Beloved Citizen And Noted Artist, Miss Jeanne Faure Dies in Hospital

Prince Rupert lost one of its beloved citizens this morning with the death of Miss Jeanne Faure after a brief illness. Miss Faure, who was 83, died in a hospital where she had been since April 18.

Born in Doesburg, Holland, Miss Faure came to Canada at the age of 60 to live on a farm at Telkwa where she joined her nephew, Eric Faure, whom she had brought up. Miss Faure was raised in the tradition of a pio-

PORT GEORGE MLA LOSES BID FOR RENOMINATION

Natives May Contest the Ridings in B.C.

Special to The Daily News

HAZELTON — At least five seats in the June 9 provincial election are expected to be contested by Indians; it was learned here today.

Some delegates to the 23rd annual convention of the Native Brotherhood of B.C. here claim the "Indian vote" will make political history in at least five ridings "and possibly two more."

Constituencies mentioned, not necessarily as those in which natives will run but where native votes will determine election results, are Prince Rupert, MacKenzie, Atlin, Omineca, Stewart Lake and the Cariboo.

Delegates here say the Brotherhood is non-political but is determined the natives (without naming party affiliations) will have a stronger voice in the next government by running more candidates and in their vote.

"No matter what parties they represent they will be united in the House on matters concerning Indians," one executive member said.

Speakers from the departments of fisheries, forestry, furs and income-tax will be bombarded with controversial questions put to them by these 450 representatives of almost 5,000 natives.

Paramount questions, which must be answered satisfactorily, they say, will be:

Hundreds of Indian trappers have been spoiled by recent large industrial projects, robbing those natives of their only and hereditary means of livelihood. No compensation has been made. What will be done about this?

Why are natives required to obtain a permit to shoot game for food? Often the warden is hundreds of miles from the needy family and yet Indians, who feed their families in this manner, are being continually prosecuted and fined or jailed.

Why are natives restricted to one day a week when they require gaffed or speared fish for food? Our forefathers could gaff and spear when and where they liked. Why can't we?

Lyle Wicks Reaches City Meeting

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks arrived here by air shortly after noon today and will speak at a meeting in the Convention Hall at 8 o'clock tomorrow.

Wicks met at the airport by Social Credit party members for Prince Rupert riding in the June 9 election, and will be the first member of the cabinet to come here. He will be here for Hazelton to the Native Brotherhood on there tomorrow.

Wicks will speak in the afternoon and Terrace returns to Hazelton to meet with the Native Brotherhood on there tomorrow.

Wicks hopes to meet with union officials while in Hazelton. He is advised Mr. Murray will arrive that he would discuss their problems.

Indians Want Full Privileges Without Paying Income Taxes

Douks Blamed For Fire Citizens Demand Prompt Action

By The Canadian Press

APPLEDALE, B.C. — Fanatic Sons of Freedom Doukhobors were blamed for another fire in the West Kootenays Sunday as angry residents again demanded immediate government action on the problem.

"We've stood the situation for 45 years. We want action now and we're going to have it," Slocan Valley residents told the Doukhobor consultative committee at a meeting here.

Non-Doukhobor residents of the valley reiterated a demand for a curfew law for the Doukhobors and increased police protection. They also called for reimbursement for property-owners who have had to guard or employ guards to protect homes and businesses.

At Krestova, meanwhile, an unoccupied store was destroyed by fire, with damage estimated at $2,900.

An earlier request for a curfew law for the Doukhobors was turned down by Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

Instead, the attorney-general said the government would give rewards of up to $3,500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of arsonists and bombers.

A meeting is scheduled at Nelson today at which representatives from the Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce of Southeastern British Columbia will discuss the situation.

Woman Killed, Five Injured By Blast Near CPR Station

CALGARY—One woman was killed and five other persons, including her husband, were seriously injured Sunday in an explosion which blew up a CPR express car about 20 feet north of the CPR station's main gate here.

Mrs. Julia Blake, 62, of Calgary, was killed by concussion as the blast hurled her 15 feet. Her husband Charles Blake, 54, also was thrown by the blast, and is in critical condition in hospital with head injuries.

Three railway expressmen, Stanley Eby, 20, Calgary; Ernest Edwards, Calgary, and James McKenna, Montgomery, sustained severe burns and Miss Dorothea Corbett, 19, of Calgary was cut by flying glass.

It is suspected a propane gas tank leaked and was touched off by flame of kerosene lamp being used by three expressmen.

11 Bodies Recovered In Mine

AGANGUEO, Mexico — Rescue teams recovered 11 bodies from the smoking mouth of the burned-out American Smelting Company silver mine near here early today. They dug for 14 others listed as dead in a fierce fire and explosion Saturday.

Six other miners are unaccounted for.

Company officials estimated it would take several days to dig out all the victims of the disaster, worst in any Mexican mine in recent years. There is no possibility any of the 14 known to be below ground could be alive, rescue chief Antonio Madrazo said.

The 68-year-old mine, in the mountains near this tiny village 80 miles west of Mexico city, was turned into a blazing furnace 500 feet below the surface when a series of electrical shorts set fire to electric cables and shafts and then touched off dust and gas explosions.

About 300 men were in the mine at the time.

Some 200 in the upper levels escaped. Another 70, choking with smoke, were led to safety during rescue operations in the darkness of Saturday night.

Those who died were smothered by smoke, not burned, officials said.

Freighter Safe After Crash

SUPERIOR, Wis. — The freighter J. J. H. Brown was towed to safety Sunday after riding out a storm since Friday night with a gaping hole in her bow.

The Brown rammed the Superior breakwater as she left the harbor bound for Oswego, N.Y., with a load of 207,000 bushels of corn and 70,000 bushels of wheat.

Capt. A. H. Dennis said failure of the ship's steering mechanism caused the accident.

70-Year-Old Anglican Bishop Saw 96 Die in Forced March

LONDON (AP)—An Anglican bishop, just returned after being imprisoned in North Korea since the early days of the war, said today he participated in a forced march organized by North Koreans in which 96 persons — mostly American soldiers — died.

About 250 more persons died of exhaustion after the march of more than 100 miles ended, the Rt. Rev. Alfred Cecil Cooper added.

He arrived in England Wednesday with a group of prisoners released through the intervention of the Kremlin.

He told a press conference that on All Hallows Eve—October 31, 1950—a party of about 700 American soldiers and 68 civilians, including himself, started a nine-day march between 100 and 150 miles from Manpo, on the Yalu River, to Chung Kang, North Korea.

"The longest distance we marched in a day of this terrible journey was 15 miles," the 70-year-old churchman continued. "A North Korean major of police whom we called 'the tiger'—we did not find out his real name—was in command. The column was guarded by armed men on either side.

"In the party were French priests, two over 80 and several over 70, and old women and some children."

Most of those who died on the march were American soldiers, he said. The old people and children were given lifts in trucks. But the deaths continued even after the group arrived at its destination. He said about 250 died then from exhaustion, including two Belgian nuns, a French nun and an Anglican sister.

"It was terrible. That man—'The Tiger'—will live in my memory always."

Exemption Granted By King in 1763

By LARRY STANWOOD
 Daily News Staff Writer

HAZELTON.—An Indian's exemption from paying income tax is one of his "aboriginal rights," the opening session of the 23rd annual convention of the Native Brotherhood of B.C. was told here today.

Dr. P. R. Kelly, legislative committee chairman, of Cumberland, told delegates exemption from income tax is not a privilege but is a matter of right which remains until such time as this right is taken away by treaty or legislation.

"We want to take this issue into the highest court of the country for final decision," he said.

Dr. Kelly appealed to the membership of the Native Brotherhood to get behind a fund raising campaign to pay for court costs.

Out of 28,000 Indians in B.C., only 1,000 were contributing to the cause, he said.

Dr. Kelly said the right of exemption came under aboriginal rights granted in a proclamation by King George III in 1763 which was incorporated in the BNA Act, Article 13.

"We have been asked many times and it is a fair question how we can claim full privileges of citizenship and at the same time shirk our duties and responsibilities as citizens."

"Claiming exemption from taxation was not seeking greater privileges but a right guaranteed to us."

First executive member to speak was Harold Sinclair, vice-president of the northern interior of Kitwanga, who named besides the income tax question other requests of natives along the Skeena; the right to hunt game and take fish for food purposes without interference of the law; protection of trappelines from inroads of the forest industry, and freedom from discrimination.

Greatest ovation by delegates to guest speakers was given to Mrs. Constance Cox, Hazelton pioneer now resident in Prince George. Her father came to Hazelton in 1857 and her stepfather was Indian agent here for 38 years.

Delegates whistled and cheered when the elderly lady dramatically translated a short address into her native tongue.

Chief William Scow of Alert Bay, Native Brotherhood president called Mrs. Cox a "true native."

Other guest speakers included Richie Nelson of the Fisheries Association, Homer Stevens, secretary of the UFAWU, Gordon Reade, superintendent of fisheries, Prince Rupert, Mrs. Maizie Hurley, editor of the Native Voice, Vancouver; Dr. Darby of Bella Bella and George Hills, CCF MLA of Prince Rupert.

The week long convention, which president Chief Scow termed as the "greatest gathering of our organization and the turning point in our lives" included two business sessions, a banquet and entertainment daily.

Election of new officers take place Saturday.

De Gaulle Set Back In Voting

By The Canadian Press

PARIS.—Early returns from municipal elections throughout France indicated a severe setback today for supporters of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

The Communists were holding their own and right-wing independents and Radicals (Moderates) appeared to have gained strength.

Voting took place Sunday to elect some 466,800 municipal councillors, who in turn will name mayors for France's 37,893 communes—everything from 500-population hamlets to the city of Paris.

In early figures, candidates of De Gaulle's R'Assemblement du Peuple Français were getting only about 11 per cent of the vote in Paris and the same percentage in the suburbs.

Communists were getting 25.8 per cent in the capital and 41 per cent in its suburbs.

De Gaulle's RPF scored its first major victory in the last municipal elections in 1947.

Since then it has run neck-and-neck with the Communists, each getting about 27 per cent of succeeding ballots to make them France's two biggest single parties.

Six Children Killed When Volcano Erupts

TOKYO — Aso volcano erupted thunderously today, killing at least six of 400 school children peering into its depths.

One hundred children were reported injured in Aso's first eruption in 20 years.

The youngsters were on an excursion inside the 15-mile-wide great crater of 5,267-foot Mount Aso on Kyushu, Japan's southernmost island.

They were looking into one of five volcanic peaks inside the gaping crater when it awakened with a smoking roar, blasting rocks almost 1,000 feet into the air, some the size of a man's head.

The children fled in terror.

27 to be Freed From Prison

VANCOUVER (CP)—A group of 27 prisoners whose terms were shortened by the special Coronation remission will walk out of British Columbia penitentiary May 29 and 30, it was learned today.

Among those near enough to the end of their term to benefit is one man who would normally have finished his eight-year stretch next January. Warden Robert Douglass said the Coronation "break" will lower sentences for all but a few of the 538 prisoners in the institution.

HOBBY SHOW REMAINS OPEN AGAIN TONIGHT

Because of numerous requests, the crafts and hobby show at the Civic Centre will stay open today. Plans originally called for Sunday as the last day. Admission is from 2 to 5 p.m., and 7 to 10 p.m.

It is estimated that more than 1,000 visitors have attended since the show opened on Friday. A popular feature was the showing of motion pictures obtained by the Prince Rupert film council, for which Mrs. A. L. Bell made arrangements. The films will not be shown today, however, as it was necessary to return them to Vancouver.

A Noteworthy Exhibition

ANYONE without a hobby who visited the crafts and hobby show at the Civic Centre was apt to feel considerably disconcerted by the evidence there of what others are accomplishing in their spare time.

Looking at the carefully prepared displays, one could imagine the hours of thought and satisfaction that lay behind them. For some, they were hours that filled the end of a busy day.

As noteworthy as the exhibits themselves was the large number of exhibitors. It is obvious that hobbies in this district are not just the fad of a few.

Yet for every hobby enthusiast who entered an exhibit, there are probably two or three others who were not represented. It is hoped that next year the public will have an opportunity to see their work.

Let's Finish The Job

WITH the news that installation of mail receptacles for house-to-house delivery is 73 per cent completed, there will be fresh incentive for householders and business proprietors to finish the job by May 9 so the service can be started without more delay.

Despite certain difficulties still to be ironed out, there can be no doubt that postal delivery service will be preferable to the present system. For many householders it is not always simple to make a long journey every day to pick up the mail.

As pointed out in a letter to the editor, however, the closing of postal station B seems likely to present a serious problem to those living beyond Hays Cove bridge. Under the new system there should be no question of any one group being penalized so that the service to others can be improved.

Wide Program Of Immigration To Be Continued

OTTAWA (CP)—Citizenship Minister Harris says the government is fully aware that Canada cannot fulfill her destiny with a population of 15,000,000, and plans to continue a wide program of immigration to acquire new citizens.

The minister, reviewing immigration as his estimates came before the Commons said Canada now is selecting immigrants on a very wide basis and the approach "will continue to be a realistic one with the development of our economy the guiding factor."

"We shall anticipate as closely as we can, future developments and gear our immigration program to them realizing as we do that the next few years will present greater opportunities for the growth of the Canadian nation than ever before, and that, under these circumstances there is an obligation on the government to seize the opportunity and make the maximum use of it, not only in the interests of our people but in the interests of peace."

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, during debate on immigration, said too many immigrants with Fascist and Nazi sympathies are getting into Canada.

He said Canadian authorities rightly make a thorough check of applicants for Communist sympathies "but are much less stringent in checking for other totalitarian sympathies that could be as dangerous for Canadian democracy."

He said he personally had talked with new Canadians who said frankly that they think Hitler was a good man and that Parliament is all right but it doesn't get things done.

Ross Thatcher (CCF-Moose Jaw) proposed a figure of some 300,000 a year, almost double the number of immigrants in 1952.

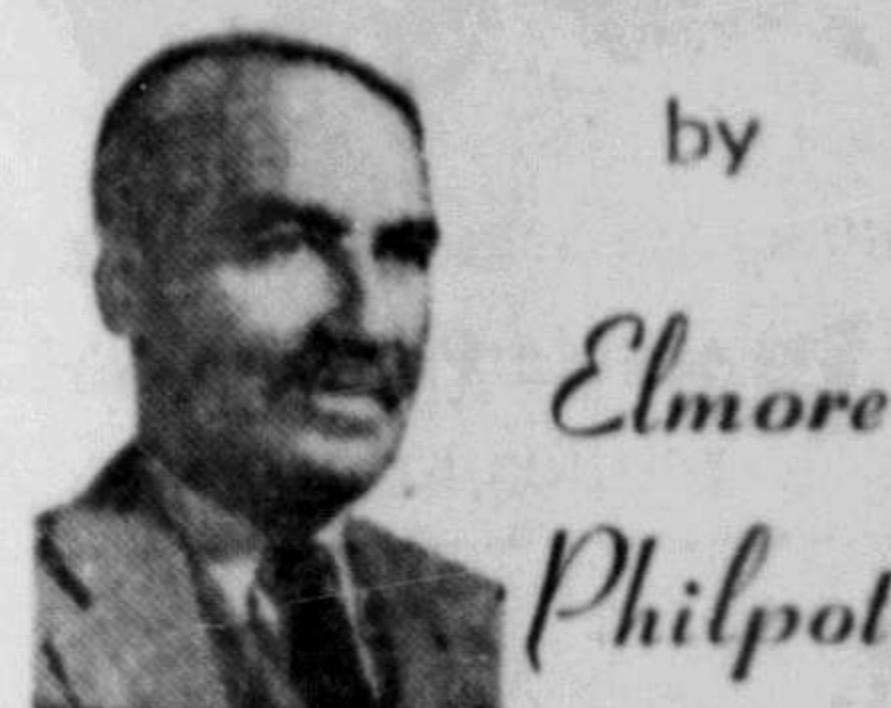

"The more quickly the population increases, the sooner we can expect tax relief," he said.

He contended that increased immigration would also solve, or at least alleviate, the problem of lost British markets for Canadian goods.

More people in the country would mean more consumers to use up the products of Canadian fields and factories.

As I See It

Stand With Britain

NO BRITISH cabinet minister in years has spoken so critically of U.S. policies as has Mr. Thorneycroft, who heads the Board of Trade.

The United States government has turned down the bid by the English Electric Company for the equipment for the Chief Joseph Dam, although the British Company's bid was a full million dollars below the lowest of the six American bidders.

By accepting the British bid the American taxpayers would have saved nearly two million dollars, for the bid included payment of all U.S. customs duties, etc.

Canada is having similar trouble with Uncle Sam—for in spite of all the trade agreements which Uncle Sam himself pressured us to sign he won't let in our dairy products, as he is pledged to do.

THIS IS NOT the first time that British tenders have been turned down—but the act is the most flagrant.

If Uncle Sam does this when business is near the peak what would he do when the shake-down gets going in earnest?

Canada seems far too complacent about our position. We have prospered in Canada as never before in our history in the past few years. Our government itself provided a guaranteed-in-advance armament market for our industrial production.

The big powers scrambled to stockpile our base metals. There was such a scarcity of things in the U.S.A. that we expanded our sales there enormously.

We also expanded imports from U.S.A. even more. But Canada had no balance of payment problem. For the "smart money" in U.S.A. was staging a quiet flight from the U.S. Partly because there were such wonderful investment opportunities in Canada, and partly because the U.S. long term picture is far from safe American money poured into Canada. Our dollar reached a premium over the U.S. dollar.

FOR YEARS back I have hammered away for a brand new type of trade deal between Canada and Britain. Under this plan we would accept British money for everything she bought from us. Whenever we had a surplus on trading account we would use it up by buying stocks and bonds or properties in the British sterling area.

This plan has been favorably mentioned in the British House of Commons by Mr. Harold Wilson and Anthony Eden. I have had detailed comment on it from Mr. R. A. Butler, Mr. Abbott, Mr. Howe, Mr. Macdonnell and other experts. They were not writing me for publication so I cannot quote them here.

But it adds up to this: Britain would be overjoyed if Canada would make with her exactly the same sort of deal that Roosevelt and Mackenzie King made in the Hyde Park Agreement. But Canada still vainly hopes for complete convertibility between the British American and our money.

I THINK before many years have passed we in Canada will learn the hard way, that we need the British market for our lumber, wheat, meat, metals, salmon and fruits even MORE than Britain needs our products. If we don't take British money for them Russia will.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

In their more speculative conversational moments, one of the subjects which Liberal M.P.'s like to discuss is: How far can Hon. Paul Martin climb up the ladder of destiny by dieting?

For a matter of months now the Health and Welfare Minister's spectacular triumph over calories has been national news. So far as available records show, he is the first politician in Canadian history to have used dieting as a short-cut into the headlines.

He long since has attained the streamlined form which was the original goal of his effort. But now Liberal M.P.'s are beginning to wonder if his reconstructed college athlete's contour may not be merely the incidental prize in his project of self-denial. They are beginning to wonder in short, if Hon. Paul may not diet himself in time right into the Liberal leadership?

The idea isn't nearly as frivolous as it might first appear. For Ottawa, being close to a gourmet's paradise, is a hotbed of gastronomic temptations. To succeed in a diet in the midst of them stamps an individual immediately as possessed of really formidable force of character.

A presentable and popular Cabinet Minister such as Hon. Paul encounters the most seductive food almost everywhere he circulates: in the Parliamentary Restaurant, on Diplomatic Row, in a lengthy list of private clubs, and exclusive restaurants, or in the nationally famous Chateau Laurier Hotel. In any one of these places an individual on a diet has to prove himself a person of rare resolution. He must have strong will power to persist in his purpose; he must have equally strong "won't power" to resist the array of delicacies that will tempt him on every side.

But when you have an individual who combines firm "will power" with equally firm "won't power," you have the potentialities of a Prime Minister.

That's Hon. Paul Martin. To watch Hon. Paul at a recherche private luncheon these days is to witness the complete ascendancy that mind can win over matter. A lover of good food in the care-free days when he was indifferent to his waistline, the Health and Welfare Minister toys with a clear conscience, accepts a morsel of sole marguery—but rejects the sauce upon which a chef has lavished a lifetime's artistry—relishes a green salad without any dressing whatever, and happily substitutes some fresh pineapple for a particularly luscious-looking baked Alaska.

It's an impressive study in self-control. And so far it has yielded the Health and Welfare Minister, in addition to a Hop-Along Cassidy contour, an avalanche of nation-wide publicity such as the late P. T. Barnum might well have envied.

And that's another thing the Liberal M.P.'s like about the Hon. Paul. He's got an authentic flair for showmanship that none of his more staid colleagues possess. While his dieting project wasn't undertaken for that purpose, it has served to impress many of the Liberal M.P.'s with the formidable equipment for party leadership which he combines in his very able person.

Immigrants Start New Life Farmlands in Bulkley Valley

Thrifty and in-siderable part in the stantial growth now perienced by this Bulk-community. They are group of new immito Smithers and recent years.

According to Gus
Weiss, a former newspaperman in Holland, who is one of few who speak English.

NEW HOMES

Ten new homes have been built and many like himself intend building as soon as possible.

Seriously religious, they are of both Protestant and Roman Catholic faiths.

Bringing with them their Calvinistic theories, the Protestant group have affiliated with the Christian Reformed Church of the United States. This church, founded by Dutch immigrants, has its centre at Calvin College, Michigan.

Seeking a place of worship,
these people bought the old
United Church building last fall.
Throughout the winter they shared the church facilities with the United Church congregation until their new building was sufficiently completed to occupy.

NEW ORGANIZATION

As a group it is not their intention to introduce a national organization. It is their desire to try and become assimilated as soon as possible.

In this regard Mr. Weiss expressed the feeling that there is a lack of encouragement to the newcomer to help him to assimilate.

"There are many," he said,
"who will reasonably quickly make adjustment to the Canadian way of life and language.
There are others who are hesitant and retiring as strangers in a new land."

The younger generation, particularly those attending school, are learning the language and customs of Canada quickly, he added.

The homeland tie proved strong in response to the appeal for aid following the recent flood disaster. Co-operating with Smithers village commission in the general flood relief fund drive, more than $2,000 was raised.

Participation in the Mid-Summer Night Festival, in which national groups are contributing to the program of old country folk lore, dancing and singing, is anticipated. The festival will be held June 20.

A triple wedding of three young Dutch couples took place recently. The wedding involved the marriage of two brothers and a sister from one family.

Besides the Dutch settlers at Smithers a large number have settled around Houston and elsewhere through the Bulkley Valley.

It is felt their entrance into the agricultural development of this district will be of considerable importance. A growing potential market at Prince Rupert, Terrace and Kitimat is expected to make an increasing demand for farm produce.

Card Table Can Support Attractive Supper Settings

By ELENORE LESTER

The newlywed who hasn't completely furnished her home is often eager to entertain at informal luncheons and suppers.
If she uses some imagination, even the humble card table can be the basis for a charming and sophisticated table.

New York decorator William Pahlmann, in designing backgrounds for a new sterling silver pattern, recently showed that elegant effects may be achieved with a square of a felt over a card table.

Pahlmann suggests the use of 63-inch square of felt, allowing a full overlap over the average card table. The felt, which comes in many rich, strong shades, need not be hemmed and makes a handsome background for silver and plates. For a festive touch, ball trim or a scalloped fringe may be tacked to the felt.

In his settings Pahlmann used white, turquoise and black ball fringe on brown felt, and chart-reuse gimp and a chartreuse scalloped fringe on apple green felt. Pahlmann also suggests denim and old sheeting in good colors for the backgrounds.

Not to be overlooked are the many beautiful textured plastic place mats for gay settings.
These mats have a woven, linen-like or bamboo-like appearance.

One new place mat, known as "Song to the Bamboo Tree," is a perfect reproduction of a painting by one of the foremost contemporary Oriental painters.
Green foliage and a yellow bird form a charming picture against a gray or beige background. An effect of oriental shantung is for silver and plates. For a festive touch, ball trim or a scalloped fringe may be tacked to

Shower Held For Marie Boulter

A delightful bridal shower was held for Marie Boulter at her home when about 40 of her friends surprised her.

The gift of a China tea set was presented by Mrs. Tycho in a miniature box car. The evening was spent in playing games and community singing.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses Mesdames Winford, Alexander, Frew and Tycho.

Queen Mother Tries Luck With Salmon
BALMORAL, Scotland (CP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth, an expert angler, tried her luck on two miles of good trout and salmon fishing in Scotland during her 10-day Easter holiday.
 The waters are on the River Dee and are part of Birkhall estate, first Scottish home of the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh, now a favorite holiday home for the Queen Mother.
 Since Queen Victoria bought Balmoral Castle, the "home" waters have been extended six miles on the right bank and seven on the left.
 Birkhall estate is within tramping distance of the castle and Prince Charles spends a lot of time "helping" the Queen and the Queen Mother to land their catches.
 The Queen Mother learned to fish at Glamis, her childhood home, and since has fished in Canada, New Zealand, Australia and Kenya.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge
 By EASLEY BLACKWOOD
Mr. Muzzy Puzzles Foo By a Single Safety Play
 One of the faults of Mr. Muzzy is his stubborn refusal to bid the full strength of his hand when that action is called for.
 In today's deal, his second bid should have been three no trump instead of two. Mr. Champion could hardly be expected to make three bids on his near minimum holding and his pass of the two no trump call was justified.
 He made three-odd by a simple safety play.
 "Why put any strain on me, Muzzy?" he asked. "Why not go straight to game over my one no trump bid?"
 "Why, I bid every time!" replied Mr. Muzzy indignantly. "I bid diamonds, then I raised your no trump."
 "What I'm trying to tell you," Mr. Champion interrupted, "is that as soon as I opened the bidding and you looked at your hand, you should have decided to bid game somewhere. When I bid one no trump on the second round, slam was out of the question."
 "Also, it should have been clear to you that three no trump was our best spot for game. Why dilly-dally around with a two no trump bid? I can't bid your hand and mine, too."
 Mr. Champion was right. His opening promised one third of the deck in high cards. Mr. Muzzy also had a third. That added up to two thirds or about 65 per cent . . . which calls for a game bid unless the partnership hands are rank misfits.
 Nine tricks were easily accumulated by letting Mr. Meek hold the first heart trick with the jack. A heart was returned and Mr. Champion won with dummy's ace. He led a small diamond and the queen lost to Mr. Abel's king.
 The heart return was won in the closed hand with the king and the nine of diamonds drove out Mr. Meek's ace. By reason of Mr. Champion's foresight at trick one, Mr. Meek had no heart to lead back at this point and the defenders had won their last trick.

Court Dismisses Appeal To Reduce Jail Sentence

VICTORIA (CP)—B.C. Court of Appeal has dismissed an appeal for a sentence reduction for Walter James Callaghan, serving six months for theft of navy meat.

Appellant's counsel, Joseph McKenna, QC, complained that Mr. Justice J. V. Clynne, in sentencing Callaghan, had tried to make Callaghan "a scapegoat."

He referred to the judge's comment that "this business of stealing government property has got to stop" and it is in the public interest this kind of interfering be brought to an end."

Counsel argued that the judge should not have differentiated between stealing from the government and from an individual.

He argued, too, that Leading Seaman William Gordon who had been jointly charged in the case, but who pleaded guilty, had only been given three months. Mr. McKenna said Gordon had been the "ringleader" and his client "the helping type."

Mr. McKenna suggested a suspended sentence or at the most, three months, the same as Gordon.

Couple Wed Through Ad Get Separation

VANCOUVER (CP)—A twilight romance, starting from a lonely heart ad and ending in a legal separation, struck another discordant note in Supreme Court here.

Edmond Standing, 30, and Fanny Standing, 74, married five years ago as a result of a "matrimony if suited" ad and legally separated a year ago, now are on opposing sides of a $3,850 lawsuit heard by Mr. Justice Norman Whittaker.

Mrs. Doris Passmore, daughter of Mr. Standing, contends that she loaned her stepmother the disputed sum, the proceeds of sale of the house where the elderly couple lived.

Mrs. Standing supported his daughter's claim.

Mrs. Standing said her husband told her he owned the house, and that it was registered in Mrs. Passmore's name merely to assist in getting a pension for his former wife.

She said her husband instructed her to accept the cheque for the sale from Mrs. Passmore, as he was then getting the old-age pension.

In answer to questions, Mr. Standing admitted he had concealed some assets when he applied for an old-age pension for his first wife "but thousands of others were doing the same thing."

Mr. Justice Whittaker reserved decision.

EXAMINING SOIL SAMPLES in the Jordan Valley, a water development expert (left) gathers data on irrigation possibilities. The United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees recently agreed with the Kingdom of Jordan to provide $40,000,000 for construction of an irrigation and power dam in the region. The dry land, given water, might support up to 20,000 refugee families.

Insurance For Sick Workers

OTTAWA (CP)—A limited form of unemployment insurance for sick workers will be put before Parliament by the government this week.

The measure is expected to be the last major government bill introduced at the current session of Parliament, now in its last stages.

It will provide unemployment insurance coverage for workers who become ill after being thrown out of jobs for other reasons. It will not cover those who leave work because of illness.

Existing legislation gives insurance benefits only to those unemployed who are available for work. A worker cannot collect benefits if, after being put out of work, he becomes ill and cannot call at his unemployment insurance office to collect his cheque.

The enlargement of coverage, it was understood, will not involve any increase in insurance contributions by employees and employers.

Telkwa Names Fire Chief

TELKWA.—W. Kinney was elected chief and J. Downey assistant chief of the newly-formed Telkwa village volunteer fire brigade. Sixteen other men have volunteered to join the brigade.

Fire Chief Harry Haywood of Smithers attended the organization meeting.

Suggestion for future inter-brigade competitions between brigades at Hazelton, Houston, Telkwa and Smithers was made by Chief Haywood.

Tenders Called For High School

TERRACE.—Tenders are to be called for the building of a new junior-senior high school on the acreage behind the Alger property west of town, and construction will begin as soon as contracts are let.

Government approval was given last week.

Naval Visit

OSLO (CP)—The Norwegian destroyer Narvik, which will participate in the Coronation naval review at Spithead in June, later will visit Canada and the United States. Under Commander Charles Herlofsen the destroyer will call at Halifax, New York and Annapolis, Md., returning by way of Newfoundland and Iceland.

Peak year of Arctic whaling history in 1857 saw about 400 vessels hunting whales in the far north.

The steady-growing $360,000,000 insurance fund will absorb the relatively minor additional drain. No official estimate of the extra amount was available, but it might run to about $5,000,000 a year, compared with the $130,000,000 paid out in benefits during the last fiscal year.

No change is contemplated, either, in the periods for which benefits are payable, which now run to a maximum of one year.

The proposed government action represents a compromise with organized labor, which has been pressing for straight unemployment insurance for sickness whether or not the worker becomes ill on the job.

CUBS ENTERTAIN MEMBERS PROMOTED TO SCOUT TROOP

More than 50 Cubs turned out at an east end community gathering Friday night to wish "good scouting" to five Scout troops on the occasion of their promotion to the ranks of the 2nd (Conrad) Cubs, Bobby Busanich, Dennis Griffin, Jimmy Russell and Garry Parkin.

Art Williamson was in charge of the assembled Scouts. The new Scouts were welcomed into the troop by Scoutmaster Roche. The busy evening concluded with the showing of a RCMP film produced under the force's youth program.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—Even though you think the Boston "gold sox" are no more and the glittering array of stars which cost owner Yawkey millions has been dispersed to the winds, still comes as something of a shock the first you see the cradle corps trying to win a ball from a grown-up American League club.

Scarcely a name is really familiar except that of George Kell, the 30-year-old patriarch at third base. Billy Goodman at second and maybe some elderly geezer in the pitcher's box. Otherwise you feel you must have dozed off for four or five years, and where did these strange kids come from?

Where are Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr, Vern Stephens, Johnny Pesky, Dom DiMaggio and those other sockers who only yesterday were racking up enemy pitchers and earning all that money?

The baby of the DiMaggios, you learn, is sitting on the bench, nursing his eye trouble and thinking of retiring. The others are gone.

With the aid of a kindly Boston man you are brought up to date.

The boy in leftfield who just struck out is Gene Stephens. He's 20. So is the one in center-field, Tommy Umphlett. Milt Bollins on short is 22. He expects to finish college this year. That's Jim Piersall in right field. He's a seasoned veteran. He's seen some service last year. Dick Gernert, the first baseman, also is 23 and led the home runs last year. Lou White, the sophomore catcher is 24. There's one on the bench, Billy Consolo, who is only 19.

It is much the youngest ever to take the field in the leagues. And the Red Sox instead of trying to buy a name, have decided to name from the bulb.

Watching Lou Brock honor scouts play the game. You feel a little for them and know they are going to have a hard time. But you think, maybe they'll be a ball club.

The county of Lunenburg, Nova Scotia was first visited by German emigrants in 1783.

Where does the money go?

At times most of us have looked at purse, wallet or bank-book, and wondered: "Where does the money go?"

Each year we at Imperial add up the company's bills to see what happened to the money we received in the previous 12 months for the gasoline, fuel oil and other products we sell. Here's where each dollar of Imperial's 1952 income went:

- CRUDE OIL and other raw materials we bought, plus freight, took more than half of each dollar.
- OPERATING expenses took more than 28 cents. This was the cost of searching for and producing crude oil, and of manufacturing and marketing the hundreds of products we supplied for thousands of uses. Throughout the year high quality products were made available where and when you needed them.
- TAXES to provincial and federal governments took 10 cents. And this did not include gasoline tax, which—depending on where you live—took from 24 to 36 cents out of every dollar you spent for standard grade gasoline.
- DIVIDENDS paid to shareholders for use of plants and equipment amounted to 4.06 cents.
- TO REPLACE worn out equipment and to make sure that we can supply your needs in the future 3.42 cents was put back into the business.
