Ten-Point Program Outlined Last of Letters on Centre

A constant search for leadership for new activities should be undertaken and those making worthwhile contributions to the operation of the Centre should be rewarded under a system of honorary memberships. Non-members should be excluded from the Centre except when attending a function for which a definite rent had been paid, Mr. Hankinson said.

In conclusion, Mr. Hankinson pointed out that the only long-term solution to the financial problem of the Centre is to make it attractive to a more extensive membership with the provision that each activity paid a reasonable cost of the Centre's operation.

All signed letters received will be turned over to the Civic Centre board of directors which meets tomorrow night. Should a suggestion be used by the board to ensure continuous and successful operation of the Centre, a $25 prize will be awarded by The Daily News to the winning letter-writer.

Majority of Winnipeg Seats Won by Powerful Civic Group

WINNIPEG — The powerful Civic Election Committee group has maintained its strength in next year's city council.

Final transfer of votes from Wednesday's civic election showed the 1954 city council will have 10 CEC members, four CCF, three Independents and one Labor-Progressive.

The CCF party lost two seats to Independents in the only change from this year. Even with the backing of the Independents and the lone LPP alderman, the CCF next year could not obtain a majority vote.

Balance of power in the new school board will remain the same as this year, with 10 CEC members, four CCF and one LPP.

Highlight of the final transfer was the failure of Ald. Stan Carrick, Independent, to retain his Ward Three seat. He was eliminated on the fourth count by Frank Wagner, CEC.

The new mayor, George Sharpe, is an independent.

Makeup of the 1954 council:

Ward One — Two years: J.

In the policy committee should be a program set up to study and the expansion of the duties and keep current under review. Fees could be set up in the various phases of its program.

Red Plane Shot Down During Raid

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalist defence ministry said Communist planes today bombed the Nationalist-held Tachen islands, about 200 miles north of here, for the first time. The ministry said one raiding plane was shot down.

The announcement did not say how many Red planes took part, nor did it mention damage or possible casualties. The Tachens are about 100 miles southeast of Hangchow.

The ministry also reported that Communist Chinese on Toumen Island were bombarding Nationalist-held Yiklang Island. Both islands are northwest of the Tachens a few miles off the Chekiang province coast.

The Tachens consist of two main islands and are believed garrisoned by more than 20,000 Nationalist troops and guerrillas.

The civilian population is about 30,000, mostly fishermen.

Forecast Sees More Fog, Rain

Prince Rupert residents, along with others in the north coast region, were miffed today by the Dominion Public Weather office forecast from Vancouver which predicted sunny skies generally over the area today and tomorrow, with patches of low cloud and fog overnight.

In an effort to get a more accurate weather picture, The Daily News obtained the marine forecast from the Digby Island radio station. The marine forecast predicts light winds, cloudy with patches of fog and occasional light drizzle for the rest of today and early tomorrow.

Fog which covered most of the coast yesterday has been intermittent today, and officials at the Seal Cove airbase report that showers have brought the fog down close to the water for short periods although visibility has cleared enough between showers for flights to be resumed.

The sun, barely visible above the fog blanket for short intervals yesterday did not have enough heat to burn the mist off. Lack of any circulating air over the area is thought to be responsible for the heavy blanket of fog building up.

Little change in temperature is expected tomorrow with the low tonight and high tomorrow at Port Hardy and Sandspit 40 and 50 degrees, Prince Rupert, 48 and 52 degrees.

City Building Still Ahead Of '53 Figures

Construction of the $15,000 fish reduction plant at Fairview by the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-Operative Association brought the October 1954 figure for building in the city to $37,885 to bring the total construction in Prince Rupert for the first 10 months of the year to $601,800, more than $200,000 higher than that for the entire year of 1953.

In October 1953, only $32,028 in construction was represented by permits issued by the city and only $30,000 in building had been registered for the first 10 months of the year.

Apart from the Fairview plant, an $8,000 house was the only other new construction for which a permit was issued while the balance of October's building figures are for renovations and repairs to existing buildings.

Inefficiency Claim Result of Slowdown

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP) — Employees of the B.C. government decided here Saturday to instruct their executive to work towards unemployment insurance benefits for all provincial government workers.

Delegates expressed the opinion that civil service employees were not secure in their jobs and the text of the resolution said that our employment is no more secure than any other type of employment."

The delegates cited examples of people in secure jobs with salaries "much in excess of ours in many instances" who have the protection of unemployment benefits.

The 11th annual convention also decided to press for twice-a-month pay for all provincial government employees and to take necessary action to ensure that every effort is being made to "improve wages and working conditions of public works crews not presently enjoying wages and conditions comparable to those existing in similar employment in better class private industry."

The convention rejected a resolution asking for three weeks' vacation with pay after only one year of service on the grounds that private industry does not enjoy similar benefits.

The association agreed to continue to press for the five-day work week for all government employees, for wage adjustments and bargaining rights.

Meanwhile, a resolution passed by the Social Credit League at its recent convention charging civil servants with "wilful inefficiency" was defeated Saturday by the president of one of the sponsoring constituencies, H.W. Sperling, president of the Fort George Association; said the resolution was not a blanket condemnation of the civil service. "But he said the inefficiency "may go as high as a sand-lot boy suddenly put into a league so big that if he did not watch out, Alberta would get the gas line before he knew what was happening."

"He knows his revenues are slipping, and he knows that I know why doesn't he make monthly statements of his government's receipts and disbursements," he promised last year.

The Liberal leader said there was never any suggestion in his speeches that the B.C. government was entering into arrangements to pipe Peace River natural gas through Alberta, missing central B.C.

"All I said is that the premier is a sand-lot boy suddenly put into a league so big that if he did not watch out, Alberta would get the gas line before he knew what was happening."

In an interview, he said he didn't want to "embarrass" any civil servants in his

Pressure Group Influence
Danger to Canada — Webster

NANAIMO, B.C. — (CP) — Provincial Leader Arnold Webster Sunday told 300 party members attending the CCP Island zone conference here that he believed it would not be many years until industry granted workers an annual wage.

"This is not CCP policy," he said. "I am just dreaming."

He said he was worried by the rapid increase of U.S. investment capital flooding into Canada to develop our natural resources because of the growing pressure of lobbyists who "camp on the government's doorstep at Victoria, Edmonton and Ottawa."

"Influence of pressure groups representing U.S. investors can be a danger to our Canadian democracy," he said.

"It used to be that the soldier followed the trader, now it is the lobbyist who follows the investor."

Lumber Cargo Leaves For U.K.

The Italian freighter Gunn left here at 8 a.m. today with a lumber cargo of 570,750 board feet from Little Haugland and Kerr at Terrace, bound for Port Alberni and other southern ports.

He called on the government to assume responsibility for an orderly development of the province's natural resources.

"Government policy must provide firm control of planning and marketing."

Plans were also discussed for the B.C. Teachers' Federation Convention to be held in Victoria on the weekend of November 26 and 27.

Teachers were commended for their excellent work in arranging for the convention on such short notice.

Democratic Plan

SINCE our recent editorial on the council-manager plan as a suggested means of running Prince Rupert, a reader has sent in some material on the subject published by the National Municipal League in New York.

The League's remarks about the so-called undemocratic features of the plan are worth noting. It says: "There is no trace of dictatorship in the manager plan. The plan's greatest strength is derived from its sensitivity and obedience to informed public opinion—and informed public opinion is always in favor of good government."

"Democracy consists in controlling public officials, not in electing all of them. There is nothing undemocratic about appointing the top administrator. Our experience in electing administrators has been a disappointment. This system has tended to produce distinctly anti-democratic political machines and a record of graft and waste that adds no laurels to the democratic tradition."

The most effective way for the people to get a firm grip on the governmental organization is by putting in the city hall a policy-making council of citizens who will appoint a professional administrator to carry out their policies. Democracy cannot work unless the administrators do the people's work. In some cities inefficient administration defeats the voters' wishes more effectively than outright defiance."

That the plan is proving its worth is apparent in the fact that in the U.S. it has been adopted by 25 per cent of all cities over 5,000 population and 35 per cent of all cities over 25,000. Altogether some 23 million Americans live under the council-manager plan. In Canada it is also gaining wide acceptance, particularly in the province of Quebec where 28 cities have adopted it. In Victoria, B.C., the council was so satisfied with the work of its city manager that recently of its own volition it raised his salary from $10,000 to $12,000 per year.

There is no guarantee that the plan will work in all places and under all circumstances. It makes sense, however, that a city should wish to put its affairs in the hands of an administrator who, provided he shows results, can continue year after year without being constantly interrupted by the vagaries of elections. With an elected council to set the policies, the democratic principles of such an arrangement will always stand firm.

Latest Chinese Census Shows Population of 601,930,000

TOKYO (CP) — China today used the round figure of 200,000,000. Even so, China now boasts more than three times as many people as her Communist brother, to whom she has been exporting much-needed food in return for military and industrial aid.

The 1950 census of the United States showed 150,897,361 persons, but recent estimates have pushed this above the 160,000,000 mark.

Of the total, Peiping said, 574,205,940 were counted through direct census while the remainder, 27,732,095 was arrived at by indirect census."

Peiping said the latter figure included 7,893,298 Chinese on Formosa, 511,743,320 Chinese residing or studying abroad and 2,974,777 in the remote border area where elections have yet to be held.

As I See It

Over World Roof

THE Canadian Pacific Airlines have applied to the government for permission regularly to fly non-stop, over the roof of the world, from Vancouver to Amsterdam.

Establishment of such a service would be in the interest of Canada in general, and B.C. in particular.

Some European airlines are planning the regular flying of this route, over the roof of the world, but with Seattle instead of Vancouver as the North American terminus. It is a fact that the route is a short cut.

Apart altogether from the regular and obvious civilian benefits in this service, it should help to bind together the whole North Atlantic Treaty Organization, by establishing another efficient airline connection.

In the Korean war, the CPA for eastern air services literally were life-savers. Because the CPA already had the line set up and fully organized, it could be instantaneously transformed to wartime transportation needs.

The same principle holds true in regard to western Europe.

Another reason why I hope that the government gives the CPA the North Pole line franchise is because Canada is duty bound to develop our own northland, even on level.

If we do not develop our own north country — who will? Already our northern neighbors, the Russians, are firmly established all across their vast Arctic holdings. They actually have scientific missions at, or very near, the Pole itself.

Canada includes all the territory up to the Pole itself where our border touches Russia's. In recent years we have had to keep on our toes to keep our big southern neighbor, Uncle Sam, from crowding in on our Northland. In some cases Canada has been glad of the partnership of the U.S.A. in establishing defence bases which we probably would not have felt called or able to build ourselves. But the present government — with the full support of all four parties in parliament — has been very sensitive to the danger of encroachment, even by our good neighbors.

We do not want even our best friends and good neighbors the United States to get so many of their men and so much of their material established on Canadian territory in the North that they come to think of these outposts as American possessions.

* * *

Even in the second world war, the development which took place in our far north was phenomenal. Some of the Eskimos, who came into contact with

Group Upholds Editor's Rights

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain's press council, which pronounces on newspaper ethics, upholds in its latest report the right of an editor not to disclose his sources of information unless ordered to do so by Parliament or a court of law.

The council, a voluntary organization formed by the newspapers themselves, has no disciplinary powers but investigates complaints relating to newspaper practices. Its other findings:

A newspaper has a right to publish a document on a subject of general importance even if it is marked "private and confidential."

An editor has an absolute right to refuse any advertisement at his own discretion.

An editor has the undoubtedly right to close letters-to-the-editor correspondence at any moment he considers suitable.

These decisions arose from complaints received from the town clerk of the small Dorset market town of Poole that the local paper had published a report regarded as confidential and that its editor had declined to say where the information came from; from the Typographical Association that a Warrington, Lancashire, newspaper had refused to accept an advertisement; and from the general secretary of the Peace Pledge Union that The Times had closed a correspondence without publishing a reply from the union which had been attacked.

Batista Alone In Cuban Vote

Havana, Cuba — ... Strongman Fulgencio Batista ran unopposed in Cuba's presidential elections today as opposition candidate Stanion Grau San Martin withdrew and urged Cubans to stay away from the polls.

"There are about 18,000,000 people in the Soviet zone and nearly 50,000,000 in the West, including those who have fled the East."

"In trying to help the people in the East and lay the groundwork for reunification of Germany, we keep the different economic systems in mind. There is a free market in the West, and out-and-out socialism in the East."

Batista, who has been in power since he forced his way back to the top in a 1952 coup, returned the file to a television speech. He charged that Grau withdrew "because he knows he cannot win," and called on Cubans to ignore his call for a boycott.

In addition to a president, the island republic is choosing a vice-president, a new Congress, 12 governors and many mayors and lesser officials.

Approximately 2,500,000 Cubans are eligible to vote in Cuba's first major balloting in six years. Batista's forces appealed for a record turnout, hoping that the vote for their candidate would exceed 51 per cent of the total eligible voters and thus give them a reply to any opposition claims that Grau might have won had he not withdrawn.

PLAIN PEOPLE

Evidently, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor are plain folk. A few friends were luncheon guests in New York recently. Referring to the occasion, one of them said: "They had a frugal dinner, consisting of oysters, Rockefeller entree, pressed wild duck with wild rice, and vegetables, souffle and a bottle of Romanee Conti, 1954, a Heavenly Burgundy at $12.50 per bottle. Oh yes! After coffee, a spot of brandy!

West German Ministry Gets in Russians' Hair

This story is one of a series giving the impressions of a reporter who spent two weeks touring West Germany.

By W. R. WHEATLEY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

The West German government has a ministry that is getting in the hair of the Russians.

It sees that material aid and information reach Germans in the Russian-occupied zone.

"We don't talk much and we can't work openly," said Ludwig von Hammerstein, a spokesman for the ministry of all-German affairs, in an interview. With a broad smile and considerable relish, he added: "The Russians call us the ministry of spies and sabotage."

THREEFOLD TASK

"We are a small ministry, with offices in Bonn and Berlin. Our task is threefold: to do all we can for the population in the East zone is anti-Communist on a material or any other basis. We intend to see it stays that way.

"The Russians don't publish figures or other information about life and conditions in the East zone. We know, of course, about the Russians dispossessing owners of large farms there. The idea was to break up these big farms into small farms for the people. But now the small farms have been grouped together into big state farms.

"There are about 18,000,000 people in the Soviet zone and nearly 50,000,000 in the West, including those who have fled the East."

"In trying to help the people in the East and lay the groundwork for reunification of Germany, we keep the different economic systems in mind. There is a free market in the West, and out-and-out socialism in the East."

Hallowe'en Motif Featured At Hospital Auxiliary Tea

The Hallowe'en traditions of gay colors and good things to eat were artfully carried out in the decor at the annual Hallowe'en tea presented by the Women's Auxiliary of the Prince Rupert General Hospital at the home of Mrs. L. M. Greene Saturday afternoon.

Vases of lovely bronze and yellow mums graced the rooms, but decorative focal point was the pretty centrepiece on the tea table, an arrangement of grapes, apples, a pumpkin and other fruits and vegetables, encircled by lovely maple leaves in shades of frost-tinted reds and set off by jet black candles.

Mrs. Greene and Mrs. Sidney Elkins, auxiliary president, received guests at the successful affair, convener of which was Mrs. C. C. Mills.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. W. S. Kergin, Mrs. Charles Starr, Mrs. K. L. Robertson, and Mrs. Ronald Allen.

Mrs. W. B. Bond and Mrs. Jack Martin were in charge of the tea table while serving were Mrs. Neely Moore, Mrs. Arthur Oglevie, Mrs. A. D. Jones, Mrs. Douglas Stevenson and Mrs. W. C. R. Jones, Mrs. L. V. Tattersall was in the kitchen.

by Emily Wilkens

For "The Young in Figure"

If you belong to the new age of American women, Emily Wilkens, four-time winner of major fashion awards, designs for YOU, this talented American Designer (author, too, with another book in the offing) has her own theory on designs for the ageless look for active moderns who are young in figure, regardless of their birthday situation. To illustrate, Pattern A818 by Miss Wilkens has the most flattering of princess feeling, a skirt flaring gently in pleats and, as an eye-catcher, a flattering collar. "Make this design in silk faille, jersey, featherweight wool or tweed" she says and adds that the collar which is removable can be made in contrast — in color or fabric.

Pattern A818 is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 10 requires 5½ yards 45-inch fabric.

Send FIFTY CENTS (in coins) for Pattern A818 to Prince Rupert Daily News, Pattern Department, 60 Front Street West, Toronto, Ontario. Please print plainly YOUR NAME, ADDRESS with ZONE, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.

IN THIS CORNER

By GEOFF AYRES

Next to the Grand Canyon, about the hardest thing to fill right now is the position of president of the Prince Rupert Basketball Association for the 1964-55 season.

With the opening of basketball a scant 10 days away everything seems to be progressing well enough—the teams are picked for the leagues, coaches named, a gala opening planned—and yet the key man on the executive has not yet been picked, nominated, bulldozed or accepted into the president's chair.

Oh, two people were nominated, but they hardly stayed up there longer than ducks in a shooting gallery . . . and quite rightly so.

Jack Evans, nominated in absentia at the first general meeting of the association, made his position with regard to basketball this season quite plain six weeks ago. He wasn't having any this year.

Don Hartwig, with two coaching jobs at hand, although he accepted the position at the last general meeting must have put some serious thought to the spot he would occupy as president should a serious beef arise involving either of his teams. Not an enviable one, to say the least.

Others have been nominated for the post at both basketball meetings, but such rash of delegations broke out that it would lead one to believe that to be president of the basketballers was the same as being called up in the McCarthy hearings.

It would appear to us, that the best way to get a proxy for the hoisters would be to ask many of the old time players, coaches and supporters of basketball if they wanted the job first.

Then, when and if such a man is to be found, that is the time to bring his name up for nomination to be voted on by a general meeting. Should no one be found for the position in a city which is reputed to be rich in both prospective casaba talent and "men of yesteryear" then it's time to turn in the equipment and form another bowling league.

In the first place the man for the post of president should be enthusiastic—should want to do the job and not just be either

Ford Rink Wins Mixed Bonspiel

The Mixed Curling Bonspiel, the first "spiel" of the current curling season, was won by Rusty Ford rink yesterday who ousted the Gordon Bateman rink 14-7 in the primary competition of the finals.

The Ford rink, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Ford and Mr. and Mrs. George Morgan got the points by taking out the Bill McKenzie entry of Mr. McKenzie, Mrs. Domato and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Evans. Bateman advanced to the finals by besting the Barney Eylonson rink.

In Secondary competition the Ken Warren rink ousted the Bob Parker entry by a score of 11-9. Parker went into the finals after beating the Newton entry and Warren beat Ken Robertson in the semis.

Finalists rinks in both primary and secondary competitions will be presented with trophies later in the season.

Week's Reprieve Given WHL Coaches To Decide Forward, Defence Lines

By The Canadian Press

Western Hockey League coaches have nine games this week in which to make up their minds which 14 players they want to retain for service on defence and forward lines.

WHL president Al Leader gave the hockey mentors a one-week reprieve Sunday night by extending the deadline for trimming clubs to the limit of 14 players, excluding goalkeepers, to Nov. 7. The reprieve came only a few hours before the original Sunday midnight deadline.

Probably happiest to hear the news was Doug Bentley, whose Saskatoon Quakers ended a division astrous swing through the league's British Columbia section Saturday night by blowing a three-goal lead and going down to a 5-4 defeat at the hands of New Westminster Royals. It was his fourth straight loss for the Quakers at the hands of the west coast clubs and left the Saskatoon sextet in last place, 10 points behind the leading Royals.

In the only other Saturday night game Edmton 8-7, Flyers trounced Calgary Stampeders 8-1 in Edmonton.

Booth Memorial Junior-Senior High School News

Glee Club To Produce Mikado

THE charm and romance of Japan will soon be presented on stage at Bo-Me-Hi. For the first time in the history of the High School the Glee Club is producing a Gilbert and Sullivan musical comedy, "The Mikado."

The Ladies chorus has already begun practicing, and casting for "leads" will start next week. Mr. Griffen, the director, has spread enthusiasm to such an extent that the Glee Club is acquiring more and more members. Even the boys are losing their shyness and realizing how much fun it is—although still more are needed for the Men's chorus. Most of the student body will be involved in this money-making scheme, and if all goes as well as it is hoped, the Mikado will be produced in the spring and will run for three nights. An attempt is being made to form an orchestral ensemble to accompany the cast.

The Glee club deserves high praise for planning this large undertaking.

Not All Comic Book Fans

SPEAKING for the student body, the editors of the Booth Memorial Junior Senior High school page wish to raise strong objections to the stinging rebuke made last week by Mr. Will Hankinson when he told the Prince Rupert Gyro club that "a whole generation is growing up today which cannot read."

In remarking that "the popularity of comic books is attributing to the inability of so many children to master any literature which is not illustrated" we feel that Mr. Hankinson has been drastically misinformed and his criticism unjustified.

All across Canada more and more teenagers are taking the opportunity to visit both school and public libraries, consulting book lists and deriving real pleasure from novels, biographies and histories at their disposal.

With the advent of "Young Canada Book Week" supported strongly every year by the high school body, Prince Rupert students will have a definite opportunity to refute Mr. Hankinson's claim and prove that they are not all comic book fans.

Hartwig Resigns Post As Cage Group Prexy

Don Hartwig officially resigned as president of the Prince Rupert Bascball Association. Due to the fact that Don is coaching the Prince Rupert All-Stars as well as two High School teams he will not be able to find time to handle the commission and give it all the attention that he feels it deserves. He has not left the commission out on the limb though, for he has mentioned a person to take his place who is both willing and capable.

Now, turning to our own Booth Memorial High School basketball teams, we find that they are all ready and raring to go. Mr. Hartwig has chosen the following for his senior team players: Art Turcotte, Fred Kritzman, Art Hellen, Greig Forbes, Ron Black, John Newton, Terry Shenton, Mike Young, Mc Anderson and Ted Leask.

Asked how he arrived at this choice of players Don exclaimed that, "These are the chosen ten because I felt that they were the better of all the players who tried for the team. They will probably improve as they go along. As they are playing together all year, the Rainmakers probably will make a good showing against any outside teams that they have to play agains."

There will be 3 intermediate team entries from Boch High School. They are: General Motors, Sunrise and North Star.

The coaches for these teams will be Mr. R. H. Davidson, Mr. B. White and Mr. D. Hartwig, respectively.

Scorekeeper for the game was Don Tasaka and the referee Don McLeod.

Between times, when we were not watching Beta and Delta we were viewing the strongly-contested game between Alpha and Gamma. Alpha won 40-33.

Playing for them were Linda Strachan, Sue Kergin, Susan Watson and Cathy Sempel.

One city team and two High School squads will represent the city league.

One more thing, before we leave is the subject of school spirit.

The High School students, as a whole, should feel that it is their responsibility to back their teams morally. If they do this it will not only revive the local interest in basketball, but will also boost the school teams' morale.

UNWITTING PRANK
VANCOUVER (O)—A five-year-old girl unwittingly pulled off the city's biggest Hallowe'en "prank" in years. And she did it while asleep. A search party that at times numbered about 1,000 persons started searching fog-shrouded North Vancouver Saturday when little Sheila Sonnen was reported missing from her home. The search continued right through the height of Hallowe'en celebrations Saturday night and early Sunday.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Henning Sonnen found daughter Sheila asleep in the basement of their home.

The girls haven't found a "latest" in hair styles yet. The most popular hair cuts are short. One is the duck cut which is too short to curl so it is combed back to make a duck tail. The other is the "Hallowe'en" cut which is short and slightly curly. Also a recipient hair cut is the "feather" cut which is short in the front and long in the back. We lauged at the styles of the past but boy Oh Boy!!! — See you at the beauty parlor, fellas!

Panic Hits

"Batty Bats"

By MARILYN ANDERSON
Grade 7

A great idea just came to me. I made up my mind to turn tables on the spooks. So with the help of my parents, I dressed up as a ghost. Instead of going to other people's houses, I stayed at home. The doorbell rang. All the lights were out, so I went to the door with my lantern. It was a gang called the "Batty-Bats." I was frightened at first but soon recovered my composure and went on with my act.

Billy Steps Out

By DAVID ALLEN
Grade 7

Billy was afraid, of course. Not him. He remembered having said earlier that evening that he was going out. His mother had told him to wait him out for witches and ghosts.

Now in bed he hadn't gone. Not that he was frightened, you know, but he was only five years old. Then he remembered all the stories his big brother had told him about ghosts, witches and goblins.

Suddenly he heard footsteps behind him. He dared not look back.

As he rounded a hedge, an eerie orange face darted out at him. He began to run.

"They're all around me," he thought in panic.

When he stopped running, he looked around but couldn't see anything.

"Gee, I was too fast for those fellows," he said to himself.

He began to walk again. Then all of a sudden, he felt a cold hand on his shoulder.

"Come with me," a deep voice said.

With a stifled cry, he whipped around! There was his father!

Hallowe'en Dance Proves Success

A most successful Hallowe'en dance was staged in the high school gym last week by the Senior and Junior student councils.

The gym was colorfully decorated and both staff members and students entered into the spirit of the masquerade. Many varied and carefully designed costumes were in evidence showing hard work on the part of both students and their mothers.

Students expressed their appreciation to the teachers who by their attendance showed a genuine interest in students' functions.
