Finland's Unhappy Lot...

Finland is on the spot and, no matter what happens now, it would appear almost inevitable that she must become another bloody battlefield something like Italy has become as a result of having chosen to co-operate with Nazi Germany at the time when Hitler appeared well on the way to conquer all Europe in quick order.

The main difficulty in the way of a peace between Finland and Russia, which may yet be negotiated, appears to be the disposition of some 100,000 Nazi soldiers now in that country. Their delivery to Russia is demanded in the peace terms laid down to Finland by the Soviet. It is hardly to be supposed these Nazis would be allowed to capitulate without a fight.

The lot of Finland is today an unhappy one as appears to be that of every nation which chose to side in with Hitler when his tide was running more strongly and favorably than it is today.

Relax for Health...

Proper rest helps to keep one on the job. It conserves energy. It enables one to concentrate on hard work. Edison is supposed to have gone on and on with his experiments, yet sleeping very little. Edison may never have slept very long. He certainly slept often. He had a cot in his office for cat naps. He worked, rested, worked. President Roosevelt does the same today. So, probably, does anyone who gets through a lot of work without fatigue.

The heart is a good illustration. It works, rests, works, rests. A definite rhythm can be applied to almost any kind of job with good results. One can vary the pace. One can lean back and stretch, get up and stroll around, pause for a glass of milk or a snack.

And it's the same with exercise. Mild exercise is good for most people. Strenuous exercise is good for some—but all exercise should be followed by proper rest and light nourishment.

Let yourself go—relax. You've heard that a million times, but it's an art worth learning, especially as the tempo of wartime living increases.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. (By DOROTHY GARBUTT)

When the Scottish were here about two years ago a couple of the boys redecorated the Presbyterian Church in their spare time and in doing so made a great many friends. So I know those who remember Bob Terry, one of the helpers, will be pleased to hear that he had a small son born on December 29. Bob is overseas now but I can imagine that he's a pretty proud father. Another new service baby is a small son born to Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Koob on February 19. Master Koob's name had not been selected at the time Mrs. Mitchell left the news with me but he weighed eight pounds 13½ ounces when born. His father is Corporal Leo Edward Koob who is on active service in the Pacific with the American Engineers and his mother is from Winnipeg.

The other day I went across the street to see the new Salvation Army Hostel. They have enlarged their premises to include a lunch room with ten tables, a very modern and well equipped kitchen and writing and sitting rooms for the boys. They can accommodate about one hundred and forty-four men in the new quarters and about thirty-eight in the old and many is the week-end they are filled to overflowing with the boys even sleeping on mattresses. Adjutant Brunsden carries on as supervisor with a staff of twelve workers. Mrs. Edgar, who has been with both the old and new set ups, is very proud of the new place and takes a deep interest in all its activities. The lounge rooms are most attractive with comfortable chairs and settees and homelike with potted plants. They are finding that a lot of boys are coming in from points down the line for their forty-eights. Adjutant Brunsden says as soon as all the odd bits and pieces of last-minute settling down are done they will have a formal opening. But he looked so worried that I suggested he dispense with that formality and just carry on with the very splendid service he is giving.

MIDLANDS

Flying Officer Douglas Campbell, previously reported missing after air operations overseas, has been reported safe. He is the son of Mrs. Maude Campbell, of Cobourg.

Objective for Cobourg and the township of Hamilton in the big Red Cross drive which began last week is $10,000.

Gunner George Hircok, Spencer Street, had his hand burned while in action in Italy, relatives in Cobourg learned recently Gunner Hircok enlisted with the 347th Battery.

On his way to the Cobourg General Hospital to attend a patient, Dr. Edgar Hayden skidded into the side of a car driven by Roy Cox of Myrtle Station. Both cars were badly damaged and Cox received a fractured leg.

SPORTS

Aided by a couple of professionals just over from Canada, a team of engineers upset rail-bird calculations by winning the hockey championship of the Canadian Army Reinforcements Unit in Britain. The victims—Ordnance Group Falcons—had been considered a cinch to cop the title. The engineers won the best-of-three series 2-1 and 5-3 and advanced into the play-downs for the Army crown. The team's newcomers, who had their skates on almost as they stepped from the boat, were Capt. Gordie Poirier of Maple Creek, Sask., and Lieut. Gordie Bruce of Ottawa. Poirier played with Montreal Canadiens and was a member of Ottawa Commandos when they won the Allan Cup last season. Bruce was with Boston Bruins in 1941 and later joined the Commandos. Poirier, despite the usual problem of fitting immediately into a team combination, gained two assists on two of three goals scored by Lieut. G. N. Hall of Winnipeg. Pte. H. W. Proulx of Edmonton scored twice. Lieut. Lex Chisholm of Oshawa, Ont., former Toronto Maple Leaf tallied for the star-studded Falcons who didn't lose a game during the regular schedule. Another Oshawa product who played for the English Olympic team before the war, Lieut. J. (Chappy) Chappell banged in two. Other Falcon players included Pte. Vince Germann of Regina, formerly of Hershey Bears and New York Rovers; Pte. J. B. Brown of Medicine Hat, Alta., once of Kimberley Dynamiters, and Lieut. George Hood of Gananoque, Ont., Queen's University and Kingston Hockey Club.

Top-notch soccer clubs in Canada are represented in the line-up of an ordnance reinforcement unit team which holds the area league lead in Britain. In twelve games since the season opened last October, the team has scored 82 goals and has been scored upon only six times. Among the footballers are GSM. D. J. Walker of Montreal, who played with Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal and Dome Miners; GSM. T. Turley of Montreal Carsteels, Royal Victoria Hospital and MacIntyre Falconbridge Mines; Pte. T. A. Williams, Montreal, Royal Victoria Hospital and Kirkland Lake; L. Corp. Bob Weir, Toronto Scottish and Engalnd United; SQMS. W. T. Smith, Toronto Levers; Pte. A. L. Bruce of Winnipeg, United Weston and Dome Miners; Cpl. C. R. Campbell, Regina Thistles, and Pte. J. R. Whent, Vancouver St. Saviours and Boeing.

After 63 contestants had played more than 500 games, Bdr. H. J. Ward of Vancouver emerged as winner of a Canadian Army area table tennis championship. His finalist opponent was L. Cpl. M. Chudnoffski of Montreal.
