PRICE FIVE CENTS

J. N. O'NEILL D. W. O'CONNOR L. A. MOLNAR HAROLD HENRICHON WILLIAM ADAMS

ONE OF THESE FIVE MEN listed little more than a week ago by the RCMP as Canada's most-wanted suspects has already been captured. Arrested in Calgary Saturday was Harold Henrichon, 45, sought for armed robbery of a bank at Ville La Salle, Que. Others left to right are Jack Norman O'Neill, 28, former assistant accountant at Kelowna B.C., wanted for the theft of $17,352 in cash and cheques from the city; Daniel William O'Connor, 28, for the attempted murder of an RCMP constable at Kereenos, B.C.; Louis Allen Molnar, 33, for armed robbery of $16,794 from a chain store at Cornwall, Ont.; Henrichon; and William Adams, 33, for the murder of his father at St. Catharines, Ont. Fifth Most-Wanted Man Captured Within Week

CALGARY (CP)—Capture has toppled Harold Henrichon from the RCMP's list of most-wanted men less than a week after his name was added.

More than four years of fugitive's freedom ended Saturday for the 45-year-old chauffeur and mechanic when he was arrested in a Calgary rooming house. Wanted in Quebec for bank robbery, he was recognized almost as soon as his picture was published as a new addition to the most-wanted list.

Henrichon had been living here for three years under the name of Harold Wilcox. His picture was published in the Alberta Friday and Cpl. W. F. G. Perry of the RCMP criminal investigation branch said he was tipped about noon Saturday by a person whose name he refused to disclose.

NO STRUGGLE

Four armed RCMP officers closed in on Henrichon at meal time and there was no struggle. Police said he readily admitted his identity when he was confronted with a copy of his picture.

Henrichon is wanted by Quebec provincial police in a $3,000 armed robbery of the National Canadian Bank at Ville La Salle Oct. 4, 1951. Another man, Norman Joseph Christie, has been sentenced to 14 years for his part in the robbery.

Police said Henrichon was living here with his wife and 11-year-old daughter but that they were not home at the time of the arrest. Arresting officers said he "didn't have any surplus money around."

"AVERAGE MAN"

He had worked as a laborer here and frequently switched jobs. He had become fairly friendly with his neighbors.

Mrs. Frank Lang, who lived beside the family, said he seemed "like a good sort of man."

Death By Fire Strikes Again In Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Deathly by fire, frequent visitor to the capital struck again Sunday night.

Two persons died in upstairs rooms when flames swept an old, frame dwelling in west-central Ottawa. They were Ottawa's 20th and 21st fire victims since last Dec. 17.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Morely Strong, 40, formerly of Cornwall, Ont., and Michael Deuti, about 60, a laborer who had moved into the rear upstairs room only about three weeks previously.

The fire came only two days after a coroner's jury completed inquests into the deaths of 10 persons in five previous blazes. The fifth fire which took two lives, occurred only two days before the inquest opened Feb. 27.

HEAD FIRST

The interior walls of the house were of pre-cut paper wallboard over lath. The jury, at one of last week's inquests, recommended a ban on use of pressed paper wall board in house construction.

A third victim, Joseph Bertand, only other person in the deceased at the time, escaped through a second-story window.

Mrs. Strong's body was found huddled beneath a window. Firemen said the short, stocky woman, who weighed more than 200 pounds, could only have come through the window head out. The Times quoted univer-

MINER'S CASE TO BE REOPENED TO DECIDE ON WCB PENSION

VICTORIA (CP) — Labor minister Lyle Wicks said Saturday that Jack Zucco, whose wife staged a sitdown strike on the steps of the legislative buildings, has minimum qualifications for workmen's compensation benefits.

The case of the 44-year-old New Westminster miner will be reopened by the Workmen's Compensation board to make a final decision on whether he will receive a silicosis pension said Mr. Wicks.

Mrs. Zucco claimed her husband contracted silicosis while working in a mine at Hazelton, B.C. but that he later developed tuberculosis. She said tuberculosis prevented evidence of silicosis from showing up on x-ray plates.

Mrs. Zucco staged a protest strike in the WCB offices at Vancouver and later in the legislative buildings here to gain attention to her case.

Negro Leader May Quit Congress To Join Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Negro leader has called Senator James Eastland (Dem., Miss.) a "stinking albatross" around the neck of the Democratic party and another says he may quit his seat in Congress to devote more time to fight against segregation.

Clarence Mitchell, Washington bureau director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, threw the verbal punch at Eastland, an outspoken advocate of segregation, in a Washington speech Sunday to the NAACP's civil rights assembly.

Representative Adam Powell (Dem., N.Y.) told a church rally in New York City he may leave Congress and devote himself to a country wide prayer movement against segregation if his March 28 Deliverance Day "extends itself successfully."

The Negro congressman wants Negroes and others to pray in support of the Negro boycott against buses in Montgomery, Ala., on that day. Powell is pastor of the 15,000-member Abyssinian Baptist church in New York City and chairman of the national Deliverance Day committee.

MUST BE QUALIFIED

Meanwhile, two New York newspapers reported that the University of Alabama, which recently expelled Autherine Lucy, will admit fully qualified Negroes if the law says it must.

The Times and The Herald Tribune said in dispatches from Tuscaloosa, Ala., that the university will resist compulsory integration but would abide by court decisions.

A third member, Joseph Bertand, only other person in the deceased at the time, escaped through a second-story window.

"Our action in the Autherine Lucy case does not mean that we are going to keep all Negroes out." The Times quoted university president Oliver Carmichael as saying. According to The Times, Carmichael also said "a very careful investigation" would be made of any Negro applicants.

Carmichael could not be reached for elaboration of his remarks.

THREATENS DEMOCRATS

In an opening speech to the three-day civil rights assembly, Mitchell declared that civil rights legislation is an obligation of both major political parties.

Then he lashed out at the Democrats by saying:

"If they're going to keep a stinking albatross like Senator Eastland around their neck, they've got to kiss our votes goodbye."

Miss Lucy appeared Sunday night at the civil rights meeting.

She received an ovation from a crowd of about 1,600 when she was introduced but did not speak. The negro student's attempt to enter the University of Alabama touched off rioting which brought her suspension.

She won a court order to re-enter the university but was then expelled by the university trustees who said she had made "baseless, outrageous and unfounded charges of misconduct on the part of university officials."

Passengers, Crew Safe As Freighter Goes Down

Four Canadians In 60 Survivors

SEATTLE (AP)—Her forward section wrenched off by high winds and mountainous seas, the Orient-bound freighter Washington Mail sank in the north Pacific minutes after the 60 crew members and passengers including four Canadians had taken to lifeboats.

But minutes later, the transport Gen. H. B. Freeman, brought to the scene by the freighter's first SOS, dropped rope ladders to the bobbing lifeboats and the 60 survivors scrambled up to safety.

"All survivors aboard, uninjured and in good health," the Freeman radioed.

(The Washington Mail was in Prince Rupert from December 15 to December 19 loading 2,200 tons of pulp from the Ketchikan Pulp and Paper Company at Ward Cove and later sailed for Japan.)

The dramatic account of the rescue in the storm-swept Gulf of Alaska some 700 miles northwest of here Saturday was radioed here late Sunday night by Capt. Robert T. Fulton, skipper of the rescue ship.

The Freeman, with the 51 crew members and nine passengers from the Washington Mail, was en route to Kodiak, Alaska, today. Capt. Fulton reported, however, the same heavy seas that sank the freighter were holding the Freeman to a near-standstill and the vessel was not expected to reach port until late this afternoon. The survivors will be flown to Seattle.

MISSIONARIES ABOARD

Among them were two Roman Catholic missionaries, one a Canadian, en route to the Orient. The Canadians aboard were Brother Charles Lebel, 38, of Montreal, who was travelling with Brother Charles Govaert, 50, of Arlington, Va., Miss Ivy Withers, 46, of Vancouver, and Vernon Lester, 45, and his wife, Missis, 42, of West Vancouver.

Cost of the Centre's construction has been estimated a seven cents per Terrace resident per day for one year.

Residents hope that the building will be completely finished by the end of the year but present plans call for finishing the outside shell and roofing after which various rooms will be completed as required, starting with the main auditorium.

Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd made the announcement in a speech prepared for the House of Commons in conjunction with a white paper detailing Britain's negotiations with Cyprus demanding union of the colony with Greece.

Lennox-Boyd said Britain wants to work towards a "final solution" which will satisfy the people of Cyprus, be consistent with the interests of Her Majesty's government and their allies, and have regard to existing treaties.

The colonial secretary rushed through the report after a flying visit to Cyprus where the talks with the union-with-Greece faction broke down over three major issues.

Britain previously had made plain she was ready to hand over restricted self-government to the Cypriots but retaining control of foreign affairs and defence.

LISTS OBSTACLES

The white paper said the three reasons for the failure of the talks with Archbishop Makarios, leader of the union-with-Greece movement, were:

1. The Archbishop's insistence on an immediate amnesty for all political prisoners on the east Mediterranean island colony.

American Dilemma

EISENHOWER and Stevenson are nominated by their respective parties as presidential candidates—and right now everything points in that direction—the U.S. is in for one of the strangest election campaigns of all time.

While Eisenhower has said in effect that he does not intend to submit himself to the rigors of electioneering, Stevenson will be virtually obliged to go all out. Although he is vastly better known than he was in his first bid for the White House, he is still not in Eisenhower's league as a popular and renowned public figure. In fact, the four intervening years have served only to accentuate the difference. The great military leader has since become a national leader of formidable strength, while Stevenson to all intents and purposes has remained jobless on the outside.

Nevertheless Stevenson has some extremely effective weapons which he could use to good account. The first of these is his oratory. Without doubt, Stevenson is one of the most brilliant speakers ever to move across the American public stage. This is not just a matter of context but of delivery as well. The recordings of speeches he has made are already regarded as American classics.

Another factor he could turn to advantage—although mishandled it could become a disaster—is the President's heart condition. There is little question that Eisenhower, if re-elected, would have to delegate many of his duties and increase his periods of rest and recreation as, in fact, he has already done. There is also the dire possibility that somewhere along the line the whole job may pass to the second in command. These are points which could be used profitably by the Democratic candidate but which would lead to his being drastically criticized if not handled in just the right way.

The segregation problem in the south, which conceivably could create the same kind of national crisis that once faced Abraham Lincoln, is another subject on which the Democrats could capitalize if their approach to it is right.

It is true that in every presidential election there are events of the moment which increase its tension and significance. But the circumstances of this particular one make it a certainty that the contest will be packed with drama from beginning to end and that the voters will be faced with perhaps the most difficult choice in modern American history.

Hamlet and BBC Omelet

THE INDIGNATION of British television viewers over the interruption which cut short the presentation of "Hamlet" to permit a singing commercial for orange juice can be readily understood.

Here was Shakespearean tragedy scrambled by an advertiser in a way that could have done him little, or no good.

The Americans have a subtler touch. Their TV interjections seldom introduced orange juice. More frequently they feature the brewery product, which may be appropriate.

Whoever heard of anyone weeping into his orange juice?

As I See It

By Elmore

THE U.S. News and World Report has published a masterly special edition which deals at great length with the McLean and Burgess scandal in Britain.

So far as I could discover there was no direct conclusive evidence that these two men were outright spies for Russia during the many years which they served in the British Foreign Office. But there was overwhelming evidence that they were moral degenerates and all-round bad actors with records that would have earned them dismissal from almost any responsible organization in any walk of life.

The real rub of the McLean-Burgess scandal is how two such obvious misfits should have been allowed to hold key positions for so many years.

IN THE debate in the British House of Lords one noble earl declared that now, for the first time since the days of Queen Elizabeth the First, Britain has a dangerous fifth column operating, even near the top levels of the government.

With all respect to the noble lord, I think he is miles off the beam, in one part of his statement. The present pro-Communist fifth column may be the most dangerous that there has been in England since the time of good Queen Bess, but it is certainly not the only fifth column since that time. I doubt that there was ever a time in the history of England when there was not something akin to what we now call a fifth column, potential if not actual.

About half way between the two Queens, Elizabeth, England was cursed by a horrible creature named Titus Oates who threw the whole country into a frenzy, much akin to that which prevailed in the U.S.A. until Senator McCarthy cooked his own goose on the TV.

In the case of both Oates and McCarthy, there had to be a real fifth column in existence before either one of those characters could exploit the natural public support of that fifth column, as both did.

Had the Kaiser won the First World War, or Hitler won the second, there might have been a surprising number of Englishmen, and Englishwomen, who would have cheered the arrival of the conqueror. It is only in story books that the people of any country are 100 per cent loyal to any cause in any country.

The Spanish king had his fifth column in England when he set out to take the troublesome little island. But the British also had their fifth column in Spain, and in France too, in almost all their numerous wars, all down the centuries.

THE mysterious and sordid past of the foreign office fugitives, McLean and Burgess, seems to me of much less importance than their future. How important a part are they playing in the shelling and application of the new soft Khrushchev line?

We have no way of knowing for sure. But what we do know is that the Soviets have adopted a new line of international policy which the west cannot hope to meet and beat by old methods. The new battles will be fought with ideas, not tanks or bombs.

REFUSED ADMISSION

WASHINGTON — The United States has refused to let seven Soviet specialists enter the country to attend an engineering meeting in New York. The refusal was based on the ground that their invitation to attend the conference was not properly authorized by officials of the conference.

Qualified Teacher Lack Still Big B.C. Problem

By C. E. RITCHIE
Inspector of Schools

During this week to which we hope all Canadians will devote some serious thought and take a great deal of interest in our educational processes, may I bring to your attention one of the most pressing problems confronting us particularly as it applies to British Columbia. I refer specifically to the urgent need for additional teachers.

It is true, that tip to the present, we have been able to staff our schools. This situation is only possible because we have attracted teachers from other provinces and the United Kingdom. This province has been fortunate also in that many married women have returned to the classroom to assist over the emergency. It should be pointed out however, that some considerable number of the teachers in our schools in B.C. are not fully qualified. That is, they have not achieved the minimum requirement of training for the basic certificate for the schools in which they may be teaching. So although we say we have a teacher in every classroom, it does not tell the whole story. The fact is, this province is desperately short of qualified teachers.

In the case of both Oates and McCarthy, there had to be a real fifth column in existence before either one of those characters could exploit the natural public support of that fifth column, as both did.

Had the Kaiser won the First World War, or Hitler won the second, there might have been a surprising number of Englishmen, and Englishwomen, who would have cheered the arrival of the conqueror. It is most essential that during the next few years we recruit those persons who use the Kitimat train service should require also to fill themselves with the "bottled spirit" is also capable of being understood. But when

Let me quote a statement from the General Aim of Education as found in the Program of Studies for the province of B.C.—

"It is the function of the school, through carefully selected experiences, to stimulate, modify, morally and socially, so that the continued enrichment of the individual's life and an improved society may result."

How can it be done unless we have adequate and well-trained teachers?

One final quote — this from Abraham Lincoln.

"Upon the subject of education . . . I can only say that I view it as the most important subject which we as a people can be engaged in."

Gagliardi Hires Firm To Check Bridge Sites

VANCOUVER — Highways Minister Gagliardi says an engineering firm has been hired by his department to look over possible locations for a new highway bridge over the Fraser river in the Mission area.

A railway bridge across the river, ripped out by flood waters last year, is being repaired by the Canadian Pacific Railway. It was also used for highway traffic under a lease held by the provincial government.

Mr. Gagliardi, speaking at a meeting in the Morpole Community centre here Friday night, said the Foundation of Canada Engineering Corporation Ltd. is working on the railway bridge.

"I hired them to look over locations for a new span in the Mission area," he said. "We will see one there soon."

This problem may be difficult to solve but certainly it should be solved, and soon, if we are to continue thinking of ourselves as living in a civilized area.

Current reports in House of Commons circles are to the effect that the government doesn't intend to submit the imminent Russian trade treaty to Parliament for ratification, but that the document will be made effective simply by appending the signature of External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson.

The only reason which has been suggested for the government not submitting the treaty to Parliament is the possibility that the Russians might build up the move for propaganda purposes. For the MP's through House Speaker Rene Leaudoin, are in receipt of an invitation to visit the Soviet State during the coming summer. The invitation hasn't been discussed formally as yet. But Parliamentary sentiment is regarded as generally favorable to its acceptance. Not all Parliamentarians would go, but a representative delegation would be chosen.

There is the suggestion that the government is apprehensive of the propaganda effect which might be produced if Parliament first ratified a Russian trade treaty and then sent a friendly delegation to Soviet Land immediately afterwards. It was trying to outpace its allies in cultivating Soviet relations. At any rate, that's the only reason anyone here can think of for not submitting the Russian trade treaty to Parliamentary ratification.

Wax Bath, Other Items Still Needed By Clinic

A wax bath, linens, bedding and towels are needed for the continued success of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society clinic in Prince Rupert. Mrs. T. J. Boulter, chairman of the Women's committee told more than 30 women attending the CARS "get acquainted" meeting in the Civic Centre Friday night.

"We now have $200 ear-marked for the wax bath but it is up to our committee to raise the balance of more than $200 for this container as well as raise money for other necessary items for the clinic," Mrs. Boulter said.

Miss Patricia Conway, clinic physiotherapist told the group that when she arrived here less than two months ago the clinic consisted of little more than two beds but now the clinic is almost completely furnished with patients coming for treatment continually from 9 to 5.

"We not only give treatment in the clinic but advise patients how to treat themselves at home," Miss Conway said.

"It is most gratifying to see the wonderful support given me by the Prince Rupert people," she added.

William Brown, president of the local CARS branch told members they were "the working tool of the society." Without the group's support CARS could not function in Prince Rupert, he said.

At present the major expenses and salaries are paid by headquarters in Vancouver but the Prince Rupert branch is faced with raising money for next year's operations when the clinic here becomes self-supporting. Mr. Brown said that it was the responsibility of the women's committee to provide the working funds.

Mrs. Boulter's request for money-making suggestions resulted in Mrs. Anton Duthan of the St. Paul's Lutheran church offering to hold a bake sale within the next month and Mrs. Earl Gordon suggested the group provide a booth at the Civic Centre Potpourri in May.

This Saturday night will see the adult members of the community plying all their strength and skill to win the total point tournament of badminton, ping-pong, tug-of-war, basketball, relay race, and musical chairs, against the Teenagers. I've heard via the neighbors that Joe Scott sr. has been busy practicing ping-pong to defend his title as "King of the Ping-Pongers."

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tooley, have also been practicing for their game against the teenage badminton expert. The basketball games, have players appearing who have not been on the courts for some time. Some of these basketball players are so confident they feel they don't have to practice, at least that is the word they gave for press release. I've placed a bet on the women's Art Gallery and they will be pleased to send you a copy of a soon revised rules. The exhibition is done to different stops, such as dining, household equipment being ceramic. These will be rooms of wood paneling, stone and brick, antique, rustic and today's work, crocheting and pocketing, either gold or copper. There will also be a diverse display of today's art.

Francois Lake News

By AGNES H. NEAVE Daily News Correspondent

FRANCOIS LAKE, B.C.—Fred Paulle, who lives at Noralee, had a fight with a porcupine and was so badly hurt with the quills that nothing could be done for him. They were even in his mouth and throat.

Ethel and Abe Weisz and the children are staying at Short's sawmill at Gilmour where Abe is working. They are several miles off the main road so that they do not often come out.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bragg and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Woods left Prince Rupert on Sunday morning by car. Mr. and Mrs. Woods will be with the Canadian Fishing Company again this year. We will miss them as they have been living here since last Fall. However, they all expect to be back again next fall.

Albert and Claudia Jeffrey and their small daughter are now living at Gilmour where Albert is working.

Ben McCay has lost six head of cattle through the ice on Ootsa lake. Since the water has risen so that it is nearly to the top of the trees in places, the cattle have been wandering amongst the trunks where the ice is not thick, and the ice gave way under them.

The Menkman family of Grassy Plains drove to Burns Lake on Friday to get two African geese which had come from Alberta by train. They are beautiful birds, with bronze stripes running down each side.

The Francois Lake Women's Institute celebrated its tenth anniversary at Mrs. Reg Partington's home Thursday afternoon.

Twenty-two members and friends were present. Mrs. Spencer, district president, and Mrs. Forsyth, both of Perow, drove over by car and were given a hearty welcome. Mrs. Norman Schreiber and Mrs. Fred Tohurst came from Noralee which is 35 miles from Francois Lake fording, picking up Mrs. Cassidy and Mrs. Hugh Cowan on the way from Clemratta.

There was quite a festive air, and each lady wore either a yellow corsage or a green, yellow and white frilled ornament.

Mrs. Partington read an account of the activities of the Institute during the past ten years, and although only the most notable were mentioned it took a long time to go through the list.

Three films were shown and much enjoyed.

Nobody seems to know why but the lake is lower this winter than it has been for a great many years. This is a good thing because when the exceptionally heavy snowfall in the mountains melts in the Spring our lake can accommodate a lot of water before it overflows and finds its way to the Fraser.

The rally program, directed by District Guide Mrs. F. D. Hitchcock, opened with Brownies of the Third Prince Rupert pack, under the direction of Brown Owl Mrs. Nell Galbraith singing three songs.

All Brownies present then gave both Commissioners "the grand howl."

Highlight of the program was a candlelight ceremony in which First company Girl Guides lit candles from one held by Commissioner Holby and repeated the ten Guide laws.

After the investiture ceremony Commissioner Holby was presented with a bouquet of flowers from all the Guides in Prince Rupert. Making the presentation was Marie Ridsdale of the First Guide company.

WHEN SOOT IS SPILLED on carpets or rugs, sprinkle dry salt over the spots. It can then be swept away without soaping.

DON'T SHAKE YOUR ELECTRIC TOASTER to get the crumbs out—shaking may harm the heating apparatus. Instead, use a small, soft paint brush to brush out the crumbs; it will easily reach the inner parts of the toaster.

TO PREVENT POTATOES FROM BEING WET after boiling them, use a mealy type of potato. After boiling, drain thoroughly, then shake the pan uncovered over the stove burner to allow moisture to evaporate.

BEFORE YOU BROIL CHICKEN, sprinkle with a little ginger.

IF YOU ARE ONE of those who like tomatoes to be on the tasteless side during the winter months, try marinating them. Slice firm, ripe tomatoes, pour French dressing over top and sprinkle with chopped chives or parsley. Cover and refrigerate about 1 hour before serving.

City Reps Down MAC For 2nd Win In Row

The Prince Rupert Challengers took the second game of their two-game exhibition series with the New Metlakatla Athletic Club basketball squad Saturday night at the Civic Centre by a 56-44, giving the local eagles a clean sweep of the two-night tourney. Challengers won Friday 74-53.

Bostered by the addition of three players Saturday the MAC squad trailed 18-7 at the end of the first quarter, outscored Challengers 15 to 12 and 11 to 10 in the middle two stanzas, but could not overcome the Rupert lead.

Challengers were called for nine personal fouls and two technicals during the game to one personal for the MAC quintet.

Martin Booth, who joined the shorthanded visitors for the Saturday encounter along with Lyle Horne and Don Bolton, was top point-getter for the night with 10 points.

Don Scherk, Darrel Young and Syd Scherk, each with 10 points led the Challenger attack. Don Scherk sank Challengers' only two foul tries, while MAC made six of 15 free throws pay off.

In the preliminary, Frizzell's ended up the senior league play by downing La Gondola 46-38 to wind up the season in sole possession of second place, two points behind the cafemen and two up on third-place Sunrise.

The second and third-place teams meet tomorrow night in the first of the best-of-three semi-finals for the city championships.

A four-team juvenile semi-final series will also get underway tomorrow night, with Ormes meeting Fraser and Payne at 6:45 and Annunciation playing Manson's at 7:45 p.m.

Art Helli chalked up 22 points for Frizzell's to lead the winners, while Bill Morrison, Gondola coach, topped the cafemen with 10 points.

Beliveau Sets Scoring Mark As Habs Sweep Weekend Series

By The Canadian Press Well, tick-off a few more accomplishments for Mr. Beliveau. Le Gros Jean, Montreal Canadiens' great centre, had another dazzling evening in the National Hockey League Sunday night. He set a record for points by a centre in one season and equalled the goals mark for a centremen.

Beliveau, 24-year-old leader of the NHL scoring race this campaign, tallied twice as Canadiens belted Detroit Red Wings 6-4 with a powerful third-period attack. His two goals and two assists gave him 81 points, one more than the old mark for centres set by Elmer Lach of Montreal in 1944-45.

Beliveau has produced 44 goals this season, tying the mark for centres set by Joe Malone of Montreal in a 22-game schedule in 1917-18. And his second goal of the night ran his NHL total to 100 in three seasons.

TIES FOR TORONTO

Canadiens' victory at Detroit, gave them a clean sweep of their two weekend games. They beat the last-place Chicago Black Hawks 3-1 in Montreal Saturday.

Meanwhile Toronto Maple Leafs tied Wings 2-2 in Toronto Saturday and battled to a 2-2 stalemate against Bruins in Boston Sunday.

Bruins clobbered New York Rangers 5-2 in Boston Saturday. Rangers ended their weekend action with a 3-2 win over the Hawks in New York Sunday night.

Here's how the league race stands now:

Canadiens are first with 92 points, Rangers and Wings are deadlocked for second with 60 apiece. Leafs are fourth with 55, just behind with 53 are the

Victoria Lead In WHL Threatened By Canucks

By The Canadian Press

Leadership of the Coast division of the Western Hockey League is up for the grab again.

Victoria Cougars, who took the top spot from Vancouver last month, saw their lead whittled to one point Saturday when they bowed 3-1 to Seattle, while Canucks beat New Westminster by the same score.

In two Prairie games, Brandon and Saskatoon battled—literally—to a 1-1 overtime draw while Calgary dumped Edmonton 4-2.

The Brandon game saw a full-scale brawl develop in the overtime period when Aggie Kukulowicz and Jackie McLeod started mixing it up in front of the players' boxes. Both benches were involved before the two players could be separated. McLeod and Kukulowicz drew majors while Jim Hay of Regals,

Art Helli chalked up 22 points for Frizzell's to lead the winners, while Bill Morrison, Gondola coach, topped the cafemen with 10 points.

Mister Roberts Voted Top Film Of Last Year

The best feature film shown in Canada during 1955 was Warner Brothers' comedy of the United States Navy supply ships, Mister Roberts, it was decided by press, radio and TV critics in the closest vote yet in the annual Ten Best poll of the Canadian Film Weekly. Runner-up in a picture finish was United Artists' picture of life in the Bronx, Marty, which lost out by the narrowest margin in the 14-year history of the poll. Both films have been nominated for Academy Awards.

Tops in the selections for the Ten Best players was Grace Kelly for her performance in Paramount's The Country Girl, a film which was released in the USA in 1954 but was not generally shown in Canada until almost a year later and therefore was not eligible for last year's Canadian Film Weekly poll. The Country Girl finished third in the picture poll and another film released later here, Warner Brothers' A Star Is Born, ended up fifth. Both were strong contenders in the 1955 Academy Awards. Runner-up to Miss Kelly was Glenn Ford for his performances in The Blackboard Jungle and Trials, two MGM features that finished sixth and ninth respectively in the picture poll.

Surprisingly, the star of Mister Roberts, Henry Fonda, did not make the first ten, although James Cagney, his co-star, finished fifth—mostly because of his fine work in Leave Me or Leave Me. Ernest Borgnine, the star of Marty, was third.

Six of the ten films were in cinemascopic. All films were produced in the United States, the first time since the inception of the poll that a British film did not make the first ten, although three J. Arthur Rank pictures—Mr. Hulot's Holiday, The Divided Heart and Romeo and Juliet—were among the five closest to the top ten. The other two which just missed were MGM's The Tender Trap and Universal's 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea.

Altogether there were 140 eligible pictures and the critics voted for 91, as compared with 157 and 80 last year. This seems to show that, while there were fewer films, the quality had improved considerably in the critics' estimation. Votes were cast for 109 players this year and 106 in 1955.

Warner Brothers, which for several years did not have any films in the first ten, made up for it with three this year, tying with MGM for the lead among the studios. Twentieth Century-Fox had two, United Artists one and Paramount one.

Mr. Justice Nolan, 60, succeeds the late Mr. Justice W. E. Estey, who died Jan. 23. Mr. Justice Estey was from Saskatchewan.

In Calgary, Mr. Justice Nolan

said he learned of the appointment from a news bulletin and declined to make any comment on it until he had confirmation from Ottawa.

The appointment crowns a distinguished 33-year career which started when he was admitted to the Bar of England and of Alberta in 1922. He is a graduate of the University of Alberta and Oxford University, where he went as Rhodes scholar.

Mr. Justice Nolan was head of the Calgary law firm of Nolan, Chambers, Micht, Saucier, Peacock and Jones. The late Prime Minister R. B. Bennett once was a senior partner of the firm.

SON OF FORMER EDITOR

Before joining the army in 1940, the new justice practiced law in Calgary. In 1944, he was named vice judge advocate general at national defence headquarters, a position he held until 1945. He was Canada's prosecutor before the international military tribunal from 1946 to 1948.

In 1945 he was named to a special board established to review sentences of one to five years imposed on troops for military or civilian offences.

Mr. Justice Nolan is the son of the late P. J. (Paddy) Nolan, KC, who was described as one of the leading advocates in the Northwest Territories before the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were formed. The late Mr. Nolan came to western Canada from Ireland in the 1880s. For a short time he was the editor of the Calgary Herald.

Mr. Justice Nolan married Doris McCarter, sister of Brig. George A. McCarter in 1928. They have two daughters, Shelagh and Moira.

The appointment carries a salary of $22,500 a year.

"We strip all privacy from these children when the prison gates clang behind them," the submission said. "We guide them with all modern facilities available, but under loaded guns, behind iron bars."

Fund officials urged "minimum security" for juvenile prisoners, other than incorrigibles, and that families be permitted to visit prisoners once a month with a lunch.

MODERN ICE-AGE CREATURE — This fearsome dinosaur was a prize winner in the ice and snow statue feature of the Michigan Tech winter carnival at Houghton, Mich. Note its sharp incisor teeth. The Rock Knockers Club of the Geology Department formed the prehistoric creature and equipped with a speaker that emitted growling and hissing sounds.

Overland Link To "Outside" Established For Yellowknife

YUKON TERRITORY — This mining town 600 air miles north of Edmonton now has an overland link with the "outside" and many residents are planning to travel "outside" with the next convoy later this week.

The settlement's only overland link was completed Friday night when five trucks owned by Grinnshaw Trucking and Distributing Co. rolled into Yellowknife with 30 tons of freight.

The trucks had completed 29 hours of actual travel on the 500-mile trip from Grimshaw, in north-western Alberta. With the exception of the last 18 miles into Yellowknife, the road is good.

A Hamilton of Grinnshaw trucking estimated the road will have cost the firm $30,000 by the time it is completed next winter.

A 1949 venture by another company failed after an outlay of $70,000 when most of the first convoy's equipment was wrecked.

Now trucks loading in Edmonton Monday will be able to deliver freight here Thursday. The only previous means of prompt service was air freight.

Fund Urges Prison Reform For Juveniles

VANCOUVER — A proposed 12-point program for prison reform of juveniles has been sent to the Hon. G. Fauteaux, chairman of the Supreme Court of Canada by officials of the Jim Peters Fund here.

"We strip all privacy from these children when the prison gates clang behind them," the submission said. "We guide them with all modern facilities available, but under loaded guns, behind iron bars."

Fund officials urged "minimum security" for juvenile prisoners, other than incorrigibles, and that families be permitted to visit prisoners once a month with a lunch.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Even Mr. Heinsite Can't Think This One Through

Quick to criticize the play of others, Mr. Heinsite is often unable to come up with the right play for the contract, himself.

Today's contract was a tricky one and Mr. Muzzy muffed it, as usual. Mr. Dale led the king of spades and dummy's ace won. "There'll be no cross-ruffing in this hand," said Mr. Muzzy as he quickly extracted all of the defenders' trumps in three leads. Delighted that the trumps broke 3-2, he started on diamonds. When that cut failed to break evenly, however, the opposition won two diamonds and two spades for a one trick set.

ANALYSIS

"A child could have made it," announced Mr. Heinsite, flatly. "Take only two rounds of trumps, then lead the ace, the king and another diamond. If the dia-nmonds break 3-3, you are all-right for four-odd. If they break 4-2, you still have the chance that the player with the doubleton diamond also had only two trumps. You can then ruff a diamond on the board. That happened to be the set-up in this hand."

"You're on the right track, but it doesn't lead anywhere," interrupted Mr. Dale. "You must think I'm this child you referred to. When I got in with the third round of diamonds I would simply lead the last trump off the board. Then how could Muzzy ruff a diamond?"

Mr. Heinsite changed his mind and tried again. "Don't lead trumps at all, then," he argued. "Just bang out three rounds of diamonds beginning at trick two."

DALE'S ANSWER

Mr. Dale was enjoying himself. "That's no good, either," he said.

"When I won the third diamond, I would just lead a fourth round. If you ruff in dummy with the queen of hearts, my jack would eventually take the setting trick. If you didn't ruff with the queen of hearts, my partner would win the trick by ruffing."

The play to make the hand was to lead the queen of hearts at trick two, then to lead diamond and duck it entirely. Here the defenders could cash two spade tricks, but no more.

When Mr. Muzzy got the lead at the next trick, probably with a club, he could lead one more high trump, then cash the ace and king of diamonds and ruff his last diamond with dummy's last trump. He could return to his hand by ruffing a club, pick up the jack of trumps and spread the hand.

Bodies Dumped In Streets In Romania

FRANKFURT, Germany

A mysterious wave of terror in Communist Romania, where slain bodies have been dumped and left on the streets as public warnings, was reported here today.

Reliable informants, who said they had checked and double-checked the reports because of their "unbelievable nature," claimed that several hundred persons had been apparently summarily executed in recent months to intimidate the population.

The informants said the first reports of the executions and public display of bodies on the streets came from refugees reaching the west as early as last autumn.

The refugee reports, it was said, were later confirmed, and since then new reports of the terror wave have been reaching Western sources.

The Communist purpose of exhibiting slain bodies on the street was not known. But it was believed the Red regime in Romania wished to terrorize the population and warn that opposition would not be tolerated.

Nothing of the executions has appeared in the Communist press.

Cuba produced about 15,000 tons of the world total nickel production of 195,000 tons in 1951.

In a brief airport statement,

Dulles said he is sure "great good will come" from the three-day conference of the eight-country Southeast Asia Treaty Organization Council, opening Tuesday.

"This organization stands guard over the independence and safety of its members by placing all to stand ready to help each other against aggression," he said.

"At our meeting here in Karachi we will be discussing ways and means to further the security and well-being of the member states."

Pakistan's foreign minister, Hamidul Haq Chundhury, greeted Dulles at the airport. They reviewed an honor guard under the sweltering sun.

OUTFIT ON PAPER

Dulles' Big Three partners,

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, were due later today. The delegates from the other SEATO members, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines and Thailand arrived earlier.

Following an opening public session in the grand state assembly hall, the conference is expected to take up first the question of establishing a permanent secretariat and a headquarters probably in Bangkok, for the organization. Until now, it has been to a large extent a paper outfit.
