Personal Taxes Cut 10 Per Cent

Harris Budgets For Deficit; Reduces Excise Levy By Third

By ALAN DONNELLY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—A delayed-action tax cut aimed at eliminating $128,000,000 a year from the personal budget of 3,800,000 Canadians has been proposed by Minister Harris. Taxpayers won't start to feel the difference until July 1.

He forecast a $100-million cut for 1955-56 in his top income brackets. Mr. Harris' estimated 85 per cent of the lion's share of $148,000,000 taxpayers will obtain tax reductions between 12 and 13 per cent.

He forecast these effects of other tax reductions: corporation tax down $28,000,000 this fiscal year; automobile excise tax down $27,000,000 a year; elimination of the tires-tubes tax, $8,500,000 a year.

A variety of minor sales tax changes will cost the government an estimated $1,000,000 in annual revenue.

The tax rate for corporation income remains unchanged at 18 per cent on the first $20,000 and is sliced to 16 per cent from 47 on earnings over that.

The reductions in personal and corporate income tax affect only the parts of those levies going into general revenues. The special two per cent tax earmarked for the old age security fund remains unchanged.

Taxes will not be changed on liquor, beer, wines, cigarettes, tobacco, soft drinks and candies. Nor is there a change on television and radio sets where the tax on smaller components unchanged. The special 15 per cent excise tax is retroactive to Jan. 1, earmarked for the CBC and a tax reduction would go into the $148,000,000 this general funds.

About four per cent of Mr. Harris' forecast 1955-56 income and $207,000,000 budget revenues at $4,202,000,000; expenditures at $4,302,000,000.

SECURITY FUND DEFICIT

The spending figure includes a $62,000,000 deficit incurred by the old age security fund in 1954-55. That, together with a $10,000,000 deficit from the 1953-54 pension fund, were covered by special loans.

Among tariff changes proposed by the personal income tax, they will total $85,000,000. Among tariff changes proposed by the personal income tax, they will total $85,000,000. ## History's Living Symbol

IN AN independent way so characteristic of him, Sir Winston Churchill has defied the unwritten rule that a great man must die before the world will sing his praises. It is an inspiring departure from custom, for more impressive than all the memories his epic career brings to mind at this time is the single fact that this giant among men is with us yet. His history has not borrowed lustre from the dead. Perhaps there will be nothing in the final part to compare with the brilliant passages already recorded but the genius by whom it was created still endures in the flesh. It is rare that significant events over a long period have such a personal and vital symbol in the present.

From one point of view there may be reason to regret that Sir Winston Churchill has resolved to continue in parliament as a private member. There may come a time when his mastery in debate will fade and he will stand exposed as an old man upon whom time has encroached farther than he realizes. It would make a sad end to the story if sympathy and embarrassment replaced the admiration that he now commands.

At the same time, parliament has formed the background of his life so that it might be equally sad if he lived out his days with nothing more to do than paint pictures, however proficient at that pastime he might be.

For the generations to come, however, the alternatives now are not important. It is not by his choice of these that he will be remembered but by his Olympian oratory, his power to invest others with his own courage, his dedication to the British Empire and his conviction that victory can be obtained when only defeat is in sight. He will be remembered, too, for inspiring his country to attain what may go down through the ages as its "finest hour."

Centred though it is on this one magnificent figure, the story of Sir Winston's statesmanship would not be complete without mention of the associate who has served him so long and so well, Sir Anthony Eden. At all times this perennial crown prince of British politics has put service above self. Should Sir Winston have refused to step aside, it is likely that his loyal minister who has the capacity for leadership in his own right would be the last to demur.

But now Sir Anthony assumes the office for which his experience, loyalty and ability so thoroughly qualify him. From the vagaries of politics it remains to be determined how long he will serve as Britain's Prime Minister. But this much is certain—the mantle of his high office fits him well.

Tax Reductions "Pleasant, Unrealistic Says Opposition"

OTTAWA 6 -- J. M. Macdonald, of the country who are suffering at the present time." It was a blow to Canadians with fixed incomes.

He said the tax reductions should not come out of a deficit or be borrowed. They should come from savings on expenditures.

The Progressive Conservative member for Toronto Greenwood described as inflationary the way in which the tax cuts were obtained, saying: "It was contrary to policy adopted in the United Kingdom and the United States."

Mr. Macdonald referred to Mr. Harris' forecast of a $100,000 deficit for 1955-56 with a drop in tax revenue of $140,000.

He said the budget contains "nothing to comfort the people

Party Papers

ONE of the most significant changes that has taken place in my lifetime is the passing of the dyed-in-the-wool party newspaper.

When I first began to read newspapers, in the first years of this century, every newspaper was deeply, fiercely partisan. Those were the days when "every little boy or girl who's born into this world alive is either a little Liberal or else a little Conservative." The newspapers did the most to make them so.

In Hamilton, Ontario, we called each other Grits or Tories. The Tory organ was the original Sontham paper, The Spectator. Its brand of Conservatism was so intense that it was a common folk saying around town that "The Spec would back a yellow dog if he carried the Tory ticket."

That was just as true of the Liberal paper—though the lines began to blur a bit when a third paper arose which backed, and was backed by, organized Labor.

IF YOU went right across Canada in those days you would find all the newspapers just as fiercely partisan.

This partisanship was by no means all bad, provided that there were two papers in any given town. Both sides of every argument were well aired, for the newspapers on either side not only went to great lengths to promote their own party, but to equally great lengths, and deep depths, to hurt the rival party—and incidentally, the rival newspaper.

The good side of this set-up was that issues were really debated in the forum which in any democracy always means most to the people—namely the columns of the local newspaper.

The bad side was that all the newspapers—even the best of them—slanted their news reports. They played up the best parts of the speeches of their own favorites. They played down, distorted, or left out altogether reports of the speeches of their political opponents.

It was common practice even to falsify such things as the size of the crowds at political meetings. Thus if you were reading a Liberal paper, it might say that 100 people were at a Conservative meeting, the Conservative paper might say that there were 500 or even 1,000 people there. Exactly the same distortion would work the other way around—and all across the country.

* * *

GRADUALLY the newspapers began really to report the political news accurately. Nowadays you could go right across this country and not find any new paper which would deliberately use its news columns to falsify the political news. That change has been all to the good.

But the change on the editorial page has been by no means all to the good. Too many newspapers in Canada, having abandoned their old position of die-hard partisanship, have gone neutral. They have not only quit taking sides for the various parties at election times, but they have quit taking sides—period.

Too many newspapers in Canada dodge all the really tough issues in their editorial columns. They have long since abdicated from doing the real job of every editor, worthy of the name.

The real test for a good paper, as I see it, is to be true to its own convictions; to print all the news without fear or favor, and to publish its own opinions, balanced by those of others, on the things that matter most in the times in which it lives.

VICTORIA—It's time British blue and white slop-bowl, and there were standard lamps. Columbia had a museum for antiques furniture and bric-a-brac, matching jug beside it. Each morning a maid brought hot water to this stand, which was used by a collector of old carriages and cars and he will show

There were many pieces in the board-like affair, $25, and the mahogany cupboard was closed with Mrs. Pearce's initials in gold on the doors, and lamps of brass and bevelled glass.

In this equipage Mrs. Pearce once drove forth in great style, drawn by her two horses, Stanton and Buller.

The time will come, of course, when this province will have a museum for storage, and public display of such items. A museum wouldn't cost much, and, as we see, the items mentioned here certainly didn't sell for great sums.

The unfortunate part of it is that this ancient furniture is rapidly going, and by the time we get a museum, most of it will be gone forever.

OTTAWA DIARY By NORMAN M. MACLEOD

Although the Social Credit gurus report from Saskatchewan and Manitoba, But they say that New Brunswick Social Credit workers are finding ready audiences for their story of how Alberta and British Columbia national political picture to which the old-line parties would like to know the answer.

The old principle that nothing succeeds like success applies to politics no less than in other fields. And whether or not the brand of political administration has been at all responsible, the fact remains that an unprecedented era of both development and prosperity have coincided in both Alberta and British Columbia with the election in those provinces of Social Credit governments.

As a result, both Saskatchewan and Manitoba are reported via the political grapevine in these parts to be eyeing the two Westernmost provinces with an eye of envy in which an element of political speculation is plainly evident. The possibility of both provinces deciding to climb on the Social Credit bandwagon in the hope of sharing the boom which came to Alberta and British Columbia when they changed their government is said to be a serious one.

Other reports of a like nature come from New Brunswick. The people down there just recently changed from a Liberal to Progressive Conservative Government. And in recent times there have been indications of important base metal finds in the province, with the possibility of an oil development as well.

Federal Social Credit headquarters don't compare the immediate prospects in New Brunswick with those which their or-

British-U.S. Relationship May Alter With Eden at Head

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON 20 — An overriding concern to preserve Western solidarity against Russia is peace formula in the new Western Europe system of Britain's new Eden government just as it did that of Sir Winston Churchill, Washington talks at Geneva, and others believe.

But United States officials say privately that they think Sir Anthony will not do things in the same way that Churchill did, and that there is no use pretending there will not be some differences in British-American relations.

Authorities here think it possible that Eden will seek early talks with high American officials. He might find such an occasion when State Secretary Dulles goes to Europe for a North Atlantic treaty meeting in May. He also could come here to confer with President Eisenhower, though officials say there is no present plan for such a meeting.

NOT IDENTICAL

Eden and Churchill have been closely identified for so many years that there is a tendency to consider them identical in motives and reactions. That is not true, according to Americans who have worked with both of them.

As prime minister and foreign minister, Churchill and Eden were accustomed to disagree on many issues. Sometimes U.S. diplomats have had to check and recheck both men to learn what was the true British position on some issue.

U.S. RELATIONS

On the specific question of relations with the U.S., diplomats here believe Eden will be just as devoted as Churchill was to preserving the Anglo-American relationship as the foundation of free-world alliances.

But some difficulties in the recent past certainly placed a strain on British-American relations.

Cherage May Be Built at Port Edward School

new teacherage of duplex design may be built at Edward this year to provide accommodation for the principal of the new school as well as one or two teachers if the board of school trustees at 52 is able to use surplus funds from the word school by-law.

M Roper, school board treasurer was instructed at the board's regular meeting to write to the department of education for permission to use the surplus money in account.

He will also inquire if the department will permit share of addition which may be required to rebuild the teacherage.

The budget has been made up to $500,000 for funds to the old boiler room at the High School industrial arts room. R. L. Booth, principal, told the board, Mr. Davidson suggested the renovation of the present industrial arts building leaves little storage. The converted room could be used to further class in industry such as a boat-build.

Mr. Davidson said, "I am taken by the board's decision to sell the two rooms in the room.

Members will consider suggestions for the new electrical school to be built this spring.

Hill and bring recommendations for the next action was taken following a letter from the Teachers' Council.

The school will be named after S. Wilson School.

Names discussed by the Roosevelt Park and the Sir Winston Churchill School.

Wings Bash Habs 7-1, Move Two Games Up

By W. R. WHEATLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

DETROIT (CP) — Detroit's power-laden Red Wings, riding the crest of a record 15-game winning streak, handed Montreal Canadiens an unmerryful 7-1 shellacking Tuesday night to take a commanding 2-0 lead in the Stanley Cup final.

A four-goal spurge by Ted Lindsay ruined whatever hopes out for Canadiens by scoring on Canadiens had, and a tempestuous rampage by Montreal's Dickie Moore in the third period spoiled the entertainment for the 13,942 Detroit customers. Moore wound up with minor, misconduct and game misconduct penalties for his mad dash to nowhere in an unsuccessful effort to pummel Lindsay.

When the teams headed for Montreal early today for the third and fourth games, Red Wings were overwhelming favorites to close out the series in short order. They were also only three points away from setting up a series record for individual scoring points, an honor that may fall to either Lindsay or Gordie Howe.

WEAK, SHAKY, WOBBLY

Canadiens were weak in goal, shaky on defense and up front and wobbly straight down centre both ways.

In contrast, the Red Wings were confident and sure and had power plus.

They rolled up a four-goal lead in the first period — a festive romp in which Mervin Pronost, Lindsay, Alec Delvecchio and Howe took part. The second period was a Lindsay show all its own, a three-goal hat trick and a tantalizing bit of batting that brought about Moore's wild outburst and banishment early in the third period.

Ken Mosdell, veteran Montreal centre, finally averted a shut-

Flyers Clip Stampeders 4-2 In WHL Championship Opener

EDMONTON (CP) — If it's sport, and one team is labelled the Stampeders, nothing much else is needed to whet Edmonton turnstiles at a dizzying clip.

A preview of the Western Hockey League's biggest crowd-drawing final series was displayed Tuesday night by 7,000 fans who packed the Edmonton Gardens to watch the Flyers trim Calgary Stampeders 4-2 in the opener of their best-of-seven all-Alberta finals.

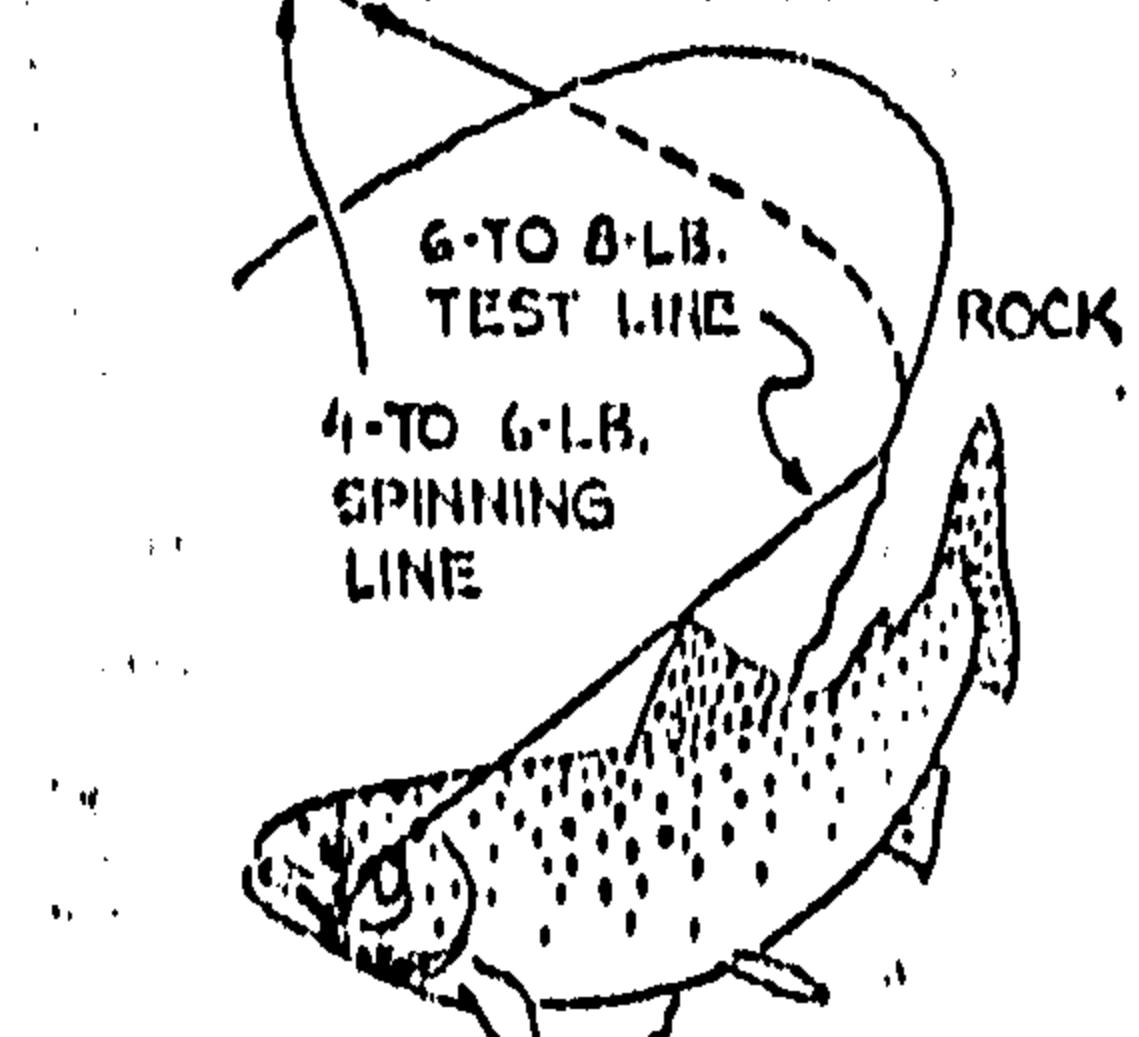

If the gate continues at that pace, the traditional Edmonton-Calgary sports rivalry, which would probably be felt even in a marbles matz, is almost certain to produce a WHL attendance record for final games.

Second game of the series is slated here Thursday night, with the third and fourth games in Calgary Saturday and Monday nights.

Towne Hallers Force 5th Game In Cage Finals

PORT ALBERNI, B.C. (CP) — Edmonton Towne Hallers forced a deciding game for the western Canada senior men's basketball championship Tuesday night when they defeated Alberni Athletics 61-59 here to even the best-of-five series 6-2.

Alberni held a narrow 28-28 edge at the half but Edmonton staged a spirited second-half rally to squeeze out the win.

Athletes mounted a chance to tie it up in the last 15 seconds when Doug Brinham's long one-hander missed the basket. The Towne Hallers grabbed the rebound and kept control of the ball during the dying seconds.

Final game of the series will be played here tonight.

Edmonton was sparked Tuesday night by Art Kruger and Bill Price, both netting 14 points. High point honors, however, went to Alberni's Joe Samarin, who dropped in 16 points.

Ranked by Lindsay's sharp checking, Moore went berserk in the third period. He dropped stick and gloves and trashed Lindsay all over the ice. Linesmen George Hayes and Doug Davies tried to restrain him. He broke away repeatedly, going to the ice once with his arms wrapped about Hayes.

A slashing penalty against Moore had already been called by referee Red Storey. Persistently, Moore tried to get at Lindsay. Storey added a misconduct penalty. The Montreal winger still wasn't tamed. Storey thumbed him out of the game. It made no difference to Moore.

The pursuit went on. Finally at the penalty box, Gordie Howe barged into the argument, speared Moore with his stick and drew a minor penalty. Linesmen and team mates finally shooed Moore to the Montreal bench. He got into an argument with a fan there and finally was escorted to the dressing room by two policemen. Canadians finished out the game with make-shift lines.

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen won Moncton Hawks 6-2 Tuesday night to take a one-game lead in their best-of-seven eastern Canada Allan Cup finals. Second game will be played here Thursday.

The Dutchmen, all-Ontario champions, led the way.

Gerry Theberge paced the Dutchmen, with two goals. Ken Lautman, Clare Martin, Jackie White and Jim Logan fired singles. Billy Sinnett and Dewar Thomas tallied for the Hawks.

REGINA (CP) — Winnipeg Monarchs stumbled Tuesday night in their first stride toward a Memorial Cup victory which could be the city's fourth.

With goals by Ted Derrett knocking in two first-period goals, the Manitoba Junior Hockey League champions opened up wide enough in an attempted comeback stretch to create gaps for five more Regina Pat goals.

Pats, with a 7-0 victory easily chalked up, would force a shift to Winnipeg for the rest of the best-of-seven series if they win here Thursday night. If they lose, the third game will be played on Regina fee Saturday night.

While they were a man short, defenceman Larry Zolden connected with a screened shot. Then Bruno Horvath, the league's leading point-getter, made it 2-0 while Calgary defenceman Gus Kyle sat out a holding penalty.

Lorne Davis counted the other two Edmonton goals in the final period.

Nearly 18 minutes of the middle session went by before Jim McFadden won the puck from a behind-the-net scramble and carried it out front to shove it between Glen Hall's legs.

D.J. Couture scored the other Calgary goal in the third period after taking a pass from McFadden.

Ez To Meet South African Monday In Second Step of Comeback Trail

By BILL CUNNINGHAM
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON (CP) — Ezzard Charles, former world heavyweight champion and one of the most clever boxers in the business, meets South African heavyweight titleholder Johnny Arthur here Monday night.

Arthur is pretty much a dark horse in North America. Since his arrival late last year he found little trouble in putting away his first two partners in three rounds each without giving much indication of what he can do against a topnotch fighter.

The winner of the 10-round clash will be well in line for a shot at Rocky Marciano and the world championship — nothing new for Charles who has fallen twice previously before Marciano's lists, but a big step for the relatively unknown South African.

Charles climbs into the ring for the first time in Canada as step No. 2 of a comeback campaign which has already put one victory under his belt. He won a decision over Charley Norkus in New York Feb. 18. Defeat at the hands of the 25-year-old Arthur, nearly 10 years his junior, might make Edmonton the end of his comeback trail.

Some here call the Monday night battle a "push-over" for Charles, the crafty old warrior. But so far, nobody has pushed over the muscular Arthur, who at six feet, two inches is one of the tallest fighters around.

Bobby Evans, the South African's 31-year-old manager and once pilot of Sam Langford

the renowned "Boston Terrier," puts it this way:

"The fight rides on the Charles' legs. They'll win or lose if they go in this one, and if they've got to go some time, my boy should be able to take him. If they don't Johnny could be in for a rough night."

The Charles record is 11-11 his history. In about 100 professional fights, his roster of opponents includes such noteworthies as former champion Joe Louis, Gus Lesnevich, Lee Omie, Joey Maxim and Nino Valdez.

Charles won the world championship in 1949 by beating Jersey Joe Walcott in 15 rounds to move onto the throne, then unoccupied. Jersey Joe finally beat Charles and won the title in 1952 but not before the Cincinnati Cobra had successfully defended it six times.

Singer Mario Lanza Fired For Breaking Club Contract

By BOB THOMAS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Where does Mario Lanza go from here?

That was the question the show world pondered today after the dynamic singer failed to appear and was fired from the world's highest salaried night club date. The hotel New Frontier Tuesday cancelled Lanza's contract which called for $100,000 for two weeks of singing twice a night.

Lanza, his wife, Betty, their four children and two nurses were scheduled to motor back to Hollywood today. The rest of their entourage pulled out Tuesday night after the singer's club fizzled out.

A confidante of Lanza's reported that the singer was heartbroken by his failure to keep the date. The reason is more than professional. He expected to use the $10,000 to rent a new house, heavily in debt to the government for past income taxes, he now plans to rent an apartment.

For the last three months he had been living in Palm Springs, Calif., preparing for the abortive engagement.

Lanza apparently will go back to the movies. He is under contract to Warner Bros. for the James M. Cain story "Gereade."

He was quoted as saying he now hopes he can make good pre-recordings of the film's songs and thus give him the encouragement he apparently needs.

The cause of his pull-out of the much-publicized show here is still clouded. A local doctor examined him early Tuesday and said he was in physical shape to sing. But a meeting of his backers decided that Lanza could not sing. The hotel bosses then ruled that his contract had been broken.

Churchill Destined To Be Fighter Since Earliest Childhood Games

Seattle Woman To Pay Fine

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. Mabel McKinnon, 51, of Seattle convicted of manslaughter, was fined $750 in Assize Court here Monday and was ordered to enter a recognizance to be of good behaviour for two years.

She was convicted of manslaughter in connection with the death of Chan Jow, killed when the taxi in which he was a passenger plunged into Burrard Inlet last August 18 when it was in collision with a car driven by Mrs. McKinnon.

Mrs. McKinnon's car ran out of control on a North Vancouver hill.

Churchill Destined To Be Fighter Since Earliest Childhood Games

Sir Winston Churchill's heritage is that of a warrior, and he fought in the Nile campaign, taking part in the charge of the 21st Lancers against the Dervishes at Omdurman.

Soon he felt the urge to write and became a war correspondent in the South African war. He was captured by the Boers, but within a month made a spectacular escape by jumping onto a freight train.

He entered politics as a Conservative member of Parliament in 1900, but three years later he differed from his party leaders on several important aspects of policy. He became a whole-hearted free-trader and joined the Liberal party, in which he remained until 1924 when he returned to the Conservative fold.

It was only during the Second World War — and after becoming prime minister — that he took over the leadership of the Conservative party.

It always has been regarded as one of the most brilliant debaters. Parliament has ever known and few, if any, peers as a public speaker. His peculiarly sonorous delivery and cultivated felicity of phrase give him a style all of its own.

During his years in Opposition after the Second World War, Churchill began the publication of his "War Memoirs," which have been acclaimed throughout the world as a literary masterpiece and most important contribution to history.

In 1953, his gifts as an orator and master of prose were recognized by the award of the Nobel Prize for Literature, most envied honor a writer can gain.

His versatility has shown itself in his gift as a painter, which was recognized by the Royal Academy of Arts, of which he is an honorary member. Since 1947, several of his pictures have been hung in the academy's yearly exhibitions.

Churchill was married in 1908 to his devoted "Clementine" — who was Clementine Hozier, daughter of the late Col. Sir H. M. Hozier. In his own phrase, he has "lived happily ever after."

They have one son, Randolph, and three daughters, Sarah, Diana and Mary, and several grandchildren.

In his garden at Chartwell in Kent, Sir Winston often has been found bricklaying — with the rather self-conceited pride of a statesman who can claim to be a member of the Bricklayer's Union. Other hobbies include the business in 1947.

Mr. Ferguson Sr. graduated from Worsham College in Chicago in 1920 and that same year bought the funeral home at Prince Rupert. The following year he moved to Blakiston where he purchased and operated the funeral home until he came to Prince Rupert.

In 1946, on returning home from overseas with the armed forces, Jack Ferguson joined his father in running B.C. Undertakers. Sandy Ferguson entered Unipol. Other hobbies include the business in 1947.

Mr. Ferguson Sr. died in 1948 and Mrs. Ferguson died in 1952.

Mr. Ferguson is survived by his wife, Marjorie, and their three sons, Marjorie, Main and Percy Kilbride.
