Refused a Crown . . .

The Duke of Connaught, who died last week, could have been a ruler if he had been willing to accept a kingdom. Three times he refused to accept suggestions of that kind. When his brother, Duke Albert of Saxe-Coburg died, he automatically succeeded to the duchy. Locking himself in a room with his young son for several hours while he considered the situation he emerged to say that neither he nor his young son would accept the tempting prize. The decision so annoyed the German Royal Houses that they never fully recovered.

In 1915 the Duke was asked by the Socialist party to accept the throne of Czechoslovakia but he failed to encourage the advances. Again in 1919 he was mentioned in connection with the throne of Hungary. He went hunting instead of treating with representatives of the monarchical party who had proposed him. Evidently he did not wish to be mixed up in the intrigues of the Germanic people.

Halfaya Is Taken . . .

Halfaya, known to the British Tommies as "Hell-fire Pass," has been taken by the British forces in North Africa. It is rather a famous point in British strategy and has been a centre of military activity for some time. It is one of the final clean-ups in that section of the countries.

No Sidelines Now . . .

The entry of Japan into the war has brought more Canadians to the realization of warning which people of this country have had for two years—that nothing short of total war effort in Canada will be good enough to defeat the foes of free people. Now that Canada's western coastline is actually part of the battle front and now that we have the spectacle of unbounded energy set loose in the United States, there can be few people left in Canada who do not grasp the truth that no one in the country can escape some contribution to an all out war effort.

Sometimes it is easier to do the spectacular thing than it is to carry out the drab duty. Workmen in factories can be carried on to almost superhuman effort by the definite knowledge that their handiwork is needed desperately by the boys who man the guns. Sailors, soldiers and airmen can rise to heights of heroism knowing that the very existence of their country depends on them. But it can be harder for the civilian left at home to realize that his job is just as vital in its way as that of the war factory worker is, as that of the youth in the armed forces. Yet that is true. Canada cannot supply the ships and guns and planes and ammunition unless her citizens provide the money.

The issue of bonds being offered next month will meet people who are in a new mood. The man or woman who was satisfied to buy a hundred dollar bond last June will likely feel the need now to buy five hundred dollars worth or more. Few will limit the purchase of bonds now that the enemy is on Canada's doorstep.

BASKETBALL EXCITEMENT

Triple-Header Saturday Night
Featured by Intermediate Thriller.

Fighting off a challenge in an exciting finish, High School outlasted Barons to gain a 39 to 25 victory in the intermediate contest of a league triple-header at the Exhibition Building Saturday night. High School girls defeated the Fraser Street quintette 11 to 4 to register their first victory of the season, and Beas' Juniors conquered Fraser Street 14 to 10. In the intermediate battle High School took an early lead and led 11 to 2 at the first quarter. The Barons countered with a six-point outburst and then they settled down to nip and tuck ball for the rest of the half with the students holding a 22 to 16 advantage at the intermission.

Then action grew in intensity and fervor. They raced past by ties of 26 to 26 and 29 to 29 before High School once more took the command for the first time since their first quarter route. Substituting Long in at guard with but four minutes to go was High School's winning move of the game. With the Barons but a point behind, this basketer of the green and gold, calmly sank three field goals to give High School the winning margin over the battling Barons 39 to 35.

The Barons showed a very outstanding individual in the person of Helge Holkestad, the spearhead of their offence, who was a definite threat out of the bucket throughout the entire encounter. Holkestad tallied 24 points—by far the highest total of the game. Simonsen was also good on the forward line, while Zbura and Hetherington were the stalwarts of the Barons' defence. For High School Santurbane and MacDonald were high guns with 12 and 11 points respectively.

High School rallied in the second half to defeat Fraser Street 11 to 4 after leading only 3 to 2 at the intermission. Betty Payne tallied 6 points for the victors, the highest total for the game. This was High School's first league triumph and the co-eds showed marked improvement in ball handling and shooting during this game.

In the junior game Beas had quite a time stopping the fast Fraser Street quintet, 14 to 10. Pifford, Holkestad and Teng were high scorers for Beas with four points respectively. Anderson of Fraser Street was high gun for the game with 6 points.

Next Games

The next league games will be on Tuesday night when Dry Dock meets High School in the intermediate game and the High School girls wrestle with Annettes.

Referee for the junior game and girls' was Alek Bill, while Dominic Montasano handled the whistle in the intermediate. Nick Pavlikis was timekeeper and scorer for the night.

A GROCER ANSWERS

Editor, Daily News:

In regard to letters appearing in Saturday's issue I am sure the writers have misinterpreted the meaning of the special notice which was published in Friday's paper.

The grocers who signed their names are not very anxious to collect nickels and dimes for delivery orders.

But they are all very anxious to bring delivery orders up to $3 which is in line with the government's policy of eliminating unnecessary service. Stop to think what that means! Those who have ordered $1 worth of groceries or less to be delivered in future will be required to order $3 worth of groceries which means your grocer makes one trip instead of three. Can you honestly call that a racket?

If a grocer delivers 1400 orders a month, which is a fair amount of delivering, it costs him 14c per order even if he is delivering $1 orders, and let me assure you we are all doing it.

Bear in mind delivery is always extra and my idea of a racket is a lot different than suggested.

In regard to the price ceiling grocers as a whole feel it is a step in the right direction. At the present time a wholesaler or manufacturer is allowed to raise his prices to the retail trade but not the grocer. Ceiling prices mean retail prices—not wholesale prices. At the same time the government has exempted fruits and vegetables, butter and eggs, sardines, herring, clams and haddock and fresh water fish which materially helps the grocer.

In addition all firms including groceries must pay an excess profit tax which amounts to 75c on every dollar of net profit.

So far in this war the only people to take the brunt are the old country folks, not the Canadians. We have sacrificed little as compared with England and Scotland and the time has come when we all have to save gas and tires indirectly. The best way now is to leave an order amounting to $3 when you order tomorrow. It will help the government first and your grocer second.

Yours for more $3 orders.

A GROCER.

NOT PROFITTEERING

Editor, Daily News:

In Saturday's issue of your paper two letters criticized the notice of eight grocery stores regarding a charge to be made for deliveries under $3 and dubbed it profiteering.

Although it is not stated in the special notice we would like to advise the public as we did the merchants' committee dealing with the matter that, until more drastic curtailment of delivery service will be necessary, our deliveries of meat are not affected by this notice. Meat usually has to be purchased each day and it is not often the housewife purchases as much as $3 worth at a time.

The decision of the merchants will not affect the great majority of housewives who do their ordering sensibly and need not affect those who order a few articles two to four times a day if they will only sit down and figure out an order for a few days ahead instead of a meal ahead.

We do not think the suggested giving a cash discount for cash purchases taken by the customer will get at the problem although it is true that those who carry home their groceries pay for the delivery service as does the housewife who orders sensibly pay for

High School Dance Held

One Hundred Young Folk Enjoy Themselves at Happy Affair Friday Night

Another enjoyable High School students' dance was held last Friday night in Eagles' Hall. About one hundred young folk were in attendance.

Novelty decorations, arranged by Charlotte Balagno, were an effective feature of the setting.

William Bond, president of the Students' Council, was master of ceremonies and music was by Jean de Carlo's three-piece orchestra.

Delicious refreshments were served. Principal and Mrs. W. W. C. O'Neill, who led the Grand March, and other members of the teaching staff attended.

The one who makes a racket out of the delivery service because she will not plan her ordering.

We are sure the merchants would be very pleased if they did not get one five cent piece for extra delivery as then the problem would be solved. Perhaps the payment to the Red Cross of the amounts collected for extra delivery service would make the public feel that the merchants' purpose was not profiteering.

Recently the stores in this city put in a twice daily service. The result for us has been a surprising decrease in mileage and gasoline consumption. We feel that our next step is to stop the careless housewife's way of ordering. More drastic curtailment will come later.

There is no fooling. Canada has her back against the wall as far as the rubber situation is concerned as is shown by the following news items:

"On January 12, A. H. Williams, supplies controller of the department of munitions and supply told the Vancouver Board of Trade that, apart from the war effort Canada consumed 2,500 tons of crude rubber each month and today we have not got those 2,500 tons.

In the second week of January Munitions Minister Howe announced an order making it a criminal offence to burn, cut or destroy any rubber tire, tubing or casing. The latest order in the government's rubber conservation program provides penalties of fines up to $5,000 or five years imprisonment or both.

We do not think we need consider this a closed matter as we will be seeking the co-operation of the housewife in a more drastic curtailment of delivery service in the near future. We have got to have mechanized efficiency of our forces to win this war.
