacturing is done in small plants but the Sydney steel mill, shown in this picture, is one of the province's biggest single industries. This view shows Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation's blast furnaces in the foreground. Most of the homes in the background house steel workers' families.

Tragedy Said Worst For Scheduled Lines

MOOSE JAW (CP)—Thirty-seven persons were killed today when a westbound Trans-Canada Air Lines North Star and an RCAF training plane collided over northeastern Moose Jaw and crashed in flames.

Eye-witnesses said the Harvard trainer, carrying one man, smashed into the right wing of the four-engine passenger aircraft with 31 passengers and a crew of four aboard.

Names of the crew, announced by TCA, are:

- Capt. I. H. Bell, Vancouver.
- First Officer D. W. Guthrie, Vancouver.
- Steward Lou Penner, Vancouver.
- Stewardess M. L. Quinney, Vancouver.

Early reports indicated there were no survivors in the worst accident ever involving scheduled airliners in Canada.

Prince George Up in Arms Over Extension

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C.—The Vancouver board of trade has been bitterly criticized by businessmen in Prince George for its opposition to the proposed southern extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

Alex Bowie, president of the Prince George Board of Trade, said the Vancouver board has prepared "an anti-PGE brief and has supplied copies of it to every member of the provincial legislature."

He said the Vancouver board must be dominated by "the influential moneyed interests in West Vancouver."

West Vancouver residents have opposed extension of the PGE through their exclusive residential district. The proposed extension would run through West Vancouver into North Vancouver.

Mr. Bowie also attacked the Vancouver board's "reactionary attitude" toward the northern and central interior parts of the province.

"Certainly," he said, "the members of the Vancouver Board must be ignorant of the undeveloped resources and the development which has already taken place in this part of the province."

He warned the Vancouver board: "People of the interior, both north and south can swing a lot of business towards Edmonton and can work towards seaport development of Prince Rupert if they become sufficiently angered at businessmen who are trading with this country with one hand and retarding its development with the other."

In opposing extension of the PGE, he said, the Vancouver board of trade is turning its back on a natural channel of trade.

Weather Clear

The crash occurred in clear, mild weather. The North Star, its wing torn off by the collision, tumbled to earth, turning into a great ball of flames as it fell.

One gas tank crashed into a house and set it afire. Two other houses also were set ablaze and while there were no firm reports of casualties among residents, a cleaning woman in one house is believed missing.

Today's collision was TCA's third serious accident involving passengers in 13 years.

February 6, 1941, 12 were killed when a TCA plane crashed at Armstrong in northwestern Ontario. April 29, 1947, 15 were killed when a TCA plane preparing to land at Vancouver's Sea Island airport, disappeared, possibly by crashing into the Gulf of Georgia.

Mac McKay, a Moose Jaw car dealer, said he saw the North Star in trouble over the golf course shortly after 11 a.m. (MST).

"I didn't see the collision but I saw a big plane in trouble," he said. "It was smoking and while I watched, a wing dropped."

SAW EXPLOSION

"There was an explosion at about 3,000 or 5,000 feet but the plane didn't disintegrate. We heard another explosion after the plane had fallen out of sight. I didn't see the Harvard at all."

Hundreds of men and women who searched the golf course where the TCA plane struck found no survivors.

The Harvard Trainer was based at a North Atlantic Treaty Organization field near Moose Jaw.

Among the North Star passengers killed:

- Mr. and Mrs. George Sweeney, Vancouver. Mr. Sweeney is president of Vancouver Iron Works.
- Alan Craig, TCA employee at Vancouver.

Houston Logger Faces Trial For Manslaughter

SMITHERS—Anton Woloszuk, 23-year-old Houston logger, was committed for trial in a higher court on a charge of manslaughter, at the conclusion of a preliminary hearing here yesterday.

The charge was laid following the death April 2 of Alman Orville Carlson, 22, also a logger in the Houston area.

A coroner's inquest into the death, scheduled for Wednesday, was waived by the attorney general's department, to allow an immediate preliminary hearing so that Woloszuk, if committed, could be tried at the spring assizes opening in Prince Rupert Monday.

The Woloszuk case brings to four the number of manslaughter charges to be heard at the assizes.

The three other charges are against George Robertson, in connection with a car crash at Flood Bridge near Shames last Labor Day, in which Glen Jackson of Terrace was fatally injured; Charles Robinson, Prince Rupert fisherman, in connection with the death in Prince Rupert February 16 of Violet Sampare, and Sylvester William, Telkwa Native, in the death of Cecilia Holland after a truck accident near Telkwa March 8.

Testimony at the Woloszuk hearing included evidence that Carlson died of head injuries in Bulkley Valley General Hospital here, where he was taken after a fight with Woloszuk in Houston April 1.

Witnesses said the pair had been drinking and one testified that Carlson had provoked the fight.

Stipendiary Magistrate W. D. Yorke-Hardy presided at the hearing. Cpl. S. A. McKim was crown prosecutor and L. W. Perry was defence counsel.

Buy Dock Here

SOME better solution might develop as time goes on, but right now Mayor Hills' proposal that the hydrodock be taken over by local interests is the soundest answer offered so far to this vexing question.

While our hopes naturally rest on the possibility of some concern outside pouring money into the property, it is well to have a course of action planned which will prevent the entire plant being sold to a demolition crew.

If Prince Rupert interests cared to make a bid for all or part of the facilities, their offer would be certain to make an impression on the federal government almost regardless of the amount involved. The whole subject of the proposed sale has received far more awkward publicity than Ottawa could have anticipated, and this opportunity to do something for the injured party would be difficult to ignore.

It is unlikely, of course, that at the outset even a modest undertaking to do repair and maintenance work could be handled without a subsidy. Officials of the Wallace shipyards estimate that three or four times the present volume of business is required to make such an operation self-dependent.

Even so, Prince Rupert's offer could not be quickly brushed aside. By showing readiness to pay their own way as far as possible, city interests would be emphasizing their faith in the future which even the most hardened government would have to reciprocate in some small measure.

With money on the line, it would be possible to negotiate instead of merely protesting. There is a big difference.

Tourist Budget

ALTHOUGH Finance Minister Abbott's latest budget will provoke the usual complaints, it does not offer critics any real meat in which to get their teeth. Nothing has happened during the past year to suggest there will be any appreciable shift between revenue and expenditure in the months to come. While there has been an increase in unemployment, there is nothing to indicate that the country's economy is undergoing any serious change.

Consequently, Mr. Abbott has not left himself too vulnerable by producing a financial plan which, for lack of a more exciting description, might be termed a tourist budget. In banishing the 15 per cent excise tax from a number of consumer goods, and reducing it to 10 per cent on a variety of others, he has paid recognition to the fact that Canada has lost its favorable balance of tourist trade. Canadians spend more in other countries than visitors do here, a situation that must be caused to some extent by higher Canadian prices.

Mr. Abbott strengthens his careful case still further by extending tax concessions to a certain class of industry to reduce exploration costs. In an age of growing need to develop Canada's natural resources, such a move can only be regarded as necessary to keep in step with the times.

If anyone is really upset by the new budget, it probably will be the financial editors. Mr. Abbott has given them very little to write about.

Rupert Brooke Lore

ONE OF THE joys of renting an apartment from a literate friend is that you get the run of a whole library of fine books—friends whom you would never had had the chance to meet otherwise.

Here in our Ottawa apartment I have been reading about Rupert Brooke, the young poet who more than any other human being personified the "Lost Generation" which died when Europe committed suicide in 1914.

WHEN YOU read the actual details of the death of this young genius you are struck by the monumental foily and pity of it all. Here was a young man who represented the very flower of English civilization. He had the appearance of a Greek god, the mind of a philosopher, and a tongue which could and did utter some poems as fine as the best psalms of David.

"Now God be thanked who matched us with His hour And caught our youth, and wakened us from sleeping." So wrote Brooke who died unheroically of some obscure fever, a few days after he had turned down a cushy and safe staff job. The man who was conscious that he was but a stone's throw from ancient Troy died absolutely unselfishly, in a bungled campaign, as ludicrous in its inefficiency as was the Crimean war about a half century earlier. But the most promising poet that Britain had produced in the 20th century died as ingloriously as a sick dog.

THE LETTERS of Rupert Brooke show clearly that the young man was special. He called himself a "William Morris type of socialist." His Fabianism was the kind which comes from the heart, and not from the head. He detested the cold-blooded, selfish approach of George Bernard Shaw and others. "They sometimes take it for granted that all Conservatives (and most ordinary Liberals) are heartless villains... the prejudices of the clever are harder to kill than those of the dull."

RUPERT BROOKE travelled through Canada in the summer of 1913. His comments are revealing. In June he wrote that "I've got the sorriest touch of American accent." In July he wrote from Ottawa:

"I do no reading, no thinking, no writing. And very often I don't see many things. The real hell of it is I get so numb that my brain and sense don't record fine or clear impressions."

In Toronto he met people at the Arts and Letters Club who knew of his poetry. One told him: "Sir, in my opinion you have Mr. Noyes skinned."

On the 3rd of August he was lying on a beach 70 miles north of Winnipeg—stark naked. He and his fishing companion had "a gun between us in case a bear appears."

In Edmonton he was interviewed by a reporter: "I just put my cigar in the corner of my mouth and said 'kid, this is some town.'"

Later he wrote: "Vancouver is a queer place, rather different from the rest of Canada. More oriental. The country and harbor are rather beautiful, with great violet mountains all

"Dream" Cars On Display In New York

By DAVID J. WILKIE

NEW YORK (AP)—Ten leading auto manufacturers this week put their "dream" cars and 1954 models on display at New York's second automobile show of the year.

Among the "dream" models is Chrysler's newest, the gas-turbine Plymouth. Unlike the Firebird, General Motors' turbine-powered car which appeared at the earlier show, the Chrysler model is a stock-car type. God's model looked more like a four-wheeled flying machine.

The Chrysler entry in the turbine engine field undoubtedly will attract greatest interest at the current show which runs until April 11.

Along with the "dream" cars that may never reach the assembly stage, the participating companies are using the show to demonstrate many of their latest engineering advances. Newest improvements in power steering, safety glass, engines and automatic transmissions are among the engineering displays.

One of the piston-type engines being shown currently is one said to be capable of generating 353 horsepower. The industry's present top stock engine is Chrysler's 235-horsepower V-8, used in its New York De Luxe and Imperial models.

Chrysler engineers are emphasizing that the gas-turbine engine for standard passenger cars still is in the remote future.

Would it suggest, for a starter, a nervous collapse which even today, can approach that point ere long? The only way to avoid war is to preserve peace. Surely this is understandable. For there is no other way, when we look to the future.

The Blood Indians whose old home territory is just north of Lethbridge today possess a bank balance of $663,000. A century or so ago a buffalo hunter could have named his labor scale, but no one would have been interested in his services.

Some of Canada's corporations are organizing, with most happy results, sources of recreation in music. This not only brings employees together, but also shares entertainment on a broader scale. We are hearing more of Gilbert and Sullivan, along with other grand old timers such as "The Bohemian Girl" and "The Daughter of the Regiment," which take a long time to weary of.

OTTAWA DIARY By NORMAN M. MacLEOD

When the delegates to the recent annual meeting of the National Progressive Conservative Association elected George Hees, M.P., to the office of president, the thought uppermost in their minds was that they were giving him a mandate to do a thorough home-cleaning job at Bracken House.

Theoretically and by intention Bracken House is the nerve centre of the Federal Conservative organization machine. But unhappily it has failed from the date of its establishment to live up to its high mission. Just how far short it has fallen from the expectations originally built upon it has been shown in the successive general election failures since 1945. The 1953 debacle was the worst of all.

The idea of a thorough house-cleaning of the Bracken House personnel isn't any sudden brain wave on the part of the rank-and-file P.C.'s. They have been in favor of it for a long time. But the trouble has been to arrange the mechanics of the badly needed purge. The key Bracken House people are the personal appointees of the Party Leader, named without any consultation of the party rank-and-file. Consequently, unless the Party Leader was prepared to recognize the wide dissatisfaction and act accordingly, it was impossible for the rank-and-file to secure any co-operation. Mr. Drew has never seen fit to recognize the unsuitability for their jobs of any of his personal appointees.

But the National President of the Progressive Conservative organization, in his status as virtual chief organizer for the party, is recognized as entitled to a voice in Bracken House administration. And that is why the malcontents at the annual meeting, in their desire to bring about a show-down in the Bracken House situation, had to elect a President who would not be the nominee of the Party Leader and hence would have a clear mandate to act independently of him in revamping the party headquarters. George Hees, M.P., elected over Gordon Churchill, M.P., the recognized nominee of the Drew forces, was the answer to the situation.

So far nothing has happened, and some Conservative circles already are showing signs of impatience. They think that the Bracken House office-holders, none of whom were ever elected to office by popular vote of the party, cannot be given their marching papers too soon or too finally for the good of the general cause. If they would make an exception it would be Vernon Kemp, special assistant to Mr. Drew. He is generally well-liked and regarded as able. But the rest of the crew are looked upon as President Hees' problem. And the question of the moment is when is it going to deal with them in the manner implied in the support given him for the Presidency?

UNIT URGES COMPLETION OF IMMUNIZATION SERIES

Spokesmen of the Skeena Public Health Unit today urged parents of pre-school-age children who will start school next fall, to have the children's immunization and vaccination series completed before school opening.

Noting that completion of the immunization before classes get underway is in the best interests of the child, health officials asked parents to arrange for the work through their own doctor or through the health unit.

They also reminded parents that well-baby clinics for infants and pre-school-age children are held at the Skeena Health Unit offices every Wednesday, from 2 to 4 p.m., and at Conrad Hall Thursdays, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Williams

Wedding Ceremony Unites City, Windsor Families

Windsor, Ontario, and Prince Rupert shared interest in the wedding rites solemnized here Friday afternoon in which Anita Prime, operating room supervisor at the Prince Rupert General Hospital, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prime of Windsor, became the bride of Arthur Francis Williams, CNR employee of Prince Rupert.

The Rev. L. G. Sieber conducted the ceremony in the First United Church, for which the church was graced with sprays of lovely spring flowers.

Given in marriage by Mr. Charles Roberts, the bride was charming in an informal frock of blue bengaline with tiny veiled hat of navy blue and other accessories also in navy. She carried a white orchid on a white prayer book.

Bridesmaid was Miss Dorothy J. Wade, wearing a champagne-toned afternoon dress with black accessories, and carrying red roses.

Groomsmen were Mr. R. A. Knight, and organist Mrs. G. Calderwood.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Nurses' Residence, where more spring flowers decked the rooms. The bride's table held a three-tier wedding cake, with pink candles and flowers, set on a lace cloth.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Roberts, and serving refreshments were Miss G. Bailey, Miss C. Rothwell, Miss M. Williams, Miss B. Cooper, Mrs. P. Spencer and Miss H. Boehme.

Soloist at the reception was Mrs. Joanne Cleo, singing "Because" and "I Love Thee," with Miss Williams as piano accompanist.

The bride added a lovely off-white coat to her costume for her wedding trip to Vancouver and Washington.

The newlywed plan to make their home in Prince Rupert.

Cancer Group Sets $2,000 As 1954 Quota

Further plans for the annual fund campaign and educational projects were made at last night's meeting of the board of directors of the Prince Rupert branch, Canadian Cancer Society, held in the Legion board room.

The Cancer Society will be aiming at an objective of $2,000, one per cent of the $200,000 B.C. objective, in its one-night door-to-door canvass to be staged on Wednesday, April 21.

Campaign committee chairman Ron Allen told the group last night that more canvassers were needed. Several local organizations have named canvassers to take part in the drive but many more were needed.

Working with Mr. Allen on the committee are Mrs. W. Rothwell, in charge of organizing canvassers, and the Rev. F. Antrobus, directing the out-of-town campaign.

Meanwhile, the group planned to intensify its year-round educational campaign during this fund campaign month.

TO SHOW FILM

An interesting film on lung cancer, "The Warning Shadow," was to be shown to high school students by Principal R. H. Davidson, possibly today, and Prince Rupert Parent-Teacher Associations will be asked to show the film at their meetings this month. The film will also be available to any other groups interested throughout the month. Those wishing to see the film were asked to contact Mrs. G. V. Hanley.

Another possible educational project discussed was staging of a public forum on cancer, during the regular visit here of the cancer consultative clinic from Vancouver. Clinic doctors and local physicians would be asked to participate.

A special committee, including Mrs. Hanley, Mrs. W. Wallace and Mrs. A. Holbrook was named to assist with patients at the consultative clinic and to serve refreshments for the patients.

Other committees appointed at the session were welfare, Miss H. Boehme and Mrs. R. Pollock and publicity, Mrs. W. Murdoch, Mrs. F. Hicks, R. H. Davidson and J. E. Taylor.

MRS. DIANNA BIXBY of Long Beach, Calif., waves from atop her converted Mosquito bomber in which she will try to break round-the-world flight records. As soon as weather conditions are favorable she will hop off from San Francisco.

PTA To Continue Bursaries

Decision to continue awarding bursaries to students planning teacher-training was reached at a meeting of the bursary committee of the Prince Rupert

Parent-Teacher Associations, held at the home of Mrs. A. Carlson.

Friends Fete Nancy Lund

Miss Nancy Lund, whose marriage takes place Saturday here, was honored at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Jackie Moorehead, 1068 Seventh Avenue East.

The many guests enjoyed bingo, with prizes going to the honoree and to Miss Loreen Gordon and Miss Dorothy Hubbard, after which the many useful gifts were presented to the bride-elect in a pretty pink and white box. Pink and white streamers also decked the throne chair for the guest of honor.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Miss Hubbard and Miss Marian Watson.

Other invited guests were Mrs. E. Orme, Mrs. A. Lund, Mrs. R. Watson, Mrs. J. Moorehead, Miss Pat Lemon, Miss Elaine Young, Miss Sandra Waldbauer, Miss Joyce Rhodes, Miss Georgina Mitchell, Miss Karen L. Strange, Miss Catherine Hansen and Miss Dru Patrick.

Warns Against Minimizing Town's Influence on Students

A warning against underestimating the influence of the community on development of children was given by R. H. Davidson, Booth Memorial principal, in an address yesterday to the Gyo Club.

Pointing to the home, school and church as other influences on childhood progress, Mr. Davidson said that none of these by itself can outweigh the effect which the community as a whole has in this respect.

As an example, he recalled an instance when he was talking to members of a class on the importance of making themselves useful and active in whatever positions they held after graduation. In the question period that followed, one boy said that he would be looked upon as trying to gain favor with the boss if he followed this advice.

character is inadequate, you will have to take them all. Whatever the future holds for us depends on these young people. Their future is ours.

LENGTH OF SCHOOLING

Mr. Davidson said that one question which bothers some parents is how long their children are going to remain in school, particularly if they have a low capacity to learn. He said his reply to this was that all should be given the same opportunity in preparing themselves for later life. In the case of those with inferior ability as students, it was especially important that as much as possible be done for them to prevent their being a burden on others.

At the same time, he recognized there were some instances in which school had nothing to offer a student and might even do him harm. If a student cannot understand what school is all about, and perhaps comes to hate it, his whole attitude towards society may be shaped accordingly. Under these circumstances, it is better that the student find another environment, Mr. Davidson said.

Mr. Davidson closed his address with a tribute to the late Alan Hurst, former Booth Memorial principal and a Gyo. The speaker was introduced by Dr. L. M. Greene and thanked by J. F. Magor.

A spring preview of summer fashions staged at Montreal by DEJA, a Canadian firm headed by I. Riven of Montreal indicates that grey and pastel shades will be predominant colors in a variety of new designs for hot-weather wear. This ensemble, by DEJA designers Cecile Robert and Florence Kouri, features a duster with elbow-length sleeves in a pastel-mauve polished-cotton print. It is worn over a slim dress of solid blue linen. A double row of buttons closes the diagonally cut bodice and is spaced down the skirt side.

BCHIS Shuffle Doesn't Reflect "On Abilities"

Special to The Daily News
VICTORIA—Exchange of positions by Lloyd Detwiller and Donald Cox as directors of the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service "in no way reflects upon the abilities of these men."
This was disclosed today by Health Minister Martin, who added that "instead (the move) emphasizes that the major aspects of the service's administration will now be hospital services."
Mr. Detwiller, commissioner of BCHIS since 1950, became assistant commissioner to Mr. Cox on April 1.
Mr. Martin said that as a consequence of the amendments to the B.C. Hospital Insurance Act, a revision in the administration was resultant.
Mr. Martin said: "When Mr. Detwiller was appointed commissioner in 1950, his duties were the complete re-organization of the service, including the development of a premium collection program along with a hospital service division, and he has done a remarkable job in this regard."
"At that time it was felt that someone with extensive experience in the hospital field should be employed to head up the hospital service division, and Mr. Cox was particularly suited for this position."

Riot Act Use Depends on Good Sense

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Garson says fair administration of the Riot Act must continue to rely on the common sense and responsibilities of public officials.
He made the statement yesterday in the Commons in reply to CCF proposals that safeguards be placed around the reading of the Riot Act to suppress public disorders. The CCF said the Riot Act should not be used to break union strikes or provoke violence.
Mr. Garson said all abuses of the Riot Act in Canada have been the result of human failure. Officials dealing with the problem had not the judgment, backbone, courage or initiative to meet the emergency facing them.
No law could provide for those qualities and a person who read the act was protected only if he acted on reasonable and proper grounds and in good faith. If he acted otherwise, he lost legal protection for acts of violence or other illegal acts.

Bill For Extension of PGE Approved In Principle as Liberals Criticize

VICTORIA (CP)—The Pacific Great Eastern Railway moved one step closer to extension northward to the Peace River and southward to Vancouver this week.
Premier Bennett said the step, legislative approval in principle of a bill granting $30,000,000 in borrowing power to the railway, "told the knell of the Liberal party in B.C."
The legislature gave the bill second reading—approval in principle—after the premier had assured members that $20,000,000 of the money would be used for the northern extension from Prince George to Dawson Creek and Fort St. John.
Only the Liberals opposed the bill. Premier Bennett charged that the Liberals had promised to extend the railway for 20 years but had never intended to do it.
"Tonight the ghosts of the past are coming back to haunt them."
During the 2½ hours debate Liberal Leader Arthur Laing and other Liberals charged the money would be used in the southern extension, estimated to cost $10,000,000, and repairs to the existing line which they quoted the premier as estimating at $17,500,000. This would leave money enough for only surveys of the northern extension.

Mr. Bennett replied that government policy was to extend the railway in both directions at the same time and that at least $20,000,000 would be spent on the northern extension.
The government was still expecting the federal government to contribute its "fair share" towards the extensions. It had not asked the legislature for the complete $60,000,000 estimated for both extensions because that would be indicating to Ottawa that B.C. was not expecting federal contribution.
Mr. Laing called the southern extension an "absolutely wild gamble." He said the Liberals would support the bill if the northern extension was started first.
The act should be extended north to "recreate the area from our neighboring province." The southern extension would not add tonnage to the line.
Premier Bennett said the existing line is in bad shape and it would be a "stupid undertaking" to extend the line at both ends and not repair it in the middle.
Leo Nimblett, CCF-Cranbrook said no one believed the railroad was going to pay because it was being extended. Extensions would only open up property and increase the value of the railway.

The legislature gave unanimous approval to the government's $210,163,444 budget. It completed the least of the estimates—including the $3,000 seasonal indemnities for members—during the afternoon sitting then went on to give third and final reading of several bills.

Lions Get Esk's Berry In Two-For-One Trade

By DON MATHESON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Lions announced today that they have completed a two-for-one football player trade with Edmonton Eskimos: West-ern all-star Ray Wilsey for Esk-imos, Lindy Berry and Don Lord.

Voted the Western Interpro-vincial Football Union's most valuable player in 1950, quar-terback Berry was pivot of the deal.

A 25-year-old, five-foot-ten, 180-pounder, the speedy, slick- passing Berry gets his release from a two-year hitch in the U.S. Navy in June. He was with Eskimos in 1951.

Signed by Lions before their entry in the league this season became official, Wilsey was "loaned" to Edmonton for seas-oning.

He completed the 1953 cam- paign in Eskimo livery, and was selected a WIFU defensive all- star back after setting pair of pass-interception records.

Said Lion coach Annis Stukus in announcing the trade.

REALLY WANTED HIM

"Berry's my boy—he's the guy I really wanted for the Lions. Now we're set. And don't forget Don Lord—he's a useful fellow to have around and a fine kick-er."

While coaching Eskimos from 1949-51, Stukus brought Berry to Edmonton after he finished his college football career at Texas Christian University.

An immediate fan favorite, the speedy Wichita Falls, Texas, quarterback-halfback set a WIFU passing record for a single game that still stands.

He coupled with another Tex- an, end Morris Bailey, for 503 yards through the air against Calgary Stampeders in Eskimo's first 1950 game. He was also a brilliant broken-field runner when trapped or on a pass-or- run play.

A knee injury forced him out of action in 1951 and he entered the navy in 1952. He played for the Great Lakes naval training station in 1952 and coached the squad last season.

STRAIGHT TRADE

Stukus said the deal was a "straight trade, no cash. We've been half-working on it for six months." He admitted Lions still have to come to terms with Berry.

Wilsey was also used briefly by Eskimos last year as a sub- quarterback. Born in Saskatche- wan, he learned his football in the U.S. and played for the Uni- versity of California. He stands five-foot-nine, is 25, and weighs 173 pounds.

Lord, born in Vancouver, moved here from Edmonton this year. Stukus brought him to Ed- monton in 1951 as a fullback and punter. He played as a defensive back in 1952, then was switched to defensive end by Eskimos last season.

Six-foot-two and 205 pounds, he is 25.

Seattle, Portland Only Clubs To Remain Undefeated in PCL

By The Associated Press

Seattle and Portland racked up victories Wednesday night and remained the only un- defeated clubs in the Pacific Coast League.

Seattle made it two in a row over San Francisco 6-2, as Gene Bearden, former American League pitcher, bore down in the clutch and worked out of difficulties. Bearden and Tom Lovrich, who succeeded him in the eighth, and Pete Hernandez, were touched for 11 hits by the Seals, one more than Seattle got. Frank Hiller, Bill Bradford and Ted Shandor shared mound duties for the Seals.

Hollywood, pennant winner the last two years, lost its second straight to Portland, 3-1, as the Ports put across two runs in the ninth after two were out. The Stars were held to six hits and didn't look very menacing to the veteran Red Adams. George Ler- chen's daring baserunning was responsible for the victory. He streaked home from second as Frankie Austin hit a smash to short. When George Wopinek's throw to second was late in an effort to get Joe Rossi, Lerchin beat second baseman Monte Bas- gall's relay, which he delayed for an instant awaiting the um- pire's decision.

Lorenzo Hinchman, rookie southpaw from Albuquerque, N.M., hurled Los Angeles to a 3-2 decision against San Diego, limiting the Padres to five hits. Sacramento evened its series with Oakland by whipping Oak- land 9-5, with 10,976 watching. Of the total, 7,719 were Sacra- mento school children who were given the afternoon off to see the home team do battle. The Sacs had a big six-run fourth inning, shelling George Bamberg- er and Jim Atkins from the mound.

Eilers Down Wittichens 48-44 To Take Canadian Cage Crown

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Eilers, masters at dropping a basketball through a hoop, sank the Calgary Wittichens 48-44 here Wednesday night to sweep the Canadian women's senior A basketball title three games straight.

Eilers, who Calgary coach Ron Southern called "experienced" and "the best team we've played this year, put Wednesday night's win with scores of 52-48 and 60-47 in the first two games to take their fifth con- secutive Dominion champion- ship.

The game was fought down to the final gun. Calgary led 14-12 at the first quarter, were behind 21-19 at the half, and trailed 37-25 going into the final ses- sion.

For the third night in a row, Wittichens produced the top scorers. Centre Joan McFar- lane, who can bucket them with either hand, scored 15. Forward

Twenty of 29 Marksmen In Top Bracket

Twenty of the 29 members taking part in Tuesday night's Civic Centre Youth rifle club shoot, chalked up scores of better than 90 per cent, instructor Jerry Martin reported today.

He and his fellow teachers—Dick Paul and Tommy Boulter—reported themselves extremely pleased with the progress of the class and hope that the high standard will be maintained.

Wayne Crowe topped Tuesday's sharpshooters with 99 per cent followed closely by Frank An- field, Gerry Chan and Harry S. Brader with 98. Other top riflemen were Ralph Olsen, Ray Windle and Glen Smith, 97; Ron Peterson and Jim McLean with 96; Danny Pick and Joe Kraup- ner, 95; Craig Stewart, Eric Kristmanson and Max Fleming 94; Bill Pedersen and Bill Krist- manson 93; Ole Led 92; Jack Ru- dolph 91; James Davidson and Eddie Turcotte 90.

Trafton To Tell All At Grid Rally

VANCOUVER (CP)—Genial George Trafton, the ex-Winni- peg Blue Bomber coach, gets back into football in a round- about way here April 19.

The British Columbia Lions said Wednesday that Trafton will address a Lion "booster rally" in Exhibition Gardens here. Lions enter the western league this fall.

Trafton, fired by Bombers with one year of a three-year contract to go, collected his $12,000 yearly salary for the last year.

Recently, he blasted his former quarterback Jack Jacobs, in a national weekly newspaper over Jacobs quarterbacking in the 1953 Grey Cup game, lost by Bombers to Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Lion booster chairman Bob Smith said "the most controver- sial man in Canadian football today" will comment on the play while a motion picture of the cup game is shown.

Canadian Trade Group Off to Japan

VANCOUVER (CP)—An attitude of "show us what you have to offer" will prevail when 60 Canadian business men go window-shopping through the principal cities of Japan.

An advance guard of 12 is already in the Orient and the other 48 took off yesterday, the largest trade delegation to make the trip since the Second World War.

Heading the contingent is Grant W. G. McConachie, president of the Vancouver Board of Trade and head of Canadian Pacific Airlines.

come under the new Canadian-Japanese trade treaty. Japanese goods coming here under preferred nation status, will benefit from lower tariffs.

Last year Canada exported $119,000,000 worth of goods, while importing only $13,800,000. The group will spend three of its 13 days overseas at Osaka visiting the International Trade Fair.

H. B. R. Kirkpatrick, whose company imported steel, hardware, toys and china in the 1930's, said:

"We understand they have expanded and perfected their manufacturing. From the samples we have had since the war, they have a lot of know-how."

A. D. Richardson, president of a wholesale food brokerage, said his company has been doing "a very nice business with Japan" and the visit will provide him with a chance to "meet people and answer questions."

With penalties playing such an important part, the roars and bellows were bound to come. Coach Dick Irvin sounded off first. His team lost the Sunday game, handled by referee Bill Chadwick.

The outraged Montreal coach proclaimed that "it's strange opposing teams get penalties until the Red Wings are in front." Irvin followed that with some succinct comment about "evening things up."

Beefs About Refereeing Highlight NHL Series

By W. R. WHEATLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL—The penalty-and-power-play series, probably one of the most unique in Stanley Cup annals opens its Montreal stand tonight with no let-up in off-stage squawks about the refereeing.

It's small wonder that the officials, instead of some unfortunate players, have been made the goats so far in this tight tussle between the cup-defending Montreal Canadiens and the Detroit Red Wings.

In the two games in Detroit, each settled by a 3-1 score, first in favor of the Wings and then Canadiens, not one of the total eight goals was scored while 12 players were on the ice. The Red Wings counted one goal when one of their own men was in the penalty box.

With penalties playing such an important part, the roars and bellows were bound to come. Coach Dick Irvin sounded off first. His team lost the Sunday game, handled by referee Bill Chadwick.

The outraged Montreal coach proclaimed that "it's strange opposing teams get penalties until the Red Wings are in front." Irvin followed that with some succinct comment about "evening things up."

Plane Damaged At Sandspit

SANDSPIT, B.C. (CP)—A U.S. C-46 cargo plane made an emergency landing here Tuesday after a propeller flew off in mid-air, ripping a gaping hole in one wing and wrecking all controls on the left side.

The pilot, Joseph M. Halsey of Seattle, and three airmen aboard the west air transport plane were uninjured.

More than two-thirds of an 11,000-pound cargo of food bound for Anchorage, Alaska, from Seattle was jettisoned before the plane touched down at this Queen Charlotte island air field.

The C-46 was about 15 minutes flying time from Sandspit, 500 miles north of Vancouver, when the accident occurred.

BLAST FROM ADAMS

Detroit's loss Tuesday night, when referee Red Storey handled the game, brought a blast from general manager Jack Adams to the effect that Storey was never any good and as a Montreal man would of course favor Canadiens.

To cap this, Bruce Norris, co-owner of the Red Wings, announced he would file a letter of protest over the officiating, the protest directed to president Campbell of the National Hockey League.

The two games produced 25 penalties, 14 against Canadiens and 11 against the Red Wings. Canadiens had eight in the first game to Detroit's seven; six in the second game to Detroit's four, but two of the Detroit penalties overlapped and Canadiens quickly whipped in two of their three goals.

Now that the best-of-seven series has moved to Montreal for games tonight and Saturday, the Red Wings must try to win on foreign ice, as Canadiens did in Detroit. Home ice has been good to Canadiens this season. In seven NHL meetings between the two clubs, Canadiens won six and Detroit one. In Detroit, the Montrealers had two ties and suffered five losses. CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

MONTREAL, April 8th—Let's face facts! You've been looking for the secret of a really young, healthy skin. Here's something to remember: Soap and water—regardless of their character—take out skin. But Laundry Blue, and other dry Blue, puts white in. If you haven't been using Laundry Blue for your husband's skin, you're missing a really important "whites", try it in your next wash. Buy a package of your grocer's today so you'll have it ready to use. It's so simple to use that you can add whiteness to an entire wash for just a few cents. And the man in your life will be sure to notice it.

For a whiter wash next wash day, get RECKITT'S BLUE.

What A Handsome Couple you'll make in your Easter Parade this year!... You in your gay spring bonnet and hubby in a B.V.D. Nylon Tricot Shirt. Yes, B.V.D. Nylon Shirts always look neat and trim. They're made of comfortable, good-looking nylon tricot that "breathes" for comfortable year-round wear—with fused collars and cuffs that never wilt. B.V.D. Nylon Shirts stay handsome without ironing. Laundering's no problem at all—just a quick rinse—wait a while—and the shirt is ready to wear. You gave the price of the shirt in laundry bills alone. Take my tip—get your husband a handsome, long-wearing B.V.D. Nylon Shirt for Easter ($12.95 in blue, tan, grey or white).

Oh Happy Days! A long Easter busy housewives up! Some-time during it we'll be taking off the storm windows. (You, too?) Makes quite a family Bee—with the Man of the House outside—and me inside—beaming at each other as we bring sparkling brightness to our windows with O-CEGAR GLASS WAX. (The youngsters are dusting and putting away the storm windows.) Hope it's a nice April day, 'cos then, all of our neighbours will be at the same job and all using O-CEGAR Glass Wax. We've compared notes and decided that this brand gives the brightest windows with the least effort. (Buy a tin this week but make sure it's O-CEGAR.)

I'm Not A Worry-Wart But... I certainly had my worrywarts the other night. We were over at Bill's place when it hit me! I'd forgotten to close the bedroom window before leaving. My evening from then on was ruined. There was there when we got back, and then there I decided to collect my thoughts and important documents and put them into a BANK OF MONTREAL Deposit Box. Next day I mailed myself off to the Bank of Montreal. I hid myself off to the Bank of Montreal. I hid myself off to the Bank of Montreal. I hid myself off to the Bank of Montreal.

So Many Good Points... to win your favour, come win your BONNET DE LUXE MARGARIN. It's—pre-out in individually wrapped quarter pounds. So convenient! Blue Bonnet De Luxe quarters got right on the dish—appetizing, all-vegetable margarine ready for your table. No scooping, no slicing—just unwrap what you need. There's real favour protection on each quarter pound separately foil-wrapped and seal in the country-fresh Blue-Bonnet flavoured. And you can forget the measuring cup when you cook with Blue Bonnet. The measuring guide on each package shows exactly how to cut. Just think—all these "De Luxe" advantages and "De Luxe" quality, too!
