Party Leaders Hit At Ottawa Policy

By LARRY STANWOOD

The two-month-old battle by Prince Rupert to keep its 40-year-old drydock and shipyard rushed into still another crisis today as local Liberal Party leaders placed their demands for action before the federal government.

Most outspoken was T. Norman Youngs, president of the Prince Rupert District Liberal Association, who stated flatly at a special emergency executive meeting last night: "Any government that is so lacking in appreciation of the potentialities of this great north country as to take such a retrograde step as allowing the piecemeal disposal of the drydock... can never expect to receive the support of the electors of this area in future elections."

Walter Smith, president of the city Liberal Association and chairman of the meeting, said that "there is no question that the drydock must be kept here. It should be put into first class ship and be utilized. We need a shipyard as well as a small boat repair yard."

Jack McRae, former Liberal MLA for Prince Rupert, and president of the Skeena Liberal Association, called the proposed removal of the shipyard "a backward step."

The executive officers declared "great disappointment" that so far the Canadian government has not intervened in steps by the Canadian National Railways to sell the drydock, "in spite of the mountain of evidence that such a move would be a fatal blow to Prince Rupert."

Mr. Smith told fellow Liberals that "there is no reason under the sun that Prince Rupert shouldn't get its share of shipbuilding which is going on elsewhere in Canada."

The latest move to get federal government action concerning the future of the drydock follows a fight which has been entered by private citizens, fishing groups, the Chamber of Commerce and city council.

Tanker Here From Halifax

Two visiting ships are in Prince Rupert harbor today, one a grain ship of Greek registry and one a tanker out of Halifax.

The Nicolas Kairis of Greece, skippered by Capt. Elias Galetas, arrived at 10 a.m. yesterday from Yokohama, Japan. She started taking on barley shortly after her arrival and will leave soon for the first open port in Japan.

The Unitanter, sister ship to the Imperial Vancouver, came through the Panama Canal from Halifax, picking up a load at San Francisco for delivery here. She reached Prince Rupert at 1:30 p.m. yesterday.

Airport Committee Seeks Survey Report

Efforts to obtain complete information on the results of surveys for airport sites in the Prince Rupert area will be made by the city's newly-appointed airport committee. This was decided at the committee's first meeting yesterday.

The federal government will be asked to release details of its recent survey on Digby Island, while the RCAF and private companies known to have been interested in an airport here also will be approached for all available information.

It was further agreed that, if the need is indicated, the committee should have a survey taken on its own behalf.

Resolution Adopted At Emergency Meet

By ERIC SANDERSON

Continued operation and maintenance of the Prince Rupert shipyard and drydock "in its entirety" is demanded by the executive of the Prince Rupert Liberal Association.

A resolution making the demand on the federal government was passed last night at a special emergency meeting of the association's executive officers.

It was a climatic move in a battle by Prince Rupert organizations and elected individuals to forestall the sale of the drydock, announced by its operators—the Canadian National Railways—last January.

The resolution emphatically calls on "the present Liberal government of Canada to keep faith with the declared policy of Liberalism and with the people of this northwestern part of Canada by assuring the continued operation and maintenance of the Prince Rupert drydock and shipyard in its entirety."

Announcement of the proposed drydock sale by Donald Gordon, CNR chairman and president, on January 28 was met by the greatest storm of protest ever waged in this Pacific Coast port.

Most recent move, until last night, was the suggestion by a special city drydock committee that local businessmen and organizations themselves try and purchase at least part of the drydock and maintain service to fishermen.

Aside from the loss of facilities to shipping here, removal of the drydock or its piecemeal dismantling is viewed as detrimental to the fishing fleet which has been serviced in the past by the drydock.

The special committee will meet next week with Bernard Allen, CNR representative in the sale negotiations, who is due here April 14.

The 40-year-old plant which is spread over an area of 17 acres has been operated at a loss for the past four years by the CNR. Operation was subsidized by the Federal Public Works Department by an agreement which expired March 31.

Sale of the plant was to have been completed by April 1, but plans to let it go were given a six-months hoist by the federal government after the wave of protests.

In answer to protests and representations from the city to the Ottawa government, Transport Minister Chevrier said: "It is felt that the work carried out by this drydock in the latter years does not warrant the expenditure of public funds for substantial annual deficits and the very large expenditures required to rehabilitate the plant and equipment."

Here is the resolution as drafted by the special Liberal executive meeting last night: "Whereas Sir Wilfred Laurier and the Liberal Party established a drydock and shipyard in Prince Rupert to develop the north coast of British Columbia and foster trade with the Orient;

TOKYO (C)—A 60-man Canadian trade mission to Japan, headed by Grant McConachie, president of Canadian Pacific Airlines, left Tokyo today for a week's tour of the Osaka area.

The Canadian group from the Vancouver Board of Trade arrived here Friday and was feted at an official reception by the Japan Federation of Economic Organizations and Japan Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

The Canadian delegation is in Japan to increase trade between Japan and Canada, under a new trade agreement signed April 1.

"Blue Rain" Splatters North Detroit Homes

DETROIT (C)—Astounded Detroiters are talking today about their "blue rain."

For the time being at least it seemed of as much concern as the price of coffee or other such major problems.

The "blue rain" made its appearance here Thursday, splashing hundreds of homes on the northwest side. But Detroit was not the only place. Davenport, Iowa, was another.

Houses were flecked with tiny blue spots. Some of it was purple-blue. One handsome white house here was splattered.

Science came up with explanations after excitement had run high.

Local Red Cross Drive Passes Quota; More Returns Expected

Latest returns from the Queen Charlotte Islands have put Prince Rupert's Red Cross drive over the top, Stan Saville at campaign headquarters reported today. Objective for this district was $5,500.

While we are barely above the quota at the moment, there are still so many places yet to be heard from that we are certain to exceed the objective by a substantial amount," Mr. Saville said. "The support we are getting from the Queen Charlottes and other outside points is very gratifying."

Last year, with the same objective, the drive fell short by more than $400. Later it appeared that the local branch might be discontinued altogether. This caused wide concern that the Prince Rupert district would lose its Red Cross services, with the result that various organizations and civic leaders undertook to strengthen the position of the

Backs Legislation of Criminal Code

A revision of criminal law, five years in the making, has passed the House of Commons. It is now in the Senate.

COMMISSION APPOINTED
A royal commission to redraft the code was appointed in 1943. A second royal commission took up the study in 1951 and brought down a draft the following year.

The draft was sent to the Senate in 1952, but the Upper Chamber did not complete study. The code was redrafted by the government and after consideration by the Senate it was referred to a Commons committee which proposed a third draft, the present legislation.

Now, a 27-member Commons-Senate committee is studying whether and how the code should be amended concerning capital and corporal punishment and lotteries. The committee started work a few weeks ago and some parliamentarians feel it may take two years to complete the job.

Too, the legal defence of insanity to criminal charges and the problem of criminal sexual psychopaths are being studied by royal commissions.

Daughter Ready for Trial

Assizes will open in Prince Rupert Monday with charges against a 13-year-old girl. Her father is charged with assault count to be tried in court today.

J. M. Coady is expected at the sessions, and the court house at Prince Rupert is scheduled for the parade of the cases. George Houston is charged with manslaughter in connection with a flood bridge near Labor Day, in which a man of Terrace was killed.

Other case scheduled for trial is a charge of manslaughter against Mervyn Kemano, for offence at Kemano when struck by a car in the day.

Today's handyman host can build his own refreshment corner and be right in on the trend to built-in serving spots designed for the smaller home.

The simple fir plywood shelves, bar and stools shown here can be fitted into a small area of your livingroom, rumpus room or den. Forming a handsome unit, they can be finished either to contrast or complement present decorative colors of the rooms.

All parts of Douglas fir plywood are simple to cut from panels and can be assembled in an evening. Thickness of top and sides of the bar should be 3/4 inch to give a sturdy unit, with front panel and shelves cut from 1/2 inch plywood. Parts can be sawn from 1/2 inch panel with shelves and pieces of the wall fixture 1/2 inch.

A few hours in your workshop will see all pieces and joints glued and nailed. Pick your own finish.

Given a good primer coat, unit can be painted to match walls of your room and will give a beautiful finish in any work paint or enamel.

HOLY WEEK SERVICES IN THE CHURCHES

CBC Plans Special Presentations

TORONTO (CP)—Canadian radio and television will fill the air with fine music and religious drama during Holy Week, culminating in the joyful message of Easter.

The Wednesday night show on CBC is the Easter drama "Spark in Judea" by the English playwright R. J. Deiderfield, adapted for radio by Joseph Schull. The play deals with the role of Pontius Pilate in the crucifixion.

Good Friday programs include a Montreal CBC production by Rupert Caplan, "At the Cross," a meditation in dramatic form written for radio by Clare Slater, recently arrived in Toronto from England. Miss Slater wrote one of the radio stories broadcast in the CBC's "Way of the Spirit" series last Christmas.

The St. Luke Passion attributed to Bach will be performed on the afternoon of Good Friday by a CBC string orchestra and the Toronto York Memorial Collegiate choir. Other Bach works played by the Stuttgart Chamber Orchestra will be heard, from a BBC transcription, at 10 p.m. EST on Good Friday.

People who can't get to church on Easter Sunday morning will be able to hear services in many localities by radio. The CBC television will show an Easter mass from one of the Montreal Catholic churches.

The traditional Easter parades will occupy most radio and TV audiences during Sunday afternoon but the religious theme returns on Sunday night. The CBC will televise the historic moving picture produced by Cecil B. de Mille—"King of Kings."

DICK AVRES

Basketball isn't dead in Prince Rupert by a long shot. A lot of former fans just don't know what they're missing and things look even better for next year.

Take last night's games for example.

The Oldtimers showed that love of a game dies hard and while there are 15 stiff and aching bodies creaking around town today, wondering whether it was worth it, the oldsters put on a good show last night. Still showing speed were Verne Ciccone, Boola Pierce and Jack Lindsay. There was nothing wrong with Sev Dominato's shooting eye either on two occasions. Still in pretty good shape is Nick Pavlikis, but both referees Ciccone and Southern coach Fred Calderoni found that playing basketball extended them a trifle more than umpiring. Incidentally the first two fouls of the game were called on the self-same arbiters. Bruce Forward, who was "refing" seemed to get a fiendish pleasure out of the situation. Angus McPhee, still pretty cagey along with Lindsay, chalked up four points and little Bobby Armstrong sank a nice field goal.

Northern Europe's coach, Art Murray thinks tonight's game is in the bag, but Southern pilot Calderoni was just as confident. "If the garlic sausage holds out, we're home free," he said.

Regarding the fast-paced Senior B-High school series, Manson's Bill McChesney was a trifle stunned by the set-back. His team has been practicing reasonably often whereas the high school squad hasn't. Crucial exams for most of the senior students are underway and scholastic ties have taken precedence over athletics. Rainmakers' coach Jack Evans was quite gloomy before the game and after watching the pre-game warm-up was sure that Bo-Me-Hi was due for a shellacking. His team threw his pessimism in his face and hold a healthy lead for tonight's final in the total-point series. However, "it will be a different story tomorrow night," McChesney told us after admitting that the Rainmakers were by far the best team on the floor last night.

But more to the point, tonight's games fold up basketball for the season. Next year is a long way away but a glimpse into the future shows that there is some fine Senior B talent coming up in the form of Rod Tait, Rey McKay, Doug Sankey, Bob McFarlane and Maddy Sedgewick plus several other Watts and Nickerson players. Bo-Me-Hi will lose several of its stars to UBC and other higher halls of learning next fall and it could be that Inter-A will not be the colorful league it was this year. But time will tell and it's our guess that next year's Senior B loop will pack 'em into the Civic Centre.

POST SCRIPTS—Don Arney, scheduled to play on the North European descent team last night, was unable to make the team because he was down at Shaughnessy hospital getting a check-up. The April 14th bout between world lightweight champion Archie Moore and Jimmy Slade has been postponed due to Moore suffering an injury to a nerve in his left foot. The non-title bout will now be held May 12.

New York Rangers of the NHL will play an exhibition game in Montmagny against the Montmagny Junior B club tonight. Tiger Jack Fox, well-known for his crowd-pleasing fights on the Pacific Coast and southern B.C., died in Spokane this week. We saw Tiger fight several times in Trail, B.C., and while he was "a ham an'egger" towards the end he knew his trade and win, lose or draw, he always put up a good fight. It was only 47.

Loss of key 1953 New York Yankee performers such as Vic Raschi, Billy Martin, Johnny Mize and the uncertain status of Mickey Mantle doesn't seem to phase Associated Press sports-writer Joe Reichler, and he's picked the Bombers to take their sixth straight American league championship. He says that although the weakened world champs are ready to be taken "there doesn't appear to be any club in the American loop strong enough to do it." Reichler, who spent seven weeks with six of the eight American league teams this spring, picks this probable order of finish: 1, New York; 2, Boston; 3, Cleveland; 4, Chicago; 5, Washington; 6, Detroit; 7, Baltimore; 8, Philadelphia.

Nelson Needs Tie To Enter Cup Finals

Nelson Maple Leafs find themselves in the comfortable position of needing only a tie tonight to capture the B.C. Senior Hockey Championship and right to enter the Western Canada Allan Cup finals.

Leafs take on Penticton V's at Trail in the sixth game of their best-of-seven semi-final series. Nelson took a commanding 3-1 lead, with one game tied, Friday night when they downed the V's 4-2 before a packed house in Nelson.

Big break in the tightly-played contest came at 10:36 of the third period when Marty Burton rapped in the winning goal on a brilliant play with Herb Lovett. Burton drove one from just outside the crease that eluded goalie Ivan McLelland, who thought he had it covered.

Stengel Calls Yank Victory

NEW YORK—Casey Stengel predicts that New York Yankees will win their sixth consecutive American League pennant.

Manager Al Lopez forecasts Cleveland to win the flag and pilot Paul Richards declares his Chicago White Sox will beat out both the Yankees and Indians for the championship.

In contrast to the variance of opinion in the American League, practically all eight pilots have tabbed the defending Brooklyn Dodgers as the team to beat for the National League championship.

"We are champions and we should do it again," declared Stengel, winner of five straight pennants. "I don't see any reason why we shouldn't . . ."

For Return Bout Deal Completed

SEATTLE—A deal was completed Friday night for Seattle's Harry "Kid" Matthews to meet British Empire heavyweight champion Don Cockell in a return bout in London, June 1.

Matthews' manager Jack Hurley said here he "reluctantly" had agreed to accept an offer made Thursday night by British fight promoter Jack Solomons in a transatlantic telephone conversation.

Rainmakers Win 62-47; Oldtimers Battle to Tie

Maintaining a driving pace from start to finish Bo-Me-Hi Rainmakers last night whipped Senior B champions Manson's Omegas 62-47 to take a 15-point lead in the two-game-total-point series for the unofficial city basketball championship.

In a well-played Oldtimers game the Southern European squad staged a third period rally to catch the leading North Europeans and end the game in a 19-19 tie.

Jack Evans' high school squad relaxed only once during the entire game and that was just after the start of the second quarter. The Rainmakers set up a first quarter lead of 18-9 and then Manson's sparked by Ray Spring and Danny Bill, brought the score up to 19-17. The Omegas never got that close again. Ron Ciccone, aided by Freddy Kristmanson, Bill Morrison and Dick Nickerson put the count up to 30 to 19 by half time.

Play was fast and rugged during the second half with Danny Bill fouling out in the third quarter and Bob McFarlane collecting his fifth penalty in the final stanza. The Rainmakers were outscored 15-13 in the third but Bill McChesney's crew still trailed 43-34.

Doug Sankey added a six-point quota in the last frame potting three beautiful field goals from well out. Ciccone and Reynold McKay added four points apiece as the high school squad went after points right up to the final buzzer.

Manson's Ray Spring was top marksman of the game sinking both short and long shots for a total of 19 points. Ron Ciccone led Bo-Me-Hi with 13 points followed closely by McKay and Kristmanson with 11 each. Manson's scored 15 field goals and sank 17 free shots in 30 attempts. Rainmakers netted 22 field goals and made good on 18 free shots in 28 tries. Both teams were equal on fouls with 21 each.

Old habits and plays of yesterday were displayed as the Northern squad took a 7-2 first quarter lead in the Oldtimers game.

Some of the pep gone in the second frame, the Southern crew revived themselves with garlic sausage and cheese to hold the Northlanders to a 4-4 tie. Sparked by Sev Dominato the South-erners came back strong in the third outscoring their winded opponents 7-1 to lead 13-12 at the three-quarter mark. Pushed to the limit North Europe fought back to outscore the South 7-6 in the last quarter.

Verne Ciccone led the South-erners with 10 points while Jack Lindsay with 5 was top man for the North.

North Europe—Angus McPhee 4, Jack Lindsay 5, Bob Armstrong 2, Mel Holkestad 2, Ted Arney 2, Herb Moran, Boola Pierce 3, Sid Alexander 1. Total 19.

South Europe—Nick Mazzoni, Fred Calderoni 2, Verne Ciccone 10, Jerry Pettunuzzo, Sev Dominato 5, Bojo Gurvich, Nick Pavlikis 2. Total 19.

Manson's—Bill 5, Spring 19, Olsen 5, Hartwig 19, Dennis 4, Walsh 2, McFarlane 2. Total 47.

Rainmakers—Kristmanson 11, Sankey 8, Tait 4, McKay 11, Heilm 1, B. Ciccone 13, G. Morrison 4, Nickerson 9, W. Morrison 1. Total 62.

Referees: Verne Ciccone, Fred Calderoni, Bruce Forward.

NHL President Has Worries About Moving Stanley Cup

MONTREAL—Some of the bedeviling that is continually harassing National Hockey League coaches fastened itself today upon President Clarence Campbell, who doesn't know what to do with the Stanley Cup.

For the present emblem of hockey supremacy remains in a Montreal jewelry store enshrouded with ifs.

If Jean Beliveau and Doug Harvey, cripples, return to action, can give Montreal Canadiens the needed zing, the cup-defending champions won't be so badly off and coach Dick Irvin will be happy.

If Gordie Howe, Ted Lindsay, Red Kelly and other stars shine in full-season form the worries of the favored Red Wings and coach Tommy Ivan will approach the vanishing point.

More specifically, if the Canadians win tonight the best-of-seven cup final will be all tied up at two games apiece and the cup stays put in the jewelry store. Fifth game is scheduled Sunday at Detroit and the sixth, if necessary, will be played here Tuesday.

If the Wings take tonight's tussle Campbell must load the cup on the hockey-special Detroit train in order to provide for any contingency.

Coach Irvin said Friday that Beliveau and Harvey will be back in tonight's game. The towering rookie centre and bumping defenceman missed the third game because of leg injuries.

CARDSTON, Alta. (CP)—Chum, the "seeing-eye" dog owned by sightless Ernest Ganzini, formerly of Edmonton, died as a result of poisoning. It was not known who set out the poisoned food.

Manager Jack Adams of Detroit Red Wings was suspended and Detroit players Eddie Wares and Don Grosso were each fined $100 after a fistio-assault on referee Mel Harwood during the fourth game of the Detroit-Toronto Stanley Cup final 12 years ago tonight. That was the year Detroit won the first three games and Toronto captured the next four and the Stanley Cup.

DICKIE MOORE WITHIN REACH OF NEW CUP SCORING RECORD

MONTREAL—Despite Thursday's defeat by the Red Wings, Montreal Canadiens' brush 23-year-old left wing Dickie Moore, is within shooting distance of another Cup playoff record, total points in the series. Moore's records March 25 in a semi-final game between the Bruins and the Bruins. His first mark, a goal in 10 seconds of play wiped out April 1 by Gordie Howe of the Wings, who scored a goal in nine seconds in a game between the Wings and the Maple Leafs. Moore set his second record March 25, 1931, in a goal for a single game when he chalked up six goals and four assists. This eclipsed a long-standing record, shared by four players. Now Moore has 13 goals and eight assists in five semi-final games with Boston the three so far played against Detroit. The record in 1931 was set by Earl Hoge of the Bruins.

Civil Servants Association Acts For Telegraph Workers

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada, Vancouver local council, said protests have been sent to Transport Minister Chevrier and Donald Gordon, president of the Canadian National Railways, on behalf of former employees of the Dominion Government Telegraphs at Vancouver and Williams Lake who refused to enter Canadian National Telegraphs employment.

The statement said that with taking over of the system's telegraph services by the CNT on April 1, non-scheduled positions were established for the 27 officers, with exception of Williams Lake and Quesnel, which are scheduled positions.

The civil servants' union said that those holding non-scheduled positions have no seniority rights in the CNT, and are not under any union agreement. The statement added that non-schedule positions can be wiped out at will by the company, and that the employees would be out of work because they possess no "bumping or bidding" rights.

The union said continued operation of the former government telegraphs office in Vancouver, along with the CNT main office in the city, would be duplication. It contended that such establishment would be carried on for a short period of time, when the former office of Government Telegraphs would be "wiped out."

The union statement said because employees at that office would be non-schedule, with no rights in the CNT proper, they would be out of employment.

It added that former telephone and clerical staff of the government telephone system taken over by the B.C. Telephone Company were integrated into that company, with recognition of seniority and the same working conditions as exists in the B.C. Telephone Company.

MONTREAL GOALIE JACQUES PLANTE, out of position behind his net, scrambles to get back as Gordie Howe (left) and Ted Lindsay, both of Detroit Red Wings, lurk in the danger area in a Stanley Cup game at Detroit. Montreal Canadiens defeated Detroit 3-1 to tie the National Hockey League playoffs at a game each. Plante's habit of coming out of his net causes Canadian supporters many anxious moments. The teams play again tonight.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

Opening Bid Tells Partner of Well-Balanced Hand

One club seems a natural and easy opening bid on the South cards in today's deal but it could put you in an embarrassing position for a rebid. For example, if partner responds with one diamond, what do you do?

Certainly you are too strong for a rebid of one no trump. And you are not strong enough for a jump to two no trump. No other bid can now properly describe your holding.

The best way to avoid this difficulty is to open the hand with one no trump as Mr. Abel did. This solves all rebid problems. Partner knows you have a balanced hand of well above minimum strength. The course and extent of the bidding from here on are pretty much up to him.

ABEL CASHES ACE
In this particular deal Mrs. Keen had enough for a raise to two no trump and Mr. Abel was glad to carry on to game.

Mr. Dale was permitted to win the first two tricks with the king and queen of hearts. Mr. Abel won the third heart, discarding a small spade from dummy.

To make the contract he saw that he was going to have to get a favorable break in the club suit. One club trick would have to be lost in any case and the problem was to keep Mr. Dale out of the lead.

At trick four Mr. Abel cashed the ace of clubs. He was thinking whether he should next lead a small club, hoping Mr. Masters had started with the doubleton queen or whether he should lead the king and then a small club, which would be the right play if Mr. Masters had started with three cards in the suit.

COULD HAVE DONE BETTER
He didn't have to think long. Mr. Masters promptly dropped the queen under the ace. Now the club loser would have to be lost to Mr. Dale.

Mr. Abel could have done better. Beginning at trick four he should have entered dummy with the ace of spades and led a club. Now if Mr. Masters plays the queen, let him hold it. If he plays low, win with the ace, go to dummy again with the ace of diamonds and lead another club. This time Mr. Masters would have to play the queen. Let him hold it. And now the hand is safe for nine tricks—four clubs, two spades, two diamonds and a heart.

Doctors May Use Unclaimed Bodies

VICTORIA (CP)—Unclaimed and unidentified bodies may be used by doctors and medical students for anatomical studies under provisions of a bill introduced in the British Columbia legislature.

The bill provides that a corpse unclaimed within three months could be turned over to the University of British Columbia medical school or some other recognized school or to a qualified medical practitioner.

The bodies would include those found publicly exposed or which would have to be buried at public expense or of persons who were supported by a public institution immediately before death.

If the body is not claimed within 48 hours of death, it would be placed under the control of the deputy minister of health and remain under that control for three months or until it is claimed.

After three months, the deputy minister, "for the purpose solely of the advancement of anatomical science or instruction," turn it over to UBC or other schools, or to doctors.

The recipient of the body would be responsible for the "decent" interment of it in accordance with the dead person's recorded religious beliefs.

If the body was not required for study, it would be interred at public expense.

Diefenbaker Heads For Rome

LONDON (CP)—John Diefenbaker, spokesman on external affairs for Canada's Progressive Conservative Party, was scheduled to fly to Rome today to start his tour of European and Middle East countries.

Diefenbaker, who arrived from Canada Wednesday, earlier had planned to remain in London until Sunday. From Rome he will go to Israel next Wednesday and April 19 will deliver lectures at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem. He will go on to Turkey 10 days later.

The rest of his itinerary which will take in a number of countries in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization pact, is still indefinite.

North Star Pilot Noted For Caution

VANCOUVER (CP)—Captain Ian Bell, pilot of the TCA North Star that crashed in flames over Moose Jaw Thursday, was described by members of his family here as "the most careful man in the world."

"He was so careful you could almost say it was a mania with him," said his mother, Mrs. J. W. Moore. Bell's step-father added:

"When he was driving a car or anything at all, he was so careful it used to amuse us. There couldn't have been anyone in the world more conscientious."

The 37-year-old pilot, native of Calgary, is survived by his widow and a 10-year-old son, Jimmy.

Mrs. Roberta Guthrie, widow of the North Star's co-pilot, Douglas Guthrie, celebrated her first wedding anniversary two weeks ago. Last Thursday night, friends were helping her pack to return to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nelson, Lethbridge.

Mrs. Guthrie holds a private pilot's licence herself.

Extend Store Hours
MONTREAL (CP)—Local stores now required to close at 9 p.m. Fridays will be permitted to remain open to 10 p.m., city council decreed. Main reason given for the change was competition from shopping centres just outside the city limits.

BCHIS Refunds Now Underway

VICTORIA (CP)—The British Columbia Hospital Insurance Service has started refunding more than $5,000,000 to British Columbians for prepaid premiums.

Health Minister Eric Martin said about 50,000 cheques of an estimated 400,000 have been mailed so far and others are going out at a rate of around 15,000 a day.

Refunding prepaid premiums became necessary when the government scrapped premiums and substituted a two-per-cent increase in the three-per-cent sales tax to finance the service. The change became effective April 1.

More than 100 employees of the British Columbia Hospital Insurance Service have been laid off. The group is the first of more than 300 to be dropped as a result of the change in financing that does away with premiums.
