B.C. Fishing in 1954 Second Best on Record

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia's fishing industry enjoyed the second most successful year on record in 1954 with a market value of $69,490,000 in fish landed and fish products.

The total market value was about $4,000,000 higher than production of oil and meal, 1953 being well below the all-time high of $83,800,000 recorded in 1951, the federal fisheries department said in a report released here yesterday.

Returns to fishermen catching the fish totalled $35,000,000 third highest on record. The all-time high of $40,600,000 was recorded in 1951 and in 1950 returns totalled $38,300,000.

The report said 1954 was marked by the highest sockeye catch and pack since 1913, the highest halibut catch on record and an interrupted herring catch.

Marketed value of salmon and salmon products totalled $50,300,000 with the canned pack totalling 1,742,000 cases valued at $38,400,000.

The sockeye pack totalled 680,700 cases, while the chum pack amounted to 580,000 cases, highest since 1942.

Herring landings totalled 180,481 tons, most of which went to Montreal.

Funds raised in the campaign, part of a joint operation of the B.C. Division Cancer Society and the B.C. Cancer Foundation, have a three-fold purpose.

They will finance Cancer research programs, fellowships and bursaries to train specialists in the disease, assistance to needy patients, treatment and diagnostic facilities and the society's education program.

The latter is designed to tell the public that cancer is curable especially in the early stages. It tells how to recognize early symptoms and what to do if they are discovered.

Tests Taken By Parents

TORONTO (CP) — Results of a lie detector test taken Wednesday by the mother and step-father of murdered Judy Carter were still being studied by police today.

Mr. and Mrs. William McLeod underwent the test at Buffalo, U.S.A. on final terms of an Austrian treaty to end the 10-year occupation. They would not be admissible as evidence in a Canadian court, have not been made known.

The eight-year-old girl was found strangled last Saturday. Her body was located in a stream in suburban Markham township and her shoes and a burning glove were discovered nearby. She disappeared February 25.

Police believe they have found the scene of the slaying — a newly-cut clearing about half a mile away from where her body was found. Tire marks in the mud indicate the killer backed his car or truck into the clearing and then choked the girl to death.

Senior police officials here said they were taken unaware by Mr. McLeod's request to undergo the lie detector test. He was quoted as saying he was taking it to dispel rumors.

The McLeods are confident they passed the tests.

"It's a relief to have taken this test," Mrs. McLeod said. "Day in and day out I have been bothered by what's being said. Now there is no uncertainty."

Mr. McLeod said he hopes the tests will end "gossip and speculation." He said he has nothing to hide.

NORTH COAST REGION: Sunny this morning clouding over in the afternoon. Cloudy on Friday, beginning this evening and decreasing to a few showers Friday morning. Not much change in temperature. Winds southwesterly 16 occasionally increasing to westerly 25 on Friday. Low tonight and high Friday at Port Hardy 35 and 46, Sandspit 39 and 48, Prince Rupert 38 and 48.

FLIGHT LIEUT. Leo Corenman, above, will lead the RCAF band from Edmonton when it appears in Prince Rupert this month to play for a concert and dance. Lt. Corenman is one of Canada's leading musicians. As solo clarinettist he has given command performances in Europe and has appeared on the BBC under such noted conductors as Sir Adrian Boult. Final plans for the concert at the Civic Centre April 23 and the Tel-Television Hall of FMCH Clachan drill hall April 23, were made last night at a meeting of the Prince Rupert Air Cadet sponsoring committee attended by Navy and Army representatives. The band rated as the finest in Canada, has a full repertoire of classical, popular and military numbers.

Mr. Albury opposed the plan.

"We suffer a chronic teacher shortage in B.C. now. Let us not make our goal so high that we end up like Ontario, with lower standards."

Mr. Albury opposed the plan, as a carpenter with the Department of Transport at Digby. He later was a censor with Mitchell and Currie. In 1935 Mr. Nesbitt came to Prince Rupert and was employed by the city of Prince Rupert and for a number of years operated his own business there.

Nesbitt came north in 1923 for a time at Wrangell, Alaska, and returned to boatbuilding, constructed some of the last boats on the Stikine River in the boom years there.

In 1925 Mr. Nesbitt came to Prince Rupert and was employed by the city of Prince Rupert and for a number of years operated his own business there.

Nesbitt is survived by his wife, Adie, at 817 Sixth Avenue, three sons, William, Kenneth and Prince Rupert, and three daughters.

William Parrott, a Langford high school teacher and chairman of the teacher-education committee which drew up the new plan, said:

"Teaching standards will be raised if practical training goes along hand-in-hand with academic work. And this is true for both secondary and elementary teachers."

Red China Absence From UN Deplored

By JACK BEST

Canadian Press Staff Writer

PRINCETON, N.J. (CP) — Canada's external affairs minister Pearson says economic co-operation and a co-ordinated foreign policy may prove essential to the preservation of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In this connection he feels that Canada may not long tolerate a situation where its border with the United States is "non-existent for purposes of defence but very much in existence for tariff and trade purposes."

LECTURE SERIES

Pearson gave his views Wednesday night in the second of three addresses in a debating series at Princeton University's Little Lecture Series. He will finish the series tonight.

The Canadian minister Wednesday night also:

• Said absence of Red China from international meetings "makes impossible" the effective settlement of disputes near China's borders.

• Advised against re-negotiation of meeting of heads of government to settle international disputes.

• Pleaded for consultation among the allies as an "existing to 'united nation.'

Overnight freezing temperatures checked a six-day thaw.

The situation remained unchanged at Starbuck, 35 miles southwest of Winnipeg, where residents awaited a flood crest on the La Salle, a small tributary of the Red whose headwaters were swollen by the Assiniboine river.

Residents of the low-lying flats of Brandon also waited for the Assiniboine's crest moved slowly toward the western Manitoba city from Virden. Officials warned those living along the river banks the city would not be responsible for flood damage.

Also threatened in the area will be Brandon Packers Ltd. Dikes around the plant, however, have been reinforced.

Further west at Kamloops in eastern Saskatchewan, the waters of the Assiniboine have reached their peak and the level has been stationary for several hours.

Red Cross Campaign Extended

Outlying areas of Prince Rupert District have until the end of April to get donations to the 1955 Red Cross Drive into campaign headquarters, Cliff Ham, campaign chairman said today.

Mr. Ham said the Fund-Drive committee had secured an extension of a month in order to accommodate the economic situation in the district.

The campaign chairman said that loggers had only just returned to Queen Charlotte Island camps and that "follow-up" would be undertaken of the Queen Charlottes as well as other localities which had been canvassed previously.

The total collected so far in the drive remains at about $4,200, which was reached March 29. Quota this year is $6,500, the same as last year's goal.

Dr. George Phebin, head of the uniform branch, and Sgt. George Phebin, head of the police training school, feature the testimony of police superintendant Harry Whalen, who was taken unaware by Mr. McLeod's request to undergo the lie detector test. He was quoted as saying he was taking it to dispel rumors.

The McLeods are confident they passed the tests.

"It's a relief to have taken this test," Mrs. McLeod said. "Day in and day out I have been bothered by what's being said. Now there is no uncertainty."

Mr. McLeod said he hopes the tests will end "gossip and speculation." He said he has nothing to hide.

W. Nesbitt Set To Testify
"If Heart Can Stand It"

VANCOUVER (CP) — William Semenick is expected to testify in his own defense today as his drug-trafficking trial enters its third day in the provincial court here.

In a surprise witness for the prosecution, Const. William G. Ferguson, who said he was assigned to guard Semenick in jail on January 20, Ferguson was asked if he knew the witness, Joe Haywood, who was alleged to have worked under cover as Semenick's bodyguard for almost a month after having met the suspect in hospital where he was recuperating from a gun-shot wound.

"Semenick naked me to speak to Joe Haywood to make things easier for him," Ferguson said.

The witness said Semenick told him Haywood could have resigned from the police force to handle telephone calls giving the location of caches of narcotics. The job would have paid $200 a month, said Ferguson.

Earlier, under cross-examination by Mr. Butterfield, Haywood admitted that he had been remunerated by his superior officer for accepting money from Semenick and working as his bodyguard without the knowledge of his superiors.

On the stand with Mr. Semenick at the hearings in the provincial court house are Art Murphy, city councillor and Pat O'Neill, Semenick's nominee.

Free Polio Vaccine Shots Set For All B.C. Children

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dr. George Phebin providing free polio vaccine shots to every child in B.C. before the polio season starts this summer.

He said the program might fall short of its objective due to limited supplies of the vaccine which has been proven safe and effective as a polio preventative.

Dr. Amyot said the two governments will split the cost of a $6-60 brace.

He said he could not estimate the number of children who will receive the shot shots, but said 60,000 youngsters already vaccinated for immunization are "only the vanguard."

Another Killer

JUST at the time when civilization is taking new heart in its fight against polio it is well to remember that medical science is waging battles against other diseases equally destructive and equally difficult to combat.

One of these is cancer. Although the menace of this terrible enemy has been reduced considerably by modern techniques, cancer still remains one of the great killers. In Canada one out of every seven deaths is caused by this disease, which is a mortality rate second only to that of heart disease.

Its grim record places cancer high on the public's blacklist. In a recent Gallup poll it was revealed that 40 per cent of all Canadians believed more money should be spent in the fight against polio than in combating any other disease.

Although in recent years there has been increased government expenditure to carry on the work, the results would be much less impressive without the contribution of private effort. In this respect the part played by the Canadian Cancer Society is outstanding. Through its three functions of research, education and welfare it has helped science to probe deeply into the mysteries of the disease, given the public better knowledge of the symptoms and treatment, and provided care and comfort for those afflicted.

Tomorrow the local branch of the Society's B.C. division will officially launch its annual drive to raise funds for continuance of this work. Most of us have at least one relative or friend, and probably more, who is suffering from cancer, so that we are generally familiar with the anxiety and hardship which the disease can cause. But it is important also to be acquainted with the fact that the drive getting underway has a purpose as close to us as the disease itself. Out of every dollar contributed, 92 cents goes directly into the fight against cancer. This means that the money raised is not used to defray expenses that have little bearing on the problem but is directed specifically into the work for which we intended it.

The time will come when cancer is conquered. Let us hasten the day by giving generously now.

Canadian scientists at McGill University and elsewhere are experimenting with the effect of hormones in cancer growth. Some researchers believe that an "im-balance" of the endocrine (duct-less gland) system may have some bearing on the growth of malignant cells.

mendation of the city's housing committee. Referred to the utility committee and a check by engineer Goode was Mr. Manson's request for a street light near the Park Side Motel.

Slaughters Maxim In Non-Title Bout

By CHRIS EDMONDS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The "new" Bobo Olson, who picked up a crushing righthand punch with nine pounds extra weight, is ready for a crack at the world's light-heavyweight championship.

The Hawaiian-born middle-weight king, departing from his usual devastating body attack and switching to a savage overhand right to the head, floored Joe Maxim twice and was all over him from the opening bell Wednesday night as he won a unanimous 10-round decision at the Cow Palace here. A cross-country television audience watching the non-title fight saw all but the final round, blacked out by a station power failure here.

A crowd announced at 13,276 paid $109,002.50 and cheered wildly as Olson, a 3-to-1 favorite, pounded the 175-pound Maxim into submission.

Olson weighed 160 pounds, nine above his normal figure, but appeared faster and hit harder than in any of his previous 20 straight triumphs. Only in the first round, when he concentrated on the body and beat Maxim's torso bright red, did he

"He hits harder than Archie Moore does at 175 pounds," said Olson, who lost three times in three years to the light-heavyweight champion. "He could beat Moore."

The chances of an Olson-Maxim title fight are good, said Flaherty, the middleweight's manager, said.

Reds Blame Strict Rules For Puck Loss

MOSCOW (UPI)—A high Soviet sports official has blown the whistle on Russian referees in assessing the blame for his country's defeat by Canada in this year's world hockey tournament.

A. Tarasov, a Merited Master of Sport, says Soviet referees are so strict in punishing rough play that Russians competing abroad are unprepared for the more lenient standards that prevail in other countries.

"We can no longer tolerate such one-sided, unqualified referees and officials," Tarasov writes in the magazine, Soviet Sport. "They do a lot of damage to Soviet hockey."

Reviewing Russia's loss to Peckton Vs of the world title they captured from Toronto East York in 1961, Tarasov is critical of Russian training methods.

He urges that "our physical culture and sport committee seriously develop ice hockey on a wide mass scale," that coaching improve and that more hockey equipment be provided.

MORE ROBUST PLAY

But his chief argument is in favor of a more robust style of play.

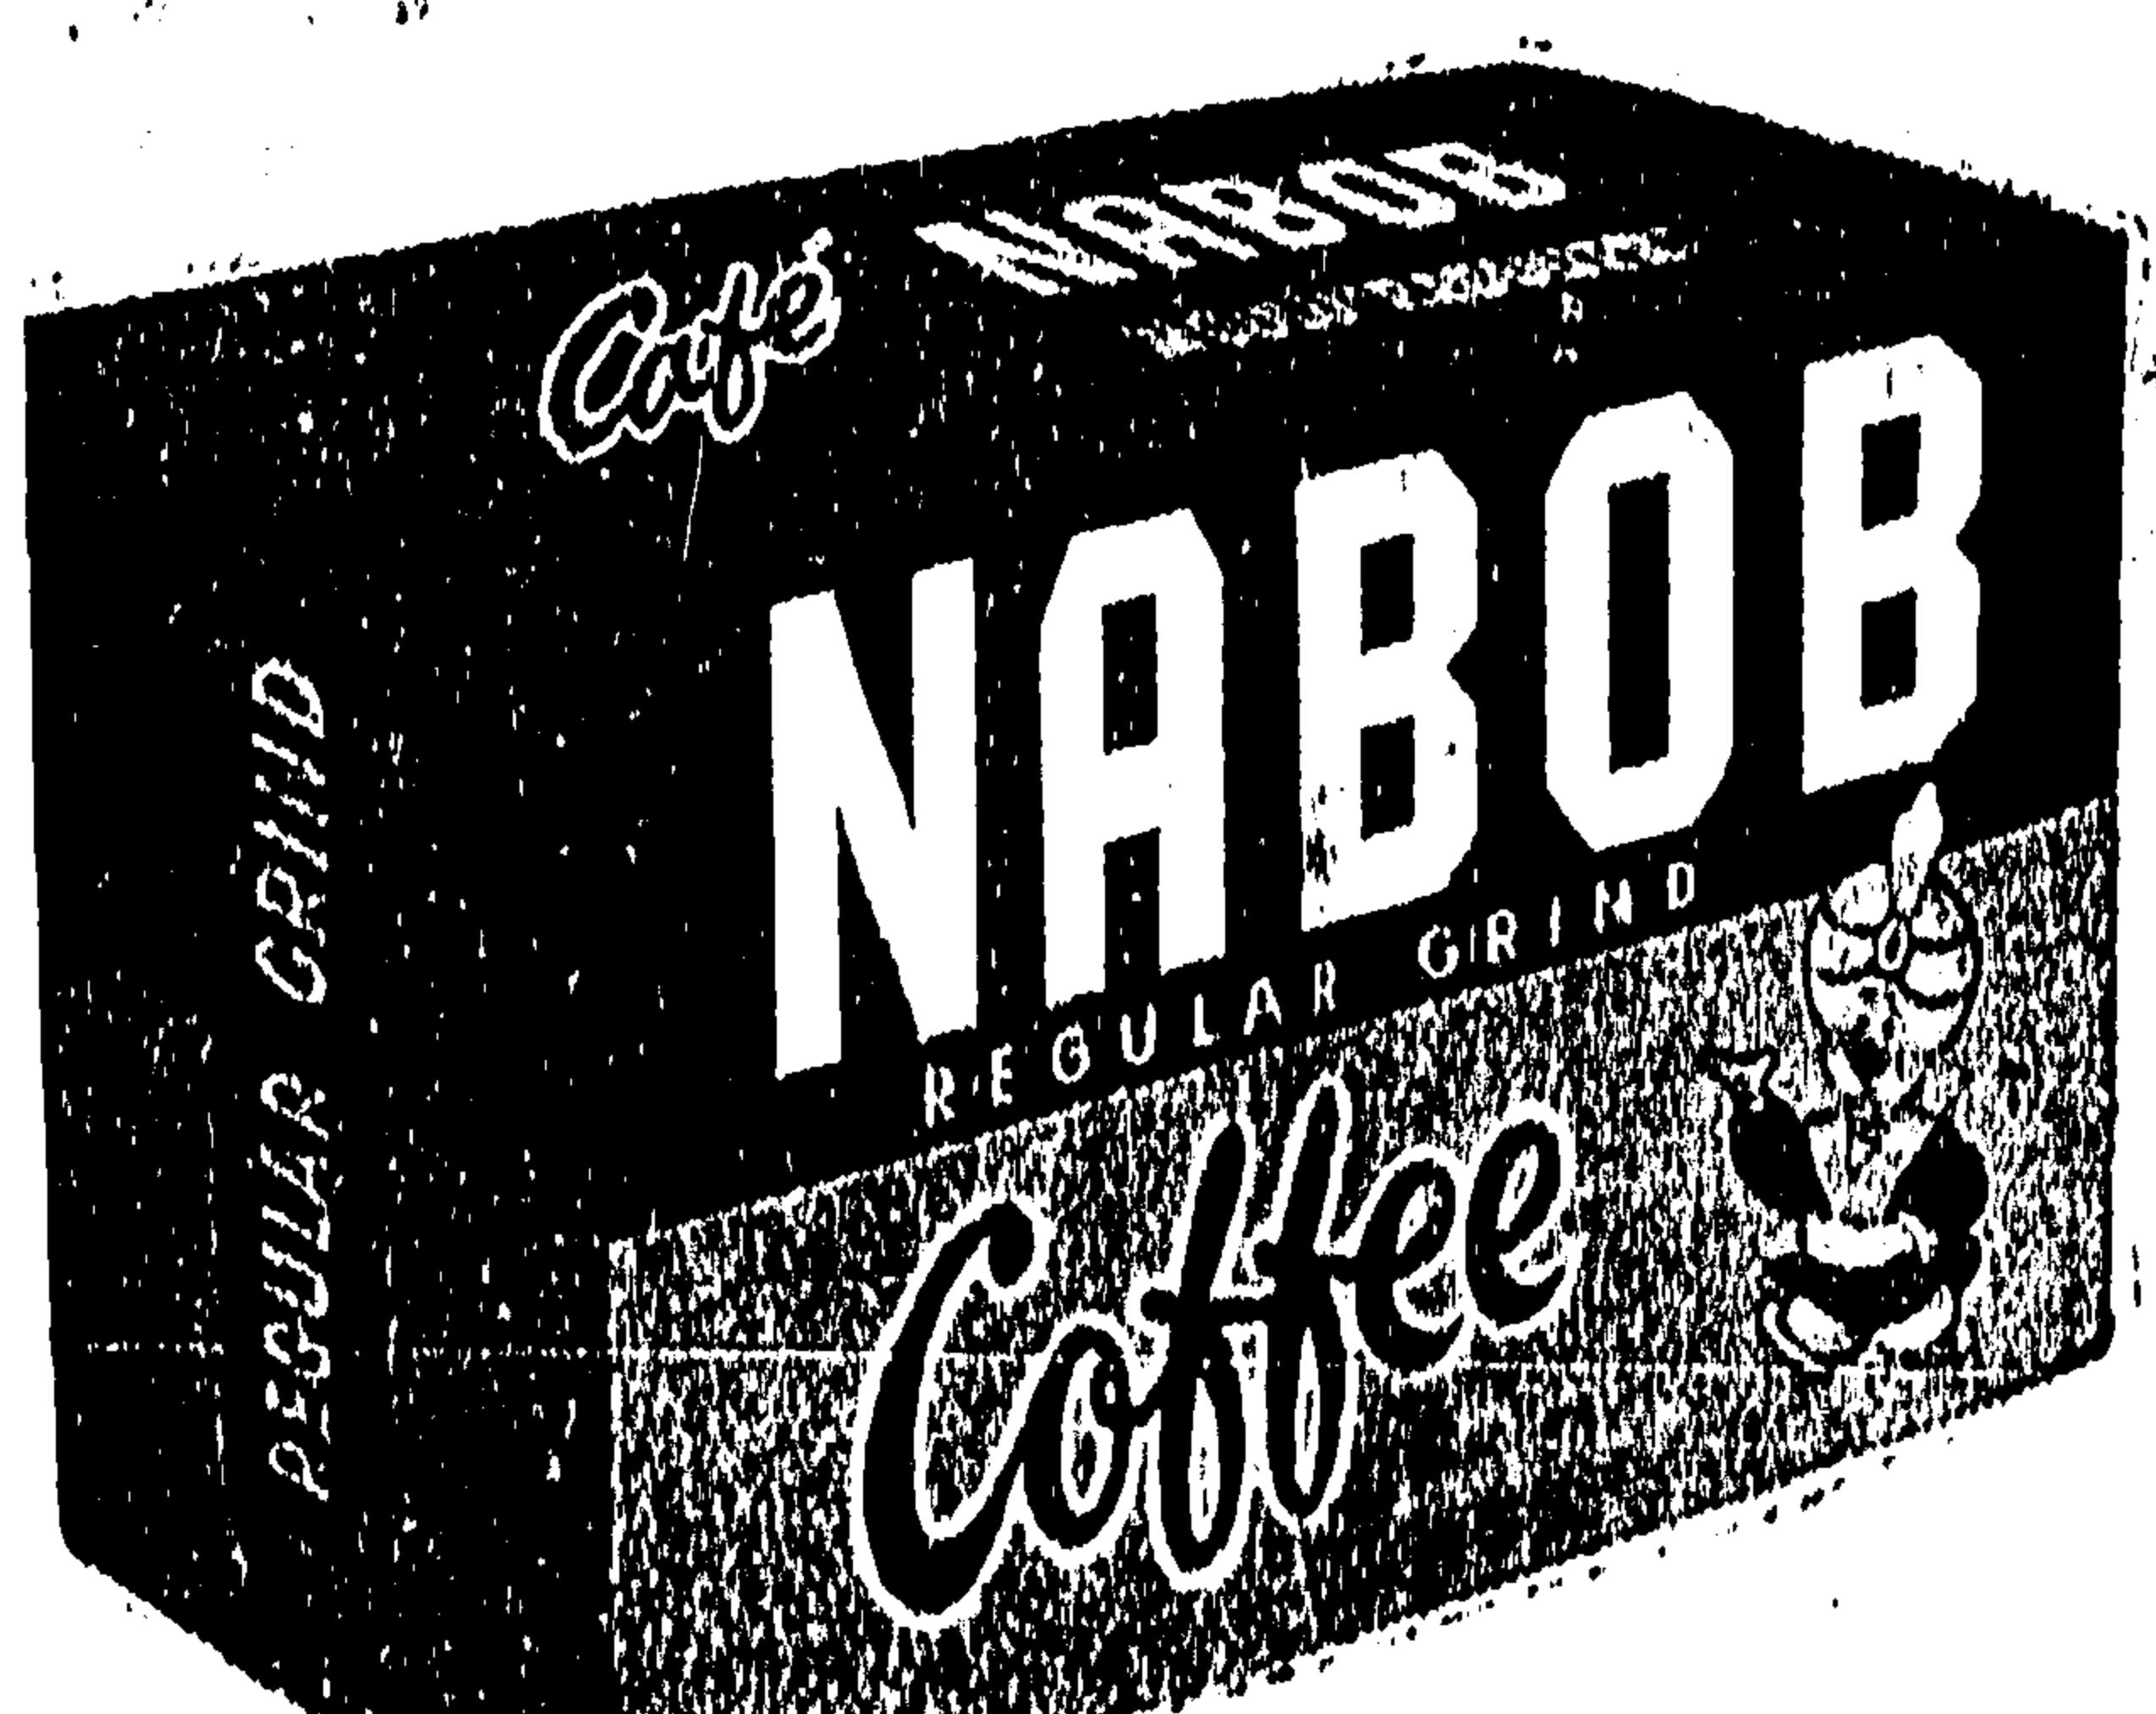

"Rough play is not new for us. We have seen it played and know what it is but we never use it. Actually rough play is necessary, especially on defense . . .

"How could it happen that, although we realized for years that we were lagging behind in the aggressive, rough style, we have not overcome this drawback? Our refereeing schools have been discussing this question for years but the old did not accept rule changes to permit the rough style."

Recent studies of Canadian Indians sponsored by the Canadian Cancer Society show that Indians have less skin cancer than do whites. The probable explanation of this is that the pigment in the skin of Indians is a protection against the ultra-violet rays of the sun. Negroes are also less susceptible to skin cancer.

Roberts, Ford Ignore Poor Pitching Weather

It couldn't have been a worse day for pitchers if the hitters had placed a special order. But Robin Roberts and Whitey Ford shrugged off the weather like a couple of guys working for a resort chamber of commerce.

In Philadelphia it was dreary and rainy, yet Roberts no-hit the world champion New York Giants for eight 1-3 innings Wednesday before getting tagged for three hits and two runs. The Phils' righthanded ace still claimed a 4-2 victory, however, in what was the National League opener for both clubs.

And in New York, with temperatures in the 40s and wind lashing a steady mist, Ford allowed Washington just two singles as the Yankees trudged into the American League season with a 19-1 rout of the Senators. Despite the cold, the young lefty went nine innings for the first time this spring.

The weather was miserable everywhere on a lean baseball day. The smallest opening day crowd in 25 years at Ebbets Field 6,099—shattered when Brooklyn and Carl Erskine beat Pittsburgh 6-1 in the only other National League game scheduled.

CLUB ATHLETICS

In the American, Detroit Tigers, who welcomed Kansas City into the league graciously Tuesday, clubbed the Athletics 10-2. Rain postponed the Boston at Baltimore game.

Tonight Last Chance For Swimmer

VICTORIA (CP)—Come winds or high water, determined Bert Thomas is set upon tearing the waters of the strait of Juan de Fuca "to pieces."

"I'll conquer the strait of Juan de Fuca tonight," said the bitterly disappointed 29-year-old former marine from Tacoma, Wash., whose planned attempt to swim the channel was foiled by weather Wednesday.

Thomas is scheduled to enter the 45-degree waters at 10 p.m. tonight to swim more than 19 miles between here and Port Angeles, Wash.

If he succeeds he will be the first person to cross a stretch of water that has been described as tougher than the English channel.

Tonight will be Thomas' last chance to make his attempt for at least a month and possibly longer. He had only two days to make use of tides that, with the cold, are the main stumbling block to swimming the strait.

Rifle Club Shoot Results

Results of shooting Tuesday and last Friday by high scoring members of the City Centre Rifle Club are as follows:

Tuesday: Gold Pins R. White 98, Silver Pins R. Roberts 95, W. R. Irvine 95, Bronze Pins R. Roberts 93, W. Tamara 87.

Friday: Silver Pins L. Kristjanson 98, Ken Freeman 98, W. Kristjanson 93, Jack Ritchie 93, Bronze Pins G. Domingo 91, M. Bartlett 88, P. Helland 87.

Last Night's Fights

BUENOS AIRES: Patricio Perez, 100, Buenos Aires, knocked out Alberto Braghetti, 112, Argentine (31) non-title.

Panama took a third minor lead when Hank Schenz smashed a home run off Bob Cain, ex-White Sox lefthander. Johnny Briggs, the 21-year-old rookie who last week pitched his first 1955 shutout, was credited with the win.

SPOKANE: Bobby Wood, 174, Spokane, outdistanced Carlos Chavez, 138, Los Angeles (10).

TOYO: Eddy Alder, 102½, Tokyo, outpointed Takechi Yuiguchi, 110½, Tokyo (10) for Japanese flyweight title.
