Ike Gives Up Post

WASHINGTON (CP)—The White House announced Friday General Eisenhower will give up his European post by June 1, five weeks before the Republican National convention meets to nominate its candidate for the presidency.

At his own request General Eisenhower will wind up his mission as supreme allied commander in Europe and return to inactive military status—free to enter personally into the thick of battle for the Republican nomination.

General Eisenhower made it clear in letters setting forth reasons for his resignation that he feels a groundswell has been completed for the defence of Europe against the threat of Soviet aggression.

"As of now I consider the specific purposes for which I was recalled to duty have been largely accomplished," General Eisenhower wrote Defence Secretary Robert Lovett, in a letter formally requesting his release. He also made it clear he is coming home to take an active role in the political campaign his supporters have been compelled to wage by proxy in recent weeks, while he remained silent.

Bolivia Revolt Proves Success

LA PAZ, Bolivia (CP)—Bolivian rebels are claiming that their revolt to overthrow army officers who had seized power 11 months ago was a success and that Bolivia's most popular politician soon will return from exile to head a new government.

The revolutionary party, expected Monday, Rebel leaders Friday agreed to halt the battle that was taking a heavy toll of lives and destroying many homes on the city's outskirts.

Floods Drive Down Missouri

OMAHA, Neb. (CP)—Tons of muddy water rolled relentlessly at flood levels and higher down nearly 1,000 miles of Missouri River today.

An unprecedented flood crest which dealt a smashing blow to the South Dakota city of Pierre at mid-week, was two days away from Sioux City, Iowa, its next major target. It is about five days away from Omaha and Council Bluffs.

Metropolitan area is some 100 miles below Sioux City, but already hundreds are homeless in these down stream areas.

Thousands of acres of rich farm lands are described as "awash."

Damage runs into the millions. The Red Cross estimate that more than 3,200 families have already been affected by the flood in the Dakotas and Minnesota, and another 1,496 families listed as flood sufferers in Sioux City.

Railway Line Cleared Again

Railway traffic has been restored to normal following a derailment at Inverness, 10 miles east of Prince Rupert. The line was cleared Friday morning. The train for the east went out on time at 8 o'clock last evening and the inbound train arrived on time at 10:05 p.m. During the tie-up, passenger, mail and express traffic was moved by bus and truck between Prince Rupert and Tyee, detouring the blocked portion.

Suicide Kills 2 Other Men

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 61-year-old man who committed suicide Good Friday accidentally carried two other men to death with him.

Police withheld names of victims until relatives have been notified. Police say the man uncoupled the gas line in an east end rooming house to kill himself and the fumes seeped into the rooms on the floor above, taking the lives of two 65-year-old men.

Can Help Atlin, He Believes

"Atlin riding has not been sharing to the extent it should in the present great industrial development that is now in progress in other sections of the province and it is my intention to devote my efforts and endeavor to focus the eyes of the people on a section of the province that is one of the last unexplored frontiers of the world," says Thomas S. Mackay who is in the city after being nominated at Stewart as Progressive Conservative candidate in the forthcoming provincial election.

"With the vast undeveloped resources of Atlin riding, there is probably no area in the province which stands to gain so much from free enterprise system of government based on sound business-like policies," Mr. Mackay, who has been interested in the development of Northern British Columbia since 1920, expressed conviction that the Progressive Conservative party can supply such government.

Puerto Rican Crash Kills Many People

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (CP)—A Pan American Airways plane, carrying 64 Easter holiday tourists and a crew of five, crashed Friday in the sea outside San Juan harbor shortly after taking off for New York.

Rescue workers reported there were 17 known survivors, 13 killed and 39 listed as missing.

The plane was piloted by Captain John Burn, husband of the singing star, Jane Frohman, whose life he had saved in a titanic rescue from a similar plane crash in the second world war. Among the survivors were Burn and his four crew members.

Coastguard seaplanes searched the area of the blue Caribbean after dropping life rafts.

One plane landed on the water and sent out boats to pick up survivors while three others circled overhead to direct operations.

Six children were among the 64 passengers, most of them being Puerto Ricans on their way to New York for Easter.

Burns romance and marriage to Miss Frohman grew out of a plane crash off Lisbon, Portugal, in 1923. Miss Frohman was enroute with a troupe with a troupe to entertain soldiers.

Burn, co pilot of the plane held her aloft after the crash until rescue came. The singer was confined to a wheel chair as a result of injuries suffered in the crash. Burn himself suffered a broken back in that crash. Miss Frohman married Burn in 1948.

Strip Teaser Tries Escape

SALISBURY, Mass. (CP)—A Canadian-born strip-teaser, who married a roofing contractor, will be returned here from New York to face charges of illegal entry into the United States, officers said Friday.

Jeannette Velma Luisa Ruth Wilby Murphy, 18, who says she came from Prince Rupert, and is known as "Black Venus" in Miami night clubs, was arrested in New York where she fled with her husband's car. She was free on $2,500 bail at the time.

Her husband, Richard Wallace Murphy, whom she married in Georgia, said he "assumed" she was trying to escape the hearing set for April 17. He posted the bond.

United States Commissioner Lewis C. Merryman said he had been advised the girl would be returned here in time for the hearing.

Mrs. Murphy is charged with conspiring with five men to sneak into the United States from Canada in 1949.

She also faces charges in Miami where she is accused of illegal entry from Cuba in January 1951.

Britain to Fight Also

Will Guarantee Aid If Other Western Countries Attacked

LONDON (CP)—Diplomatic sources reported Friday that Britain soon may give iron-clad legal assurance that British troops will fight if any member of the proposed six-country European army is attacked. In effect, this would extend present pledges of automatic military aid to West Germany.

The New York Times says, in a despatch from Paris, that the British cabinet is expected to announce the pledge next week, probably April 15.

The promise is expected to have important psychological effect in the parliaments of six countries, some of which have had grave doubts about the treaty now being drafted to link the six countries in a European defence community.

SWINDON, England (CP)—After an inspection parade in this Wiltshire town cadets of the Air Training Corps marched away so quickly they passed the town hall before the mayor could take the salute. He hired a car and took the salute further along.

CHILD CITY CHOIR poses here in a symbolic cross to sing Alfred Gaul's cantata "The Holy City" in an American coast-to-coast broadcast Easter Sunday. This 150-voice choir of fatherless children of Mooseheart, Illinois, will present their program from the famed House of God located on the campus.

Detroit Wins Hectic Stanley Cup Opener North Lost

MONTREAL (Canadian Press)—Detroit Red Wings defeated Montreal Canadiens 3 to 1 in the opener of the best-of-seven Stanley Cup hockey final series here Thursday night.

The teams will meet here again tonight and then will move to Detroit for three games.

Little Tony Leswick had scored two goals for Detroit and Tom Johnson had batted in one for the Canadiens when along came what Coach Dick Irvin and 14,455 fans thought was the final minute.

With about 45 seconds supposedly remaining, Irvin hauled goalie Gerry McNeil from the Montreal nets and the Canadiens piled into the Wings with six potential goal-getters trying to tie the game.

About half a minute later Ted Lindsay got the puck from Sid Abel, with a yarning net all his, Tony fired the puck in.

When the second hand of the clock crept up to 60, the automatic siren did not sound. Instead the second hand completed another full cycle. When it struck 60 again, the siren operated.

By this time the dazed Irvin sent McNeil back into the nets and the crowd was in uproar.

Antics of the final 60 seconds played considerable hob with the debut of the Stanley Cup final series.

New Billion Dollar Plant To Make Atom

WASHINGTON (CP)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced Friday it is planning a new billion dollar plant to produce Uranium 235, key atomic substance in war or peace.

Sites in the Ohio River valley are being studied. It is said the plant will require about 6,000 acres of land.

It will need about 4,500 operating workers and will eat up 1,800,000 kilowatts of power when running at capacity.

Mrs. G. G. Withers, who has been in Vancouver attending a Daughters of the Empire conference, returned home from the south on yesterday's plane.

Queen Keeps Name Windsor

LONDON (CP)—The Queen on Friday perpetuated the House of Windsor as the ruling family of Britain.

An announcement in the official London Gazette said she will retain the name of Windsor instead of using Mountbatten, her married name.

Her children, too, will be Windsors.

The Windsor family, although not the name, is traced back to Egbert, King of Wessex.

Two important family matters still remain for the Queen to decide—

When to confer the title Prince of Wales on her three-year-old son, heir to the throne. He already is Cornwall.

When she will move a special decree giving the Duke of Edinburgh precedence next to herself, thus making him "Britain's First Gentleman."

Del Flanagan Wins in Upset

TELEGRAPH CREEK (Special to Daily News)—A white trapper, Al Woods, is missing from Seventeen Mile Lake in the Nahlin district, 75 miles north of Telegraph Creek on the Atlin trail. Aerial searching has been started.

Woods' tracks were last seen February 20 by five Indian trappers, Pete, Matthew, Ray, and Rex Henye, and Gibson Quock who returned from their trapping March 31.

Constable Dick and Pilot H. Peterson, accompanied by Willis Brown, native of Telegraph Creek, went out searching by air for the missing trapper yesterday. The search lasted for three hours but not a trace was found. The search party returned home at 6 o'clock last night.

Easter

INSPIRED by the great Christian anniversary of the divine Death and Resurrection, the Easter season of hope and faith symbolized is with us again.

In this country the occasion synchronizes with the time of year when Nature awakens and the drab winter changes to the stir and freshness of spring.

It is a time when we are inspired by our external surroundings and conditions are auspicious for us to be happy, hopeful and of good cheer.

This spiritual resurgence is good and fitting.

Happily enough, there appears abroad in the world today a tendency to return to religious thinking and action as a panacea for the ills that beset us from without and within—internationally and domestically.

Another Easter still sees a troublous and unsettled world but, somehow or other, there seems to be a will to get back to spiritual and moral values by which way alone, after all, can peace and goodwill be restored and the ways of discord and conflict removed.

Something tells us that there is indeed a trend today towards better things in men's hearts and minds. Easter 1952 somehow seems to bear promise of better things to come.

Each and every one of us, by the way we act and feel, can aid in that great movement toward a better world and at this Easter season is a good time to start or continue.

Economic Levelling Off

SIGNS are not lacking that a turning point is commencing in the economic cycle.

A general decline in prices at last seems to be setting in.

As public buying resistance increases, there is more competition in merchandising. Advertising activity confirms this factor.

Basic cause of the current levelling off would appear to be two-fold. One is a lag in defence production which has failed to sop up manpower and metal. The other is the resistance to high prices.

What seems about to happen is for both wages and prices to level off and for the economy to shift back into high gear with consumer demand rising when prices come down.

In the meantime business is cautious about its buying, spending and expansion.

The trend of the day is wholesome—this move away from inflationary pressure—so long as deflation does not set in too strongly.

Great Pork Mystery

I ALWAYS get a warm feeling when I read about some hard headed speech by Percy Wright, MP from Melfort, Saskatchewan.

Percy was one of the two best sergeants that I ever knew. I was lucky enough to inherit him when I quit being a corporal in the 23rd Battery of the Second Canadian Division and went as a lieutenant to the 33rd in the Third Division. Our horses were dying like flies, for the German submarine campaign almost succeeded in the winter of 1916-17.

My first job as an officer was to go around each morning and shoot the starving horses which were too weak to stand up. But I noticed I did not have to shoot so many in Percy Wright's subsection. For Wright was the most ingenious prairie farmer I ever met. He could literally keep guns shooting by making hay-wire repairs in a pinch. And he could keep hungry horses alive by some mysterious process I never did solve. He was the only sergeant who never swore—very loud, anyway.

THE OTHER DAY going over old clippings of wartime years I came on a speech by Percy Wright, MP. He was putting up this proposition to the government:

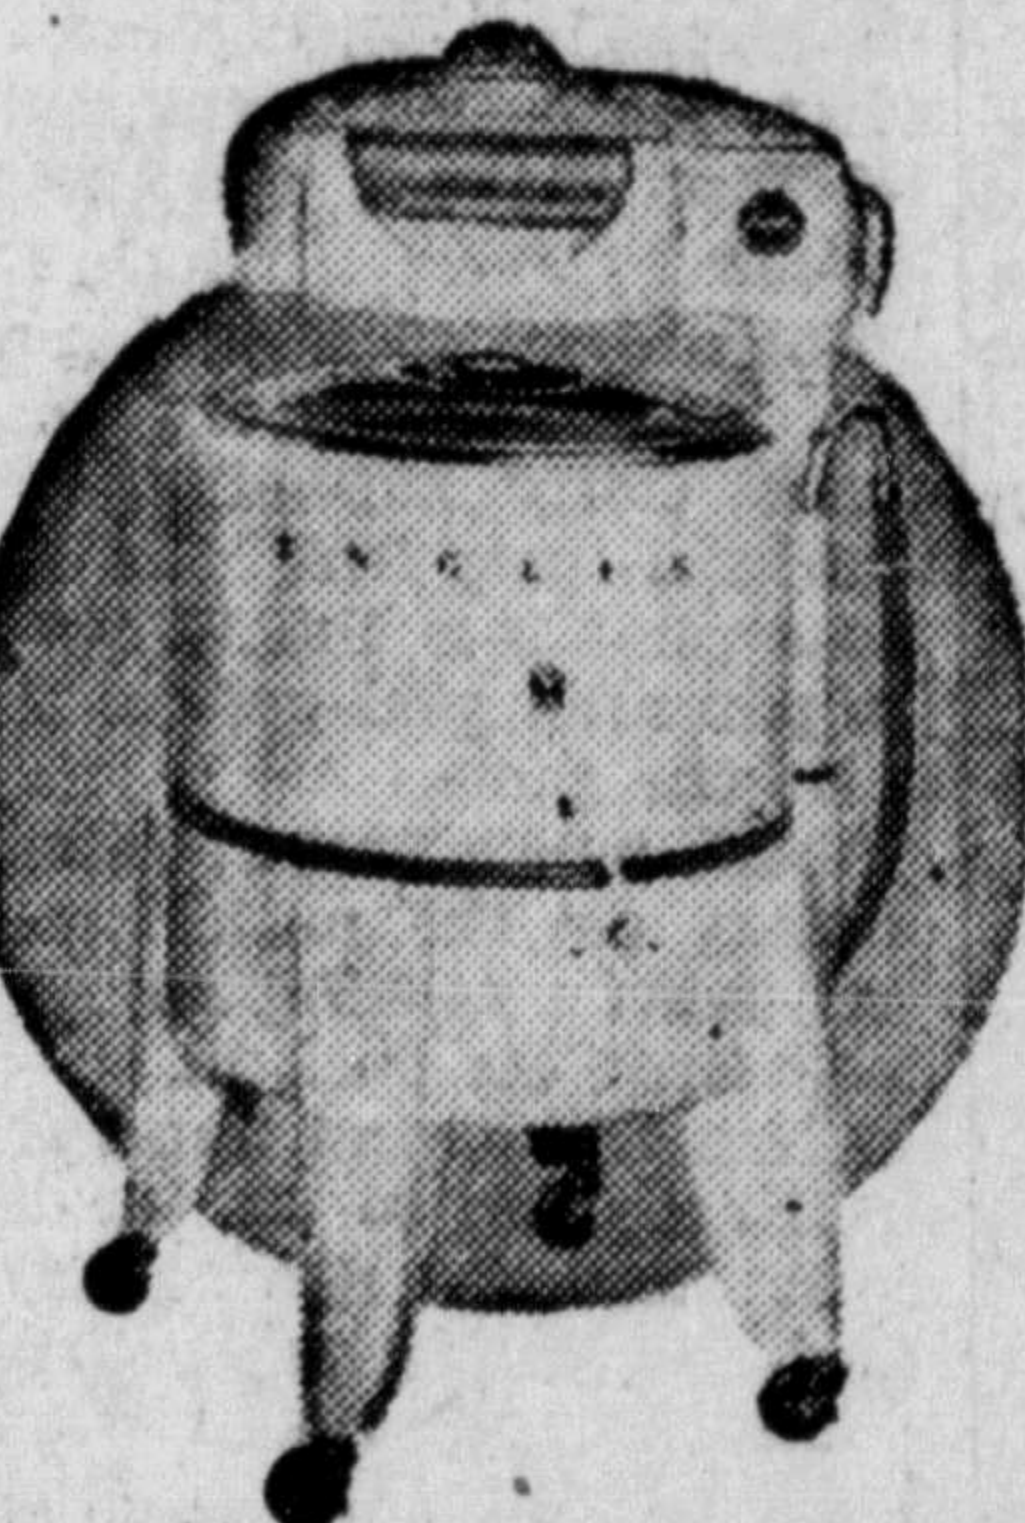

"You are asking the people to buy Victory Bonds when prices are fixed and stable. But will you guarantee that when the time comes to pay back the money the dollar will be worth what it is now?"

That was many years ago—and we all know the answer. Figure out how many dozen eggs your dollars were worth when you bought those war bonds, between 1939 and 1945. Then figure out how many dozen eggs you can get for the same dollars now. Or take bread, butter, beef-steaks, cedar shingles or anything else real.

The fact is that the people loaned dollars worth 100 cents and they are getting paid back dollars worth less than 50 cents.

NOW Percy Wright wants answers on the great pork mystery. He wants the government to investigate why the drastic drops in pork prices paid to farmers have not been passed on to consumers.

Wright shows that in 1948 a Royal Commission excused the

THE LETTERBOX

UP TO CITY COUNCIL

Editor, Daily News:

It is evident that the opinions of Mayor Whalen on civic problems shall not perish for want of effort on his part to impose them on the public as evidenced by his appeals to outside bodies when the city council dissents from his viewpoint.

First, an appeal was taken to the Liberal executive on the power question and then to the Chamber of Commerce on the liquor store deal.

If he persists in such a course the ordinary citizen will not know which body directs civic affairs or if the election of a city council really means anything at all.

While I think every member of the city council approves of organized interest in civic affairs, in the final analysis the responsibility is that of the city council and they alone, be they dumbbells, intellectuals or combination of both.

What is known as vernal hyperpyrexia—spring fever to you—is described as a strange disease. It is never fatal, and is always accompanied by a feeling that any other place is better than where you are. Cures listed include complete rest, change of scenery, fishing or any other form of relaxation or just lying back in the sunshine and watching the clouds go by.

Some candid folks are trying to make the public believe that politicians have taxed everything with the exception of their judgment.

Visitors from Canada and the United States are said to feel that, having viewed Edinburgh, that's all they need to see of Scotland. But this strongly disagrees with the recent survey made by the Scottish Tourist Board to determine the most popular place for a holiday. Aberdeen comes first then Rothesay, Dunoon, Girvan and Oban. Edinburgh is away down the list. Well, here's something that just cannot be helped.

Signs are not lacking that British Columbia voters this coming June will have a wide choice of candidates. It's only April, but it's clear the urge to run is growing in scope and numbers. Nominations can sometimes become contagious.

Attend CHURCH SUNDAY

Saturday Sermon

(By REV. FRED ANTROBUS, First Baptist Church)

"Why seek ye the living among the dead?"—1 Cor. 15:1-26.
1 Cor. 15:17—"If Christ be not raised, your faith is vain; ye are yet in your sins."

Something happened over nineteen centuries ago in Judaea on the morning of the third day which changed the whole current and flow of history—the lives of men, their homes, the rights of children, the lot of slaves, the position of women, and the whole order of society.

All things human were taken into and swept along by a new resistless movement, which still bears upon the crest of its advancing wave, the hope of the world's future.

Peter and the early preachers of the church made the Resurrection one of the chief truths in their messages. Paul rarely mentions the death of Christ without also mentioning the fact of the Resurrection. One would be incomplete without the other. They cannot be separated in God's plan of Redemption. The hope of the Resurrection would be no hope at all if it were not for the Sacrifice of Calvary; it would be a resurrection to judgment. Calvary would have no guarantee or power if it were not for the fact of the open sepulchre on the Resurrection morn.

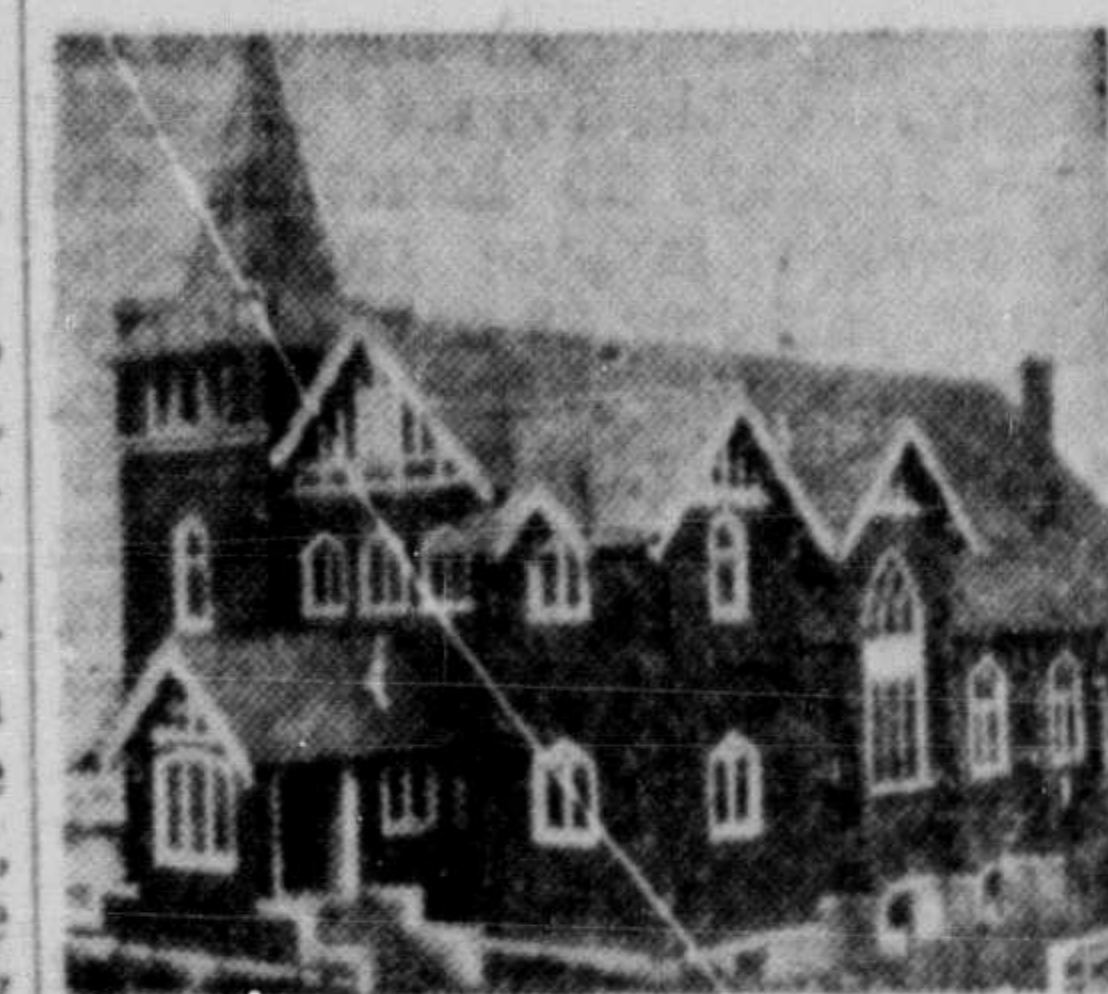

In this great resurrection chapter, Paul speaks like a man certain of what he says, and he summarizes the evidence here, telling of all those who say the Lord in His Resurrection body after the victory of Calvary over sin, death, and the devil.

And the Christian Faith and the Church of Jesus Christ stands or falls with the fact of the Resurrection of Christ. There is no explanation of the apostles apart from the fact of His rising again from the dead. The Resurrection is proved by the moral and spiritual results that have flowed from it. Something happened to the apostles after His death for this group of defeated men were suddenly revived and animated with a faith, hope, courage and certainty which startled the world. They could not be silenced, nor their zeal diminished. — (Acts 4:12, 13)

And the whole conduct and deportment of the church testify to the saneness and reality of their beliefs. For there is no explanation of the Church of Christ apart from His Resurrection. It could never have been born otherwise. And this alone explains the continuance and victories of the church. In spite of the hatred of its enemies, the foolishness and weakness of its followers, yet the Church has gone on through dungeons and arenas of death, through the fire and water of persecution, and the gates of Hades have not been able to prevail against it.

Yes, Paul was right when he said that, if Christ is not raised, there is no living Mediator between God and man. The gulf between the soul and its Creator is still unbridged. God is still unapproachable. Man is yet in his sins. Everything hangs on the Resurrection of the Lord! If it can be proved, that no living Christ ever came forth from the tomb of Joseph of Arimathea, then that tomb becomes not the grave of a man only but, also of the Christian Faith, with all the hopes based upon it, and the splendid enthusiasm and achievements it has inspired.

But Paul goes on to say: "NOW CHRIST IS RISEN from the dead and become the first-fruits of them that slept . . . in Christ, shall all be made alive; but every man in his own turn, Christ the first-fruits, afterwards they who are Christ's, at His Coming."

ALTERNATIVE VOTING WILL BE USED IN THE COMING PROVINCIAL ELECTION

HERE'S WHY THE NEW SYSTEM IS BEING USED

The Voting system has been changed to enable every voter to cast his ballot for more than one candidate in order of his preference.

When you vote under the Alternative Vote system, YOU GET MORE THAN ONE CHOICE. This will prevent any candidate being elected on a minority vote as has happened in the past. The candidate so elected in each riding will have received an absolute majority over all other candidates combined.

IT'S FAIR!

HERE'S HOW YOU VOTE WITH ALTERNATIVE VOTING

The Alternative Vote is as simple as the voting system used before only, instead of marking an X against your one choice only, you can mark 1-2-3-4 with your first choice as number one, your second choice as number two and so forth in order of your preference.

IT'S EASY!

Further messages will appear in your daily and weekly newspapers explaining the Alternative Vote. Watch for them.

Buick Custom Riviera

"We did it Again!"

The dynamic darlings pictured here are the 1952 Buicks.

They have the mightiest engines in Buick history.

They have the biggest brakes of any postwar Buick.

They are the quietest cars that Buick ever built.

They have the richest fabrics and smartest tailoring that ever graced a Buick's interior.

They have the greatest amount of usable trunk space since spare tires moved off the front fenders.

They have the most superb ride in Buick's history.

They have the finest carburetors that Buick research has ever devised.

And with all their power, they deliver more miles per gallon.

But that is not all.

For those who wish it, there is a brand-new version of power-steering on the ROADMASTER series that works like a helping hand—gives you the same sure feel of control you have always known, but never takes more than four pounds of effort to turn the wheel.

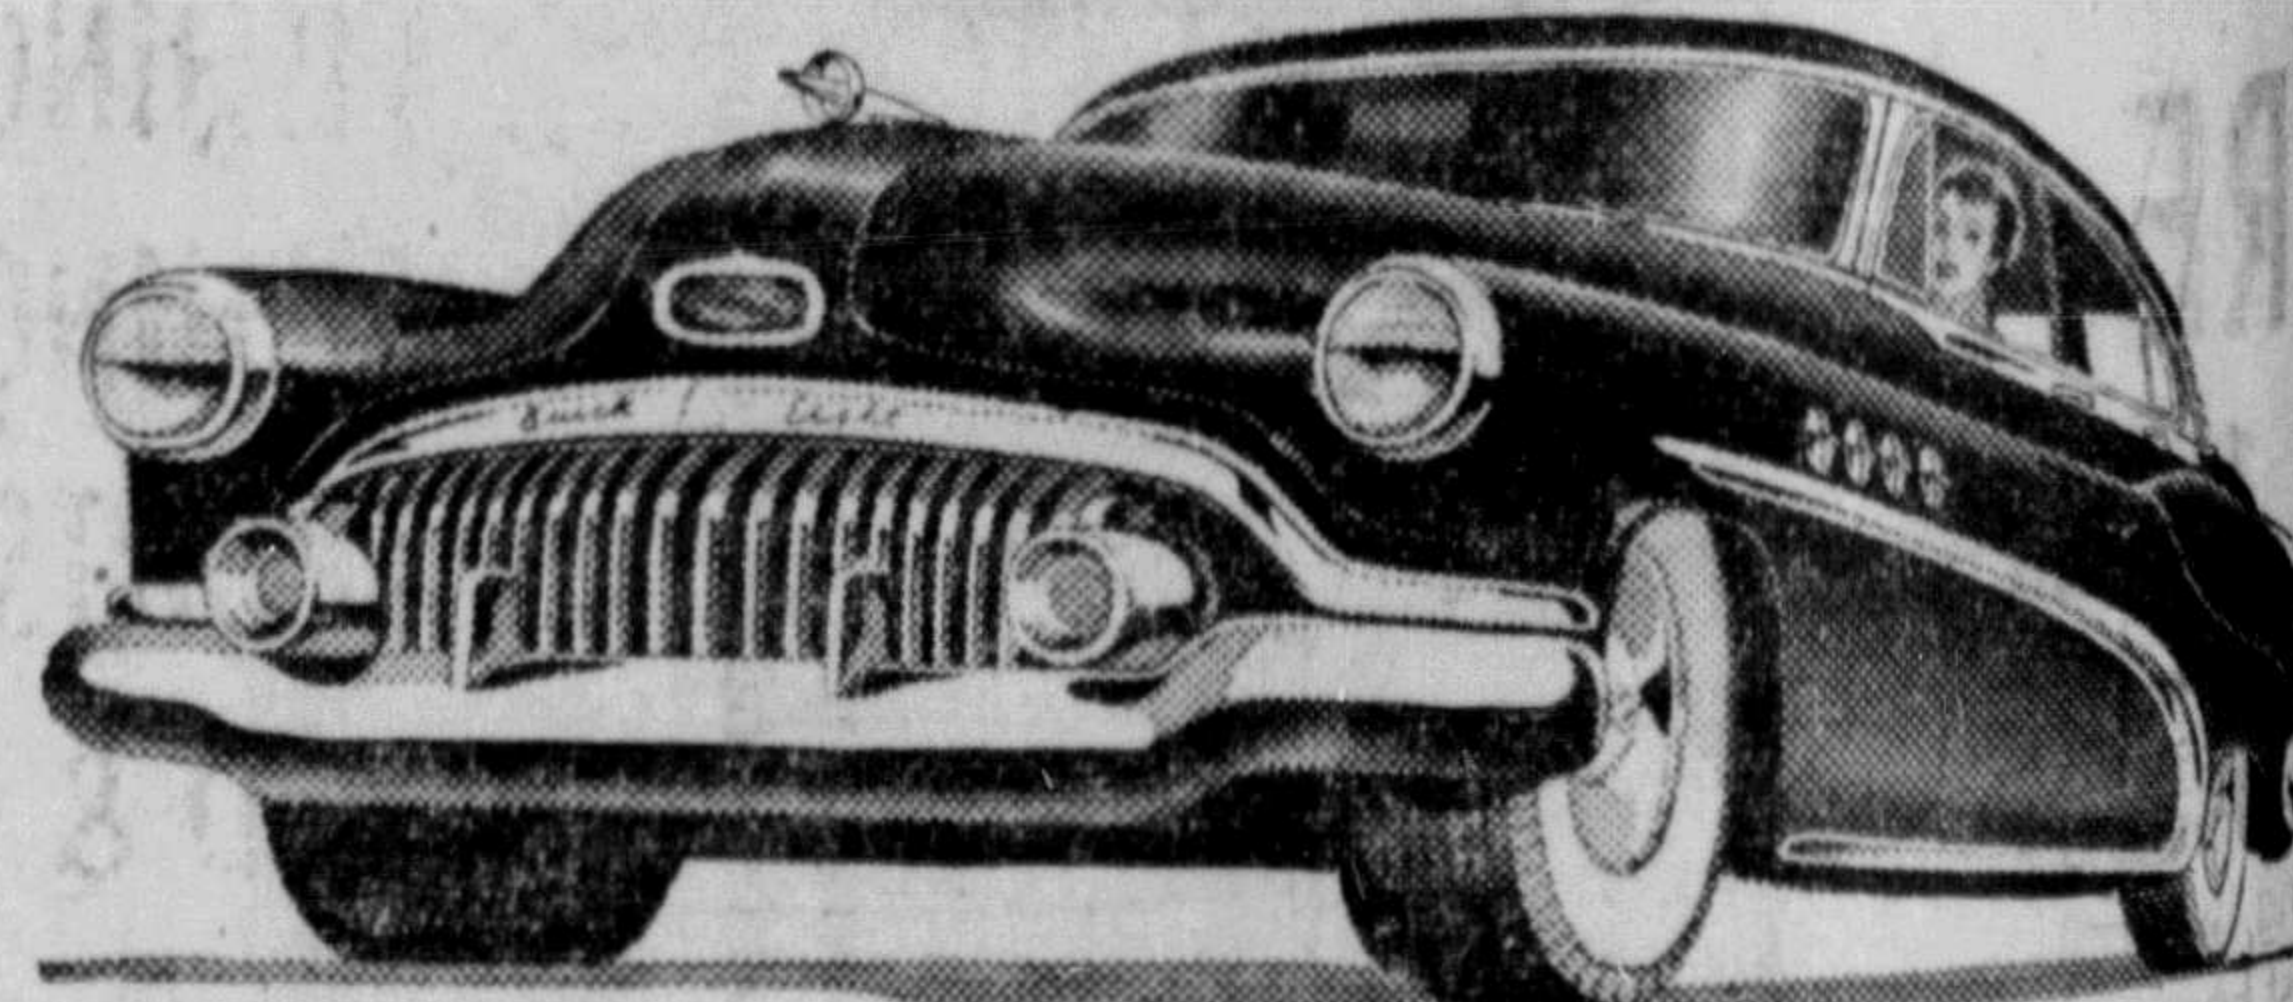

You'll find a host of notable features in all Buicks—ROADMASTERS, SUPERS and CUSTOMS too—plenty to make them, as always, the standout buys in their fields for ride, for comfort, for style, for room, and for power.

Come in—look this triumphant trio over—and you'll decide that now is the time to put your best foot forward and own a Buick.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Care of Fish And Tips for The Angler

About half of all sport fishermen catch more fish than they and their families will eat and more than a quarter of all anglers don't eat any fish at all, according to an average of localized surveys.

The balance of anglers, on the other hand, are as enthusiastic about seeing their catch on the table as they are in the actual sport. And sportsmen "in the know" are careful that their catches reach the kitchen in the best of condition.

One of the first rules to observe—if the catch is not a derby entry—is cleaning the fish. No only does this lighten the aggregate weight of a catch considerably when packing any great distance, but prevents spoiling.

In hot weather, special care must be taken as well to keep fish cool and exposed to air. This can be done most easily by placing leaves, grass and twigs on the bottom of the creel, between the fish and inside the fish.

A few rules contained in the B. C. Sport Fishing Regulations, govern canning and possession of game fish. In part, the Act states:

"No person shall, anywhere in the province, process by canning or bottling any game or trout until said game or trout has been taken to the residence of the angler..."

"No person shall have in his possession anywhere in the province at any one time more trout than will in the aggregate amount to more than two days' bag limit..."

For the purpose of applying Sport Fishing Regulations in B.C., steelhead are considered as "trout." Many a verbal battle has been fought by anglers as to the origin of the steelhead and its relation, if any, to the Rainbow trout.

Most popular belief today holds the steelhead is sea-going rainbow who returns to his birthplace to spawn several years in succession. He is the "big city" brother of the land-locked Rainbow, who has thrived on salt-water food to weights of 20 pounds and more.

The Rainbow is usually content to have reached the two and a half pound mark before running foul of an angler's barb, although statistics have shown them to go as heavy as 30 pounds.

Prince Rupert Rod & Gun Club members are strong in the belief that most of the Rainbow trout eggs, thousands of which have been planted in local lakes, have made their way oceanwards as sea-going Rainbow fry and will some day return as steelhead. This belief is based on the fact that the lakes and streams in which the eggs were planted have a direct connection with the Pacific and that no increase has been noticed in the population of Rainbow trout.

Residents of B.C. over the age of 18 shall not angle or troll for fish in any non-tidal waters of the province or, except while travelling in a public conveyance, carry for the purpose of, so fishing any fishing rods or other device which can be used for catching any fish by angling, without a licence.

Two Anglers Gain Entries, Dozen Others Draw Blanks

First come, first serve—that's how local anglers were treated yesterday as more than a dozen hopeful ranged the banks of Kloyah River in order to land an entry in the Rod and Gun Club steelhead derby.

First on the scene at the "falls pool" were Jack Gearley and D. S. McMeekin. Each landed two in less than an hour and that was the take for the day from Kloyah, good looking water notwithstanding.

McMeekin's top prize was a silver beauty tipping 12 pounds

Tillsonburg Wins Title

TILLSONBURG — Gerry Livingstone's Tillsonburg basketball club Friday night won the Canadian senior championship by squeezing out a 55-54 decision over the Winnipeg Varsity Grads, taking the best of five series.

Winnipeg, ahead only once in the game, provided a thrilling finish by taking a one-point margin with less than two minutes to go. Seconds later Red Curran, Tillsonburg's towering guard, scored a basket to give his squad a one point margin.

The Tempest

All smiles and chuckles, aboard the craft, As they were heading out to sea;

Some sang, some hum, some merely thought, O, how good merry folks are we. However, fate was ill inclined. Of what's the outcome going to be;

As they left Prince Rupert far behind A nasty wind sprang up out of the sea.

O, for a soft and gentle wind, Some fair folks would so cry; Some said, give me the snorting breeze,

And white waves heaving high, And white waves running high my boys.

The good ship is tight, and free: Now, the world of waters is our home.

On the sleek pleasure craft "For Thee," But the breeze increased to a tempest,

And some folks would start to groan; But some good soul, would console

That the good "For Thee" will bring us home. But some folks so felt, the end was near,

And prayed, and groaned, and said, whoever Will try to get me out to sea again,

I will say, Never! Never! Never! —Rudolf Braun.

Painting Enriching Experience

"To have reached the age of forty without ever handling a brush or fiddling with a pencil, to have regarded with mature eye the painting of pictures of any kind as a mystery, to have stood agape before the chalk of the pavement artist and then, suddenly to find oneself plunged in the middle of a new and intense form of interest and action with paints and palettes and canvases, and not to be discouraged by the results, is an astonishing and enriching experience. I hope it may be shared by others. I should be glad if these lines induced others to try the experiment which I have tried, and if some at least were to find themselves dowered with an absorbing new amusement delightful to themselves and at any rate not violently harmful to man or beast."

"Buy a paint box and have a try. If you need something to occupy your leisure, to divert your mind from the daily round, to illuminate your holidays, do not be too ready to believe that you cannot find what you want here. Even at the advanced age of forty. It would be a sad pity to shuffle or scramble along through one's playtime with golf and bridge, pottering, loitering, shifting from one heel to the other, wondering what on earth to do—as perhaps is the fate of some unhappy beings—when all the while, if you only knew, there is close at hand a wonderful new world of thought and craft, a sunlight garden gleaming with light and color of which you have the key in your waistcoat pocket. Inexpensive independence, a mobile and perennial pleasure apparatus, new mental food and exercise, the old harmonies and symmetries in an entirely different language, an added interest to every common scene, and occupation for every idle hour, an unceasing voyage of entrancing discovery—these are high prizes. Make quite sure they are not yours."

"After all, if you try, and fail, there is not much harm done. The nursery will grab what the studio has rejected. And then you can always go out and kill some animal, humiliate some rival on the links or despoil some friend across the green table. You will not be worse off in any way. In fact you will be better off. You will know 'beyond a peradventure' that that is really what you were meant to do in your hours of relaxation."

—From Painting as a Pastime by Winston S. Churchill.

CLASSICAL RESEARCH

BRIGADOON—Operetta by Alan Lerner and Frederick Loewe.

Act I—Brigadoon is the story of two Americans, Tommy Albright and Jeff Douglass, who are lost in the Scottish Highlands and stumble upon a village, not on the map, called "Brigadoon." At the village fair that sunny May morning, "Down on MacConnachy Square," Tommy meets a pert and lovely lass named Fiona MacLaren, who is busy today helping her sister prepare for her wedding to young Charlie Dalrymple, which is to take place that evening. Fiona, the older, is not married but is, as she says, "Waitin' for My Dearie."

The men arrive at the square and hear Charlie tell of his feelings about his approaching marriage in "I'll Go Home With Bonnie Jean." Tommy, intrigued by the talk of a miracle and the odd quaintness of the town and his sudden attraction to Fiona, decides to stay the day out. He and Fiona go off to gather heather for the wedding, to "The Heather on the Hill."

Later that day, at the MacLaren house, Charlie arrives to sign the family Bible and, because of the old superstition preventing the bride and groom from seeing each other the day of the wedding, sings to her through the closed door, "Come To Me, Bend To Me." Tommy and Fiona return from a lovely day together and tell Jeff they find it's "Almost Like Being in Love."

But Tommy presses her to explain the mystery of the village, and Fiona takes him and Jeff to visit the schoolmaster of the town, Mr. Lundie. Mr. Lundie reveals that Brigadoon was miraculously blessed two hundred years ago, and that it lapses into a sleep from which it awakens only one day in every hundred years. No villager is allowed to leave, or the enchantment will be broken and the town will disappear forever. A stranger, however, can stay if he falls in love.

Now all go down to the churchyard for the wedding. Following the simple ceremony, the bride's broken-hearted suitor decides to run away and destroy the town. As he runs from the churchyard, he certain falls for the end of Act I.

Act II—The men, in an exciting chase through the forest, succeed in stopping the runaway, but only when he is found dead, seemingly from having struck his head on a rock.

Back in the glen, Tommy tells Fiona he is in love with her, in "There But For You Go I," and makes up his mind to stay in Brigadoon with her. As they leave to see Mr. Lundie, a lass of the village, Meg Brockie, entertains the wedding guests with "My Mother's Wedding Day."

Tommy tells Jeff of his decision to stay, then discovers that Jeff was the inadvertent killer of the runaway. The shock of his friend's confession, and Jeff's better off. You will know 'beyond a peradventure' that that is really what you were meant to do in your hours of relaxation."

packers for instantaneously passing on higher pork prices. The British bacon contract had suddenly raised prices paid to farmers. Before you could say "Jack Robinson" the packers, wholesalers and retailers had passed on those increases to Canadian consumers. The commission said this was just normal business practice. It admitted that the packers had made what it called "substantial fortuitous gains" by instantaneously jacking up the price of all pork then in storage bought at the lower price.

IF IT was fair business for packers, wholesalers and retailers instantly to jack up their prices when they were raised to the farmer—why is it not also "good business" to let them come down? Canada has in storage over 42 million pounds of surplus unsold pork. The government is talking of selling it BELOW COST or giving it away to foreigners. Why not bring retail prices down here at home? How many families can afford ham and eggs now—not just at Easter, but all year round?

WATERFRONT -- WHIFFS

Dry Dock Could Be Busier—Heavy
Class Shipments From Here

More activity is noted at the dry dock yards but most is in the repairing line, practically all of the jobs being small ones. The dry dock plant, originally established when Prince Rupert was founded, is large enough and sufficiently well equipped to take care of any sized contract.

During the Second World War, shipbuilding here was on a most important scale. But now, the very important seems to come its way these days.

Writes Captain Kettle concerning the gallant but unsuccessful attempt to save the freighter Flying Enterprise:

"To anyone versed in the tradition of the sea, the extraordinary and widespread failure which accompanied the valiant fight must be attributed to the demand for dramatic reporting.

Captain Carlsen was probably a most astonished man at the tremendous excitement worked up day by day as the news kept rolling in of the progress of the attempted salvage operation, with its final climax sounding the high note. A normal, modest man, he probably would be the last man to expect or wish any such ballyhoo. One must suppose therefore that the public demand for such drama has resulted from the desire to convey stories to a public nurtured on sensationalism."

Strangely enough, the master proceeding in thick weather is more afraid of an anchored vessel than one under way. This is because, if another vessel is under way, it can do its part in any necessary manoeuvres—whereas, if it is anchored, it cannot move and takes considerably more room than its own length because of its anchor cable.

No fewer than 15,000 cases of clams, from the north coast and around Prince Rupert, have been shipped to the eastern markets by the B.C. Packers. It's been an unusually good winter in the trade.

For the first time in Prince Rupert's history, the handling of barley in shipload lots is about to begin. The winter has been a busy one in the shipment of wheat, the last of the grain boats, the Kiyokawa Maru, Capt. Mashima, sailing from here this week with 310,000 bushels. Already, barley awaits the first of the four barley boats. The time is somewhere about the end of April. The Kiyokawa Maru, coming for the fourth time this season, will be back for barley.

Every morsel of a salmon or halibut is made use of in these more or less high cost of living days. Nothing is thrown away, wasted or destroyed. Nothing is discarded or left to decay. Material not acceptable for the table is prepared and packed, and sent to other provinces or more distant markets where it is utilized as mink food.

PURSUED BY MONSTER

Dr. N. M. Carter, a former resident of Prince Rupert, and for many years identified with the fisheries experimental station here, has been answering questions put to him by a fisherman of Vancouver, where Dr. Carter has been living since moving from the north. The fisherman thinks he has been pursued by some marine monster and cannot figure out just what it might have been.

Dr. Carter says he declines to state there are no such creatures as sea serpents. What the fisherman was scared of might have been a wolf-eel which looks like an eel, but isn't. It is rarely more than eight feet, with a vicious looking mouth. Or it could have been a basking shark, or the thresher shark with an elongated tail. It will be remembered that, when Dr. Carter was a Prince Rupert resident, discovery of a weird looking sea creature on an island shore near here occurred. Great and far-reaching was the excitement. Speculation as to its identity even got into the London press. Eventually, after examination in Victoria, it was established as a basking shark, some of which grow 40 feet in length, told his fisherman friend.

Reckoned one of the most powerful tugs in the world, of its size, the Brynn Foss of Tacoma is now plying her power in her home port. She is fitted with an 800 h.p. Nordberg direct drive engine (diesel). The new tug operates on a 24 hours a day, six days a week basis, with three different crews running her on each eight hour shift.
