ELECTION POINTS

In seeking the highest office within the gift of the city, Mr. McCaffery's motives are as honorable as his electioneering methods are clean. His success on polling day will bring benefit to the community at large. He is absolutely qualified for the position and it is up to the ratepayers to get busy on his behalf in order that his majority shall be a record-breaking endorsement.

McCaffery is a quieter proposition than Newton, but quiet waters run deep, and McCaffery's business ability should make him a singularly useful man for mayor in 1916.

The Daily News prescribes a course of McCaffery for the City's tired feeling.

The reason The Daily News does not publish a list of the blunders made by the present civic administration is because it is only a four-page paper.

All those who have qualities that fit them for aldermanships would do well to begin laying them out on the display counter. We haven't as yet noticed many specimens that attract the eye.

A certain gentleman developed a sporting streak yesterday and offered to bet $50 on Newton. When he was suddenly called by a friend whom he thought would be figuring as he did, his feet became chilly and there was nothing doing.

THE MAYORALTY

To the Electors of the City of Prince Rupert,
Ladies and Gentlemen:—In response to the wishes of a large number of ratepayers, I have consented to again become a candidate for the office of mayor for 1916. In the past I have made it a point of always being on the job in carefully guarding the affairs of the city along the lines of impartiality, practicability, economy based upon efficiency, and the preservation and success of our public utilities. If these efforts have met with your approval, might I again solicit your support as a means of the continuation of such a policy for the next year? Yours truly,
S. M. NEWTON.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL MEETING

S. D. Macdonald presided over an attendance of about sixty at the open meeting of the Trades and Labor Council last night. After outlining the policy of the council, including an eight-hour day; the protection of the city franchises, and the encouragement of the city market, he called upon Ald. Casey to address the meeting.

After dwelling upon the social revolution going on in Europe, as a result of the war, Mr. Casey said that one of his chief aims in the council was to promote the welfare of the city market. Apart from a few business men who felt the competition, the people were satisfied with the market.

In financial matters, he was in favor of the serial bond system and was opposed to any increase being made in the city's indebtedness. With regard to day labor he explained that the reason why he supported the contract system with regard to the Digby water scheme was that it was a choice between a contract or nothing. He still believed that the work should have been done by contract, provided the 45 cent wage clause was inserted. He strongly supported the plan of publicly owned utilities and thought every attention should be paid to the schools, even if at a heavier levy.

With regard to the mayoralty, he said that Mr. Newton had been the first in the council to insist that wages be increased from 37 1/2 cents to 45 cents per hour, and had stayed with it ever since. He pointed out that Mr. McCaffery was a member of the only council which had deviated from this rate, since its inception.

In conclusion, he complimented the Trades and Labor Council on the good work they had done in bringing Parker Williams to this city, on which occasion he gave the Conservative regime the grilling it deserved. In bringing Mr.

Kaiser's Illness.

The Rupert Hotel bulletin contains a report from Berlin which denies that the Kaiser is seriously ill. He is reported to be suffering from minor complaints only.

Rigg, of Winnipeg, they had also conferred a benefit on the working men of the city.

Ald. Nicol said that he had entered the council at a time when the bank had threatened to close its account. On account of low finances, little work could be done and on the board of works they had a hard time distributing a little work among many men. They always tried to help out the married men and spread the work as fairly as possible. As a member of the licence committee, he had assisted Ald. Casey and the mayor in taxing the banks $200 and the express companies $100.

As chairman of the city market he was proud to say that revenue exceeded expenditure last month. As representative on the hospital board, he reported that the debt of the institution had been reduced by about $2,000 and in time it would be on a sound financial basis.

He also strongly supported the (Continued on Page Two.)
