TOPLEY STRIKE WAS ACCIDENT

Encouraging Reports Reach Smithers Regarding Frank Taylor's Find

SMITHERS, June 18. — Encouraging reports come from Topley in regard to the recent ore discovery there by Frank Taylor, a well known prospector of the district. A number of mining men have examined the outcrop and declare it looks like the making of a big mine. The outcrop is in a gully and was exposed through a forest fire burning the covering last year. It was discovered purely by accident as the men were crossing that way to make a short cut. Today a representative of the B.C. Silver people was on the ground and also the district mining engineer, neither of whom have yet expressed an opinion. Other mining men are enthusiastic over it. Many people have staked claims but only the first six have been recorded here so far. The property is only about a mile from the road and that across a jackpine flat.

CANADIANS GO FOR DIVORCES TO THE STATES

OTTAWA, June 18. — (Canadian Press). — Canadians are finding in divorce laws of the United States a relief from their matrimonial troubles. Statistics to hand here show that a surprisingly large number of divorces granted across the line have been to persons married in Canada. Recent figures are not available but is is estimated that divorces granted in the United States to couples married in Canada are twice as numerous as such divorces granted in Canada. The state of Michigan appears to be most popular as it is to that state most Canadians have resorted for decrees of divorce.

At the same time divorce is growing in Canada. Last year the total of divorces granted in Canada was 551, or three greater than the largest number ever granted in any one year. The largest increases in divorces granted during the year were in British Columbia and Saskatchewan, in each of which the 1925 figures showed increases of 14 over 1924. Ontario and Manitoba showed respective increases of 7 and 2. In Quebec and New Brunswick the number of divorces granted in 1925 were the same as in 1924. Alberta and Nova Scotia recorded decreases of 17 and 12 respectively.

No Divorces on Island

It is left to the small province of Prince Edward Island to hold the record of matrimonial felicity. In the Island province of the St. Lawrence Gulf there were no divorces last year. In the last half-century, indeed, Prince Edward Island has had only one divorce. Back in 1835, legislation was passed authorizing the creating of a divorce court in Prince Edward Island. But the court was never created. The applicants for the one Island divorce since Confederation had to come to the Dominion Parliament for a special Act dissolving the marriage.

Unusual Situation

Canada is in an unusual situation in regard to the granting of divorce. In six of the nine provinces, there are provincial divorce courts. In three, Ontario, Quebec and Prince Edward Island, relief has to be obtained by special Act of the Dominion Parliament. The applicant from any one of these three provinces presents a Bill much as though he were applying for a railway charter. Contrary to usual procedure in private Bills, however, the Bill goes first to the Senate which refers it to its standing committee on divorce. There evidence is heard in camera and parties may be represented by counsel as in a Court. If the committee approves the Bill, it goes back to the Senate. When the Upper House has approved it, the bill goes to the House of Commons for approval. When both Houses have given the measure third reading, like any other Bill, it has to receive the assent of the Governor General or his deputy before becoming law.

Then "An Act for relief duly takes its place on the Statute Book.

A Young Man From London

He was rather inclined to blow his own trumpet, was the young clerk from London, and the boarders in the house had stood about as much as they could.

Suddenly one, braver than the rest, said "Look here, young man, I think we've all heard what you can do; now, would you mind telling us something you can't do, and I'll undertake to do it myself."

"Well," replied the talkative one without the slightest hesitation, "you're a sport. I can't pay my bill for a start, and I accept your offer."

Mrs. J. Hockin, who has been visiting in Vancouver for the past three months, returned on the Prince Rupert this morning.

"WHERE WAS I"
A bachelor's comedy of terrors with a great cast and a thousand laughs. He had more bachelor's troubles than a tom-cat. Bluebeard with all his wives never had half the fuss Reg has with one little beauty who claimed to be his wife and defied him to deny it on the very eve of his marriage to another. Never has a man had more comic tribulations than Denny when the wild women are running him ragged. It's mad! It's merry! It's sparkling! Strong cast:
