Let everything in its favor be granted and then we come Publicity Bureaus generally to the point that the spread of two pages proposed to be throughout Canada and the Unipurchased at a cost of $125 will benefit Prince Rupert very little under present conditions. The city has done a good china and Japan; through Thomas deal of advertising in the past and has traced scarcely any benefit from it because we had nothing to advertise which tion; The B. C. Just now the city is passing through a difficult financial situation along with most other cities. In an effort to keep down the taxes, all appropriations for extraordinary organizations handle their own disexpenses were eliminated and the result is that the city finds it difficult to meet its obligations and at the same time carry out much needed work. The result has been that all expenditures have had to be curtailed to the limit.

An appropriation was made to the Chamber of Com- executive as being well designed to merce, not to be spent for the purpose of spending, but to give the outside world an idea of enable it to carry on desirable publicity work, if thought necessary. This is public money and the Chamber is a trus- under one cover regarding the tee to the public in regard to its expenditure. This vote of whole province, it is much more inthe executive was rushed through without consultation teresting and valuable to the genwith the publicity committee, the natural committee to have considered it, and in our opinion was a most unwise lets recommendation and therefore it was the duty of this newspaper to warn the members of the board, many of "The Call of British Columbia" whom do not attend all the meetings, in order that they be would not affect passenger travel given the opportunity to vote the proposal down. Had we waited until the report was made, it might have been too late to act.

Alderman Pillsbury must know that the Daily News has in operation. supported the Board of Trade faithfully for the past 12. Approximately 75% of the muniyears and his suggestion that an effort was made to prejudice the board in the eyes of the public was, to say the Prince Rupert Daily News to accuse least, not well considered. The alderman should have been the executive of our Chamber of the first to advise the Chamber against such an unneces- Commerce of a desire to "fritter

We must admit that it may seem audacious for so humble a newspaper as the Daily News to object to anything zens of the city. such an august body as the Council of the Chamber of Commerce would do, especially when many of the members are close business associates with the paper, but there are times when even this cannot deter a newspaper from a Twenty Years Ago

Again we suggest to members of the Chamber of Commerce that they turn out to the next meeting and vote down this expenditure.
