CHINESE TONGS AND BLOODTHIRSTY PIRATES

Thrilling Rapid Drama at Westholme Theatre Tonight.

Noah Beery, the well-known heavy of the silent drama, has probably played the part of a villain more times than any other actor in motion pictures. In "Dinty," which will open an engagement at the Westholme theatre tonight he is said to have the most blood-thirsty role of his career. He has the part of "King" Dorkh, an ex-pirate, a Malay half-breed with just enough white blood in him to make him crafty. Most of his gang are half-breed Chinamen. These Eurasians hang together, as neither the whites nor the Chinese will associate with them. Dorkh, being a Malay half-breed, can belong to none of the Chinese tongs of San Francisco—so he organizes one of his own for himself and half-breed followers. Dorkh kidnaps the daughter of a judge and plans a terrible revenge for the sentence of his son. The rescue of the girl, Ruth Whitely, played by Marjorie Daw, and the breaking up of Dorkh's gang of cut-throats as a result of the sleuthing of "Dinty" O'Sullivan are said to constitute the most thrilling features of the plot.

"Dinty"—equal to "The Kid" in laughs and "Hearts of Humanity" in sobs. Westholme tonight. Admission 25c and 55c.

INTERIOR IS LOOKING GOOD

Agricultural and Mineral Possibilities Hardly Touched as Yet, Says Manson.

Hon. A. M. Manson, M.L.A. for Omineca, on his return from a visit to his constituency last week, expressed himself as more than ever pleased with the progress and development of the country contiguous to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in Omineca constituency. In company with Hon. Mary Ellen Smith, Mr. Manson made a very thorough trip as far as Ootsa Lake and, after Mrs. Smith had gone to Prince George, he visited Endako, the east end of Francois Lake and a portion of the Uncha Lake valley.

Settlement continues," said Mr. Manson, "New settlers are coming on every train. They are of a good type, mostly, and have some capital. Unfortunately, however, the process of getting back the land which was alienated in 1906 and 1907 is a slow one and many very excellent settlers have been lost through our inability to procure land for them at reasonable prices. Some Old Country land owners are still asking as high as £15 sterling per acre for land which originally cost them from $2 to $5 per acre. In spite of this, however, many are finding land and are rapidly fencing, clearing and building their new homes.

Evidence of Increase.

"The best evidence of the increase in population is found in the fact that no less than four schools are required for the opening of the fall term in the Lakes District. These are at Uncha Lake, Grassy Plains, South Francois Lake and MacDonald's Landing. All these are within a radius of twenty miles. At a hard times barn dance which I attended recently at Uncha Lake in aid of the Community Club, there were over 100 persons in attendance where three years ago, it would have been difficult to find twenty-five.

"The Lakes district is primarily a dairy country and has magnificent ranges in abundance for its future herds. All that is required is greater areas under cultivation for the production of winter fodder, more dairy cattle, a boat on Francois Lake, better roads and a creamery.

Being Looked After.

"This sounds like a big order but roads are improving rapidly although they are hardly keeping pace with the rapidity of the settlement. Plans are under way for a boat on Francois Lake and the Land Settlement Board is working up the increase in cattle and the creamery ideas with considerable vigor.

"I am endeavoring to have Hon. E. D. Barrow, minister of agriculture, accompany Hon. Dr. J. H. King, minister of Public Works, and myself when we visit the interior next week in order to hold a consultation on the ground with a view to devising ways and means of assisting development to the best advantage.

Room for Thousands.

"There is room for many thousands of families on the lands of the Central interior. The ridings of Omineca, Fort George and Cariboo will soon become the agricultural backbone of the province of British Columbia and no part of Canada can provide surer and safer agricultural conditions. As for scenery, Jimmie Steen, who accompanied me on much of my trip, standing on a hill top in the neighborhood of Francois Lake broke into ecstasies and exclaimed: 'Begorra, my boy, it's a sight for sore eyes. Loch Lomond and Killarney look homely puddles compared with this.'

"Agriculture is not the only potential industry in Omineca riding, either. Mines are in the offing. They are mere prospects now, except in a few cases, but they are more promising prospects, one would believe, than those of the earlier days in Southern British Columbia.

Time Will Prove.

"Some of the miserable pessimists on the Canadian National Railway Board, in Parliament at Ottawa and in Eastern newspaper offices, shed tears at the too early construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, but the world is full of small men. What this young country needs is men of vision.

"The next decade or two will prove that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Charles M. Hays were right, that the Grand Trunk Pacific was worth while and that, with good handling, it will be a most successful undertaking with the country tributary to it one of the wealthiest and most thickly populated parts of Canada."

Mrs. W. B. Cornish left last night for Vancouver where she will visit.
