No Strings To These

EVERY hour, in the Royal City Kitchens a wonderful, modern grader sorts sufficient green beans to fill 5,000 cans. By starting with special seed and harvesting at the exact moment of maturity, Royal City Beans are stringless! And then the beans are set revolving in a great perforated brass drum. The ends drop naturally through the thousands of holes, to be quickly and neatly snipped. So sorting, snipping and washing are accurately accomplished, leaving the tender, delicately-flavored, uniformly-sized beans ready for filling into Royal City cans.
