Adding Another Chapter

USS HAIDA, famous fighting destroyer of the Second World War, is adding another chapter to her record as she carries out her first tour of operations in the Korean theatre. Among her achievements has been the destruction of a train behind the enemy lines in North Korea. This photo of the Haida was taken from another Canadian destroyer, the Crusader, as the latter arrived in a patrol area off the west coast of Korea.

City Opposes Installation Here Of $400,000 Diesel Units

Decision Reached At Special Meet

The city of Prince Rupert will oppose the Northern B.C. Power Company's application to the Public Utilities Commission for permission to install a $400,000 additional diesel generating unit here.

Prisoners Complain Of 'Life'

By The Canadian Press

PANMUNJOM.— Second group of 100 disabled but jubilant allied prisoners came back from the North Korean prison stockades today as some of the British Commonwealth and American soldiers exchanged Monday landed in Japan on their way home.

Today's group of 12 Britons, 35 Americans, three Turks and 50 South Koreans told of seriously sick and wounded comrades still in Red prison camps and of death marches over frozen highways during the bitter winters of 1950, 1951 and 1952.

Stories of many more dangerously ill allied soldiers still in Red captivity indicated the Communists do not plan to free all sick and wounded as they had agreed to do.

The new development suggested that the Communists were failing once again on a solemn agreement.

Sergeant Walter H. Mitchell of Greenville, Tenn., said about 20 serious hospital cases were left behind.

"Medical attention was no good at all. Very few guys got any."

Statements tended to confirm a growing suspicion that the first allied troops, at least, are only "showcase samples" of better Communist treatment.

All Groups Wanted in June Parade

A call for all organizations not already invited to join in the Coronation Day parade was made today by Major W. C. Poulton, of the Salvation Army, on behalf of the Coronation celebration committee.

"All organizations are welcome," Major Poulton said. "The more, the merrier. Those like the Elks and the Shriners which have colorful costumes will do much to add to the general spectacle. But it is necessary that they submit their names right away as we have to plan on what length the parade will be."

Those interested are asked to get in touch with F. E. Anfield who is in charge of celebration arrangements.

Rewards Offered To Apprehend Arsonists

VICTORIA (CP)—Attorney-General Robert Bonner today announced rewards for information leading to the conviction of dynamite and arsonists in British Columbia's Doukhobor country.

The rewards are $2,500 for information leading to the conviction of any person using dynamite or other explosives and $1,000 for arsonists.

Traffic Expected to Roll Over Giant Causeway Late Next Year

By IRVING C. WHYNOT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX (CP)—Work on the Canso causeway is ahead of schedule and traffic is expected to start rolling across late in 1954.

The massive causeway, matched only by two others in the world, will provide a direct link between the Nova Scotia mainland and the highly-industrialized but beautiful island of Cape Breton.

Being built by the federal and provincial governments at an estimated cost of $22,750,000, the causeway will span 4,200 feet of water but, with its two approaches, actually will be about 7,000 feet long.

DEPUTY LANDS MINISTER RETIRES AFTER 39 YEARS

VICTORIA (CP)—Retirement of George Melrose, B.C.'s deputy lands minister, was announced today by Lands Minister Robert Sommers.

The 60-year-old deputy, who has been 39 years with the government, will become a practising consultant with headquarters in Vancouver.

'LIGHT-A-BUMPER'

Jaycees Campaign For Safety Project

The Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce plans to make the city safer for driving by applying a high-grade reflector tape to the rear bumper of every car.

Details of the "lite-a-bumper" campaign were worked out last night by a Jaycee committee headed by Bill Gordon.

Before the project is undertaken, however, Jaycees are looking for a sponsoring garage in the city which will supply the tape, known as Scotch-lite.

In return for the sponsorship, Jaycees will use the garage as headquarters for applying the tape, work which will be done by members themselves. Sponsor will benefit by publicity and attracting new business.

Canvassing city garages for sponsorship are Eric Grant and Fred Aston. Jack Breen, fourth member of the committee is in charge of publicity.

City Parent-Teacher Associations recently sponsored a drive to have all students' bicycles serviced with Scotch-lite reflective tape, a project which has met with much success and enthusiasm.

The "lite-a-bumper" campaign began as a safety program by Jaycees in the United States, spread to eastern Canada and now to B.C. It is acclaimed by motorists in both countries as one of the greatest safety campaigns ever organized.

A serviced car will have an inch-wide strip of red reflector tape, which is more brilliant than light, attached lengthwise across the rear bumper.

Here's what Jaycees claim the project will do:

- Save lives.
- Reduce automobile collision property losses.
- Promote better driving practices.

Jaycees here particularly claim that cars serviced with the tape will be much easier seen when parked. This is one of major hazards in Prince Rupert because of narrow streets.

"We hope to prove that by use of this tape on a bumper, use of parking lights can be avoided," said a spokesman.

Servicing the car will cost $1 to the motorist. Profits will be used to further other community efforts.

Doctors Operate on Spot To Free Wreck Victims

DILLON, S.C. (CP)—At least five persons were killed and 125 injured when a 17-car streamliner bound from Miami to New York careened off the rails near here Monday night and piled up in a mass of twisted wreckage.

Many injured were taken to hospital in critical condition.

Two Canadians injured were identified as Ethel Love and Mrs. E. Morrison, both of Montreal. Their condition was not immediately known.

Rescue workers continued to probe the wreckage and officials said more bodies may be found.

Some lay injured for hours, pinned in shattered cars of the Atlantic Coast Lines fast passenger train "The Champion."

Skilled rescue workers called from beds, used acetylene torches to reach the victims. Doctors crawled after them, sometimes operating on the spot to free injured.

Part of the train caught fire and burning oil emergency lights and cutting torches cast a weird glow over the tragic scene.

The wreck occurred shortly before midnight, about 25 miles from Rennett, N.C., where two ACL passenger trains crashed December 16, 1943, killing 72 persons and injuring 187.

The train carried an estimated 300 passengers, many of them vacationers returning from the winter in Florida. It was scheduled to reach New York today.

Started to Build Museum For Valuable Collection

Plans for a new museum for Prince Rupert took rudimentary shape last night as the largest meeting of members in years knuckled down to ensuring the city does the most valuable collection of Indian relics and artifacts in B.C.

OSCAR LEVANT SUSPENDED FOR BREAKING CONTRACT

NEW YORK (CP)—Concert pianist Oscar Levant has been suspended by the American Federation of Musicians for failing to fulfill recent contracts to perform in western Canada.

James C. Petrillo, president of the union, said Levant was suspended for failing to honor contracts for concert appearances in Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon and Calgary from April 7 to 13.

Man Saves Stewardess, Passenger in Plane Crash

FRANCISCO (CP)—A huge plane carrying 10 persons in San Francisco Bay crashed and a flash late night, minutes after 44 passengers at San Francisco airport.

Survived, four were killed and five are missing.

Of five and five passengers the Western Air Lines were making a short low-mile hop from San Francisco to Oakland—last light from Los Angeles.

Survived were: Beverly Nelson, 27, Clear Shore, Mich., who had no serious injury.

Adams, 21, of Fairbanks, Alaska, was in the cockpit when rescued.

Bodies were recovered. The plane, one of the types of passenger craft, was in 15 feet of water in the northern part of the Bay, four miles from San Francisco.

Devon C. Peterson, 23, Alameda Naval Air Station, was rescued with a line from a boat and rescued Miss Adams.

He said he swam for 15 minutes in oil-slicked water floating bits of plywood, clothing and plane seats were all that remained of the giant plane on the surface.

"We were lucky," he said. "We found them right away."

Search for the missing four continued through the night under light flares.

C. W. Hollingsworth, Western Air Lines station manager in Oakland, said the DC-6B was making a "routine approach" and had given no indication of trouble. Cause of the crash is unknown.

G.E. Beaton, New Engineer Hired by City

Hiring of G. E. Beaton of Victoria as city engineer of Prince Rupert was approved at last night's special council meeting.

Mr. Beaton, who is 60, is highly recommended by top engineers in the province, according to letters read by City Clerk R. W. Long.

Recommendations were received from the chief engineer of the provincial public works department, and from the engineer-in-chief of HMC Dockyard at Victoria.

Salary approved by council was $450 a month.

Mr. Beaton was assistant engineer for British Pacific Properties Ltd. in West Vancouver for eight years; assistant engineer for six years for Navy Esquimalt and for several years resident engineer for the provincial department of public works under whose supervision the Hart Highway was constructed.

At present employed by the Department of National Defence at Tofino, Mr. Beaton will advise his date of arrival here.

Reduces Sentences

CP)—The Queen is pardoning prisoners in penitentiaries and an act of mercy linked with the historic importance of the coronation, an official disclosure Monday.

Speaking, it will cut off each year of a sentence of May 29, four days for the coronation, thus hastening the freedom for others.

Dredge The Coastal Waters

ACTING on a letter from the Fisheries Association of B.C., E. T. Applewhaite, MP for Skeena, recently made a proposal to the public works minister at Ottawa which could lead to some much needed, though minor, dredging in our coastal waters not previously contemplated.

While dredging of Delkatla Slough at Masset and of Inverness Passage has been officially approved, there are other points where similar work on a smaller scale is also called for. As mentioned in the Fisheries Association letter that Mr. Applewhaite read in parliament, one place is the shallow Skidegate Channel which offers the only route to the mainland from the west side of Queen Charlotte Islands without taking the long way around the north or south end.

The letter pointed out that during the heavy run of pinks last year on the islands' west coast, there were delays in reaching mainland canneries because of bad weather on the outside passage and the inability of boats to navigate through the channel.

Another point where dredging would help is the harbor at Dodge Cove on Digby Island. There a small dredging operation is required to give boats a suitable berthing space at low tide.

As Mr. Applewhaite observed, there is no question of another St. Lawrence seaway being involved in these projects. Although important in their own way, they are minor undertakings which could be done all the more cheaply with dredging equipment already in the area for the bigger operations.

Small and timely expenditures of this sort are actually better described as economies and, in bringing up the subject, Mr. Applewhaite was speaking in the best interests of not only the local residents immediately affected but the fishing industry as a whole.

Get on The Voters' List

IS YOUR NAME on the B.C. provincial voters' list?

If you did not vote in the last provincial election, your name will not appear on the voters' list June 9. Nor does registration for the Dominion or municipal elections mean that your name is on the provincial list.

Newcomers to B.C. and young people just reaching voting age should get on the list. It's good business for them and the community. Here in the Prince Rupert district, full registration will assure an honest polling of public opinion.

Moreover, with a full list we can show Canada an up-to-date registration of our populace. The last census may have been inaccurate. If all qualified adults register for voting, we have just one more bit of official evidence as to our size. It will help in attracting new investments to the district, in assuring a fair adjustment of grants which are made on a population basis, and in convincing Victoria that we are alert to what is going on down there.

This is an important election. If you have a right to vote, you should be sure to exercise it.

Ray REFLECTS and REMINISCES

When the time comes for the meek to inherit the earth, taxes will be so high they won't even want it.

Members of the legislature do not feel well after brief visits to the provincial mental hospital. Appetites will be affected for some days. Overcrowding amounts to forty-six percent. Conditions will be worse this year than last unless some action is taken. Some of the MLA say they hesitate to ever make a return visit which is a reason if ever there was one.

The Crown Prince of Japan has already crossed Canada one way. It seems he was delighted. Home bound, another month or longer, he will be west bound. A lot of interesting country, up that way.

As I See It

by Elmore
Philpott

To India, Russia?

READERS have asked when I take off on another trip?

Answer—not till after we get two crucial elections over this year.

I have a deep, double interest in both our elections this year. I want to help elect a good stable government for B.C.—which has more modern ideas than "back to the little red schoolhouse." That seems to me exactly the same kind of thinking that produced the Bible-blaspheming Malan—the South African throwback to the dark ages.

But I promised key people I would do my level best to get our Prime Minister to make a good-visit to India and Pakistan. I got him to the point where he said in parliament he will go as soon as he can. That statement has been warmly approved by the Liberals, Conservatives and CCF. So it looks now as if I will have to do my bit to make sure Uncle Louis gets re-elected P.M. just to make sure I do get him out there. I'm a very stubborn fellow.

BUT NOW that peace is breaking out it looks as if I may live long enough to make the newspaper trip I have always most wanted to make.

To visit and really see the countries behind the Iron Curtain—especially Russia and China.

Life is a funny thing. I was offered a newspaper trip to Russia by the late J. E. Atkinson of the Toronto Star. That was back in 1937, when just about everybody and his brother was going over there saying "it's wonderful" or "it's terrible." I said "no" and instead moved west to B.C.

Then after the Hitler war the U.S. State Department invited three top Russian journalists to visit America. They spent a few days in Canada at the finish and I had the great honor of speaking with them before vast mass meetings in Toronto and Montreal. I told them that this was the message they should take back to their own people from the ordinary people here:

"That if Russia or her allies attacked us or our allies we would certainly fight them and they should know that in advance; but that the Canadian people would never support or condone an attack on Russia."

If they had listened to me—and passed it on to the right quarters—we would never have had the ghastly war in Korea.

THEY INVITED me to Russia then. I could have gone behind the Iron Curtain many times in the past few years—but always on the wrong kind of missions. I was personally invited to all the Stockholm peace meetings—and their successors, in Mexico City, Warsaw, Peking and Vienna.

I would not touch them with a twenty-foot pole—for I would not take part in any way, shape or form in any Communist peace front. I know many sincere people did join them. But it seems to me that these phony peace fronts (like all the other camouflage Communist agencies) have done enormous harm to the cause of east-west relationship.

By making themselves nothing but propaganda agencies for the zig-zag Russian world line—spreading even the fantastic falsehoods about germ warfare that would not deceive a ten-year-old child—they have made suspect the very word "peace."

I WON'T CROSS the Iron Curtain until I can go on the same terms as I have gone to other countries—paying my own way out of newspaper income and seeing what I want to see—and writing the good and bad.

Efforts to cause the people of Canada to become greater consumers of fish are on a wide scale. This had been done before but never with what might be thought conspicuous success. Today, in Ottawa, nothing is being forgotten or overlooked, so far as known—unless it is to show the people of Canada how best to cook and serve. For fish can be made a dandy snack, under certain conditions.

Most of the old flag and marching songs of the Boer war featured the election day parade in Pretoria last week. Oom Paul and the republic are over and done with, but it was a good smart scrap, anyway. The cape still has her problems, but none are without solution.

THIS CARTOON BY ROBERT LAPALME of the Montreal Le Devoir, has won the fourth annual national newspaper award for cartooning. The judges agreed on Lapalme "for his incisive comment on individualistic style on public affairs—national, international and provincial." The cartoon shows Finance Minister Abbott as a prestidigitator producing a surplus out of the taxpayers' pocket.

Moscow Paper Says Communists Going Into Africa

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(AP News Analyst)

Communists, all set to raise cain in central Africa despite their peace talks in Moscow, now are or soon will be chalking up slogans on the walls of buildings throughout a vast area south of the Sahara. The slogans will say: "Africa for the Africans," "foreigners, go home," "we demand freedom."

This intelligence does not come from Africa. It comes from Moscow. It has been announced in the Soviet press, in an article which also pays fond attention to the prospects for the "strike movement" in the dark continent. Strikes in the Soviet Union are illegal, but they are a political instrument in the hands of Soviet agents in colonial countries.

All this adds up to what appears a deliberate Communist attempt to turn the turbulent politics of central and southern Africa into a question of white man against Negro—an all-out racial war.

South of the Sahara there are some 100,000,000 Negro or dark-skinned peoples. There are 3,000,000 whites who rule with varying degrees of intelligence ranging from very high to very low.

Much Communist propaganda is being levelled against the British plan for federation of Northern and Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

Says the Moscow newspaper Trud: "The political consciousness of the African workers already is sufficiently developed to understand that federation will lead to still more efforts to exploit them." This line now will go into Africa, along with the slogans outlined.

It is a pattern for chaos.

POLITICAL REVIEW

The Editor,
The Daily News:
A review of politics, political parties and politicians, during the past half century in B.C. may serve a useful purpose at the present time.

Prior to 1902, party politics in Provincial Government was never applied.

Sir Richard McBride, who was born in New Westminster and raised on the shores of the Fraser River, worked his way from a cannery worker on the Fraser to become the first premier to form a government on party lines in B.C.

That was a Conservative government that ruled the Gessing Job's Daughters, the Kinsmen Club, the Canadian Legion, the Civic Centre, the Columbia Cellulose Company, the Girl Guides, and to all volunteer canvassers and workers.

The same fate met his successor, the Hon. John Oliver, who also died while holding the office of premier.

He was commonly known as "Honest John," a farmer, who in turn was succeeded by his minister of education, the Hon. Dr. McLean who for many years taught school in Rossland and Greenwood prior to his elevation to the medical profession and politics.

The Conservative party led by Dr. S. F. Tolmie succeeded in defeating the McLean government and held office during the days of the dark depression, only to be relieved from further responsibility by the Hon. T. D. Pattullo and his Liberal followers under the banner of Work and Wages. It was reinforced by a group, the victims of the depression, known as CCFers.

A declaration of war on depression and poverty is still the slogan of the CCF, who have held a front line position now for 20 years but never had an opportunity to form a government, but succeeded as a pressure group in forcing the government to implement much of their proposed legislation.

The B.C. Legislature during the past 50 years, have pretty well kept pace with economic pressure and social requirements. But let none forget the dynamo that generated the power, that helped so many, was organized labor.

GEO. B. CASEY.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

There's already a legend on Parliament Hill that Newfoundlanders have a contempt for namby-pamby politics and that they like a robust overtone to their campaigns.

In the coming Federal general election that's just what they're going to get. A generous display of fireworks is reasonably assured in the Island province. They may even be sufficiently spectacular to hold the interest of the rest of the nation.

The reason that this prediction can be made confidently is the fact that over the week-end Gordon Francis Higgins, QC, OBE, MP for St. John's East, positively and almost vehemently denied published press reports stating that he proposed to retire from public life. Higgins declared definitely that he would be a candidate for re-election in the PC interest.

The wide degree of general interest in Higgins' repudiation of the unsolicited attempts of the press to retire him arises out of the fact that he is one of the more picturesque individuals in the House of Commons. He is Irish to the core. That means that he possesses ready wit and instant fighting qualities in approximately equal degree. So far the House of Commons has witnessed mainly the former attribute. But down in his own province Higgins has got himself involved in a lively political quarrel. And the battle which is shaping up down there once the coming campaign gets under way promises to make a Donnybrook Fair seem like a quiet Sunday afternoon in comparison.

The trouble started back in the last Newfoundland provincial election when Higgins undertook to lend an organizing hand to Major P. J. Cashin, then provincial leader of the PC's. All things considered, the job Higgins did was regarded by Ottawa standards as effective and reasonably successful. But down in Newfoundland Cashin speedily made no secret of the fact that he wasn't impressed by the Higgins technique. A split resulted and first the PC members in the legislature and then the PC provincial association itself supported Higgins. When the controversy was over Cashin found that, instead of being a PC provincial leader, he had become an independent in politics.

That's the origin of the present trouble. When the local press reported, without mentioning the source of its information, that Higgins was quitting the political arena, Higgins' partisans in these parts immediately suspected that the canard had spread from the Cashin faction. Higgins lost no time in denying it. There is a further rumor that Cashin may resign his legislative seat in order to oppose Higgins federally. If that happens, the contest will be one of the most spectacular to be fought anywhere in the nation. It will ensure at least a share of the national spotlight being trained on Newfoundland during the campaign.

Gray, member of a good mission that visited America earlier this year, lives by her exports, essential to her economic and, barring war, in high competitive years she will have to fight for exports. In my opinion America offers the best market.

Harold Winch May Resume Public Life

Harold Winch, recently resigned leader of the provincial CCF party "is not through yet" with public life, George Hills, Prince Rupert MLA told members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce last night.

In a talk on the proceedings at the recent sitting of the B.C. Legislature, Mr. Hills forecast that "with care, Harold Winch will yet return to public life of this province."

In his review of the House session, Mr. Hills termed the opening of the Legislature "a colorful and spectacular occasion... the so-called pomp and ceremony was not at all overdone in my estimation."

But Mr. Hills was critical of the unorthodox way in which several procedures were carried out by the Social Credit government.

He cited the nomination of the Speaker, moved and seconded both by the party in power... "the only time in the history of our government this has been done."

The Speech from the Throne also was adopted on motion and seconded by cabinet ministers... "something else contrary to principles."

Mr. Hills outlined some procedures of parliament and recounted social events in connection with the house sitting.

He described the fall of the house (defeated by opposition to Bill 79, the "Rolston Formula") as "something very imminent."

"We all sensed that it was coming," he said.

Mr. Hills said he got the most publicity in southern newspapers when he called the Premier "a jack-in-the-box."

A GROUP OF LONDON DESIGNERS called the "Big Eleven" has designed a series of gowns for wear at formal evening functions of Coronation year. Victor Stiebel, designer to Princess Margaret and the Duchess of Kent, has fashioned with classic simplicity this "occasion" dress. In cream slipper satin brocaded with gold roses, the strapless bodice moulded to the figure, the huge skirt draped in front and billowing back to a full train, it makes a perfect background for heavy, heirloom jewelry.

Pint-Sized Furniture Welcomed by Children

By ELENORE LESTER

"Just like Mom's" or "just like Dad's" are magic words to youngsters. Child psychologists say this should be encouraged, for imitation is what helps children grow.

Toy manufacturers, alert to this desire, are putting out children's furniture in direct copies of adult styles.

At the recent Toy Fair in New York, a lot of high style modern furniture for the three-foot-high set was shown.

Pint-sized wrought iron dinette sets, phonograph cabinets with shelves for record albums, canvas beach chairs and even stacking stools of good quality and excellent design captivated adult eyes. Such furniture is bound to delight children and to give them a sense of comfort, order and privacy in their own playrooms.

One wrought iron dinette set, which will sell for about $22.95, has a drop leaf table with a red or pink thermoset plastic top. Swedish modern set for $26.95 is wheat finished and has arm chairs with inset plastic upholstered seats and backs. A Pennsylvania Dutch motif is brightly enameled on a waxed birch set for the youngster who prefers Provincial.

There is even a 24-inch square card table with a white enameled tubular steel frame, to sell at about $10.95, for the youngster who has "space problems" in his playroom and must fold away his set.

Color Film on Missionary Work To Be Shown Tonight

A vivid sound and color film depicting the work in various lands by the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada will be shown to the public in St. Andrew's Cathedral Wednesday night.

A highly-rated production which has been seen by thousands of people throughout Canada this year in the Church's observance of the Golden Jubilee of the Missionary Society, "The Power Within" relives the everyday scenes in the mission field.

"The Power Within" is seen at work in the lives of people in the Arctic, in Japan, in India and along the coast of British Columbia. Many of the scenes are taken in actual fields of work.

Running time of the 16 min. film is about 50 minutes. The story begins in St. Bartholomew's Church, Ottawa. In a sermon preached there, the work of the Church throughout the world is told in graphic detail. The preacher's few words of introduction lead into the pictorial story of the missionaries at work.

A wild west ride; the Bishop of the Arctic landing by plane in the frozen north; enthusiastic Japanese Christians building their own church; the teeming millions of India with a special glimpse of the leper community at Palampur; mission boats ploughing through the Pacific seas are a few extracts of "The Power Within" to be seen Wednesday at two showings—8 p.m. and 9:30 p.m.

Helping Crawly Films with production of the 1800-foot reel was the Rt. Rev. H. G. Watts, now Bishop of Caledonia.

District News

SMITHERS.—Support of a move for heavier penalties for dangerous or drunken driving was resolved by Smithers District Senior Chamber of Commerce at its recent meeting at Telkwa.

British Columbia Automobile Association's move for amendment to the Criminal Code covering such serious offences met with full approval.

It was agreed that too light penalties were being meted out by many magistrates. A higher percentage of apprehensions was advocated.

Adoption of common names now in use for several district points was recommended by the Chamber in answer to a letter from the B.C. Department of Lands and Forests. It was found in the 1950 district survey for a new map issue that names of local usage did not agree with names on existing maps.

Recently Smithers District Chamber touched off lengthy controversy in connection with the proposed post office department change of the name Fort MacLeod.

Smithers and Telkwa village commissions will be approached to take under consideration application for assistance on needed housing facilities under federal-provincial housing legislation.

Both communities have experienced steady growth the past few years. Pressing need for additional housing must be substantiated by the municipalities.

A letter from the B.C. Liquor Control Board informed the Chamber of further delay in action for a new liquor store at Smithers. The government is not doing anything in regard to new stores at the present time, the letter read.

Property for location of a new store was purchased last year by the Liquor Control Board.

Installation of a new telephone exchange system in the new federal building was considered an urgent matter by the Chamber of Commerce.

A telegram was sent to the minister of transport in answer to a letter received asking details of the board's complaints of service in earlier correspondence.

Population increase and difficulty in obtaining and retaining satisfactory switchboard operators to service Smithers and Telkwa subscribers warrants serious consideration of an automatic telephone system, the Chamber said.

AID ALMA MATER

EDMONTON (CP)—About 700 alumni of the Banff School of Fine Arts, living in Toronto and district, have staged an annual music recital at Toronto in recent years. This year's proceeds—$265—have been turned over to the university of Alberta for scholarship purposes.

PROP WASH...

In the past week, two of our students, Cecil Wing and Len Brewerton, made their solo flights, and Ralph Mathews and Dave Dowsley made their solo cross-country flights. Dave is now ready for his flying test.

Two new students, Lou Hagen and Jerry Irving, have signed up for instruction and Jim Munier has been endorsed for floats.

Three student pilots, Vic Grant, Joe Goscoe and Ralph Mathews are just waiting the arrival of the Department of Transport inspector to take their final written exams to obtain their private pilot's licences.

Lakelse Lake at Terrace is now open for landings during cross-country flights. This has become quite a welcome spot for a break in your cross-country flight from Prince Rupert to Terrace to Kitimat and back to Rupert.

LONDON, (CP)—First editions of "History of Canada" and "A Voyage to the Country of the Hurons," both written by Gabriel Sagard-Theodat and published in Paris in the middle of the 17th century, brought $1,240 at auction of the late Sir Leicester Harmsworth's library here.

Would Business Come to British Columbia if We had a Socialist Government?

Within the past two years more than one-and-a-half BILLIONS OF DOLLARS of investment capital has come to British Columbia.

It came because B.C. has plentiful natural resources, abundant power, a supply of labor, transportation by land, air and sea, and proximity to world markets.

STILL MORE IMPORTANT was the confidence investors had in the political climate which existed in British Columbia. Without governments which encourage free enterprise, sources of investment money on the scale needed by British Columbia simply dry up.

By no stretch of the imagination could we foresee investment capital being poured into this province should there be a Socialistic government in power.

Why? Because no one in his right mind would build up a prosperous business where a Government was talking of socializing all the important payroll industries.

The result? Business would STAY AWAY from British Columbia, and with it would go the source of jobs so necessary for our prosperity.

The decision of every thoughtful and progressive British Columbia voter in the forthcoming election must be to vote ONLY for those political parties that advocate and support freedom of enterprise.

Outdoors ... with Marty

Here is DICK GILKER again with another salmon taken without benefit of boat; this one, already well filled with herring, fell for a strip that was offered to him from the Cold Storage dock; nice work for one of our local lads, this consistent success! JIM BACON and MAGNUS HALVERSON at work by row-boat near the former's fish plant, no luck with salmon, but lots of cod.

The EBY'S, father and son, also handing out herring strips for any interested takers; and the STONES, DAVE and IONE, are using the Skeena for their Dolly Varden forays. IONE took a five-pounder on Wednesday and it proved no fluke by bringing in a six-pounder the following evening; it should be mentioned that if Montreal magazine, Hunting and Fishing in Canada, offers two merchandise prizes of $25 and $10 for the best fish of this and other species, and that nobody entered a Dolly last year, I would expect that Ione's fish will take a prize in that contest this year. Do not hesitate to enter any worthwhile fish; call your columnist if any information wanted.

Several people have asked for the name of a fish that takes trolled lures and bait in mid-depths. Generally it looks like a codfish, but the three dorsal fins are distinctly separate and the body color is strongly mottled rather than nearly solid like the cod. This fish does not show a barbel (whisker like is), and if one should be present it would be very tiny; it grows up to 36 inches but most around here are about 20 inches and weigh two or three pounds. His proper name is Theragra Chalcogramma, and for convenience is called Whiting, an Atlantic species to which he is not related; OK to eat him, for he is flavored similarly to codfish, and does not run to fat.

There is an excellent bait very little used here, just the ordinary ocean worm. He is easily obtained by tearing handfuls of seaweed from wherever it grows, and picking the worms out of the mass. Quite simple to get a dozen in a few minutes. Cut into one-inch pieces and fished on the bottom he is first choice of the succulent flounder, while the tasty rockfish grabs him eagerly a couple of fathoms higher up. I see no reason why other fish would not take him when trolled behind a spinner. Try it!

A strong complaint on promiscuous shooting has been lodged by a cottager on a nearby lake; this stuff is mighty dangerous and illegal, and it is likely that the offenders will meet big trouble. Never shoot from or across any highway or road, always be sure you know where your bullet or pellets will end up, do NOT shoot over water because bullets will ricochet more from water than anything else; do not shoot at seemingly empty buildings for there might be somebody working in or around them, and NEVER point your firearm at anything unless you mean to shoot. Treat all firearms as though they are loaded, and remember that the little .22 has killed both moose and man at a hundred yards range.

The general Fish Derby closes this weekend; evenings are plenty long to go looking for a big one to enter, and the season Salmon Derby will begin the same day. Feed is coming into the harbor and good sport may be expected from now forward.

A little known and easy place to reach for Steelheads is the Kispiox River. This water is north from Hazelton and anybody not knowing the spots will not fail to notice the signs and turnouts on this road, which

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—We present, herewith, our annual exclusive interview with George Weiss, general manager of New York Yankees, who is considered by many to be the smartest executive in baseball.

"Do you," George was asked, "think your boys can make it five in a row?"

"It sounds pretty hard to do, doesn't it?" George answered. "However, we would have won eight straight if they hadn't turned Johnny Babish loose on us."

With that, George clammed up again until next April. "We looked it up and discovered that in 1940, the year Detroit broke another Yankee string of four straight flags, Babish cooked the defending champs five times, mostly late in the race."

Our first memory of Babe Zaharias was as a basketball player. If you think she could golf and do many other assorted things well, you should have seen that gal play forward.

They brought the Babe up to Dallas from Beaumont, Tex., in 1929 or '30 to play on an insurance company team which was about the best in the country. This team went out and got 'em, and it decided the Babe had outgrown her home town.

As we recall, she was supposed to be 17 at the time, somewhat on the skinny side. She didn't look as though she had much business on the same floor with some of her full-blown teammates and opponents.

But she stepped right into that tough league and quickly proved herself one of the very best.

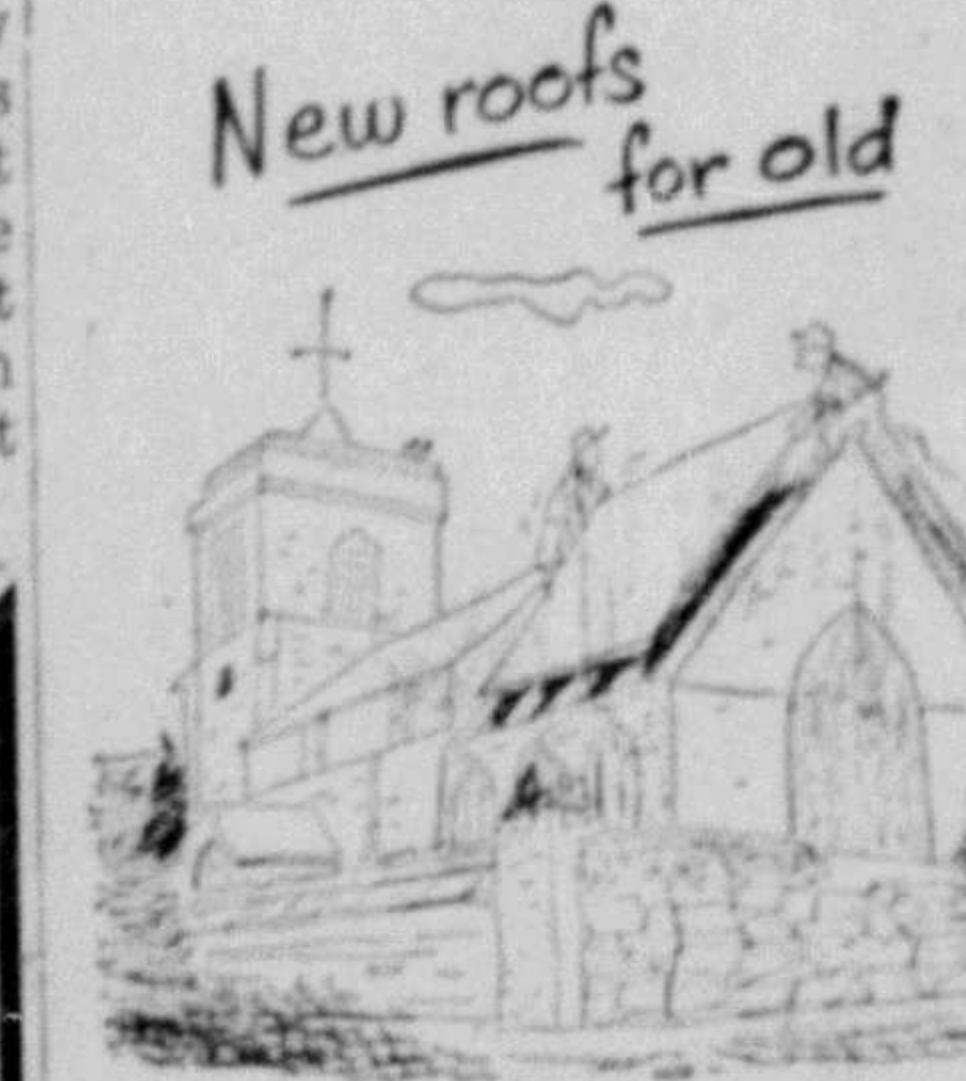

Since then the world has come to know the remarkable girl who now is back home again, sick.

Tiny Japanese Wins Historic Boston Race

BOSTON (CP)—Japan's Tiny Keizo Yamada, 25-year-old mining engineer who weighs 108 pounds, shaved six minutes, 48 seconds off the historic Boston Marathon record Monday with a smashing 2:13:51 performance against a brilliant international field of 158.

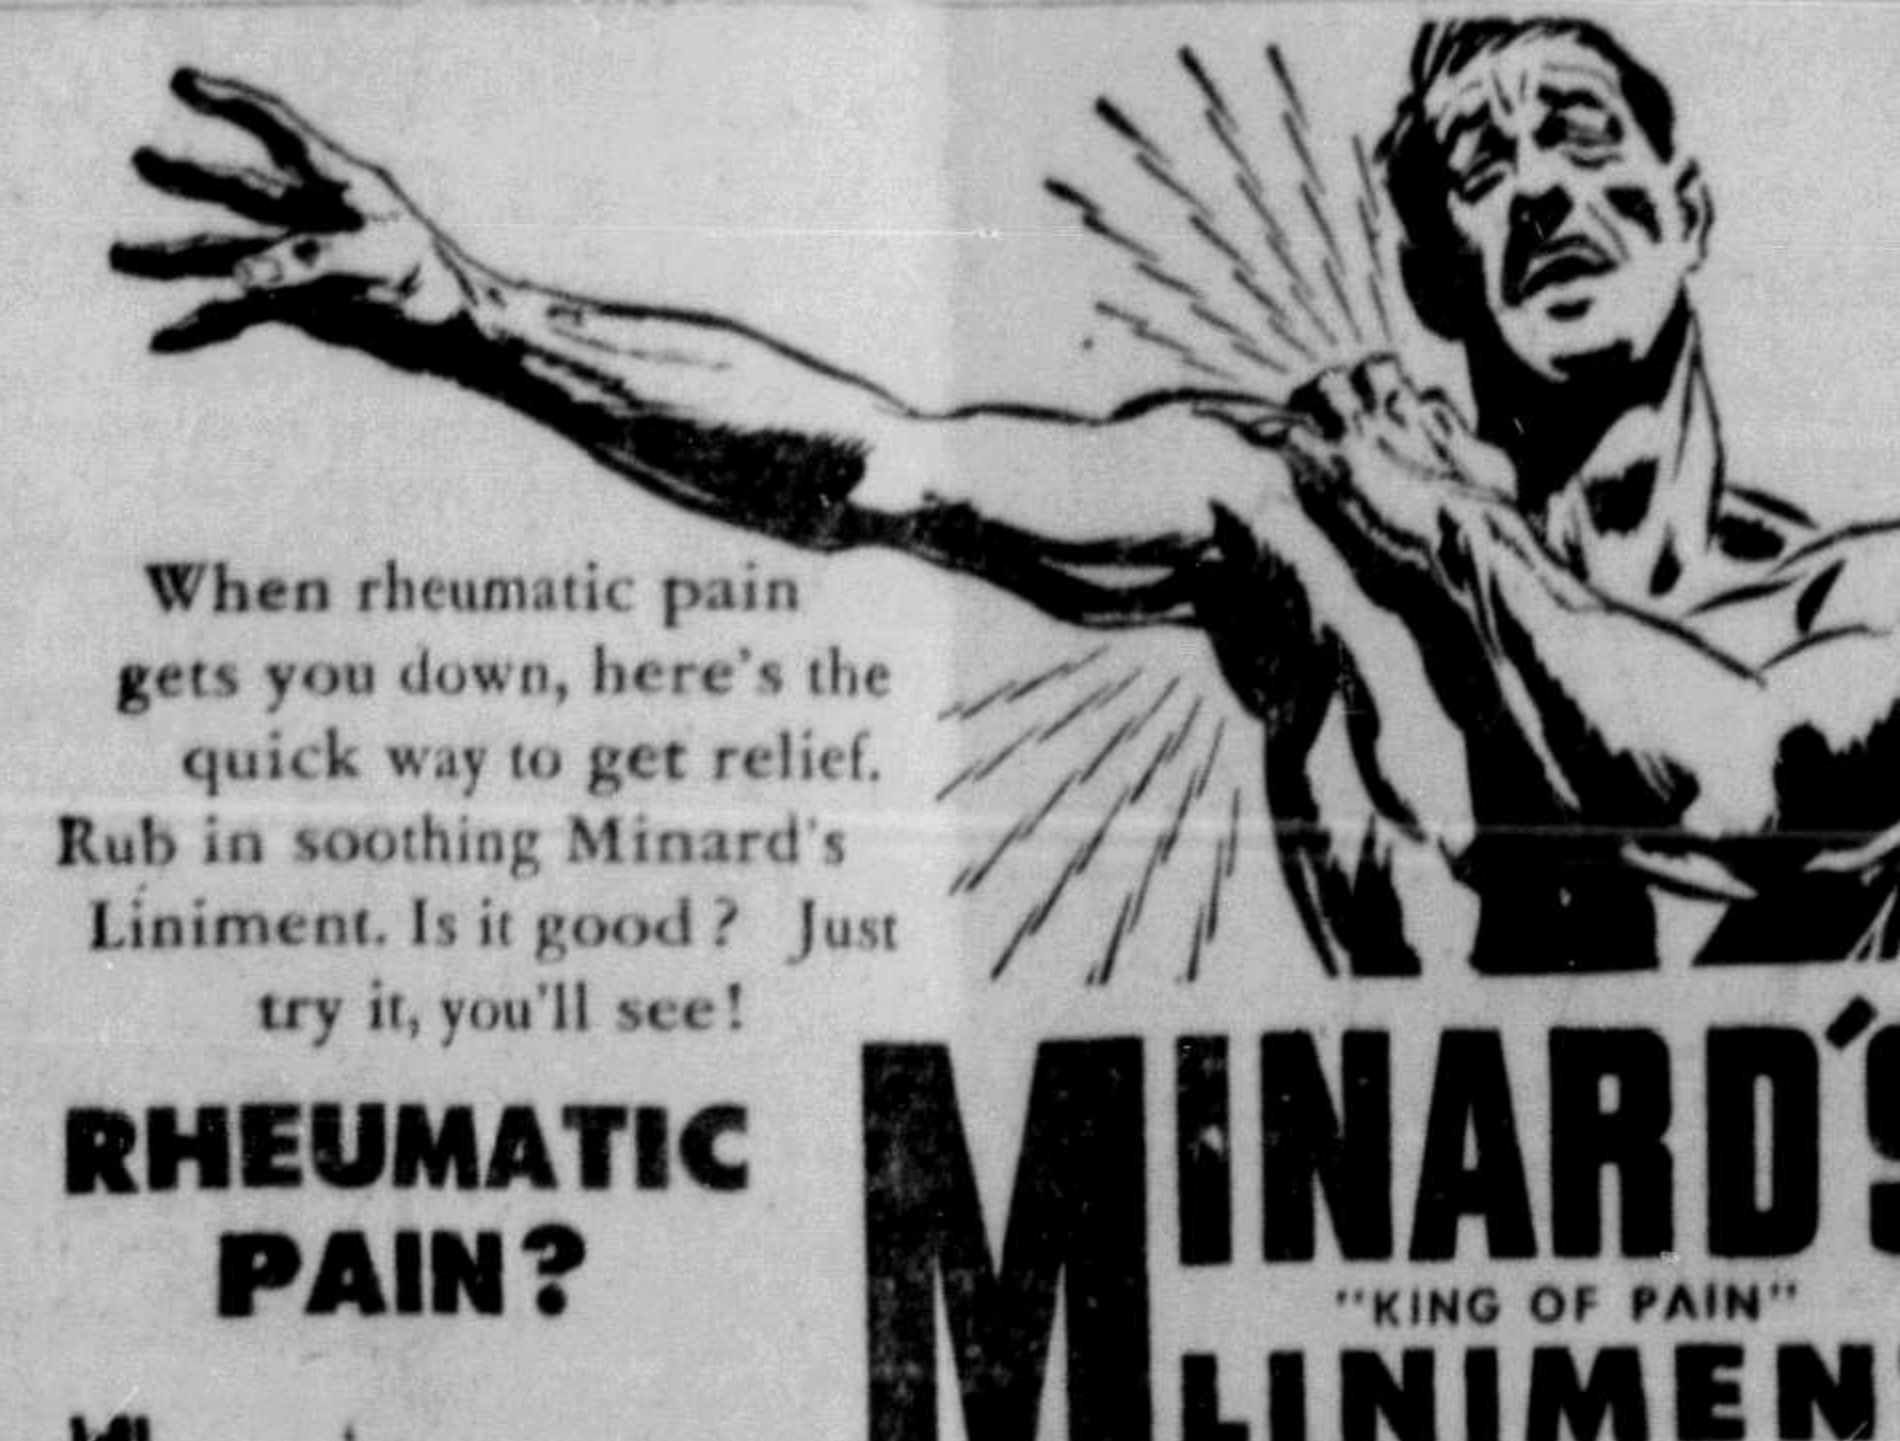

Gerard Cote, four-time winner from St. Hyacinthe, Que., led the Canadian contingent home with 16th place in 2:42:40.

LONDON (CP)—Sir John Slessor, marshal of the Royal Air Force, said the aircraft crash rate is being reduced in relation to the amount of flying done.

A NUMBER of ancient English churches are replacing their equally ancient roofs with aluminum. One of these is the Chapel of St. James in the village of Nether Warton, Oxfordshire. Its lead roof, originally laid in 1665, brought £478 as scrap — enough to pay the whole cost of installing the new roof.

It is a neat example of how, while most metals have been getting more expensive through the centuries, the cost of aluminum has been going down. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan)

Participation in Olympics May Be Limited to 5,000

LAUSANNE (AP)—A commission appointed by the International Olympic Committee to study means of reducing the size of the Olympic Games has recommended that participation be limited to 5,000 athletes and that the number of officials be reduced proportionately.

The commission has asked all international sports federations to make similar proposals at the Mexico City congress of the committee, starting Friday.

The commission proposed to exclude all substitutes in the individual sports and all "artificial" teams such as gymnastics and fencing. Where team sports are allowed, only eight teams would be selected for the games after regional eliminations.

The committee proposed that the number of places assigned to the press be reduced to 1,000

Simpson's Sales Up 8 Per Cent In First Quarter

TORONTO (CP)—E. G. Burton, president of Simpson's, Ltd., said "further important cuts in corporation taxes" would give companies such as Simpson's a "real incentive to expand, thus contributing to a high level of employment."

Merchandising in Canada's rapidly-expanding economy, he said, calls for large sums of money to finance continuing improvement and expansion if a company is to hold and improve its position. Expansion in the country's national income should enable tax cuts to be made.

Mr. Burton said first-quarter sales in the company's five department stores increased by eight per cent over last year. However, it would require a strong merchandise and sales program in the summer and fall months to meet last year's figures, which benefited by the lifting of credit restrictions last May.

Canadian Paper Now Published In Britain

LONDON (CP)—Launching of the first Canadian newspaper ever published in Britain was announced Monday by K. R. Thomson, representing the Thomson group of newspapers.

The weekly, named Canada Review, will appear Wednesdays starting May 6. It is aimed especially at Canadians in Britain but will also be sold in key cities on the continent.

"This operation will provide a basis for our future expansion in newspaper publishing in Great Britain," said Thomson, managing director of the new publication and son of Roy H. Thomson, whose group publishes 18 Canadian daily and weekly newspapers, a daily in St. Petersburg, Fla., and five radio stations.

News in the 16-page tabloid Canada Review will be exclusively Canadian except for a section devoted to British news of interest to Canadians. The paper's makeup will be directed from Canada, with news items sent by cable and air mail. London editor will be Norman Critchens, who has worked on newspapers and news agencies in Vancouver, Ottawa and London.

The Canadian government has ordered copies for distribution among Canadian servicemen in Britain and on the continent.

Immigration Act Upheld

SEATTLE (CP)—Constitutionality of one section of the new McCarran-Walter Immigration Act was upheld by the three-judge federal court.

The section upheld—212D-7—provides that aliens returning from Alaska be examined by immigration authorities. The judges did not rule on any other phase of the lengthy law as only one section was under attack.

The independent cannery workers' union had challenged the law, complaining that some of its members faced exclusion from the United States and loss of property rights. Many of the Alaska cannery workers are Filipinos who live in Seattle during off seasons.

Three judges held that Congress is within its rights in enacting the law as it acted under the same powers it has to require examination of persons seeking re-entry to the United States from foreign land.

Mr. Dale Makes Four Spades Despite Lack of High Cards

Mr. Dale realizes how helpful the opponents' bidding can be—not only in determining the course and extent of his own bidding but in the play of the hand as well.

He and his partner reached and made a game in spades although they held only half of the high cards. What assets did they have to offset this deficiency?

Well, they both realize a singleton can be good or bad. If in a suit bid by partner, it's bad. If in a suit bid by the opponents, it's good. A guarded king is much more valuable if the suit has been bid by the opponent on your right. A king (or any honor) in a suit bid by partner is a wonderful asset. A king in a suit bid on your left is of very doubtful value. And so on. The value of each of your short suits and high cards depends on what suit it is in.

In today's deal Mrs. Keen had a singleton in a suit bid by the enemy. She had three cards to a queen in a suit bid and rebid by her partner. Although she passed on the first round, she had enough to raise after Mr. Dale rebid freely.

Mr. Dale had a good six-card suit, supported by partner, and a void in an unbid suit. His king of clubs looked a little sick but as it turned out he put that card to good use.

The opening lead was the 10 of hearts which was ducked all around and Mr. Dale won with the queen. He saw that if the king of spades was wrong he would have to ruff three clubs in dummy to come up with 10 tricks. He couldn't stand a spade lead from his right, so at trick two he led the king of clubs. Mr. Abel had bid that suit and therefore the odds favored his parallels the river for some miles. Just stop at any place that looks a little used and try your luck. If you seek Dollies, I believe the best fishing is right now in Fiddler Creek on the north shore of the Skeena near Kitwanga; in fact a trip into that territory would be highly rewarding, for the Steelhead in the Kitwanga are almost primitively numerous, being rarely taken by anybody but natives.

Preliminary reports state that the ice should be out of the interior lakes in time for opening of trout season May 1; this is not the usual thing, but is the result of an easy winter; will try to give facts in next column.

Our neighbors to the south are starting a trend toward the resurrection of serviceable muzzle-loader shotguns for actual hunting work; if you yearn for the same thing have your fowling piece thoroughly checked, and be certain to reduce the potency of the load of modern powder you employ!

Queen Launches Royal Yacht

GLASGOW (Reuters) — The Queen launched her gleaming 416-foot yacht Britannia and told a cheering crowd of 20,000 it would often serve as a home for her much-travelled family. Built at a cost of nearly $5,000,000 at the Clydeside yards here, the 4,000-ton Britannia is the first new yacht for the royal family in 54 years. Its construction was originally envisaged by the late King George VI.

The name Britannia for the sleek blue and white vessel was a secret until Elizabeth, working a pushbutton, broke a bottle of wine over its bow. When the band's strains of "Rule Britannia" died away, Elizabeth made a short speech.

"The Britannia is not only the most modern addition to a long line of royal yachts which goes back to the reign of King Charles II, but it is to be, at times, the home of my husband and myself and of our family."

Danish Ship Rolls Over After Fire

HARWICK, England (P) — The Danish luxury passenger ship Kronprins Frederik was swept by fire in port here Sunday night. She rolled over on her side Monday and at high tide only three feet of the 3,895-ton vessel were above water.

Most of the crew had gone ashore and there were no passengers aboard. The fire is believed to have been caused by an electrical fault.

CLOCKS IN BRITAIN NOW NINE HOURS AHEAD OF B.C.

LONDON (AP) — Britain went on summer time last Sunday. Clocks were advanced one hour at 2 a.m. This put Britain nine hours ahead of Pacific Standard Time. But daylight time begins next Sunday and the time differential again will be eight hours.

British Composer Completing Opera to Honor Coronation

ALDBOROUGH, Eng. (AP) — British composer Benjamin Britten is putting the finishing touches on an opera to celebrate the Coronation. The 39-year-old Britten already has placed the first two acts of the three-act opera "Gloriana" in the hands of Joan Cross, dramatic soprano, and Peter Pears, tenor, who will sing the principal roles.

"Gloriana" will have its world premiere at the Covent Garden Royal Opera House in London June 8, six days after the Coronation. Britten, who has been reading Strachey's "Elizabeth and Essex," at first was doubtful he could finish it in time. In September Britten began writing the first notes. By January the opera needed only the trimmings and the orchestration. The Sadler's Wells ballet will perform the stately Elizabethan dances in Gloriana on the gala evening of June 8 when the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh will be in attendance. Gloriana may well add another honor to Britten who already has to his credit the successful operas "Peter Gimes" and "Billy Budd" and the little opera "Let's Make an Opera."

Efforts to Diversify Trade Paying Off For Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — Trade Minister Howe, who has guided Canada's trade economy since 1948, says that at no time in the past has Canada been more prosperous and he thinks there are even better times ahead.

The 67-year-old American-born minister made his annual report on domestic and foreign economic conditions to the Commons. He said Canada has attracted the attention of the world by her rapid expansion and her stability, and he predicted a continuation of the trend.

The expansion, he said, is no flash in the pan based on temporary boom conditions. Investments for capital expenditure are expected to touch $5,400,000,000 this year—compared with $5,100,000,000 in 1952—and this "reflects the growing diversity and adaptability of Canada's industry and the capacity to produce economically an increasing proportion of the world's requirements."

Giving an extensive report as his estimates came before members for scrutiny, the minister said that in spite of predictions of recessions and depressions, Canadian production and expansion rarely faltered since the end of the war.

Canada's gross national production reached $23,000,000,000 last year, compared with $21,400,000,000 in 1951, a year of "notable progress in the standards of living for the Canadian people." Continued development of resources and productive capacity would make possible an even higher standard.

Continuing world-wide demand for Canada's major export products and the relative stability of export prices "provide evidence of the basic strength of Canada's position in world trade," the minister said.

There was a continuing demand for Canadian wheat. In the present crop year Canada expected to export "all the wheat that can be handled by our transportation and storage facilities."

The United States remained Canada's best customer, but overseas trade with Britain and other countries was increasing. Efforts to diversify Canada's trade were paying off.
