WILD MIDWEST RIVERS CONTINUE RAMPAGE

Hundreds of Thousands Are Homeless; Damage Runs Into Many Millions

OMAHA, Nebraska (Canadian Press)—The twin cities of Omaha and Council Bluffs, with 40,000 people evacuated from their homes, today awaited behind reinforced dikes for the crowning assault of the flooding Missouri River.

The two sides, on either side of the Missouri, are focal points for midwest floods which have made 114,000 persons homeless and killed at least two persons in eight states.

Besides the Missouri, rivers chiefly responsible for the millions of dollars' damage include the Mississippi, the Milk River, the Red River and the Minnesota River.

The Missouri, which slowed its downstream march slightly last night, was nevertheless over the 28-foot mark early today and is expected to reach the record crest of 31.5 feet tonight. It is not known whether the dikes built originally to hold a crest of 26.6 feet can hold back the surging waters.

A hard fight is being waged at Fargo on the Red River to save a veterans' hospital which houses 200 patients.

Five thousand persons are homeless on the Mississippi and crews are fighting desperately at nearby Winona where a third of the city could be inundated if dikes gave way.

The Milk River in Montana has caused an estimated $2,941,000 damage.

The Minnesota is still over flood stage at Mankato, Minnesota, and Minneapolis.

Omaha was the site of discussions yesterday by President Truman, Senators, congressmen and governors brought demands for speedy flood control action.

The President agreed that there should be such action and that such flood disasters as these were unnecessary.

Composer Marries Chinese Secretary

No Guarantee For Power Co.

Northern British Columbia Power Co. is being advised that the city of Prince Rupert cannot guarantee reimbursement for the purchase price plus reasonable return on any future installations which the Northern B.C. Power Co. may make to meet increased power demand before the expiry of its franchise in 1954.

Recently the Power Company had made a request along these lines.

The city is pointing out to the Power Company that B. C. Power Commission has advised that the city has no power to enter into such an arrangement.

British Design French Uniform

LONDON—A famous London dressmaker, Charles Creed, has been asked to design the uniform for the French equivalent of Britain's Women's Royal Army Corps—the "Personnel Feminin de l'Armée de Terre." He chose navy blue gabardine and made a belted suit which is worn with a pale blue blouse for duty wear and a white blouse for "dress" occasions.

Sea Cadets to Train in Britain

LONDON—Some 80 sea cadets from Canada, South Africa, Rhodesia, Australia and New Zealand will go to Britain this summer to train with British cadets in camps ashore and afloat. They will begin, on July 5, with two weeks' training in HMS Osprey.

FARM BONANZA

CARMAN, Man. (P)—Dan and August Paul collected the first fox bounties to be paid by Dufferin municipality this year. The pair took 10 young foxes from a den on a district farm, earnings $50 in bounties.

Heaviest Rainstorm Of Season

Railway, Highway, Phones Waterfront Hit

Both means of land communication—railroad and highway—to the eastern part of the province were knocked out temporarily yesterday in the aftermath of this area's heaviest rainstorm, which saw more than 4½ inches fall in less than 48 hours.

Meanwhile, Highway 15 is still closed to traffic. Several more washouts were reported early this morning, while light flooding conditions remain in the Prudhomme Lake area, according to provincial public works office.

Heavy winds, recorded at more than 60 miles an hour, greatly aided in soil erosion along the highway, said the engineer and slide areas are considered as dangerous.

A washout fifteen miles west of Terrace held up traffic on the railway for several hours yesterday afternoon and was finally cleared during the night to permit the train from the east to get through, arriving here at 5 a.m.

Before the eastbound train, which had been held for departure until midnight, reached the scene another washout had come down at the same spot and that train crossed over about 1:30 this afternoon.

With water receding, railway officials believed that trains would now be moving normally again. Tonight's train is leaving on time and the train from the east is due on time at 10:05 p.m.

On the local scene, continuous wet weather has disrupted telephone service, knocking out more than 300 phones. Main area affected is Seal Cove. Lines to Prince Rupert General Hospital are also out of order.

Little waterfront damage was surveyed this morning in the wake of the bucket-pouring gale. Fishermen Co-op floats broke loose from moorings and several dolphins were sheared off setting floating camps adrift.

No equipment was damaged. Co-op packers stood by in the teeth of the gale to keep an alert look-out.

A record rainfall in Prince Rupert history is estimated to have been produced in the last few days. Five and a half-inches of rain was recorded at Digby Island weather station from Monday to this morning. Most of the downpour was concentrated on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Freshets, roaring alongside city streets, have been overflowing drain intakes.

OTTAWA (CP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners Wednesday night made public an order to the railways to reduce freight rates by about $7,000,000 a year on goods moving between eastern and western Canada.

Air Quiet But Korean Ground Fight Keeps Up

SEOUL (CP)—Allied airmen tied down their planes today in the teeth of roaring winds sweeping down from North Korea. Only a few weather reconnaissance planes were out.

On the ground the Reds threw a series of light jabs at Allied lines on the western front. All were hurled back.

Allied warships pounded the North Korean east coast Wednesday.

Carrier-based planes hit Red positions southwest of Chinnampo.

In spectacular ground action Wednesday, about twenty Allied tanks raided Red lines near Kumsong on the central front. Twelve Reds were killed. Two tanks were damaged.

Soviet Living Cost Sky High

WASHINGTON.—The cost of living in Russia remains sky-high in spite of recent price cuts which the Kremlin is bragging about. American officials say.

An analysis of the Soviet price cuts announced with much fanfare recently disclosed that no reductions were forthcoming on clothing, shoes, furniture, potatoes, matches, or rents. Economists said that even with the new reduction, prices in the Soviet Union still range far higher than prices in the United States. The average Soviet citizen, at the same time, has much less to spend than the average American.

Canadian for Leeds Church

LEEDS, England.—The 317-year-old Church of St. John the Evangelist, in New Briggate, Leeds, will soon have a Canadian priest-in-charge, the Rev. J. S. Dodd of Huron diocese. He will reach Britain in mid-May and remain for two years.

Did Hitler Try to Flee?

COPENHAGEN.—A dynamite blast which raised remnants of a sunken German submarine is causing speculation that leading Nazis—possibly Hitler—tried to flee when the Reich was on the eve of collapse in 1945.

It is known the U-boat was one of three bombed by the RAF. Investigation showed it was crammed with goods, including huge quantities of rotting food. She carried no munitions or papers or documents of any description.

Colombia Expels Newspaperman

BOGOTA, Colombia.—Martha Leguizamon, United Press manager in Colombia, left Bogota recently after receiving government orders to leave the country.

The pro-government newspaper Diario Grafico quoted the Minister of Interior as saying that Mr. Leguizamon was expelled "because of continuous intervention in the country's internal politics."

Diario Grafico said that the specific reason for Mr. Leguizamon's expulsion was "his manifest hostility towards the Colombian government during the surrender of Saul Fajardo by the Chilean Embassy."

Discs Sighted Near River Atomic Plant

OTTAWA (CP)—The Royal Canadian Air Force on Wednesday sent its intelligence branch to investigate the report of "discs" over North Bay, the latest being Saturday.

North Bay is about 110 miles from Chalk River, Ontario, Canada's big atomic energy plant.

The RCAF non-commissioned officers reported seeing the over North Bay Saturday.

WHEAT—Wheat from western Canada, which has been moving into lakehead ports by rail during the winter, again moves, this time by ship. The wheat streams into one of the Great Lakes' carriers, the S.S. Lemoyne, at the dock of the St. Lawrence Pool Terminal 4 at Port Arthur. Heavy harbor snow slowed down the big ships but activity is being resumed. (CP PHOTO)

Our Blessed Weather

IT HAS RAINED and it has blown in Prince Rupert the last few days. Indeed, it has. But who are we to complain.

The rugged slopes carry our torrents safely into the sea. They do not accumulate to flood our streets and our homes, to full scale disaster.

What if our highway does get washed out! What if our telegraph lines go down for a few hours?

What if a few trees blow down in the gale and the waterfront gets shaken up a bit!

We never have death, destruction and desolation such as the Mid West states are suffering today with the Missouri and the Mississippi and lesser streams going on the rampage as they are doing now.

If we are inclined to complain about a wet, rainy day in Prince Rupert let us consider ourselves in comparison with others less fortunate and count our blessings!

Other Lands Not So Tolerant

WHEREVER the Doukhobors or Sons of Freedom may go, assuming they are permitted to dwell there, no new location can ever match the treatment always received in Canada. Nowhere on earth will they find a policy of patience equalling what it has been their good fortune to experience. This they can never forget. This they will, doubtless, remember if, in South America or somewhere else they meet authority that does not understand certain forms of life and conduct and what is more cannot be said to have the slightest desire to learn.

What Are We?

WE ARE hardened to the fact that a resident of Halifax calls himself a Haligonian. It seems logical that people who live in Montreal are Montrealers; in Toronto, Torontonians; in Winnipeg, Winnipeggers; in Vancouver, Vancouverites. (In the last case, the suffix can perhaps be justified by the fact that civic pride in Vancouver is something of a religion.)

We believe that people from Cambridge are Cantabrigians; at least they fasten that label on with the degree when they graduate students from the university.

But what should we call the citizens of Prince Rupert? Prince Rupert-ites? Rupertians? Or what not?

These sort of problems are always interesting. What do our readers think about it?

Reflects and Reminisces

The dropping of bodily temperature, says a Chicago psychologist, can lead to a divorce. Dropping of a hint, sometimes, can do as much.

The Titanic sank forty years ago Tuesday. Of those who were in Prince Rupert on that bright spring morning, few indeed are still here. Of these, none can forget the shock of sorrow, coupled with anxiety as to the future of the railway yet to be completed, and the terminus on the north coast of British Columbia. For Charles M. Hays—master mind and dominant personality—was no more.

BEHOLD THE SEVENTEENTH!
Ireland is said to be a verdant land. If the isle is any greener than Kalen Island, it won't be the fault of the weather—particularly during the past three days.

HOW IT MURMURED!
There were moments last winter when we smirked at sunlight gleaming on ice, a blue sky and spotless miles of snow. But oh, the yearning for soft air, freedom from shoveling, and of rain. Yes, we felt it, and didn't you?

That deep sea creature caught off Vancouver Island turns out to be just another seal — only larger and with points of interest not usually noted. This will never do for Victoria. Having developed a marine mystery, and played it up for years, this alert community cannot allow it to die.

WHEN SIN IS IMAGINED
We can't see where it would be any more sinful to buy openly a government legalized sweepstakes ticket for the benefit of hospitals in Canada than to sneak around a corner and slip somebody something for a ticket that has been smuggled in from Ireland via the United States, says a Toronto contemporary.

President Moves To Curb Patronage

WASHINGTON, D.C. — President Truman has asked Congress to place customs collectors, United States marshals, and postmasters under civil service and remove their offices from the field of political patronage. He proposed a similar civil service merit system for selection of all Bureau of Customs officials, including collectors, comptrollers, and surveyors who are now appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate.

His proposal affecting the Justice Department would abolish all present offices of United States marshal and re-establish new positions. They would be filled by the Attorney General under classified civil service.

Public Education in Driving Is Safety Urged at Jaycees Meet

Hugo Kraupner Calls for Better Law Enforcement and More Publicity

Showing two enlarged photographs of a demolished car, a local businessman appealed to the Junior Chamber of Commerce last night to "help educate the public to observe safe driving rules."

Hugo Kraupner, senior chamber delegate to the meeting, suggested the Jaycees form a traffic and safety committee to aid authorities in making highways and city streets safer.

"If the Motor Vehicles Act, the Highway Act and city bylaws were enforced, it would tend to limit hazardous driving," he said. "And instead of hiding a short report of such accidents on the inside pages of the newspaper, they should find a prominent place on the front page," Mr. Kraupner said. "Not nearly enough" publicity was given in such cases.

High insurance rates in Prince Rupert were due to the high accident rate here, he said, mentioning causes of negligence, driving to the common danger and under the influence of liquor.

"I think that drivers convicted of carelessness should receive the maximum penalties," Mr. Kraupner called the Prince Rupert-Port Edward highway "very dangerous, and not a speedway." He said the RCMP had promised reduced speed limit signs would be installed and a limited highway patrol would be instituted.

"Hardly any driver observes regulations on the highway in this area, but a police patrol may limit certain hazards, especially speeding," said Mr. Kraupner.

He told Jaycees he had made an investigation of Prince Rupert traffic problems. "As a result I feel definitely that some organization interested in our community should give safety in traffic a lot of consideration." He said he had taken a count at Galloway Rapids bridge to see how many vehicles stopped at the stop

Control In South

JACKSON, Miss.—The South for the first time since 1936 holds the balance of political power, both within the Democratic Party and in the nation, according to Senator Karl E. Mundt (R) of South Dakota.

"The South faces an opportunity such as no other segment of our country has ever faced and such as Dixie has not had since the Democratic National Convention in 1936 repealed the 'two thirds rule,'" Senator Mundt declared here in a speech before the annual meeting of the Mississippi Economic Council.

Senator Mundt, who for two years has stumped the country advocating a liberal-conservative realignment of the nation's two major parties, said that such a shuffle could result from the 1952 elections.

As I See It

by Elmore Philpott

UK Tories on Skids

THE British people have administered a resounding rebuke to their new Tory government.

In the county and municipal elections there has been an anti-Conservative swing of tidal wave proportions.

The question is: Will the Churchill government be able to live out its appointed term?

My guess is that before many months have passed we shall see some new move for a coalition government. Readers may recall that I reported from Liverpool last fall, after Mr. Churchill's opening speech, that he seemed to be aiming at a new coalition rather than for a mere Tory party victory.

The real stumbling block to such a move right now is that the belligerent Nye Bevan would have no part or parcel in it.

THE BRITISH Tories seem to me to be getting their just deserts, for the plain fact of the matter is that they won the election by sharp practices.

They plainly told the people that they would improve living conditions, above all by increasing meat rations and building 300,000 houses per year instead of the 200,000 which Labor had actually constructed.

Lord Woolton made it more vivid when he told the people that they would get "more red meat." They are of course getting less red meat and all other kinds of meat. Moreover, more Britons are out of work than for many years.

In the northern English textile manufacturing towns one third of all the workers are again on the dole. The dire pre-election warnings of the Labor speakers have already been vindicated.

UNEMPLOYMENT in Britain is still far below that in Canada or the U.S.A. The latest figures show 433,000 registered unemployed in Britain as against 371,000 in Canada on February 28, 1952. As Britain has over three and a half times Canada's population the above figures speak for themselves.

Why then the fierce anti-government swing in Britain? I think the answer is obvious. The Labor government's policy of "full employment and fair shares" was an overall plan. The claim was that if everybody in the nation would consent to live on the strict austerity rationing system, the whole population could be kept at work.

By our standards their pay was woefully low—but the point was that just about everybody had a job and every family could get by somehow. It had worked.

WHILE the Tories won the election by double-talk, both wings of Labor played sharp politics too. The main motive for bringing on the election when it was held was to be one jump ahead of the crisis. I do not say that both wings of the Labor party wanted to lose the election—for plainly they did not. But the outcome of the election put the Conservatives back into office where they were bound to "take the British economic crisis... I am sure that the group correctly... on. They were... enough to force... ish armament... siderably beyond... the country to... be noted that... opposed re-arm... have argued... gains anything... if it ruins its... the attempt to... tarily stronger...

President to Test American History

First of Alaska Music Trail Concerts Complete Triumph

The third and last of the Alaska Music Trail of the season at Civic Centre auditorium last night was a triumph. A good-sized audience, showing high appreciation, voted the concert of Gimpel, noted Polish-born violin master, the finest high class musical treats ever to be heard here.

Gimpel's remarkable mastery of the instrument and his technique and interpretation were thrilling. His piano accompanist, Puerstner, was no less skilled and was a highly talented musician. Gimpel's repertoire was of a classical nature as to go over the heads of many present seem- ingly. But, it one did not get the full under- standing and spirit of his program, his technical and interpretative genius shined.

Gimpel is a "body and artist. Unostentatious, he has a confidence, charm and an expression that transports his audience to the upper levels of enjoyment. He lifted the audience to such a point of admiration and appreciation that encore after encore was demanded before he permitted to finally retire.

The program opened with a piano sonata group—D Minor, a soft, clear allegro coming pensively and moving vigorously; a finely and exacting adagio; a sentimental movement of lasting vigor with agile sequences, and a fast- paced presto agitato.

Beethoven's "Romance in E-flat," Mr. Gimpel shared with Mr. Puerstner who gave ample opportunity to display his skill as piano inter- pretive.

Prophetic Mozart Rondo, with harmony and range of sound acclaim.

Chopin's "Rondeau Capriccioso," swinging from the high to the deep G, brought the first half of the program to a close.

Successful chording in tone and melody development featured Wiedawski Concerto in D major, No. 2 which opened the second half of the program. It consisted of three sequences—moderato, a romantic non troppo, and the allegro moderato (a la Chopin).

Chopin's "Serenade in E-flat" was rendered with fine tonal effects and in appreciation of its titling, a popular item on the program was, doubtless, a de Falla "Dance in which Mr. Gimpel was able to give full and marvelous bowing skill. The program came to a climax with a group of Sarasate Gypsy dances and Maurice Ravel's "Habanera."

Gimpel used a rare violin made in Venice by Carlo Tononi, a student of Stradivarius, in 1715. It was used last century in Moscow in the introduction of the famous Tchaikowsky Concerto. Mr. Gimpel finally acquired the instrument

More Fine Artists to Come Here

During the Gimpel recital last evening, Civic Centre Director John Stirn made an important announcement in regard to Alaska Music Trail engagements for the 1952-53 season at Civic Centre. There will be four recitals instead of three, being arranged by Maxim Shapiro, Alaska Music Trail originator.

First in October will come a violin, cello and piano trio in a program of chamber music, trios and duos. The trio will comprise a group of celebrated soloists—Bella Urban, violinist; Luigi Silva, cellist, and Mr. Shapiro himself as pianist.

The soprano in November has been described as a "lucky hit"—Greta Menzel, famous prima donna of the Vienna State Opera, The Havana Opera and the New York City Centre Opera.

To appear in March Mr. Shapiro is negotiating with Grant Johannesen or some other brilliant young American pianist.

For the fourth and additional concert the artist will be an "extraordinary" vocal discovery, Raymond Manton, tenor, who, like Donald Gramm, is reported to have been creating a furor during the current season in the United States.

Stormy Weather Delays Flights

Stormy weather in the Vancouver area prevented Canadian Pacific Air Lines making the usual direct flight between here and there Wednesday. Instead there were two ferry flights to Sandspit to connect with the Douglas there. The first flight left at 4:30 p.m. instead of 10:25, returning at 8 p.m. The second plane left at 7 p.m. and returned later in the evening. Service was back on schedule today.

Education On Credit

Breakfast Clubbers Learn About Operation of Bureau

The Prince Rupert Credit Women's Breakfast Club got off to a fine start last night on their Credit Educational Course. The first of a series of eight study periods was devoted to "what goes on behind the scenes in a credit bureau" and the program was conducted by Mrs. Catherine Laurie, secretary-treasurer of the Credit Bureau of Prince Rupert.

Mrs. Laurie, in a lucid manner, gave a comprehensive outline of the detail involved in the development of credit reports. The many other services of a Credit Bureau were discussed at length and the meeting was followed by a question period.

The majority of Breakfast Clubbers are taking the Credit Educational Course which includes study on personality, the art of successful leadership, customer relations, the operation of smaller businesses, etc. At the conclusion of the course, examinations are to be written and certificates awarded those passing the exams. The course was prepared by the Credit Women's Breakfast Clubs of North America, a division of the National Retail Credit Association.

The meeting was held at the Civic Centre. Mrs. Paula Rickwood is chairman of the Educational committee of the Prince Rupert Credit Women's Breakfast Club.

Indeterminate terms at boys' industrial school were imposed on two local youths in juvenile court here yesterday, not fixed terms of two years as reported yesterday. Length of terms at the school will depend upon the behaviour of the boys.

Personal

Allan Armstrong, who has been on a business trip to Vancouver, returned to the city Tuesday by train, having flown to Prince George.

Mrs. Geoff Lambly of Terrace is spending a few days holidaying in the city. She arrived from the interior on Tuesday night's train.

Dr. R. E. Foerster, director of the Nanaimo Biological Station of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada, is a visitor in the city on official business. He arrived yesterday morning on the Prince Rupert from the south.

Mrs. J. R. Wainwright, who has been here since the recent death of her sister, the late Mrs. R. L. McIntosh, will leave by tomorrow night's train on her return to her home in Oakville, Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Ewert are at present residing in the McIntosh home on Fourth Avenue West.

Big Trees At Capitol

Flying fists, lusty humor, romantic conflict and giant forests provide the colorful setting of "The Big Trees," technical outdoor drama which commences a three-day run at the Capitol Theatre here tonight.

With Kirk Douglas, Eve Miller and Patrice Wymore in starring roles, "Big Trees" tells the story of relentless lumber interests who invade famous California forests to wrest them from a settlement of homesteaders. Employing legal trickery and often physical force to gain their ends, the outsiders manage to wreak havoc among the townspeople, murdering and pillaging until a courageous lumberman takes a firm stand against them.

Outdoor sequences of the picture were shot in the country where the events actually took place and show mighty redwood forests, mill ponds and mills, rivers and logging railroads.

The cast also includes Edgar Buchanan and Alan Hale Jr.

Span Narrows At Halifax

By IRVING C. WHYNOT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX — Work has started on the long-planned Halifax-Dartmouth bridge regardless of the 19th century curse of death imposed by a Micmac Indian who hasn't been wrong yet.

The $8,000,000 bridge project financed jointly by the federal, provincial and municipal governments, will span the famed narrows of Halifax harbor and provide a link with the neighboring town of Dartmouth.

At present the trip is made by a 10-minute ferry crossing or a 20-mile drive around Bedford Basin, assembly point for Atlantic convoys during two world wars.

The bridge, expected to be ready for traffic by 1954, will be the third to span Halifax harbor.

The Micmac, who apparently had a habit of foretelling the future, foresaw all three, and predicted their end.

He did it in rhyme:
"Three times shall fall
"Like a dying breath;
"In a storm—silence—and
"Last in death."

MAYOR OF JERUSALEM — Mayor Shlomo Z. Shragal of Jerusalem visiting Montreal said in an interview Jerusalem now is preparing to mark the 3,000 anniversary of its establishment by King David as the capital city of the Jewish state of that day. The first elected mayor of Jerusalem, he visited Montreal in connection with celebrations of the golden jubilee of the Mizrahi World Organization. (CP PHOTO)

Should Plan City Buildings

Jaycees Recommend "Long Range" View—High School Speakers

"No particular planning of any kind" seemed to have been involved in city council's decision to purchase the former liquor store as a telephone exchange site, a Junior Chamber of Commerce committee chairman reported last night. But no recommendations in connection with the proposed purchase will be made by Jaycees.

Heading an investigating committee, Bert Jefferies said he found that those opposing the purchase had "no concrete plans, nothing outstanding" against the purchase, while aldermen favoring the purchase had told him it was a means of getting action.

A letter will be forwarded to council recommending future decisions of such a nature receive more consideration by the city fathers.

"We believe such major purchases as civic buildings should be more fully investigated with long range planning in mind," said Mr. Jefferies.

Jaycees adopted a plan set out by Gerry Pettenuzzo to provide next year's Booth Memorial High School vocational training classes with guest speakers.

Junior Chamber members will visit the class periods giving an account of their own business or profession, cost of training or entering business and type of remuneration derived.

While the public speaking committee will organize this project in conjunction with A. M. Hurst, high school principal, most speakers will be drawn from the general membership.

"Mr. Hurst is very much in favor of such a project—he also believes it will help high school students to seek out their future career," said Mr. Pettenuzzo.

British Emigrees Favor States

LONDON — Figures for U.K. Canadian migration in 1951 have now been published by the U.K. Board of Trade. They show that 33,924 men and women (of whom 27,544 were Commonwealth citizens and 6,380 were aliens) went from Britain to Canada and 5,055 (5,024 Commonwealth and 31 aliens) went from Canada to Britain during the year.

Canada's net gain from the U.K. for the year was therefore 28,869 people. This compares with a net gain in 1950 of 8,002 and a net loss in 1938 of 3,960.

The U.S.A. continues to be the most popular foreign choice for U.K. emigrants. 23,231 went there in 1951 compared with 14,243 in 1950. Net gain to the U.S.A. from the U.K. was 13,609 people. (1950—7,919, 1938—minus 1,666.)

Australia's net gain in 1951 was 47,230 people.

MURDERER SUES PUBLISHER—Elias Meek, 21-year-old Cornwall, Ont., murderer sentenced to be hanged June 10 for the knife-slaying of his employer's wife, has brought suit against a United States publishing company and its Canadian distributor for $100,000. The suit charges injury to Meek's character and to his trial by reason of an article in the magazine, Inside Detective, published previous to his trial. Meek has been granted a stay of execution pending appeal of his conviction. (CP PHOTO)

Increase Output Of Plain Foods

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian food processors turned their production from fancy to plain foods in 1951.

They produced less chewing gum, chocolates, candy, sugar confectionery, marshmallows, jams, jellies, marmalades and other sweet-tooth foods than in 1950.

Instead, they boosted their production of such things as infant foods, soda biscuits, plain and fancy biscuits, canned tomato and vegetable soups, tomato catsup, cereals, process cheese, pudding powders and canned meats.

The Bureau of Statistics, reporting the industry's production totals for 1951, said the output also was down in baked beans, maraschino cherries, fruit peel, quick-frozen fruits and vegetables, relishes, baking pow-

Victoria Fortune Of Six Million

VICTORIA (CP)—The estate of a millionaire from Michigan worth $5,799,425 was probated here Wednesday. The fortune was left by John W. FEEDING HOME GARDEN RAYS HIGH IN YIELD AND QUALITY

Apply Plant Food on Each Side of Row, Several Inches Away From Seed.

There is a lesson for all home gardeners in the remarkable results which farmers are achieving by increasing the quantities of plant food used on their crops. Reports of increased yields are often astonishing.

The expense of feeding is so small in comparison with the heavier production, either of food or of beauty, that a home gardener profits by it as much as the farmer.

The plant food content of humus which one can make is small, and it is a rare home garden which can make enough

Obligation of Willie Mays

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Once in a while a chance phrase will get stuck in a man's mind, the same as one of those advertising jingles on the radio. One of them has given us a hard time during the week-end.

It began when we read where Col. James T. Johnson, head of Selective Service official in Alabama, had reminded young Willie Mays of New York Giants that he owes perhaps a greater obligation to his country than other boys because of his promise in the sports world.

The occasion was the turn-down of Willie's appeal against being drafted into the army next month. The 20-year-old Negro star claimed he was the chief support of four of his 11 brothers and sisters, his stepfather being unemployed. Col. Johnson ruled it was not a true hardship case, and we accept his judgment there, but the "greater obligation" quote stuck like a needle in a cracked record.

Just why does Willie owe a greater debt to his country than the kid in the next block who can't clothesline a peg to home plate? We have considered every angle and haven't come up with the answer yet. Are boys being penalized because they are promising athletes?

Baseball men have told us this spring that they are, but they have been extremely careful in each instance to specify their names not to be used and have added that it would be much better for baseball in general if the topic were not raised at all.

"It's heartbreaking," said the head of one of baseball's biggest farm systems. "You bring a boy up through two or three grades and just when you know he's ready for a try at the big time, that's when they are sure to grab him. They always take the best ones, and by this time I know it's no accident.

"I don't blame the board. They are only protecting themselves against any possible chance of favoritism. If a kid is a good ball player, everybody in town knows about him and is watching to see if he's called up along with their sons. The result is that he gets the first call. He's the showpiece. It's just an unfortunate situation."

Don Newcombe, the huge Brooklyn pitcher, told reporters at Norfolk the other day that he felt certain he would not be in uniform today but for his athletic prominence. Don, who served a brief hitch in the Navy before receiving a medical discharge, has a whole catalogue of minor ailments.

There have been other cases of ball players recalled to the colors which have caused persons totally unconnected with the game to wonder out loud.

Four Children Average Family

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Canada now has a four-child average family and her long-term rate of natural increase in population will probably be greater than that of Ceylon, Malaya or some Latin American countries, says an economic survey published in London.

The reference to Canada occurs in "Halfway to 1960," an article by Australian economist Colin Clark published in Lloyds Bank Review, and is cited to support the author's prediction that from now until 1970 the world's population will increase at the rate of approximately 1 1/4 per cent a year.

Using what he admits to be highly simplified and approximate terms, based on new

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD
Mr. Muzzy Executes Perfect Squeeze

"Lucky thing we stayed out of a slam, partner," said Mr. Muzzy when the king of diamonds was led and the dummy was spread. "We've got just eleven tricks."

Dummy's ace of diamonds won the first trick and Mr. Muzzy then led four rounds of hearts, throwing a club from the board on the last one. Here he stopped and tried to remember if he had extracted all of the trumps. He couldn't do it. So he led his last trump and discarded another club from dummy. "A tracer," he said cleverly.

As you see, the trump leads had played havoc with Mr. Champion's hand. He had to make four discards. He had no trouble with the first three, letting go the jack, eight and four of diamonds.

On the last trump, however, he had a hopeless choice. If he dropped the queen of diamonds, dummy's ten would be good. After some thought he played the eight of clubs, hoping his partner had at least three to the ten.

At the seventh trick Mr. Muzzy cashed the ace of clubs. Next came the king of clubs on which Mr. Champion's queen fell. After some thought Mr. Muzzy brilliantly decided his ten of clubs was good. He played that card and Mr. Champion was squeezed again.

He had to let go of a spade and dummy's last diamond was played on the trick. Mr. Muzzy then cashed his queen of spades and led to dummy's ace. The only cards remaining in dummy were the king and six of spades, both good.

French methods of determining population trends, Clark says that only England, Sweden and Denmark now adhere to the two-child average family of the 1930s. In Scotland and Australia the figure is 2 1/2 and there is a three-child average in the United States, France, Switzerland, Norway, Finland, Netherlands, Italy, New Zealand and among the whites of South Africa.

"Canada, with Spain and Portugal, now shows a four-child average family," writes Clark.

"It appears that these latter figures, ascending, now have passed the gradually-descending figures of many Oriental countries, such as Japan, India and Russia, in which the average size of family now appears to be at or below four—and, of course, the Oriental mortality is far higher."

LONG-TERM INCREASE

In another passage, Clark says that in countries such as Canada and Spain, the long-term rate of increase now probably exceeds that of the most rapidly-increasing Oriental countries, such as Ceylon, Malaya or Latin America.

(Latest figures show the Canadian birth rate has increased from 22 per 1000 of population in 1940 to 26.8 in 1950. A rate of 35 per 1000 would be regarded as extremely high for a western civilization.)

The trend towards increased world population contrasts with a contraction of world food supplies. Although some countries have increased productivity in agriculture, there is only a slight increase, or a definite decrease, in Asiatic countries, thus widening the gap between what Clark calls the "haves" and the "have-nots."

The pressure on world food supplies is increased by a growing demand for farm products, as living standards rise, and by a decline of rural manpower in most countries. In Canada and Australia, for instance, the male rural labor force dropped about 20 per cent between 1940 and 1950.

If the decline is to be checked, Clark contends, "rural producers will have to receive a further increase in their incomes of 50 per cent or more relative to the incomes of industrial workers."

BRIGHTON, England (CP)—An advertisement for Civil Defence Organization recruits here said they must be "intelligent, quick-thinking, stable, understanding, tactful, methodical, industrious, conscientious, loyal, adaptable, willing and able to write and think clearly."

Aggressive Defence Building Objective Chiang's Army

Note: What kind of army are the Chinese Nationalists building in Formosa, hoping some day to win the island from the Communists? Bill Boss, Canadian Press correspondent, reports that the Canadian forces in Korea, recently visited the island stronghold. In this story, he answers the question.

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Formosa (CP)—The Chinese Nationalists are building a good army here. If Formosa were captured tomorrow by the Reds, it would give the Reds a great asset.

A-Bombs to Test Defence

Simulated Terror Weapons To Be Used in Britain

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—To test results of months of study and training, Britain's civil defence forces—about 200,000 strong—will launch a series of large-scale exercises this spring under conditions simulating an actual atomic-bomb attack.

Although the government has not abandoned hope that an international agreement may yet be reached to outlaw atomic force as a weapon of destruction, it is taking no chances.

Civil defence units have been operating for some time in every strategic centre throughout the country. Hundreds of officers and students already have taken special courses at the Home Office Civil Defence College at Sunningdale Park and at three other schools in Gloucestershire, Yorkshire and Perthshire.

Graduates of these schools will instruct local volunteers in measures to neutralize some of the effects of scientific warfare should the country become involved in a third world war.

The British mission that visited Japan after the atom bomb attack on Hiroshima and Nagasaki estimated that 50,000 persons might lose their lives in a typical British city with a population density of 45 persons to an acre—if caught without warning by a high air burst atomic bomb.

REALISTIC TOUCH
The public, however, has been assured that civil defence is far from powerless against atomic attack and that casualties can be greatly reduced by adequate advance preparations, suitable shelters and an efficient defence organization.

The first practical exercises will be devoted to tests of communications at various control levels. The operations will then be gradually extended to bring the military, police, fire and hospital services into action to cope with an imaginary atomic attack in a selected area.

To forestall any possibility of public misunderstanding, air-raid sirens and fire alarms will not be sounded during the exercises.

In some centres defence units will carry out their exercises in training grounds where fire and bomb incidents can be staged and life-saving methods practiced.

Officials in charge of regional groups will distribute memoranda listing imaginary incidents relating to atomic heat flash, radioactivity and blast damage.

CITY COUNCIL

Civic utilities committee, through the city clerk, is calling for tenders for new uniforms for the members of the fire department.

On instructions of the electrical inspector, Prussian hooks on the telephone pole line from the chlorinator to the booster pump near the city limits will be replaced with crossarms at an approximate cost of $400, the city council decided. Recommendation was made by the utilities committee.

A telephone and power pole line is to be installed down the lane which separates the City Hall from Wallace's Department Store on joint agreement between the city and Northern B.C. Power Co. Recommendation to this effect from the utilities committee was accepted. The cost will be approximately $750.

Vinland Lodge, Sons of Norway, has asked the city to install a no parking sign in front of the Sons of Norway Hall on Fifth Avenue where congestion often develops, particularly when entertainments are being held. The matter was referred by council to its traffic committee.

Licensing committee reported the granting of trades licences as follows: John T. Knowles, Clifford Mahone, James Moran and William Shrubbsall, taxi operators; C. Sauer, shoe repairer; Northern Properties Ltd., apartment block, and R. G. Ingram, fuel dealer.

No parking signs will be erected at the Fairview Road bus turntable, council decided at recommendation of the board of works.

Authorized board of works to purchase stores materials including 800 feet of concrete culvert pipe, 12 sets of grader blades and 350 drill bits at cost of $3100.

Rental Scheme Disappointing

Regret was heard expressed at the monthly meeting of Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council that the "low rental" housing scheme had turned out, instead, to be "high rental." It was felt that the scheme had failed to provide desired help for the low income group.

A letter from the Needle Trades Union committee informed that, now restrictions had been removed from the purchase of ladies' garments, handbags and other goods from the United States, some firms had been laying off employees, resulting in their living standards and purchasing power going down. The council endorsed a suggestion that Canadian goods be purchased instead of American and that the co-operation of local storekeepers be sought.

At the suggestion of the Tobacco Workers' Union, the council decided to communicate with Minister of Finance Douglas Abbott and E. T. Applewhite, MP, proposing that the tax on cigarettes be further cut in order to bring the Canadian price down to a level equitable with the United States. The present tax after the three-cent cut is still 22 cents per package of 20 compared with eight cents in the United States. The high tax was considered to have been the main cause for some 800 tobacco workers in Canada having been laid off since last November with threats of further lay-offs.

Ald. J. W. Prusky was a visitor at the meeting and spoke on such city matters as buildings, power, etc. President W. H. Brett was in the chair.

Nighties from Spruce trees

Yes, it's a fact! That sheer filmy creation in your wardrobe may well have begun life in some dark quiet British Columbia forest.

Nighties are but one of the many items of wearing apparel now produced from high quality acetate yarns. Today, you'll find these wonder yarns turning into fine drapes, hangings, slip covers, rugs, and scores of other colorful fabrics for modern living. In still another form they become that most versatile of all materials... acetate plastic.

Acetate yarns and plastics are derived from purified cellulose... a snow white wood-pulp refined from spruce and hemlock trees. Through the miracle of chemistry, the big Columbia Cellulose plant at Prince Rupert is now converting logs into the basic ingredient for materials which will eventually reach your living room or clothes closet.

There's nothing remote or mysterious about our work up here at Columbia Cellulose. It is intimately associated with many phases of everyday living. It also makes a great and growing contribution to the economic wealth of our Province. And that's important to all of us!

Columbia Cellulose Company is the first unit of a rapidly expanding Canadian industrial organization. Within a few months, this organization will be combining timber from British Columbia with natural gas derivatives from Alberta to produce a wide range of fibres and other acetate products for Canadians from coast to coast. Our program of continuous forest yield ensures lasting full-time employment for thousands of Canadian workers.

Spruce Umbrellas For April Showers

PARIS (Reuters)—Dame Fashion is all set to look pert and chic this year despite April showers.

Fashion designers have given the usually mundane umbrella a beauty treatment and made it a "must" accessory to provide the finishing touch for the smart prints making a fashion comeback.

Prints appear in flattering parasols and full-fledged umbrellas, in waterproofed silk.

New mottled and blurred prints are offered as are small flowered and tie-silk designs.

Stripes and polka dots are to the fore.

Solid shaded effects lend gay touches to sombre outfits. One cover is a brilliant flame color at the centre, grading out to a deep violet.

For those who prefer less fantasy, there are solid-toned models, often featured with a contrasting colored lining. Vivid tangerine lines the underside of one white shantung model. Chartreuse and purple offer another spicy combination.

There is news in handles and shapes, too. The most popular new style features a slim, straight-lined handle. This style has generally replaced the crooked handles and Chamberlain models of the past seasons.

Bone, glass, wood and even china lend new effects. One model, in ivory, has the top carved like a miniature totem pole.

Animal heads provide a popular motif on many handles. A whole barnyard full of dogs, cranes, and even scaly snakes appear in carved wood, bone or leather, complete with glass or jeweled eyes.

The feminine parasol, reminiscent of the gay 90s, also reappears on the fashion scene. Lace, ruffles and embroidery cast a flattering shadow on the modern miss's face.

QUEEN JULIANA—Queen Juliana, shown in her royal robes in a recent photo, will pay an unofficial visit to Canada after her present state visit to the United States. State visits originally had been planned for both Canada and the U.S. but the period of mourning for King George VI ruled out an official status for the Canadian visit. The Canadian trip will follow immediately after the U.S. visit this week. (CP PHOTO)

THE EXPERTS Say...

Forty-five thousand women in farming communities throughout Quebec — members of Les Cercles de Fermieres — are behind the National Council of Women's drive for "thrift."

The association director, Miss Anne-Marie Vaillancourt, of Quebec City, says various suggestions about economizing have been distributed to members of "Les Cercles" which were first organized in 1915 and are similar to the Women's Institutes in English-speaking sections of the country.

Miss Vaillancourt has offered a few personal suggestions for stretching the meat budget.

As an economical dinner she recommends: Carrot pin-wheel meat loaf; creamed potatoes; canned peas with celery; heated rolls with butter or margarine; lemon meringue pie or tarts.

Carrot pin-wheel meat loaf: One pound hamburger; 1½ teaspoons salt; one-quarter teaspoon pepper; one onion minced; one egg (grade B); one tablespoon milk; one cup soft bread crumbs; 1½ cups shredded raw carrots; two tablespoons minced parsley.

Mix ingredients except carrots and parsley. Roll on sheet of wax paper with a wet rolling-pin to make a rectangle six inches wide and one-half inch thick. Spread with mixture of carrots and parsley. Roll like jelly-roll. Put in shallow baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for one hour.

ECONOMICAL SUPPER

As a suggested supper menu: Ketchup-glazed meat loaf; oven-browned potatoes; broccoli; bread and butter or margarine; warm gingerbread with apple butter.

Ketchup glazed meat loaf: 1¼ pounds hamburger; one egg (grade B); one cup soft bread crumbs; one cup milk; one chopped onion; 1¼ teaspoons salt; one-quarter teaspoon pepper; one-half teaspoon poultry seasoning; one-quarter cup ketchup.

Mix all ingredients except ketchup. Shape into a roll and put in shallow pan. Spread ketchup evenly over meat. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) about one hour.

Macaroni Ragout: One-half cup chopped onion; one-half cup diced celery; one-quarter cup fat or salad oil; one pound ground veal and pork; three cups canned tomatoes; two cups kidney beans; one eight-ounce package shell macaroni (cooked); salt and pepper to taste; one teaspoon chili powder. Sauté onion and celery in fat in a skillet. Add meat; cook until brown, using side of a spoon to break into small pieces. Add remaining ingredients. Cook 30 minutes or until thick. Six servings.

He couldn't be happier if he made Heinz Baby Foods himself

Babies don't need to make their own special foods. Neither do mothers. They rely on another chef—the Heinz chef—and with good reason.

The Heinz chef knows that babies are mighty particular eaters. So he does everything he can to meet their sky-high standards. The vegetables he chooses—and he chooses everything from tomatoes, celery and peas to squash and yams and kale—are glistening-fresh and garden-grown from special seed in rich and fertile soil. The fruits he selects—juicy, sun-kissed fruits from many lands—range from prunes and peaches, apples and oranges, to ripe figs, fancy dates and tropic pineapple. Choice dairy produce too, and meat and grains that cannot be surpassed—these are the good, good things that Heinz prepares especially for babies.

Almost any food a doctor may recommend for an infant will be found by mothers among the famous family of Heinz Baby Foods. And all are cooked the way the doctor would desire—so that minerals and vitamins are retained in high degree.

Looking Into Date of Water Rights Sale

City clerk was asked in a resolution by Ald. Casey at Monday night's council meeting to check on the dates as to the assignment of water rights at Woodworth Lake by the city to the Northern B.C. Power Co. Where the sale of such water rights was shown to have been in 1929, there was reason to believe that the transfer had been actually registered in 1928. The dates, Ald. Casey suggested, might affect the validity of the agreement with the power company.

Stewart Enjoys Cinderella Dance

STEWART. — Women of the Moose held a very successful dance in the Moose Hall on Saturday. There was a big turnout from the Silbak Premier and from Hyder, Alaska, considerably augmenting the local people. In the absence of the senior regent, Mrs. J. McKay, Junior Regent Mrs. D. Geddes was in charge of arrangements. Mrs. J. J. McKenna was in charge of the door and Fred Spracklin was master of ceremonies.

Music was supplied by Addie Bremser of Premier and Kit Ferrier of Stewart. To add to the interest of the evening a few novelty numbers were added to the program. A Cinderella dance caused quite a sensation when the ladies threw their shoes into the centre of the floor and, at a given signal, the ardent swain had to dash and grab one and then hunt the owner.

The ladies served their usual excellent supper at the finish of the dance.

Mrs. E. J. Smith of this city and Roy Lancaster, station agent at Burns Lake, her brother, are sailing tonight on the Prince Rupert for Vancouver to visit their father, A. J. Lancaster, of this city, who sustained a stroke some time ago and is now paralyzed.

Spread Fertilizer By Air Method

LONDON (CP)—Use of RAF planes and training crew to help Britain produce more food was visualized as a possibility during a recent debate on agriculture in the House of Lords. It was suggested the planes could be used to advantage in spraying fertilizer from the air over hilly farmlands and other areas difficult to fertilize by normal means.

The proposal, made by the Earl of Listowel, joint parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of Agriculture in the last Labor government, was applauded by several other peers. Some wealthy farmers, the earl said, had already tried out the air-spraying method with considerable success, but the undertaking was far too costly for the ordinary farmer.

"I have sometimes wondered whether the government might not secure the co-operation of the RAF for this operation," he said. "It may seem a fanciful speculation, but if we really mean business about increasing home supplies of meat we must examine every possible method of getting it."

Lord Llewellyn, a former food minister, describing the idea as "ingenious," doubted whether the RAF would prove helpful but agreed an approach was desirable.

He suggested where RAF machines were being used to train air crew, they might well be employed at the same time in the dual task of spreading fertilizer.

Lord Carrington, parliamentary secretary for agriculture, sidestepped the RAF proposal but told the Lords that extensive tests were already being made in spraying fertilizer from the air.

Parents Often Bad Examples

WINNIPEG (CP)—A Winnipeg judge says there are too many homes in which parents, while "preaching little sermons on what is right and wrong" nevertheless set examples which tend to make liars and thieves out of the children.

Judge Emerson J. Heaney says boys and girls always watch the example set by adults. "How many parents have crossed the international border and not declared everything to the customs?" he asked. "How many have filed income tax returns and cut corners? or used old street-car transfers instead of putting a dime in the box?"

These may be commonplace things, but children watch every move, he said. "As children are trained, so they will act."

Judge Heaney cites as an example the mother who tells her daughter, "Let's keep this a secret from your father," when she does something which her husband will not approve. "That mother is training her daughter to deceive her future husband," the judge says.

Young people are quick to recognize the insincerity of adults. "It is not what you say, but what you do that counts. What you do makes so much noise that young people can't hear what you say."

"If you don't go to church, can you expect your children to go?"

DEPUTY TRANSPORT MINISTER—Jean Claude Lessard, graduate of the University of Montreal and the School of Business Administration at Harvard University, is deputy minister of transport. He was appointed Feb. 1, 1948 and in 1950 also was named chairman of the Canadian Maritime Commission. (CP PHOTO)

South Africa Trout Paradise

NEW YORK (AP)—How would you like to catch a 14-pound rainbow trout?

Harold McCracken, noted hunter, fisherman and author, has just returned from South America and says the world's best trout fishing is to be found in the Chilean lake regions near the Pacific coast.

He says 14-pound rainbows and browns are commonplace, 16-pounders not rare and 20-pounders reported.

The day before McCracken left the area on his return to the United States he and two companions fished from the same rowboat and in less than three hours hooked 17 trout totalling slightly more than 90 pounds. Six of the beauties weighed more than 6½ pounds each.

McCracken says the lakes originally were stocked in 1905 by fingerlings brought from Germany. Then the area was forgotten. In 1928 a Briton, who planned to build a ranch in the area, restocked some of the lakes with fish imported from New Jersey.

The next winter the Briton died and the area again was more-or-less forgotten, fishwise. McCracken says the fishing paradise extends for 400 miles through the centre of Chile, paralleling the High Andes.

"The water is cold, mostly crystal clear, and in most of the streams it runs fast with many white water rapids. There probably is no other area on earth which offers such ideal and expansive a habitat for trout, says McCracken, who found the lake while on a moving-picture making tour of South America.

The fish feed on a small fresh water crab, which is locally called a pancora, and it is this diet which McCracken gives an assist for the development of the fish.
