Lengthy Conference About Cow Bay

NEW OFFICIALS OF RAILWAY VISIT CITY AND SAY STATION PLANS READY

Cow Bay Development Given "Once Over" at Conference

Committee of the Board of Trade goes into matter with the City Council and an Understanding is Reached

Meeting last night between the City Council and the Board of Trade on the Cow Bay question, the council went on record unanimously in favor of relinquishing to Cow Bay providing that it is given, in lieu thereof, adequate waterfrontage outside. The amount of waterfrontage that will satisfy the city and its definite location was not decided but the city solicitor is to draw up an agreement which will be submitted to the Government and Grand Trunk Pacific and Commission. This action by the council is a step in the direction of settling the long-disputed Cow Bay question and, if sanctioned by the city the filling in of the bay.

The committee of the Board of Trade, which consisted of George Dawson, Fred G. Dawson, J. H. Pillsbury and S. E. Parker, were present last night, had a definite recommendation as to what they would suggest the several parties to the meeting should do. This recommendation was given on another page.

The council was at the meeting with the exception of Mr. Currie, who is out of town. Mr. Featherstonhaugh, city engineer, was also present. Mr. Carruthers, government engineer, found it impossible to attend. The only other person present at the meeting was Mr. Love and Ernest Love.

The subject of the meeting was the exchange of the waterfront of Cow Bay for the waterfront of the drydock. The city portion of the waterfront now used for the small boats. The use of the waterfront for small boats was not to be carried on by the city but to be changed to a wharf for the use of the city, but the mayor advised that he would not agree to any agreement which would result in the waterfront being taken away from the city.

HERRING FROM ALASKA GOING THROUGH HERE

Eleven Cars of Cured Herring, One Car of Oil, and Six Cars of Halibut Last Evening.

TILAMOOK HAS BUSY TIME AHEAD OF HER

The first shipment of cured herring from Alaska this season passed through Prince Rupert this week in bond from Juneau and Port Walter, Alaska, to points in the eastern States and commenced its rail journey in refrigerator cars from here on a special time freight last evening at 9 o'clock. There was also shipped a car of herring oil from Yakutat, Alaska. All the shipment reached here by the Tilamook the middle of the week and still this morning herring oil was being transferred to tank cars at the wharf spur. Three more cars of herring oil will be dispatched tonight. There will be a number more shipments of this commodity passing through here in the near future. The Tilamook also had her usual fall salmon packing work from Alaskan canneries to do and should be a busy little craft from this on.

Besides the herring and oil shipped, there were also four cars of halibut last night from yesterday's fish sale and the Andrew Kelly for the Gold Storage the day before. There were three cars on hand in the yards this morning, so there will at least be a reserve against tomorrow morning's fish sale.

Following were the catches and sales at the Exchange yesterday morning: Tatoosh, 22,000 pounds, sold to Booth at 16.6c and 8c; Pioneer, 16,000 lbs.; Sherman, 6,000 lbs., and Clara N., 2,000 lbs., sold to Pacific Fisheries at 16.4c and 8c.

Brava, 8,000 lbs.; Crescent, 7,000 lbs., and Christopher, 8,000 lbs., sold to the Altn Fisheries at 16.4c and 8c.

Sherman, 19,000 lbs.; St. Eloi, 4,000 lbs., to Royal Fish Co. at 16.6c and 8c.

RELIEF IN SIGHT FOR BAIT SHORTAGE

Run of Dog Salmon, Humpbacks and Herring Could be Used to Advantage.

Crews on fishing boats arriving during the past day or so tell of good runs of dog salmon, humpbacks and herring prevailing on the east coast of the Queen Charlottes. Opinion among the waterfront is that this could be used to good advantage in relieving the present bait shortage. There are no supplies here now for independent boats and they have to go either to Butedale or Port Walter in Alaska.

If the situation is not relieved soon the fishing industry will be slowed up with these long trips for bait after the catches have been discharged here.

WILL SOON BE HUMMING WITH BUSINESS.

OLD TOM MOORE OF VANCOUVER KILLED SLEEPING IN SHACK

VANCOUVER, Sept. 18.—The first fatality of the hunting season in the province took place when "Old Tom Moore," blacksmith for the Vancouver city fire department, and a well known Salvation Army worker here, was instantly killed at 10:30 last night while sleeping in a shack at Coquitlam when awaiting the opening of the season. A tree felled by the wind fell through the roof. Two companions alongside of Moore escaped uninjured.

Deceased leaves a wife and four children.

DECORATE WINDOWS FOR CARNIVAL WEEK

The directors of the fair make special request that the merchants decorate their windows in a manner in keeping with the carnival week. Owners of offices and dwellings are also asked to display bunting and give the city a gala appearance throughout the week in order to show the visitors that they are welcome.

Plans are Prepared for a New Station

General Manager of Railway says two or three sets in Winnipeg office under consideration of Executive

Two or three sets of plans for the new Prince Rupert station have been prepared in Winnipeg during the past month and are now under consideration by our executive," was the statement of A. E. Warren, general manager of Canadian National Western lines and officer in charge of operation, maintenance and construction, as given to the Daily News this morning when he was seen on his way with his officers to further inspect Cow Bay in regard to the questions which the Board of Trade are taking up with him in conference today.

This is Mr. Warren's first visit to Prince Rupert. He arrived in his special car attached to a freight last evening at 5:30 and is on a trip of general inspection. He is accompanied by a party of operating officials comprising A. H. Eager, mechanical superintendent; H. A. Dixon, chief engineer; C. J. Quantic, general master mechanic; D. R. Campbell, superintendent of construction, and A. Kilpatrick, assistant superintendent. G. H. Lenney, Mr. Warren's private secretary, is also making the tour with his chief. The party returns to Winnipeg tonight. Today they are busy discussing matters with local officials.

Since large gangs have been at work along the line west of Edmonton this summer, the road is now in first class shape," said Mr. Warren. "The work of improvement will be carried on next season as well."

Asked as to the possibility of an augmented train service for next season, Mr. Warren stated that this had not yet been under consideration but was a question that would be taken up during the winter months when such matters are dealt with. Terminal facilities, including a roundhouse, are now under consideration and an inspection of the condition in that regard is one of the purposes of the visit today.

ARGUMENT CORLEY CASE FOR MONDAY

Court Visited the Royal Bar this Morning to Judge Distances Involved

The taking of evidence in the S. A. Corley liquor selling appeal was completed this morning and adjournment made until Monday, when argument will be heard. This morning Ed. Matson and Caruso, bartenders, were heard in the defence and they testified that McKay was not on shift on the night of August 20 when McKay is alleged to have sold a bottle to Detective Smith. McKay, himself, was recalled this morning.

During the course of the proceedings Judge Young, L. W. Patmore, lawyer for the appellant, T. B. Hooper, respondent counsel, Chief Vickers, Stenographer E. A. Woods and Court Registrar W. E. Burritt went to the Royal Bar to see for themselves certain measurements that apparently will affect the judgment largely.
