Willa Coola Youth Sentenced Jail on Assault Charges

Willa Coola youth was sentenced to three terms of two years in the B.C. Penitentiary for indecent assault, as charged by a police officer and estimated.

Two-year sentences, given to Raymond Schooner, W. O. Fulton, will run concurrently.

Charges arose after a youth was received October 1953. Mr. Morris in Coola that a 15-year-old had been assaulted. When he attempted to arrest the youth on his own home the youth attacked and the accused with a handcuff wrist.

Judge Fulton told the accused that after representations by both Mrs. Willa Ray for the prosecution and F. E. Anfield, Indian superintendent who appeared on behalf of Schooner, he would deal leniently with him.

On the indecent assault charge, the judge said that he believed that there was more to the case than met the eye. He said he felt sure that there was some excuse or provocation.

However, he warned the accused of the seriousness of respecting the law.

"Assaulting an officer, resisting arrest are serious crimes," the judge said. "The law applies to Indians as well as anyone else, and our very life depends

Prisoners Curse Red Explainers

By The Associated Press
PANMUNJOM. — Defiant anti-Communist Korean prisoners of war marched today and with shouts, kicks and screaming curses overwhelmingly told Communist explainers they will not go back to Red rule.

By late afternoon only 20 of 430 North Koreans had elected to go back to the Communists, an Indian spokesman said.

The Koreans came out peacefully to meet Red "persuaders" after two weeks of negotiations with Lt.-Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the neutral nations repatriation commission.

But once before the explainers, most of the POWs were anything but peaceful.

USE FOUR GUARDS

As many as four Indian guards were assigned to each prisoner, but frequently this wasn't enough.

One enraged prisoner broke free and hurled a folding chair into the faces of three smartly uniformed Red officers. All were slightly injured.

Others kicked over field tables used by the Communists with their muddy boots.

Most of all they scolded, shouted and spat at the Communist agents. They swished and struggled in the tight grasp of Indian soldiers.

Indian guards forced prisoners to listen to the explanations as long as the Reds wanted to talk—or until it became obvious that the issue was decided.

Some interviews lasted only a few seconds. Others continued for nearly two hours.

Swiss, Swedish, Polish and Czech observers were present at all interviews.

Police, Fire Chief Urge Care in Use of Fireworks

RCMP Sgt. Norman, Prince Rupert police chief, joined with Fire Chief Earl Becker today in urging that parents and children co-operate in making tonight a "safe and sane Hallowe'en."

Sgt. Norman said that the RCMP were more than anxious that both parents and children "go all out" in exercising every caution in handling and setting off fireworks.

"If the children handle fireworks with care, don't fool around and play tricks with them, it will go a long way towards ensuring that they go to school unharmed on Monday and live to see another 'Hallowe'en,' he said.

Fire Chief Becker urged that parents supervise the setting off of fireworks by the younger children.

"Fireworks, no matter how small, are a form of explosives," the fire chief said. "It takes only a slight degree of carelessness for a child to lose an eye or be badly burned and scarred for life."

"Sensible handling of fireworks, should be the watchword for tonight," he said.

The aerial fireworks display sponsored by the Prince Rupert Kinsmen club will be staged at 8 p.m. tonight and will be visible from all three sites of Kinsmen bonfires.

Bonfire parties at Conrad Street school playground, Gyro Park and Totem Park start at 7 p.m.

Air Cadet Meet Set For Vancouver

Twelfth annual general meeting and dinner of the B.C. committee of the Air Cadet League of Canada will be held in Vancouver Nov. 3, it is announced by V. R. Clerihue, chairman.

To be held in the RCAF Reserve building, the meeting will be attended by H. Darroch Macgillivray, national president; Arthur Macdonald, assistant general manager; and Wing Commander C. M. Black, senior aid cadet liaison officer. Members of the B.C. provincial committee, squadron sponsoring committee members, commanding officers and RCAF officials also will attend.

Purpose of the meeting is to give interested air cadet workers an opportunity to become acquainted with their fellow workers, review the record of the past year, exchange ideas and plan for future development.

At the dinner following the meeting, presentation of the RCAF association trophy will be made to No. 22 Powell River squadron. Guest speakers will include guests from other countries.

Electricians Plan Parley On Wage Issue

VANCOUVER — A full meeting of the more than 1,100 Lower Mainland and Vancouver Island electrical workers involved in a wage dispute with the B.C. Electric Co. has been called for Monday.

That was all that was revealed late Friday following a meeting between George Gee, business manager of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) and officials of the company.

Mr. Gee would not say why the meeting was called nor what would be discussed.

The action followed a statement by Mr. Gee earlier when he said "the situation definitely looks hopeful."

Union members have voted in a government-supervised ballot to strike to back up their demands for a 10 per cent pay increase and fringe benefits. Setting of a strike deadline has been left with the union's steering committee.

Threatened if a strike occurs is a complete tie-up of industry and electrical transit services in the mainland and island areas.

5 Youths Die In Jeep Crash

PLESSISVILLE, Que. (CP)—Five youths, members of a Canadian Army reserve unit, were killed early today when their jeep veered off the highway and crashed into a tree near this town, 45 miles southwest of Quebec City.

Provincial police said the five have been identified as Laurent Daudelin, Paul and Leo Lavoie, brothers, and two other youths identified only as Comtois and Langevin. All lived here.

Miner Killed In Explosion

NELSON — Hard-rock miner George Beaulieu, 43, was fatally injured Friday in a mine-face explosion near Ymir, 17 miles south of here.

Beaulieu, of Ymir, and partner Lloyd Johnston were drilling at the face of the Yankee Dundee Mine Ltd. when the explosion occurred. Johnston suffered facial injuries.

WEATHER Forecast
North coast region — Cloudy today with occasional rain along the mainland coast. Variable cloudiness Sunday. A little colder. Winds westerly 15. Low tonight and high Sunday at Port Hardy, Sandspit and Prince Rupert, 40 and 50.

Northern Differential Contentious Issue

Prince Rupert started to hold its breath today as 400 members of Local 708 of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers (AFL-TLC) at the Watson Island plant of the Columbia Cellulose Company, began to cast ballots in a government-supervised strike vote.

The vote to take place today and Monday is being conducted by J. K. Adams, conciliation officer from the Labor Relations Board of the provincial department of labor. With Mr. Adams are four scrutineers, two from Local 708 and two from the company.

Taking the vote at the same time are 4,100 members of the union in eight other pulp and paper mills on the Pacific coast, who voted in favor of rejecting the companies' final offer of a five-cents-an-hour wage increase.

A work stoppage would deal a severe blow to the economy of this city.

Should the strike last even as briefly as one week, the $60 in minimum wages lost by each employee would take 15 weeks to recover if the demand for an increase of 10 cents per hour were granted. This would be exclusive of whatever strike pay is received. It is generally thought, however, that should a strike develop it will be considerably longer than a week and purchasing power in the city would thus be impaired for possibly several years.

A northern differential to combat "the higher cost of living in Prince Rupert" appeared to be the most contentious issue in the dispute between Local 708 and Columbia Cellulose.

President Explains Position

Some 325 members of the 400-man local heard their president, Pat O'Neal, outline the progress of negotiations between the union's bargaining committee and CCC officials from the time they began in June.

Points made by Mr. O'Neal and the union executive were:

- That the union's original request was for a 10-cent across-the-board wage increase plus a northern differential and fringe benefits.
- That at no time did the union ask any set amount for the northern differential.
- That the company had never during negotiations said it was unable to pay the increase nor had it made any plea of any inability to pay.
- That union negotiators asked for a conciliation board after they had explored all possibilities and when some of the smaller unions ran out of money and had to be carried by the larger ones.
- A recommendation for an eight-cents-an-hour northern differential was made in the minority report of the union nominee, Thomas Dunlop.
- Mr. O'Neal said: "We believe that due to the high cost of living in this area members of Local 708 are entitled to some consideration." The provincial government, he said, had recognized this fact by giving their employees here more money.
- He told the meeting that the union's international vice-president, John Sherman, had been informed by the management of the Rainier Pulp and Paper Co. in Port Angeles that they were being forced out of business by the Columbia Cellulose Co. Basic rate at the Port Angeles mill, which was closed most of the summer, was $1.75 an hour.

Vote As Conscience Dictates

At the conclusion of the meeting, union leaders advised members to vote as their consciences dictated.

Mr. O'Neal said that "any time Mr. Jones wants to sit down and do some serious talking on settling the dispute we are ready and willing to do so."

Answering questions in the later meeting attended by members of the union and public, W. C. R. Jones, manager of the Watson Island mill, made these points clear:

- That the five-cents-an-hour increase offered by the companies was no stop-gap offer. There would be no last-minute new offer to prevent closure of the mill.
- That the company did not intend to pay a northern differential because it and the seven other companies involved had signed a standard labor agreement for the Pacific coast under which uniformity of rates had to be maintained.
- That the wage scale was already the highest in the industry in Canada.
- That, even without a differential, there was no difficulty in attracting men here from other parts of the province.
- That the five-cent increase would not result in the immediate reduction or elimination of the travelling bonus of five cents an hour which the men get by a separate contract signed by management and union.
- Mr. Jones denied using the transportation allowance as "an axe over the union's head." He said it was maintained in the interests of good relations with the men even though, by the terms of the separate contract, it could have been eliminated before this time.
- He told the meeting that in 1950 when the Watson Island plant was opened wood was easily procurable for $25 per 1,000 board feet. Now it cost $43 per 1,000.

Not Yet in World Market

He refuted charges that Columbia Cellulose had driven the Rainier company out of the world market because it paid lower wages.

"We could not have driven anyone out of the world market because so far we have never been in it," he said.

He added that the Rainier company had endeavored to undercut the Columbia Cellulose product by selling at $210 per ton of pulp. The Columbia Cellulose price is $225 per ton. However, one of the Rainier mills had been forced to shut down for a considerable period of this year.

Mr. Jones said he would hold up his staff of men against any in Canada.

"We are very happy with the men we have here," he said.

Little Damage

Prince Rupert firemen were called out at 8:55 last night to quell a minor fire in the Savoy Hotel.

The blaze was confined to a chesterfield chair in the manager's apartment of the hotel. The chair was ruined but no other damage was done. Cause of the fire is unknown.

A Night for Superstitions

WHILE we usually think of Hallowe'en as an occasion for small fry, it seems that a long time ago certain superstitions developed which made it also of special interest to girls thinking about that moment when they say "I do."

One of these is that if a girl looks into her mirror on the stroke of midnight, she will see the man she is going to marry looking over her shoulder. If that one seems too simple, she can try this one. She must walk into her room backwards at midnight and, while removing her shoes, chant the following:

"I place my shoes in the form of a T
To dream of him who is to be—
The color of his eyes,
The color of his hair,
His occupation
And the clothes he will wear."

Then she gets into bed backward and will see her future husband in her dreams, it says here. If that still seems too easy, here is another which has certain sure-fire angles to it. The girl in question must go out and steal a cabbage on the midnight of Hallowe'en. If a man comes along to help her, he's the one, for better or worse. Otherwise she puts the cabbage over the door and she'll wed the first man upon whose head it falls. The book doesn't say it, but there seems to be a slight suggestion that she might be able to influence the fall of that head of cabbage on the cabbagehead of her choice. In which case, of course, he's had it.

So much for matrimony. Elsewhere there will be the bonfires and fireworks display arranged by the Kinsmen to keep the fun stepping right along without allowing it to get out of control. This brings to mind another superstition. When you distribute those shell-out tickets and other favors to the fearsome-looking small types on your doorstep, give with a literal hand. The belief is that generosity on Hallowe'en invites a mild winter.

In mentioning shell-out tickets, we would like to end on a note of congratulations for all those youngsters who did so much to sell them. They have made it possible for the Kinsmen Club to stage what is certain to be a safe and enjoyable Hallowe'en.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

The government has been devoting a good deal of effort in recent weeks in an attempt to discover just where it stands in the important matter of the St. Lawrence seaway. Cabinet ministers and legal experts have been dispatched to the United States in an endeavor to find out just how much longer the project can be impeded there by legal entanglements.

The answers that have been gleaned from both state and federal sources haven't been too clear or positive. But they appear to add up to the proposition that the government here is going to have to exercise patience in the matter for another year. By that time the powerful opponents of the scheme on the American side of the border will have exhausted all the resources of legal delay available to them.

That could mean a start upon the actual construction of the seaway in the fall of 1954. But the government has learned from practical experience that matters in connection with the St. Lawrence project rarely run on schedule. Consequently, government plans really are being geared to expectations of a start on construction in the spring of 1955.

Actually, there is a feeling in cabinet circles that by spring of 1955 the engineering boom which has been a feature of the Canadian economy since the end of World War II may be tapering off. At the very least construction of oil pipeline projects and of huge hydro developments will have been completed by then. Hence the St. Lawrence project might be especially useful at that time to maintain employment in the engineering industry and to prevent it from becoming a "soft" spot in the economy.

Meantime, no little concern is being caused in cabinet circles here by particularly well-sponsored Washington reports of President Eisenhower's intention of naming Senator Owen Brewster of Maine to the chairmanship of the American section of the International Joint Commission.

The Maine senator is regarded here as one of the most uncompromising opponents of the St. Lawrence scheme in the whole of the United States. Authorities here fear that in the influential post of chairman of the American section of the IJC he would be able to embarrass the project on a major scale. At the very least he would be replacing an existing chairman—Senator O. A. Stanley—who has been a staunch supporter of the seaway in all seasons.

Bows and Arrows Out

THE United States is belatedly facing the fact that it no longer has a monopoly in atomic weapons. Russia has developed the hydrogen bomb years before the "experts" figured she would.

The same experts still figure that the U.S. is ahead of Russia in mass production of these devices—that is that U.S. can be sure of having a hundred hydrogen bombs when Russia has only 10; and a thousand bombs when Russia has a hundred.

But the only catch in that thought of "superiority" is that when an atomic war started the Americans could theoretically wipe out a thousand targets in Russia while the Russians could theoretically wipe out only a hundred target areas in North America, including New York.

THE LEADERS of the western world have never yet dared to tell their own people the whole awful truth about these aptly called "hell bombs." For if the people were wakened up to the reality of the destructive power of these devices—and the pitiful inadequacy of what is called "civil defense"—they might react in quite unexpected ways.

They might flee from the wrath to come, before, not after, war starts.

For instance, Major General Worthington wrote an article in "Union Farmer" in March 1952 pointing out that in event of atomic war vast numbers of ordinary town dwellers would have to be moved out into the country. But, worthy warned, the recent mechanization of the farms might prove to be a handicap—for a farm depending on horse power can survive as an independent unit under the conditions of hardship war would bring. The farm which operates on gasoline is as dependent on gasoline as is dependent on the city factory on city industry.

BUT IF the ordinary civilian has only a faint glimmer of what is in store for him, his family, and his city in event of world war three, the Big Brass Hats know very well. But they can't quite admit, even to themselves, that bow-and-arrow armies are out.

Right now the Americans are re-locating their forces in keeping with the new facts of life—or as some might say, the facts of death. One American cabinet minister has been candid enough to tell the public that some of the American divisions in NATO will be pulled out of Europe. But when Europe reacts to that, he reneges. A British air marshal has sharply criticized the reported U.S. intention to concentrate on continental defense of North America, and urged that striking power, located near Russia, is the only deterrent to potential Russian aggression.

IF HYDROGEN bomb war comes it will be only partly a long-range shooting affair. Guided missiles, carrying atomic warheads, will be used in great numbers. The Maine senator is regarded here as one of the most uncompromising opponents of the St. Lawrence scheme in the whole of the United States. Authorities here fear that in the influential post of chairman of the American section of the IJC he would be able to embarrass the project on a major scale. At the very least he would be replacing an existing chairman—Senator O. A. Stanley—who has been a staunch supporter of the seaway in all seasons.

PECK'S BAD BOY AT IT AGAIN—By Charles A. Grassick in Toronto Telegram.

All Aboard By G.E. Mortimore

The next war may be a game of atomic poker.

Nations may vary their nuclear attack on enemy cities by deliberately dropping a dud bomb here and there. Chemist Jack De Ment says in The Military Engineer, quoted by Time magazine recently.

An airplane "drops" a thing that looks like an atomic bomb. If it goes off, "the civil defense people know it is an atomic bomb." One of their problems is "solved, anyway. They don't have to stand around worrying."

But perhaps it doesn't go off. What is the next move?

Civil defense may herd all the citizen out of town in a panic mass, tripping over one another's feet, leaving the factories and offices empty and production at a standstill.

Another time, civil defense may decide not to move the people out. "They can't fool us with that old dummy bomb stunt," the civil defenders will sneer.

Then—BAROOMP! Too bad. It was a real atomic bomb this time, with a delayed action fuse. Apologies are difficult to make when you are floating through the air as a cloud of radioactive dust.

De Ment suggests that the enemy could drop a few delayed-action bombs into harbors and rivers and make them go off "just to make sure that dummy bombs dropped later would be treated with proper respect."

Is the bomb real or phoney? Is the enemy holding four aces, or a handful of junk? You don't have long to make your bet, and the stakes are high.

If nations are going to play a game of bluff with one another by destroying this city, forcing the evacuation of that city by fraud, the order of target priorities is going to change.

It stands to reason that if any cities are captured whole by this method, they will be the large industrial centres, which the enemy wants to preserve. The cities that are destroyed as examples will be the less important ones, from an

Gunderson Accepts Nomination

VICTORIA (CP)—Finance Minister Einar Gunderson Thursday formally accepted nomination as Social Credit candidate in the Nov. 24 by-election here and immediately settled down to plotting his campaign.

Back in office in the legislative buildings after a short vacation, the minister said the main issue in the by-election is whether Victoria wants a representative on the provincial cabinet.

There were no political issues involved this time because the government would be in power for the next four years.

Mr. Gunderson said he was pleased that Percy Wright, who resigned his seat so the minister could run, was his campaign manager.

The minister said as capital of the province, Victoria should be represented on the cabinet. As Victoria representative, he would do his best to justify the confidence of his constituents.

Meanwhile, the Labor Progressive Party beat the CCF and Liberals in nominating a candidate for the election. Mrs. Doris Blakey, unsuccessful candidate in the last election, will contest the seat against Mr. Gunderson, Progressive Conservative leader, Deane Finlayson and unnamed candidates from the CCF and Liberals.

Saturday Sermon

EVERYDAY CHRISTIANITY By Senior Captain C. Frayn, The Salvation Army "In all thy ways acknowledge Him and He shall direct thy paths."—Proverbs 3:6. We are not called to half-hearted or part-time Christianity but to everyday Godliness. To be religious in chapel is comparatively easy but to practice Religion every day life is not so easy.

Many people today are trying to serve two masters and as a result they have just enough religion to make them miserable. What good is an idealistic religion that has no practical value. Too many folks are so heavenly minded that they're no earthly good. We are admonished to acknowledge God in all our ways. We do not honour God by acting like a Saint on Sunday and a heathen all the rest of the week.

Some people regard religion as a sort of cloak to be worn on Sunday and laid away with care the rest of the week—or as a medicine which must be taken periodically to guard against the disease of sin. Whereas everyday life is the appointed field for true religion. Paul exhorts us in the twelfth chapter of his letter to the Romans that "we be not slothful in business" and "given to hospitality."

God is not a tyrant but a reasonable God—He has not ordered that our lives be a perpetual Sabbath—He could have clothed and fed us as He does the fowls but instead He has appointed that we must work to live. By means of work we keep our balance and are able to prove the practical value of our religion and not be carried away by our emotions.

Everyday Christianity includes both knowledge and performance. If the truths of Christianity were difficult to understand—so intricate that you must have a high education to grasp them—then it might reasonably be said, "I am no theologian—I have no time for this sort of thing." But the Gospel is so simple that any can grasp it, if he will. Simply, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."—"Wash and be clean"—"Look and Live."

Christianity is not merely head knowledge—but heart knowledge for "Man looketh on the outward appearance but God looketh on the heart." 1 Samuel 16:7.

First Native To Enter Anglican Ministry, To Be Ordained Here Sunday

The Very Rev. Northcote Burke, dean and rector of Christ Church Cathedral in Vancouver, will be guest preacher at the service. He arrived here by plane today.

Paul Mercer, a native of Aiyansh on the Naas River, will be ordained deacon, to serve Miller Bay Sanitorium, Port Edward and the canneries on the Skeena.

Rev. Graham Tucker, MA, BD, of Montreal, will be ordained into the priesthood, to serve the Kitimat and Kemano area.

A beautifully-carved altar rail will be dedicated to the memory of Archdeacon Collison, archdeacon of Metlakahla and the first missionary to the Haidas on the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Mr. Mercer has been a church leader and lay reader among his own people for nearly 30 years.

Born in Aiyansh, he received his initial Christian training from the Rev. J. B. McCullagh, pioneer missionary of the Naas River area, and the respective bishops of Caledonia. A few years ago he was lay delegate to the general synod of the Church of England in Canada at Winnipeg, where he met the Archbishop of Canterbury who was a special guest at the synod.

Rev. Tucker will be the first resident incumbent of any church in Kitimat. He has been working there since June of this year and already has plans under way for construction of a church in Kitimat.

Archdeacon Collison was the first clergyman in the diocese of Caledonia. He first came to Metlakahla in 1873, moved to Masset in 1876 and returned to Metlakahla in 1882. He later served at Kincolth.

He wrote a history of the natives of the Charlottes. "In the Wake of the War Canoe," still considered an authority on the Haidas.

Archdeacon Collison travelled between Masset and Kincolth in Haida war canoes at least 17 times.

Dr. J. A. Macdonald of Prince Rupert is a grandson of the archdeacon, whose youngest son, J. Maxwell Collison, a retired oil agent, resides at Smithers. Another son, still active in church work, is Archdeacon Henry Collison of Comox. The late W. E. Collison, one time Indian agent

The group will be headed by Earl Mah and Mrs. Wong along with Rolly Miles, secretary.

Mr. Sze will be taken on a sight-seeing tour of Prince Rupert and district before he returns to give Alaska Music Trail members a concert of the same calibre which won him unparalleled plaudits in Australia.

Following the concert there will be a reception to which everyone is invited in the Civic Centre Teen-Room. Four local Chinese girls in national costume will serve at the reception.

Hospitals 'Saved' by Health Plan

VANCOUVER (CP)—B.C.'s controversial health plan has been credited with averting bankruptcy in many provincial hospitals by the retiring president of the B.C. Hospitals' Association.

Speaking before the association's annual convention here Thursday, A. H. J. Swensky said, "from a hospital standpoint, there is no doubt whatever that, but for the BCHS, the hospitals of this province would have been for the most part bankrupt."

He said he believed the plan would eventually evolve into a model for other schemes in Canada and U.S.

Municipalities To Seek 6-Day Shopping Week

VANCOUVER (CP)—B.C. Municipalities today decided to ask the provincial government to amend the Shops Regulation and Weekly Half Holiday Act to permit a six-day shopping week.

The move would give any municipality the power to hold a plebiscite asking citizens if they favored the longer shopping week.

The request contained a rider asking that if the six-day week is allowed a 40-hour week be guaranteed to employees.

The act now permits only a 5 1/2-day shopping week.

MAN IN NEED

The Editor,
The Daily News—
J. T. Parker, 59-year-old pioneer of this district, lost his Rainbow Lake cabin and all his belongings in a fire Tuesday night.

He was out visiting friends when the fire struck, and when he returned he found the cabin completely razed. Losses included food, clothing and other personal effects, as well as a power chain saw with which he earned his living, cutting poles and fire-wood.

Mr. Parker has no near relatives to assist him, and no funds with which to replace the lost clothing and equipment.

If anyone would be kind enough to help him, would they please leave any contributions of work clothes or money at Hyde Transfer, where Mr. Parker is now staying?

Thank you.
—Mr. and Mrs. Neils Carlson.

Do you get in a dither when unexpected guests drop in just at mealtime?
No need to, with canned salmon in your cupboard.

For the dish that's quick-as-a-flash to prepare, that's delicious, economical and nutritious, serve this bubbling hot casserole. It's truly a salmon delight—a delight to prepare and it will delight your guests as well.

It's a good idea to keep several cans on hand all the time for yourself and for those moments of fast planning when your ability to improvise is challenged.

Timely RECIPES

SALMON-MUSHROOM CASSEROLE

1 tbs. butter
4 cups (2 lbs.) canned salmon
1/2 tsp. salt
Dash pepper
2 medium onions, sliced in rings
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup.

Melt butter in baking dish. Flake salmon, spread half of it in baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and scatter half of onion rings over top; add remaining salmon and onion rings. Dilute mushroom soup with half a can of water and pour over all. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) 20 minutes. Serves 8.

Italy, Russia Sign Trade Pact

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government today announced a new one-year trade agreement with Italy under which the Soviet Union will export grain, oil products, metals and other goods. Italy will send Russia oranges, lemons, fabrics, machinery and a number of small ships.

Nurses Want $15 Increase

VICTORIA (CP)—About 199 nurses at Royal Jubilee Hospital here are seeking a $15-a-month increase in wages. Present starting salary is $210 a month.

Most other employees of the hospital have accepted present salaries, a hospital authority said Wednesday.

Similar demands are expected at St. Joseph's Hospital.

A few years ago he was lay delegate to the general synod of the Church of England in Canada at Winnipeg, where he met the Archbishop of Canterbury who was a special guest at the synod.

Rev. Tucker will be the first resident incumbent of any church in Kitimat. He has been working there since June of this year and already has plans under way for construction of a church in Kitimat.

Archdeacon Collison was the first clergyman in the diocese of Caledonia. He first came to Metlakahla in 1873, moved to Masset in 1876 and returned to Metlakahla in 1882. He later served at Kincolth.

He wrote a history of the natives of the Charlottes. "In the Wake of the War Canoe," still considered an authority on the Haidas.

Archdeacon Collison travelled between Masset and Kincolth in Haida war canoes at least 17 times.

THIS IS THE PLAY in which halfback Billy Vessels of the Edmonton Eskimos was injured in a Western Interprovincial Football Union game against Winnipeg Blue Bombers at Edmonton. Vessels, a leading scorer in the WIFU since being imported from Oklahoma, is being brought down on the Winnipeg 25-yard line by guard Dean Bandiera and end Bud Grant (78). At extreme left is Buck Rogers (56) who is coming in on the play in which Vessels suffered a fractured muscle attachment on the spine. Winnipeg won the game 17-8.

Mixed Spiel Semi-Finals Start Tonight

The season-opening mixed bonspiel at the Prince Rupert Curling Club last night moved into the quarter-finals in the primary event with three games played.

Highlighting play was the third consecutive victory of Bob Rudderham's rink, in another upset game. Rudderham's victim last night was Bill Anderson, going down to defeat with a final score of 10 to 8.

Another fight-to-the-finish game was on sheet two, where Barney Eyoifson vanquished Rusty Ford, 7 to 6, with Eyoifson's final rock breaking a 6-6 deadlock.

The third game of this draw saw Wakley and Ostertag stage a see-saw battle in which the Wakley foursome finally dominated with a 10-7 count.

Last night's three winners now advance to the semi-finals, opening tonight at 7 p.m. with Rudderham meeting Eyoifson. Wakley drew a bye into the finals which will wind up at 9 p.m. Monday.

In the secondary event, comprising one-time losers forced out of the primaries, five games were played last night with results as follows:

Stewart, 12, Meighen 9.
Warren 4, Berg 10.
Newton 8, Matthews 4.
Johnson 8, Moore 7.
Aston 5, Manson 11.

Ford will meet Ostertag and Shier will meet Taylor at 7 p.m. tonight. The winner of the Ford-Ostertag game will play Anderson and Manson will meet the winner of the Shier-Taylor game at 11 tonight. Stewart will play Berg and Johnson will meet Newton at 9 p.m.

The three finals will be played Monday night.

The draw committee for general curling, to open following the bonspiel, announces that registration for the Saturday night mixed round-robin play has overflowed, and that only the first 48 paid-up women will be accepted. To assure entry, they should pay fees to Fred Aston.

First draw in the round-robin will be played next Saturday, and rinks participating will be advised.

Goalies Shine in WHL Games

It was goalie's night in the Western Hockey League Friday. Vancouver Canucks' Lorne Worsley whitewashed Seattle Bombers, whose Marcel Pelletier, did not flinch when called on to stop a penalty shot.

In two games, only three goals were scored. The Canucks edged the Bombers 1-0 in Vancouver and Victoria Cougars and Saskatoon Quakers split the honors 1-1 in Victoria.

Worsley turned in some brilliant work to get the shutout, his first since stepping down from New York Rangers.

Tonight, Saskatoon is at New Westminster and Calgary at Edmonton.

REMEMBER WHEN

By The Canadian Press

Harvey Pulford of Ottawa, who won fame in many Canadian sports, died 13 years ago today. He was a defenceman with the famed Ottawa Silver Seven, Stanley Cup winners of half a century ago, and also shone in football, lacrosse, amateur boxing and aquatic sports.

Injury-Ridden Canadiens Not Worried

By The Canadian Press

Montreal Canadiens have the National Hockey League's longest injury list, but few tears are being shed on their behalf.

The Stanley Cup champions travel to Chicago for a date with the last-place Black Hawks tonight without centres Dickie Moore and Jean Beliveau and defenceman Doug Harvey. But they own a four-game winning streak, the longest of the season, and a four-point bulge over their nearest competitor.

The history of the Habitués is studded with occasions when substitutes proved the undoing of the opposition. The most recent example was Thursday night's performance by Tom Johnson, who switched from his defence spot to centre and scored the two goals that beat Toronto Maple Leafs 3-1.

Even with the loss of all-star defenceman Harvey, who suffered a knee injury in the late stages of the Toronto game, coach Dick Irvin considered himself so well stocked with blue-liners that he called up a centre, Gerry Desaulniers of Montreal Royals, as a replacement.

Canadiens meet Wings in Detroit Sunday.

The Wings, the last team to take Montreal's measure, clobbered the Canadiens 4-0 on their last visit but have dropped 4-1 and 1-0 decisions to hitme on the road.

Toronto Maple Leafs, tied with the Bruins for third place, engage New York Rangers in a home-and-home set, starting in Toronto tonight.

Filchok Sure West Will Win Cup But Holds Little Hope For Riders

By WILF CHISLETT

Canadian Press Staff Writer

REGINA (CP)—Fearless Frank Filchok says "the team that wins in the West this year will win the Grey Cup," but not even the most hopeful of fans concedes him a chance of carrying the Prairie banner East.

The old warrior with the wobbly legs and stiff right arm led his Saskatchewan Roughriders into the second game of the Western Interprovincial Football Union semi-final here today against Winnipeg Blue Bombers under what appeared to be insurmountable odds—a 38-point deficit in the two-game total-point series.

Only a miracle could recoup the stunning 43-5 loss Riders suffered in Winnipeg Wednesday night in the first game of the series and send Saskatchewan into the final against Edmonton Eskimos. But fans in this football crazy capital were right behind their team as they have been all season.

There wasn't scratching room in the 13,000-seat stadium at Taylor Field for the game and it seemed the players would have to move over for the standing-room customers. The crowd was expected to number close to the record 15,565 fans here Thanksgiving Day, despite a forecast of near-freezing weather and possible snow.

White flakes which swept over the field Friday were expected to make the surface slippery by game time at 2 p.m.

Filchok made his prediction Friday night after Riders watched a film of the first semi-final game. He didn't say Saskatchewan could not pull the football upset of the year against Bombers although he admitted it was "going to be tough to get all those points back."

He said the film showed Riders weren't as bad in the first game as the score indicated. Filchok said his team was in "pretty bad shape," but "we're going out there and really play ball."

Winnipeg has most players in good shape. The only switch from Wednesday is expected to be a substitution of a tackle Roger Savoie for Rose McCallum.

Filchok said, win or lose, he was "very proud" of his boys this year.

"We didn't have the material and I think some of them knew it. But they still did a wonderful job."

You can't go ALL-OUT if you feel ALL-IN

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.

Reds Reject 'Flexible' Agenda

PANMUNJOM (AP)—American Ambassador Arthur H. Dean today proposed a "flexible" agenda to speed up talks for arranging a Korean peace conference, but the Communists immediately rejected it as "sleight-of-hand."

The diplomats debated an hour and three minutes, got nowhere for the sixth straight day, and called it quits until Monday. Dean told reporters he was not depressed over the lack of headway in his week of talks with the Communists to set up the Korean peace parley.

He still felt the Reds wanted the conference and "it is not surprising that it has taken us some time to get shaken down on a working basis."

Dean proposed a "flexible or un-numbered agenda" under which the negotiators could skip around among various problems that must be settled before the political conference can convene.

PIT OFF TOUGH ISSUES
The American envoy's plan would allow the diplomats to sidestep tough issues, settle easy matters and then come back to those still unresolved.

Dean, speaking for the United States, South Korea and the 15 other United Nations members which put troops in Korea, urged the Reds all week to talk first on the matter of fixing a time and place for the conference.

But the Communists have countered with demands that the delegates first decide who should attend the conference.

WALTER BURLEY, 42, of Toronto, is one of four Canadians who won $137,500 apiece when Jupiter won the 11th running of the Cambridge Handicap Stakes at Newmarket, Eng. They were among 66 Canadians who held Irish hospital sweepstakes tickets on starters in the 1 1/2-mile race. Mr. Burley is with his wife and daughter Carol Ann. They plan a Florida vacation with part of the money.

Noted Surgeon May Help Analyze Red Techniques

WASHINGTON (CP)—The United States defence department may call in Dr. Charles W. Mayo, noted surgeon and United Nations delegate, to help analyze Communist techniques for wringing "confessions" from captured American fighting men.

This far-flung examination is directed at all aspects of one of the most involved and delicate problems to confront the department. It is an exploration of the cases

Evacuation Of Guerillas Set Next Week

BANKOK (AP)—Agreement has been reached to start the air evacuation of Chinese Nationalist committee that the first group to Formosa next week.

Col. Raymond D. Palmer, U.S. representative on the three-country joint evacuation committee, said the Chinese Nationalists had informed the committee that the first group of soldiers will be taken to the Burma-Thailand border for the airlift about Nov. 5.

This is 10 days before the expiration of a Burmese ceasefire to permit an orderly withdrawal of the unwanted Nationalists.

At least 2,000 Nationalist guerrillas and dependents were expected to be evacuated.

Burma agreed 10 days ago to hold its troop operations against the 12,000 Nationalists dug in on her northern frontier until Nov. 15, an informed source reported.

Diesel Auto Ready Soon

LONDON (Reuters)—The Standard Motor Company of England today announced it will have a diesel-engine automobile ready for world marketing "soon after Christmas."

The company claims the model will have average fuel consumption of 40 miles a gallon and a top speed of 60 miles an hour. It will sell for about $2,100.

SKI CLUB NOTICE

The Prince Rupert Ski Club held their first executive meeting of the season on October 22, 1953. The condition of the club lodge and cabins was discussed to try to find a way to stop vandalism during the summer months.

It was decided that a general meeting of all club members and prospective members would be held at the Civic Centre on November 3, 1953, for the election of officers. Everyone who is interested is invited to attend.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

The Hallmark of Circulation Value

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is the A.B.C. emblem a symbol of integrity for the circulation of newspapers and periodicals. It means that circulation so identified is measured according to the rules and standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

The A.B.C. is a cooperative and non-profit association of 3,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, these buyers and sellers of advertising brought order out of advertising chaos by setting up standards for paid circulation and establishing rules and methods for measuring, auditing and reporting circulations.

Therefore, the work of the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is proud to be a member, provides you with a direct and valuable service. You can buy advertising as you would make any other sound business investment—on the basis of well known standards, known values.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: How much circulation we have; where our circulation goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that you need in order to know just what you get for your advertising dollars. This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report,
