TRENCHMEN and a Canadian set out from Montreal Saturday on this home-made raft to cross the Atlantic. Here Gaston Vanacker (left) and Bernard Sorieul check their rigging for their adventure which is similar to that of the famous Kon-Tiki expedition. After a stopover at Quebec City they will sail into the Atlantic where to be picked up and carried by the Gulf Stream. (CP Photo)

Quebec.—The good "athonom" sled gently downstream and then continued downstream. It was learned. It is powered by an 18 x 10-foot sail and has a small wooden rudder.

The men hope to take advantage of the Gulf stream, 500 miles off Newfoundland, and reach Europe in two months.

They have no idea yet where they may land in Europe if they are successful in their attempt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif.—Coin-operated drunkometer with which you could give yourself an intoxication test, are a future possibility, says a Stanford University medical scientist who specializes on the effects of alcohol on the system.

After a cocktail party or an evening at the tavern you could deposit a coin in a slot, breathe into a bag and out in your blood. The reading could be a guide as to whether you should drive home or let somebody else take the wheel.

Union, Government Officials Try To End British Strike

LONDON, June 13.—Union and government officials, after a week-end recess, renewed negotiations today on Britain's stubborn rail-road strike, now in its 16th day.

Only the intervention of Sir Walter Monckton, the labor minister, prevented a breakdown in the talks when a deadlock over union wage demands developed Saturday.

"Anything can happen today," James Dally, general secretary of the striking Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, told reporters. There is a lot to be considered."

Monckton made an emergency report to Prime Minister Eden and the cabinet after a 20-minute conference with union and government officials. Eden planned to tell the House of Commons later today what action the government may take if the walkout continues.

Officials of the B.C. Auto Courts and Resorts Association said they planned to petition Victoria.

Alex B. MacQuarrie, ACRA's legal consultant, said 1,200 questionnaires had been sent to members to determine how many were interested. An executive committee meeting will be held Monday to study returns.

The transport commission has offered higher rewards for engineers but balked at increasing pay scales for firemen, who make up a large portion of the ASLEFP membership. It feared that this would touch off still costlier demands by the National Union of Railwaysmen, which represents 400,000 members, mostly less-skilled workers.

Despite the length of the stoppage, the transport commission, which operates the lines, has managed to avert a widespread industrial shutdown by making the fullest possible use of 17,000 non-striking engineers and firemen.

About one-sixth of the normal daily 24,000 passenger trains have been kept running, and about one-fifth of the 10,000 freight trains. Vital goods have also been moved by highway and canal barges.

Meanwhile, there is no sign of a settlement in a seven-city dock stoppage, now in its fourth week, which has damaged the export trade. The walkout, by 20,000 men, was caused by a union jurisdictional dispute. Peace-making efforts by the powerful Trades Union Congress, with which nearly all British unions are affiliated, have so far failed to bear fruit.

GM, Auto Workers Sign Pact For Guaranteed Wage Program

Production Loss Not Hit Heavily

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers union early today nailed down at General Motors Corp. the same guaranteed wage plan it won a week ago from Ford.

Walter Reuther, UAW president, thus firmly established the controversial employer-paid supplemental unemployment benefit system in the American industry, an important beachhead from which he hopes to launch it into other industries.

The three-year agreement was hammered out in a pre-dawn settlement after more than 37 hours of bargaining, broken only by brief recesses.

More than 40 of GM's 119 plants across the United States were hit by walkouts as the negotiations dragged on hours after the union's midnight strike deadline. The strikers are expected to return to their jobs quickly with little loss in auto production.

The GM pact closely followed the Ford Motor Co. contract in nearly every respect. It calls for improvements in pay, pensions, vacations and holidays similar to those worked out at Ford.

INCLUDES UNION SHOP

In addition, it grants the UAW a full union shop for the first time, meaning that GM's relatively few non-union workers now must join the union to keep their jobs.

An additional 35,000 GM employees represented by the CIO's International Union of Electrical Workers were given the same economic benefits under the agreement reached after the UAW settlement was announced.

GM and Ford account for about three-fourths of American auto production. The UAW prepared to press its guaranteed wage settlement pattern on the remaining car producers. Its negotiations with American Motors Corp. start Tuesday and those will begin the next few weeks with Chrysler, Studebaker, Packard and other firms.

Routhers called the GM settlement "an extremely significant and far-reaching contract" costing the corporation $800,000,000 over the three-year period. Reuther said it was worth better than 20 cents an hour per employee, similar to the Ford contract.

430 Arrested After Rioting In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, June 13.—Argentine police early today arrested 430 men who took refuge in the Roman Catholic episcopal palace after angry rioting Sunday night in the Central Plaza de Mayo outside.

A police communiqué said those arrested were suspected of starting rumors the cathedral in the plaza had been burned. Police said the rumors were intended to produce disturbance.

They said they found pistols in a car parked near the palace, but did not identify the owner.

The announcement that 400 were under arrest came from the semi-official newspaper Democrazia.

As the government cracked down on the Church partisans President Juan Peron marshalled his forces for support in his bitter feud with the country's predominant church.

At least eight persons were injured by flying stones Sunday night when bands shouting "Long Live Peron! Down With the Pope!" clashed with Catholics,

Adams Named Rear-Admiral

Commodore Kenneth Frederick Adams, CD, RCN, 51 of Victoria and Hamilton, Ont., and well-known in naval circles, in Prince Rupert, has been promoted to the rank of rear-admiral. It was reported here today.

From Tugboat Skipper To Rear-Admiral

Rear-Admiral Adams held his previous position since the formation at Hamilton in April, 1953 of a separate establishment to administer the Royal Canadian Navy (Reserve) and the 22 naval divisions across Canada.

During the Second World War, Rear-Admiral Adams commanded the destroyers Aspinwall, Ottawa and Trois-Rivières, and the auxiliary cruiser Prince David and Prince Henry, and was twice the commanding officer of HMCS Baddeck, the Halifax naval barracks.

Rear-Admiral Adams was in Prince Rupert last on April 28 when he inspected the Prince Rupert reserve division, HMCS Chatham.

Rear-Admiral Adams, who was born in Victoria, B.C., knew Prince Rupert, district waters well, having been a tugboat skipper there 30 years ago. After graduation from the Royal Naval College he entered the naval service and later transferred to the permanent force.

Attempted Murder Charges Laid As Man Savagely Beaten

VANCOUVER, June 13.—Three men were charged Sunday with attempted murder following the savage beating of a Vancouver man early Saturday.

Charged are Robert Joseph Tremblay, 33, formerly of Montreal; Marcel Alfred Frenette, 24, and Charles A. Talbot, 36. All gave their address as Vancouver. Bail was set at $20,000 each.

The trio was arrested Saturday a few hours after 20-year-old Thomas Klinna of Vancouver was found lying between two boxcars at the rear of the Great Northern Railway station.

Klinna told police he was assaulted by six men as he walked through lonely False Creek flats in Vancouver's industrial area. He said five men held him while a sixth beat him with an iron bar. Both his legs were broken. Hospital authorities reported him in good condition Sunday night.

The arrests followed a series of raids on underworld drug haunts.

MORE MAY FOLLOW

Police chief Walter Mulligan said Klinna is a drug addict well known to police and other officers and the beating may herald a new outbreak of violence in the struggle between rival gangs for control of the illicit narcotics traffic here.

The underworld struggle broke into the open last summer with the gangland slaying of Danny Brent, waiter at a Vancouver liquor club in whose bank safety-deposit box police later found a large cache of narcotics.

Brent's murder was followed by the wounding of William Somenlek last November in a Stanley park shooting affray and a bombing attempt on the life of Jacob Leonhard last Feb. 16.

The names of both Somenlek and Leonhard have been linked to the drug traffic in court on several occasions.

B.C. Mishaps Kill Three, Injure Four

Three persons died and four were injured in two separate traffic accidents and one drowning in British Columbia during the weekend.

A young man and a girl and three others were seriously injured near Alberni Saturday midnight when the car in which they were riding crashed into a stump.

One of the dead, John Crohowski, 22, was a member of the Alberni Athletics basketball team, this year's Canadian champions.

Kathleen Stevings was killed in the same accident.

A 20-year-old Edmonton youth, Jack Dunn, was drowned at Fort St. John Saturday when he plunged into a large water-filled ditch alongside the Alaska highway.

Most seriously injured in the Alberni accident was Martin Boylan who was flown to Vancouver and is in critical condition in St. Paul's hospital with a fractured skull.

Also in critical condition is Eddie Ondt, driver of the car, who was crushed and punctured lung.

Third passenger injured was Sharon Stevens, sister of the dead girl, also in Port Alberni.

Meanwhile, a Burnaby child is still unconscious in hospital at Chilliwack after being hit by a car near Hope.

Production of passenger vehicles will level off in the July-December half. There will be an estimated total output in the area of 4,000,000 cars and trucks.

Canadian Boat Stranded In Alaska Gulf

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, June 13.—A Canadian fishing vessel was reported stranded Sunday on Middleton Island in the Gulf of Alaska by engine failure.

Distress signals were unanswered by the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Edge from distant Montague Island, where she was picking up the bodies of two Alaskan guides killed in a plane crash two weeks ago.

The U.S. navy at Kodiak said there was "no immediate danger." The craft was reported bobbing in rough seas but securely anchored.

The stranded vessel was identified as the Marlin from Vancouver. It was not known how many were aboard.

WEATHER

Variable conditions today and Tuesday. Little change in temperature. Wind northwest 15 in the southern part and light elsewhere. Low tonight and high Tuesday at Port Hardy and Sandspit 40 and 60, Prince Rupert 40 and 60.

Meanwhile, a Burnaby child is still unconscious in hospital at Chilliwack after being hit by a car near Hope.

Nuclear Fishing Threat

Raising the question of what nuclear explosions are likely to do to fishing in the Pacific, an editorial in the Canadian Fisherman magazine points out that the last H-bomb exploded in the Pacific contaminated over 7,000 square miles of ocean and the resources of that ocean.

It has since been more or less admitted by those in charge of the explosion that they were surprised at its violence. They had seriously underestimated its effect. How much damage they did to the fisheries has never been estimated. And now they are going ahead with another, and probably many more after that. Where will it all end?

The United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union has protested these H-bomb tests. For any organization interested in the future of Pacific fishing, the attitude is a justified one.

There is no ready-made answer to this problem of H-bomb explosions and the incalculable damage they might be doing. While no one wishes to set back the hands of the clock, there must be some safer method of working out the effects of atomic weapons than exploding them and exposing the human race and its food resources to contamination.

It may be that a recent experiment by Canadian scientists will lead the way. Canada's Defence Research Board scientists were reported to have rigged up an old army searchlight for $360 which could collect the sun's rays and generate enough heat to match an atomic explosion. By means of this simple but effective medium the scientists are able to check the effects of an atomic explosion on materials exposed to it.

This probably will not solve the problem of how nuclear tests can be carried out without endangering the human race and its food supplies. But perhaps a bit more scientific imagination, and less scientific trigger-happiness, can figure out an answer to this too.

Three Smart Boys

A NOTABLE achievement has been chalked up by Prince Rupert's No. 559 Air Cadet Squadron in having three of its members win three awards given by the Air Cadet League of Canada.

In view of the squadron's comparatively small size, it is a most impressive showing. One of the awards—the exchange visit to the U.S.A.—is available each year to only 25 air cadets throughout the whole of Canada. The senior leaders' course at Camp borden, a scholarship for which was also won by a local boy, is open to only 100 cadets from all of Canada.

At first glance it might appear that the awards were given generously to the local squadron as a sort of morale booster. Being so remote, this squadron perhaps needs more special attention than the larger ones to the south.

However, a member of the visiting inspection party said that absolutely no such consideration influenced the selection committee. He said that the committee members did not even know where each boy came from. Consequently the three local cadets who won awards did so entirely on their own merit. It is an achievement for which they are to be warmly congratulated.

Salute to Harold

THE joint parliamentary committee on capital punishment has finished its work for the year.

Its first item of business next session will be to write the report which will deal with a vital question—whether or not Canada should continue to inflict the death penalty for murder.

Naturally I have no way of knowing what the committee will recommend, for the best of all reasons—that the committee itself does not know. But several members of the committee have told me that opinion has slowly but steadily swung over toward the side of abolition of the death penalty.

I am not for a moment suggesting that the committee's report will recommend life imprisonment instead of hanging, but just passing on the information that the trend of opinion has slowly but steadily swung over toward the side of abolition of the death penalty.

In the four years that he was parliamentary assistant to the Minister of Finance, twice Mr. Sinclair put through in the House the Farm Improvement Loans Act, and that started him trying to get a similar act for fishermen.

One of the obstacles was the fact that the type of fisherman who needed such assistance most—that is the fisherman with just a small boat—found it almost impossible to insure his vessel at reasonable rates.

Two years ago, as a first step towards overcoming that difficulty, as fishermen will recall, we brought in the Fishermen's Indemnity Fund, which gives a form of insurance to commercial fishermen on payment of a premium of 1 per cent.

The new Act will in effect provide, over the first three-year period, a sort of revolving fund of 15,000,000 for loans to fishermen under partial government guarantee.

Loans may be made for the purchase or construction of a fishing vessel or the hull, superstructure or engine of the vessel; the purchase or construction of shore installations, and the purchase, construction, repair or alteration of any building used in a primary enterprise, such as a net loft, for example. This does not cover housing; it is quite true the Farm Improvement Loans Act now provides for home improvement, but that came in only after several years of operation; and we now have the new National Housing Act. Guaranteed loans will be confined to bona fide commercial fishermen.

Angus McLean, Conservative from Prince Edward Island coming as he does from a province where agriculture is their first industry in importance and fisheries their second, said he was very conscious of the comparison and contrast between federal legislation dealing with agriculture on the one hand and on behalf of the Conservative party he welcomed the legislation.

Indeed, if the figures can be made to mean anything at all, they suggest that the abolition of the death penalty may actually contribute to the reduction in the rate of murders—because the very fact that society itself refuses to take a life, even in the case of the killing of another life, seems to permeate the air and by a sort of magnetism, tend to make everybody in that society—including even potential murderers value everybody else's life more highly.

ANOTHER reason for the change in opinion on the parliamentary committee is because of the magnificent articles written on this question by my fellow columnist Harold Weir.

Some of Harold's ideas on other questions seem to me miles off the beam—as far off the team as he no doubt considers myself.

But I think Harold Weir has done more to make the people of Canada, and the members of parliament of Canada, face up to this moral life-and-death question than has anybody else in the whole country. On the question of hanging, Harold has made himself a sort of conscience of Canada.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Former president Truman has accepted an invitation to speak at the 10th anniversary of the United Nations in San Francisco. It was announced Sunday by Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. Truman will speak on Friday evening, June 24.

The general allotment of space and graphic headings given in your paper to publicize the patriotic and philanthropic work of the I.O.D.E. has been truly valued.

Again many thanks

Week's Sew-Thrifty

Farce Proves "Too Funny" For Audience

There was only one thing wrong with last night's technical and dress rehearsal of Prince Rupert Little Theatre Association's production of "See How They Run" staged for five performances this week at the Civic Centre.

The big hitch was that the audience of friends and members of the cast's families laughed so hard that many of the laugh-lines that followed were lost completely.

John Robertson, producer of the three-act comedy to be presented tomorrow night, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, said after the show that the rehearsal was one of the smoothest of his experience.

This confirms the claim made by Little Theatre spokesmen that the show will be in first class condition on opening night and that it will be one of the most hilarious plays to be seen in Prince Rupert for a long time. Laughs seemed to be fairly evenly divided between costumes, characters, and lines, Mr. Robertson said.

First performance will be given tomorrow night to an invitation group of elementary school students and will begin at 8:00 o'clock, a half hour earlier than the regular performances, to enable the children to be on their way home by 10 p.m.

Word has reached us from Terrace that a number of people will be motoring to Prince Rupert for the adult opener Wednesday evening and several other car loads when "Terrace Night" is presented Friday evening with proceeds going towards replacement of Little Theatre equipment lost in the Terrace Civic Centre fire. Serves ten.

Ever Since Eve

READING AN ARTICLE recently in an American publication, I learned that tea parties are "in vogue again." As far as I'm concerned, they were never out — and I feel sure tea is made in practically every household at least once a day. But is it made properly? For best results, have the water fresh and freshly boiling. Always scald the pot before you make the tea. Real tea drinkers seldom take cream. The more experienced take it plain or with lemon slices.

BAKED CORNED BEEF and sauerkraut is another luncheon suggestion which also could be used for an evening main dish. Place a large can sauerkraut in bottom of an 11" x 7" x 1½" baking dish. Combine two 1-pound cans corned beef hash, 1½ cups tomato juice, 1/3 cup finely chopped onion, 1 tablespoon prepared horse-radish. Spread mixture over sauerkraut. Cut 2 strips bacon into ½" lengths and arrange over top of hash. Bake in a very hot oven, 450 degrees, for 30 minutes. Serves eight.

LKE COFFEE, tea is aromatic and loses its flavour and fragrance rapidly when exposed to air. So care should be taken to store it in a tightly covered container.

DID YOU EVER TRY a hot tea punch? Combine 1 cup strong freshly made tea, ¾ cup pineapple juice, 2 cups water, ¾ cup orange juice and ¼ cup granulated sugar; heat slowly, stirring until sugar is dissolved. When steaming hot, serve with a garnish of slightly crushed mint leaves. This quantity serves four.

WHAT PICNIC WOULD BE complete without stuffed eggs? Mash the hard-boiled yolks and make a paste with tomato ketchup. Season with salt, pepper, marjoram, mint and sage, then stuff the whites.

Another variation is to mash the yolks, then add curry, lemon juice and mayonnaise.

Food Shorts

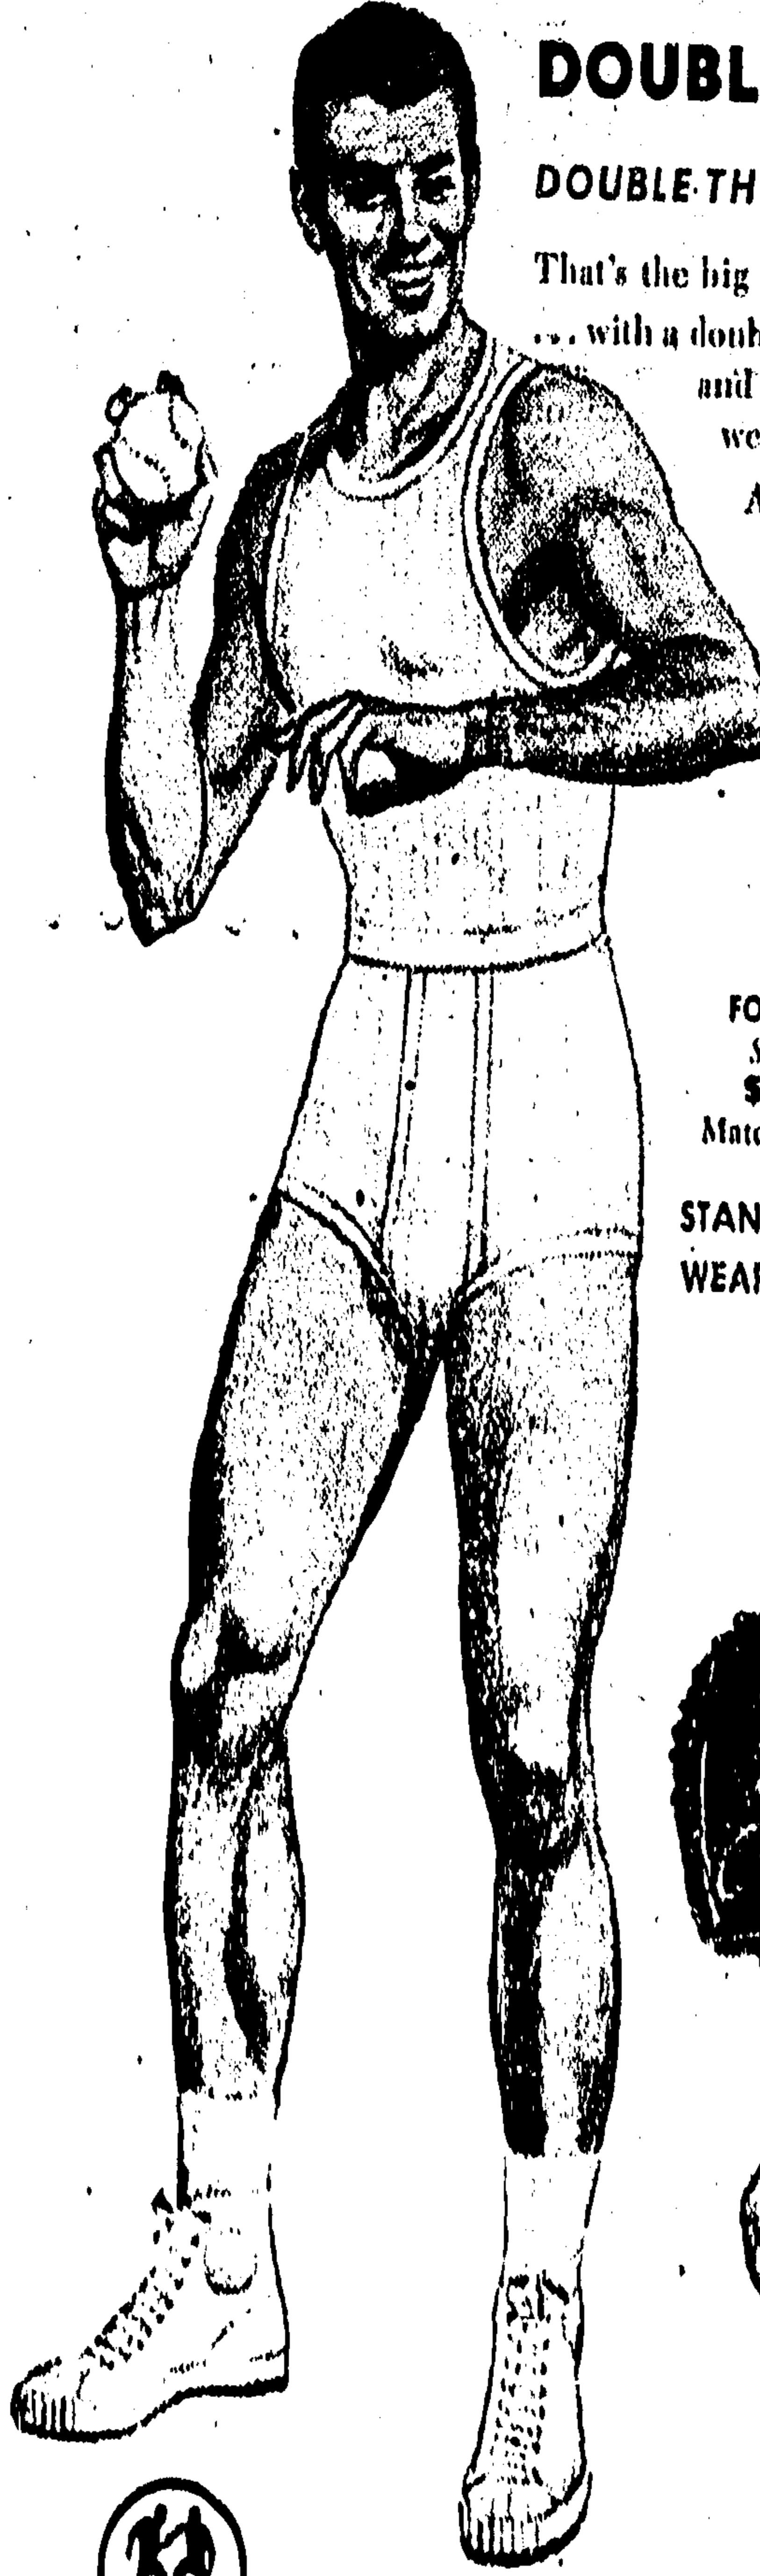

Here's an easy, elegant company dessert. Whip some cream and sweeten lightly with powdered sugar. Fold in couple tablespoons green creme de menthe and chill half an hour. Then fold in well-drained canned cling peach slices. Serve in sherbet glasses with a sprig of mint to garnish.

Curads have an exclusive new medication, too . . . the germ killer is right in the pad. Won't curl or fray . . . and are completely water-proof! In this summer-time — when lots of cuts and scratches are part of any family's life — do keep a supply of Curad on hand, ready for that emergency!

I've Just Come In From The Garden . . . pulling weeds and admiring the rose-buds! And now, oh joy! . . . for a cup of refreshing Instant Chase & Sanborn Coffee! . . . As I put away the tools I imagine the argument between those two charming gentlemen, Mr. Chase and Mr. Sanborn . . . as to how the superb flavor was achieved. "It's the top quality coffee beans!" says Mr. Sanborn. "What makes the difference?" "But you're wrong!" cries Mr. Chase. "It's my matchless skill in brewing which has perfected INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE!" As I sit in enjoyment . . . I realize both are right! Do try a jar yourself — and taste how good it is!

Life Has So Many Irritations . . . we have to accept — so I believe in getting rid of as many as we can! No need, for instance, to have any trouble with burning corns or calluses. Use the quick cure —

BLUE-JAY Corn Plasters. They get rid of corns fast — because of an exclusive medication called Phenylum . . . which gets down under your corn and helps push it out from underneath. The makers of Blue-Jay say their Corn Plasters to careful tests — and proved that, with Phenylum, Blue-Jay went to work faster and more surely than other leading remedies. Get rid of your irritating foot trouble — today!

Summer Cottons Are Lovelier Than Ever This Year — gay, good-looking and money-saving. And, as most of us are finding out, they're much more good-looking and long-wearing if we follow the simple trick of using GLIDE LIQUID STARCH. And oh! But it's so easy! Just add water to Glide — hot or cold — that's all! There's blue in Glide to add whiteness and wax to smooth your ironing . . . You'll find your cottons so much easier to iron — and looking so professional — that you'll have that glow of pride we all enjoy. Use Glide for your children's clothes — your own house-clothes — for shirts and linens. In two sizes — 32 oz. and 64 oz. giant economy size.

I'm So Grateful . . . as a homemaker, for the new liquid detergent GAY — because it has so many virtues, it really makes dishwashing much less of a chore than it used to be! I'm grateful because it's so gentle on the hands — I can feel the difference. Then it has a delightful fragrance — and the sweetest suds! You, too, will find that Gay has an extra grease-cutting power that cleans the toughest grease on pots and pans . . . while china, silver and glass sparkle with a new beauty. It's very economical, too — one bottle of Gay does fifty washings — more than any two boxes of powder detergent. Hooray for Gay!

Top In Happiness . . . for children, comes in the delight of making their own ice cream cones! They can have this pleasure with R.O.Y.A.L.

INSTANT PUDDING . . . it's the easiest, quickest way there is to make ice cream! There's a simple recipe on every package — in chocolate, butterscotch, vanilla, or coconut cream. Best of all — these ice cream cones, they love to make, are nutritious — as well as delicious! Your grocer has crisp, fresh cones on hand — so now that hot weather is coming, keep a supply on hand — and have an assortment of Royal Instant Puddings to make ice cream cones that are the best ever!

Such Smooth Spreading — makes everyone enjoy using the new super-homogenized BLUE BONNET MARGARINE. This new spreadability — even when it's too cold — is really wonderful. There's the same famous Blue Bonnet quality and nutrition — just as delicious whether it's spread on bread, melting through vegetables or simmering in the pan. Even the freshest bread won't be torn with this new easy-to-spread Blue Bonnet. And just see what it does for your cakes — cookies — pastry! They're light andaky — delicious! Cut Blue Bonnet in the convenient Delux foil-wrapped quarters — the "quality-plus-convenience" way of buying!

Seems To Me — I reach for my package of BENSON'S or CANADA CORN STARCH time after time, day after day! There are so many things I need it for. It makes the creamiest soups for vegetables; the smoothest cream soups. The flavor and texture of gravy is tops with this ever-popular product — and it's ideal for the clear, sweet soups we serve with cottage pudding or ice cream. Plus Fillings are light and delicately textured with BENSON'S or CANADA CORN STARCH . . . and it's tops for those creamy puddings which taste so good after hot weather salads. Take my word for it — you can depend upon it for many economical and wholesome dishes.

A Comfy Baby . . . is a Happy Baby. And, as you know, one of the greatest comforts to any baby is a soft, absorbent diaper. CURITY DIAPERS, you'll find, are made of full-weight gauze, and are comfysoft after endless washings. They won't shrink, and won't wrinkle. And they're full-size with pinched edges that do away with cumbersome bows or thick edges which can chafe a little one so painfully. Across the land, when mothers ask for CURITY get your supply. Spring Homers Twice In Vain

G & A Stage Rally To Edge Esquires

Ray Spring, speedy but hitless centre fielder for Esquires, did all he could to win a hard-contested Prince Rupert and District baseball league game yesterday but it wasn't enough as Gordon and Anderson came from behind to edge the clothiers 6-5 at Roosevelt Park yesterday afternoon.

Hitting in 13 official times at bat in five games this year, and after grounding out in the second inning, Spring stepped up to the plate in the fourth inning of a 2-2 ball game and hammered the second ball pitched him by G and A's Ian Dunbar over the left field fence for a home run.

In the sixth inning, now hitting 1 for 15, he eyed the first ball thrown him and clouted it to the same spot to give Esquires an insurance run and make the score 5-3.

But his mighty efforts were all in vain.

Trailing by two runs in the bottom of the eighth Gordon and Anderson finally caught on to Esquire's right-hander Del Klatt.

ENRIDGE STARTS RALLY

Starting off the rally was Ralph Enridge, who as first batter poled a Homer over the left field fence to make it a 5-4 ball game. Stan Petrow singled and although Syd Scherk doubled, the ball was fielded so speedily that Petrow only reached third.

Esquire manager Harley Lewis then sent in Jackie Sharpe to put out the fire.

Ross Noel, G & A third sacker, promptly rifled a sizzler to center scoring Petrow, but Spring's throw to home caught Scherk at the plate. Relief pitcher Dunbar grounded out and Don Hartwig trickled a roller through Joe Giordano's legs to score Noel with the winning run.

Esquires went down one-two-three in the top of the ninth.

The tight game saw Esquires tag G & A starter "Pop-eye" Kristmanson for two runs on three hits in the first inning and threaten sufficiently in the third for the hardware crew's manager Rusty Ford to put in Dunbar two-thirds of the way through the inning.

TIED UP IN THIRD

G & A tied up the games in the bottom of the third on hits by Dunbar Hartwig and Don Scherk which brought in two runs. Both teams added singletons in the fifth inning. Klatt singled in Giordano for Esquires and Enridge for G & A doubled in Don Scherk who had got on by an error.

Winning pitcher was Dunbar, losing pitcher was Klatt.

For G & A Kristmanson allowed two runs gave up four hits, walked three men and struck out three. Dunbar was charged with three runs, gave up six hits, walked two and fanned two.

For Esquires, Klatt was charged with six runs and nine hits while Sharpe was charged with no runs and one hit. Klatt struck out five and walked two. Sharp struck out none and walked none.

Scorecard:

G & A 200 141 000-5 10 5

G & A 002 010 03X-0 10 3

Meanwhile over at Terrace, Commercials boosted their lead over Gordon and Anderson by half a game in sweeping a twin bill from the Terrace squad, 6-1 and 10-5.

Maurice Scott went all the way for Commercials in the first game to take the win and Gordie Cameron pitched the hotelmen to victory in the second fixture.

School Proud of Graduates

On May 27, the parents and friends of the Graduating Class witnessed a beautiful and solemn Commencement Exercise.

Booth Memorial High school is extremely proud of its graduates of 1955. We feel each one has contributed to the welfare and spirit of his or her school.

Keen competition for the prizes, bursaries and scholarships was evident.

Those who won are to be congratulated.

All who have known these pupils will follow their accomplishments in life with sincerest interest.

Efforts Appreciated

The newspaper staff of Booth Memorial High school has greatly appreciated the space given by The Daily News for the publishing of the school's activities.

With the aid of Mr. Dick Ayres and Mr. Geoff Ayres we have learned something of the art of journalism, editing and publishing.

Since this is our last publication for the year we would like to part by saying that we hope that you, the public, have become better acquainted with us, with our curriculum, our aims and achievements, through the medium of this page.

CHEERING SECTION SCORES

Bo-Mo-Hi's cheering section turned in creditable performances this year, mainly due to the efforts of Pat Wilson, a cheerleader from last year. Pat started the ball rolling early in September and stayed with the gang, teaching them different calls and drills. The students and the cheering section certainly appreciated Pat's work.

BACKACHE May be Warning

Backache is often caused by lay kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest or that tired-out and heavy-headed feeling may soon follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Get Dodd's Kidney Pills now.

Year Book Ready Soon

Under the supervision of Janet Jones and her co-editors, work on the school year-book has drawn to a close.

Saturday, June 4 saw the roughly-compiled and corrected pages headed for Vancouver and the press.

If all goes well copies of the Aurora are expected to be issued this week.

A contest, sponsored by the School Newspaper Editorial Staff, was held in order to choose an appropriate cover for this year's annual. Many entries were handed in and after much debate Art Hollins sketch-of-the-school was chosen.

There's the six-cylinder word for table salt
And two horrid names for iron:
Then a special get-up that we call
Just electric wirin'.

The kids come out of Chemistry

Black-faced and smoky-eyed;

Their eyebrows are quite singed and burnt

Their hands look like they're fried.

On every occasion in the lab when the kids are mixing

Chemistry

Where dazed kids take their places,

The smells are of times varied;

(a new scent every day.)

I wish they'd tell us the name of the stuff

So we'd be warned away.

Maybe someone will take pity and have the room smell-proof!

Then the smell will only go as far as the plastered roof.

So if you're going by don't stop, but pass the lab.

Better not walk—run out!

Else you'll come out on a slab.
