Residents Urged To Conserve Water As Rock Slide Cuts City Pipeline

PROBABLY THE ENVY of every last one of his female fans, June Janico gets a cheerful bear hug from rock 'n' roll idol Elvis Presley. Reported to be "the one" girl in the quivering singer's romance department, June travelled up from her home town of Biloxi, Miss., to spend some time with Elvis at his home in Memphis, Tenn., before he left to start a new round of gyrations on a personal appearance tour.

Hungary's Puppet Boss Refuses Talks With Nagy

VIENNA (AP)—Russia's Puppet premier of Hungary, Janos Kadar, today rejected neutrality as a future policy for the country and refused any negotiations with former premier Imre Nagy as long as he remains in the asylum of the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest.

Kadar set the policy of his regime in a statement to a workers' delegation, broadcast by Budapest Radio, which showed clearly that he has no intention of walking out of the Soviet-dominated Warsaw Pact or giving up the close ties with Moscow which set off the revolution three weeks ago.

Kadar claimed he had reached an agreement with Soviet military authorities in Hungary that "no one may be deported," and declared that the government would "hold no one responsible for participating in the uprising of the past three weeks."

This contradicted an earlier broadcast which said the Soviet Army was deporting Hungarians to the east in sealed railway cars in a desperate effort to stamp out revolutionary elements.

Kadar declared in today's statement only persons arrested during commission of 'acts of terror" and crimes would be prosecuted.

Kadar said that a neutral Hungary—which Nagy had proposed during his brief tenure as premier—would be "exploited by the imperialists and lead to war." The international political situation, he added, does not favor a policy of neutrality.

As for the man the revolt had made premier briefly, Kadar said an agreement with Nagy "could be possible only if he changes his attitude and comes out of the Yugoslav embassy to negotiate."

Meanwhile, in a desperate attempt to end the general strike paralyzing the country, the Soviet-imposed government announced a mass purge of former top Communists and expressed approval of limited "free" elections "at a later date." But the only parties allowed to participate would be those which "stand for socialist principles and serve the interests of the workers."

The premier reiterated his previous stand that negotiations for the withdrawal of the Russian forces from Hungary can only be opened after order and peace have been restored.

Slow Learners' Class Urged By Health Board

A resolution passed by the Union Board of Health at its quarterly meeting in the Skeena Health Unit, calls for District 52 School Board to consider the institution of facilities for the education of slow learners.

The board of health decided there was a definite need in Prince Rupert for 'slow learners' classes in schools.

"There are 2,152 school children in the area," Dr. John Smith medical health officer reported, "and only one or two per cent, which is a conservative estimate are slow learners."

This would mean, the Board said, approximately 30 children which would be enough for two classes.

Recognizing the problem of obtaining properly trained teachers in Prince Rupert, the board suggested that teachers without special training, but who possess patience and desire to do this type of work, would be suitable to teach the slow learners.

Chairman of the meeting was Alderman Kay Smith. Representatives from Smithers, Terrace and Prince Rupert attended.

The Weather

Cloudy with scattered showers today, rain Friday. Little change in temperature. Wind westerly 25 in exposed areas today and southeast 30 tomorrow, otherwise light. Low tonight and high Friday at Port Hardy, Sandspit and Prince Rupert 35 and 44.

SOROPTIMIST TB SEAL DRIVE TO FIGHT DISEASE STARTS HERE

The first batch of 2,000 letters, enclosing TB Christmas seals has been mailed to city residents during the past ten days, to mark the start of Prince Rupert Soroptimist International club's annual campaign, Mrs. William Gordon, chairman reported.

The TB Christmas Seal campaign in Prince Rupert was officially opened today.

The remainder of 1,500 envelopes will be placed in the mail for out-of-town homes in the district this weekend, Mrs. Gordon said.

The colorful stamps provide an opportunity for the public to help further the fight against tuberculosis which is still a major health problem.

Co-chairman Mrs. C. G. Ham reported that some $700 has already been received through the mail.

Directors assisting in the campaign are Mrs. Alex McKenzie and Mrs. Alan Dowsley.

UN Force in Egypt In Uncertain Role

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—The United Nations Middle East force moved into Egypt today with Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold en route to Cairo to guide its early operations.

But to UN members here who worked through eight days of emergency sessions to create it, the force's role in the troubled area appears all too uncertain.

The difficulties caused by the reluctance of Britain and France to withdraw from the Suez Canal zone were increased by Wednesday's Moscow report that Egypt has asked for Russian "volunteers" to move in.

WAR OF NERVES

The Moscow report caused a stir when circulated through the corridors at UN headquarters. But later, in the absence of official confirmation, many delegates thought it mught be just another blank fired in the war of nerves.

Egypt has insisted that the UN force must supervise the immediate withdrawal of the Anglo-French forces. But this view is opposed to the British-French attitude that the canal cannot be given back to Egypt without guarantees that it will be kept open to shipping of all countries.

This Anglo-French stand was a switch from their earlier promise to move out as soon as the UN force was set to take over. This move probably was brought about by Egypt's insistance that after the Anglo-French forces move out the UN force itself must withdraw to take its stand on the 1949 armistice line drawn up after the Arab-Israeli war.

HAVE TOP PRIORITY

The Middle East and Hungarian situations had priority on the agenda of the 11th General Assembly, meeting today after a one-day layoff.

Before leaving Wednesday for Cairo, Hammarskjold received a note from Moscow rejecting his bid for assistance in persuading the Hungarian government to admit UN observers. So far Hungary has turned down all UN demands, but has agreed to accept medical aid and food supplies.

Hammarskjold expressed the hope that the Hungarian government would grant his request to visit Budapest on his way home from Cairo.

Although the two major problems have priority, it was not known today when they will be taken up. Some members speculate that they will not be discussed again until Hammarskjold returns to report on the force and has received a reply from Hungary.

The resolution rejected by Hungary called for the UN inspection, the withdrawal of Russian troops and the holding of free elections.

B.C. Reds Await Word From Morgan

VANCOUVER (CP)—Members of the Labor Progressive Communist party in British Columbia are waiting for words from leader Nigel Morgan next week before reacting to the revolt against some Communist parties in Europe.

An executive meeting of the party will hear a report from Mr. Morgan on the national party meeting which has just finished in Toronto.

Said a party member here Wednesday: "Some people think that everything the Russians do is right. Others disagree violently. But everybody is waiting for Nigel Morgan's report from the national meeting before taking any further steps."

Mr. Morgan, told of the resignation of five communist trade unionists in Britain said: "There is no such trouble in Canada."

Man Granted New Trial In Acid Case

VANCOUVER (CP)—A new trial was ordered Wednesday night for John Babich, charged with an acid-throwing attack on a $140,000-sweepstake winner, after an all-male, B.C. Supreme Court jury failed to agree on a verdict.

Babich, 61, is charged with causing bodily harm with intent to maim by throwing acid at Mrs. Helen Orsolets.

In the three-day hearing evidence told of a squabble over the $140,000 Irish sweepstake prize won by Mrs. Orsolets on a ticket given her by Babich, and of her attempts to get him to leave the house just before the alleged acid attack.

Pastor Seeks Aid To Nab Local Vandals

An appeal for help in trying to track down the vandals who have been breaking the windows of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Fifth Avenue and McBride Street, was made today by Pastor Arthur S. Olson.

Mr. Olson said that the RCMP are co-operating with church officials in investigating at least three incidents where church windows have been smashed.

He said 12 windows in the church were broken on October 23, one more last Sunday and three more Tuesday. Anyone having any information as to who or how the windows were broken are asked to communicate with either the RCMP or himself, Mr. Olson said.

Aid Sought To Curb VD Rate

Fullest co-operation from the local authorities is being sought by the Union Board of health to curb prostitution and "facilitation" in an effort to cut down the high incidence of venereal disease in the Prince Rupert area.

The board decided at a meeting recently that closer inspection of rooming houses and hotels and the confiscation of licences of any places contravening regulations, would help improve the situation.

Dr. John Smith, director of the Skeena Health Unit, said there has been a considerable increase in venereal disease in the Prince Rupert area which is causing concern to the health unit.

Prince Rupert has one of the highest per capita incidence areas in the province.

Pair Fined $40 For Shoplifting

A city couple who pleaded guilty before Magistrate S. D. Johnston in city police court this afternoon to a charge of shoplifting, were fined $20 each.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert James Marchant who were apprehended after they left Shop Easy Stores Ltd. with goods not paid for, were told by Magistrate Johnston that the merchants in the city must be protected. A. Bruce Brown appeared for the defence.

Firm Counsel Denies "Intimidation" Claim

VANCOUVER (CP)—The lawyer for Wade and Wells Ltd., who are suing provincial Liberal leader Arthur Laing for slander, "warned" Mr. Laing's counsel Wednesday that introduction to the slander trial of testimony regarding Wade and Well's work on a northern highway would be an "aggravation of the damage."

The remark by the contracting firm's lawyer, Col. C. C. I. Merritt, VC, prompted defence counsel Senator J. W. Farris to interject: "I'm being intimidated."

Col. Merritt denied intimidation, but said "I'm warning him."

Mr. Justice N. W. Whittaker of the B.C. Supreme Court adjourned the hearing until next Monday, when he will rule on points of legal argument which have kept the eight-man jury excluded since shortly after the trial began Tuesday.

Basis of the suit is criticism aired before a legislative committee last February of a 48-mile section of the Cassiar-Stewart road in Northern B.C. on which Wade and Wells were the contractors. No action was taken by the legislative group.

Wade and Wells claim that libel and slander were committed when Mr. Laing wrote Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan a letter last March about the highway and later read the letter to two Liberal party meetings.

Senator Farris argued that the court should rule that Mr. Laing had protection of "qualified privilege" in his comments on the highway project.

Mr. Justice Whittaker will decide on the admission in support of Mr. Laing of some two volumes of testimony given before the legislative committee.

EX-QUEEN DIES

CANNES, France (AP)—Ex-Queen Elizabeth of Greece, a great-granddaughter of Queen Victoria related to most of Europe's royalty, died today after a long illness. She was 72.

Reservoir Empty; Fire Threat Exists

Acting mayor Alderman Norman Bellis today declared that Prince Rupert was in a state of emergency so far as its water supply was concerned.

The acting mayor said that the slide which last night knocked out 90 feet of main water pipe at Shawatlans Lake had placed the city in a position where "if there were a fire here we have practically no water to fight it."

He said that the city reservoir at the top of Roosevelt Park Hill was empty and that a good percentage of the water pipes in the higher levels of the city were dry.

He issued a desperate plea to all residents, especially those in the lower levels of town, to co-operate by "just shutting off their taps and leaving them off."

LEAVE TAPS SHUT

"Turn the taps off and leave them off," he said. "don't do any washing, take any baths, flush toilets or anything until we can get the pipes filled again," Alderman Bellis said.

He begged residents to only use a minimum of water for cooking and eating.

"It will take at least three or four hours of co-operation from people in the lower sections of town before we can fill the empty pipes again," the acting mayor said.

Alderman Bellis said that it will be Monday, at least, before the five lengths of pipe, knocked out by the rockslide three-quarters of a mile from the Shawatlans pumping station, are replaced.

Ald. Bellis and City Clerk-Comptroller R. W. Long have been broadcasting bulletins all morning and this afternoon urging people to co-operate and stressing the threat facing the city in regard to lack of water for fire protection.

PUT OUT PAILS, TUBS

Residents were advised to put pails and pans under eaves of their homes and outside to catch rain water for fire protection purposes and for household necessities such as washing dishes and flushing toilets.

City crews are working feverishly around the clock to free the vital city water line which was disconnected last night by the landslide that covered the pipeline with more than 20 feet of rock.

"It will be four days before the water system is back in working order, City Works Superintendent C. J. Gustafson estimated today.

Only half of the city's usual water supply is reaching the city and in some higher residential levels of the city, houses are already without water.

The reservoir which was full last night with a capacity 1,151,000 gallons is now empty.

Mr. Long said this afternoon that some people were not co-operating and were causing a dangerous situation.

The main cause for alarm lies in the event of a fire," he said. "There is no pressure."

The rockslide occurred around 5 p.m. last night but city engineers did not locate the break until three hours later.

More than five lengths of pipe (90 feet) are under the slide which is halfway down Shawatlan Lake, about three-quarters of a mile from the pumping station.

Emergency pumps are drawing water this side of the break but they are only drawing through 1,250,000 gallons per day, just half of the city's 2,500,000 gallon per day consumption.

Arrangements have been made to supply the Prince Rupert General Hospital if a water emergency hits there.

Hospital Administrator Arthur Rutherford reported this morning that the water pressure at the hospital had dropped considerably but steps have been taken to fill all available containers with water in case the supply is cut off.

FIRE THREAT

Fire Chief, Earl W. Becker, urged residents to cut down drastically on their water consumption.

He said most of the water mains will have no water which means in the event of a fire only 400 gallons will be at the fire department's disposal. This 400 gallons, is carried between two fire trucks and would last only a few minutes if a major fire were to break out, Mr. Becker stressed.

Advising residents to eliminate fire hazards, Mr. Becker suggests that all hot water heaters should be disconnected, or the hot water coil removed, if the stove is in operation.

All electrically operated hot water tanks should be kept on a low thermostat and if there is no water at all they should be turned off completely.

Hot water furnaces can only be operated as long as there is water and all steam boilers should be watched very closely, the Chief warned.

City restaurants have been badly crippled by the lack of water.

Manager of the Gondola Cafe, Peter Moroz, said that there was no water coming through the taps and if the condition still existed by 6 p.m. "we won't be able to continue to operate."

In some districts in the city, residents were already putting out pans and pails to catch rain water.

MOTION TABLED PENDING REPORT

City Ponders Drainage Policy After Property Flooding

A move to establish a firm policy on drainage ditches, culverts and natural water courses in the city of Prince Rupert was instigated Tuesday night by city council.

The action was an aftermath of the big rainstorm two weeks ago which caused considerable flooding in various parts of the city.

A motion by Alderman T. Norton Youngs to have a report made on the possibility, practibility and estimated costs of installing a new drainage ditch on the north side of Seventh Avenue East between Basil Street and Hays Cove Avenue, was tabled on motion by Alderman A. Donald Ritchie.

Ald. Ritchie moved that the project be tabled until Clerk-City Works Superintendent C. J. Gustafson make a report on the city's policy in such matters, establish a policy as to natural waterways before an expensive survey and estimate of costs be made. The tabling motion passed with Alderman Youngs and P. J. Lester dissenting.

The discussion arose from a letter sent council by Ralph C. Anderson, 987 Seventh Avenue East and William Hunter, 993 Seventh Avenue East. The two men complained "against the use of our properties for draining all the properties on Seventh Avenue East above us."

WATER IN BASEMENTS

The letter said that "the water being run into our properties is such in a heavy rain that it is putting two to three feet of water in our basements." One of the homes affected is on pilings and continued flooding could undermine these piles and endanger the house, the letter stated.

"Thirteen years ago six-inch drainage pipe was put in across one of the properties so as to facilitate the closing of the ditch. On Sunday, October 30, 1955, we had to go out and take this pipe up as it appeared it was possibly plugged as the water was flooding out over our properties. This had never happened before and the pipes dug up were found not plugged."

The letter said that when the street (the old boardwalk street) was completed "nice big open ditches were put in on each side of the street with the ditching ending at the street allowance between the 900 and 1000 blocks with a pipe across the street to connect them up. Then drainage then proceeds along the road allowance (Basil Street) for about 50 feet and then swings in on our properties."

NEW DITCHES CAUSE

The two property owners said that they believed that the newly opened drainage was the reason they are having so much trouble and felt that the situation should be corrected at once with the city paying the cost.

They said "the city engineer Mr. Gustafson was notified previously that this flooding condition would possibly take place but seems to have up to this time ignored it."

Following the reading of the letter, the mayor and council were provided with maps showing the natural water courses, ditches and culverts in the area.

In a report to the board of works committee City Works Superintendent C. J. Gustafson said that due to the heavy rainfall of two weeks ago "the properties became flooded . . . due to the fact that years ago this open water course (which runs through from 993 Seventh Avenue East to 910 Seventh Avenue East) had been closed in by the various owners of the properties effected in this area and the pipe and box culverts used were far too small to carry away the accumulation of drainage water during an intense downpour of rain or flash-flood."

Mr. Gustafson said that the 6-inch pipes and box culverts were sufficient in size to take care of normal rainfall, providing they were installed with clean-out basins and were laid in allignment to one another with ample gradient to insure an unrestricted speed of flow.

However, the works superintendent said, each resident has

Trade With Japan

TACTFUL and timely was Mr. Howe's speech in Tokyo last week on Japanese-Canadian trade. If we had had more public discussion like this in pre-war days, economic relations between Canada and Japan would certainly have been better.

Mr. Howe referred quite frankly to the troubles of the past, to the old feelings in Canada that this country was being flooded with cheap goods, cheap in price and cheap in quality.

"A great deal will depend upon how trade is conducted between us," said the Minister of Trade and Commerce. "It is not sufficient that we should be natural trading partners. It is not sufficient that we should both be prosperous. Trade is a sturdy plant, but it must be cultivated carefully if it is to grow as it should." And Mr. Howe proceeded to point out to his Japanese audience just how he and most Canadians would like to see this trade grow.

Two points Mr. Howe emphasized strongly. Japan, he urged, should concentrate on exporting high quality merchandise, and on merchandise that Canada does not produce itself. That of course, may be asking a lot, especially of a country which still buys about twice as much from us as we buy from it. But for permanent and mutually beneficial trade, the aim must be in that general direction.

Both Japanese and Canadian officials are to be commended for their efforts to get this new trade on a sound foundation. It is much too important to be left to grow unguided and ignored. Japan is now Canada's third largest customer. Last year we sold that country $90 million of goods and we can expect to increase those sales steadily and substantially, provided Japan is able to sell to us.

Artists, Writers Show Lack

MR. ROGER Lemelin, the distinguished French-Canadian author whose television show, The Plouffe Family, is so popular in Quebec, says that Canadian literature is suffering from an inferiority complex.

To many Canadians this assumption of an inferiority complex covers a smug belief that we have genius but that our extreme modesty does not allow us to show it.

It is all nonsense.

A writer will write and a painter will paint regardless of everything. Genius cannot be held back by anything.

Let us be honest about it.

We Canadians have just not got what it takes. It is time we came out of our dream castle and faced realities. Our world has no place for those who retreat from life.

If we can't paint and we can't write, let it go at that, but don't try to hide it under the guise of an inferiority complex, which is only false pride, laziness and lack of courage.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

You can walk into the Senate by the front door once more. No longer is it necessary to sneak around to the side of the building and use the sort of an opening that used to be favored by the speak-easy establishments of prohibition days.

Among local folk this change is regarded as not only a considerable local improvement, but as also an important factory in Parliamentary morale. It has been so difficult as to be almost impossible for the venerable Upper House members to consider themselves persons of consquence when they had to slink into their offices by an obscure round-the-corner entrance.

To the ordinary person the foregoing commentary may seem to be an attachment of exaggerated importance to a mere door. But that is because the ordinary person not schooled in the ways of government when it is in action in these parts has no appreciation of what a door can become when bureaucracy decides to make it a project.

Suffice it to say that the average individual could build himself a house that wouldn't be too modest and would satisfy any except the most luxurious taste for what the new Senate door has cost. Furthermore, such a house probably would be considerably more posh in appearance than the new Senate door. For Ottawa bureaucracy, when it goes all out to make a door a project, has an uncanny way of concealing the money it spends. To look at the new door a casual observer might envisage a price tag of perhaps $500 at most. He would not possibly suspect the many thousands of dollars—the exact number will not be known until Parliament meets—that the new facility represents in taxpayers' moola.

Some readers may be interested in knowing the justification or actual necessity for a new Senate door. Well, if they have any such curiosity they are simply in the same boat as most of the people in these parts. To Parliament Hill folk the new project is only incidentally a door: basically it is a symbol of the sort of minor government extravagance that wastes a huge total of taxpayers' money every year.

For when the late architect John Pearson designed the very lovely Senate side of the main Parliament Buildings, he did a complete job and—believe it or not—included a beautiful and appropriate door to go with it. Six months ago, when the project for its replacement commenced, that door still was as sound as the day the building was opened. True, the storm door inside was a revolving one of copper that was heavy for the Senators to push. But an electric motor could have been attached to it for a small fraction of the cost of the new convenience. And the gay old Senators would have got a lot of innocent fun out of using it. That would have been a much cheaper solution of the problem.

CYRIL CONNORTON, a member of the lithographic department of the Queen's Printer for 11 years, is shown with the B.C. Centennial crest he has designed for province's 100th anniversary in 1958. A designer for 31 years, Connorton has done beautiful illuminations on scrolls bearing welcome addresses for visiting royalty and he has painted the scenery of British Columbia on hundreds of travel folders but nothing he has done will likely become so well-known as his design of the Centennial crest. He is justly proud.

G. E. MORTIMER

The small boy scales his father's side, grabbing hand-holds on clothes, limbs and folds of flesh and sinking his little feet in daddy's liver, kidneys and stomach, until he gains a safe perch on a shoulder.

Once he is up there, maintaining his balance with a firm hold on the scalp, he invites daddy to stop being a mountain and become a horse instead.

Like the veteran character actor he is, daddy changes his role at once and canters obediently around the room, trying his best to make horse noises.

"The horse is going to throw you off," daddy says, and tumbles the boy on the chesterfield.

The little girl who is staying in the house feels she has been cheated of an adventure. She demands to climb daddy too, but the boy fiercely opposes this plan. He looks upon daddy as his own private mountain and horse.

Each of them seizes an arm and pulls, butts and nummels until daddy shakes clear of both of them and says it is the little girl's turn now.

She is about 10 pounds heavier than the boy, and a less skilled climber. She gets as far as the solar plexus, camps there briefly and starts a rapid, bruising descent.

Fighting off the boy, she tries again. This time she reaches the three-and-one-half-foot level but fails once more and nearly dislodges two or three of daddy's ribs in her plunge.

When the boy has made two or three more climbs and the girl has failed again, daddy announces that he is going to retire as a mountain, and lie down.

Both children launch a concerted attack on him, jumping on his chest and stomach. Then the youngest boy toddles in and joins the assault, chopping away at daddy's middle while the others pound each flank.

"Be a horse again, daddy," says the boy.

"I want to ride," says the girl.

Trying to please them both, daddy leans against the chesterfield, heaves a child on each shoulder and staggers to his feet. (Combined live weight, about 90 pounds.)

Then he plods into the kitchen to show off to mummy.

"For goodness' sake put them down," mummy cries. "You'll kill them both."

Daddy pants his way over to the chesterfield, manages to ease the children both off, and staggers upstairs to have a bath, because the bathroom is the only place inside the house that has a lock on it.

Hungarians In Holland

UTRECHT, The Netherlands (AP)—The first group of some 600 refugees from war-battered Hungary to the Netherlands arrived late Wednesday night. They cheered and cried as their special train from Vienna pulled into the station. Families brought along about 40 children, but most of the refugees are single or left their families behind.

CANADA LACKS NUDES

For several days the Calgary Herald has published a remarkable correspondence about an oil painting of a nude which has been exhibited in the window of an art-dealer in that city.

The lack of a substantial body of nude painting seems to us to be one of the things which is wrong with Canadian painting in general; it accounts for the dullness and lack of adventure which marks much of even the most modern movement. It accounts for the lack of spiritual quality which keeps so much of our painting in the second and third class.

A preoccupation with mankind as one of the supreme works of Nature is what compels an artist to paint the nude figure.

As for those who think that nudes are disgusting, we must dismiss many of them as people who care nothing for art, and who care only for the surface trivialities of morality.

If living bodies are disgusting, let us at once put clothes on our pets and our farmyard stock. But of course they are not disgusting; they are objects of extraordinary interest, character, exaltation, pathos and beauty.

People who cannot endure the suggestion, which every nude painting makes, that they too are possessors of a body, should visit a psychiatrist. They are running away from reality.

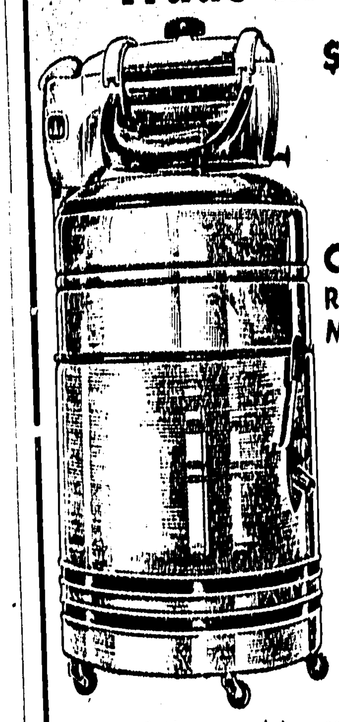

If they cannot admit that they have bodies, which are tangible, how can they be sure that they have souls, which express themselves through the body?

Young Canada Book Week Gets Underway Today

"Young Canada's Book Week," a community effort to bring better books to more children, begins today and continues through until next Thursday.

The week, endorsed by the Department of Education in every province and sponsored by 23 national organizations, is being observed from coast to coast.

This one week in the year has been set aside to arouse: (1) Interest in good books for boys and girls; (2) To encourage the reading of worthwhile books at home, at school and at the library; (3) To remind adults of the important place good books have in a child's life and; (4) To stress the need for good library service to boys and girls wherever they may live.

Prince Rupert librarian, Miss May Macdonald, has on display in the Prince Rupert library in the Civic Centre, a large group of books to please children of all ages.

Miss Macdonald said that these books should give to children enjoyment and fun, knowledge, a true sense of values, understanding of themselves and others and a widening of experience.

Also on display are "Young Canada's Book Week" posters, sent from the headquarters of the Canadian Library association in Toronto, Miss Macdonald said.

Muscular Dystrophy Survey Begun

The British Columbia chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy association of Canada is making a survey to gather information regarding the incidence of Muscular Dystrophy in B.C.

An appeal to patients or any one knowing of a case of muscular dystrophy is being made and persons concerned are asked to write, giving name, age and condition of the patient, to E. Swan, Muscular Dystrophy association, 2396 West 19th Avenue, Vancouver, B.C.

The United States has a list of 200,000 known cases and it is thought that Canada would probably have a close rate of incidence according to our population.

The Association has the recognition and support of the Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria Community Chests and is a non-profit organization. One of its main objectives is intensive research into the cause and cure of muscular dystrophy.

Kenneth Monroe of Vancouver and Norman Jonasson of Riverton, Manitoba, left today by plane for their homes after an extended stay in the city visiting friends.

Local Art To Be Shown In Vancouver

Six paintings by local amateur artists will be entered in the British Columbia Art club exhibit, to be staged January 2 to 13 in the Victoria Art Gallery, it was announced last night when the Prince Rupert Art club held its regular meeting in the Civic Centre.

Two local artists will chose the paintings, which will represent Prince Rupert in the B. C. exhibit, the meeting was told.

Members wishing to enter their paintings for judging were asked to bring their work to the weekly sessions, to be held every Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Civic Centre ladies lounge, with the second Monday of the month reserved for a business meeting.

Painting and a definite course of study will be engaged in at these weekly meetings, it was reported.

In other business Mrs. T. A. McMeekin was elected to represent the local club on the Board of Directors at the Civic Centre and Mrs. A. S. Cooper was elected to handle publicity.

CITY PONDERS DRAINAGE

done his own property improvements with materials that for the most part are discarded wood stave water pipes and hot water tanks, without thought to allignment or gradient to flow.

"This summer, Mr. Hunter of 903 Seventh Avenue East had been advised by myself of this danger of flooding during a heavy rainfall and that this water course should be left open or if he wanted it closed, a pipe of permanent material and of sufficient size be installed. This advice was ignored and no improvements instituted."

MADE NO DIFFERENCE

Mr. Gustafson also said that the new road construction has neither added nor reduced the amount of water in the drainage area.

In his recommendation to the board of works, Mr. Gustafson said:

"As all the owners abutting this drainage area have from time to time on their own initiative and without permission or engineering advice from the city of Prince Rupert, closed this water course crossing their individual properties, this water course be opened throughout its entire length, from Hays Cove Avenue to Basil Street and if these property owners wish their respective properties closed in, the city perform the work of trenching, installation of proper size pipes of permanent materials with examination and clean out chambers in accordance with proper drainage construction methods and the costs of such a project to be subject to the policies as set forth by council's decision in such matters."

The mayor, aldermen, clerk-comptroller and works superintendent then got down to trying to establish a policy. Clerk-Comptroller R. W. Long, had already received replies from three municipalities on closing of natural waterways and whether the municipality shared or assumed the cost.

DON'T SHARE COST

Penticton and North Vancouver definitely stated "no" while Port Alberni replied that in some cases it shared up to a maximum of one-third of the cost.

Facts brought out in the discussion were: that according to the Municipal Act it is unlawful to block or change a natural waterway; that the property owners had bought their properties in the full knowledge that there was a natural water course there; that similar situations existed all over Prince Rupert; that there were many sections in the city affected by poor drainage and that trouble was caused mainly by natural water courses being closed off or blocked.

In order to carry out Ald. Youngs' suggestion that a new ditch be installed from Basil Street to the ditch on Seventh Avenue East, it would be necessary to go through several "high points" and therefore the ditch would be from three to four feet deep, the works superintendent said.

Council will await a report from Mr. Long and Mr. Gustafson on what the city's policy will be before any further action is taken "or," as one alderman put it "we'll be getting requests from all over the city."

Inoculations Given To Curb Outbreak Of Infectious Jaundice at Terrace Board Told

An epidemic of infectious hepatitis has been reported in the Terrace district, Dr. John Smith, director of the Skeena Health Unit told the Union Board of Health quarterly meeting.

Hepatitis or jaundice, is a disease often found in boom-towns where poor sanitary conditions and poor personal hygiene exist. It can be caught from any intimate object, he said.

In an attempt to curb the jaundice outbreak all intimate contacts as far as possible, have been given inoculations of gamma globulin which will give protection up to two months.

A test taken of the Terrace water supply, showed that although the system was not satisfactory, there was no definite evidence that the water was the cause of the contagious epidemic.

The commissioners of the village have been advised of the water test results, Dr. Smith said.

The TB Coast Travelling Clinic to the Skeena Health Unit area was most successful in all areas except in Hazelton where attendance was poor.

A number of new cases and also some old cases which had relapsed, were discovered, the board was told. The visit of the Children's Travelling Clinic to Prince Rupert was also a great success.

The question of the federal assisted low rental home project to help overcome the housing shortage was brought up at the meeting by Board members but discussion was withheld until further information was obtained from the Minister of Municipal Affairs.

The Health Board commended Prince Rupert General hospital for the co-operation in the emergency following the discovery of a paratyphoid case in the hospital kitchen staff. Examinations were carried out on the 32 food handlers in the kitchen, the Board reported. No more cases were found.

Special thanks were extended to the Women's Auxiliary who helped to overcome the emergency.

The polio vaccination program has received the green-light to carry out its original project of administering vaccine to all students in Grades 1 to 10, plus booster shots for 1955 vaccinees.

The vaccinatons are expected to be carried out by the end of this month and December.

Francois Lake

By AGNES H. NEAVE

There is a light covering of snow today, but we are fortunate as in some places there is about a foot. The road to Burns Lake is a little slippery as it is newly built, but it is being gravelled. The laying of the pipe under the lake to keep the water from freezing on Francois has been postponed until next year. It is still mild. It rained nearly all Sunday night.

Frank Hubbard left for Vancouver on Saturday morning with his moose packed away in his car and the head on top. Mr. Hubbard is a friend of the James Conroy family who now have the Moosehorn Lodge, and they guided him to find his moose.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS
—by Byrne Hope Sanders

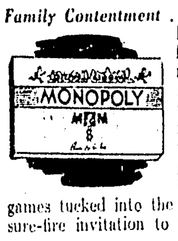

MONTREAL, Nov. 15th—Here's an inspiration! A gift to bring someone you love companionship—interest—fun for many years. All these come with a beautiful little Budgie! Think now—wouldn't your Mother enjoy the bright cheeriness of this gay little friend . . . wouldn't your Daughter? Budgies are so easy to care for. They bring constant laughter with their show-off tricks; such interest in teaching them to say new words! Inexpensive to buy and to keep . . . and thriving always on BROCK'S NATURAL FEEDING DIET . . . because it contains all the food elements they need. We all dote on our own Budgie, Sir Isaac—so I speak in all sincerity when I say "Do give a Budgie this Christmas . . . for companionship and pleasure!"

Families Are Funny . . . don't you find they like old favorites best for breakfast, lunch and dinner—yet are always eager for a new flavor interest? That's why so many women are ordering the new delight, McCORMICK'S CINNAMON CRISPS, every week—because they can use them in so many ways. For new excitement with desserts just crumble the delicious Cinnamon Crisps over vanilla ice cream—sprinkle them on custards—or use them as a topping for fruit pies . . . so good! You'll find they make pie crusts for fruit that are something to boast about. And, of course, Cinnamon Crisps are scrumptious just as biscuits!

Family Contentment . . . is, surely, one of life's most precious gifts! It grows from family hours together—enjoying, for instance, a game of MONOPOLY. It's the most popular game there is—and no wonder! From three to eight may play—and it's as much fun for Dad as his small son—buying and renting properties — building houses — investing money—making money! With youngsters enjoying home life so much more than ever before—capture their interest with a group of fine games tucked into the shelves at home. "Let's play Monopoly"—is a sure-fire invitation to family enjoyment!

Coffee Times Are Happy Times . . . specially when you enjoy them with the rich, full-flavored goodness of the New INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN. Whether it's breakfast on a crisp November morning—or enjoying a TV spectacular—or your own little moment of relaxation after shopping or house-cleaning, there's nothing quite so good as the New Instant Chase & Sanborn. For one thing, there's nearly 100 years of coffee experience back of its perfecting. For another, it's gentle-brewed for mellow goodness. See for yourself—look through the window in the jar—that rich coffee color which means real coffee flavor. Wish you'd try it! You'll be glad!

Just Been Hanging Out The Clothes . . . on a raw November day. Hard on one's hands, isn't it? But you can protect them so easily with Campana's ITALIAN BALM — made for busy hands like yours and mine. A quick thumb pressure gives you the little you need—just rub it vigorously into your busy hands after every exposure to work—water—weather. You'll be proud of your lovely hands if you keep the household size with the convenient dispenser always handy — both for only 69c! No leaking — no need to twist or seal the bottle. Just that quick thumb pressure—and you're set! At drug counters, everywhere.

How To Lose Weight! I can honestly tell you that it's easy to do—with Ayds and the Ayds Plan. Taken before meals, delicious-tasting AYDS and the Ayds Plan curb your appetite. You just naturally eat less, so down goes your weight—and with no nervousness, sleeplessness or unpleasant "side-effects". Clinical tests under medical supervision have proved that men and women who used Ayds and the Ayds Plan lost more weight than those on any other reducing methods. They really are wonderfully effective—contain added vitamins and minerals, too. You must lose weight with your first box—or your money refunded! On sale everywhere.

One Thing I've Learned . . . about cooking to please the whole family—is to use the family favorites—with a new twist added, for variety. Like hamburgers, with sauce made from LIPTON ONION SOUP. Wonderful! Cook your hamburgers as usual — and pour this sauce over them.

Onion Sauce for Hamburgers

2½ cups water — 1 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 pkg. Lipton Onion Soup — 2 tbsps. flour
½ cup water

Bring water to a boil. Add Lipton Onion Soup, and butter. Cover and cook 10 minutes. Blend flour and water, stir into soup mixture until thickened.

Lipton Onion Soup is delicious for gravies, too. You'll find the flavor is delicate—and delicious!

There's Nothing Mysterious—about eating for health. Most of us are learning Canada's Food Rules—and learning, too, the wisdom of giving our family the healthful, delicious values of BLUE BONNET MARGARINE. Add a pat to hot baked potatoes—and a little grated cheese. Put several pats on your fresh vegetables before you serve them. Slip Blue Bonnet into your hot biscuits these chilly November evenings—and watch the family enjoy them! Blue Bonnet is made from pasteurized skim milk—with essential minerals and vitamins added. So you are giving your family the best in food values—and the best in flavor when you use Blue Bonnet.

Here's The Inside Story about home improvements. At this time of year, with general construction activity slackening off for the winter, it's easier to find the skilled workmen to turn those plans for indoor home improvements into a practical reality. Yes, and practical in more ways than one because you can save money by paying for the labor and materials all at once with an inexpensive BANK OF MONTREAL Home Improvement Loan. You can repay your loan in equal monthly instalments, plus interest at only 6½% interest per annum. An HIL is the ideal way to keep your home in tip-top shape. Seattle Trio Pick on Calgary To Up Individual Point Totals

By The Canadian Press

Seattle Americans took the chance to boost their individual scoring levels Wednesday night at the expense of Calgary Stampeders, current doormats of the Prairie division of the Western Hockey League.

Three Seattle players combined to boost their point totals as the Americans rolled over Stampeders 7-3 in Calgary.

Val Fonteyne scored three goals and an assist and Guyle Fielder, league's leading scorer, got five assists. Linemate Ray Kinasewich scored twice.

INCREASE COAST LEAD

The win increased the Seattle lead over Vancouver Canucks in the coast division to six points. Brandon Regals edged the Canucks 2-1 on a third-period goal in Brandon in the only other game scheduled.

The Regals lead the Prairie division with a four-point margin over Edmonton Flyers.

No games are scheduled for tonight.

The Americans may have been moved to more-than-average exertion by uneasiness about Canucks, who had moved to within four points of them in the coast division and, up to Wednesday night, had won seven games straight.

Seattle led 3-0 in the first period. Two of the goals went to Kinasewich, putting him one up on Vancouver's Jackie McLeod. McLeod, who scored his 14th goal Tuesday night and also badly hurt his knee, was out of action Wednesday.

GOALIES OUTSTANDING

Other Seattle scorers were Gordie Sinclair and Alex Kuzma. Stampeders scored midway in the second period on a goal by Sid Finney. They got within two goals of Americans in the third on goals by Milan Marcetta and Doug Barkley, but Fielder and Kuzma scored in the dying minutes to make it 7-3.

In Brandon, the brilliant goaltending of Vancouver's Ray Mikulan kept the game in doubt until the closing stages. He made 22 stops to Lucien Dechene's 15 as Regals held an edge in every period.

Regals started off the scoring in the middle of the second period on a goal by Les Colwill.

Vancouver tied it early in the third as Dick Lamoureaux took a pass at his own blue line and raced down on a breakaway.

Les Willey, former Canuck, slapped in the winner late in the third after Mikulan had made a beautiful save off Eldred Kobussen, playing his first game for Regals.

BLUE BOMBERS' AL SHERMAN GIVEN RELEASE AS TOP COACH

WINNIPEG (CP)— Al Sherman, coach of Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Western Interprovincial Football Union for the last three years, will not be back in 1957.

At a press conference Wednesday night J. T. Russell, club president, announced that Sherman had been given his release because the club and coach "could not agree on a contract with the result that Sherman will not be head coach in 1957."

Ralph Parliament, vice-president in charge of players, said "the player's committee feels very definitely the club will go farther next year under a new coach. The player's committee recommended to the management committee that Al Sherman not be offered a contract."

CAGERS FETED BY LARGE CROWDS

First Canadian Teams Arrive at Melbourne

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MELBOURNE (CP)— The Canadian Olympic track, weightlifting and basketball teams ironed out their kinks in practice sessions today after their arduous plane trip from Vancouver.

An interested spectator at the track workout was Dr. Phil Edwards of Montreal, general manager of the British Guiana team and one of the greatest Canadian Olympic competitors.

The Canadian athletes, with the exception of Alex Oakley, slept late this morning. The St. John's, Nfld., walker was up at 6 a.m. and went for a five-mile hike.

"I didn't sleep a wink since Sunday and I got up at my usual time," Oakley said. "I had to loosen up my legs and mind."

Dr. Edwards, who competed for Canada in 1928, 1932 and 1936, won three medals. He placed third in the 800-metres in 1932 and 1936 and picked up another third in the 1,500-metres in 1932.

TRACK MEN CONFIDENT

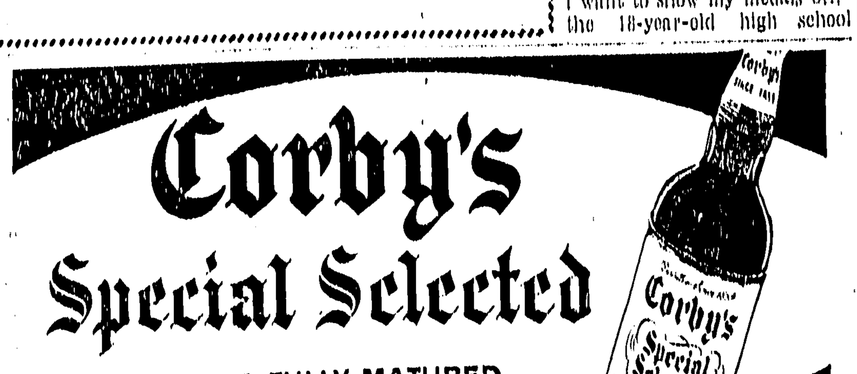

Canada's track athletes are confident they'll do better than the 1952 team which picked up four points—in the 1,600-metre relay. Probably the most optimistic is Stan Levenson of Toronto.

"I'm going home immediately after the games finish because I want to show my medals off," the 18-year-old high school student said jokingly.

In a more serious vein, Levenson told reporters to keep an eye on Jack Parrington of Toronto.

Russian Fans "In Dark" About Own Athletic Stars

MOSCOW (AP)—Russians are victims of their own sports propaganda. When they learn, as they often did during the Soviet Spartakiad in Moscow early in August, that their best runner or jumper was only the 15th or 20th best in the world, they are dumbfounded.

When a Western visitor tells a Russian track and field official that in the United States Mikhail Krivonosov is recognized as the most consistent hammer thrower in the world, or that Vladimir Kuc is well known, the Russian is as pleased as a country boy complimented for growing the best corn in the country.

In many ways it is apparent in Moscow that Russian athletic officials and fans know only a fraction of the information about the West's athletes that the West knows about Russia's athletes.

Russians often know practically nothing about one of their own athletes other than the man's name, who he plays for and his position and whether he is a hard-working Communist or rather calm about politics and party.

The Western newspaper practice of giving all sorts of detail and human interest matter on a famous athlete is seldom followed in the Soviet Union.

Russia's lack of knowledge about the West's athletes goes far beyond ordinary provincialism. Russians simply have had practically no contacts with the West and they are told little about the West's athletics in the Communist press.

Russia and Britain are steadily increasing their athletic ties but there is no increase noticeable between the United States and Soviet Russia. The main drawback, the Russians claim, is the American law which requires fingerprinting for foreign visitors.

Als Rated Favorites, But Coach Cautious

MONTREAL (CP) — Peahead Walker is a cautious football coach who brightens visibly only after the ball bounces the last time, with the Montreal Alouettes still in front.

He's playing the Saturday finale against Hamilton Tiger-Cats that way. Carefully-voiced appraisal of the ifs and buts he feels can hurt his club have been his only comments.

A nine-point lead isn't much against a high-scoring team like the Ticats, says Peahead. If it's wet, Hamilton's ground attack will be hard to contain because, he says, Montreal quarterback Sam Etcheverry and his small hands have trouble with a heavy ball.

But while the Als ran through practice Wednesday night, they were rated 2 to 1 favorites to wrap up the Big Four final and qualify for the third straight year to meet Western Canada in the Grey Cup.

Montreal defeated Hamilton 30-21 at Hamilton last Saturday in the first game of the home-and-home total-point series.

"The Rocket" Scores His 99th Goal Against Rangers to Help in 5-3 Win

By The Canadian Press

Maurice (Rocket) Richard has never been known to play favorites in his 15-year career as right winger for Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League. He scores goals anywhere, anytime, everywhere and all the time.

The 35-year-old ace has scored well against every club in the circuit and is nearing a milestone against New York Rangers. Wednesday night he registered his 99th goal against the Blueshirts as Canadiens won 5-3 at New York.

The Rocket has scored 466 regular-season goals since he hit big-league hockey—plus 62 in playoff games. Rangers have particularly felt his scoring sting. Richard's goal Wednesday night helped send Rangers to their sixth straight defeat.

It was the only game of the night. The victory moved the third-place Canadiens within two points of the leading Boston Bruins. In second spot are Detroit Red Wings, who have 18 points, one behind Boston. Toronto Maple Leafs are fourth with 14 points, Rangers fifth with nine and Chicago Black Hawks last with five.

BELIVEAU IN BATTLE

The game in New York was only two minutes old when a battle broke out between Ranger defenceman Lou Fontinato and Montreal centre Jean Beliveau. Most of the players on the ice became involved in the fight and six penalties were called. It took officials 10 minutes to restore order.

Fontinato and Beliveau drew five-minute majors. In addition, Fontinato got a 10-minute misconduct. Harry Howell of Rangers and Montreal's Bert Olmstead drew minors from referee Eddie Powers.

Besides Richard, the Hab scorers were Dickie Moore, Andre Pronovost, Floyd Curry and Beliveau. Larry Popien, Bill Gadsby and Red Sullivan tallied for Rangers.

Rangers spurted into an early 2-0 lead but faded under Canadiens' attack. The Montrealers were ahead 3-2 by the end of the second period and outscored Rangers 2-1 in the final.

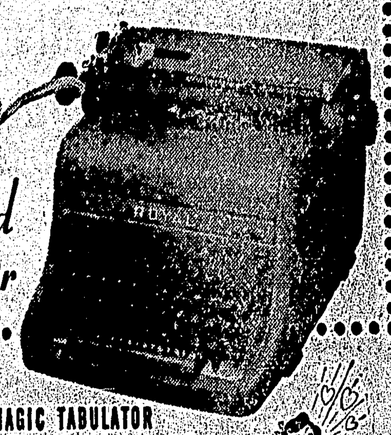

Lorne Worsley of Rangers stopped 40 shots. Gerry McNeil, substituting for the ailing Jacques Plante, stopped 29 Ranger shots.

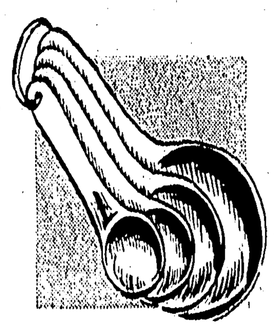

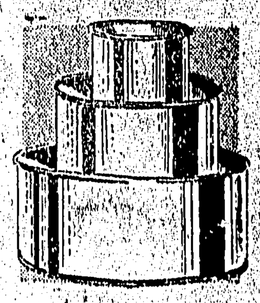

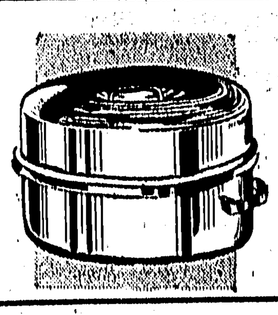

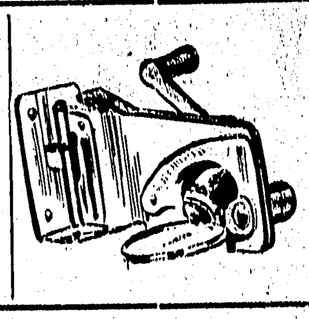

Two games are scheduled tonight. The Leafs are at Detroit and Bruins meet Hawks in Chicago.

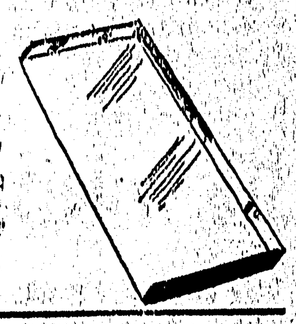

Remember When

Eddie Goodfellow, member of two Detroit Stanley Cup winners, was named playing-coach of the Red Wings by Manager Jack Adams 16 years ago. A converted centre, Goodfellow starred as a defenceman in the NHL for 10 years, and won the Hart trophy for the NHL player most valuable to his team in 1940.

Negroes Win Constitutional Battle But Governors Insist on Segregation

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—"We were badly treated on the buses but now they've given us justice."

That was the reaction of a 78-year-old Montgomery Negro woman to the United States Supreme Court's decision Tuesday that bus segregation is unconstitutional. The woman, Mrs. Susie McDonald, and three other Negro women brought the suit that broke city and state bus segregation laws.

White officials across the southern states took a strong stand directly opposed to hers.

INTERFERENCE CHARGED

Charges of unlawful interference with the states, common since the 1954 federal Supreme Court ban on public school segregation, echoed again.

Leaders of the Montgomery bus boycott, now in its 11th month, indicated that the decision would bring the protest to an end, its purpose now removed.

Calling the decision "a glorious daybreak," Rev. Martin Luther King said "everyone was very happy" at a meeting of boycott leaders Tuesday night. The executive board of the Montgomery Improvement Association, the boycott's co-ordinating group which King heads, met to discuss the decision.

The Negro minister said the group would meet again to draw up recommendations to two mass meetings of boycotters tonight. He predicted that the boycotters would vote to end their protest and resume riding on city buses.

CONDUCT BOYCOTT

A similar boycott of segregated buses has been conducted by Negroes in Tallahassee, Fla. It began several months after the Montgomery protest started last Dec. 5.

The governors of Mississippi and Georgia, federal and state senators, a state attorney-general and other officials were among those sharply criticizing the decision.

Jack Owen, president of the Alabama public service commission, said that "to keep down violence and bloodshed, segregation must be maintained.

A caravan of about 40 carloads of robed Ku Klux Klan members toured Negro residential areas of Montgomery Tuesday night with horns blowing, but police said they had no reports of disorder.

TO ENFORCE LAW

Governor J. P. Coleman of Mississippi said his state's segregation laws "are not involved" in the decision and would still be enforced.

Alabama's senior U.S. senator, Lister Hill, said "every lawful means to set aside the ruling" should be used.

Herman Talmadge, U.S. senator-elect of Georgia, called again for congressional limitation of the federal court's power. He said the decision did not surprise him "in view of decisions made recently."

Georgia's Governor Marvin Griffin said his state would oppose application of the decision by all legal means.

Mentalist Calls Turn On Vote Count

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jack Swimmer, who calls himself a mentalist, had the board of supervisors stumped today.

For inside a box, locked inside another box that had been locked in the county safe since Oct. 10, the supervisors found just what Swimmer said they would find—the exact figures for President Eisenhower's vote tallies in California, Los Angeles County and the United States in last week's election.

When it was opened by the board chairman Swimmer never was closer to it than four feet.

But there were the figures, correct right down to the last digit.

How did he do it? Swimmer isn't saying.

Socred Policies Maintained

SASKATOON (CP)—The Alberta government is motivated by Social Credit principles at all times and the Social Credit party is the only one with a future, says Hon. Fred C. Colborne, minister without portfolio in the Alberta cabinet.

Addressing the Saskatchewan Social Credit League convention, Mr. Colborne said the Alberta administration is not just a good orthodox government as claimed by opposition groups, but is distinctly a Social Credit government operated under a different policy to orthodox administrations.

He said Social Credit disagrees in two ways with the orthodox financial system under which other governments operated.

DEBT IDEAS DIFFER

Social Credit also quarrelled with the way other government use provincial and national debts. It was the Social Credit belief that debt should not be incurred unless for capital work that could not be financed out of current revenues. Then, it should only be on a retirement basis so that debt could be eliminated as soon as possible.

Mr. Colborne said that when a Social Credit government was formed in Alberta it took over a provincial debt of $167,000,000 with 51 cents of every tax dollar going to pay interest. He called it a "great and important decision" when the government adopted a pay-as you go program.

Alberta now had a debt of $82,500,000 which was not costing as much in interest as the province was receiving in dividends from $122,000,000 in investments.

URGENT TASK OF BUILDING NATION

UBC President Says All Governments Should Aid Universities

By ALAN DONNELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—A distinguished educational leader yesterday called on all levels of government in Canada to meet the national problem of helping universities solve their dilemma of growing enrolments and cramped finances.

Dr. N. A. M. MacKenzie, president of the University of British Columbia, said the provision of adequate higher education is "an urgent task in the building of our nation"

"Such is the scope and urgency of the problem that continued delay in this matter will entail an increasing price in wasted talent and lost opportunities," he said in a paper presented at a conference on the problems facing higher education.

URGES JOINT APPEAL

The conference summoned by the National Conference of Canadian Universities, also heard a proposal to organize industrial donations to universities through a body representing all universities.

Msgr. H. J. Somers, president of St. Francis Xavier University at Antigonish, N.S., made the suggestion and estimated the joint appeal could raise about $30,000,000 a year at the outset, with more in following years.

Dr. Cyril James, president of McGill University, said universities must guard against outside interference from donors. They should dictate their own educational policies and avoid the possibility "that the payer of the piper shall call the tune."

All three papers had been prepared before Prime Minister St. Laurent's announcement that the fedral government plans to double its grants to universities from $8,000,000 to $16,000,000.

The NCCU executive agreed to the prime minister's proposal that the conference handle distribution of the grants, now paid directly from the federal treasury.

Dr. MacKenzie's paper emphasized the need for more help from the federal treasury.

He proposed that its grants to universities be tripled, that additional help be given for expansion of facilities and that laws on income tax and succession duty be changed to encourage private donations.

"The provision of adequate and expanding opportunities for higher education and research has become an urgent task in the building of the nation," he said.

"The task of nation-building has been the primary purpose of the national government since its beginning. The achievement of this purpose calls for more than the construction of a seaway, a pipeline or a trans-Canada highway. It calls, as well, for a wise investment in the future of our youth."

University facilities had lagged far behind the doubling of enrolments in the last 20 years. Their capacities had been overtaxed, teachers had suffered sharp declines in real income and essential facilities had been skimped.

"The burden can no longer be imposed upon the university teacher, nor carried at the expense of essential facilities."

Forcing Defender Achieves Game

Most textbooks discuss at some length the matter of "forcing" declarer—that is, leading good cards in the side suits to make declarer ruff until his trump length is reduced beyond the danger point.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	1 ♥	1 ♠	2 ♥
2 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	All Pass

There is no reason why this should not work both ways, although most textbooks are strangely silent on the subject of declarer forcing a defender. Mr. Masters found it necessary to use that line of play in today's deal.

Against the four-spade contract Mr. Champion led the king of hearts. Miss Brash elected to overtake with the ace and return a club.

SUSPECTS PLAY

Mr. Champion squirmed slightly in his chair at this development. Whenever his partner makes an out-of-the-ordinary play, he immediately suspects it of being an error. In fact, any deviation from the line of play suggested by him IS an error—until proven otherwise.

This endearing trait is one of the most successful methods of throwing partner off his game—if you are interested in accomplishing that. Actually Miss Brash's club shift was a good shot as it eliminated Mr. Masters' only entry to the board outside the trump suit itself.

Mr. Masters realized he would have to play carefully if he now found four trumps in one opponent's hand. He won the second trick with the jack of clubs and led the ace and another spade.

DISCARD HEART

He got the bad news when Miss Brash discarded a small heart on the second trump lead. Winning with dummy's jack of spades, he now abandoned trumps and cashed the ace of clubs. He was careful to discard a heart rather than a diamond from the closed hand. His prime objective was to be able to reach dummy AFTER trumps were out and it would have been disastrous to have dummy forced with heart leads.

When the ace of clubs held, the king was played and the last heart discarded while Mr. Champion ruffed. This reduced Mr. Champion's trump holding to one, the same number held by dummy. He returned the queen of diamonds and Mr. Masters won with the ace and led a low spade to dummy's king. The club suit then furnished enough additional tricks for game.

Pickets Jeer Robeson, Cleric At Big Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—Jeering anti-Russian pickets hurled ammonia-filled bottles, tomatoes, eggs and sticks Tuesday night at the entrance to a rally of the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship. No one was injured.

Negro singer Paul Robeson and the controversial Brooklyn rector, Rev. William Howard Melish, were special targets of the pickets.

About 200 demonstraters, most of them Hungarians and Hungarian - Americans, banded together outside the Pythian Temple where the rally was held.

They shouted "freedom for Hungary!" and "America will never be friends with murderers" as hundreds of persons entered the building.

More than 250 patrolmen, mounted police and detectives kept the placard-waving demonstrators in check.

Robeson, who sang and made a speech at the rally, was booed as he left.

The rally was called to mark the 39th anniversary of the founding of the Soviet Union and the 23rd anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations between the United States and Russia.

Freak Mishap Throws Logger 35 Feet in Air

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP)— William Thurner, 25, is resting comfortably in hospital here after being flown here from Watch Lake in the Cariboo with serious injuries suffered in a freak logging accident.

He is understood to have suffered fractures of both legs and wrists and possible internal injuries.

Thurner was standing on a fallen tree when the top of a nearby tree fell and hit the fallen log. Thurner was hurled 35 feet into the air by the "see-saw" action and fell to the ground some distance away.

Sweden Rushes Oil Rationing To Save Dwindling Supplies

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Sweden's government yesterday rushed plans to begin rationing oil to conserve dwindling supplies cut short by the Middle East crisis. crisis.

Sweden's Socialist government proposed:

- A total ban on use of private cars on weekends.
- Reduction by 30 to 50 per cent during the next 10 weeks of deliveries of fuel oil to industries and private homes.

The fuel oil restriction is expected to lower the temperature in oil-heated homes by an estimated 10 degrees during the icy Swedish winter.

Industrial, Economical Growth of B.C. Shows Marked Acceleration During Last 12 Months

VICTORIA (CP)—Marked acceleration in all phases of B.C. industrial and economic growth during 1955 was noted in the annual report of the Provincial Labor department, just released.

Increased demand for basic materials pushed production to record levels in most industries while the urgent need for a greater output of commodities and durable goods forced a heavy program of new construction and expansion of existing facilities.

Population growth created records in construction through the need for more housing, schools, hospitals and commercial buildings.

The forest industries, led by the pulp and paper section, continued a series of "spectacular advances," with both primary and secondary phases of the industry recording increased payrolls and production figures compared with the 1954 totals.

Greatest single increase in payroll totals was seen in the construction industry, which recovered from a slump during 1954 to show a gain of more than $18,000,000 during 1955.

Evacuation Of St. Paul's Slated Sunday

VANCOUVER (CP)—Plans are being completed for the full-scale evacuation of St. Paul's hospital Sunday in the first practical test of hospital evacuation in event of atomic attack.

About 360 people will take part in the program, 100 of them representing actual patients.

Purpose of the evacuation—to a mobile hospital set up in Burnaby—is to allow study of the complexities which might arise in actual evacuation.

Said Dr. Gordon E. Frayer of Ottawa, chief medical consultant for the federal civil defence organization:

"Actually, it will be the first time such a demonstration has taken place anywhere in the free world."
