Mourning For King Over, But City Has No Picture of Queen

A perplexing problem confronts Prince Rupert city council. Who buys, sends or gives the city the picture—or pictures of Royalty?
With the termination of the official mourning for King George coming to a close on Saturday, council discovered to their amazement this morning that they have no picture of their present monarch—Queen Elizabeth II.
Black ribbon now draped over the picture of King George is to be removed and members feel a picture of Queen Elizabeth II should be hung in its place in the council chamber... but they haven't got a picture.

By The Canadian Press

Korea
Communist prisoners were killed and 17 wounded in 10 days in bloody incidents at UN prisoner of war camps on the torn Koje Island and the Korean mainland.
No UN personnel were killed or wounded in the latest outbreaks, which raised the toll of deaths from violence to 245 prisoners since Feb. 28.
France
Police cars patrolled Paris streets in force to guard against any outbreak of Communist rioting stemming from the jailing of Jacques Duclos, currently the country's No. 1 Communist leader.
Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, whose arrival from Korea sparked the bloody rioting Wednesday, succeeded Gen. Eisenhower as Atlantic Pact commander.
Ridgway voiced the western determination resist aggression.

Reporter's Slander Suit Dismissed

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice Norman Whittaker Thursday dismissed with costs a slander action brought against Police Chief Walter Mulligan by Ronald Haggart, Vancouver Sun reporter.
Haggart claimed statements attributed to the police chief impaired his usefulness as a newspaper man and reflected on his personal integrity.
The Supreme Court jury decided in favor of the judgment for the defendant after deliberating 45 minutes. Mr. Justice Whittaker then dismissed the action and ordered Haggart to pay costs.
Action was the outcome of newspaper stories carried a year ago on so-called jail thefts at police headquarters here.
Haggart's counsel D. A. Sturdy said that following reports on this case published in The Sun, Chief Mulligan "said that Haggart was untrustworthy as a police reporter."

Crew Saves Tug From Wild Seas

VANCOUVER (CP)—While 12-foot seas crashed over them during a 30-mile-an-hour gale, crew members early today saved the tug Lorraine minutes before it would have gone aground in English Bay about three miles from the entrance to Vancouver harbor.
Another tug, the Yardway, previously bucked the gale-lashed seas to pull alongside to take off three members of the crew.
The Lorraine was dragged toward the beach by its tow of two barges after the lowline became fouled in her propeller.

Union Supported in Treaty Rejection

Committee Suggests Change

By The Canadian Press
OTTAWA.—Members of the Commons fisheries committee yesterday took issue with objections to the proposed North Pacific fish treaty placed before the committee by the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union (TLC) of B.S.

Questioning of a union witness developed dissent with the union's views from J. W. McNaught, parliamentary assistant to Fisheries Minister Mayhew; John Blackmore (SC—Lethbridge) and J. L. Gibson (Ind.—Comox-Alberni).
The witness was Homer Stevens, Vancouver, secretary of the 8000-member union.
A brief he presented Wednesday against the ratification of the Canada-United States-Japan fish agreement called for Canada proclaiming sovereignty over a wider area of Pacific coastal waters than at present.

The union's stand was endorsed yesterday in submissions received by a committee from Fishermen's Co-operative Association of B.C. and Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association.
In questioning Mr. Stevens, Mr. Blackmore suggested union's position was "negative rather than positive" since it proposed turning down the treaty rather than changing it.
Mr. Stevens denied this, saying the union's stand is that Canada should define her rights in the Pacific and establish conservation measures off coast.

CO-OP BRIEF

The brief of the B.C. fishermen's co-operatives argued that:
1. The treaty would not give enough protection for fish caught in waters historically fished by Canadians against the "encroachment" of fishermen of other nationalities.
2. It failed to establish a pattern that could provide for "continued peaceful relations" in North Pacific waters.
On the second point, co-operatives said only that "exclusion of other nations on the Pacific" from the agreement would defeat that purpose.

Aviation Gas Curbs Lifted

OTTAWA—Production Minister Howe yesterday announced the end of aviation gasoline restrictions, effective Tuesday next, and RCAF and Air Transport Board said all special curbs on flying will be eliminated.
In Montreal, Trans-Canada Air Lines announced flights within North America, temporarily curtailed by restrictions also will be resumed Tuesday.
Mr. Howe told Commons restoration of normal distribution and sale of aviation fuel is made possible by gradual improvement in United States production, following termination of the U.S. oil industry strike.

Alaskan Native Given High Post

KETCHIKAN, Alaska.—Rev. Walter A. Soboleff, native Indian of Alaska, Thursday was elected moderator of the Washington Presbyterian Synod, which also includes Alaska and Yukon presbyteries.
His election marked the first time in the 63-year history of the synod that a native Indian has been elected to such a high post.
He has been pastor of the Memorial Presbyterian Church at Juneau since his ordination in 1940.
Rev. Soboleff was born in Killisnoo, a no longer existent town which once served as a whaling and herring centre in South-eastern Alaska. He holds a commission of captain in the Alaska National Guard and has been elected chaplain of the Alaska Legislature three times.

Quartette Arrested as Forge Ring

WINNIPEG (CP)—Police have arrested four suspects of a well-equipped forging ring which they said has been operating in the Winnipeg district since Monday.
A general alarm was flashed through western Canada to pick up four other persons—two men and two women—also suspected as members of the ring.
Arrested were Roland Peter Kriska, 19; Anita Kriska, 19; Cecil Raymond Mark, 25, and a 17-year-old girl. All are from Vancouver.

Hurried Bank Worker Trusting Soul

DALLAS (AP)—Police shook the door of the Love Field State Bank before dawn yesterday and found it open.
Suspecting burglars, two policemen drew pistols and entered.
The vault door was open. Piles of currency and sacks of coins lay on the vault floor.
But no burglar.
The cops called a bank vice-president.
"I guess somebody was just in a hurry to get home and left the bank open," he said.

Senior Pacific Vessel Hailed in Rupert Port

The senior naval warship on the Pacific coast and a veteran of Korean battles—HMCS Sioux—steamed serenely into Prince Rupert harbor yesterday.

With Commander Philip E. Haddon in command, the trim destroyer, which returned less than three months ago from Korea, slid into Ocean Side Docks at 4 p.m.

Besides her crew, the Sioux has 48 cadets aboard from various Canadian universities who are on a training cruise.
The Sioux is the first of three Royal Canadian Navy ships which will visit Prince Rupert before heading for Alaska next Tuesday.

Two other ships, the frigates Beacon Hill and Antigonish, will arrive Saturday morning.
Cmdr. Haddon, 39-year-old naval attaché at Washington, D.C., until he took over command of the Sioux in April, was officially welcomed to Prince Rupert this morning by Mayor Harold Whalen.

Last night, Cmdr. Haddon inspected the Captain Cook Sea Cadet Corps at the Navy Drill Hall. He congratulated the boys for their "wonderful performance" and invited them to go aboard the Sioux as his guests on Saturday afternoon.

Cmdr. Haddon was replaced at Washington by Cmdr. P. D. Taylor, who guided the Sioux in her Korean battlefront trips. The Sioux made two trips to Korea.

When the trim destroyer pulled into the harbor yesterday, Lieutenant Noel Langham, staff officer HMCS Chatham, boarded the ship to discuss plans and entertainment for the crew and cadets during their stay here.
He was welcomed aboard by Lt. Howard Clark of Stratford, Ont., second in command.
Lt. Clark is one of six officers aboard who made both trips to Korea. Others are: Lieutenants W. C. Attwell and A. T. Henley, both of Vancouver; F. S. Anderson of Ottawa and Victoria; P. E. Bissell, Calgary, and T. H. Ellis of Winnipeg, who is the navigating officer.
JOINED IN 1931
Cmdr. Haddon joined the RCN in 1931, and when the Second World War was declared, was serving aboard HMCS St. Laurent at Halifax.
He was on North Atlantic convoy duty for four years and among ships he commanded were the Saguenay, Restigouche and Algonquin.
He got as far as the Suez en route to the Pacific war when he was recalled to Victoria aboard the Algonquin, sister ship of the Sioux.
In 1946 he was sent to Ottawa as assistant chief of naval personnel, then was appointed staff officer at HMCS Stadacona, Halifax, and in 1950 went to England for a staff course, later going to Washington as chief of naval staff, attached to the Canadian embassy.
Cmdr. Haddon's wife and nine-year-old daughter live in Victoria.

Unity Our Common Cause

WHEN Mr. Harold Winch was here to talk politics a few days ago he had a good attendance. It shows that citizens in Prince Rupert are interested in the issues at stake in the coming provincial elections.

Mr. Winch may also know that of all the people present at his meeting, none heard or sang the national anthem at the close. According to news reports, the political party leader shrugged off complaints of some in the audience that the national anthem was not sung.

He said he would sing it if anyone else wanted to.

Is Mr. Winch not proud to be a Canadian? He seems easily possessed of enough attention-compelling ability to have halted the departing audience for a few minutes. Or was this a gross oversight in arrangements by the local political organizers?

One of the audience was reported as saying to Mr. Winch:

"We always sing the national anthem at public meetings in Prince Rupert."
Let's hope so.

Singing of the national anthem in public shows that we are all united in a common cause, for the good of our country, for the safeguard of our freedoms and for our love of heritage.

To dismiss lightly not paying this tribute to our country and to ourselves is reason for much concern. We have the impression of disregard in such attitude.

THE LETTERBOX

FIRST THINGS FIRST
Editor,
The Daily News:

With the hum of the election coming closer these days we hear our candidates discussing their stand on hospital insurance, the liquor problem and many others, some advocating free enterprise, and others partial socialism.

However, by far the most important issues have been practically ignored: the raising of the word democracy out of the dust and trying to give it a fuller meaning.

Let us take for one example, the obsolete rent control, a wartime order-in-council that should have been in the grave years ago, but is still enforced by the provincial government. I might state here that I am neither a landlord, nor a tenant, so am not involved financially but we are all deeply involved in the principle of it.

This order states in part, I believe:

1. Any tenant who was renting premises at the time of Nov. 1, 1948, may not have his rent increased from what he was paying at that time.

2. The landlord may not sell the house, unless with the guarantee that the tenants may continue to live there as renters and pay only the same rent they were paying at the time of Nov. 1, 1948.

3. The owner of the house may not give his tenants notice to leave unless he needs the house for his own personal use, and then he must give them six months' notice—the notice to become effective some time between May 1 and October 1.

Can you picture the one landlord held by the ball and chain of this order-in-council while the other is free, all under the hollow heading of a democratic government? If we must have controls, it should be controls for all, or if taken off should apply to all, and not by order-in-council either, if our hard won voters' franchise is to continue to mean anything to us.

Surely our candidates know of these important issues that should come first if the voting on the others is to mean anything. Why have they not tackled these problems at the bottom of the ladder first?

I am at loss to know where to place my ballot in the coming election. I ask myself the only two questions I can think of:

1. Is it the votes they are worried about?

2. If they should get elected, do they intend to continue the use of order-in-council government on a greater scale?

I hope our candidates can clear this up for me and a great many others, and help raise the word democracy to a fuller meaning.
JACK WYLLIE.

President's Smile

A FRIEND of mine in Denmark runs a school where they study different national characteristics. When I get the chance I am going to ask him to explain this riddle:

How is it that a candidate for the U.S. Presidency must always be shown smiling from ear to ear, while no candidate for election as British Prime Minister would stand much of a chance if he often looked that way?

I CAN'T find any pictures which show George Washington smiling. Jefferson is preserved for posterity in pictures which are always grave. Lincoln's and Grant's faces were covered with whiskers, at least for part of their public careers. But in this century it seems to have become a tradition that the American Presidents must keep on smiling, grinning, even if it kills them.

Some of the pictures of the first Roosevelt showed him scowling. But most of them were in the now traditional pose — with every tooth showing. The elder Taft was a wonderful smile artist. Woodrow Wilson came smiling through too (though he could not smile after his country repudiated his great work, in the League of Nations). Harding was a smiler. So was Al Smith. The greatest smiler of all time was of course Franklin Roosevelt.

The second class smilers either never did make the grade or soon got thrown out on their ears. They were Hoover, Coolidge, Dewey. One reason why I think General Ike will nose out Taft is because this Taft is not a patch on his old man when it comes to smiling for the camera. Ike is the most photogenic smiler of all those in sight.

I HAVE seen dozens of pictures of Winston Churchill scowling; and hundreds showing him smoking his oversize cigars. But offhand I can't recall a single picture showing him, or Mr. Attlee, in the facial pose that American custom would demand.

I never saw the famous Sir John A. Macdonald, of course — for he was dead before I was born. But I can't find any picture showing him smiling. Laurier I did see and hear. He was "the grand seigneur." He spoke with great dignity, and he had his pictures taken that way too. King was no sourpuss—but you would not catch him smiling U.S. style for a Canadian election (Continued on page 7)

Churches Asked To Change Words 'n Lord's Prayer

NEW YORK (AP)—A move to let Protestant churches to change part of the wording of the Lord's Prayer was initiated today.

The plan, approved after debate at the 164th annual general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, would replace the word "debts" or "trespasses" in the prayer with the word "sins."

Rev. Alexander Mackie of Philadelphia opposed the move. "Why this silly tampering with the Lord's Prayer?" he demanded. "Hasn't the general assembly anything more important to consider?"

The action authorized the formation of a committee to confer with representatives of all denominations in the National Council of Churches toward obtaining the revision for use.

Under the plan, the phrase, "Forgive us our debts (trespasses) as we forgive our debtors (those who trespass against us)," would be changed to read: "Forgive us our sins as we forgive those who sin against us."

Some churches now use "trespass" while others, like the Presbyterians, use "debt."
Rev. Guy Volpitta of Cleveland said the words "debts" or "trespasses" are not a correct interpretation of the original Greek in which that section of the bible was recorded.

Reflects and Reminisces

The only ex-president of the United States to spend a day in Prince Rupert was William Howard Taft who spoke at a Canadian Club luncheon, somewhere around twenty-five years ago. It is perhaps not out of place to mention this today. Life is publishing a publicity spread, describing the Taft family of Cincinnati, home of the Senator and now campaigning for the White House in the Republican interests.

Judge F. McB. Young presided over the crowded dining room of the hotel Prince Rupert. The portly guest of honor was on his feet for possibly an hour. His remarks revealed a wide knowledge of affairs, tact, and a sense of humor. Incidentally his deep, throaty chuckle impelled the...

Singapore Girl Wins Scholarship

LONDON (CP)—Miss Lim Bek Noo of Singapore has been awarded a scholarship to the Royal College of Music here on the recommendation of Dr. Thomas Fielden, noted British composer and music professor. The three-year scholarship is worth £200 annually.

Dr. Fielden is one of four examiners visiting various Commonwealth countries for Britain's Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music. The examiners, in the course of their three-month tours, will examine about 20,000 music students and teachers for the awarding of diplomas and the scholarships available to Commonwealth citizens.

Miss Lim Bek Noo, 22, an assistant organist at Singapore Cathedral, is also an outstanding pianist. Daughter of a Singapore law clerk, she played the organ in the cathedral during the Japanese occupation.

Dr. Fielden recently heard her at the cathedral organ in a choral celebration. He described it as a remarkable demonstration of her power and ability to control massed choral groups.

Russian Subs Stick Close to Own Waters

TOKYO (AP)—Soviet submarines in the Pacific are sticking close to their bases in Russia and Red China and aren't likely to do anything else, the new commander of United States naval forces in the Far East said today.

The Russian subs are the main potential threat to the forces of Vice-Admiral Robert P. Briscoe. He said it is quite likely the Reds are utilizing the Chinese coast to build submarine pens but he pointed out that water all along this coast generally is shallow and favors the hunter rather than the hunted in submarine warfare.

"Their bases are around Vladivostok—always have been. They are maintaining normal training operations. I have no reason to believe different," said the 55-year-old Admiral, who will take over officially in a few days from Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy.

Briscoe said it is possible the Communists are constructing concrete reinforced submarine shelters, at Port Arthur, Dairken, Tsingtao, or the island of Sakhalin, which would give them quick access to Allied shipping routes.

Briscoe said U.S. ships steer well clear of Red waters to avoid any possible incident.

War Criminals Ask For Better Treatment

BONN (Reuters)—Two former Nazi leaders, now jailed as war criminals, are doing laundry for their fellow prisoners, it was disclosed here.

Launching an appeal for better treatment of war criminals, Hans Rechenberg, custodian for the family of Walter Funk, former Nazi economic minister, gave reporters details of how the jailed leaders are living at Spandau prison, near Berlin.

He identified the laundrymen as Baldur von Schirach, once Nazi Youth leader, and Albert Speer, former armaments minister in the Hitler war cabinet.

Erich Raeder, former grand admiral, is acting as prison librarian while his colleague, Karl Doenitz, works in the garden.

Rudolf Hess, deputy fuhrer who flew to England on a mysterious mission during the war, is doing nothing at all, Rechenberg said. He seems mentally unbalanced.

The prisoners are allowed one book each from the library every two weeks. They can receive and write one letter monthly.

Every two months each is allowed to receive one visitor for 15 minutes.

International Court to Hear Iran Oil Case

TEHRAN, Iran (Reuters)—Prime Minister Mohamed Mossadeq and his delegation left by plane for The Hague to defend Iran's oil case before the International Court.

Thousands of supporters assembled at Tehran's Mehrabad airport, cheering him and shouting: "Long live Mossadeq, our national hero."

Among his baggage were two sealed cases containing documents he will produce at The Hague in an attempt to show British interference in Iran's domestic affairs.

Family of Winners Take Firsts in Card Tourney

A family of card players took most of the prizes in the winter Catholic card tournament which ended last night.

Mrs. Jean Cloutier, with a score of 2658, won first prize in whist; Mr. A. E. Chilton, score 2615, won second. Cribbage was held down by Mrs. John Cloutier, with 18,188 points, and Mr. George Cloutier won the bridge prize with a season's score of 104,230.

Last night's individual winners were Mrs. Jean Cloutier and Mr. J. Mostad, whist; Mrs. J. Simpson and Mr. A. Astoria, cribbage, and Mrs. A. E. Rothwell and Mr. M. E. Chappell, bridge.

A highlight of the evening was drawing of a huge grocery and vegetable hamper won by Miss Jessie Shenton with ticket number 1905. Mrs. A. Bradner won the second and smaller hamper with ticket number 1435. Raffle conveners were Mrs. G. R. Brett and Mrs. N. J. Galbraith.

In charge of refreshments were Mrs. Brett, Mrs. G. P. Lyons, Mrs. J. Bugyinka, Mrs. L. Colussi, Mrs. N. Bond and Mrs. Bredner.

Legion Installs New Executive

Installation of officers for the 1952-53 term took place at the regular monthly meeting of the Canadian Legion Wednesday, J. S. Wilson, zone representative, conducting.

Alex Haig was installed as president and Comrades Graham Alexander and Lloyd Rice as vice-presidents.

Executive consisted of Frank Hicks, Bob Bone, C. Anderson, P. M. Ray, Ralph Smith, J. Nicoll and Mrs. Dorothy Scott and Mrs. Margaret Lawrence. Dr. E. A. Wright of the First Presbyterian Church was installed as Padre; D. Guyatt, as Sergeant-at-Arms.

Members expressed concern as to condition of the cemetery and it was felt that the city council should take the lead in a concerted drive to have the cemetery grounds put in shape. Members would look after the Legion Plot and a party of volunteers was arranged to go up and prepare the location for Decoration Day ceremonies.

Plans were laid for a church parade to the First Presbyterian Church on June 8, the Sunday following D-Day, the parade to leave the Legion grounds at 10:30.

Reports were given by all standing committees.

It was decided that the June 25 meeting would be the final meeting until after the summer months, following the practice of other years in discontinuing meetings during July and August.

F. W. Reich occupied his new position as secretary-manager of the branch and conducted his work in a capable manner.

Refreshments were served at a social gathering following the meeting.

Personals

In a report of King Edward Parent-Teachers' Association general meeting on this page yesterday it was stated in error that a $10 fee to the PTA Council was recommended. The amount should have been 10-cent fee.

Jack Mussallem, owner of the Variety Store, is leaving next week on a vacation to join Mrs. Mussallem and three-year-old daughter who are now in Winnipeg. Mr. Mussallem is traveling by plane. Mrs. Mussallem's parents are in Winnipeg.

Cdr. P. E. Haddon, commanding officer of HMCS Sioux, at present a visitor to this port, called on Lt.-Cdr. J. D. McRae today, who is recuperating at home from an accident. Lt.-Cdr. McRae is commanding officer of HMCS Chatham, Prince Rupert's naval reserve base.

Court Frees Man of Train Theft Charge

VANCOUVER (CP)—"Case dismissed," said Magistrate MacKenzie Matheson, "fleeing the first man to appear in Vancouver police court charged with stealing a train."

The charge against 27-year-old Jim McLeod read: "He unlawfully stole an interurban train, to a value of over $25, the property of British Columbia Electric Co., May 18."

He had intended to drive it the 12 miles from Vancouver to his home in New Westminster but was stopped after travelling 10 blocks through busy downtown streets.

Dugald MacAlpine, QC, his counsel, said McLeod was drunk that night.

He argued that no actual theft occurred.

"The train was not removed from company tracks, nor was there any intention on the part of my client to remove it," he said.

"I do not approve of the snatching of trains," said the magistrate.

"However, I have no precedent on which to base a decision. Case dismissed."

Business Spotlight

By FORBES RHUDE
(Canadian Press Business Editor)

ONTARIO — Hugh Crombie, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, said a bill before the United States House of Representatives, which would allow the provisions of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade negotiated in Geneva in 1947.

Addressing the association's annual general meeting, he said the bill would allow the president to place important controls on all types of goods, including cultural commodities.

As a measure, he stated, is far more than the measure which was passed June 30, which placed import restrictions on fats and also contrary to the provisions of G.A.T.T. Further:

"The U.S. has not yet implemented its undertaking to change customs valuation laws and other administrative provisions, conform to G.A.T.T., although measure is before Congress.

He noted, too, that the United Kingdom, Italy, Denmark and other European countries have dealt with the U.S. government tests against any increases in tariffs under the so-called "escape clause" of the U.S. Reciprocity Trade Agreements Act.

Under this clause, he said, applications have been made to the U.S. tariff commission by American producers for tariff increases or quota regulations in regard to a variety of items.

"The C.M.A.," said Mr. Crombie, "has asked and is asking the Canadian government for adequate protection against unfair competition and the dumping of goods made in other countries into the Canadian market and at no further reductions be made in tariff rates on goods now manufactured in Canada."

"It appears to me that Canada has given a lot in some regards, and got little back in return, particularly vis-a-vis the United States."

Mr. Crombie's remarks were made in the course of his report to the association as president for the last year.

Concerning inflation and the recent drop in the cost of living, he said "maybe we have jumped to the highest hurdle."

However: "Some students have predicted a period of rising prices in Canada 'for as far ahead as human vision can see.' I am not sure how far this may be, but in more measurable terms it might be safe to say that no one now living will ever see the dollar again buy what it bought in 1940."

He advocated increased productivity which "implies a higher volume of production out of a given amount of resources—raw materials, tools and manpower."

"Replacing of obsolete tools by new and modern tools is one of the more obvious ways of achieving it. It is not, as some trade unionists seem to assume, just another word for 'speed-up.'"

Mr. Crombie said the association "again made representations recently to provincial authorities pointing out that unless steps were taken to enforce the law against mass picketing, there was danger that both strikers and public would get the idea that strikers were within their rights in besetting struck premises and preventing the entry not merely of factory workers but of office and even maintenance staff.

He urged that Canada process more of her raw materials, instead of exporting them in raw form.

"If we, as Canadians, are not satisfied to accept the role of hewers of wood and drawers of water for our neighbors in the United States, there are two things we can do:

"One is to process our raw materials to the greatest extent possible by building up manufacturing industries. The other is to build up Canada through large-scale immigration, and thus provide a larger domestic market for the products of our farms, forests, factories and mines... more immigration, not less, is the cure for unemployment."

In regard to investment and taxation, he said:

"If the government takes too much in taxes, a corporation plant expansion or seek additional equity capital; and if individual income taxes are also high, the individual is unable to save money and has no money to invest."

British Car Exports To Canada

LONDON—Britain's Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders, Ltd., said this week that there had been a greater demand for British cars in Canada since the excise tax was reduced from 25 to 15 per cent and credit restrictions lifted.

The Austin Motor Co., which now exports 2,000 cars a month to North America, said that the lifting of the consumer credit restrictions in Canada would help them considerably. They expected that sales of the new A40 Somerset would rise rapidly.

The company are to extend their Canadian activities by exhibiting the Austin Seven A30 as well as the Somerset at the Vancouver Motor Show which opens June 16. This will be Canada's first glimpse of the new Austin Seven which has already stolen every European show at which it has appeared.

Shortly after the Vancouver show closes, the Austin Seven will go on to Toronto for the Canadian National Exhibition opening August 26.

At the Toronto Exhibition, the Austin Motor Company will have the largest stand it has ever organized in an overseas exhibition.

Mr. P. L. Lord, chairman and managing director of the Austin Motor Co., on his return from a world tour said he was elated and enthusiastic at what he had seen, and added: "Canada is a tonic and we intend to remain there."

Atomic Story of Canada Told By Air

Recorded at the Chalk River plant of Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, the story of atomic development will be broadcast over Canadian Broadcasting Corporation network June 1.

So far as is known, says CBC, the broadcast marks the first time a broadcaster has been allowed to enter an atomic plant to prepare his material.

CBC narrator Thom Benoit talks with Canada's top atomic scientists who explain what atomic energy is, how an atomic pile is built and controlled, and what precautions must be taken to safeguard lives.

"Every aspect of atomic energy will be investigated by the hour-long documentary. It is an authentic, dramatic story of the wonder of our age," says CBC.

Big Plans For International Series Opener

A big affair is planned to launch the 1952 International Baseball series here Sunday—providing the weatherman looks kindly on Prince Rupert.

Baseball commissioner Eddie Gladding said today "everything is in top shape now—except the weather." But he thinks the rain cloud will pour itself dry in the day and two nights still to go before the Ketchikan-Prince Rupert games.

The double-header will be played with only a few minutes intermission.

Booth Memorial High School band has been commissioned to supply on-the-spot music for anthems and for the "seventh-inning stretch."

A new feature also has been provided for fans—a hot-dog, hamburger, pop corn concession to be handled by a local restaurateur.

Advance ticket sales have been organized and are available at several downtown stores.

Meanwhile, the Ketchikan team, which will fly down, will be advised of weather conditions here minutes before planned take-off, so if it does happen to rain, the trip can be cancelled. Game would then be postponed until the following Sunday.

Reports indicate the Alaskan all-star team will be more formidable than ever before. A four-team league in the neighboring northern city includes this year a complete unit from the U.S. Coast Guard.

Prince Rupert has been winner of the International Series Trophy several consecutive years, including last season.

Four Clubs Enter Softball League

Four teams have been entered in the 1952 softball league which will get under way next Monday. Only two teams have sponsors.

The two teams with sponsors are CC 300 (Columbia Cellulose) and Firemen, managed by Horvey Deary and W. H. (Buster) Hill respectively. Managers for two other teams are Dennis Waters and "Rusty" Ford.

League games are to be played Monday, Wednesday and Friday, games beginning 7 p.m.

Soccer Lineup

The team to represent the General Motors in their football match against the Heavy Battery tonight will be selected from: Boulter; Eby; Robinson; Bishop; Cisek; John Wilson; Tait; Riou; Pat Wilson; Matthews; Murray; Maron; Bedford; Lien; Wright; Price; White; Crosby and Bowman.

Bosox Chase Senators With One-Hit Victory

Phillies Upset Giants

NEW YORK.—Scrawny Mickey McDermott faced only 27 batters Thursday night as he pitched Boston Red Sox to a brilliant 1-0 one-hit victory over Washington Senators in their battle for second place in the American League.

Mel Hoderlein singled to right with one out in the fourth inning to spoil McDermott's no-hitter. Hoderlein was wiped out on a double play. Only other batter who reached base was Yost who walked to start the game.

The one-hitter was the fourth in the season in the majors. Philadelphia Phillies, taking advantage of loose fielding, defeated pace-setting New York Yankees 6-5 Thursday to end a seven-game New York winning streak.

Brooklyn's runner-up Dodgers, starting from three straight defeats at the hands of the Yankees, rebounded with a 7-3 triumph over Boston Braves to win within 1½ games of their rivals.

THE ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

Here Are the Hitters of Yesteryear?

Never before within the memory of the current crop of baseball experts have so many low-scoring games been pitched at this early stage of the major league season. Scarcely a day passes but the club is shackled with a two or three-hitter. There have been a no-hitter, double one-hitter, and so many other brilliant performances—several of them by comparatively obscure workmen—the suspicion is inescapable something is going on which is customary in cases such as these.

Weather Good For Pitchers

This could help the pitchers. Heavy air a curve gets better bite and breaks just a little more sharply than on a clear, sunny day. Fast-ballers proverbially like to under a cloudbank, though they have heard this hotly disputed. A slow infield cannot help a pitcher. It gives his support to reach and easy putouts on hard-hit balls which would have skipped for base hits on a sun-drenched diamond, as well as slow-pitchers to the outfield once they land.

Whether the weather has contributed materially to the great batting averages we will know soon enough. Some observers expect the hitters to take charge in a few days once the mercury starts rising and the veterans begin to show their years in the middle of the season.

They could, however, be wrong. There is at least one more possibility. Maybe there aren't

Little Strength to Meet Russian Subs

PARIS (Reuters)—Admiral Lynde McCormick, supreme Allied commander in the North Atlantic, warned today that the forces at his disposal to meet the Russian submarine threat are "dangerously low."

The supreme commander, who arrived here yesterday, gave the North Atlantic Council a progress report on his command set up last April. It was his first appearance before NATO's governing body.

Asked about his evaluation of Russian naval fighting capacity, he said that with the advantages of German experience and technical help, "we can by no means discount the efficiency of the Soviet naval and maritime forces."

Supreme Court Hears Freight Rate Dispute

OTTAWA (CP)—The Supreme Court of Canada will rule on a challenge to legality of freight-rate reductions put into effect May 1 on rail traffic between eastern and western Canada.

The issue was sent to court Thursday by Mr. Justice C. H. Locke, who gave Canada Steamship Lines permission to ask the court to disallow a $7,000,000 yearly rate reduction order of the Board of Transport Commissioners.

Asia Needs Food To Resist Communism

OTTAWA (CP)—R. G. (Nik) Cavell, Canada's Colombo-plan administrator, says he is fully convinced the democracies, with real sympathy and understanding, can maintain human freedom in Asia without a third world war.

But, he quickly warned, the struggle against communism grows more bitter by the day. The democracies could not afford to allow totalitarian power to become any stronger.

The Communists, he said in a speech prepared for delivery before the Ottawa Women's Canadian Club, are determined to win Asia. Canadians and other freedom-loving men and women must realize that no Communist will help them bring about a truly free world.

"It should be obvious now to anyone who will look facts in the face," he said, "that they (the Communists) are not working for a peaceful world except under their complete domination."

"They are attacking us in Korea, causing us considerable trouble in Malaya, in Viet Nam and in Burma. They are working hard to disrupt orderly government in all the countries of Southeast Asia."

"The vast manpower of China is being used against us and we are beginning to see what a serious threat to the free world was brought about by our loss of that country."

That was why the Colombo plan, the Commonwealth plan to help Southeast Asia build up its economy and provide more food for its people, was so important. The Marshall Plan program had helped stem the Communist tide in Europe. The Colombo Plan, in which Canada was participating, might do the same for Asia.

Mr. Cavell described the projects being undertaken in Asia with the help of the $5,000,000, 000 six-year Commonwealth Colombo Plan, to which Canada is contributing $25,000,000 this year—the same contribution she made a year ago.

New dams and irrigation projects are springing up, said Mr. Cavell. Rail lines are being overhauled and hydro plants developed. Many of the continent's rich deposits of coal, iron, bauxite, graphite, chromite, manganese and other minerals are being scraped from the ground to build up the economy.

Canadian money helped revive work on one big irrigation and hydro project that had been stopped for want of funds.

But more had to be done. Greater bonds of understanding with the free nations of Asia

Rule of 26 Cards Should Guide Bidding

Do you know the rule of eleven? How about Culbertson's rule of eight, Winslow's rule of twelve, Courtenay's rule of eighteen, Culbertson's rule of N minus one?

I may as well get in the act, too, and I hereby devise the "Rule of 26." The others are undoubtedly helpful in certain situations, and especially the rule of eleven, but the rule of 26 applies to all bidding and all play.

It's not my rule, but the rule of all good bridge players. I'm just calling it to your attention. It's simply this. When you bid a hand or when you play a hand, you should think and act in terms of 26 cards, not just your own 13. Think of your partner's hand and your own as one unit.

There are many angles to this question. Here is one of them. Many players, holding a weak hand, don't have the imagination to realize how strong partner's hand may be. It works the other way, too. Holding a strong hand, they can't imagine how weak partner may be.

Look at today's deal. Holding the South hand, would you go on to six diamonds as Mr. Masters did? Although he held just one king and one queen, no aces and no singletons, he felt the slam bid was automatic. And he was absolutely right.

I am not pointing it out as anything sensational. It stands out. Or it should. But, honestly, how many do you think would make it? From my observations, a very small percentage.

Mr. Masters merely used his imagination. His partner's three spade bid and subsequent five diamond bid said this: "Part-

BBC Allows Nudes on Television

LONDON (AP)—The staid BBC agreed today to let French show girls be televised without their bras—but only if the act originates in Paris where such things are customary.

Last year the French girls were imported to London for a TV show. Shocked BBC officials sent out a hurried call for a batch of bosom covers.

A Paris show scheduled to be relayed to Britain in July brought the problem again. BBC said this time it didn't want to bust up the show. Semi-nude show girls are okay in Paris and BBC wants to retain the true Parisian atmosphere.

One small precaution will be taken, however. BBC will send along its own camera crews to select the angles from which the girls will be televised.

Engineers Make Trip Over Hart Highway

VANCOUVER (CP)—First business trip from Dawson Creek to Vancouver over the John Hart Highway was completed Wednesday with arrival here of a group of engineers of the West Coast Transmission Co. Ltd.

Engineers started at Fort St. John, travelling 50 miles along the Alaska Highway to Dawson Creek.

They covered 244 miles of the new highway from Dawson Creek to Prince George "with one minor interruption."

George Phillips, engineer for the company which plans to build a natural gas pipeline from Alberta's Peace River district to Vancouver, said the interruption was Parsnip River. Phillips headed the land survey party on projected pipeline route.

They had to be built up. Japan also had to be considered.

"Many countries in Asia fear a revived Japan might lead again to that Japanese aggression under which they suffered so terribly through the period of the Second World War.

"On the other side of the medal, there are over 82,000,000 people on the tiny Japanese islands, and unless they can export their manufactured goods and so buy food, they cannot live today any more than they could before the Second World War. . . . It is surely obvious that . . . only by the granting of concessions in the world trading picture can the Japanese be enabled to live."

ner, I am willing to contract for 11 tricks, knowing nothing about your hand except that you have four diamonds . . . any four diamonds."

Mr. Masters looked at his hand. He had more than four diamonds. He had five. He had the king of diamonds. Mrs. Keen must have counted on losing a trick to that card and still winning 11 tricks. The queen of clubs was an added value, unknown to Mrs. Keen.

As a matter of fact, although she had a fine hand, she had little enough for the kind of bidding she put out. In any case, Mr. Masters was able to throw his losing spade on dummy's fifth club and easily take 12 tricks.

Planned
S-Canada Defence

OTTAWA (AP) — The government-wide air defence for Canada and the states will be held during the week of July 19, the United States Air Force announced today.

The exercise, designed to test all military and civilian agencies involved in air defence, will be carried out by about 250,000 persons, the Air Force said. In addition to regular units of the air defence commands of Canada and the U.S., the exercise will involve civilian ground observers and the radar net which stretches across the northern perimeters of the two countries.

The training manoeuvre—called "Exercise Signpost"—was planned and will be directed by Gen. Benjamin A. L. James, Air Vice-Marshal W. Chidlaw and Air Vice-Marshal A. L. James, respective commanders of the U.S. and Canadian defence commanders.

Miners Call For Raise in Gold Prices

TORONTO (CP)—J. A. H. Paterson, president of the Canadian Metal Mining Association, said today the problem of the gold reserves required to maintain trade and commerce between nations appears to produce consistently the answer that the only solution is to raise the price of gold.

Mr. Paterson, addressing the association's annual meeting, added that the questions in regard to gold are when the price will go up, and what can be done to assist gold producers in the meantime.

The consensus among gold producers appeared to be that the government could give substantial assistance in two ways: "First, by allowing private ownership of gold in Canada by simply rescinding that part of the Bank of Canada Act whereby the government has power to compel the surrender of gold at $20.67 an ounce;

"Second, by permitting producers who elect to sell gold to sell it fine instead of having to debase it.

"We appreciate that our government has commitments under the International Monetary Fund, but possibly some changes are already overdue in the policies of that fund."

V. C. Wansbrough, managing director of the association, said the real demand is for fine gold, both at home and abroad. Accordingly, the objective should be to ensure that fine gold can be exported without the expense and delays involved in previous debasing, and to ensure that Canadians and foreigners may purchase and hold gold in Canada if they so desire. He added:

"It is significant, as the International Monetary Fund reports, that of all the gold produced in the free world during 1951, less than 15 per cent found its way into official monetary reserves."

FLOOR PRICE
In regard to possible immediate measures to help Canadian mines, Mr. Wansbrough commented:
"One expedient which has been applied to many Canadian industries is the establishment of a floor price. Such a suggestion is surely not unreasonable in the case of an industry which is unable to pass on to purchasers any part of the loss of revenue entailed in the swing of the exchange pendulum."

(The present official price for gold is $35 an ounce U.S. funds, which, with the change in value of Canadian funds, has reduced the price in Canada.)

Mr. Wansbrough said that the bringing out of selected immigrants from Europe for work in the mining industry has worked out well, and in the last four years some 6000 men have been brought out and settled, with some 5000 dependents.

No labor shortage was expected this year and there were no plans for a large-scale immigration plan.

Mr. Paterson made the following comment on base metals:
"While there may be some easing in prices as demonstrated by the recent drop in prices of lead and silver, the expectation is that demand for base metals should be maintained at a good level as long as the defence program and U.S. stockpiling are continued.

"The best way to ensure peace in these times is to be prepared for any emergency, and this means huge defence expenditures for a long time. The important point is that the metal hysteria of 1951 has passed and, unless there is a world war, which now seems unlikely, or a political move to reduce military programs, metal markets should be much more orderly and under less pressure than during the last year."

picture. Up here in Canada we regard a too frequent or too wide a smile in politics as the guide Scots used to regard a lad who "whistled" on the Sabbath.

But while we don't go overboard for smiles, we don't like the gloom-and-doom artists either. Look at the brief career of Arthur Meighen, who had the keenest brain (said Mr. King) of any of Mr. King's opponents. Bennett, a scowler, lasted just one term.

PEOPLE talk about Nye Bevan becoming leader of the Labor party in Britain, may be Prime Minister. I am not so sure. One reason is because Nye is often seen smiling, for all the world like a candidate for the U.S. Presidency. Another reason is because Bevan is by far the most powerful orator in the Labor party.

Several Labor party M.P.'s told me last year that Nye's genius as an orator would go against him in getting the leadership. "Especially since the days of Lloyd

PERMANENT POWER
About 75 per cent of the personal touch between physician and patient in New Zealand, is being destroyed, it was stated at a recent meeting in B.C., to discuss socialized medicine and hypertension. Mutual attraction possesses power, useful in human happiness as well as in restoration to health. Where some others are concerned, one can be indifferent for a lifetime.

George and Ramsay MacDonald our people deeply distrust the kind of speaker who can sway vast crowds by his oratory alone.

The British, including the Laborites, have an instinct which favors the safe men or the safe looking men. That is one reason why they get more P.M.'s like Stanley Baldwin, Chamberlain, or for that matter, Attlee than they get Churchills or Bevans or Lloyd Georges.

Melodious Tootle Warns Pedestrians

OTTAWA (C)—The Japanese say it differently—at least it sounds that way when their language is translated into English.

A translation of a digest of Japanese traffic laws, reprinted in an Ottawa Transportation Commission publication, has some gems in the police Japanese fashion. They include these paragraphs:

"At the rise of the hand of policeman, stop rapidly. Do not pass him by or otherwise disrespect him.

"When a passenger of the foot hoves in sight, tootle the horn trumpet melodiously at first. If he still obstacles your passage, tootle him with more vigor and express by word of mouth the warning 'Hi, Hi'.

"Beware of the wandering horse that she shall not take fright as you pass him. Do not explode the exhaust box at him. Go smoothly by, or stop at the roadside till he pass away. Give big space to the festive dogs that make sport on the roadway. Avoid entanglement of the dog with your wheel-spokes.

"Go soothingly on the grease-mud, as there lurk the skid-demon. Press the brake of the foot as you roll around the corner to save the collapse and the tie-up."

Great Future for Rupert Forecast by CNR Speaker

Construction of a railway from Terrace to Kitimat was decided upon by the CNR after officials investigated the need and advantages to the development of the resources of the area.

S. W. Fairweather, CNR vice-president in charge of resources and development, told Rotary Club members here yesterday that the company decided there should be a rail line to the Aluminum Company of Canada project at Kitimat after a thorough study.

Because of Prince Rupert's location, said Mr. Fairweather, and the fact the city has the most northerly port available on this continent "there is a great future for your city."

"We know that Prince Rupert is destined to be much greater with the great increase in industry in this area.

"You people can help in that development by sound, sensible planning, but I think the emphasis should be on sound and sensible. You must have regard to realities . . ."

Mr. Fairweather said his department is always willing to help in planning and stressed that the CNR "has a very strong responsibility in keeping in step with development."

"We discussed with Alcan their request for a rail line and decided it should, and would be constructed."

In answer to criticism about construction of the Terrace-Kitimat rail line, he said the railway must progress with development and it was our duty to investigate.

"We had been speculating on the Alcan and Columbia Cellulose developments before they moved in and our department knew then, as now, that some day the great natural resources of this part of Canada would be developed and make a great future for you here."

Accompanying Mr. Fairweather on his trip here were W. W. Maxwell and K. M. Ralston, both of Montreal and L. E. Ostrander of Winnipeg. All three are with the resources and development divi-

Perplexing Dispute Seen In Fishing

Raw fish price. "I have to be lower this year if there's going to be a normal operation, is the stand taken by the Fisheries Association of B.C., Vancouver.

Reason for this stand, is given in an outline of the economic situation facing the B.C. fishing industry.

1. Drastic decline in exports because of exchange and high price.

2. Loss of the British contract for 1952.

3. Continuing reductions in competitive food prices.

4. Increasing consumer resistance at home and abroad.

5. A large carry-over of the 1951 pack.

Following a recent convention in Vancouver, operators decided to enter into agreements for the 1952 season on the basis of 1951 agreements with shoreworkers and tendermen and an average one-cent reduction in fish prices.

Fishermen, however, are demanding an overall 30 percent increase in wages and a five-cent increase in fish prices.

They have rejected the offer that the operators, on recommendation of their union negotiating committee.

BC Packers Ships Catch 25 Whales

VANCOUVER—Five whalers, British Columbia Packers ships out of Coal Harbor on Northern Vancouver Island, have caught a total of 25 whales, company officials reported Thursday.

Among those caught since the ships went out earlier this year were sperm, blue, thin back, and hump whales.

Temperature Hits Freezing On Prairies

Special to The Daily News
WINNIPEG—During the past week temperatures were slightly above normal for a few days but fell sharply in the past three days. Freezing or near freezing temperatures were reported at many points in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, according to the weekly crop report of the Canadian National Railways.

Light rains, in some cases accompanied by snow, were recorded in several areas with good rains being registered at a few points. As a result crop prospects here improved somewhat. Rains were far short of the million dollar variety, however, especially in the southern prairie sections.

Prince Albert and North Battleford received 56 inches and 1.10 inches respectively and have now above normal precipitation.

Since April, Kindersley, Melfort, Kamsack and Swan River have also had slightly above normal spring rainfall. Fortunately reserve moisture from last fall was above average in most sections of the prairie provinces.

Completion of coarse grain and flax seeding which was deliberately delayed pending additional rainfall is now proceeding in the areas involved.

Weather was dry and hot in the Okanagan and growth has been rapid. Soft fruits are developing nicely. Previous estimates of these fruits will be exceeded and no damage to fruits is reported.

CCF Condemns Plans of Seats Redistribution

OTTAWA (CP)—The CCF national executive said here that if tentative plans for redistribution of federal seats in Manitoba and Saskatchewan are adopted, "one of the most blatant pieces of wholesale gerrymandering in the nation's history will be perpetrated."

A statement by the party's executive following a week-end meeting said that proposed electoral maps for the two provinces, as drawn by federal Liberal members, would abolish the ridings of six CCF members.

Under redistribution on the basis of the 1951 census, Manitoba will lose two seats and Saskatchewan three. Tentative plans have been submitted to provincial sub-committees of members by their chairmen.

The executive statement said that the plans, as reported, would abolish six ridings held by CCF members and one riding held by a Progressive Conservative, and combine another riding with that of a CCF member.

"The people of Canada will not believe that it is sheer coincidence that no Liberal seat is to be abolished, but only the seats of opposition members and of CCF members in particular.

"If this plan is put through and if the pattern is followed in other provinces, the people of Canada can only conclude that the Liberal party is out to eliminate effective opposition and to weaken Canadian democracy."

The executive said it understood the ridings of the following CCF members would be abolished: Percy Wright (Melfort), Hazen Argue (Assinibola), Ross Thatcher (Moose Jaw), William Bryce (Selkirk), Alistair Stewart (Winnipeg-North), and Stanley Knowles (Winnipeg-North Centre).
