Invention Enables Child To Walk

BEFORE AND AFTER STORY of the Okanagan's Shirley Hittle, five, is an often repeated story in Children's Hospital medical records. Shirley was born with hip deformity and could not walk. She was used as "Guinea pig" for a new brace splint, invented by Children's Hospital specialist. Today Shirley can run, jump, climb fences, ride her bike and do anything the neighborhood children can do. Before this discovery children with the same condition as Shirley went through extensive surgery, wore heavy plaster casts for long months, and even then the results were doubtful. Your donations to the Kinsmen B.C. Polio Fund will give other children the same chance this little girl had.

All-Star Basketball Team Here To Meet Alaska Squad Monday

First exhibition game this year against outside competition in senior basketball has been arranged and is scheduled to open Monday night for a two-times series when an all-star Prince Rupert team meets the new Metlakatla Merchants here.

Arrangements were announced today by Art Murray, president of the Prince Rupert Amateur Basketball Association. Prince Rupert representative team will be coached by Don Hartwig, playing coach of Mansons, currently leading the city senior league. He will supplement the team with his choice of players from the two other senior league teams, CCC 300 and Gordon & Anderson. Ray Spring, star first stringer of Mansons, suspended for one game by the Referees' Association, will be eligible to play in the all-star lineup. His suspension ends tonight, following the scheduled Mansons-CCC league game.

STRONG TEAM

The New Metlakatla Merchants are billed as one of the strongest teams in the Alaska hoop circuits with former star cager Frank Bolton coaching. The Merchants have only suffered one loss this year—against Ketchikan Eagles.

Lineups for both teams will be announced Monday. Meanwhile, arrangements for preliminary games to the main event include a B.C. Metlakatla team playing an intermediate team of the city league.

The Monday and Tuesday games will be the first outside competition this season in the senior division. It had been planned to have New Westminster Royals of the lower mainland senior "A" division play here against city all-stars next Friday and Saturday nights, but transportation difficulties cancelled prior arrangements.

MAIN HANDICAP

Transportation is the main handicap to successful basketball in Prince Rupert today, says Mr. Murray. "Everyone expects good air connections these days, compared to former years when even boat travel gave us such visiting teams as the Globetrotters and other touring high-class outside teams." It is expected, however, to have at least one touring U.S. team here this winter and several games with Ketchikan all-stars, winding up with a round-robin contest for the Co-op trophy, inaugurated two years ago.

OTHER TEAMS COMING

Prince Rupert senior all-stars will be host in early spring to the B.C. senior "B" playoffs, after deciding to quit senior "A" company early in the season. Last year, challengers—the city all-star senior team—in its first try in the senior "A" division, faded in the finals against Ellers in Vancouver after winning the semi-finals in Penticton.

Before that, Prince Rupert three times won the provincial senior "B" championship, twice in a row in 1948 and '49, then lost to Penticton in 1950, but regained it from the Omegas here in 1951.

Jaycees Demand PGE Extension From Squamish

VICTORIA—The British Columbia Junior Chamber of Commerce Friday demanded immediate action on extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Squamish to North Vancouver.

A delegation to the cabinet said the southward extension would be as sound an investment as the new extension from Questiel to Prince George. The Chamber also recommended institution of an automobile accident point system in British Columbia.

Monty Aldous, Chamber president, asked the government to adopt a plan similar to the point plan of Connecticut. Under that system, a card is kept for every motorist. He gets demerit marks every time he has a traffic conviction.

After a certain number of black marks he's called in to have his driving habits checked. If he continues to get bad marks he loses his licence.

KOREAN PASSENGER SHIP SINKS WITH 249 ABOARD

PUSAN, Korea.—The Korean passenger ship Chang Yung Ho sank outside Pusan Harbor Friday night and the ministry of transport said 249 persons are believed drowned. The ministry said only seven out of 256 persons aboard were saved. The captain said a storm hit the vessel 10 miles west of Pusan. The ship was a regular passenger ship travelling between Pusan and Yosu in Southern Korea.

Rupert-Bound QCA Plane Forced Down by Storm

Train Travel Disrupted By Derailment at Miworth

A Queen Charlotte Airlines Norseman plane was forced to land in the waters of Grenville Channel yesterday afternoon when a blinding snowstorm interrupted the return flight from Kemanu.

Piloted by Captain Roy Berryman, the Norseman stayed overnight at Lowe Inlet, 50 miles south of here, after landing without damage in Grenville Channel near there.

Lack of radio navigational aids in Prince Rupert prevented the Norseman from reaching Prince Rupert by instruments. Capt. Berryman radioed that no damage was suffered by the aircraft and that he was proceeding towards the city in the morning.

The Norseman carried only the pilot. Meantime, Canadian Pacific Airlines' morning flight to Sandspit was grounded due to a snowstorm at Sandspit.

STILL GROUNDED

No planes have come in or taken off here since Tuesday, halting vital airmail, express and passenger service. Mail was dispatched south yesterday on a Union Steamships vessel. A DC-3 which left Vancouver yesterday afternoon reached Port Hardy but it still holding there waiting for Sandspit to clear, where it would connect with the Prince Rupert based Canco.

If the weather at Sandspit doesn't clear, attempts will be made Sunday to complete the flight.

The direct flight from here to Vancouver was cancelled today due to storm and icing conditions en route, although both terminals were clear this morning.

BROKEN RAIL

Train travel into Prince Rupert also has been disrupted as a result of a derailment at Miworth, seven miles west of Prince George, late Thursday night.

The passenger train due here at 9:50 last night is expected in about the same time tonight. CNR officials said 25 cars on a westbound extra freight were derailed when they struck a broken rail. No one was injured. Most of the cars on the train were empty.

The eastbound train that left here Thursday was delayed about six hours while crews repaired the broken track.

STORM GONE

Plane traffic was first hit during the beginning of the week by storms in the lower coastal regions. Now the storm has moved northward.

An intense storm which formed near the Queen Charlotte Islands yesterday, however, has blown itself out in the Prince Rupert vicinity, the weather report stated today.

Southwest winds from the ocean are pushing back cooler air along the coast and will bring milder weather to most southern points although northern points will remain gripped in the arctic freeze.

Temperatures for Prince Rupert are forecast as low tonight, 10, and high tomorrow, 20, with variable cloudiness and snow showers.

LINES CLEARED

Worst spot throughout the province was the Fraser Canyon where tons of snow cascaded down mountainsides blocking rail and road traffic.

CPR and CNR main lines were cleared by noon yesterday, but passenger trains are at least 24 hours behind schedule.

In northeastern United States fierce weather was blamed for 14 deaths. In addition, at least 12 persons were hurt in Florida where wind damage was estimated at $250,000.

Leaders Say Action Done 'Under Protest'

VANCOUVER.—British Columbia's two big labor bodies have sent in names of nominees for their representatives on the new part-time Labor Relations Board but "under protest."

The Trade Union Congress and the B.C. Federation of Labor forwarded their nominations Friday to Victoria.

R. K. Gervin and George Home, secretaries of the TUC and BCFL, respectively, both said the names were sent in under protest.

The new board, which will come into effect Monday, was announced by Labor Minister Lyle Wicks recently. It will take over from the present full-time board.

Both Mr. Wicks and Premier Bennett have stated they have no intention of changing their minds on establishment of the new board. Labor and employer groups say they are against the move.

BCFL nominees are: Home, Gilbert Schofield of the International Woodworkers of America at Ladysmith, and Lawrence Vandale, IWA, New Westminster.

Names of TUC nominees were not available.

The provincial cabinet Friday discussed the government's position in the controversy but gave no hint of backing down.

Premier Bennett said the proposal is "not just designed to save a few thousand dollars, but is part of the re-organization of the labor department."

"I'd like to point out to labor this is the first time for many years the government has had a labor minister and deputy who are members of trade unions," said the premier.

Legion Seeks Club Licences For Veterans

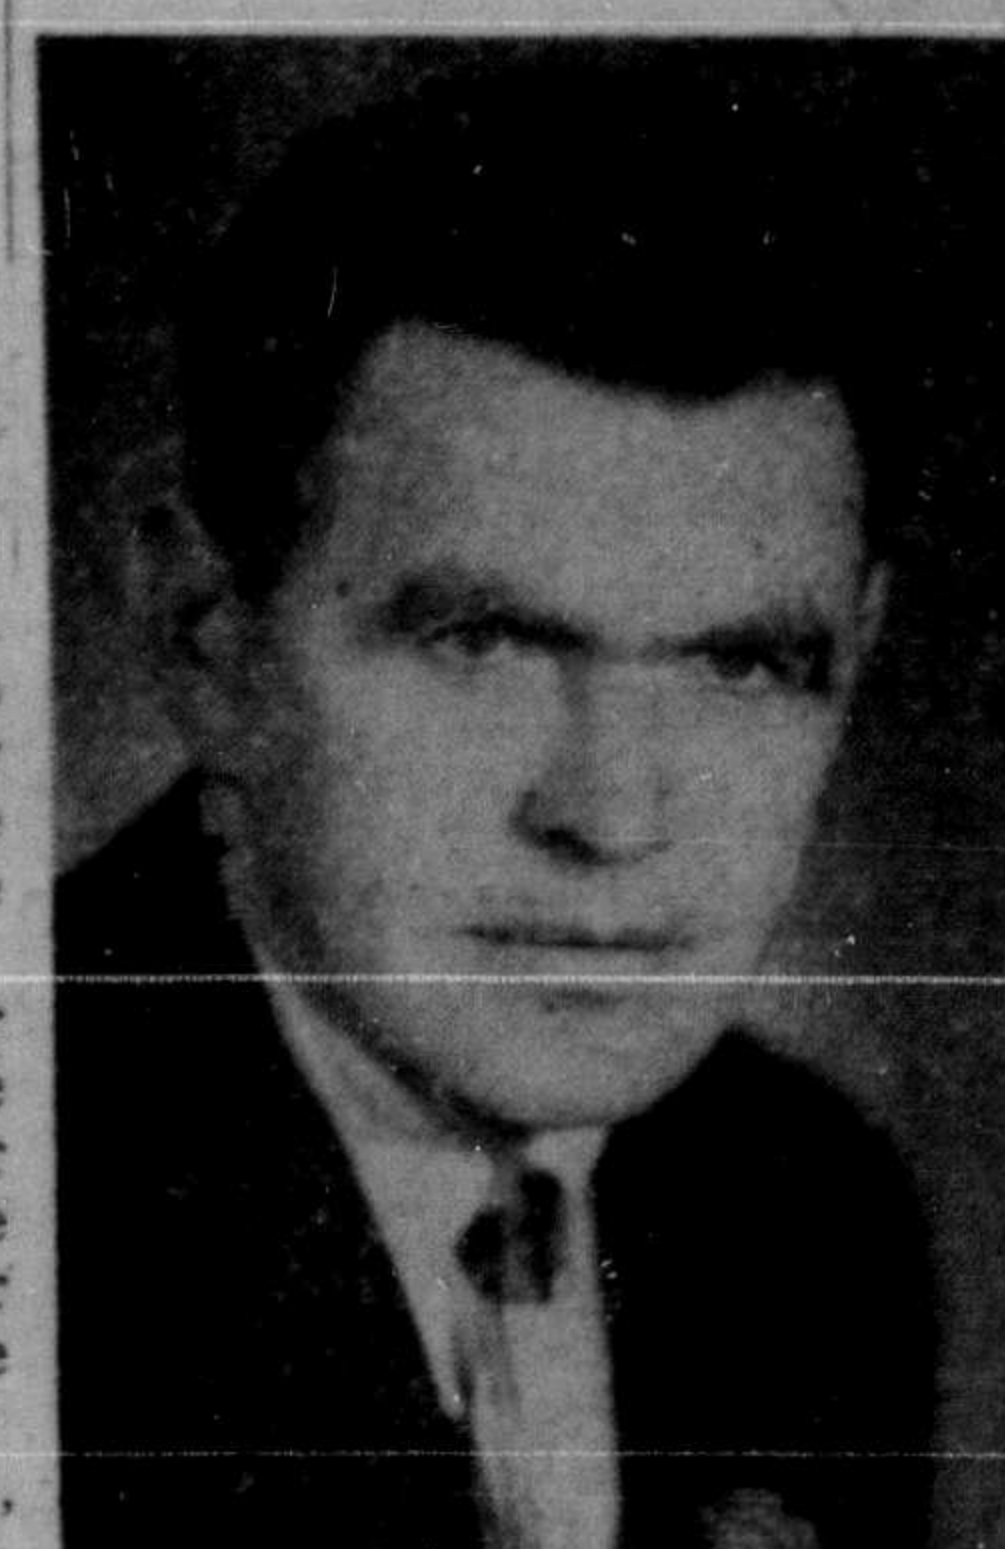

VICTORIA.—Rescinding of an order prohibiting the issuance of new club licences to veterans' premises was asked Friday by the B.C. Command, Canadian Legion, at a meeting with the provincial cabinet.

The delegation said many of its branches are awaiting licences because their only revenue comes from liquor sales.

The delegation also asked the government to allow such government branches as the Liquor Control Board, the Power Commission and the Public Utilities Commission to hire veterans over age 45.

The veterans asked the government to give free hospital care cards to wives and dependents of war veterans allowance recipients, widows of veterans in receipt of widow's allowance, and recipients of dependent parents' pension under the Canadian Pension Act.

ART MURRAY
... changes mind

Art Murray To Remain On Park Board

Art Murray last night tore up his letter of resignation as a Park Board Commissioner at a special meeting in city hall called to discuss his announced intention to quit.

On arrival at the meeting, Mr. Murray said he had reconsidered his decision although he brought a letter of resignation.

He announced two days ago that because of pressure of business, he would not take his seat on the board.

Mr. Murray and Pat Forman were re-elected by acclamation to two year terms at the last civic election. All members of the Park Board expressed pleasure that Mr. Murray, a commissioner since the board was formed in 1950, would remain.

He had handed his letter of resignation to Mr. Forman but after deciding to stay, Commissioner Charlie Balagno suggested Mr. Murray should make sure his letter of resignation didn't get mixed up with other correspondence and that the popular owner of a men's store tore the letter into shreds.

Next meeting of the board will be held Wednesday.

Shoe Salesman Identified As Man Who Spotted Pavlukoff

TORONTO.—A shoe salesman with a memory for faces has been identified as the informant who gave the tip-off resulting in the arrest of Walter Pavlukoff, second on the list of Canada's most-wanted criminals. Pavlukoff, 39, was picked up in suburban North York Township Thursday.

He will be taken to Vancouver to face a murder charge in connection with the slaying of a Vancouver bank manager Aug. 23, 1947.

Arthur Stewart, Vancouver detective, arrived by air Friday to take Pavlukoff into custody and return him to the coast to start a trial for murder.

Stewart was one of the officers in charge of the original search for Pavlukoff.

The shoe store man, Robert Moore, identified Pavlukoff from posters he had seen recently in a police station.

He remembered and commented: "By George, I know that fellow."

Police urged him to call at once if he spotted Pavlukoff again.

On Thursday he telephoned and said: "The fellow you're looking for is right outside my store."

Saturday Sermon

The Bible

By REVEREND LEONARD A. THORPE,
Pastor, Regular Baptist Church

The Bible is the most loved and the most criticized book in the world. These contrasting attitudes are not caused by the Bible's inerrant history, or the great book's revelation of its real Author, but by its clear claim of being the textbook of spiritual things for all men.

This is the Bible's major role, and it is as Jesus Christ or His Apostles explain the need and the way of salvation for all men, that sides are taken for and against the Word of God.

"All the world is guilty before God?" Some say, "It must be true, God says it!" Others reply, "Surely not, that does not seem right."

"If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins?" Many reply, "I don't want forgiveness and I do not see the need of confession," while many others humbly return to God, "Thank thee Lord, I do not deserve it."

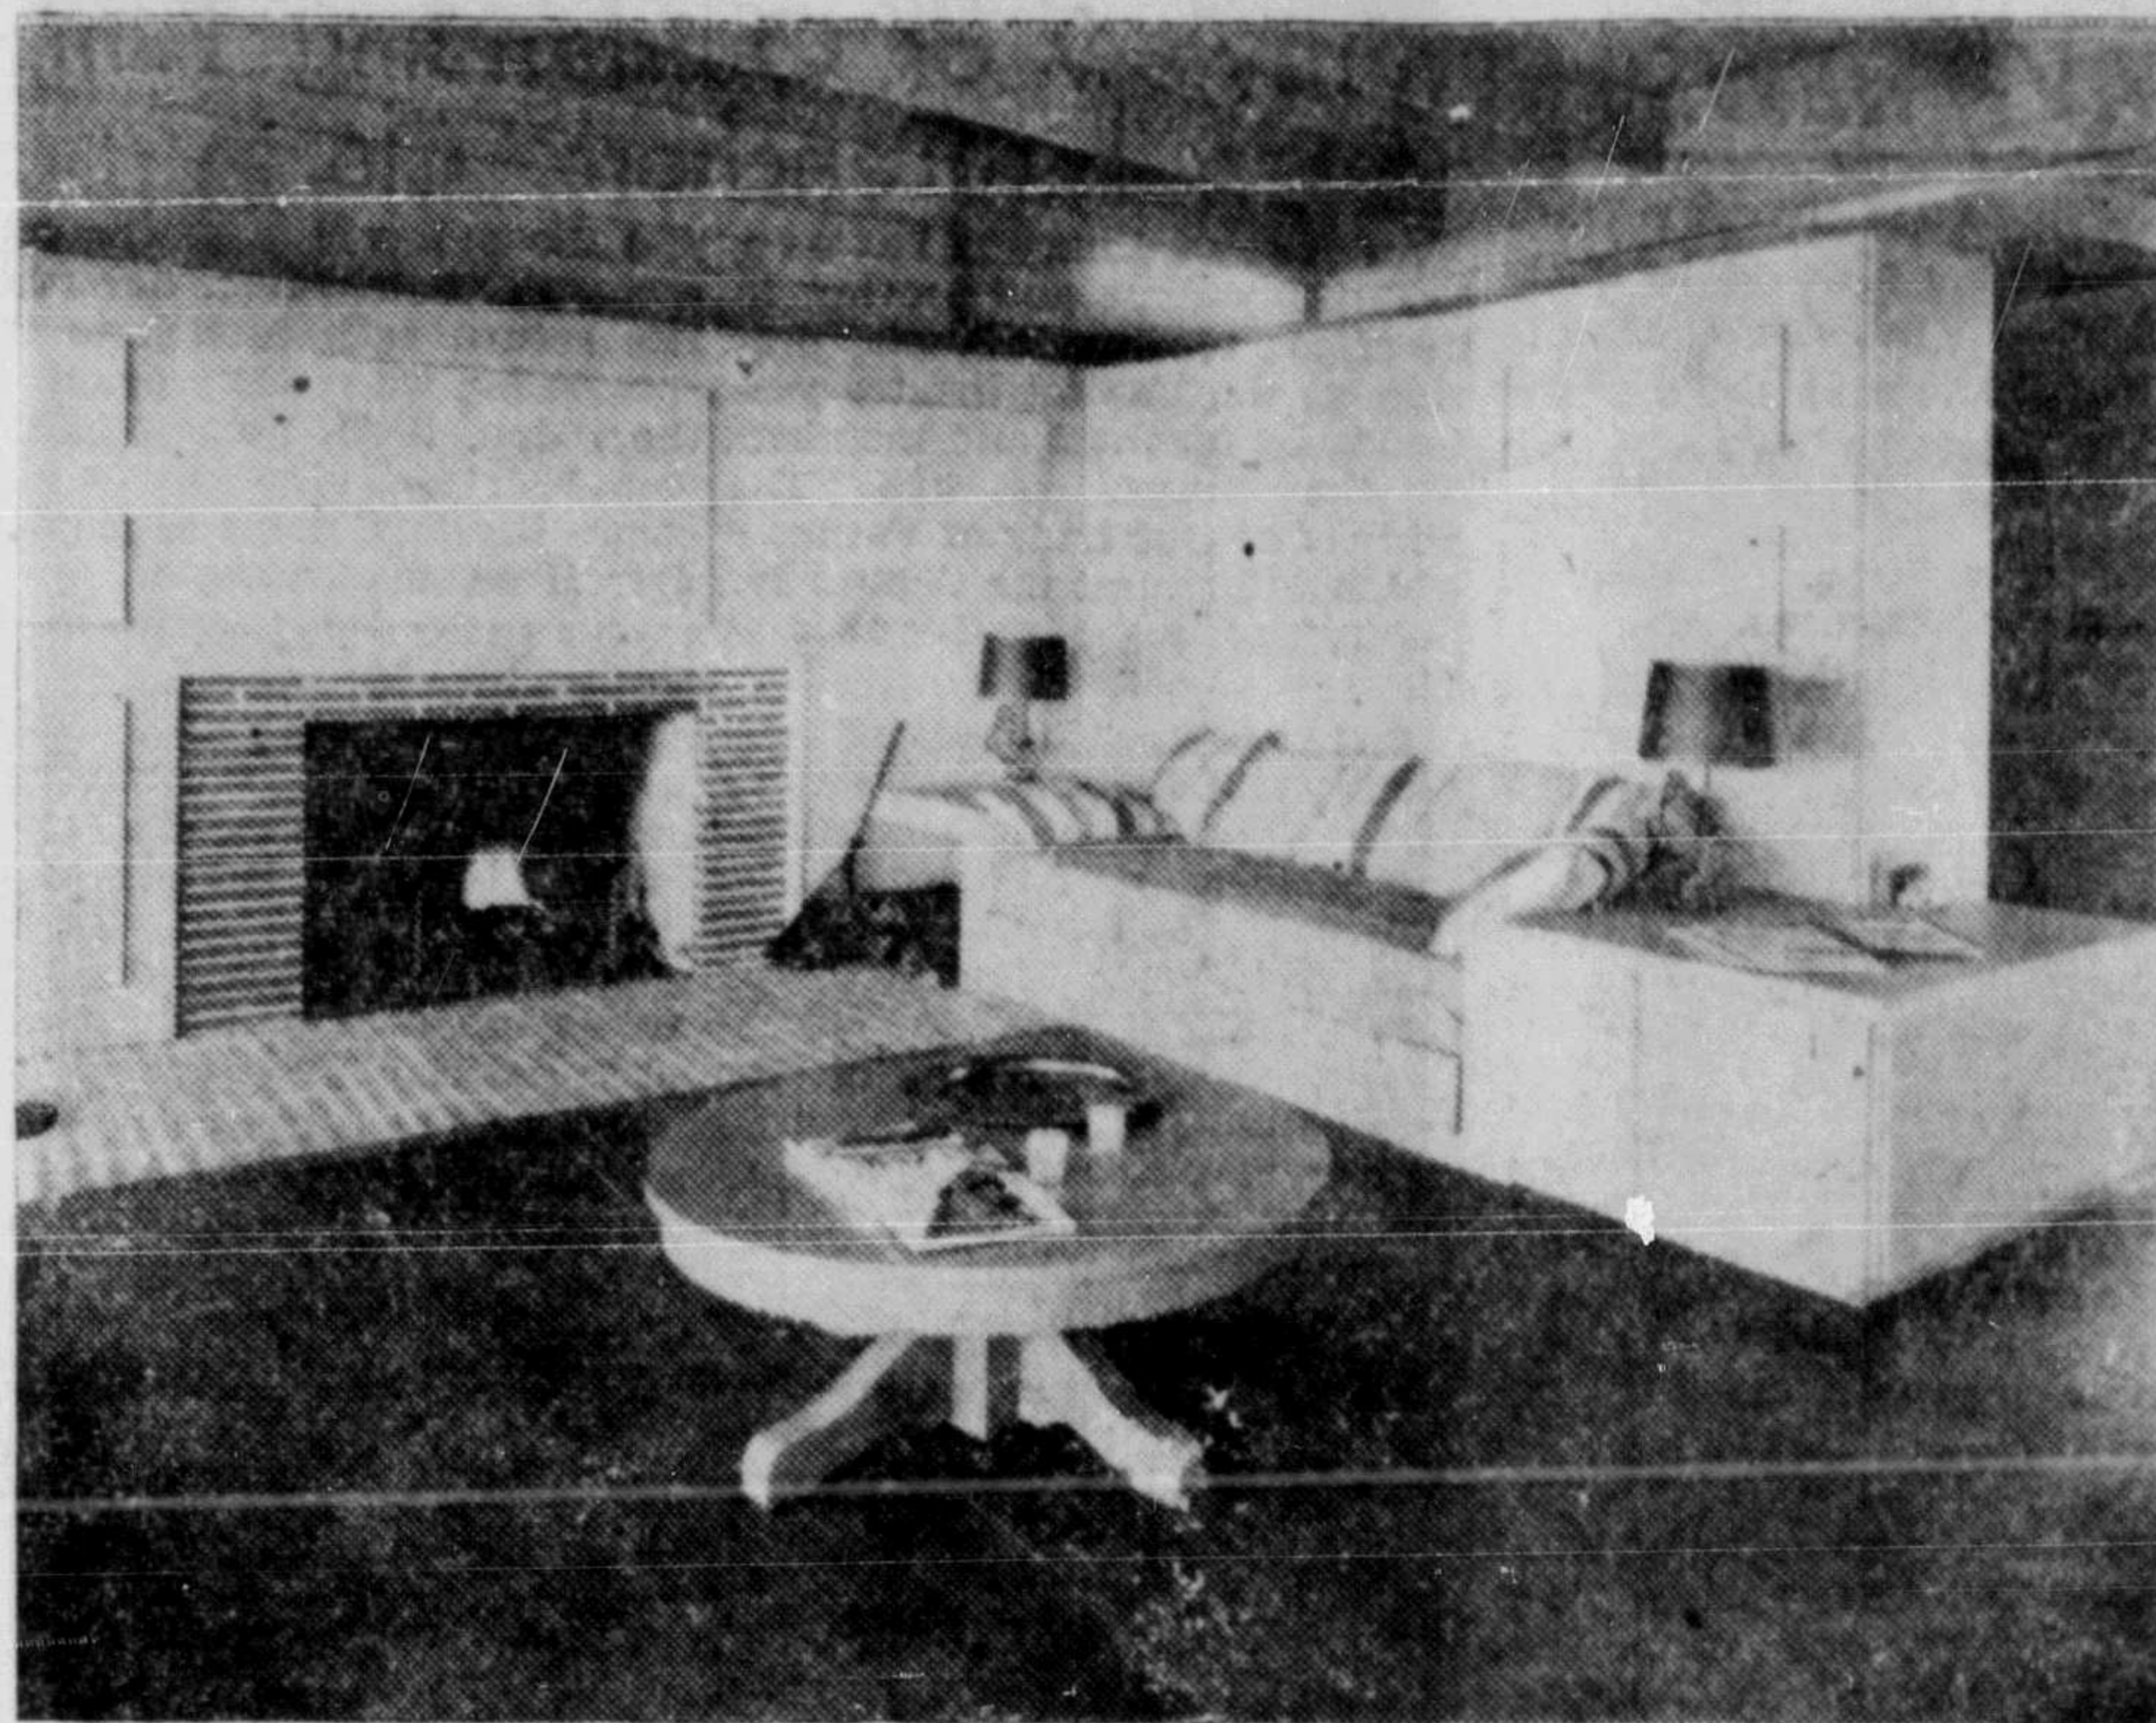

"The blood of Jesus Christ, His Son, cleanseth us from all sins." Believers are lost in their contemplation of the matchless mercy of God's great plan of substitutionary punishment, but unbelievers reject the very possibility of such an atonement.

As one studies the majestic claims of the Bible regarding itself, the conclusion gradually forms that it must be God's message to us, or else it must be utterly false. A clear thinker once pointed out that Christ had to be the best person who ever lived, or He had to be the world's greatest liar. His claims were unique, so there is no compromise. A bus schedule is either accurate or disastrously false, for there is no happy medium in missing one's bus. So the Bible must either be a source of heavenly light:

"From a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness," or a dispenser of darkness, because of its falseness.

The open-minded examiner need have no doubt. History, as it reveals the greatness and power of nations that loved and taught the Bible—and their degradation and fall when they rejected the Book and its spiritual teachings—is a clear commentary on the genuineness of the Bible. Also, the Book carries its own proof in its amazing scientific and historical accuracy, its fulfilled prophecy and its unity of theme, when considered in the light of its forty-odd human penmen of every class and environment.

So let us truly appreciate the Bible, and accept its revelation of salvation. Let us learn its truths, and apply them to the needs of our lives. Let us guard these truths and keep them untarnished from every modern attempt to ridicule and suppress them.

HERE IS JUST ONE of the innumerable ways in which B.C. Douglas Fir Plywood may be used to lend distinction to a living room interior. In this distinguished treatment, various sized oblongs of plywood have been applied in a formal pattern to the standard plywood wall panels. All have been painted in one solid color, using a light finish and the cool simplicity thus achieved is effectively contrasted with the tones of the brick fireplace and the cheerful upholstery of the built-in plywood sofa. Large, light, easily handled Douglas Fir Plywood panels add greatly to the flexibility of interior treatment.

CALGARIANS AWAIT FLOOD FROM ICE-CHOKED RIVER

CALGARY — Residents of low-lying areas here and upstream along the Bow River valley, awaited the approach today of a flood crest from Ghost Dam, 40 miles up-river in the foothills.

Water from the ice-choked river spured over dikes in Calgary in four places along the north bank of the river Thursday night.

Emergency crews placed sandbags on the dikes and catch basins in preparation for today's expected release of water from the dam.

Dramatic Story Lies Behind Construction of Paper Mill

A dramatic story of planning and team work lies behind the construction record established at the new Elk Falls newspaper mill by B.C. Bridge and Dredging Company Limited.

Last June, the mill went into production—six months ahead of schedule. And, for the first time in 14 months, hundreds of construction workers were able to relax a little.

Throughout that time they had kept pace with the engineers and architects. As fast as plans left the drawing boards these men carried them out.

They schemed to beat material shortages, bad weather, and to speed their work at the same time.

First they blasted away rocks and dredged 360,000 cubic yards to clear the harbor. On April 10, last year, they moved to the site to build the first units—the warehouse and a repair shop and office.

First of the 78,000 tons of material shipped to the project began to arrive through the nearby harbor of the John Hart hydroplant of the B.C. Power Commission.

The small gymnasium has been reserved for the three-week courses which include tailoring, sewing and home rejuvenating. The sewing and tailoring course will be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons and evenings.

Home rejuvenation consists of remodeling old pieces of furniture, lamp shades and drapes. Classes are on Tuesday, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Already a number of women have enrolled for courses and officials said today there is room for more.

In previous years a great deal of work was accomplished. Chesters have been recovered and other pieces of furniture re-finished.

Wabigoon, the name of a village in Ontario's Kenora district, is an Indian word meaning "white feather."

The January issue of Harper's Magazine tells the story of the giant undertaking known as Kitimat, in British Columbia 400 miles north of Vancouver.

The fabulous project will take the water of the Nechako River, on the east slope of the Coast Range of mountains, and divert it through the mountains by tunnel to an ocean fjord on the west side to deliver its power in a 2,580 foot drop. The project's 1,650,000 horsepower will just about equal the combined potentialities of Bonneville Dam, Shasta Dam and the biggest TVA penstock, Wilson Dam at Muscle Shoals.

The potentialities of the natural terrain and watershed were discovered in 1928 by an obscure bureaucrat in the Department of Lands and Forests of British Columbia's provincial government.

He was Frederick William Knewstubb, who looked up from his map in the Water Rights offices at Victoria one day and told his superiors he had discovered one of the great hydro-electric power sites of North America.

A year later he led a small expedition to the region and planned the entire project. But it wasn't until 1943 that the Aluminum Company of Canada was ready to investigate the possibilities.

The plan was on the drawing boards for three years, and in 1951 engineers started work on the tunnel and the aluminum smelting plant at the village of Kitimat, where eventually 50,000 people will live. Aluminum production will begin in 1954 and ultimately will reach 350,000 tons.

United Church Cares For 328 Elderly People in Eight Homes Across Canada

When he isn't fighting the liquor traffic, promoting evangelistic campaigns and interpreting international affairs to the United Church membership, Dr. James R. Mutchmor, secretary of that church's Board of Evangelism and Social Service, is making life easier and happier for 328 of Canada's elderly people who live in eight homes supervised by the United Church of Canada.

Newest of the series of homes for elderly persons spread across Canada is the Fair Haven Home at Burnaby, B.C. This home consists of a large two-storey main building, with a recently completed east wing and eight duplexes. Thirty-two elderly married couples live in the duplexes. In the main building is accommodation for 59 persons, men and women.

NO CHURCH GRANT

In Alberta the United Church operates the Agnes Forbes Lodge at Fort Saskatchewan. Fourteen elderly women live in this home, located 14 miles from Edmonton. The capital cost has been paid and the home operates without a church grant. Plans are under way to extend this home soon, Dr. Mutchmor said.

Two homes for elderly persons are maintained by the United Church in Saskatchewan. Oliver Lodge (named after the late Principal Edmund Oliver) is situated in Saskatoon, with an accommodation for 85 women. At Moose Jaw the church operates the Ina Grafton Gage Home, where 50 elderly women live.

Named after the late Alex Osborne, formerly a United Church minister at Neepawa, the Osborne Home there is occupied by 24 residents.

In Toronto the United Church operates the Ina Grafton Gage Home on O'Connor Drive. Thirty-one elderly women live here.

Two homes for senior citizens are owned by the church in Montreal, one the United Church Home for Elderly Women, and the other the Dunedin Home for Elderly Women. Dr. J. W. McConnell helped make this home possible for the 32 women who live there.

The Missionary and Maintenance Fund of the United Church helps a little in the upkeep of these homes, but most of the funds for the upkeep of the homes is paid for by the residents out of their old age pensions.

Said Dr. Mutchmor: "We feel that the United Church has pioneered in homes for elderly persons. We believe in the small home rather than the big institution. We believe in a co-operative and dignified life for our senior citizens. I look forward to the setting up of many other homes for elderly people by our own church, by agencies, other churches and governments."

Transit Men To Ask For 23-Cent Raise

VANCOUVER (CP) - Some 2,800 transit employees of the British Columbia Electric Railway Co. will ask for a 23-cent hourly across-the-board wage increase this year, it was reported Wednesday.

Negotiations are expected to open shortly between the company and the Street Railwaymen's Union (TLC). The present two-year contract expires Feb. 28 and one-man streetcar operators now earn $1.51 per hour after one year's service. They are employed in Greater Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria.

Liberals Set Date to Choose New B.C. Leader

VANCOUVER (CP) - The B.C. Liberal Association convention to choose a new leader to succeed former Premier Byron Johnson will be held here Feb. 27 and 28. The date was formally set at a meeting of party senators, members of parliament, members of the provincial legislature, officers of the association and Mr. Johnson.

Mrs. J. L. Gates of Victoria, association president, said matters of policy, organization and other business relating to federal and provincial affairs were discussed at the meeting.

Mrs. Osa Johnson Found Dead In Hotel Suite

MRS OSA JOHNSON - SAT - NEW YORK (CP) - Osa Johnson, 58-year-old author and explorer who, with her late husband, Martin Johnson, filmed wild animals and natives in many remote parts of the world, died Wednesday.

Mrs. Johnson was found dead in her hotel suite by her lawyer, who said she had been preparing to make another safari in Africa in about six weeks. The lawyer said Mrs. Johnson had been working day and night in preparation for the trip and probably "just worked herself out."

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

Points More Important Than "Getting the Bid"

Learning when to pass will make you more points than learning how to bid slams. Players like Miss Brash, the overbidder; Mr. Fusty, the old-fashioned player, and Mr. Muzzy, the opponents' delight, all seem to miss the real purpose of the game. The purpose is to win the most points—not to outbid the adversaries.

Even better players than these have trouble passing when they should. I see many cases where "getting the bid" becomes more important than getting the points on the score sheet. Many players seem to feel that there is some shame attached to passing—that when you fail to bid on very doubtful values, you are lacking in courage.

Disregard those who level such accusations against you. They are bound to be the eventual losers in the game. What good is their advice? I suggest you take your advice from the winners. And the winners in the long run will be those who know when to pass.

In today's deal, when Mr. Champion failed to come in over Mr. Dale's one spade overcall, Miss Brash should have given up promptly. What possible good could the hand hold for her side? It was absurd to dream that game could be made on the East-West cards. Indeed, it was much more likely that the opponents had some play for game.

They did. When Miss Brash foolishly re-opened the bidding with two clubs, Mr. Dale and Mr. Abel bounced into a four heart contract which they undoubtedly would have made. But sensing this, Miss Brash took a sacrifice at five clubs, going down three tricks—500 points. And she could have let Mr. Dale play a harmless one spade contract. Her re-opening of the

Wakley Rink Makes History Scoring Another Seven-Ender

The third seven-ender in the Curling Club's history was scored last night in the mixed bonspiel by the Wakley rink against Eric Derner to a break a 1-1 tie in the third end.

Score ended 19-6 for Wakley. Skipped by John Wakley, other members of the rink were Mrs. Fessie Wakley, third; Rae Johnson, second, and Mrs. Bernice Johnson, lead.

Other scores in the bonspiel which opened Thursday are:

Thursday—Moore 14, Aston 6; McKenzie 10, Thom 7; Warren 7, Bateman 4; Dixon 3, Eyclfson 10; Kellough 10, J. Stewart 9; Shier 8, Matthew 4.

Friday—Eyclfson 12, J. Stewart 7; Shier 2, Moore 12; McKenzie 7, Warren 6; Boulter 19, Garner 4; Wakley 19, Berner 6; Gordon

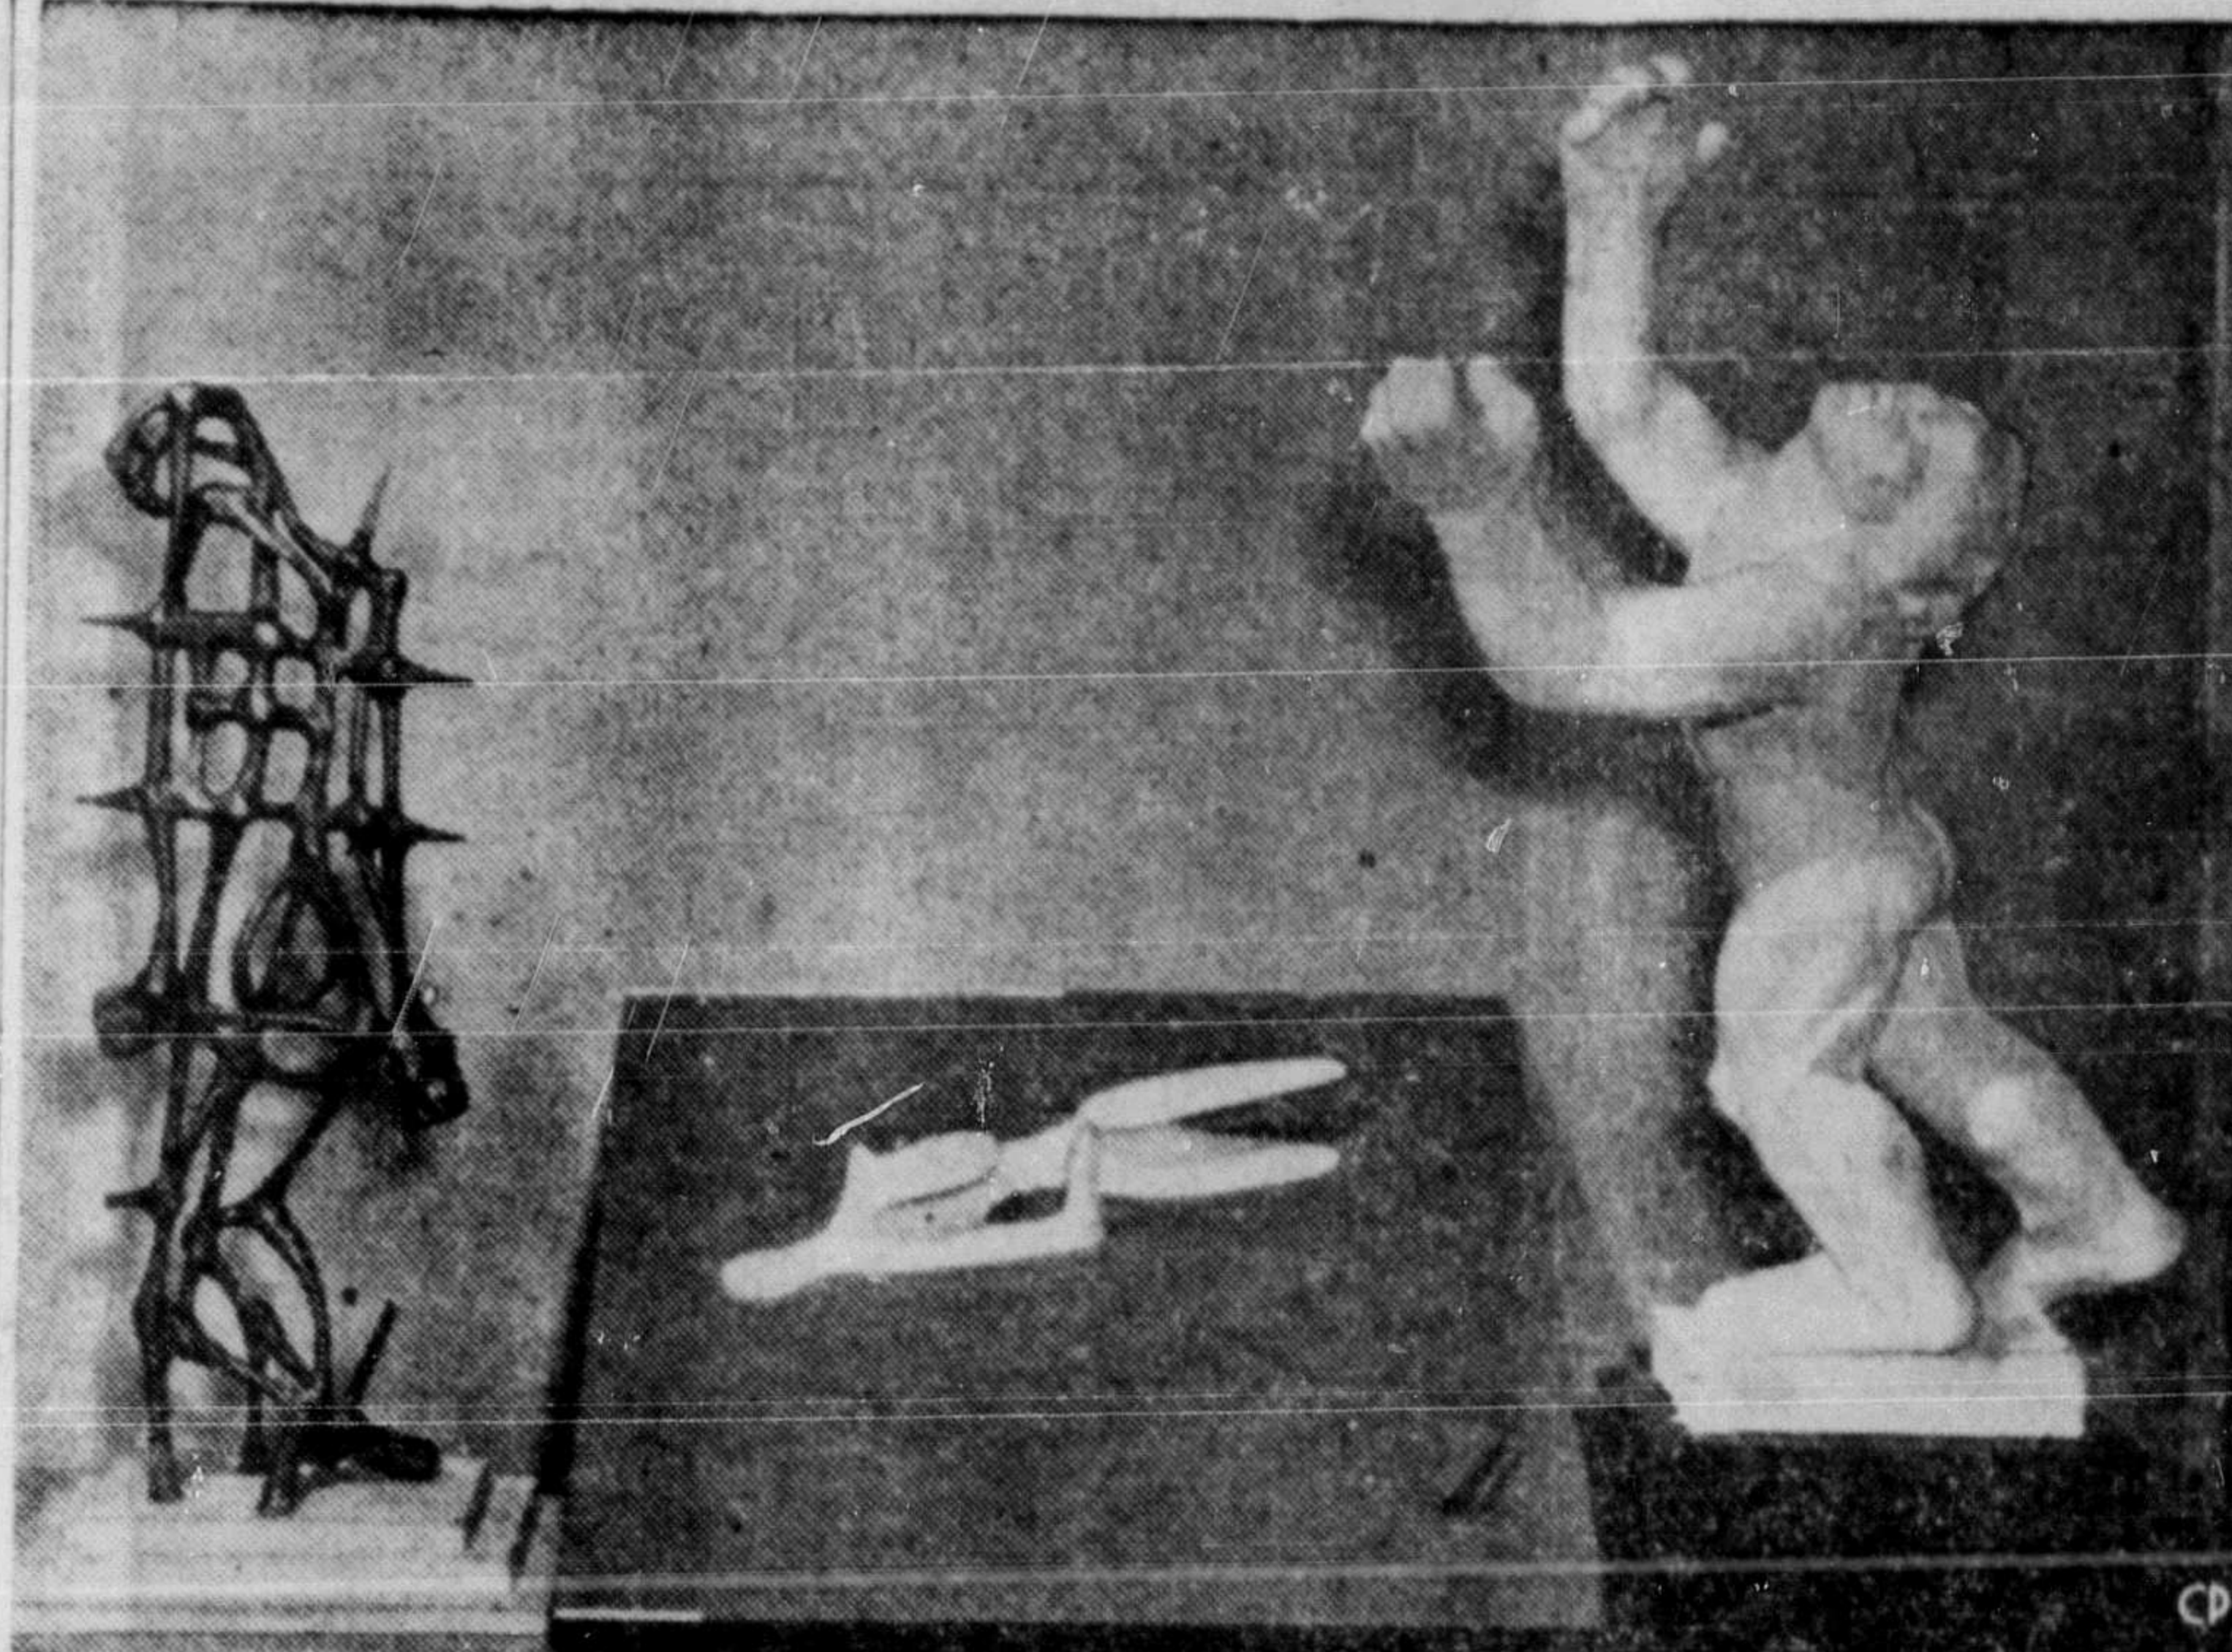

8, D. Stewart 7; Ostarer 15, Skallmerud 5; Wilson 13, Rudderham 4; Ford 9, Schuman 3.

All semi-finals are expected to be played tomorrow, with curling beginning at 11 a.m. Losers of the primary competition drop into secondary competition for playoffs.

Finals in both competitions will be played Monday night.

Remember when

Toronto Maple Leafs, who finished out of the National League playoffs in 1946 but rolled back to win the Stanley Cup a year later, were voted the Team of the Year in Canadian sport five years ago today. They won the honor in the annual Canadian Press year-end poll.

MODELS BY THREE CANADIAN sculptors have been selected for entry in the 54-country international sculpture competition in London next March. The models were based on the competition's theme—the unknown political prisoner. Left to right the models are by Anne Kahane, Montreal; Julien Herbert, Montreal; and Robert Norgate of Ottawa. They were chosen by the Sculptors' Society of Canada and will be exhibited across Canada before being sent abroad.

Well-Known War Artist Teaches Officers, Men on HMCS Magnificent To Paint

HALIFAX (CP)—There's probably no Canadian ship afloat with more paintings hanging from her bulkheads than the aircraft carrier Magnificent.

None of the club's members had painted before Lt.-Cmdr. C.

Anthony Law of Ottawa, noted war artist, started art classes last spring.

They've come a long way since then. Recently 48 of their paintings, portraying scenes in Malta, Greece, North Africa, Scotland and England, were exhibited at an art gallery here.

Law organized the club as a hobby group. The only entry requirement was "Anybody interested is welcome." The class began with 50 but now is about half that number.

Most of the work was done during the Maggie's European cruise. The lieutenant-commander and his students painted the town and countryside at nearly every port of call. They touched up their canvases during off-duty hours at sea.

ALL OVER SHIP

CPO George Green, Victoria, had five canvases on display in the radio room. CPO Joseph Polier, Quebec, the ship's barber, had one bulkhead reserved for the work of AB Gaston Boulanger, Montreal. CPOs Joseph Doucette, Bellevue, N.S., and Lester Bell, Toronto, had their exhibition in the shipwright shop. In the officers' living quarters there was "Greenwich Alley," where five of the eight officers in the section were painters.

RCMP EXPRESS CONCERN OVER INCREASE IN CRIME

OTTAWA (CP)—RCMP, investigating reports of illegal use of narcotics by school students and other juveniles, can find no "serious" narcotic problem among the youth of Canada.

Commissioner L. H. Nicholson made the finding known Thursday in the 1951-52 annual report of his 4,500-man police force which operates federally across the country and provincially in every province except Ontario and Quebec.

The commissioner indicated he is seriously concerned about the steady climb of federal crime statistics.

RCMP handled 146,904 cases in 1951-52, a 42.9 per cent increase over the previous year.

SCREEN ★ FLASHES

A stinging indictment against corruption in civic government is excitingly delivered in Paramount's new drama, "The Turning Point," which runs Monday to Wednesday at the Totem Theatre.

Taking its cue from true-life episodes which created headlines across the country, "The Turning Point" examines the dramatic events which make up the suspense-riddled experiences of a crime investigating committee's activities in a middle-sized American city.

In a suspenseful tale of murder, violence and intrigue, William Holden is seen as a cynical newspaper reporter whose boyhood friend, Edmond O'Brien is the dynamic chairman of the much-heralded "racket busting" committee. Believing that the investigation is doomed to failure from the start, Holden shows little interest in it, until Alexis Smith, O'Brien's charming sophisticated secretary, appears on the scene. Before any of the participants are aware of it, a triangle has developed which threatens the long friendship of the two men.

Hit by bit, the committee begins to unravel a sordid story of corruption in high places. When the stigma of dishonesty reaches out to touch even the father of Edmond O'Brien, who is leading the crusade, events move swiftly toward a climax of violence and excitement. Dramatically authenticity is added by the use of actual shots of crowded streets, a smoke-filled fight arena and other on-the-spot locations.

As the man who is delegated to uncover the poisonous corruption gnawing at the roots of the city, Edmond O'Brien has one of his meatiest roles to date. Also turning in an outstanding performance is William Holden, as the reporter whose experience leads to his regarding civic reform programs with a justifiably jaundiced eye. Lovely Alexis Smith makes an intelligent "girl Friday" who supplies the grueling O'Brien needs in his grueling struggle with the vast network of organized crime. The unusually large cast includes such excellent players as Tom Tully, Ted De Corsia, Howard Freeman, Ed Begley and Ray Teal.

NEW YORK (CP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano probably will defend his title against Jersey Joe Walcott April 10 at Chicago Stadium.

Jim Norris, president of International Boxing Club, Friday he expects to announce the definite time and date of next week.

THANK YOU

The Kinsmen Club, at this time, wish YOU, the Citizens of Prince Rupert, a Very Big and Prosperous New Year. It is only with the support of people like you that organizations such as ours are able to carry on, and we hope, in some small way provide a useful and a beneficial service to the citizens and the children of this community.

The Kinsmen Club is You. The Kinsmen Club is but the manifestation and the sum total of the many and varied little deeds of charity that you so generously enact for the benefit of others. It is your nickels, dimes and dollars collected and accumulated throughout the year which makes possible the operation of the Kinsmen Club projects.

But a short time ago you, through your purchase of many hundreds of bags of peanuts and Kinsmen Party Packs made possible Kinsmen Christmas Parties for nearly 1500 children in this city and at Miller Bay Hospital. We only regret that you could not all have been there to see your kind donations turn into bright and happy smiles on the many small faces as Santa Claus passed out his bags of candy, prizes, and gifts.

As one young child said, "Santa you're wonderful!" Well, folks, we think that you are wonderful for the way that you so consistently and generously support our Club. Without you there would be no Santa Claus—no Kinsmen's Summer Camp at Terrace—no May 24th Kinsmen Sports Day—no Kinsmen Halloween Parties and Fires—no Kinsmen Polo Fund for the care of Prince Rupert children stricken with this disease, in fact, there would be very little in this big round world without people like you so rich in charity and the spirit of Kinship. Ever mindful of the trust that you place in us when you "Help the Kinsmen to Help the Kids" we promise you our sincere and full efforts in the coming year. May God Bless and Guard You and Yours.

Yours, in the spirit of kinship,

The Kinsmen Club of Prince Rupert
