ALGIERS EARTHQUAKE

ALGIERS - An earthquake killed or injured 276 persons yesterday in the vicinity of Constantine, 80 miles southwest of the port of Bone. Medical aid and food were being rushed to the scene teday.

Civic Court of Revision this morning heard an appeal by G. S. Keith, assistant tax commissioner for Canadian Nation al Railways for reduction of assessments on wartime installations built by the United States Army on C.N.R. property, and on which the railway is now paying Granted by the court were reductions totalling only $2900 on total assessments of about $1. 000,000. Reductions granted were $2,300 on the United States army

Basis of the appeal, which primarily involves the large water front warehouse, the U.S.-built cargo wharf, marine elevator, freight bridge and marine repair depot, was that, lacking present usefulness, the installa tions had only salvage value.

Mr. Keith told the court that "War Assets Corporation has found no one at present who is willing to occupy the buildings," and suggested that the "only way those buildings could be used is by co-operative effort between the railway, municipality and the government."

Assessed value of the five installations is about $965,000 installations. He urged that any assessable value placed on them should be nominal. City Counsel T. W. Brown contended that, since the buildings are assessed at "very little more" than 20 percent of their structural value, this in itself constituted an adequate reduction in assessment.

"They are undervalued already by 75 percent of their structural value." he said.

Grouped in a second claim by the railroad is the U.S. electric power house in the Morse Creek area, which, with an assessment of $50,000, is assessed at about 35 percent of its structural value. The building contains five elec tric generators, only one of which is now operating.

Other buildings involved are the U.S. administration building, officers' quarters, U.S. Engineers' buildings and various smaller structures.

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's population, barring future wars, immigration and other unpredictable events, will reach a maximum of 15,000,000 around 1990 and thereafter will decline slowly, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics predicted today. The 1941 census counted 11,490,000 Canadians.
