Economic Nationalism And National Arming Deplored By Former Canada Premier

MONTREAL, Nov. 20: (CP)—Despite increasing evidence of recovery in Canada and abroad, lack of exchange stability still aggravates the return of normal international trade, declared Sir Robert Borden in his presidential address at the annual meeting of Barclay's Bank of Canada.

Sir Robert also scored economic nationalism and increasing expenditures on national armaments by many nations as constituting unnecessary brakes on the world's painful climb back to prosperity.
