QCA Denied Licence To Kitimat

CPA Service Inland Granted

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Air Transport board has denied an application by Queen Charlotte airlines Ltd., to operate between Vancouver, Kitimat and Terrace under a Class A licence.

This decision and a series of others arising out of board hearings held in B.C. last July were made public here Tuesday night by QCA.

The board did, however, grant QCA, under a Class 1 licence, the right to serve Port Hardy, as well as Nanaimo, Comox, Campbell River, Powell River, Westview, Alert Bay, Minstrel Island and Sullivan Bay.

An application by QCA to serve Port Alice under a Class 3 irregular licence was also approved.

Pacific Western Airlines Ltd. were granted a Class 2 licence to operate between Port Alberni and Vancouver.

Canadian Pacific Airlines have been given the go ahead to operate under a first Class licence while serving from a base to Prince Rupert and going into Terrace, Smithers and Prince George. Their present licence permits Class 1 service to Port Hardy, Sandspit, Prince Rupert and Whitehorse from Vancouver.

The entire enrolment at the high school will canvass the city after supper tonight in their voluntary drive to boost membership at the Centre.

The city has been divided into four sections, with section captains, sub-captains and canvassers assigned to each and with the overall drive under the chairmanship of Helen Harris. So well organized is the pupils' effort that each canvasser knows the individual houses he or she will visit.

Persons who are already members can help speed up the drive by keeping their membership cards or receipts ready to show the canvasser.

$20 Fine Levied After Assault

A fine of $20 was imposed on Louis J. Cloutier of Prince Rupert in police court this morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of assaulting J. E. Hogan, taxi driver, last Friday.

The guilty plea was entered by Cloutier's counsel, Mrs. Willa Ray, who told Magistrate W. D. Vance that her client admitted striking Hogan once.

The blow had been struck, Mrs. Ray said as a result of an argument which had started the day before over payment of a taxi fare.

3. Make "efforts to balance its budget and continue to resist inflation."

4. Procure aid supplies "wherever in non-Communist countries goods of the required quality can be obtained at the best price." This presumably ends South Korea's bitter opposition to buying from Japan, which once occupied Korea.

Gen. John E. Hull, United Nations Far East commander, and South Korea's Finance Minister Lee Joong Jae have agreed that South Korea will accept repayment of hwan South Korean currency loans to the Allied Forces at rates set by the U.S.

South Korea has insisted on repayment at 10 hwan to $1, which American officials considered unrealistic. They will be repaid at $1 for 254 hwan for June, July and August and $1 for 300 hwan for September, October and November.

U.K. Freighter
Here For Barley

The 8,000 ton British freighter, S.S. Winter Hill, inbound from Japan, docked at the Government Grain Elevator Wharf at 6 p.m. last night to take on a full cargo of barley.

First job to be done, before the Winter Hill can start loading is that of unloading the hold. It is expected that loading will start on Friday.

"We had 20,000 unemployed last winter and this year we have a carry-over of about 4,000 more than normal," he said.

Alderman Jack Cornett will carry the city's requests to Ottawa as provincial, labor, management and charitable agencies combine to tackle the problem.

The suggestion of a "Colombo plan" for jobless came from Ald. Anna Sprott, who said:

"I'm in favor of foreign aid but the time has come when we must feed hungry people within our gates." She suggested Canada's food surpluses, now going in part to feed hungry millions in Asia, should be diverted some degree to Vancouver.

Horace Koeth, national employment service office manager, said there were nearly 18,000 persons on unemployment rolls in the city at the end of October. Available jobs listed during the month totalled 5,400.

"We had 20,000 unemployed last winter and this year we have a carry-over of about 4,000 more than normal," he said.

The barley cargo is destined for the United Kingdom.

Help Students Aid Centre

THIS afternoon and this evening the Booth Memorial Junior-Senior High school student body, 700 strong takes time out from its studies, home-work and social activities to try to help the City of Prince Rupert and its citizens. They are blanketting the city with canvassers in an effort to complete the still unfinished Civic Centre membership drive which fell short of its target of 2,500 members September 29 and 30.

With admirable zeal and unlimited faith the students hope to add between 600 to 800 new members to the Civic Centre roll before the day ends. Whether they succeed or not is strictly up to the residents of Prince Rupert. The Centre is subsidized to the extent of $6,000 by taxes. It receives large outright gifts from business concerns and private donors. But it is still not enough.

Whether you use the many facilities of the Civic Centre or not it must be kept open for the good of the city. The high incidence of juvenile delinquency in British Columbia, noted yesterday in the RCMP's annual report, shouldn't be of too much concern to Prince Rupert citizens, because the Civic Centre provides an outlet for youthful excess energy. If the Centre closed they would have cause to worry when the lack of activities made itself felt. The adult's cry of "there's nothing to do in Prince Rupert is partly answered by the Civic Centre with a dozen activities offered for those who wish to make the effort. If the Centre closed there would be even less to do and the town would be a pretty deadly place in which to live.

Let's face it. You get very little in this life for nothing. If you don't care about the Centre yourself, think of someone else for a change, think of someone else's child or a pensioner who really can't afford a membership. It costs 1.37 cents per day for a year to belong to the Civic Centre. When the student canvasser calls, sign up, give the boy or girl $5 all at once. Let's not be small about this.

More Cars, More Danger

THE Bureau of Statistics reports that almost one-fourth of all Canadians own cars. This provides evidence to indicate the degree of prosperity in the country, the extent to which a car has become virtually an essential of Canadian life, and a starting point from which to compute government revenues for such things as highway construction.

It also points up the increasing problems of safety on the road.

Licensing requirements in British Columbia and elsewhere seek to limit control of cars to people who are capable of safe driving. They fall short of guaranteeing safety because so many with that ability fail to exercise it at all times.

The daily accident reports show the inability of Canadians to match their financial and legal authority to own and operate cars with a commensurate sense of responsibility that ownership and operation should carry.

We can point with pride to a national economic health which allows one member of every family of four to own a car. We have a long way to go before we can point with pride to the way owners and users operate their vehicles.

ASSESSORS, UBCM GROUP STUDYING TAX PROBLEMS

NEW WESTMINSTER — Problems arising from methods used to fix equalization of assessments in municipalities were studied here Tuesday night by assessors and a committee of the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Theodore Adams, executive-director of the UBCM, said although most municipalities were in favor of the Assessment of Equalization Act, they were confronting numerous problems in fixing assessments.

Solutions cannot be found "overnight," he said, and it will take at least four years to facilitate a new formula for distribution of school costs.

• Wives Rule Roost

CALGARY—I woke up yesterday morning with a headache and a grudge against Alberta insurance men's wives.

My arrival in this city of sun-shine and moonshine coincided with the last night of an insurance men's convention. The boys and the gals were loudly celebrating in the hall outside the room I was lucky enough to get.

They kept it up till about 3 a.m. Would not have minded so much if the songs they were singing had had any zip or even sense in them. But the favorites seemed to be: "One two three four who are we for," and "We're Here Because We're Here." As if we didn't know.

But my good humour was restored when my train crossed that of a really noted Englishman, who had just finished a trip across Canada.

It was no hop, skip and jump affair either. This man had taken a good long look at the people and institutions of this country. On the whole it was a friendly look. In some fields it was an expert look, for this person is a recognized authority in his field.

But he had given up his intention to move to Canada. His reason—when I heard it—almost bowled me over.

He was really afraid to move his wife and children to Canada, he said, because his wife might become like 99 percent of all other Canadian wives he had met, seen, or heard about.

THE departing Englishman says that Canadian males are not men but mice.

He says that wives rule the roost in Canada. He says that Canada is an iron-clad matriarchy, where the husband and father of the family can hardly even call his scut his own. He says that the Canadian working man meekly hands his pay envelope over to the wife, if he still draws a pay envelope. He says that the Canadian business men who get paid by too much."

cheque do the same thing with that cheque.

BUT the money is only a part of this business of who's boss in Canada, says our visitor.

Canadian wives have established a silent, gentle but real dictatorship over their families—all because the Canadian males are mice, or even worse—womans.

Now in England, he says, every MAN's home is every MAN's castle. Please note, he says, that there is no mention of what it is for that lord and master's wife. (A thought flashed through my mind when I heard all this. Maybe we will have to raise the old saying, to make it "Every Englishman's home is his castle, and every Englishman's home is his wife's henhouse.")

DO NOT get the entirely wrong idea that this outspoken chap was being insulting or nasty about all this. He very definitely was not. He was speaking entirely objectively and dispassionately, as a man who knew many countries, and knew them well.

Our way of bringing up the children was even worse than the way the Canadian mouse, worm or male husband surrenders control of all the family affairs to his wife.

"I got in the train at Edmonton," he said, "and took my seat."

In came a nice looking lady with two youngsters.

"Where do you want to sit?" she said. That, my friend, is the trouble with this fine country. Instead of telling your children what you think they should do you ask them what they want to do."

"By the way," I said, "how long have you been married?" "Oh, I've been married twice," he replied. "I had to divorce my first wife. She tried to run me out."

My guess is that "O Canada" bores nine-tenths of the Canadian people. This sort of stuff is being peddled from coast to coast, in the way of comment and exchange of opinion. "O Canada" can be great music and equal other splendid nations, if presented to the Canadian people in the way it should.

WONDER how much the juncture of finance minister Elmer Gunson and his wife to Europe is costing B.C. taxpayers.

The government has now made up its mind to appoint such a commission two years from now, following, in this regard, the recommendation made by Chief Justice Sloan.

The Chief Justice, in his 1948 report, said: "It is essential that a Royal Commission 10 years hence re-examine all aspects of forestry in the light of developments during that 10-year period, to determine the validity of the facts presented to this enquiry, and my conclusions there-to."

The Sloane Report was not implemented by the government of the day until 1947, so the present government figures the 10-year period will not be up until 1957.

In the last year or so it has become popular for CCF'ers and Liberals to tell the government there should be another Royal Commission on forestry immediately.

But there'll be no such commission until late in 1958. While it is sitting, there'll be another general election. In this way the government will be able to say the commission's at work, and at the same time it will avoid any awkward embarrassment that the report might present.

It's an old trick of governments to have a Royal Commiss-

OTTAWA DIARY

By NORMAN M. MacLEOD

Outside in Confederation Square the crowds began to gather. By nine o'clock, when the royal carriage commenced to drive, they were estimated at 20,000. At ten o'clock, they were still there, patient, but unrewarded. No arrangements for a public appearance of Their Majesties had been made for the evening.

But towards mid-past ten Her Majesty heard conversationally about the great crowd outside in the rain. She spoke a few words to the late King. And immediately by the Royal Couple left the Banquet Hall to make an unflattering appearance at an open Chateau tower window. They stayed several minutes waving to the mucky, emotionally stirred throng. The State Dinner waited and took second place while they shared themselves with the common people.

If Ottawans cannot forget these stirring scenes, it is small wonder that the Queen Mother remembers them. And it is only to be expected that sometimes during her present visit there would be a mist clouding her eyes and bedewing the garden of her memories.

Little Theatre Comedy On Last Time Tonight

Tonight is the last opportunity for those who enjoy good acting, an intriguing plot and a play that is as "naughty" as they come when Prince Rupert Little Theatre presents its third and final performance of "The Moon Is Blue."

The local theatrical group directed by G. P. Woodside, last night improved on their Monday night's presentation of F. Hugh Herbert's three-act comedy, before a small but appreciative audience in the Civic Centre.

Nina Youngman who shone as the neurotic Blanche in "Street Car Named Desire" and the efficient, sophisticated secretary in "Present Laughter" plays the difficult role of Patty O'Neill, a gay young thing who thinks "it's high school to smoke and drink unless you have a craving for it."

Accused by up-and-coming young architect Donald Gresham, played by Peter Mickles, of being "a professional virgin," Patty is far more concerned with clearing herself on that score than she is of being seduced in Gresham's apartment. While she trusts Gresham implicitly, she spends the play voicing thoughts that even shake the icy calm of Gresham's prospective father.

V's Pick Up Two Points In Penalty-Loaded Game

By The Canadian Press

Penticton V's and Vernon Canadiens turned Penticton's hockey arena into a boxing ring during an Okanagan Senior Hockey League game Tuesday night.

When the fans had stopped flying and order restored, the V's had added two points to their league lead with a 5-4 victory.

But for the fans and the clubs, hockey was only incidental to the wild third-period touched off when Penticton's Bill Warwick and Vernon's Willie Schmidt tangled at mid-ice in a fight that ended with players from both benches swarming into the fray and four players getting match misconduct penalties.

Given the heavy-ho were Warwick and Schmidt along with George Agar and Lavalle.

The two Alberta entries in the Western Hockey League are beginning to look like the class of the six-team circuit.

Calgary Stampeders and Edmonton Flyers both saw action Tuesday night, both won in convincing fashion.

The defending champion Stampeders jumped into first place in the league standings by trampling New Westminster Royals 8-1. In winning, Stamps knocked Royals off the league's top rung of the first time this season.

In Edmonton the Flyers had an equally easy time disposing of the cellar-dwelling Saskatoon Quakers. Flyers won 6-1 to move past the idle Vancouver Canucks into third place only a single point behind Royals and two behind Stamps.

VANCOUVER — G — Vancouver Canucks of the Western Hockey League made their second roster change in 24 hours city winger Carl Kalser to Sas-Tuesday when they traded utilkatoon Quakers for rightwinger Vic Howe.

Canucks returned Eric Pogue to Springfield of the American Hockey League Monday and at least one more change was expected soon.

Kaiser, who scored 38 points last season, was removed to make way for a right-winger to replace the vacancy left by Pogue.
Howe, who also scored 38 points last year, will arrive here in time for Friday night's game against Calgary Stampeders.

CALGARY — G — Johnny Salkeld successfully defended his Pacific Northwest welterweight boxing title Tuesday night when he knocked out Charlie Courtney of Richmond, Calif., at 2:16 of the second round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

The quick ending surprised the crowd of some 1,000 fans as 21-year-old Courtney had held his own with the hard-punching Californian in the first round.

The champion caught Courtney on the ropes and nailed him with a left hook to the head.

VANCOUVER — G — This west coast city moved into the big-time professional golfing circuit Tuesday with the announcement that a 15,000 tournament will be staged here next summer.

The British Columbia Open Championship, formerly a $1,500 meet, was upped to $15,000 by an unnamed city industrialist.

Dates for the tournament are June 29 to July 2.

KELOWNA, B.C. — G — Sign of the Times — officials of the Okanagan Senior "Amateur"
Hockey League, have agreed to a 10-per-cent cut in salaries.

Team officials said Tuesday the move was made because of sagging gate receipts at hockey games in this Okanagan city.

LONDON — G — Oxford and Cambridge universities Tuesday declared the 1954 track feats of Dr. Roger Bannister and Chris Chataway equal in importance
— so each gets an Achilles club medal.

Usually only one medal is awarded for the best performance by a past or present member of either university. The judges could not separate Ban-nisther's performance in winning the Empire Games mile from John Landy and Chata-way's defeat of Vladimir Kuc, Russia, in the 5,000-metre event at London's White City.

And they have Celeri, 27-year-old quarterback who was voted Sarnia Imperials did it in '34.
The Big Four didn't operate during the war.

There are thousands of fans around Kitchener, however, who figure this may be the year for a big upset. Dutchmen, who swept the best-of-three league finals against Imperials in two years, are in top shape.

They must be rated as dark-horses, like most other ORFU clubs who have gone against either a Big Four Union champion or the winner of the Western Interprovincial Football Union. Not since 1934, excepting a defaulted game and war years, has an ORFU club won the Grey Cup.

Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club (IBC) which has "exclusive" contracts for the title defenders of most of the U.S.
champions, said in New York:

"The IBC has always gone along with the ideas of regular constituted bodies and will continue to do so. Whatever decisions are made by boxing administrators in the state where we operate will be adhered to."

The committee ranked Cuba's Nino Valdes as the No. 1 contender for Rocky Marciano's heavyweight crown with Britain's Don Cockell second and Pittsburgh's Bob Barker, third.

The decision promptly drew the trans-Atlantic fire of Charley Johnston, manager of two world champions, featherweight Sandy Saddler of New York and light heavyweight Archie Moore of Miami.

MAYS SIGNS WITH GIANTS FOR REPORTED $25,000

NEW YORK — (AP) — Willie Mays has signed a new contract with the New York Giants for a reported $25,000 and pitcher Ruben Gomez will get about $15,000 next year. Horace Stoneham, owner of the world champions, said Tuesday he signed the pair during his recent inspection tour of the Giants' hired hands in Puerto Rico where both Mays and Gomez are playing winter ball with the Santurce club.

The Giants, like all other ball clubs, do not divulge any exact salaries but it was indicated that a "good guess" would be $25,000 for the colorful centre fielder who won the National League batting championship on the final day of the season. Mays received several raises last summer but this would mean a healthy increase.

Carter Set To Make History In Lightweight Bout Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mechanical Jimmy Carter steps into the ring tonight favored to regain the world lightweight championship from Brooklyn's Paddy de Marco, the young man who relieved him of the title 10 months ago.

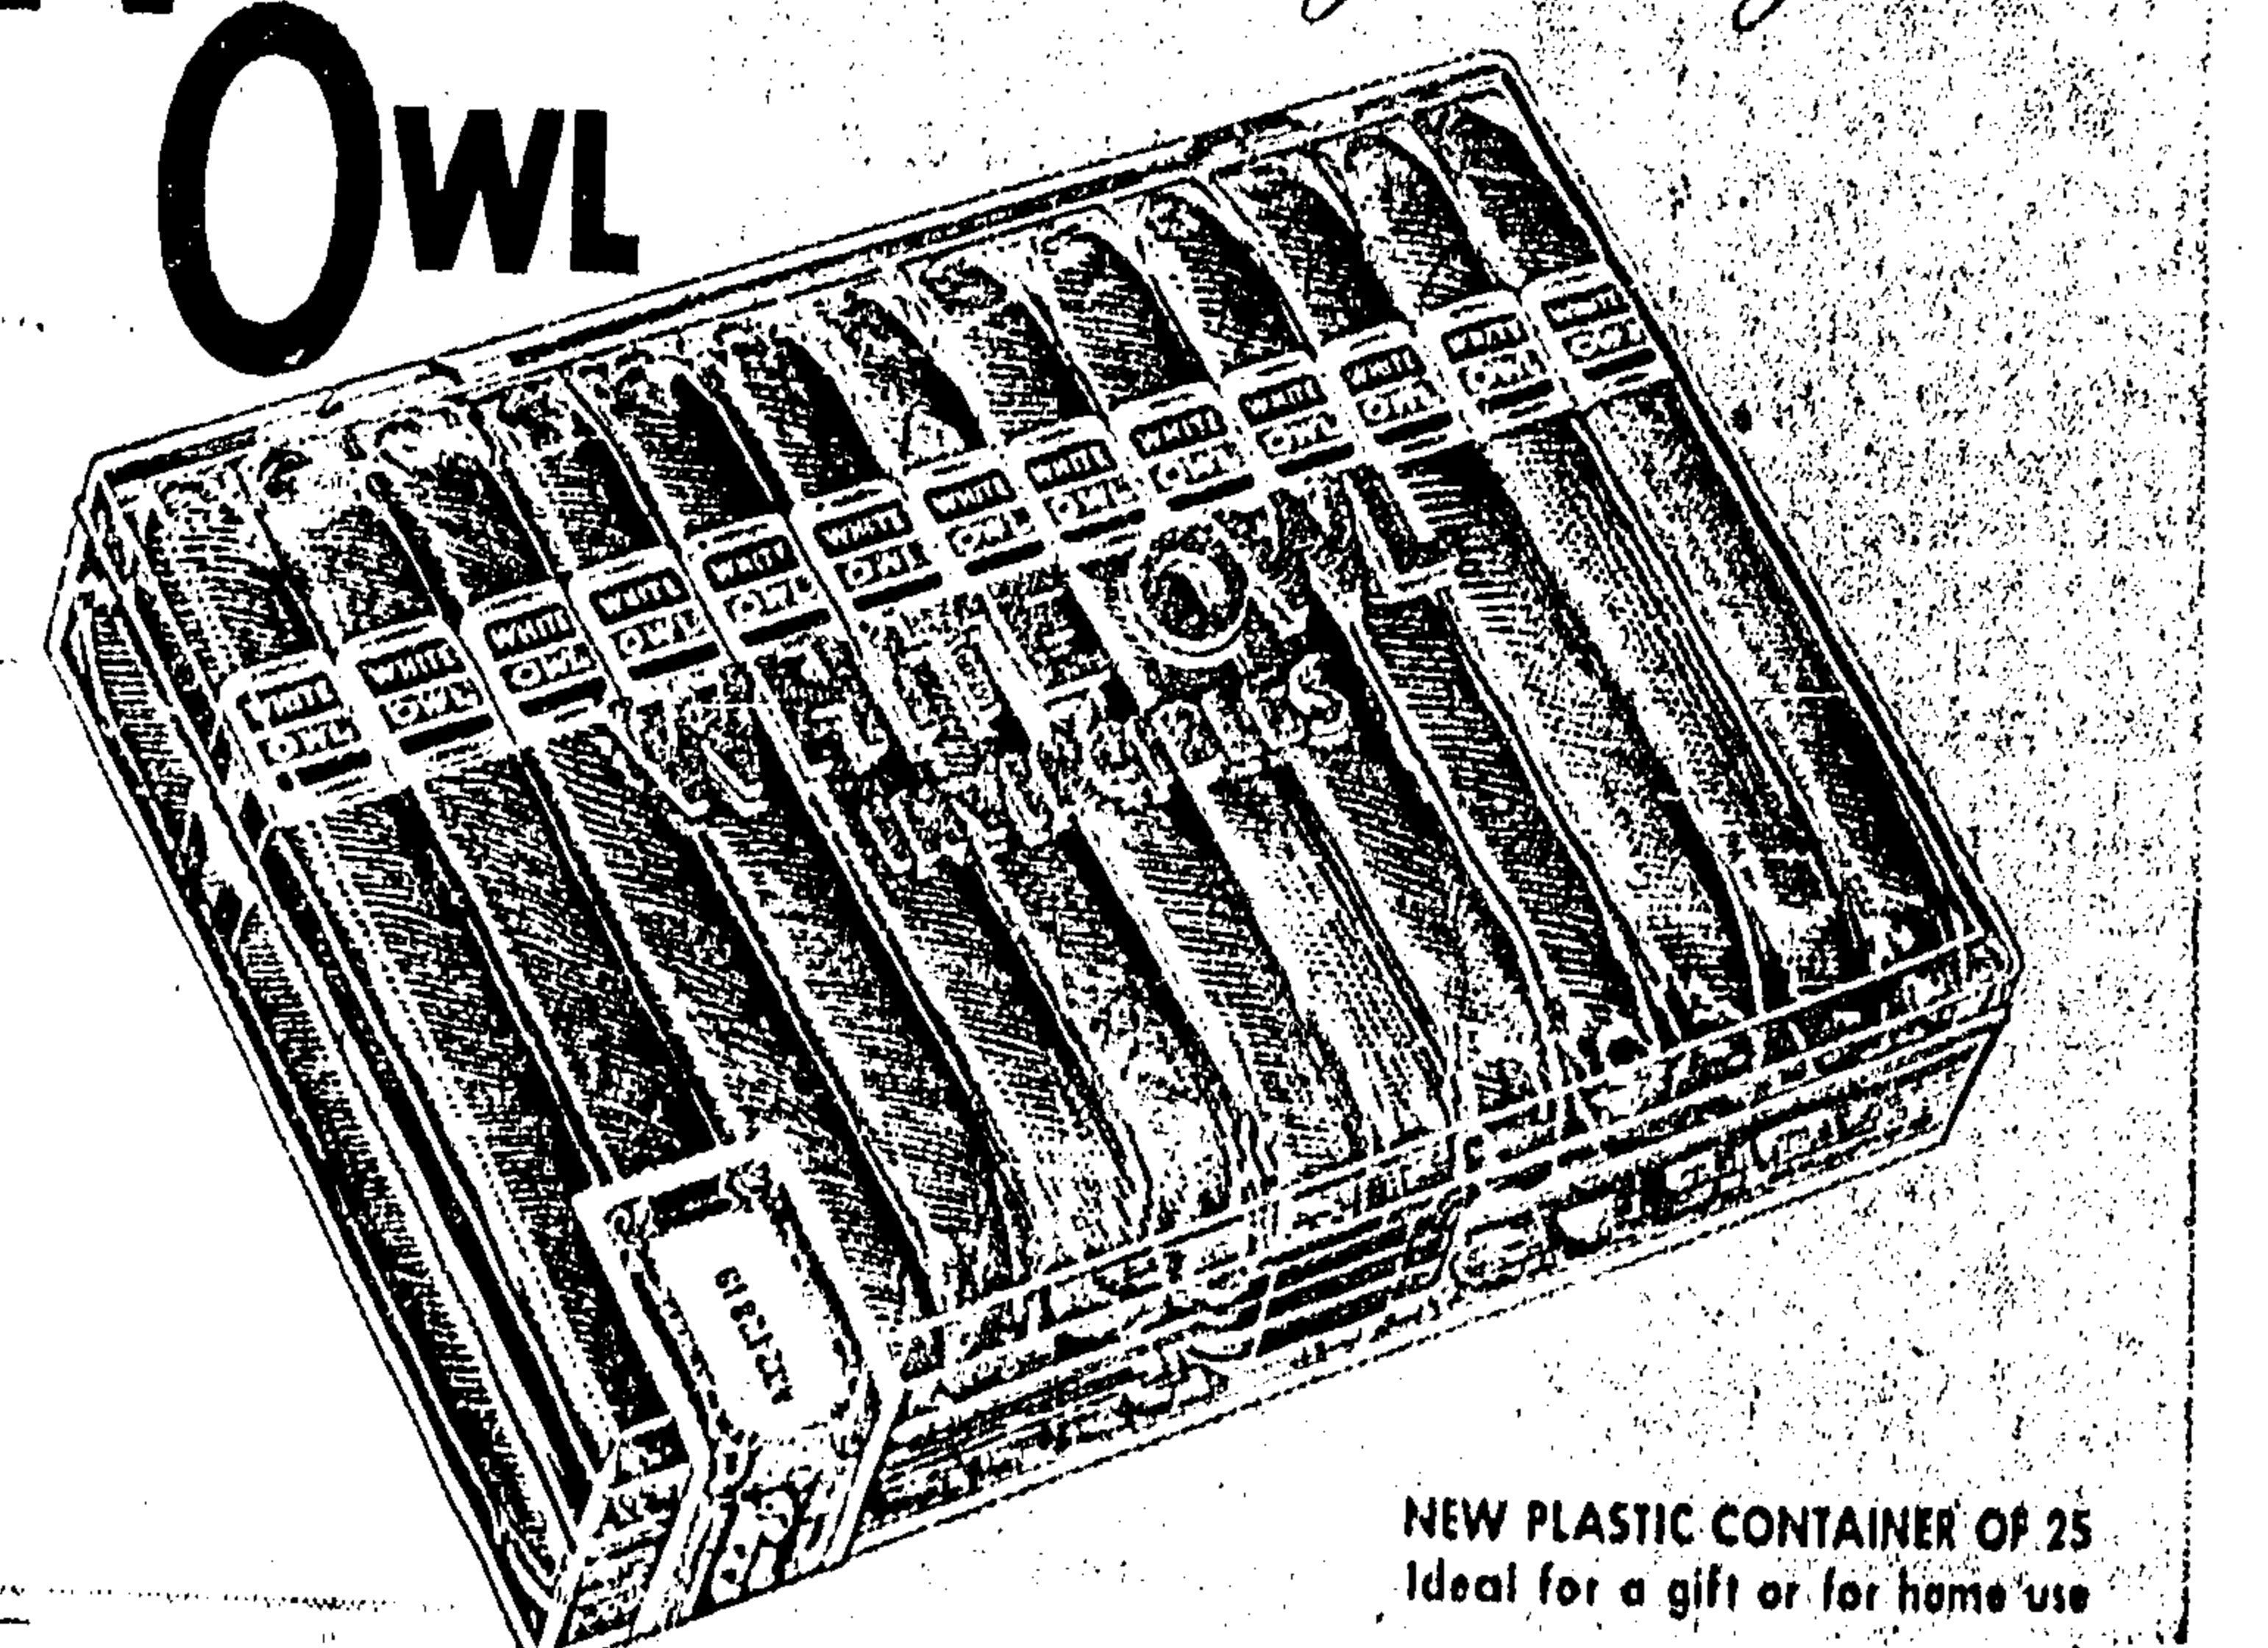

The setting for the 15-round encounter between the top two 135-pounders is the spacious Cow Palace in South San Francisco, where some 7,000 fight fans are expected.

The contest, a re-play of an upset registered by the 26-year-old Paddy in New York March 5, will be televised coast to coast. The main event goes on at 7 p.m. PST.

Carter, a veteran of 30 years, remained a 2-1 betting favorite today to whip his unorthodox fellow New Yorker. The Workmanlike fighter from Harlem al-

The alert young women on constant watch at Fighter Control Operators at the RCAF's powerful radar scanner stations are a vital part of Canada's defence team.

Movements of all aircraft within range are monitored in the control and plotting rooms by these operators.

An unidentified plane is spotted on the screen. Is it friend or foe?

Through the marvels of modern electronics, RCAF jet fighters are swiftly and unerringly directed to investigate and intercept.

This is interesting and important work for young women. They are given thorough training. They receive the same pay as men. Food, clothing, medical care, supervised living quarters and recreational facilities are provided.

OUTDOORS With Marty

Christmas coming along pretty fast and perhaps some of our lady-folk are worrying how to buy friend husband the binoculars he is hinting for, yet not to do the wrong thing by the budget. This then, is for those kind of girls.

In general one should specify glasses known as 7x35 or, if cash permits, 7x50. The first figure in this group stands for the power of magnification, while the latter is the diameter of the objective lens (the bigger one that is nearest to the object being looked at.) The larger the objective lens the larger and brighter is the picture one sees at any given distance.

OTTAWA (CP)—The British Columbia mining city of Trail retained its position in the 1952 tax year as the city with the highest average income in Canada.
