Snow Cuts Off Communications

Continuing snowfall yesterday afternoon, last night and this morning dumped almost a foot of snow on Prince Rupert during the last 24 hours. Heavy snow elsewhere has cut communications between this city and the south. No damage to telephone lines has been reported however.

The Daily News teletype service cut off three quarters of an hour early at 7:15 this morning and Canadian National Telegraph services were cut up until early this afternoon.

Since no Dominion Weather Office forecast was available from Vancouver, Digby Island radio station was able to supply a marine forecast.

Forecast for tomorrow is variable cloudiness with snow flurries mostly along the mainland coast. Light winds before midnight will shift to southwest 20 late tomorrow morning.

Low tonight and high Thursday at Port Hardy 20 and 42, Sandpoint 32 and 38, Prince Rupert 32 and 38.

The Digby Island station said that up until noon 8.0 inches of snow had fallen and by the time the 4 p.m. measurement was taken it was expected that another three inches would have fallen.

Police Hold Chauffeur In Murder

NEW YORK (AP)—Police arrested a slender chauffeur Tuesday and said they were hopeful that questioning of the man would lead to solution of the Serge Rubinstein murder.

Herman Scholz, 50, a rental limousine driver, readily admitted that he plotted two years ago to kidnap Rubinstein, millionaire draft dodger, police reported.

Late Tuesday Alexander Hermand, an assistant district attorney said:

"I wanted to at this time I could not identify anyone, but I am hopeful through Scholz of obtaining information leading to the identity of the perpetrator or perpetrators."

No charges were placed immediately against Scholz, however.

POLICE FIND WEAPONS

After Scholz was picked up Tuesday more than 65 detectives swarmed through his home on Long Island. There, the officers said, they found a number of weapons, surgical tape, venetian blind cord and clippings about the Rubinstein murder of 20 days ago.

The wealthy financial manipulator was found bound, gagged and murdered on the floor of his palatial Fifth Avenue home. He had been tied with venetian blind cord and gagged with surgical tape.

No other government members

budget debate told Social Credit

Members sat stolidly as Mr. Gibson thundered a barrage of charges on forest management licences, clear Squamish, five months after an appeal against it had been heard.

OUTDOORS With Marty

Less than three weeks from now is the date set for the nomination and election of officers and executive for the Rupert Rod & Gun Club. This rapidly growing organization can never be said to be governed by the same old clique, for there are to be changes made in the higher brackets, and more places to be filled on new committees; a slate of candidates will be presented by the nominating committee, but anybody whatsoever is permitted to make nominations from the floor. Since the club is progressing so favorably, and because of the new iron now in the fire, Marty urges all sportsmen to attend the meeting, to make known any desires or difficulties, to strengthen the membership roll, and to give their abilities and time towards building up the finest outdoorsfolk club in the North. Announcement of date (probably March 7) will be confirmed in this journal shortly.

The well known HAL WINDT of Terrace, erstwhile Smithers and this city, continues his effervescent ways amongst the fish, the latest being a trip to the Copper River. His initial cast brought a ripe steelhead to his feet, she was released to perform her duty. The next five casts brought Hal his three fish limit and an end to that particular excursion, nice going!

British Columbia Red Cross Plans 1955 Drive In March

British Columbia's huge Red Cross army, which numbers every fourth person in this province as a supporter of the Society, is preparing to march again.

Under Col. W. G. Swan, chairman, the B.C. 1955 campaign will be carried on during March in conjunction with all other Red Cross appeals in North America. Assisting Col. Swan will be Admiral Victor Brodeur. Objective for B.C. this year has been set at $631,500.

"There is no other organization in the world with the background and scope of the Red Cross," states Col. Swan. "Regardless of color, race or creed, it stands prepared for every emergency whether it is disaster at home or assistance to fighting men on the world's battlefields. It acts as an intermediary in international emergencies or becomes a sympathetic comforter to the individual at home. When you support the Red Cross, you assure ready assistance wherever the Red Cross ensign flies."

Col. Swan, one of Canada's outstanding engineers, who succeeds Hon. E. W. Hamper for seven years B.C. campaign chairman, has had a long connection with the B.C. Red Cross. A member of the provincial executive for eight years, he was chairman of the first Blood Donor committee in Canada, pioneering this miracle service which has contributed millions of dollars in free blood to the people of British Columbia.

Today there are 212,576 members scattered among the 84 active branches of the provincial Red Cross to carry on towards half a century of service in this province, Col. Swan points out. In addition some 120,000 juniors organized under 3,512 school branches are being trained in the ideals of the Society.

Twelve services, which touch the lives of every citizen, carry out the purposes of the Society.

Go Slow Plan On Long Pacts Urged by IWA

VANCOUVER (C) — Caution "go slow" policy in establishing long-term labor contracts in British Columbia's forest industry has been recommended by a special committee of the International Woodworkers of America (CUC).

The five-man committee prepared its report for presentation this week at the IWA's annual B.C. district convention.

The report, which said it would "not be wise" to set a "hard and fast policy" on long-term contracts, will be discussed by more than 100 delegates this week.

The committee suggested that if any decision is made on extending the contract, it should be arrived at by the IWA's policy committee and not by the convention.

A long-term contract "would be beneficial" only if economic conditions are stable.

If a long-term contract were established conditions other than those would have to be carefully studied and guarded.

A long-term contract would have to have a guaranteed annual wage increment written into it at the time of signing.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

The Element of Time Can Play Havoc With a Hand

Against today's contract Mr. Dale led the five of spades, Mr. Meek played the jack and Mr. Muzzy won with the ace.

Mr. Muzzy then made his usual brilliant estimate of the trick possibilities of the hand. He figured three sure tricks in clubs, three in hearts, two in spades and one in diamonds. In making this estimate he completely overlooked one vitally important element—the element of time.

In order to win three club tricks he had to drive out both the ace and king of that suit and he had only one stopper left in spades for game.

"You can relax, Champion," he remarked. "This rubber is over."

"Don't say that," Mr. Champion complained. "Every time you do, you go down two tricks."

WELL-GROUNDED

Mr. Champion's fears were well grounded. At trick two, Mr. Muzzy led the queen of clubs. Mr. Meek won and returned the queen of spades. Mr. Muzzy took this trick and then a look of consternation crossed his face.

For the first time he realized he didn't have time to set his clubs. At this point, however, it was too late to go after diamonds so he led another club hoping Mr. Meek held the other high honor and no more spades.

This was not the case and Mr. Dale had the pleasure of running all the rest of his spades putting the contract down two.

Of course, Mr. Muzzy should have realized at the start that he had to find a way to take nine tricks without losing the lead twice. This could only be accomplished by developing the diamond suit.

There were several ways to BALZO DI MONTEGALLO, Italy (C) — Carabinieri and ski troops reached the blizzard-swept peaks of Mount Vettore at mid-morning today and reported finding no trace of a Belgian airliner which disappeared Sunday night with 20 persons aboard.

The five-man committee prepared its report for presentation this week at the IWA's annual B.C. district convention.

Advertising in Newspapers is Accepted with Authority . . .

For what is showing at the theater or featured at the stores we turn the pages of our daily local newspaper.

A man may want to buy a new car, a radio or power tool. He may have heard all about the advantages of this or that model but he still wants to "read all about it." To see the claims set down in authoritative black and white for his careful study.

Whether it is a new cosmetic, a new style earring, or a decorating device that has her current interest, a woman looks to her newspaper's advertising for the guiding facts. She, too, wants to "read all about it."

Truly, the Newspaper is the meeting place and the most popular place of the world.
