"THE PAGE MYSTERY"
AT THE WESTHOLME

In a certain popular novel, a dialogue between two of London's women, makes one of the characters exclaim, while discussing the contents of newspapers at large, "My, for me, I like nothing better'n a good murder." While everyone has not such an acute taste for the gruesome, and though there is something of this nature in this photoplay to be screened at the Westholme this evening, there is so much of greater interest running throughout the play, that the shooting of the villain of the piece cannot be regarded other than a matter of course. The Page Mystery is a splendid mystery tale, logically and consistently developed to a smashing climax that is utterly different from the expected. For a whole year, the menacing man of the Adirondack wilds had waited his chance for revenge. He shot, and to kill. But he was not the only one to shoot. The reason why he shot, and why others shoot at the same time makes a wonderful and fascinating photoplay, which is well worth seeing.

PEACE WILL COME THIS SUMMER

both with soldier and civilian, an idea which the hardships of daily life are not calculated to revive. In a word, the great effect of victory is wanted, and nothing less.

Officers Unbend.

For some time past, by order of their superiors, officers have been chatting more familiarly with the men generally, and announcing that a grand offensive is about to be undertaken against the British and the French, that the hostile armies will be defeated, thanks to the superiority of our forces, and that this will be the final battle. In a word, that the end of the war is coming before the summer time. Dissatisfied soldiers are arriving from the Eastern front and on all sides batteries of heavy artillery are doing all it can to revive the morale of past days, and to ensure that all may go to the assault with the certainty of completely crushing the foe. To this end there have been three weeks of preparation.

Our intervention will take place as soon as possible, and will be in evidence at several sectors. If we succeed in beating our adversaries in the West peace will come quickly, but it will be a German peace with annexations. If we experience a check like that at Verdun peace will certainly come, but a disastrous peace, for we shall have reached our maximum effort, and shall be obliged to cease fighting.

Appendicitis Operations Not Always Necessary

Internal Bathing Relieves the Cause.
Your physician will tell you that Appendicitis is an inflamed condition of the little sack called the Appendix at the lower right-hand corner of the Colon or large intestine. By cleansing the "J. B. L. Cascade" this sack is cleansed and the inflammation subsides. Hundreds of operations have been avoided by using the warm water-cure for Appendicitis. Mr. Jas. McLaughlin, 91 Evanston street, Winnipeg, writes:—
"I had spent over fifty dollars with doctors trying to cure Appendicitis. Finally the doctor said I must go to the hospital at once for an operation. Your advertisement interested me. I bought a 'J. B. L. Cascade,' which relieved me at once, and am now completely cured. Never felt better in my life; all pain and soreness gone, and I eat and sleep like a boy. I am grateful to Dr. Tyrrell for this wonderful health-giving invention." 95 per cent. of all human ills are caused by accumulated waste in the Colon. Internal Bathing with the "J. B. L. Cascade" keeps this large intestine as free from all waste and as clean as nature demands it should be for perfect health. Ask Cyril H. Orme, Druggist, corner 3rd Ave. and 6th st., for booklet called "Why Man of Today is Only 50 Per Cent. Efficient." It is free. He will also be pleased to show and explain the "J. B. L. Cascade" to you.
