Come to the Concert

TONIGHT brings to Prince Rupert the third concert in the current Alaska Music Trail series. The artist is a talented American pianist, Frank Clazer, who has played with leading symphony orchestras in North America and made four successful tours of Europe.

Since there are only four Alaska Music Trail concerts in each season, there is always a danger that Between performances the series will slip from pubare mind. The last concert of the present season, for example, was given as far back as November, During the interval, those who were just beginning to attend these concerts may have tended to forget them and failed to make a point of hearing the rest. Many others, of course, will have received so much enjoyment from them in the past that no break in the schedule could cause them to miss the next one.

The long intervals that occasionally occur cannot be helped." All the artists who appear in the series have engagements that keep them continually on the move. Maxim Schapiro, who is in charge of arranging the concerts, has made it quite clear before this that he is interested in presenting only musicians of established popular appeal. The Alaska Music Trail is no beginners' path to fame. It is an earnest effort to bring proven talent to those points where entertainment of high professional calibre is seldom

And so it is that Mr. Glazer comes at a rare opportunity afforded by a busy round of engagements. It is hoped that a good audience will make him feel the time is well taken, for there is no doubt that he has much to offer in return.

Marriages Mean Markets

ANADIANS are marrying earlier. According to UBS, 24.2 per cent of all Canadians 15 to 24 years of age were married persons in 1953, compared with 21.9 per cent of the population in this age group

This is in part a reflection of prosperity; young people haven't had to postpone marriage as they did, for example, in the thirties. In part, too, the early marriages may be a carryover from the war years. when an early marriage was often the alternative to no marriage at all.

Whatever the cause, the new pattern of the Communist. On hundreds of oc-ing taxes upon the people. The during the last war and had forties and fifties has certainly contributed to the increase in demand for consumer goods. The demand for almost everything from toys to telephone lines has been stepped up a notch by the new fashion in youthful marriages. —Financial Post.

Skipper Of Mission Boat Substitutes at St. Peters

Rev. F. W. Mitchell, captain of the mission boat "Northern Cross" was a guest at the regular St. Peter's Church vestry meeting Monday night, held at the home of John Stokes, 964, Tenth Avenue East.

Prince Rupert Daily News

Wednesday, March 9, 1955

A vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Mitchell by Mr. Stokes for the promptness with which the Northern Cross skipper had substituted for St. Peter's rector, Rev. T. S. Sharpe, who is away due to iliness.

The meeting learned that the Sunday school has shown an increased attendance recently in both teachers and pupils. No social activities have been held by St. Peters during February and none will be held until after Lent.
